Sura Tāhā, No. ۲۰, verse ۳۸, ۳۹ –۱

(٥) قَالَ يَا بَنِيَّ لَا تَقْصُصْ رُؤْيَاكَ عَلَى إِخْوَتِكَ فَيَكِيدُوا لَكَ كَيْدًا إِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ لِلْإِنْسَانِ عَدُوٌّ مُبِينٌ

He (Jacob) said: ‘O my (little) son! Do not relate your vision to your brothers, lest “ ٥ .
”they devise a plot against you: for Satan is to man a manifest enemy

Commentary: verse ٥

One of the principles of life is keeping other people’s secrets. If the Muslims had put into practice what has been implied in this verse, our vast capital and potentialities, our manuscripts and scientific works, our works of art and antique objects would not have been found in foreign museums. Foreigners would not be spying on us under the cover of being experts, diplomats and tourists, and they would not have become .aware of our resources and assets

Our naivety could not have been so easily used by their treachery to make our secrets .easily available to those who are constantly ready to play dirty tricks against us

Haḍrat Yusuf (a.s.) told his father his dream away from the presence of his brothers. This behavior shows a remarkable perceptiveness on Yusuf’s part which definitely did not escape Ya‘qūb. The sun, the moon and eleven stars in prostration before his son, what did it all mean? Ya‘qūb briefly pondered over the vision and then it became clear to him. Certainly, the moon and the sun represented Yusuf’s mother and himself, and .the eleven stars represented his brothers

The dream foretold that his son’s prestige and position would be so elevated that the stars in the sky, the sun and the moon will bow to kiss his threshold. He will be so exalted in rank and position that celestial beings will be subservient to him. It was a fantastic, fabulous, and interesting dream

Therefore with a mixed feeling of anxiety and happiness, he responded his son not to tell his brothers about his dream for they would scheme dangerous stratagems against him. The verse says

He (Jacob) said: ‘O my (little) son! Do not relate your vision to your brothers, lest they “?devise a plot against you: for Satan is to man a manifest enemy

I know that Satan is an open enemy to man. He is looking for a pretext to start playing his dirty tricks to win him over, inciting him to envy and avarice and even entangle brothers in quarrels

:Explanations

It is necessary that parents be knowledgeable about the likes and dislikes as well as attitudes of their children so that they may be able to guide them effectively

In order to make a sound prediction about cases, which have significant problems or sensitivities, voicing one’s suspicions or fears or unveiling certain characteristics, may prove useful

All data and information must be categorized and confidential data should be separated from none confidential ones. Do not tell everyone everything. Do not provide grounds for envy, for the envy of the brothers prepared the way for the realization of Satan’s hostility towards Yusuf

(٤) وَكَذَلِكَ يَجْتَبِيكَ رَبُّكَ وَيُعَلِّمُكَ مِنْ تَأْوِيلِ الْأَحَادِيثِ وَيُتِمُّ نِعْمَتَهُ عَلَيْكَ وَعَلَىٰ آلِ يَعْقُوبَ كَمَا أَتَمَّهَا عَلَىٰ أَبَوَيْكَ مِنْ قَبْلُ
إِبْرَاهِيمَ وَإِسْحَاقَ إِنَّ رَبَّكَ عَلِيمٌ حَكِيمٌ

And thus will your Lord choose you and teach you the interpretation of sayings “ ٤ . (dreams), and perfect His favor to you and to the posterity of Jacob, even as He perfected it to your fathers Abraham and Isaac aforetime! Verily your Lord is All-
”.knowing, All-wise

Commentary: verse ٤

Prophets are the appointees of Allah, and their selection is based upon Divine knowledge. The positions of prophecy and divinely guided government carry a great .deal of blessings

Interpreting dreams imply the deciphering and realization of their meanings. The Arabic term /ahādīθ/ is the plural of /hadīθ/ which means narrating an event. As man recounts his dream for others, the word /ahādīθ/ is also applied to dreams as well.
.’Therefore, /ta`wīl-ul-ahādīθ/ denotes ‘the interpretation of dreams

Haḍrat Ya‘qūb (a.s.) interprets his son’s dream for him in this verse, foretelling his future. However, this wonderful dream was not merely telling the magnitude of Yusuf’s position in an apparent and material sense. It also indicated that he would attain the rank of prophecy and an elevated celestial position in the future as well, as .indicated in the prostration of the celestial beings to him

:Thus, his father Ya‘qūb said: as follows

And thus will your Lord choose you and teach you the interpretation of sayings “ (dreams), and perfect His favor to you and to the posterity of Jacob, even as He perfected it to your fathers Abraham and Isaac aforetime! Verily your Lord is All-
”.knowing, All-wise

Among the lessons drawn from these verses is the lesson concerning keeping particular secrets which must be observed even sometimes against brothers. There are always instances of secrets in man’s life which, when unveiled, may disrupt his
.future or endanger his society

Therefore, refraining from divulging secrets is one of the signs of fortitude and will power of a person. In a tradition attributed to Imam Şādiq (a.s.) we read: “Your ”.secrets are just like your blood which must only be circulated within your own veins

Point

Yusuf suffers the treatment of his brothers

Brothers of Joseph plot – Joseph drown into a dry well – Joseph picked up by a caravan and sold as a slave for a paltry price

(۷) لَقَدْ كَانَ فِي يُوسُفَ وَإِخْوَتِهِ آيَاتٌ لِلِّسَّائِلِينَ

Certainly there are signs (of Allah’s sovereignty) in (the story of) Yusuf and his “ brothers for the inquirers ”.

Commentary: verse ۷

There are numerous signs of Allah’s omnipotence at work in the life history of Haḍrat Yusuf, each of which is an advice and a didactic lesson for the seeker of Truth. Among these Signs we can cite

۱. Haḍrat Yusuf’s very sophisticated dream
۲. The science of the interpretation of dreams
۳. Ya‘qūb’s awareness of the future of his son
۴. Yusuf’s remaining safe at the bottom of the well
۵. Becoming blind and then regaining sight
۶. From being abandoned at the bottom of a well and becoming high, exalted ۷. Being put in prison and finally to acceding power and government ۸. Being cleared off all accusations and hearing accusations of corruption ۹. Parting and reunion

.Servitude and accession to power .11

.Choosing prison over being polluted with sin .11

p: 373

.Having the upper hand yet impelled to forgive wrong done to oneself .۱۲

Along with the above signs, there are certain questions which can be raised, the :answers to which illustrate the way to a decent life

?How does man's envy lead him to fratricide

?How can ten individuals engage in a conspiracy for treason

?How does Yusuf spare punishing his criminal brothers while having the upper hand

How man can prefer prison to pollution by sin and the pleasures of committing sin,
?when thinking of Allah

This Sura was revealed when the sublime Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was economically and socially besieged and this story provided great comfort for him. It meant that if some of his relatives did not believe and support him, he should not have worried for the brothers of Yusuf had thrown him down a well. The most important verses of this Sura are those which deal with the domination of the Divine power over man-made conspiracies. They threw Yusuf into the well in order to become dearer to their father but they became hated. Doors were closed in order to pollute him with sin, but his chastity and innocence were well demonstrated in this trying circumstance. Neither did the well, servitude, prison, palace life, or any of these conspiracies exert the .slightest influence on Allah's Will

At any rate, it is from here that the entanglement of the brothers with Yusuf first :starts, and didactic lessons can be gleaned from the story. It says Certainly there are signs (of Allah's sovereignty) in (the story of) Yusuf and his "

".brothers for the inquirers

What lesson might be more instructive than this? One finds a group of powerful individuals with well calculated strategies, through envy trying their utmost to kill a seemingly weak person. In the end all their plans turn against them making it possible for him to be elevated to a position of influence, governing a vast territory with everyone bowing before him instead! This shows that when Allah's will is at work, His plans may be implemented by even the opponents of those plans

This denotes that a truly faithful believer is never left alone and even if the whole world were to unite for his extermination, he would not even suffer the slightest injury if the will of Allah does not desire such

(٨) إِذْ قَالُوا لِيُوسُفُ وَأَخُوهُ أَحَبُّ إِلَيْنَا مِنََّا وَنَحْنُ عُصْبَةٌ إِنَّ أَبَانَا لَفِي ضَلَالٍ مُّبِينٍ

When they said: ‘Verily, Yusuf and his brother (Benjamin) are dearer to our father “... than we, while we are a (strong) group. Verily, our father is in manifest error

Commentary: verse ٨

Haḍrat Ya‘qūb had ١٢ sons, two of whom (Yusuf and Benjamin) were of the same mother and the rest from another mother. Ya‘qūb’s interest in Yusuf (because of his young age or because of his virtues) made his brothers envy him. They not only envied him but also by saying: /wa nahnu ‘uṣbatun/ “while we are a (strong) group” made it clear that they were arrogant in spirit and, because of this, they accused their father of being mistaken and deviated in his focus of affection. The verse says

When they said: ‘Verily, Yusuf and his brother (Benjamin) are dearer to our father “... than we, while we are a (strong) group

Many of those who are at comparatively lower rungs of position and rank in society try to degrade those who rank higher in society in order to compensate for their own shortcomings.

There are differences between the words, discrimination and differentiation, the former implies attaching importance to someone over others for no justified reason and the latter refers to distinguishing on the basis of ones abilities and conditions. For example, a physician’s prescriptions or a teacher’s marks differ since they must vary in accordance with the rules which are not of an oppressive nature. However, Yusuf's brothers considered Ya'qūb's love as one that had no good reason

:Explanations

.If the children feel that they are discriminated against, their envy will be aroused .۱

Discrimination among one's children will decrease their love towards their parents .۲

.The exercise of power does not engender love .۳

Envy crossed the frontiers of fatherhood and prophecy hence the brothers .۴ attributed deviation and injustice to their father who was, at the same time, their prophet. The above verse says

”Verily, our father is in manifest error ...“

To be loved is an inherent need of man. Lack of love and affection of others is one of .۵ the greatest sufferings of man

(٩) اَقْتُلُوا يُوسُفَ أَوْ اطْرَحُوهُ أَرْضاً يَخْلُ لَكُمْ وَجْهُ أَبِيكُمْ وَتَكُونُوا مِنْ بَعْدِهِ قَوْمًا صَالِحِينَ

Slay you Yusuf, or cast him out to some (far) land, (so that) your father's attention " .٩ may be given on you (exclusively), and you may be after that (by repentance) a " .righteous people

Commentary: verse ٩

With respect to Divine favors, man has four options: to be jealous, to be stingy, to be self – sacrificing, and to be envious of others. If he enjoys a blessing and is happy that others do not enjoy it as well, this is a case of stingy, this is also the case if he does not enjoy a blessing and is glad that others do not enjoy it as well which is jealousy. If he lets others benefit from a blessing he enjoys and is not concerned whether he would be deprived of it in the process, this is a case of self–sacrifice. If he thinks that others enjoy a blessing and he doesn't and he wishes that he enjoys that blessing too, this is .envy

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said: "I sometimes express my affection towards some of my children, seating them on my lap even though they do not merit all that love, so that they do not become envious of my other children, and the adventures of Yusuf be (repeated once more.)" (١)

The feeling of envy, however, eventually led the brothers to conspire with each other. They proposed two schemes, either to kill Yusuf or to send him off to a far distant land so that the love

p: ٣٧٨

:and attention of their father would be evenly distributed among them. The verse says Slay you Yusuf, or cast him out to some (far) land, (so that) your father's attention "
"... ,(may be given on you (exclusively

It is true that they might have trouble with their consciences having condescended to committing such a crime against their brother. However, they thought that it might be possible to compensate for this sin and repent afterwards. The holy verse continues
:saying

”and you may be after that (by repentance) a righteous people ...“

This sentence reveals the fact that they had feelings of guilt for having committed such a barbarous act and were afraid of Allah at the bottom of their hearts. However, the important problem in question lies in the fact that discussing repentance before the commission of a sin is in actual fact a satanic strategy to cheat one's own conscience and keep a channel open with Allah, hence, the person in question is not .really repenting and by no means it is a reason for his regret

:Explanations

Dangerous thoughts lead man to perform dangerous acts and jealousy leads man .۱
.to such great sin that he will even be prepared to commit fratricide

Man seeks popularity and affection, the lack of which leads to the most dangerous .۲
.kinds of behaviors and deviations

Although the holy Qur'ān makes the acquisition of popularity and affection upon .۳ having faith and righteous conduct, Satan makes it the reward for killing one's .brothers

The jealous person thinks that if others are killed or removed, all the blessings will .۴
.be given to him

Satan, by holding out the probable possibility of future repentance, opens up the .۵
.gate for man to commit sin in the present

Being knowledgeable and being aware does not always imply that one has .۶
.distanced him from deviation

Despite the fact that Yusuf's brothers knew and believed that killing their brother was .an evil act it did not stop them from committing it

(١٠) قَالَ قَائِلٌ مِنْهُمْ لَا تَقْتُلُوا يُوسُفَ وَأَلْقُوهُ فِي غَيَابَتِ الْجُبِّ يَلْتَقِطُهُ بَعْضُ السَّيَّارَةِ إِنْ كُنْتُمْ فَاعِلِينَ

Said a speaker among them: ‘Do not slay Yusuf, and if you must do it, throw him “ ١٠ .
” into the bottom of the well (so that) some caravan (of travelers) may pick him up

Commentary: verse ١٠

The Arabic term /jubb/ means a kind of well in which stones have not been used in its
.construction

The word /qayābat/ also refers to a platform on the wall of a well near the water
.which cannot be seen from above the wall

Among his brothers, there was one who was more intelligent and had a conscience that was superior to that of the others. He opposed the conspiracy to murder Yusuf and the plan to send him into exile to a far distant land, as there was the fear that he might die in the process. He offered another contingency plan suggesting that they should not kill Yusuf, but put him down a well in such a way as to leave him in safety, which would enable travelers, passing by in their caravans to pick him up and take him with them, thus putting a distance between him and themselves and from the eyes of :their father. The verse says

Said a speaker among them: ‘Do not slay Yusuf, and if you must do it, throw him into “
” the bottom of the well (so that) some caravan (of travelers) may pick him up

Another important lesson drawn from this story is how a man’s jealousy can provide him with ways of entangling himself in very serious problems, and how, if this outrageous

.feeling is not controlled, it would involve not only oneself but others as well

It is for this very reason that in Islamic traditions various ways and techniques have :been suggested to fight this abhorrent evil. Here are some examples

The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has been quoted who said: “Allah dissuaded Musa Ibn Imrān from being jealous, saying to him: ‘The jealous person is furious about the blessings I have bestowed upon My servants and hinders the distribution of those shares which I have allocated for My servants. He who does so does not belong to Me nor do I belong ”.’to him

And a tradition quoted from Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) says: “The faithful may be envious but
.are never jealous

”.However, a hypocrite exhibits his jealousy but does not envy

This part of the story teaches us that parents should be extraordinarily vigilant as to how they express affection towards their children, for it sometimes happens that a simple expression of love towards one child can create such an inferiority complex in another that it would incite him to engage in all kinds of ill conduct. The other child could feel so intensively rejected that he would be ready to assassinate his brother’s
.character, not recognizing any kind of boundary

Even if he is not in a position to show the appropriate reaction, he would keep all his troubles to himself, blaming himself inwardly, which can contribute to the occurrence
.of mental problems

Some Traditions Concerning Jealousy

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “Do not be jealous, do not perform acts of ( ) hostility, do not back-bite or gossip, stay as Allah’s sheep, and act in a brotherly manner towards each other.” (1)

Also, he (p.b.u.h.) said: “The only thing which I am most afraid of about my Ummah is (2) the multiplication of wealth, for people will become jealous and consequently kill each other.” (2)

The holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) told his companions one day: “Beware that the disease of (3) the former nations has afflicted you. That disease is jealousy which does not wipe out the hair, but it can make one lose his religion.” (3)

Ali (a.s.) said: “A jealous person is always in discomfort and pain, even though his (4) body may be healthy.” (4)

Ali (a.s.) also said: “Remove jealousy from your heart for jealousy is an exhausting (5) and exasperating disease.” (5)

Amir ul Mu’minīn Ali (a.s.) said: “Jealousy is the worst of diseases.” (6) (6)

Ali (a.s.) said: “Stop being jealous and stop bearing grudges for they disrupt one’s (7) religion and bring man to destruction

Imam Šādiq (a.s.) said: “Be in awe of Allah and do not feel jealous of one another.” (8) (8)

Ali (a.s.) said: “Jealousy makes one’s life bitter and dark.” (9) (9)

Amir ul Mu’minīn Ali (a.s.) in a Tradition said: “Jealousy is a cureless disease which (10) will not disappear except

”?Yusuf, and verily we are his sincere well-wishers

Send him with us tomorrow to enjoy himself and play, and verily we shall take“ .١٢
”.every care of him

Commentary: verses ١١–١٢

Jealousy makes one commit such sins as lying and playing dirty tricks even upon the most favorite of one’s kin. After they had agreed on the final plot to throw him into the well, the brothers fell to thinking about how to separate Yusuf from his father. They came up with another idea. They came to their father, disguising their true intentions on their faces, and with an innocent tone of voice, they told him why he did not temporarily separate himself from Yusuf, and let him be with them instead. They inquired why Jacob did not trust them with Yusuf to look after their little brother. The :verse says

They said: ‘O our father! What cause is with you that you do not trust us with Yusuf, “
”?and verily we are his sincere well-wishers

Yusuf’s brothers urged the father to send the young boy with them to take him outside the town to play and to take benefit of the fresh air and fruits there. They also :mentioned that they would take care of him. The verse says

Send him with us tomorrow to enjoy himself and play, and verily we shall take every“
”.care of him

The father was put in an awkward position; if he refused their suggestion, it would make his secret distrust of the brothers public. On the other hand, Yusuf was attracted by the idea of going out for the recreation and excitement outside the town

:Points to Note

Man needs recreation and exercise, and, as one notices in this verse, the strongest argument which persuaded Ya‘qūb to submit to the wishes of his children, was that Yusuf needed recreation

It is mentioned in the Islamic narrations that the believer must allocate a certain period for recreation so that he would be able to succeed in his other affairs.<sup>(۱)</sup> Therefore, recreation and healthy sports are not only allowable in Islam, but they are also highly recommended. However, the enemies of Allah in the past, present and in the future, seek to deviate recreation and sports from their healthy role and separate the youth from their true objectives. Thus, the youth take sports too seriously regarding something recreational as a serious competitive matter, consuming energies that could be put to better and more creative use

Worldly oppressors and plot makers not only misuse sports, but also under any other agreeable and acceptable subject, they always pursue their evil aims. With the name of diplomat, they send the most dangerous spies to different countries. Under the title of military consolors, they plot and obtain the military secrets. By the name of human’s rights, they support their hired patrons. With the excuse of medicine, they send arms for their supporters, and so on

(١٣) قَالَ إِنِّي لَيَحْزُنُنِي أَنْ تَذْهَبُوا بِهِ وَأَخَافُ أَنْ يَأْكُلَهُ الذِّئْبُ وَأَنْتُمْ عَنْهُ غَافِلُونَ

(١٤) قَالُوا لَئِنْ أَكَلَهُ الذِّئْبُ وَنَحْنُ عُصْبَةٌ إِنَّا إِذًا لَخَاسِرُونَ

He said: ‘Verily it saddens me that you should take him away, and I fear lest the “ .١٣
”.’wolf devour him while you are heedless of him

They said: ‘If the wolf were to devour him while we are a (strong) group, then we “ .١٤
”.’should be losers

Commentary: verses ١٣–١٤

The father was aware of his children’s jealousy and this was why he told Yusuf that he should not recount his dream to his brothers. However Jacob (a.s.) did not make any mention of their jealousy, on the contrary, he raised the issue of the wolf and .their probable neglect of Yusuf as a pretext

Therefore, in response to their suggestions and without accusing them of any possible wrong doing, he said that he would be saddened if they took him with them, because in the surrounding area there might be fierce wolves, which might probably attack and eat his son while they might be busy having fun, and neglect him. The :verse says

He said: ‘Verily it saddens me that you should take him away, and I fear lest the wolf “
”.’devour him while you are heedless of him

Certainly, the brothers had no clear answer for the first reason which their father had given, for Yusuf’s departure was such a sorrowful event to the father that they could not compensate by any means. It is quite possible that this statement might have enflamed their jealousy even more

On the other hand, the father's answer, from a different perspective, indicated that eventually a child had to be separated from his father for the sake of his own development

They could not and did not give an answer to the first reason, instead. They focused their attention on the second reason which was more important to their plans. They said that they were a powerful group, and it would be they who would be at a disadvantage if a wolf had attacked him, because the wolf would have to eat them first, therefore, this could never happen. In other words, they were never going to allow wolves to eat any of their brothers and sit by and watch such a thing happen. At any rate, they made their father submit to their demand through playing all kinds of tricks and getting Yusuf excited about going by emphasizing the fun he would have. :The verse says

They said: 'If the wolf were to devour him while we are a (strong) group, then we " should be losers

It is interesting to note that just as Yusuf's brothers utilized his inherent interest in recreation in order to achieve their objectives, the enemies of truth and justice also try to employ sports and recreation to poison the thinking of the new generation. We must guard ourselves against those evil plots which the wolf-like superpowers employ under the guise of recreational activities for the youth

:Outstanding points

.Give your children independence

The paternal affection unto the child and defending him against probable dangers – ۱ are two principles, but the child's independence is also another principle

A lie must be avoided to be suggested because people may misuse it. The Prophet –ﷺ (p.b.u.h.) said: “Do not suggest a lie and do not open the way of pretext for lying

In Majma‘-ul-Bayān, it says that Ya‘qūb feared that the brothers might kill him though he did not say this directly. He referred to them metaphorically as wolves, for he had dreamed that wolves had attacked Yusuf. When Ya‘qūb had mentioned the word “wolves” it occurred to them to use this as an excuse for their crime. The lesson here is that one should be careful not to make it easy for others to misuse our words and actions

The Arabic word /‘uṣbah/ refers to a strong united group, and they protect each other on this basis

Sometimes grown people become disconcerted in the face of danger, but the youth are proud of their strength and do not take danger seriously: /wa naḥnu ‘uṣbatun/.
.While the father was anxious, the children were proud of their strength

(١٥) فَلَمَّا ذَهَبُوا بِهِ وَأَجْمَعُوا أَنْ يَجْعَلُوهُ فِي غَيَابَتِ الْجُبِّ وَأَوْحَيْنَا إِلَيْهِ لَتَسْبِتْنَهُمْ بِأَمْرِهِمْ هَذَا وَهُمْ لَا يَشْعُرُونَ

So when they did take him with them, and they agreed to put him in the bottom of “ ١٥ the well, and We revealed unto him: ‘You will certainly inform them of this deed of theirs while they know (you) not

Commentary: verse ١٥

At the sensitive times, Allah’s help comes unto the saints of Allah. The best means of calmness for Yusuf, when he was at the bottom of well, was Allah’s inspiration due to .his bright future and his deliverance

The brothers had gone to sleep that night, confident that their plot would go according to their plan the following day. Their only anxiety was that their father .might rue, and reverse his saying

The next morning they went to their father and he entrusted Yusuf to their care giving them advice on how they should take care of their little brother. They expressed their appreciation for the advice and, taking him up gently and respectfully in front of their .father, set off with Yusuf

It is said that the father escorted them to the gates of the town and held Yusuf for the last time, embracing him while drops of tears rolled down his cheeks. Then he deposited him in their care and departed with a sorrowful heart. As long as they were in sight of Jacob, they would fondle and caress Yusuf, pretending that they really cared for him. But when they were out of sight of their father, they began beating and kicking him, showing their true colors and jealousy of the little innocent boy. He implored the protection of one brother from the other, but all were of one cruel mind.

«Majma‘-ul-Bayān

In one narration it is said that when Yusuf was crying during their mistreatment of him or when they were about to throw him into the well, he suddenly started laughing to his brothers' astonishment. Then he manifested the secret of this laughter and taught them a great lesson when he said: "I shall never forget that once I used to be happy to look at you, my powerful brothers with strong arms and extraordinary bodily strength. I used to say to myself that I had no reason to worry about anything when I had so many powerful companions to rely on. I was then sure of your protection and confident in your support. Now, I am at your mercy, while I am being maltreated by you I am seeking the protection of each of you from the other and none of you may give me any support. Allah has taught me the lesson that I must not rely upon anyone ".except Him alone

At any rate, the Qur'ān says that they unanimously agreed to throw him into the well and before this they inflicted as much tyranny and cruelty on him as was possible. It
:says

So when they did take him with them, and they agreed to put him in the bottom of "
"... ,the well

To console him, it was revealed to Yusuf that he should not grieve for a day would come when he would make them all aware of their evil designs while they did not
.recognize him

That was not a Divine revelation revealed as a prophet's revelation, but it was an aspiration to the heart of Yusuf. It was for Yusuf to know that he was not alone and that he had guardians who took care of him. This revelation shone the light of peace and hope on his heart, expelling the darkness of frustration and despair from his soul.
:The verse says

and We revealed unto him: "You will certainly inform them of this deed of theirs ... "
".?while they know (you) not

”And they came to their father at nightfall, weeping “ .١٦

Commentary: verse ١٦

Crying is not always sincere nor a sign of honesty. Do not trust every type of crying
.and weeping

.Conspirators do not neglect to take into consideration the role of feelings and timing

Yusuf’s brothers had executed their plot flawlessly as they had planned and desired
.against him

Now, they had to think about their return, their father’s questions and how to make him believe their lies. The lie they cooked up, which we will see later on in the commentary on the next verse, was the very same fear which their father had .expressed and predicted, proclaiming that Yusuf was eaten by wolves

The Qur’ān says that the brothers went to their father at night, crying. This kind of crying is deceiving and pretentious which shows us that someone might cry without a valid and honest reason and therefore we cannot conclude that someone is in trouble
:simply by looking at the tears in his eyes. The verse says

”And they came to their father at nightfall, weeping “

:There are four types of weeping in the Qur’ān

The tears shed out of joy: Some Christians, when listening to the chanting of the – ١ Qur’ān used to shed tears. The Qur’ān says: “And when they hear what has been sent down to the Messenger, you see their eyes overflowing with tears because of what \(they recognize of the Truth. ...” \(١\)

The tears shed out of sorrow: For example, when some Muslims heard that it was – ٢ not possible for them to join the advance forces of the army of the Sublime Prophet (p.b.u.h.), they shed tears. The Qur’ān says: “...and their eyes overflowed with tears of \(١\) (sorrow, for they did not find that which they should spend.”

The tears shed out of fear: For example, whenever certain verses of the Qur’ān – ٣ were read to the men of Allah, they would fall in prostration and cry. “...When the revelations of the Beneficent (Allah) were recited unto them, they fell down prostrating and weeping.”\(٢\) In another occurrence the Qur’ān says: “And they fall \(٣\) (down on their faces weeping, and it adds to their humility.”

Tears shed to deceive and mislead: An example of this is reflected in Yusuf’s – ٤ brothers coming to Ya‘qūb, in tears, to try to falsely prove and convince him that a “.wolf had torn apart the body of their brother. “...Weeping

Commentary: verse ١٧

The brothers told three consecutive lies to justify their fault. They said they had gone .tracing; they left Yusuf with their things and a wolf devoured him

Waiting impatiently to receive his beloved son, the father was struck with fear and concern on seeing them return without Yusuf, he was afraid that his worst fears had .been realized. Naturally, Ya‘qūb asked them why Yusuf had not returned with them

They said that they had gone racing (horse–riding and the like) and since Yusuf was .too young and could not participate, they left him with their belongings

They were so occupied with racing that they forgot about everything else, even their younger brother whom they had left looking after their things. It was at that time that :the vicious wolf came and tore him apart. The verse says

They said: ‘O’ our father! Verily we went off racing and left Yusuf with our things; “ ”... .then the wolf devoured him

This was the truth of the matter they said, but, they told their father that he would never believe them, because Jacob had already predicted such a thing would happen, :and thus he might regard their claims as a pretext. The verse says

”.’But thou will never believe us even though we be truthful ...“

To explain Yusuf's absence, as it was referred at the beginning, the brothers told three consecutive lies: They left Yusuf with their belongings, they went off to race with each other, and the wolf came and ate him

:Traditions upon Lie

:There are numerous Islamic traditions about lying, a few of which are listed below

Imam Riḍā (a.s.) said: "Keep away from major sins, which consist of: Killing someone (1) the shedding of whose blood is forbidden, fornication, theft, lying, arrogance and (2) extravagance." (1)

It is narrated from Allah's Prophet (p.b.u.h.) who said: "Abstain from lying for it (2) seduces \(man\) to commit sins which in turn lead him to Hellfire." (2)

Imam Hasan 'Askarī (a.s.) has been quoted to have said: "All corruptions are (3) assembled in one house, the key of which is lying" (3)

.That is, man's lying leads him to commit other sins

The sublime Prophet told Abūthar Ghaffārī: "O' Abūthar! Woe be unto him who tells (4) lies in order to make others laugh! Woe be unto him! Woe be unto him! Woe be unto (5) him! Woe be unto him!" (4)

Commentary: verse ١٨

Patience for Allah’s determinations is good. But how is it good that one has to keep his patience in a situation where cruelty has been inflicted upon an innocent child, when ?”Jacob says: “for me patience is good

:An Answer to the Question

First, Ya‘qūb knew that Yusuf was still alive, because he knew this fact through revelation. Secondly, if he behaved differently, he might have made them more suspicious and they might then rush back to the hiding place, the well, and kill the little .boy

The third point is that one should not act in such a way as to obstruct another’s way to .repentance, even if that person is as cruel as those brothers were

.They brought Yusuf’s shirt to him, stained with false blood to prove that he was killed

However, as liars have poor memories, they had been neglectful to tear the shirt apart in several places at least as would have been the case if he had been really attacked by a wolf. They had simply taken it off and brought it to him. Ya‘qūb was quite a perceptive and experienced man; he took one look at the shirt and understood that the whole story had been made up. He bluntly told them that they were lying, that their selfish and egoistic passions had put them up to doing such a satanic and :dreadful deed. The verse says

And they brought his shirt with false blood on it. He said: ‘No, your (guilty) selves “
”... .have made a matter light for you

In some narrations we read that he took the shirt and turned it inside out and asked: “Why is it that I do not see any traces of the wolf’s teeth and claws on it?” According to another narration, he took the shirt and covered his face with it and while he was weeping, he said: “What kind of wolf was it that had eaten up my son but did not do any damage to his shirt?” Then he lost consciousness and fell to the ground like a dry piece of wood. Until late at night when the cold breeze of midnight caused him to .recover his senses

Although he felt the burning anguish of the loss of his son at the bottom of his heart, he never uttered a single word of ingratitude towards Allah. Instead he said he would wait patiently, with the kind of patience that was beautiful and rely upon Allah. The :verse continues saying

”... ;For me) patience is good) ...“

The hearts of the men of Allah are centers of compassion and it is not surprising that when he separated from his son Ya‘qūb shed abundant tears for him which is natural.
Nevertheless, despite his emotional distress, he did not lose his self control, and did .not say anything against the consent of Allah

Then Jacob remarked that he would ask Allah to help him for what they said and he would seek Him to give him more ability so that he could stand firm in front of that terrible storm and not to lose his self-control and not to pollute his tongue with any :improper word. The verse in this regard says

”.’and Allah is He Whose help is to be sought against what you describe ...“

The best type of patience is that in which, despite one's profound sorrow and – ١ ardent yearning, one does not forget Allah and relies upon Divine assistance

Satan, as well as the despotic soul, may present sin as something attractive to man – ٢ and provide a justification for him to commit that sin

Do not be duped by the deceptive pretensions of people. Ya'qūb did not let himself – ٣ be fooled by Yusuf's blood-stained shirt and his brothers' tears, rather he said: "No,
".your (guilty) selves have made a matter light for you

Imam Şādiq (a.s.) has been quoted as saying that when Yusuf was thrown down the – ٤ well, Gabriel came to him and said: "What are you doing here?" He answered: "My brothers have thrown me down this well." Gabriel asked: "Do you want to be saved from the well?" He answered: "It is Allah Who will take me out if He wishes." He said:
"Your Lord has commanded that you recite this prayer, and you get out." He asked:
:"What prayer?" He answered

Say: O' Allah: I ask You Whose is all praise, and there is no god but You; You are the " – bestower of blessings (upon Your servants), the Creator of the heavens and the earth and the Owner of Glory and Benevolence. I ask You to send Your blessings upon Muhammad and his descendents and appoint the wherewithal for me to be saved
".from the plight I am in Then there came a caravan (of travelers). They sent their water-drawer (for “ ١٩ . water) and he let down his bucket. He said: ‘O’ good news! This is a youth.’ So they hid him as a merchandise; while Allah is aware of what they do

Commentary: verse ١٩

Allah never leaves his sincere servants alone and saves them whenever they are .entangled in hardships

He guided Noah to safety on the surface of water, he rescued Yūnus from underneath the water, and He rescued Yusuf from the bottom of the well, the same way He saved ‘Ibrāhīm from within the fire. He guided Moses to safety through the middle of the sea, He protected Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) in the cave, and Ali (a.s.) during the night fixed for the execution of the conspiracy (Laylat-ul-Mabīt), when he slept in place of the .Prophet (p.b.u.h.). Whenever Allah wills, He acts and it is without the consent of man

For instance, Haḍrat Mūsā (a.s.) went to fetch a fire, and returned with prophetic revelations. The caravan also went to draw water to replenish their supply, in the .process they saved Yusuf and returned with him

Due to Allah’s will, the ropes became a means for Yusuf to climb up from the bottom of the well and ascend the throne. From this one should heed the things that can happen through the rope of Allah. When those near to one do not provide the support .needed, Allah provides that support using others

His brothers abandoned him, but a caravan of strangers arrived and gave him help. Yusuf had a hard time down there at the bottom of the well in that terrible darkness, but his faith in Allah and the peace and comfort, which that faith provided, gave him a ray of hope that made him tolerate that awful loneliness and .thus remain unshaken throughout the ordeal

Allah knows how many days passed after this event, however, a caravan arrived and stopped there to draw water, a primary need for the caravan in that arid climate. They sent the man responsible for maintaining their water supplies to get the water and he let his bucket down the well with a rope. From the bottom of the well Yusuf saw the bucket with the rope coming down rapidly towards him, he seized this Divine :opportunity and clung to the rope. The verse says

The water-carrier felt his bucket over weighted and quickly hauled it up. As soon as he brought it up, his eyes fell upon a handsome little boy. He exclaimed: “Good tidings,” instead of water, it was a beautiful boy. Some members of the caravan also took note but hid the news from the others in order to sell the boy as a slave in Egypt. They said that that beautiful boy was given by the owner of the well in order that they could sell him as a merchandise in Egypt. But Allah was well aware of what they were :doing. The verse continues saying

He said: ‘O’ good news! This is a youth.’ So they hid him as a merchandise; while ... “ .Allah is aware of what they do

Commentary: verse ٢٠

They sold Yusuf cheap, for a few dirhams. This is not so surprising, for a common rule among thieves, or those who underhandedly acquire a valuable property, is to promptly sell their easily gotten merchandise usually quickly, for the fear that others :may become aware and apprehend them. The verse says

” ... ,And they sold him for a small price, of a few dirhams counted out “

Naturally, when someone intends to sell something in a hurry, he cannot obtain a fair :price for his goods. At the end of the verse Allah says

” .and in him they had no interest ... “

Thus did We establish Yusuf in the land, and that We might teach him the interpretation of tales (dreams). And Allah is "predominant over His affair; but most people do not know

Commentary: verse ٢١

The adventurous story of Yusuf and his brothers, which culminated in them throwing him down the bottom of the well, came to an end and a new chapter in the life of this .small boy began in Egypt

Yusuf was eventually taken to Egypt and, according to the usual procedure, he was put up for sale. Evidently he was seen as a valuable piece of property and was sold to the 'Aziz (the Great One) of Egypt who enjoyed a high rank in the Pharaoh's court, very much like .the position of Prime Minister today

The holy Qur'ān implies that the 'Aziz of Egypt, who had bought him, told his wife to receive Yusuf honorably and not treat him as a slave for he might be useful to them or else they could adopt him as their son. It says

And he of Egypt who bought him said to his wife: 'Receive him honorably, maybe he " ... 'will profit us, or we shall adopt him as a son

One can conclude from this sentence that the 'Aziz had no children and aspired to have one. As soon as his eyes fell upon the beautiful and dignified boy, he was immediately attracted to him and thought that he could fill the role of a son for him

:Then the Qur'ān in this holy verse continues saying

"... ,Thus did We establish Yusuf in the land ..."

After that, the verse also adds that this opportunity was made available in order to teach him the interpretation of tales. It says

"... (and that We might teach him the interpretation of tales (dreams ..."

The "interpretation of tales" here signifies the art of interpreting dreams through which Yusuf could have access to any important secret of the future

:At the end of the verse, the Qur'ān says

"And Allah is predominant over His affair; but most people do not know ..."

(٢٢) وَلَمَّا بَلَغَ أَشُدَّهُ ءَاتَيْنَاهُ حُكْمًا وَعِلْمًا وَكَذَلِكَ نَجْزِي الْمُحْسِنِينَ

And when he reached his prime (maturity), We gave him wisdom and knowledge. “ ٢٢ .
”And thus do We reward the doers of good

Commentary: verse ٢٢

The Arabic term /ašudda/ is derived from /šadd/ meaning a firm knot which, in this verse, denotes bodily and spiritual development. This word is also sometimes used in the Qur’ān to mean maturity, as in verse ٣٤ of the Sura Al ’Isrā’, No. ١٧ which says: “Do not approach the orphan’s property until he attains his maturity...”. Sometimes, the term is used to mean attaining the age of forty as in verse ١٥ of the Sura Al Ahqāf No. ٤٦ where it says: “... until when he attains his maturity and reaches forty years Sometimes it refers to the peak of one’s development and strength before old age as in verse ٦٧ in Sura Ghāfir No. ٤٠. The Qur’ān says: “... then He brings you forth as a ”... child, then that you may attain your maturity, then that you may be old

Gradually Yusuf became acquainted with the problems besetting this new .environment which was in fact an important political center of Egypt

On the one hand, he would notice the fabulous palaces of the Egyptian aristocracy with their unlimited wealth, and on the other, the misery of the slave market and the suffering imposed upon the common people. At the same time he was engaged in self-actualization and purification of his soul. The Qur’ān implies that Allah gave Yusuf
:wisdom and knowledge. The verse says

”... .And when he reached his prime (maturity), We gave him wisdom and knowledge “

The purpose of employing the words /hukman wa ‘ilmā/ (wisdom and knowledge), in the above verse, is that Allah had bestowed the rank of prophecy upon Yusuf as soon as he had developed physically and spiritually. His physical maturity was crowned by the gift of /hukm/wisdom, understanding, and the power of correct discrimination which is free of egoistic influences and mistakes. The term ‘knowledge’ is employed .here to mean the awareness which is associated with wisdom

The gifts of “hukm” and “ilm” were two valuable Divine favors which were bestowed upon Yusuf for his virtue, patience, righteousness, and trust, since those sincere believers who can control their restive desires in the field of struggle of soul are divinely given some merits out of knowledge and sciences which are far beyond any .material criteria

:The verse continues saying

”And thus do We reward the doers of good ...“

(٢٣) وَرَاوَدَتْهُ الَّتِي هُوَ فِي بَيْتِهَا عَن نَّفْسِهِ وَغَلَّقَتِ الْاَبْوَابَ وَقَالَتْ هَيْت لَكَ قَالَ مَعِيَ اللّٰهُ اِنَّهُ رَبِّيْ اَحْسَنَ مَشْوَاىِ اِنَّهُ لَاۤ- يُفْلِحُ الظّٰلِمُوْنَ

And the woman, in whose house he was, sought to seduce him from his self and “ ٢٣. she closed the doors and said: ‘Come here’. He said ‘I seek refuge in Allah! Verily He is my Lord. He made good my abode. Verily the unjust do not prosper”.

Commentary: verse ٢٣

Two possibilities have been advanced for the interpretation of the Qur’ānic phrase: (’innahu rabbī ’ahsana maθwāya/ (verily He is my Lord. He made good my abode

A- It is the Almighty, my Lord, Who has honored my position and I seek refuge in Him

B- The ‘Aziz is my lord who has honored me as his guest and he told you about me to give me a good abode, and I will not betray him

Both possibilities have their own advocates which they support with their own documentations. We are of the opinion that the first theory is more acceptable, for Yusuf did not commit sin because of his Divinely bestowed virtue, and not simply because he was staying in the palace of ‘Aziz and that being indebted to him, he could not violate the wife of ‘Aziz. Such a scenario requires much less virtue that that required for the fear of Allah. Certainly, we see allusions made several times to the word /rabbika/ in this Sura which refers to the ‘Aziz. However, the use of the term /rabbī/, which is used in this sentence refers to Allah. Moreover, it is not in consonance with

Yusuf's position and character to lower himself to such an extent to call the 'Aziz
."/rabbī/ "my lord

Not only had Yusuf attracted the 'Aziz to himself with his Divine beauty and conduct, but he had also completely conquered the heart of his wife, Zulaykha, as well. With the passage of time, her love for him grew to great heights but Yusuf, who was righteous and self-abstaining, thought of no one but Allah, and his heart was always
.filled with the love of Allah

Other factors also helped to inflame Zulaykha's burning desire for him. On the one hand, she was childless and lived a luxurious and aristocratic life, and on the other hand, she had no domestic conflicts or problems in her life which left her with ample time to engage in fantasy and plan schemes. Her weak faith and lack of ethical virtues left her in the grip of her satanic lust and passions which eventually led her to decide .to take action in order to realize the pleasure she was seeking

So, to obtain her wish and reaching her aim, she applied all means and methods she could. By asking and requesting him, she tried to gain his heart and make him agree,
:as the Qur'ān says

"... And the woman in whose house he was, sought, to seduce him from his self "

Finally, it came to her one day to entrap him in a secluded place in the house. She used every possible means to tempt and excite him, putting on the most attractive clothing, make up and the best scented perfumes. She set the scene so that to bring Yusuf to .his knees

The Qur'ān says that she locked all the doors securely, telling him to come and take :her. The verse says

"... 'and she closed the doors and said: 'Come here ..."

Here was this very attractive woman, alone with him in a locked room, with no one else aware of what was going on. Or so she thought that, by this circumstance, she might make him understand that no one was able to penetrate into inside and he would not be worry

Yusuf saw the whole thing was wrong and sinful from the beginning, he was trapped, it seemed that he had no other option open to him. To her insistent demands, when all seemed lost, he simply replied, "I seek refuge in Allah

By saying this he both confessed to the oneness of Allah, and to the practical aspect of this belief. All things being equal, how could he possibly have submitted to such a request, while he was still living in the house of the 'Aziz and eating from his generous pocket, and who provided him with many favors regarding him in great esteem? The verse says

"... Verily He is my Lord. He made good my abode..."

Yusuf continues saying whether that was not a manifest injustice and a treachery and certainly the unjust will not be prosperous. The verse says

"Verily the unjust do not prosper ..."

:Messages

Do not leave young men alone in the houses where there are forbidden women who are not virtuous, since the situation may result in a passionate involvement with each other

Capital sins first begin gradually with lax rules of social intercourse and free association

Therefore, shun association between forbidden men and women in secluded places as it paves the way for sinful behavior

The sin of adultery has been established as a sin throughout history, and it was for this reason that Zulaykha securely fastened all the doors to the room

The best kind of Islamic virtue is to keep oneself from committing sin for the sake of the favor, affection and right of Allah, and not because of the fear of scandal in this world or out of the fear of Hell Fire in the Hereafter

Every door might often be closed but the door for those seeking shelter with Allah always remains open

Keeping Allah in mind is a factor that hinders us from committing sin and error

Adultery, fornication and conspiring against innocent youth are considered as tyranny against oneself, one's own spouse and the members of society

One must not obey any authority of any rank if it orders us to commit sins, because the immaculate Imam (a.s.) said: "Do not obey a created (man) in disobeying the Creator."

One moment's sin puts a great distance between man and salvation

Commentary: verse ٢٤

Imam Şādiq (a.s.) has said that /burhānu rabbī/ (a Sign from my Lord), is identical with the light of knowledge, certainty and wisdom which Allah has said in a phrase of the previous verses: “We gave him wisdom and knowledge”, and whatever has been mentioned in some narrations which claim that the “Sign from his Lord” means his witnessing the face of his father or that of Gabriel does not have a firm chain of .transmission

At any rate, if Divine assistance is absent, everyone is liable to commit mistakes. .However, Allah protects His sincere subjects

The incident with the wife of the ‘Aziz is a very sensitive issue. The holy Qur’ān indicates her powerful sensuality and attractiveness when it says that she was about to seduce him and had it not been for Allah’s evidence which Yusuf had noticed, he :would have fallen into her arms. The verse says

And indeed she desired him, and he would have desired her if he had not seen the “ ... evidence of his Lord

Yusuf was a young man and not yet married, and he was confronting an extremely exciting sexual situation for the first time, with all these frailties he would have succumbed and given in, had it not been for the sake of Allah's evidence. That is, had it not been for Allah's evidence, which means the essence of faith, piety, training, and, finally, the rank of inerrancy, it seems that he would have succumbed to the temptation despite his core of faith, virtue and chastity

This interpretation has been concisely expressed in a noble narration from Imam Ridā (a.s.) where Ma'mūn, the Abbasid caliph, asked the Imam: "Aren't you one who

"?believes that the prophets are immaculate

."He answered: "Yes
Then Ma'mūn asked: "Then what is the interpretation of this Qur'ānic verse, which says

And indeed she desired him, and he would have desired her if he had not seen the " evidence of his Lord

The Imam (a.s.) answered: "The wife of the 'Aziz decided to gratify her desire with Yusuf and were it not for the evidence of Allah which Yusuf witnessed, he would also have decided the same way she had decided. However, he was an immaculate person and such a person never intends to commit sin and never seeks to engage in sinful acts."

!Ma'mūn said: "Well done O 'Abul Hassan

Let us turn to the commentary of the rest of the verse. The Glorious Qur'ān implies that Allah (s.w.t.) showed Yusuf His evidence in order to divert him from evil and indecency, for he was one of His sincere and purified servants. The verse says

"... Thus (it was) that We turned away from him evil and indecency ..."

:The reason for this was, as Allah says, that ".(Verily he was (one) of Our chosen servants, (sincere and purified ..."

In this verse, allusion is made to the fact that He had sent invisible Divine assistance to rescue him from falling into evil and sin. This kind of Divine assistance, which comes during moments of trouble and crisis, is not confined to the prophets, such as Yusuf. They can also cover those sincere servants of Allah among ordinary people as well, who also deserve such favors

:Solemnity in Statement

One of the amazing things about the Qur'ān, which is also one of its miracles, is its solemnity and its use of respectable language. That is, it never uses indecent words or concepts. It's speech is never in keeping with the ordinary and illiterate individuals, in the environment of ignorance, but at the same time, it is accessible to all, using a language that the ordinary men and the intellectual can understand

Among all the biographies mentioned in the Qur'ān, there is only one real love story which is the story of Yusuf and Zulaykha

This story explains the ardent love of a beautiful sensual woman unto a handsome youth, but pure

However, the Qur'ān has beautifully combined precision in expression with solemnity and chastity, and despite the fact that it talks about affairs of the heart, it has utilized the principles of piety, morals and respect without being paralysed in the process

And they both raced to the door and she tore his shirt from the back. They both “ ٢٥. found her husband by the door. She said: ‘What is the punishment for him who intends “?evil to your wife save he be imprisoned or a painful chastisement

The Arabic word /’istibāq/ means one or several persons racing with each other; and the term /qadda/ signifies to be torn apart lengthwise. The word /lafā’/ refers to the sudden finding of something

Yusuf’s firm resistance almost made Zulaykha lose hope. But Yusuf, who had won against the restive low desires in the course of confrontation with that beautiful woman who burned with desire for him, felt he would not be out of danger if he remained in that situation, so he bolted for the door. Zulaykha, not to be outmaneuvered, took off after him, as the verse indicates, they both raced towards the door, and not being able to catch up to him, she reached out for his shirt to pull him back and tore it from the back. Yusuf did eventually make it to the door, and, on opening it, they came face to face with the ‘Aziz. The verse says

And they both raced to the door and she tore his shirt from the back. They both “ found her husband by the door ... .the door

The need to protect herself from scandal and the desire to punish Yusuf for rejecting her advances flooded her thoughts

Putting on a specious face, she looked at her husband with a straight face and accused Yusuf of having evil designs against her, and sought his punishment by prison or a grievous chastisement. The verse says

She said: ‘What is the punishment for him who intends evil to your wife save he be ...’
”?imprisoned or a painful chastisement

(٢٦) قَالَ هِيَ رَاوَدَتْنِي عَنْ نَفْسِي وَشَهِدَ شَاهِدٌ مِنْ أَهْلِهَا إِنْ كَانَ فَمِيصُهُ قُدًّا مِنْ قَبْلِ فَصَدَقَتْ وَهُوَ مِنَ الْكَاذِبِينَ

He said: ‘She (it was who) sought to seduce me from my (pure) self,’ and a witness “ .٢٦ from her own family bore witness, ‘If it be that his shirt is torn from the front, then she ”.’speaks the truth and he is of the liars

Commentary: verse ٢٦

Some narrations say that the witness was a child who, like Jesus (a.s.), spoke from inside the cradle, but since this report is not well documented it cannot be .disregarded

It might be better to think of the witness as one of the counselors of the ‘Aziz who was a relative of his wife and who was fairly intelligent that, like ‘Aziz, saw the situation. This “witness” however, did not actually witness the main event, because if he did himself, he would not have used the conditional sentence and circumstantial evidence to make a judgment, therefore the word “witness” is used to describe him as a .referee

At first, Yusuf said nothing, and perhaps if the wife of the ‘Aziz did not speak out accusing him with a flagrant lie, her reputation would not have been damaged by the “...saying: “She it was (who) sought to seduce me

However, once she had made her accusations, Yusuf did not see any wisdom in continuing to hold his tongue, he had to defend himself which meant disclosing the truth where she was concerned, so he said that it was she who was the one who was .doing the seducing

He said: ‘She (it was who) sought to seduce me from my (pure) self,’ and a witness “
”... ,from her own family bore witness

Obviously, it is hard to believe at first that the unmarried male slave in the prime of his young manhood would be the one who was innocent and the older married woman who was apparently noble, would be the one with the sinful character. Thus, there would have been a greater tendency to accuse Yusuf in this connection than the wife
.of the ‘Aziz

As Allah is always an advocate of those who are upright and good, He would not allow this pious abstemious man to be the object of false accusations. Thus, as the Qur’ān says a witness from among her very own household suggested that the true culprit would be determined by looking at the way the shirt was torn, that if it were torn from :the front, it would indicate that she was right and he would be the liar. The verse says

If it be that his shirt is torn from the front, then she speaks the truth and he is of“ ...“
”.’the liars

And if his shirt is torn from the back, then she tells a lie, and he is of the truthful “ .٢٧
”.(ones

Commentary: verse ٢٧

In the story of Yusuf, his shirt plays a decisive role. In one part of the story, his shirt, being torn from behind, provides good evidence to prove his innocence and leads to the establishment of Zulaykha’s guilt. This incident is a good example of the application of criminological investigation in establishing guilt. In another part of the story the shirt also plays a pivotal role, the fact that it was not torn apart by a wolf indicated to the father that the brothers had played foul with Yusuf and had fabricated a lie to cover it up. At the end of the story, the shirt once more plays a .major part, becoming the means whereby the father regains his eyesight

However, generally the application of the proper methods of recognition of crime is :necessary for finding the crime and the criminal. That was why the witness said

And if his shirt is torn from the back, then she tells a lie, and he is of the truthful “
”.(ones

The witness was one of the relatives of the wife of the ‘Aziz, as indicated by the phrase /min ahlihā/. He was a wise, knowledgeable and intelligent man, and it is said that he had been one of the counselors and consultants of the ‘Aziz, who was .accompanying ‘Aziz at that moment

(٢٨) فَلَمَّا رَأَىٰ قَمِيصَهُ قُدِّمًا مِنْ دُبُرٍ قَالَ إِنَّهُ مِنْ كَيْدِكُنَّ إِنَّ كَيْدَكُنَّ عَظِيمٌ

So when he (the 'Aziz) saw his shirt was torn from behind, he said: 'Verily it is of " .٢٨
".the guile of you women! Truly, your guile is great

Commentary: verse ٢٨

The Qur'ānic terms /kayda kunna/ (your guile) here means: 'to accuse some guiltless people while hiding one's own guilt and swiftly dissociating it from oneself without having the slightest anxiety'. The Qur'ān regards the Satan's tricks as weak, but the guile of women have been mentioned as great in this verse. According to the 'Tafsīr-us-Sāfī', it is because the satanic guile is momentary, invisible and acted in a subtle way, whereas the guile of women is acted along with delicacy, and affection, which .are both focused and continuous

Allah sometimes accomplishes major tasks by means of some small things. For example: 'Abraha was defeated by the birds of 'Abābīl; the life of the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) was saved because of a spider's web; a crow was used to instruct a human being (Cain) on how to bury a human being (Abel); the chastity of Mary was made manifest through the infant's talk, Yusuf's innocence was proved by the tear in his shirt; the faith of a country's people was known through the messages of a bird (Hoopoe); and finally, the People of the Cave were recognized through the kind of their money. All of these incidents are examples of great occurrences divinely fulfilled through objects and incidents that are otherwise seen as commonplace or .insignificant

The 'Aziz accepted the method proposed by the "witness" and gazed at Yusuf's shirt.

He noticed that the shirt had been torn from the back, and he remembered that he had never heard Yusuf tell a lie, even once, he turned to his wife and said that this act was part of the guile of women, that :their guile is indeed, very powerful. The verse says

So when he (the 'Aziz) saw his shirt was torn from behind, he said: 'Verily is of the "

".?guile of you women! Truly, your guile is great

(٢٩) يُوسُفُ أَعْرَضُ عَنْ هَذَا وَاسْتَغْفِرِي لِذَنْبِكِ إِنَّكِ كُنتِ مِنَ الْخَاطِئِينَ

O Yusuf! Overlook this matter; and you, (O my wife), ask forgiveness for your sin, “ .٢٩
”for surely you are of the wrong-doers

Commentary: verse ٢٩

At this moment, owing to his fear that the embarrassing event might come to light and damage his prestige, the ‘Aziz saw it convenient to put an end to the whole affair by keeping it quiet. Turning to Yusuf, he told him to forget about it, and turning to his wife, he told her to repent and ask forgiveness for her sin, for she had definitely been :the one who did wrong. The verse says

O Yusuf! Overlook this matter; and you, (O my wife), ask forgiveness for your sin, for “
”surely you are of the wrong-doers

Another great lesson that this part of the story of Yusuf teaches us is that very support of Allah, Who assists man in the most difficult states. According to His statement which says: “... whoever is in awe of Allah, He will make for him an outlet,” ﴿“And give him sustenance from whence he thinks not;...”﴾<sup>(١)</sup>

Allah caused Yusuf to be proved innocent by means of existence of the tear in his shirt as an evidence. Yusuf’s shirt was also the same thing that one day manifested the lie of Yusuf’s brothers before their father because of lack of tear in it, and again his shirt was put over the face of Jacob when he regained his eye sight, and it was brought from Egypt to Kan‘ān and gave the glad tidings to Jacob. However, Allah has some secret favours of which no one is aware. When the breeze of this favour blows the affairs may change in a way that it is not .predictable for any one, even for the most intelligent members

:Some Explanations

The ‘Aziz of Egypt wanted to cover up the incident, but the people of the world in all .۱ .centuries came to know about it in order for Yusuf’s innocence to be maintained

The ‘Aziz, typical for those among the affluent classes, had a lenient attitude .۲ .towards matters regarding chastity, and refrained from seriously chastising his wife

Non-godly leaders are usually not able to take a decisive stand towards their own .۳ .impure wives

A woman’s sexual relationship with any man other than her husband is illegitimate .and indecent

Point

Yusuf prefers prison against the Temptation

The chief's wife proves the irresistible attraction of Joseph's beauty – Joseph imprisoned

(۳۰) وَقَالَ نِسْوَةٌ فِي الْمَدِينَةِ امْرَأَتُ الْعَزِيزِ تُرَاوِدُ فَتَاهَا عَن نَّفْسِهِ قَدْ شَغَفَهَا حُبًّا إِنَّا لَنَرَاهَا فِي ضَلَالٍ مُّبِينٍ

And some women in the city said: ‘The wife of the ‘Aziz has sought to seduce her “ ۳۰.
slave from his (pure) self; he has affected her with love. Verily we see her in manifest ”.’error

Commentary: verse ۳۰

The term /šaqāf/ refers to the complications of the upper part of the heart, or of the pericardium. It is said that the Qur’ānic phrase /šaqafahā hubban/ means that someone’s love has intermingled with the heart of the beloved which, in turn,
.increases the intensity of the love

The incident between the wife of the ‘Aziz and Yusuf was a private affair, which the ‘Aziz had sought to cover up, but such affairs do not remain undisclosed for long, especially when they occur in the palaces of kinds and dwellings of wealthy aristocrats where rumor and hearsay abound. So finally the secret leaked out of the palace. Some of the women of the city spread the rumor that the wife of ‘Aziz had tried to seduce her slave, and that her love for him had overcome her :to the extent that it had conquered her entire heart. The verse says

And some women in the city said: ‘The wife of the ‘Aziz has sought to seduce her “
”... .slave from his (pure) self; he has affected her with love

:So they laid the blame squarely at her door, saying

”.’Verily we see her in manifest error ...“

Those women, who said this statement and blamed Zulaykha therewith, were a group of Egyptian aristocratical women that, from the point of sensuality, were not so far .from her

Since they had not have Yusuf, idiomatically, they were hypocritically prudish and,
.because of that love, considered the wife of ‘Aziz in manifest error

This is not a human being. This is not other than a noble angel

Commentary: verse ٣١

When the wife of ‘Aziz became aware of the intrigue of the Egyptian women, she .became very angry

Then she came up with an idea. She invited them to an elaborate party which she had organized for them and gave each person a sharp knife to peel the fruit served. The :verse says

So when she heard about their malicious talk, she sent for them and prepared a “ ... ,repast for them. Then she gave each one of them a knife

From the sequence of events, one can readily infer that she did not care much for her husband and was not afraid of him, so she had not learnt anything from the previous .scandal

She then ordered Yusuf to come into the hall so that they could see his beauty for :themselves and stop blaming her for what she did. The verse says

“... ’and said to him (Yusuf): ‘Come forth to them ...“

According to several narrations, when the eyes of the Egyptian women fell upon him they were captivated by his unearthly beautiful stature and shining face. The verse
:says

When they saw him, they extolled him, and (in their amazement) cut their hands ... “
” ...

They were so overwhelmed that they fell head over heels in love with him, which profoundly embarrassed him. As soon as they saw how abstinent and chaste he was, and his attractive eyes in his innocent face which had blushed from modesty and shame clearly illustrated these facts, they all exclaimed that that young man had never done anything wrong in his life, he was not an ordinary man, but was a sublime :heavenly angel. The verse continues saying and said (exclaimed): ‘Allah Blameless! This is not a human being. This is not other ... “

:Explanations

The Arabic term /hāšā/ means: ‘excepting, with the exception’. It was a custom in .1 that time that when they wanted to know a person exempted from an indecency, at .first they exempted Allah and then that person

The wife of ‘Aziz was quite politically astute, through the banquet she had arranged .2

Commentary: verse ٣٢

At this moment, the wife of the ‘Aziz turned to those women who used to criticize her for her intense love for Yusuf and said that although they had not seen him before, only getting a first glimpse of him caused them to lose their hearts. How could they possibly have blamed her, when she was exposed to looking at that beautiful face frequently day and night? She also admitted that he was innocent indicating that she :was the one who did the seducing. The verse says

She said: ‘This is before you he about whom you did blame me! And indeed I sought “ ”... ,to seduce him from his (pure) self

Thus while she was justifying her behavior, she explicitly confessed her culpability saying that she was the one who invited him to engage in an illicit act which he had :refused to do. The verse continues saying

”... .but he proved continent ...“

However, without expressing her remorse, she threatened him with imprisonment :and humiliation if he did not acquiesce to her demands. She said

And (now), if he does not do what I command him, he shall certainly be imprisoned, ...“
””!and will certainly be of the humiliated

:Highlights

Psychological and social conditions influence individual morality. When ‘Aziz’ wife – ۱ was afraid of exposing her evil actions, she closed the doors to the room. However, when she found the Egyptian women on her side, she openly stated that “And indeed I ”sought to seduce him from his self

The same case applies to society. When people are no longer sensitive to evil doing, it
.becomes easier to commit sin

It may be for this very reason that we invoke in the supplication of Kumayl: “O Allah!
Forgive me for all the sins which prevent me from being chaste and break my abstinence”, for at first, committing sins is difficult for man, but as soon as the barriers
.are broken, it becomes easy

The liar is always exposed and scandalized. The one who claimed that Yusuf – ۲ wanted to seduce her yesterday, and had had evil intentions towards him, today openly confesses that she herself had had the intention of gratifying her sexual .desires towards him

It is true, that at times the enemy also testifies to the honesty of the person he – ۳
.opposes

Residing in palaces paves the way for the loss of one’s chastity. (Although the ‘Aziz – ۴ realized that his wife had betrayed him and he asked her to repent of her guilt, they did not become alienated from each other and he did not distance between his wife

He said: ‘My Lord! The prison is dearer to me than that to which they invite me; “ .۳۳ and if You turn not their guile from me, I may incline towards them and become of the ”.’ignorant ones

Commentary: verse ۳۳

Interestingly, some commentators have narrated an astonishing subject and have said that some of the Egyptian women in the gathering supported the wife of the ‘Aziz and, giving right to her, defended her behavior. They surrounded Yusuf and every one of them tried in her own way to persuade him to submit to the desires of the wife of ‘Aziz or to her own, in other words, they all had the same intentions as Zulaykha had

It is in the face of this overwhelming temptation that Yusuf cries out to his Lord that he would welcome a life prison than the corruption to which those women were .inviting him

In a tradition attributed to Abū Hamzah al Thumālī, it is narrated that Imam Ali-ibn-il-Hussein (a.s.) said that as soon as those women had parted company with Zulaykha, each one of them sent someone in private to Yusuf and requested an audience with .him

Yusuf had been surrounded by a series of difficulties from all sides. However, being already prepared for any mishap that might befall, he turned to Allah immediately without entering into any relationship with these passionate, promiscuous women :and sought His help. The verse says

”... ;He said: ‘My Lord! The prison is dearer to me than that to which they invite me “

He was in the prime of his youth, and naturally, the lower aspect of his soul could have inclined towards them and he would have found himself among the ignorant. But, since he knew that in all cases, especially at the time of crises, there is no way to safety except relying on Allah, he trusted in Allah and asked Him help by saying and if You turn not their guile from me, I may incline towards them and become of ...“

”.’the ignorant ones

:Points to remember

Men of Allah prefer all the difficulties that come with a life of honor to a sinful life of .\ luxury

By seeking assistance from the Almighty, man can distance himself from any kind of .\ sin and temptation under any kind of circumstance

.Hardship and suffering cannot provide man with the justification to commit sin .\

Man’s character depends on his soul and not on his body. If man’s soul is free and .\ he is in prison, it can be like a paradise for him. And if his soul is under pressure, even a .palace may become a prison for him

As was said, the wife of ‘Aziz and the other women employed various means to .\ achieve their objectives. They showed intense love and desire, total submission and later profuse promises of great rewards, finally, when all of that failed, they started threatening Yusuf with imprisonment. This is the usual methodology that all dictators and despots resort to throughout the ages. It has even been experimented many times that they usually at first show excessive moderation and leniency towards men of Allah to make them acquiesce to their designs, putting on a smiling face on one occasion, and, on the other, when they fail to achieve their objectives in this way, they resort to the cruelest of threats sometimes at the end of the same sitting that they had with together. It never occurs to them that they show contradictions and double standards in their behavior, illustrating an abhorring lack of integrity which deserves .the utmost humiliation and kinds of censure

The reason for this is obvious. They are only after their own objectives, and the means are not important for them, because for them, the ends justify the means. The weak and foolish, in this course, may submit themselves sooner or later to these attempts and thus get caught in their trap forever. But the men of Allah, who are enlightened by the light of faith, easily pass through all these trials showing their steadfastness and irreconcilability with evil. They go as far as courting their death, for victory is the ultimate aim. Victory here does not only mean their own victory but it also denotes the victory of their school of thought based on principle rather than .caprice

There are always some people like the whimsical and promiscuous women of Egypt .y who regard themselves as innocent and clean when they are not principal players on the scene always pretending to be more virtuous and innocent than some others. .They would think the wife of the ‘Aziz to be vulgar and seductive

But, as soon as the tables are turned, they immediately lose their hearts and prove .that whatever virtues they had claimed had been utterly meaningless

Whereas Zulaykha had fallen in love with Yusuf after frequent meetings with him and after some years of life, these women fell into the very same situation, in the same meeting and after one glance at him, cutting their own hands with knives instead of the fruit they were supposed to cut

When we are facing the attacks of powerful evil forces, and we find ourselves teetering on the edge of the abyss of destruction, we must turn to Allah for protection. We must seek His support, for if His assistance is not there, nothing can be done for us. This is the lesson which the great Yusuf, the infallible one, has taught us. It is he who says to Allah if their evil plots are not averted from him, he would tend to incline towards them, and he would be left alone in his plight and will be no more. It is holy Allah Who is the Protector, not one's abilities, powers, or mere virtues

This state of absolute dependence on Allah (s.w.t.) does not only provide man with a power and perseverance which is unlimited, but it also makes it possible for him to enjoy the hidden Divine favors as well, favors which are impossible to explain and can be only witnessed and accepted. Such people are they who are sheltered by Allah both in this world and the Hereafter

In one tradition, the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) says that there are seven groups that will be sheltered by Allah on the Day when there will be no shade except His

.A just pioneer and leader .۱

A young man who has been trained in servitude unto Allah from the beginning of his life

He whose heart is attached to mosques and places where Allah is worshipped and whenever he leaves those places, he ceaselessly thinks of the time when he can return thereto

Those who work together in obeying Allah, and when they depart from one another, the spiritual bond of their unity remains firm

Those who when they hear Allah's name mentioned, have tears in their eyes . ۵
.because of their sense of responsibility before Allah or for fear of their sins

The man who says that he is in awe of Allah when he is invited to consort with a . ۶
.beautiful woman and he refuses to commit sin

A man who assists those who are in need and provides charity for them in such a . ۷
.way that his left hand does not know what his right hand has done

So his Lord answered him and He turned away from him their guile; verily He is “ ٣٤ .
”the All Hearing, the All Knowing

Commentary: verse ٣٤

According to the Divine promise, Allah always accepts the supplications of the pious. Those sincere fighters for a holy cause (whether it be against one’s self, or an outward enemy) and those who assist others in goodness will always get a Divine response to their requests. Yusuf was not left alone in such a dangerous situation. Allah answered his prayer. Indeed, as the Qur’ān says, Allah is the Hearer, the :Knower. The verse says

So his Lord answered him and He turned away from him their guile; verily He is the “
”All Hearing, the All Knowing

He hears the prayers and supplications of His subjects. He is completely aware of .their inmost secrets, and He knows the solution to all their problems

Some commentators reject that while Yusuf knew that Allah would protect him and return away their snare, why did he pray? The answer is that the prayer of Yusuf to Allah was that he could overcome their hearts so that they would dispense with their
.guile, and Allah answered him either

As a result of his supplication, the women lost all hope in achieving their objectives and all the tricks that were within their means proved to be of no benefit to them, so,
.in despair, they stopped chasing him. It was then that Yusuf felt tranquility

Zulaykha, after seeing the hopelessness of her attempts, was ready to send him to .prison

(٣٥) ثُمَّ بَدَأَ لَهُمْ مِنْ بَعْدِ مَا رَأَوْا الْآيَاتِ لَيْسُجُنَّةً حَتَّىٰ حِينٍ

Then it seemed to them, after they had seen the signs (of his innocence), to “ ٣٥ .
” .imprison him till a time

Commentary: verse ٣٥

:From Palace to Prison

The strange meeting between the Egyptian women and Yusuf in the palace of the ‘Aziz, with its particular tumult, ended. The fear of the increasing damage the sex scandal was causing to the prestige of his family. In the view of people, it was becoming more and more every day. The ‘Aziz and his advisors thought that the only way to rescue the situation was to remove Yusuf from the scene entirely, and the best way to do that was to send him to prison. This would not only help the people forget about the situation, but would also make it seem that real culprit had been :Yusuf himself. The Qur’ān in this holy verse says

Then it seemed to them, after they had seen the signs (of his innocence), to imprison “
” .him till a time

In such morally decrepit environments, apparently freedom only belongs to those who are corrupt and so does everything else, whereas the pure and God-fearing individuals, like Yusuf, must be isolated and imprisoned. However, such a situation .never lasts forever

:Explanations

Only a person with a distracted mind would engage in a fruitless act causing trouble .١
for everyone, like throwing an important needle into the bottom of a well which could .not be found and taken out by a hundred wise men

Love is such a distraction. A woman fell in love and although many men and high-ranking officials of a country joined together to solve the problems caused by that woman, they were unable to find a solution

Trials and courts are held in default of a person often as ceremonial gestures in palaces where despots and dictators live, assure the condemnation of the innocent

Those people who dwell in luxurious palaces are usually reckless and brash. Despite all the reasons in his favour, Yusuf was still convicted and sent to prison

Yusuf Preaches Unity of Allah

in the Prison

Joseph preaches Unity of Allah to his fellows in the prison and interprets the dreams of his two fellow-prisoners

(٣٦) وَدَخَلَ مَعَهُ السَّجْنِ فَتَيَانِ قَالَ أَحَدُهُمَا إِنِّي أَرَانِي أَعْصِرُ خَمْرًا وَقَالَ الْآخَرُ إِنِّي أَرَانِي أَحْمِلُ فَوْقَ رَأْسِي خُبْزًا تَأْكُلُ الطَّيْرُ مِنْهُ نَبِّئْنَا بِتَأْوِيلِهِ إِنَّا نَرَاكَ مِنَ الْمُحْسِنِينَ

And with him there entered into the prison two youths. One of them said (unto “ ٣٦. Yusuf): ‘I saw (in dream) myself pressing wine’ The other said: ‘I saw (in my dream) myself carrying on my head bread from which the birds were eating.’ Tell us its ”.interpretations, verily we see you of the righteous ones

Commentary: verse ٣٦

Among those who entered into prison with Yusuf, there were two young men, as the :verse says

And with him there entered into the prison“

”... two youths

Man’s other senses usually become more active in obtaining information when his direct channels of communication and direct access to information are obstructed. In .such cases his dreams can provide him with an alternative means

It is for this reason that it is said that the two men, one of whom was the man responsible for the ruler's buffet, and the other, for his catering services. They approached Yusuf in the prison to describe the wonderful dreams they had seen the previous night

It is important to note that they were imprisoned because of the false accusations of their enemies who claimed that they were about to poison the king

Each one of the two prisoners recalled his dream to Yusuf for his interpretation in a manner as the verse says

One of them said (unto Yusuf): 'I saw (in dream) myself pressing wine' The other ... " said: 'I saw (in my dream) myself carrying on my head bread from which the birds ... ' were eating

:Then, they added to their statement unto Yusuf

"?Tell us its interpretations, verily we see you of the righteous ones..."

:Some Issues to Remember

An Islamic tradition denotes that the reason why they called Yusuf a truly righteous person was because he used to always take care of the sick and the needy in the prison and find accommodation for others.

.We must take dreams seriously, for there are secrets hidden in some of them .۱

Once the people have confidence in someone, they tend to share all their secrets .۲ with him

Enlightened people also leave their impact and influence upon others even when .۳ they are confined in prison

.Even guilty people tend to have a high esteem for those who are truly righteous .۴

(٣٧) قَالَ لَا يَأْتِيكُمَا طَعَامٌ تُرْزَقَانِهِ إِلَّا نَبَأْتُكُمَا بِتَأْوِيلِهِ قَبْلَ أَنْ يَأْتِيَكُمَا ذَلِكَمَا مِمَّا عَلَّمَنِي رَبِّي إِنَّي تَرَكْتُ مِلَّةَ قَوْمٍ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ بِاللَّهِ وَهُمْ بِالْآخِرَةِ هُمْ كَافِرُونَ

He said: ‘There shall not come to you the food with which you are fed but I will “ .٣٧ inform you both of its interpretation before it comes to you. This is of what my Lord has taught me. Verily, I have abandoned the religion of a people who do not believe in ”.’Allah and they are disbelievers in the Hereafter

Commentary: verse ٣٧

In the first part of the verse, it is probable that the Qur’ān is hinting that Yusuf said he also knew from the side of Allah what kind of food that would be served to them, and that he could also interpret their dreams just as easily. In this case, the implication would be that in addition to interpreting dreams, Yusuf also knew about other things as well, which he used to foretell. This ability is similar to that of Haḍrat Isā (a.s.) who used to read the minds of those around him regarding what they used to eat or what .they had stored in their houses

Question: Why did Haḍrat Yusuf (a.s.) not interpret their dreams then and there but ?postpone their interpretation for later

:Fakhr Rāzī provides the answer to this question as follows

He wanted to make them wait so that he could advise, admonish, and convert them, .١ .perhaps that person might believe before his execution

He wanted to build up their confidence by foretelling the kind of food before the .۲
.food had been served

He wanted to tantalize them so that they would lend their ears more carefully to .۳
.what he had to say

As the interpretation of one of the dreams was that that person was going to be .۴ executed, Yusuf was postponing the issue so that that person might not lose heart too
.suddenly

At any rate, Yusuf, who would not miss any opportunity to provide guidance and counseling, made the most of the two prisoners' requests for the interpretation of their dreams, and used them as a means for introducing and explaining important .facts which were helpful not only for their lives, but also for all human beings

At first, in order to build their confidence, he told them that he would tell them the :meanings of their dreams before their food had arrived. The verse says

He said: 'There shall not come to you the food with which you are fed but I will inform "
"... you both of its interpretation before it comes to you

Then, the faithful and theistic Yusuf, whose whole entity was filled with Monotheism, made it quite clear that this knowledge of interpreting dreams was among those things taught him by Allah and that nothing could take place without His Will. The
:verse continues saying

"... .This is of what my Lord has taught me ..."

To counter any misconception that the Almighty would give anything to anyone without conditions, he added that he had abandoned the way of those who did not believe in Allah and the Day of Resurrection, alluding to the idol worshipping people of Egypt and Kan'an, and that it was this enlightening faith and virtue which made him
:deserve such a blessing. The verse says

Verily, I have abandoned the religion of a people who do not believe in Allah and ...“
”.’they are disbelievers in the Hereafter

;The Messages Conveyed in this Verse

In order to impress others more deeply, it is sometimes necessary to show one’s .۱
.scientific ability and knowledge and one’s perfections and virtues

He who escapes the dark shadows of polytheism, arrives at the enlightenment of .۲

Belief in monotheism and resurrection along with other doctrines is a requirement in .۳

The basis of faith rests upon distancing oneself from polytheism and unbelief .۴

Commentary: verse ٣٨

Since hereditary nobility plays an important role in the formation of the character of an individual, it also has a very important role when people are to accept a person. Therefore, Haḍrat Yusuf introduces himself by presenting his illustrious lineage of forefathers, all of whom were Divine prophets, confirming, at the same time, his sanctified message. This is exactly the same method which the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) used to employ in introducing himself. He used to say, that he was the same oft mentioned Prophet whose name had been mentioned in both the Torah and the Gospels. Haḍrat Sayyid-ush-Shuhadā, Hussein ibn Ali (a.s.) and Imam Sajjād (a.s.) also introduced themselves to the people in Karbala and Syria as the children of Fātimat-az-Zahra '(a.s.), saying: 'I am the son of Fātimat-az-Zahrā

The Arabic term /millat/ has been applied in the Qur'ān with the sense of religion. And in verse ٧٨ of Sura Hajj, the profile of the religion of 'Ibrāhīm /millata 'Ibrāhīm/ has been depicted as: "And strive hard in (the way of), such a striving as is due to Him; He has chosen you, and has not laid upon you any hardship in religion – the faith of your father 'Ibrāhīm. It is

He Who has named you Muslims, both before and in this (revelation)....So establish ”!the regular prayer, do give regular Charity, and hold fast to Allah

Turning ones back to the ways of divine prophets and adhering to polytheism is ingratitude due to the blessings of Allah. Therefore, we must dissociate ourselves from such ideas, as they go against the inherent good which is found in human nature.

:Abraham said

”... .And I have followed the religion of my fathers, ’Ibrāhīm, Ishāq and Ya‘qūb “

Ḥaḍrat Yusuf is not only a descendent by blood lineage, he is also an inheritor of a spiritual lineage as well, thus it does not behoove him to associate anyone with Allah, and this monotheistic pedigree goes back to the iconoclastic ’Ibrāhīm. This is one of the Divine blessings sent upon the family of ’Ibrāhīm and upon all people, for that :matter. The verse says

And it beseems us not to associate aught with Allah. That is of Allah’s favor upon us ...“
”... ,and upon mankind

Unfortunately, most people do not thank Allah for all these blessings and deviate from
:the Right Path. The verse says

”...but most people do not give thanks ...“

Incidentally, it is worthy to note that these verses show that despite the fact that Yusuf (a.s.) used to live among those idol – worshippers, Allah, the Magnificent, has nowhere mentioned that this respectable and worthy person ever called on the people to be monotheistic and worship the One God, except in this verse where he has extended the invitation to the two prisoners who were with him in prison. It seems that he was not at all optimistic about the people of Egypt lending their ears to
.him, let alone accepting his message

However, when he noticed that these two individuals took him as a righteous and decent man of good conduct, and they turned to him, a glimmer of hope and success appeared in his heart that they might probably listen to .him and accept him

As a result, he proceeded to call them to the worship of Allah and thus be converted to
.the faith of monotheism

In the narrations it is said that these prisoners told Yusuf that as soon as they saw him, they had become interested in him and began to love him greatly. Yusuf answered that they would better not love him or express any affection for him, for, according to him, the catastrophes that had been inflicted upon him was because of friendship, and whoever had loved him somehow caused him some sort of disaster. His aunt had loved him and she accused him to theft. His father had loved him, and because of this, he was thrown down to the bottom of the well. The wife of the ‘Aziz
.had loved him and because of that he was put in prison

Men are of three different types: One group is flexible like the air which has no form or shape and is so volatile that it can naturally fill any container regardless of its size, shape, or structure. The second group is inflexible and resistant in all its aspects, like iron and steel which can withstand all kinds of pressure from the outside. The third group is composed of leaders and pioneers who seek to convert everything into what Allah has ordained. Yusuf is an example of the third group, seeking to convert .polytheists into monotheism even in the prison

In different occurrences of the Sublime Qur’ān, we find that it has employed the method of comparing ideas supporting true monotheism and unbelief, some .examples of which, concerning Allah, we present below

It there any of your partners (whom you ascribe unto Allah that) can originate“ (١

Commentary: verse ٤٠

Those who are worshipped other than Him are not the substantial and real objects of .worship

On the contrary, they are the products of man’s own imagination or that of his .ancestors

One’s ideas must be either based upon rational demonstration or they must have the traditions as their firm foundation. Therefore, one must not bow to any command other than those issued from Divine sources, for issuing commands and decrees are .the sole prerogatives of Allah

.All laws are legally unstable, except Divine laws

Ignorance and the lack of knowledge pave the way for idol worship. Most people who are ignorant suffer from conscious ignorance and are aware of their own lack of knowledge, or they suffer from unconscious ignorance thinking they know while in .actual fact they do not know

The honor and respect that we bestow upon powerful individuals and organizations, ,protocols, pomp meetings supports, condemnations, and circumstance are nothing but fictitious titles and modern icons which we ourselves have created and have tried to relate to them .instead of the Divinity as if they were realities

In reality, however, this fact must be believed that “It is only He who is worthy of governing” so one must never surrender to icons and despots and bow to them. One must believe in monotheism in all its dimensions: in worship, in government, in culture, :and in all things. The verse says

You do not worship besides Him but (mere) names which you have named, you and “ your fathers, for which Allah has not sent down any authority. Judgment belongs only to Allah. He has commanded that you worship

”... .none but Him

This is the direct and sustaining Divine way of life. However, most people are not aware of this and owing to this lack of awareness, they deviate from the right path, going astray in idol worship and surrendering to non – Divine governments. Consequently, they suffer tortures, deprivations, and disasters as a result of their :choice of the wrong path of life. The verse says

”.That is the right religion, but most people do not know ...“

O’ my (two) mates of the prison! as for one of you, he shall pour out wine for his “ .٤١ lord to drink; whereas the other will be crucified and the birds shall eat on his head.
”.The matter is decreed about which you do enquire

Commentary: verse ٤١

The Arabic term /rabb/ is also applied for governor, as well as lord in the Arabic phrase: /rabbud dār/ which means: the lord of the house or the owner. Therefore, the phrase /fayasqī rabbahū xamrā/ means: ‘he gives wine to his lord

From here on, he begins interpreting the dreams of those two prisoners, but before this Yusuf had preached them Monotheism and then he expressed his miracle for them. He began with the interpretation of the butler

It has been narrated that the first prisoner had also seen three bunches of grapes in his dream

Hadrat Yusuf said that they meant that that prisoner would remain in prison for three more days and he would return to his original profession on the fourth day. The other prisoner on the other hand, who had been the King’s cook, had seen three bags instead. Yusuf said that they also meant that he would stay in prison for three more days, but his end was much more gloomy. The king would take him out of the prison after that and had him hanged where the birds could eat on his head. The verse from the tongue of Yusuf says will be crucified and the birds shall eat on his head. The matter is decreed about which

".you do enquire

It is said that the latter, on hearing the interpretation, said that he had not dreamed at all and he had been only joking. Yusuf (a.s.) then told him that his fate had been
.decreed and what was said had to be fulfilled

From these accounts it is evident that Yusuf (a.s.) had received the news from the .invisible world revealed to him; not as the dreams other people usually interpret

And he said to him whom he knew would be saved of the two: ‘Mention me to “ .٤٢ your lord.’ However, Satan caused him to forget to mention him to his lord, so he ”.(Yusuf) remained in prison a few years

Commentary: verse ٤٢

The Arabic word /ḡann/ is employed with several different meanings. In certain circumstances it is used to mean ‘belief’ and ‘knowledge’, because Yusuf had explicitly and decisively foretold the forthcoming release of one prisoner, and the execution of the other. Therefore, the word /ḡann/ does not mean ‘suspicion’ in this .verse, which is the usual meaning of the term

The Arabic term /biḡ‘/ refers to any number less than ١٠, which has led most commentators to believe that the number of years of Yusuf imprisonment had .amounted to ٧ years

In some commentaries, the Qur’ānic sentence /fa’ansāh-uš-šayṡānu/ has been interpreted to mean that Satan took Allah out of the mind of Yusuf when he took recourse to the king’s cup bearer for assistance instead of turning to Allah and therefore, he had forgotten Allah, which was a ‘leaving the better’ for Yusuf and he :had to stay in prison for several more years for that. The verse says

And he said to him whom he knew would be saved of the two: ‘Mention me to your “ lord.’ However, Satan caused him to forget to mention him to his lord, so he (Yusuf) ”.remained in prison a few years

The writer of Al Mīzān, however, writes that such narrations are in contradiction to the Qur'ān for the Qur'ān considers Yusuf as one of the 'sincere' and true believers whom Satan has no influence over. Moreover, in the next two verses, we see that the person who had forgotten about Yusuf was finally reminded, thus it becomes clear that the question of forgetfulness concerned the cup-bearer and not Yusuf.

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) has been quoted to have said that Gabriel at the moment came up to Yusuf and said:

?Who is it that made you the most beautiful of all people

.Yusuf answered: My Lord

Gabriel asked: Who is it that made you the most favored among all your brothers with your father?

Tafsīr Abū Hāmid Muhammad al Ghazālī; Tafsīr Majma‘-ul-Bayān, Tafsīr Burhan, - ۱
.Tafsīr Şāfi

It is important, however, to note that in different kinds of circumstances, in order to repel the harms and avoiding some difficulties, it is permitted to take recourse to some mortals and it is not a vile. On many occasions, this cannot be avoided, and sometimes it is even absolutely necessary, or it becomes compulsory. Our Prophet (p.b.u.h.) used to ask for assistance of the emigrants, and companions, as well as others in matters where he needed their help. If seeking assistance from other than Allah were not permissible and were a vile, he (p.b.u.h.) would not have done it

Thus if these narrations are correct, one must say that Yusuf's blameworthiness and the punishment imposed on him were due to the possibility that he might have abandoned that admirable habit he had which made him wait patiently for Allah's decree to manifest, and made him trust only in Allah, the Glorified, in all catastrophes and hardships

This story teaches us to seek Allah's support and assistance when hardships and calamities befall us. We must seek to find shelter in Him alone, while at the same time it is permissible to seek the support of others in these circumstances knowing that it is because of His will others are there to help us

Imam Şādiq (a.s.) has been quoted to have said that Gabriel taught Yusuf the following supplication to recite after he finished each set of prayers for his freedom from prison

O Allah, provide me with the means of relief and deliverance and provide me with my "sustenance from where I know and where I do not know"

And Shu'ayb Aqarquti, quoting Imam Şādiq (a.s.), says that when the period of Yusuf's imprisonment came to an end and the day of his freedom had arrived, he placed his cheeks on the ground (in humility) and said: "O Allah! if my sins have besmeared my honour when I face You, so I call upon You by the combined honour of my meritorious ancestors, 'Ibrāhīm, Isma'īl, Is-hāq, and Ya'qūb." After this prayer, Allah provided him with the means for his freedom. Shu'ayb, the narrator of the tradition, asked the Imam if they could say the same prayer. The Imam replied: You can also say something similar in this way; "O Allah, my sins have besmeared my honour when I face You, so I come to You and I call upon You by the combined honour of Your Prophet (p.b.u.h.), Ali, Fatimah, Hassan, Hussayn, \(and the Imams \(a.s.\)\)"

The King's Dream – Yusuf's

Interpretation

The king seeks the interpretation of his dream – None of his courtiers could do it – Yusuf in the prison interprets it

(٤٣) وَقَالَ الْمَلِكُ إِنِّي أَرَى سَبْعَ بَقَرَاتٍ سِمَانٍ يَأْكُلُهُنَّ سَبْعٌ عِجَافٌ وَسَبْعَ سُنبُلَاتٍ خُضْرٍ وَأُخَرَ يَابِسَاتٍ يَا أَيُّهَا الْمَلَأُ أَفْتُونِي فِي رُؤْيَايَ إِنْ كُنْتُمْ لِلرُّؤْيَا تَعْبُرُونَ

Commentary: verse ٤٣

This Sura talks about three dreams: namely Yusuf's dream itself, the dream of his two fellow prisoners, and the dream of the king of Egypt

In the Torah it is cited that the king dreamed these two subjects on two different occasions; on one occasion the lean cows were eating the fat ones, and on another (separate occasion, the green ears of corn were alongside the dry ears. (1)

p: ٤٥٦

As for the speculation that the ‘Aziz of Egypt was the same person as the king of Egypt or that the two individuals were different, there are a number of differences in opinion which do not concern us here for the issues involved do not have any role to play in our discussion

In Roudat-ul-Kāfī dreams are said to consist of three kinds: The first type of dreams are those that give good tidings from the Divine, the second type are terrible dreams from the Satan, and the third type are those dreams that are meaningless and disorganized

Yusuf had remained forgotten within the confines of the prison walls for a number of years, busy perfecting himself and guiding the prisoners around him

Life went on as usual until a seemingly minor matter changed not only his destiny but that of the entire people of Egypt and those of its around

The king of Egypt, (called Walīd-ibn-Rayyān), whose minister was the ‘Aziz, had had an apparently confused dream. Next morning he summoned all the dream interpreters and his entourage and described the dream to them. He said that he had a dream in which he saw seven lean cows attacked and devoured seven fat ones and seven green ears of corn with seven dry and withered ones spiraling around the former made them useless. The verse says

And (once) the king (of Egypt) said: ‘Verily I saw (in a dream) seven fat cows which “... seven lean cows were eating; and seven green ears of corn and other (seven) dry

He then turned to them and asked them for their opinion about this dream. The verse says

O’ chiefs (of my court)! Explain to me my dream, if you are able to interpret ... “...dreams

Allah (s.w.t.) saves a nation from famine by giving its oppressive and tyrannical king .١
a dream on condition that its only interpreter be Yusuf

.The king of Egypt had had this astonishing dream several times .٢

The chiefs and the powerful people begin feeling threatened at the slightest .٣

They said: ‘confused medley of dreams (they are), and we do not know the “ .٤٤
”.’interpretation of (such confused) dreams

Commentary: verse ٤٤

The Arabic term /ʾaḍqāθ/ is the plural form of /ḍaḡθ/ which means mixing; it also means a bundle of mixed sticks. The Arabic word /aḥlām/ is the plural form of /ḥulm/ which means a nightmarish dream, and /ʾaḍqāθu ʾaḥlām/ means dreams that are random, having no order and following no sequence so that an interpreter of dreams :can not obtain any clues in order to interpret them. The verse says

They said: ‘confused medley of dreams (they are), and we do not know the “
”.’interpretation of (such confused) dreams

Also, the ignorance of the official dream interpreters and their lack of knowledge was the cause for Yusuf’s release from prison, because at that time the cup-bearer of the king suddenly remembered Yusuf. He approached the king and kneeled before him and said that in the course of being imprisoned with the cook, they saw dreams in the prison. They said their dreams to a man there, and he interpreted them. There happened actually what the man had said. Now, he asked the king to let him go unto .that man and bring the interpretation of the king’s dream to him

:Explanations

Do not try to justify your ignorance. When the dignitaries of the king’s court did not .١ have any knowledge of interpreting dreams accurately, they said that the dream was confused and lacked

.coherence

Tasks that require skill must be left to those who are capable. An expert would .۲
interpret a dream correctly whereas the non expert would claim that the same dream
.is confused and non interpretable

And of the two (prisoners), he who had been released, remembered (Yusuf) after “ .٤٥

Commentary: verse ٤٥

Although the word /’ummah/ means ‘a community of people’, in this context it refers (to ‘a number of days’.)

Good things reveal themselves sooner or later, and those who are knowledgeable must be introduced and eventually be called upon to solve problems in their field of .experience

Here, the cup-bearer of the king, who had gotten out of the prison, remembered the :event of his dream in the prison interpreted by Yusuf. The verse says

And of the two (prisoners), she who had been released, remembered (Yusuf) after a “

This statement changed the status of the meeting. All the audience were gazing the Yusuf, O truthful one! Expound to us regarding (the dream of) seven fat cows “ .٤٦ which seven lean ones were devouring, and seven green ears of corn and other ”.(seven) dry, that I may go back to the people, that they may know

Commentary: verse ٤٦

The Arabic term /ṣiddīq/ refers to someone whose words and deeds as well as his .beliefs and behavior correspond to each other

As his prison companion, the cup-bearer, had heard and seen Yusuf’s words and deeds inside the prison, and he had himself actually experienced Yusuf’s accuracy of interpretation regarding his own dream and that of his friend, this is why he ’addressed him with the epithet /ṣiddīq/ or ‘The Truthful One

And so the cup-bearer went to his old cellmate still inside the prison, the friend to whom he had been very untrustworthy to ask him about the interpretation of the dream that had been obsessing the king, with the full faith that the great Yusuf would forgive him and refrain from upbraiding him. The above verse says explains this .meaning

(٤٧) قَالَ تَزْرَعُونَ سَبْعَ سِنِينَ دَأْبًا فَمَا حَصَدْتُمْ فَذَرُوهُ فِي سُنْبُلِهِ إِلَّا قَلِيلًا مِمَّا تَأْكُلُونَ

He said: ‘You shall sow for seven consecutive years and that which you have “ .٤٧
”.’harvested you leave it in its ear, except a little whereof you eat

Commentary: verse ٤٧

Explanations

Instead of criticizing his friend in prison for forgetting and neglecting him, and without setting any pre conditions for interpreting the king’s dream, Yusuf immediately interpreted the dream, for when society is in times of crisis and need, it is not meritorious to withhold knowledge especially in regard to that knowledge which can .alleviate the crisis

Thus he said to his friend, that the people should cultivate in earnest for seven consecutive years, but put whatever they reap in storage, except for the small :amount necessary for their personal needs. The verse says

He said: ‘You shall sow for seven consecutive years and that which you have “
”.’harvested you leave it in its ear, except a little whereof you eat

In a clear and thorough manner he outlined the strategy of preparing for the coming drought with a defined program of food rationing and stockpiling surplus production, showing that not only was he well versed in the science of dream interpretation, but .that he was an authority in economic planning and administration as well

The men of Allah must always think of the people's welfare and have designs both .۱
.in the long and short terms

If grain is stored while it is still inside their husks, it naturally lasts longer. Therefore, .۲
at a time when there were no modern facilities for efficient grain storage, stockpiling
.had to take into consideration the options available and exploit them efficiently

Getting prepared for all kinds of disasters such as famines, earthquakes, and floods .۳ through planning and taking appropriate measures for the future are not .incompatible with trusting in Allah and submission to Allah's decree

Not everything bitter is bad. This very famine resulted in Yusuf's rise in the .۴ government and encouraged the people to work hard. The stockpile which they made at that time led to a great degree of self sufficiency. Indulgence today leads to .scarcity tomorrow

Keeping an eye upon the future and long term planning are absolutely necessary .۵ for the administration of any country; and so is government control over production
.and distribution under situations of economic crisis

The dreams of unbelievers can also prove to reflect hidden realities and can contain .۶
.some instructions for the preservation of a society

(٤٨) ثُمَّ يَأْتِي مِنْ بَعْدِ ذَلِكَ سَبْعَ شِدَادٍ يَأْكُلْنَ مَا قَدَّمْتُمْ لَهُنَّ إِلَّا قَلِيلًا مِمَّا تَحْصِنُونَ

(٤٩) ثُمَّ يَأْتِي مِنْ بَعْدِ ذَلِكَ عَامٌ فِيهِ يُغَاثُ النَّاسُ وَفِيهِ يَعْصِرُونَ hand laid up for them, except a little of what ”.you will have preserved

Then there will come after that a year in which the people will have rain, and in it “ .٤٩

they will press

”.(wine and oil)

Commentary: verses ٤٨–٤٩

The Arabic phrase /yuqāθ-un-nās/ is either derived from /qauθ/ ‘to help’ in which case the verse could mean that Allah would help the people and the difficulties which they had over the past fourteen years will be over; or it could be derived from /qayθ/ which means to rain and thus the period of hardship would be brought to an end. \(1\)

Yusuf had indicated that the seven lean cows and the seven fat cows, the seven green ears and seven withered ears symbolized fourteen years of prosperity and :famine. The verse says

Then after that seven years of hardship will come that (people) will consume what “ you have before hand laid up for them, except a little of what you will have ”.preserved

p: ٤٤٥

He also predicted that the fifteenth year would be a year of abundant rain and
:affluence. The verse says

Then there will come after that a year in which the people will have rain, and in it they“
”.(will press (wine and oil

However, this was not simply dreamt by the king, this indicates that Yusuf included more news from the invisible in order to pave the way for the acceptance of his .prophethood

The interpretation which Yusuf had put forth for the dream was very precise and exact. Indeed, it indicates that he was no ordinary dream interpreter; in fact he was a leader inside a prison who was able to forge a countrywide program for the entire .kingdom for the next fifteen years

The interpretation and the plans proposed created the bases both for relieving the people of Egypt from the devastation of the famine and Yusuf’s freedom from the .confinement of prison. In the end, it resulted in changing a government of despots

:The conditions for an efficient administrative system in any given society are People’s confidence, ٢-Sincerity, ٣-Wisdom and knowledge, ٤-Correct prediction-١

.and forecasting, and ٥-People’s obedience

.Thus, the people of Egypt were saved from their plight because they obeyed Yusuf

Point

Yusuf Cleared of the False Charge

Joseph is cleared of the false charge against him and is exalted in position

(۵۰) وَقَالَ الْمَلِكُ ائْتُونِي بِهِ فَلَمَّا جَاءَهُ الرَّسُولُ قَالَ ارْجِعْ إِلَىٰ رَبِّكَ فَسَأَلْهُ مَا بَالُ النِّسْوَةِ اللَّاتِي قَطَّعْنَ أَيْدِيَهُنَّ إِنَّ رَبِّي بِكَيْدِهِنَّ عَلِيمٌ

So the king said: ‘Bring him to me.’ Then, when the messenger came to him, he “ ۵۰. (Yusuf) said: ‘Go back unto your lord and ask him: What was the case of the women ”.’who cut their own hands? Verily my Lord is aware of their guile

Commentary: verse ۵۰

By interpreting the king’s dream and proposing a precise program of dealing with the future impending famine without attaching any preconditions, Yusuf not only showed in prison that he was an extraordinary person, but he also indicated that he was a :knowledgeable and wise man. The verse says

”... ’.So the king said: ‘Bring him to me “

When the messenger came to him, Yusuf did not jump to seize his freedom, instead he requested a reevaluation of his past record, he would not leave the prison just by the king’s permission and forgiveness; yet, he told him that he should go back to the king and ask him about the women who had been at the palace of the ‘Aziz and had .cut their hands

He did not want his freedom to be the result of a royal amnesty. Yusuf wanted his innocence and chastity to be vindicated and get the king to understand that his entire regime was more corrupt and injustice more widespread than he could have imagined. Probably, because he held the 'Aziz in great respect, he did not mention his wife, and only mentioned the women as a group

It is mentioned in an Islamic tradition that the blessed Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: "I am astonished at the patience of Yusuf, whenever the king needed his dream interpreted, Yusuf did not say that he would not do such unless he was freed from prison, but when they wanted to free him, he did not come out until all the charges and accusations against him were refuted

Therefore, when the messenger of the king came to Yusuf, instead of being happy that after years of imprisonment he was going to be free, he gave him a negative answer. The verse says

Then, when the messenger came to him, he (Yusuf) said: "Go back unto your lord and ... ?ask him: What was the case of the women who cut their own hands

Yusuf did not want to accept the disgrace of the king's forgiveness, and after freeing from prison to live as a criminal, or at least as an accused one who had been included the royal amnesty. He wanted to perfectly prove his innocence and chastity and then get free honourably

Then he added implying that if common people of Egypt, and even the people of the royal court, might not know how and by who the plan of his imprisonment was designed, but the Lord was aware of the guile of those women. The holy verse continues saying

"Verily my Lord is aware of their guile ..."

Freedom at any price is often of no value. To prove one's innocence is more . ١
.important than one's freedom

Yusuf (a.s.) first removed all misconceptions from the people's minds regarding his . ٢
.role in the scandal, then later accepted his release

.It is a religious obligation for everyone to guard and defend his reputation . ٣

Yusuf made it known to the king that after his release from the prison, he would not . ٤ regard him as his Allah, or lord and would not consider himself as his slave. On the .contrary, he would regard the Almighty as his Lord

He (the king) said (to the women): ‘What was the matter with you women when “ ٥١. you sought to seduce Yusuf from his (pure) self?’ They answered: ‘Allah Blameless! We know no evil of him.’ The wife of the ‘Aziz said: ‘Now the truth has become manifest, I (it was who) sought to seduce him from his (pure) self, and verily he is of “.’the truthful ones

Commentary: verse ٥١

The Arabic term /xatb/ means being called or invited for an important matter. The term /xatīb/ refers to a person who calls the people or invites them for such a matter

The Qur’ānic term /ḥaṣ-ḥaṣa/, which means ‘to come to light’, is derived from the word /hiṣṣah/ with the sense of: share, part, and sorting out the ‘true’ from the “.’untrue

When the special envoy returned to the king and frankly communicated Yusuf’s proposal to him, he was even more astonished by his greatness of character and lofty aims. Therefore, he lost no time in contacting the women who had taken part in the affair. He had them brought before him and asked them about what happened when :they had made their passes at Yusuf. The verse says

He (the king) said (to the women): ‘What was the matter with you women when you “ “... ”?sought to seduce Yusuf from his (pure) self

Their dormant consciences were aroused and all of a sudden, because of the provocative question, they unanimously declared that Yusuf had not been guilty and testified to his chastity and flawless personality. The verse says

”...’.They answered: ‘Allah Blameless! We know no evil of him ...“

The wife of the ‘Aziz, who was attending there, felt the time ripe for her to confess her wrongdoing and reconcile her guilty conscience after several years. She then bore testimony to Yusuf’s chastity and confessed her guilt especially when she became aware of his greatness and magnitude which, as a result of his message to the king was becoming well known and he had mentioned nothing about her in his message except something secretly pointing to those women of Egypt

:Suddenly, as if a burst occurred in her inside, she exclaimed such the Qur’ān says

The wife of the ‘Aziz said: ‘Now the truth has become manifest, I (it was who) ... “ ”.’sought to seduce him from his (pure) self, and verily he is of the truthful ones

:Explanations

Whenever there is a knotty and complicated problem, the person in charge should . ١ study the evidence himself and proceed to set up the mechanism to see that justice is .done

Accused persons should be invited to defend themselves. In the story even . ٢
.Zulaykha was present when the investigation was taking place

Truth would not always remain hidden, guilty consciences will be aroused one day . ٣ and they will of necessity, confess. Social pressure and the environmental influences can drive

even the stiff-necked to confess. As soon as the wife of the ‘Aziz was convinced that .all the women had testified to Yusuf’s innocence, she also accepted to confess

(٥٢) ذَلِكَ لِيَعْلَمَ أَنِّي لَمْ أَخُنْهُ بِالْغَيْبِ وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يَهْدِي كَيْدَ الْخَائِنِينَ

Yusuf said): “That, so that he (the ‘Aziz) may know that I have not betrayed him in) “ ٥٢
”” .secret, and that Allah does not guide the device of the treacherous

Commentary: verse ٥٢

There are two views concerning this holy verse. Some commentators claim that it is a continuation of the speech of Zulaykha, the wife of ‘Aziz. Others attribute these words to Yusuf (a.s.). However, when we explore the verse in depth, the latter view seems more likely to be correct, for what treason can be greater than sending an innocent
?man to prison for several years

If these were the words of Zulaykha, it implies that her confession was made to remind Yusuf that she had not betrayed him in his absence and had not accused him for whatever had transpired. However, she did betray him and leveled untrue accusations against him in his presence. If, on the other hand, these are the words of Yusuf, that he sent back the messenger of the king asking him to investigate the status of these Egyptian women, it was due to the fact that he wanted the king or the ‘Aziz to know that he had never betrayed the latter in his absence concerning his wife; for Allah does not guide traitors when they engage in their double dealing. The verse
:says

Yusuf said): “That, so that he (the ‘Aziz) may know that I have not betrayed him in) “
”” .secret, and that Allah does not guide the device of the treacherous

A sublime person does not seek vengeance rather he searches for the truth and . ١
.seeks to protect honor and respect

.The sign of true belief is abstaining from betraying others secretly . ٢

Having evil intentions towards other people's spouses is considered as being . ٣
.treacherous to their husbands themselves

A traitor does not achieve his objectives and his end is not easy. Of course, once we . ٤
.are pure and truthful Allah does not allow the wicked to damage our reputation

Yusuf (a.s.) endeavored to draw the king's attention to the fact that Allah's Will and . ٥
.Divine Providence always play a decisive role in occurrences and events

(٥٣) وَمَا أُبْرِيءُ نَفْسِي إِنَّ النَّفْسَ لَأَمَّارَةٌ بِالسُّوءِ إِلَّا مَا رَحِمَ رَبِّي إِنَّ رَبِّي غَفُورٌ رَحِيمٌ

And I do not absolve myself, verily the (human) soul enjoins to evil, save that “ ٥٣ .
 ”.whereon my Lord has mercy; verily my Lord is the Forgiving, the Merciful

Commentary: verse ٥٣

There are several descriptions throughout the Qur’ān of the self or soul; some of :them are pointed out here

The despotic soul which leads one to commit evil and vicious acts. If it is not (١ )
 .controlled by faith and reason, it results in man’s sudden fall

The reproaching soul. This self or ego is active when a guilty person blames and (٢ ) scolds himself. In this case, he tends to seek repentance and is apologetic for the sin
 .or crime which he has committed

The peaceful soul which is found in only the prophets, and those truly trained by (٣ ) them. Once they find themselves surrounded by unbridled passion and ignorance, they seek the help of Allah to be extricated from it. They owe everything to Allah who .loves them very much

Yusuf (a.s.) sees Allah’s grace and favor as the reason for his unscathed honor and the absence of treachery from his heart, since man with a human nature replete with frailties cannot excuse himself of the evil tendencies that are present in his soul. The :verse from the tongue of Yusuf says

And I do not absolve myself, verily the (human) soul enjoins to evil, save that “
”.whereon my Lord has mercy; verily my Lord is the Forgiving, the Merciful

Many Islamic narrations have pointed out the dangerous qualities present in the soul, regarding giving excuses for its evil tendencies, self satisfaction and self gratification as the results of corrupt reasoning which are counted among the greatest of the traps
.laid by the Satan

:Explanations

One should never admire himself immaculate and free of blame, excusing oneself .۱
.of faults

Only Allah’s grace is the source of salvation. Once man is left to himself, he will .۲
.collapse

The dangers that are engendered by the self are very grave, do not regard them as .۳
.simple

Despite all the dangers which may be surrounding you, do not despair of Allah’s .۴
.grace

One of the conditions of perfection is that one should not consider himself perfect .۵
although everyone else might regard him as such. In Haḍrat Yusuf’s (a.s.) case, everybody bore witness to his perfection, they included his brothers, the wife of the ‘Aziz, the king’s witness, Satan, as well as all the prisoners, nevertheless, Yusuf
”... .himself asserts that he was not perfect by saying: “I do not absolve myself

(٥٤) وَقَالَ الْمَلِكُ ائْتُونِي بِهِ أَسْتَخْلِصُهُ لِنَفْسِي فَلَمَّا كَلَّمَهُ قَالَ إِنَّكَ الْيَوْمَ لَدَيْنَا مَكِينٌ أَمِينٌ

And the king said: ‘Bring him to me. I will attach him to my person.’ Then when he “ ٥٤ had spoken with him, he said: ‘Verily today you are of high standing in our presence, a “trusted one

Commentary: verse ٥٤

In Lisān-ul-Arab, an Arabic dictionary, it is said that once a person confides in another person and involves him in his affairs, he applies the phrase: /’istaxliṣ-hu/ i.e. ‘I will .?attach him to my person, or take him into my confidence

When Yusuf was in prison, the prison had been depicted as: ‘the grave of the living, the house of grief and sorrow, the place of trial for the friends, and the blow upon the \(١\) faces of the foes.’

As the king realized that Yusuf was reliable and sincere and found no treachery :ascribable to him, he took him into his confidence. The verse says

”... ’.And the king said: ‘Bring him to me. I will attach him to my person “ Were Allah not to find any betrayal on the part of the servants, what would He do? Certainly, He would also bring him closer to Himself. That is why that the Qur’ān contains such an interpretation and such references for the prophets such as: “And I myself have chosen you ...” \(٢\) or “... Verily I

---

Majma‘-ul-Bayān, the Commentary –١

have chosen you above the people by My messages and by My speaking...”

By using the word /ladaynā/ the king declared that Yusuf had a high position in the hierarchy of his administration requiring all other authorities to obey him. Therefore, if Allah wants to appoint yesterday’s prisoner as today’s commander He can do so

The verse says

Then when he had spoken with him, he said: ‘Verily today you are of high standing ...’
”in our presence, a trusted one

Explanations

Private consultants in the hierarchy of the administration of every country must be men of virtue, good thinkers, able planners and reliable people. (All of which characterized Yusuf

One’s defects and vices, as well his virtues, remain secret until he opens his mouth

It is often useful to conduct a personal interview in the selection for every type of job

Give authorization to only those in whom you have confidence

The unbelievers and polytheists are also equally bent on achieving kinds of spiritual perfection

Seeking perfection is an inherent value embedded in human nature

Being authorized without the necessary qualifications is not possible, because the two are interdependent. This is because, if one is reliable but is not given any authorization, he would be unable to do anything, while, on the other hand, if one has authorization but lacks honesty and reliability, the interests of the entire public will be jeopardized

(٥٥) قَالَ اجْعَلْنِي عَلَى خَزَائِنِ الْأَرْضِ إِنِّي حَفِيظٌ عَلِيمٌ

He (Yusuf) said: ‘Set me over the storehouses of the land. Verily I am a knowing “ .٥٥
”.’guardian

Commentary: verse ٥٥

The ‘Aziz offered Yusuf (a.s.) the choice of assuming any position in the government he should take the reins of the important affairs to improve them. Yusuf (a.s.) proposed his appointment as the minister responsible for treasures of the country, because he was a trustworthy custodian since he knew that economic injustice was :one of the major causes of social disruption. The verse says

”.’guardian

With political power in his hands to affect economic programming, Yusuf would be more able to manage the impending food shortage and could also help the oppressed by reducing their suffering as much as he could, he could reclaim their rights and put .an end to the economic mismanagement and anarchy which prevailed in the country

The Qur’ānic sentence: ‘Verily I am a knowing guardian’, shows that administration and administrative ability should be accompanied with faithfulness, and also shows that mere purity and faithfulness are not enough for accepting a sensitive social post, but besides them knowledge, expertness and administrative ability are necessary, ’.too

:Here are some examples of questions and answers worth noting

?Question: Why did Yusuf (a.s.) make a proposal for a governmental post

Answer: He discovered that the dream of the king foretold that an imminent danger and hardship was facing the people and he knew that he would be able to prevent it, as well as the undesirable economic events, so he asked for the relevant governmental portfolio in order to carry out this task

Question: Why did Yusuf (a.s.) utter words of praise for himself? Does not the Qur'ān (say that one should not praise himself? The Qur'ān says: "Do not praise yourself." ﴿

Answer: Yusuf did not praise himself, he was simply mentioning his suitability for the immense task ahead, which was regulating the dreadful effects of famine and drought. It was not because of ambition or the vain desire to abuse public office

Question: Why did Yusuf (a.s.) cooperate with an infidel government? Is it not the case ? that this is forbidden in the Qur'ān

Answer: Yusuf did not accept this responsibility for that end. On the contrary, he did it to relieve the people from the pressures associated with the period of the famine. He never praised or flattered the regime. According to the Tafsīr fī Zilāl il Qur'ān, in such hard times, politicians usually abandon their people and flee at the time of danger, but Yusuf stayed to protect the people. If one is unable to overthrow an oppressive regime, or reform it, one must stop degradation and oppression as far as he can, which might include being active in public affairs

Observing the law of priority in both reason and religion is a basic principle. It might not be admissible to participate in the administrative hierarchy of a government of unbelievers; nevertheless, it is far more desirable if it is a means saving a nation from famine. According to Tafsīr Tibyān, Yusuf (a.s.) did not accept this political position in order to assist an oppressor; neither did he accept a military post, which might make him shed blood illegitimately. He only accepted an economic post in order .to rescue the nation from famine

Imam Riḍā (a.s.) said that when it was necessary for Yusuf to become the custodian of the treasure in Egypt, he proposed his readiness for the position himself. (Tafsīr Nūr-ul-Thaqalayn) Ali ibn Yaḳteen also became a minister in the court of the Abbasid Caliphate on the advice of Imam Kāzīm (a.s.). The mere presence of such men of Allah can be a great haven for the oppressed. Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) said: “The atonement for a governmental deed is to fulfil the needs of (religious) brothers” \(1\)

Imam Riḍā (a.s.) was asked why he accepted to be a successor to the caliphate of Ma`mūn. He replied that Yusuf (a.s.), who was a prophet, joined a pagan administration, but the Imam himself, who was the successor to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), had joined the system of someone who claimed to be a Muslim. His acceptance had been done under duress, while Yusuf’s (a.s.) was voluntary because of the importance (of the matter) \(2\)

As soon as Yusuf (a.s.) took office, he did not seek to see his parents, for visiting parents was an emotional matter while rescuing people from famine was a social .responsibility

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) addressing a group of seemingly pious people called them to lead a life of abstemiousness, he said: “Inform me as to what you think about Yusuf the prophet, who told the king of Egypt: “Set me over the storehouses of the land.” His responsibility extended far and wide including as far as the Yemen... At the same time, we do not know of any one who found fault with this engagement of (his.” (1

It has been narrated from Imam Ridā (a.s.) that Yusuf gathered and stored the wheat during the first seven years. During the second seven years, when the famine happened, he gradually and carefully distributed them among people for their daily consumption saving the entire country of Egypt from a potential catastrophe in this way. Throughout those seven years of famine, Yusuf never ate to his fill, lest he might (forget those who were nearly starving. (2

Both the Tafsīrs, Majma‘ ul Bayān, and Al Mizān say that during the first year of the famine, Haḍrat Yusuf (a.s.) exchanged wheat for gold and silver. In the second year, he exchanged wheat for gems and jewels. During its third year, he would exchange wheat for four footed animals, in the fourth year he would exchange wheat for slaves, in the fifth year he exchanged wheat for houses; in the sixth year he exchanged wheat for farms and fields and finally, in the seventh year he exchanged wheat for labor. When the seventh year came to an end, he addressed the king of Egypt, saying: “All the people’s properties are at my disposal. However, I call Allah to testify and you to bear witness that I liberated all the people and I shall return all their properties to them, I shall also give you back your palace, the throne and your seal. suddenly uttered the following words: “I bear witness that there is no Allah but Allah and that you are His messenger. Verily, you are of high standing in our presence, a trusted one”.

We must remember that the Qur’ānic criteria in selecting individuals do not only include the attributes of guardianship and knowledge, but that we must also take into consideration such attributes as: Faith, when the Qur’ān says: “Is he then, who is a believer like him who is a transgressor? They are not equal.”

Background: about which the Qur’ān says: “ And the foremost are the foremost.”
“These are they who are drowned nigh (to Allah).”

Migration: The Qur’ān says: “...and those who believed but they did not migrate, you ...have not any friendship towards them until they migrate

Mental and bodily ability: “And He has increased him abundantly in knowledge and stature”

Nobility in lineage: “... your father was not a bad man,”

Holy struggle: the Qur’ān states: “Allah has raised the strivers with their wealth and lives in rank above those sitting back.”

Commentary: verses ٥٦–٥٧

In the above two verses, Yusuf (a.s.) has been described as a righteous, pious and true believer. Throughout this Sura the Divine Will is constantly juxtaposed against the will of man, the latter which, when it goes contrary to the Divine will, always fails in achieving its objective, for example, Yusuf’s brothers had decided to humiliate him by throwing him into the well and getting him enslaved, however, the ‘Aziz recommended that he be held in high esteem. The wife of the ‘Aziz intended to seduce him and make him commit sins, but Allah, on the contrary, kept him pure and unblemished. The aristocracy sought to break and destroy him, but Allah granted him :a high position in the government of Egypt. It is for this reason that the Qur’ān says

And thus did We give power to Yusuf in the land, to make his dwelling there “ wherever he wished. We reach with Our mercy on whomsoever We please, and We do not waste the reward of the ”.righteous

Even if it might seem a long time, Allah will ultimately reward the righteous for He .does not disregard any decent act nor allow it to slip into oblivion

However, besides the reward of this world, the righteous will enjoy some better :rewards in Hereafter. The verse says

Point

Yusuf measures out corn to his brothers

Yusuf measures out corn to his brothers and asks them to bring their other brother – and causes silver pieces to be packed along with their provision so that they may return.

(۵۸) وَجَاءَ إِخْوَهُ يُوسُفَ فَدَخَلُوا عَلَيْهِ فَعَرَفَهُمْ وَهُمْ لَهُ مُنْكَرُونَ

And the brothers of Yusuf came and entered unto him, then he knew them but “ ۵۸ .” they did not recognize him

Commentary: verse ۵۸

Eventually, as had been predicted, during the first seven consecutive years, agriculture in Egypt thrived due to the abundance of rainfall and water in the Nile River.

After the harvests, Yusuf had ordered the people to reserve the required amount for their needs for themselves and sell the rest to the government, thus the grain stocks were high and the storehouses were filled with food supplies.

Those seven years of affluence and blessings went by, and then famine and drought reared their ugly heads. The little rain that fell from the sky was not enough to quench the thirst of the palm trees, and the suffering of the people began grew greater and greater as their stockpiles began to run out. At this point, Yusuf sold them grain on the basis of the schedule which he had preplanned for this emergency and in this way he adequately met all their food requirements.

This drought did not affect Egypt alone; it had affected the countries neighboring Egypt as well, devastating large areas. Thus the people of Palestine and the land of Kan‘ān northeast of Egypt, where the House of Ya‘qūb was established, were also affected by the drought. It was for this reason that Ya‘qūb decided to send all his children to Egypt to purchase food supplies except Benjamin who stayed with his father. They joined a camel caravan going to Egypt and according to some sources, arrived there after ١٨ .days of travel

According to historians, foreigners who entered Egypt had to report to the authorities on their arrival, who would inform Yusuf about them. When they reported the arrival of a camel caravan from Palestine, Yusuf quickly recognized his brothers’ names among the arrivals and ordered them summoned to his court without letting anyone :know who they were. The verse says

Thirty to forty years had passed since the time they had thrown him into well. The possibility of him remaining alive was remote, and the last time they had come to Egypt had also been forty yeas before. It is not surprising, therefore, that they would not have recognized their brother when they saw him. Moreover, they did not have .the slightest idea that he had become a great ‘Aziz of Egypt

And when he provided them with their provisions, he said: ‘Bring unto me a “ ٥٩ brother of years from your father. Do you not see that I give full measure, and (that) I ”?am the best of hosts

Commentary: verse ٥٩

Yusuf was very compassionate and kind towards his brothers. When he was speaking with them, they told him that they were ten brothers from a single father named Ya‘qūb, the grandson of ‘Ibrāhīm al Khalīl, the great prophet of Allah. They told him that had he known their father, he would have had more respect for them, but their aged and venerable father was greatly saddened and depressed

On asking them why their father had been so grief stricken, they replied that he had had a son whom he loved very much and who was the youngest of all his sons. This son had gone hunting and playing with them in the fields and when they had neglected him a wolf came upon him and killed him. Since then, their father had been weeping and grieving for him

Some commentators have narrated that Yusuf was in the habit of not selling more than one camel load of grain per person, and as the brothers were ten, he sold them ten loads of grain. On receiving the grain, they said that their father, because of intensive grief, could not travel, as well as a younger brother who had stayed with him to serve him and keep his company, so they asked for a share for those two as well

Yusuf ordered his men to add to their share, then turning towards them he told them to bring along the younger brother with them as a sign the next time they came back.

:The holy Qur'ānic says

Commentary: verse ٤٠

After words of encouragement and showing his affection and hospitality, he warns them of the consequences; if they did not bring their brother with them the next time, they would get no wheat from him and they would not even be able to get close to him, for bringing their brother would be a proof of good faith in their dealings. The
:verse says

But if you do not bring him to me you shall have no measure (of corn) from me nor “
”.shall you (even) come near me

This was the perfect pretext to get the brothers to bring Benjamin to him. Incidentally, these interpretations make it clear that the buying and selling of grain in Egypt was not commonly done by weight but by volume; and also this shows that Yusuf was, in .all respects, a hospitable person

Commentary: verse ٤١

:In answer to him, the brothers of Yusuf replied him as follows

They said: ‘We will seek to get him from his father; and verily we certainly will do “

They were assured that they could penetrate in father from this point of view and attract his agreement; and it should be so. While they were able to get Yusuf out of the hands of their father by persuasion and insistence, how would they not be able to ?separate Benjamin from him

In this regard, they called on their father frequently, begging him and sought to

And he told his servants to put their merchandise (with which they had bartered) “ ٦٢ into their saddle-bags, so that they may recognize it when they return to their family ”.(in order that they might come back (again

Commentary: verse ٦٢

Haḍrat Yusuf (a.s.) whose name is synonymous with words such as honesty, generosity and sincerity, would definitely not have given money from the treasury to his father or his brothers. It is highly probable that he had given them back the money .for the grain from of his own share and out of his own pocket

He returned the money to them so that lack of money would not hinder them from coming back. In addition, returning the money was a sign of sincerity, of having no evil intentions with regard to bringing the brother to him, and placing the money among the goods might have been to protect them from theft or robbery and that action can .be a sign of non-indebtedness

Why did not Yusuf introduce himself to his brothers? What prevented him from introducing himself so that his brothers could recognize him more quickly and make it possible for him to return to his father sooner and relieve him of the grief and misery ?that he had suffered all those years

Some commentators say that Allah did not allow Yusuf to do this because this separation was a trial for Ya‘qūb and he was compelled to successfully undergo this period as was ordained by Allah. Before the end of this test, Yusuf was not allowed to introduce .himself

Moreover, if he had immediately introduced himself to his brothers, undesirable reactions might have resulted, among them was that they might have become so fearful that they would not have come back at all presuming that he would take
.revenge upon them for the past

So, when they returned to their father, they said: ‘O our father! The measure was “ .٦٣ denied to us, therefore send our brother with us that we may get our measure; and ”.’verily we will certainly guard him

Commentary: verse ٦٣

Yusuf’s brothers then returned to Kan‘ān rejoicing and well supplied although they were worried that if their father did not give his consent to send Benjamin back with them, the new ‘Aziz (Yusuf), would not receive them and no share would be allocated .to them

Thus, on their return to Kan‘ān, they told their father that the condition for receiving future supplies of grain would be for him to send Benjamin with them to Egypt. The :above holy verse says

He said: ‘Shall I trust you with him save as I trusted you with his brother before?’ ٦٤
”But Allah is the best guardian, and He is the Most Merciful of the merciful ones

Commentary: verse ٦٤

The father, who had never forgotten the memory of Yusuf (a.s.), was overwhelmingly upset when he heard these words. Turning to them, he wanted to know whether he could have trusted them as he had trusted them before with Yusuf. The verse says

He said: ‘Shall I trust you with him save as I trusted you with his brother before? But “
”Allah is the best guardian, and He is the Most Merciful of the merciful ones

Question: In view of the bad record which Ya‘qūb’s sons had, why did he agree to ?send Benjamin along with them

Answer: Fakhr Rāzī has dealt with a number of different possibilities, each of which can eventually provide some kind of justification for Ya‘qūb’s consent. Firstly, the brothers had not achieved their primary objective which consisted of winning their father’s favor. Secondly, they were less jealous of Benjamin than of Yusuf

Thirdly, perhaps drought and consequently famine had forced them to make another journey. Fourthly, decades had passed since the affair with Yusuf and hence it was regarded as something forgotten. Fifthly, Allah, the Almighty, had inspired Ya‘qūb with certainty regarding the safety and protection of his son. And finally, trusting in Allah, Ya‘qūb once again entrusted Benjamin to his brothers

(٦٥) وَلَمَّا فَتَحُوا مَتَاعَهُمْ وَحَدُوا بِضَاعَتَهُمْ رُدَّتْ إِلَيْهِمْ قَالُوا يَا أَبَانَا مَا نَبْغِي هَذِهِ بِضَاعَتُنَا رُدَّتْ إِلَيْنَا وَنَمِيرُ أَهْلَنَا وَنَحْفَظُ أَخَانَا وَنَزِدَادُ كَيْلَ بَعِيرٍ ذَلِكَ كَيْلٌ يَسِيرٌ

And when they opened their baggage, they found their merchandise had been “ .٦٥ returned to them. They said: ‘O our father! What (more) can we desire? This is our merchandise (that) has been returned to us. We shall get provision for our family, and guard our brother. And we shall obtain an extra camel’s load. That is an easy ”.’measure

Commentary: verse ٦٥

The Arabic term /namīru/ is derived from the term /mīr/ which means food supplies and the phrase /namīru ahlanā/ means: ‘we provide our family with food’. One can infer from the sentence “We shall obtain an extra camel’s load” that the share of each person had been limited to a camel load which would have been allocated to the .person (Benjamin) only if he himself had been present

Once the brothers unloaded their goods, they found that their capital had been returned to them, i.e., all of what they had paid the ‘Aziz, was found among their :goods. The verse says

And when they opened their baggage, they found their merchandise had been “ ”... .returned to them

Feeling that this discovery was decisive evidence to support their proposal, they used it to convince their father to send Benjamin with them, what else could they want?

Their

p: ٤٩٦

capital had been returned to them and the prospect of adding an extra camel load to their goods was an easy matter for the generous 'Aziz. The verse continues saying

They said: 'O our father! What (more) can we desire? This is our merchandise ... " (that) has been returned to us. We shall get provision for our family, and guard our "brother. And we shall obtain an extra camel's load. That is an easy measure

He said: ‘Never will I send him with you until you pledge a solemn covenant to me, “ .٦٦ in Allah’s name, that you will surely bring him back to me, unless you are surrounded in (an evil accident).’ And when they had sworn their solemn pledge, he said: ‘Allah is ”.’Guardian over what we say

Commentary: verse ٦٦

The Arabic term /mūthiq/ here means that which generates reliability and wins the confidence of the opposite side, it might take the form of a commitment, making an .oath or making a sacrifice

Ya‘qūb, despite all these incentives was not willing to send his son Benjamin along with them. But their insistence, which was coupled with sound logic, persuaded him to submit to their proposal. So he finally gave his conditional approval to Benjamin going with them. But they had to swear in Allah’s name to return Benjamin to him unless they were rendered powerless in fulfilling their commitment due to death or other :unforeseen events. The verse says

He said: ‘Never will I send him with you until you pledge a solemn covenant to me, in “ Allah’s name, that you will surely bring him back to me, unless you are surrounded in ”... ’.(an evil accident

The purpose of this oath (a divine pledge) has been the very covenant and oath which invoked the Divine Name. Only then was he prepared to release Benjamin to them, for it now meant that Allah (s.w.t.) was Guardian and Witness to what they pledged. The verse

:says

Commentary: verse ٦٧

After winning the approval of their father, the brothers got ready to go to Egypt for .the second time taking their younger brother along with them

Ya‘qūb advised them that they should not all enter by one gate to avoid drawing the attention of the jealous minded and those who did not wish them well, instead, they should enter Egypt through different gates, and thus be safer from the evil intentions
:of people. The verse says

”... .He also said: ‘O’ my sons! Do not enter by one gate, but enter by separate gates “

Nevertheless, he was quick to point out that in the final analysis, it was Allah that was the final Guarantor and Judge, and in Him and only Him should we put our trust, and from Him we must seek help, even when we take precautions. The verse continues

Commentary: verse ٦٨

The brothers set off from Kan‘ān and, after covering a long distance, they arrived in Egypt. On their arrival, they acted according to the instructions of their old father and :entered through different gates. The verse says

”... And when they entered in the manner their father had enjoined them “

This behavior, however, did not have any influence on the Divine will. The only effect mentioned here was that Ya‘qūb’s wishes had been fulfilled. The verse continues :saying it availed them nothing against Allah; but (it was) a need in Jacob’s soul which he ... “ ” ... ;so satisfied

Allusion is made to the fact that its sole effect was that it provided comfort for father for he was far away and isolated from all of his sons. He was also concerned about those who would be jealous of them and those who harbored ill will towards them, and being confident that they would put his recommendations into practice, he felt :more at ease. ## Point

Yusuf meets his Brother

Joseph's devise to detain his brother (Benyāmīn) Benjamin

(٦٩) وَلَمَّا دَخَلُوا عَلَى يُوسُفَ ءَاوَىٰ إِلَيْهِ أَخَاهُ قَالَ إِنِّي أَنَا أَخُوكَ فَلَا تَبْتَئِسْ بِمَا كَانُوا يَعْمَلُونَ

And, when they entered unto Yusuf, he lodged his (own) brother (Benyāmīn) with “ ٦٩ .”himself, saying: ‘I am your brother; so do not grieve at what they were doing

Commentary: verse ٦٩

According to the narrations, when Ya‘qūb’s (a.s.) sons arrived in Egypt, Yusuf hosted them and ordered a table full of various foods for every couple of them. Benjamin remained seated alone, so Yusuf seated him near himself, then he allocated every two persons for one room and made Benjamin his roommate. While together, Benjamin talked about the infidelities of the brothers and the crimes which they had committed the years before against their brother, Yusuf. At this moment Yusuf, who had become impatient, exclaimed: “Stop worrying! I am that very Yusuf!” He uttered these words so emphatically “Indeed, I am your brother!” that it left no possibility of :doubt in the truth of his words. The verse says

As for the concept of the sentence: “So do not grieve at what they were doing”, there are two possibilities worth consideration. The first is that Benjamin should stop getting depressed about the past conduct of his brothers. The second is that it is probable that the plan which was to be put into practice by his slaves for Benjamin’s own goods i.e., placing the cup among the loads in order for him to stay with him, should not be a reason for worry

The brothers who boasted of their power the previous day, claiming that they were a powerful group, had to undergo a significant amount of humiliation in order to secure their food supplies. They practically had to kiss Yusuf’s threshold in a humiliating manner

When a blessing is obtain, the concerning former afflictions should be renounced

(.Yusuf and Benjamin had a face to face meeting then they forgot their past sorrows)

Before the execution of any plan and project, the innocent must be spiritually ready and must clearly know the justification for the action. Benjamin was told that he would be kept in Egypt under the pretext of being discovered as a thief to which he agreed

(٧٠) فَلَمَّا جَهَّزَهُمْ بِجَهَّازِهِمْ جَعَلَ السَّقَايَةَ فِي رَحْلِ أَخِيهِ ثُمَّ أَذَّنَ مُؤَذِّنٌ أَتَتْهَا الْعِيرُ إِنَّكُمْ لَسَارِقُونَ

Then, when he provided them with their provisions, he put the drinking cup into “ .٧٠ his brother’s saddle-bag. Then a herald shouted: ‘O you men of the caravan! You are ”|certainly thieves

Commentary: verse ٧٠

The Arabic term /siqāyah/ refers to a container out of which one drinks water. The word /raḥl/ means a pouch or saddle-bag which is loaded onto a camel. The term /‘īr/ .means: a caravan of camels which carries food supplies

This incident is the fruit of one of two creative plans which Yusuf designed. In the first instance he hid the brothers’ capital among the load of grain so that they might once again return. This time, he planted the precious cup in his brother’s saddlebag in order :to retain him in Egypt as a deposit. It says

Then, when he provided them with their provisions, he put the drinking cup into his “ brother’s saddle-bag. Then a herald shouted: ‘O you men of the caravan! You are ”|certainly thieves

Some Islamic narrations say that during the meeting between Benjamin and Yusuf, the latter asked Benjamin if he would like to stay with him. Benjamin said that he would, but he mentioned that his father had gotten his brothers to swear to return .him to their father

.Yusuf replied that he would devise a plan for him to stay

?Question: Why were these innocent people accused of theft

Answer: Benjamin, with full understanding, declared his approval of the scheme for .him to stay with his brother Yusuf

Although his other brothers became them briefly upset and desperate because of the accusation, they were acquitted after an inspection

In addition, Yusuf's agents were unaware that he had planted the cup in his brother's saddlebag, so they naturally proclaimed that the brothers were thieves

Even if Yusuf had said that they were thieves, still there would have been no problem, since, according to Imam Şādiq (a.s.), what they had stolen was not specified, and the meaning of thieves applied to them really meant that they had stolen Yusuf from his father. In the story, no one said that they had stolen the cup, but that it was lost. Thus (they were thieves, the thieves of Yusuf, not the thieves of the cup.)

The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has said: that he who tells a white lie in order to reform or to remove conflict between others is not counted as a lie. It was then that he recited this (verse.)

:Explanations

(It is permitted to fabricate scenes in order to discover an offence) and for the sake of superior objectives it is also admissible to attribute theft to an (innocent man who has agreed to play the role of the thief.)

If there is one wrongdoer in a group, people will often hold the whole group responsible. "O you men of the caravan! You are certainly thieves

Commentary: verses ٧١–٧٢

The Arabic terms /ṣuwā‘/ and /siqāyah/ are often used with same sense, meaning a vessel out of which water was drunk and which was also used to measure out quantities of wheat.

This term illustrates the efficiency, and enjoyment of a single device that encompasses a wide range of functions

The Arabic word /himl/ means a load while /haml/ means a load that is hidden, such as rain which is hidden within the clouds or the child in its mother’s womb

The Qur’ānic sentence saying: ‘whoever brings it shall receive (the reward of) a camel’s load’, in the literature of Islamic jurisprudence, is known as /ju‘ālah/ or /ji‘ālah/ : (wage) which has precedence in terms of legal credibility. It says

”?They said, while turning to them: ‘What is it that you have lost “

They said: ‘We have lost the king’s cup, and whoever brings it shall receive (the “

They said: ‘By Allah! You know well (that) we have not come to make mischief in “ .٧٣
”.’the land, and we are not thieves

Commentary: verse ٧٣

The brothers, disturbed by these words, were not aware of the roots of the problem. In their reply, they seem certain that the Egyptian authorities knew that they were :not the type to steal. The verse says

They said: ‘By Allah! You know well (that) we have not come to make mischief in the “ ”.’land, and we are not thieves

This statement of the brothers shows that probably the Egyptians had a record of their previous transactions; and now the travelers said that they had declared their readiness to return the capital that was hidden among their supplies on the previous trip. So how could those who, returning from a remote country to give back the capital found amongst their supplies be guilty of stealing? Moreover, it is said that on their arrival in Egypt, they had firmly closed the mouths of their camels with bridles so that they would not graze on other’s farms or do any damage to fields. How would they ?commit such an ugly vice

(٧٤) قَالُوا فَمَا جَزَاؤُهُ إِنْ كُنْتُمْ كَاذِبِينَ

”?They said: ‘What is the penalty thereof, if you are liars ‘ .٧٤

Commentary: verse ٧٤

The punishment inflicted upon thieves has varied among different nations due to differences in their living standards. Theft is a major crime that causes economic disruption and social insecurity; as such it has been always cited as a crime in all legal statutes and customs in all parts of the world. The penalty prescribed for theft has been as varied as the civilizations and cultures of the world. In Egypt, which was very affluent at that time, the penalty for theft consisted of lashes and imprisonment. In Palestine, on the other hand, the penalty was that the thief would be put into bondage commensurate with the amount he had stolen, because theft was a transgression against the people’s rights and had economical motives

Thus the import of the question posed, i.e., the penalty if they were proven to be liars and had stolen the cup, is that the brothers would have to choose between the Egyptian and Palestinian penalties. Anyway, it seems that the questioner was Hadrat Yusuf himself since he knew that the brothers would accept judgment according to the regulations and laws of Kan‘ān which is exactly what he had anticipated they would choose. The verse says

(٧٥) قَالُوا جَزَاءُ مَنْ وُجِدَ فِي رَحْلِهِ فَهُوَ جَزَاءُ كَذَلِكَ نَجْزِي الظَّالِمِينَ

They said: ‘The penalty thereof is that he in whose bag it is found shall himself be “ .٧٥
”.’(held as bondsman) in penalty for it. Thus do we punish the unjust

Commentary: verse ٧٥

(Tribes in the past used to punish thieves by putting them into servitude.)

And there is no exceptions or discrimination in law, whoever was found to be a thief would be enslaved. Of course, the retribution of a wrongdoer in a foreign country can often be decided according to the laws of his country

Thus in Egypt the guilty could be judged by the laws of his land and not according to the laws of the host country. The Qur’ān sees theft as an outstanding instance of oppression and thus in the noble verse it calls the thief an ‘unjust’ one. The verse says:

They said: ‘The penalty thereof is that he in whose bag it is found shall himself be “
”.’(held as bondsman) in penalty for it. Thus do we punish the unjust

Since the law in Kan‘ān was that the thief must lose his freedom in servitude, the brothers said that his penalty was the same one in whose load it was found; i.e., the thief himself would be its penalty (prevention). Yusuf had achieved his objective which was to detain his brother

١- According to Majma‘ ul Bayān the term of servitude was for one year

(٧٦) فَبَدَأَ بِأَوْعِيَّتِهِمْ قَبْلَ وِعَاءِ أُخِيهِ ثُمَّ اسْتَخْرَجَهَا مِنْ وِعَاءِ أُخِيهِ كَذَلِكَ كِدْنَا لِيُوسُفَ مَا كَانَ لِيَأْخُذَ أَخَاهُ فِي دِينِ الْمَلِكِ إِلَّا أَنْ يَشَاءَ اللَّهُ نَرْفَعُ دَرَجَاتٍ مَن نَّشَاءُ وَفَوْقَ كُلِّ ذِي عِلْمٍ عَلِيمٌ

And so he began (the search) with their bags before the bag of his brother. Then “ .٧٦ he drew it out from his brother’s bag. Thus did We contrive for Yusuf’s sake; for he could not take his brother in accordance with the king’s law, except that Allah willed. We raise the degrees of whomsoever We please, and above everyone endued with .knowledge, there is one more knowing

Commentary: verse ٧٦

At this moment, Yusuf ordered everything to be unloaded and each load to be examined separately. However, in order not to make them suspicious, he examined the loads of the brothers before examining Benjamin’s load from which he produced :the ‘stolen cup’. The verse says

And so he began (the search) with their bags before the bag of his brother. Then he “
”... drew it out from his brother’s bag

As soon as the cup was discovered, the brothers were extremely astonished and a mountain of grief and despair overtook them. Their brother had apparently committed theft, which was a blow to their reputation, a matter which would jeopardize their standing with the ‘Aziz. And what answer

?would they give their father? How could he believe that it was not their fault this time

Then the Qur'ān adds that this was how Allah contrived the matter for Yusuf's sake in order that he would keep his brother with him in a manner that other brothers could not resist. The important problem was that Yusuf could not retain his brother by the law of the king except that Binyamin would be beaten and put in prison

That was why he made the brothers confess what the retribution of theft was if one of them would commit it. They answered that according to the tradition of their land :the thief himself would be kept. The verse says

Thus did We contrive for Yusuf's sake; for he could not take his brother in ... “ ”... accordance with the king's law, except that Allah willed

This verse indicates that Yusuf's actions according to the laws and traditions of his brothers' own land, was performed according to the Divine command. This was a plan that protected his brother, provided a test for his father, Ya'qūb, and was an evaluation of his other brothers as well

In the end, after every test, there is an elevation in rank for those who have the merit. This rank is achieved by going through tests just as Yusuf had successfully done. Nevertheless, regardless of whatever rank we achieve, there will always be someone superior in knowledge comparing some others. In the hierarchy of knowledge, Allah is :at the peak because His knowledge is infinite and is not confined. The verse says

We raise the degrees of whomsoever We please, and above everyone ended ... “
”.with knowledge, there is one more knowing

They said: ‘If he steals, a brother of his had stolen before.’ But Yusuf kept it secret “ .٧٧ within his heart and did not reveal it to them. He said: ‘You are in a worse situation, ”.’and Allah knows best (the truth) of what you state

Commentary: verse ٧٧

The brothers eventually came to the conclusion that their brother Benjamin was a thief and his reputation would ruin their supposedly good relations with the ‘Aziz. Thus, in order to distance themselves from him, they attributed it to a family trait in so far that his brother Yusuf, like him, who was of the same mother, had also been a thief. They both, on the other hand, should be treated differently because they :themselves were from another mother. The verse says

”...’.They said: ‘If he steals, a brother of his had stolen before “

On hearing such words, Yusuf became very saddened but he kept it to himself and did not reveal his feelings or his opinion. Even though they had committed the great sin of false attribution and slander he did not answer them. He just went on to tell them in very subtle terms that they had sunk far lower than the brother they had so unjustly :accused. The verse says

But Yusuf kept it secret within his heart and did not reveal it to them. He said: ‘You ... “ ”.’are in a worse situation, and Allah knows best (the truth) of what you state

(٧٨) قَالُوا يَا أَيُّهَا الْعَزِيزُ إِنَّ لَهُ أَبًا شَيْخًا كَبِيرًا فَخُذْ أَحَدَنَا مَكَانَهُ إِنَّا نَرَاكَ مِنَ الْمُحْسِنِينَ

They said: ‘O’ ‘Aziz! He has a father, aged and advanced in years, so take one of “ .٧٨
”.’us in his place; verily we see you of the doers of good

Commentary: verse ٧٨

As they realized that in accord with the penalty to which they themselves had agreed, their younger brother Benjamin would have to stay with the ‘Aziz and that they had made a pledge with their father to do their utmost to protect and return him safely to Ya‘qūb, they pleaded with Yusuf who was yet unknown to them to take one of them :instead. The verse says

They said: ‘O’ ‘Aziz! He has a father, aged and advanced in years, so take one of us in “
”... ;his place

They explained the reason of their request that they had realized the ‘Aziz one of the righteous and that was not the first time that he showed them kindness, then it was :better to complete his affection by according their request. The verse says

”.’verily we see you of the doers of good ...“

(٧٩) قَالَ مَعَاذَ اللَّهِ أَنْ نَأْخُذَ إِلَّا مَنْ وَجَدْنَا مَتَاعَنَا عِنْدَهُ إِنَّا إِذًا لظَالِمُونَ

He said: ‘Allah forbid that we take (anyone) other than him with whom we found “our property. Indeed (if we did so) we would certainly be of the unjust ones”.

Commentary: verse ٧٩

Yusuf immediately turned down this proposal, implying that a just person will never punish an innocent man for an offence which had been committed by someone else.

:To do such a thing would make one an oppressor. The verse says

He said: ‘Allah forbid that we take (anyone) other than him with whom we found our “property. Indeed (if we did so) we would certainly be of the unjust ones”.

It is interesting to note that Yusuf never uses the word thief to refer to his brother, on the contrary, he says “him with whom we have found our property”. This is one of the signs indicating that he was careful to use no offensive language in all of his life

:Explanations

It is necessary for everyone to observe regulations and rules and breaking them is ١ . forbidden even for the ‘Aziz

Breaking just laws is an act of oppression. One must not break laws at the behest of ٢ . this and that person

The innocent must not be held responsible and suffer the consequences for what ٣ . someone else had done even when he consents to do so

Point

Yusuf discloses his identity

Brothers of Joseph returned to report to Jacob saying that Benjamin committed a theft and hence detained by the king – Jacob loses his sight in his sorrow for his son Joseph and orders search for Joseph – Joseph discloses his identity to his Brothers

(٨٠) فَلَمَّا اسْتَيْأَسُوا مِنْهُ خَلَصُوا نَجِيًّا قَالَ كَبِيرُهُمْ أَلَمْ تَعْلَمُوا أَنَّ أَبَاكُمْ قَدْ أَخَذَ عَلَيْكُمْ مَوْثِقًا مِنَ اللَّهِ وَمِنْ قَبْلُ مَا فَرَّطْتُمْ فِي يُوسُفَ فَلَنْ أَبْرَحَ الْأَرْضَ حَتَّى يَأْذَنَ لِي أَبِي أَوْ يَحْكُمَ اللَّهُ لِي وَهُوَ خَيْرُ الْحَاكِمِينَ

Therefore, I will never leave this land until my father permits me, or Allah decides for me; and He is ”.’the best of judges

Commentary: verse ٨٠

The brothers were faced with the prospect of returning to their father in shame. They did their utmost to save Benjamin, however they found all roads leading to a solution .blocked

Therefore, they despaired from the ‘Aziz, or from deliverance of the brother, and decided to return to kan‘ān and tell their father about the matter when they went off .by themselves into a corner and conferred as to what next to do

:The verse says

”... .So when they despaired of (moving) him, they conferred in private “

However, in that private conference the elder brother told them whether they did not know that their father had taken an oath of Allah from them that they had to return Benjamin in any possible price, and that they were the same persons who formerly failed to fulfil their duty concerning Yusuf, and had a bad background with the Father.

:The verse says

The eldest of them said: ‘Don’t you know that your father has taken a solemn ... “ covenant from you in Allah’s name, and before that you failed to perform your duty

”... ?with Yusuf

The older brother, who embarrassed and frustrated at their unreliability with their father, decided to stay in Egypt until his father permitted or until Allah (s.w.t.) decided.

:The holy verse continues saying

Therefore, I will never leave this land until my father permits me, or Allah decides ... “

”.’for me; and He is the best of judges

The decision of Allah means either until death overtook him or that Allah (s.w.t.) would make manifest a solution to this problem; or a plausible excuse which could decisively

:Explanations

The Arabic term /xalaṣū/ means separating themselves away from others. The . ۱

Qur’ānic word /najiyyan/ means to enter into a whispered conversation with someone

Therefore, the phrase /xalasū najiyyan/ means that they gathered together apart .from others, for a confidential meeting to decide on what to do

Then the elder brother told other brothers that they would return to the Father and say that his son (Benjamin) committed theft and that the testimony they would present to their father could only be based on the amount of the truth that they were .aware of

They saw the king’s cup discovered and taken out from their brother’s load which proved that he had committed theft. Nevertheless, they started to become aware .that the hidden truth of the matter rested with Allah

And ask at the town in which we were and the caravan with which we travelled “ ٨٢
”hither, and verily we are indeed truthful

Commentary: verse ٨٢

The Arabic term /qaryah/ does not only mean ‘village’, but it also means ‘a meeting place’ and ‘a residential area’ as well, whether be it a town or a village

Yusuf’s brothers did not have any evidence to prove that he was killed by a wolf when they described the event for their father, but they provided two proofs to support their story in this situation. Firstly they had witnesses in the town, and secondly, they had witnesses in the caravan among which they were

Besides that, in the former description they said: “...even though we be truthful”<sup>(١)</sup> where the Arabic word /lau/ is a sign of doubt, weakness, and anxiety, while here, in this verse, they say: “...verily we are indeed truthful” that, with the application of ‘verily’ and ‘indeed’, they claimed that they were really truthful

Then, in order to make clear their father from any suspicion and to make him sure that the fact had been exactly that very thing they explained, they said

”... ,hither

p: ٥٢١

This statement means that there were naturally some people from Kan‘ān among them whom Jacob knew and he could ask the true affair from them so that, however, he would become certain that they were telling nothing but the truth. It says

”and verily we are indeed truthful ...“

They were very confident in their position, they were sure that if the father were to investigate he would find that they were indeed telling the truth

From the verse, we can also deduce that the news that Benjamin had stolen the king’s cup spread around the town and among the caravan

Commentary: verse ٨٣

The brothers departed from Egypt, leaving the youngest and the oldest behind, they returned to Kan‘ān in frustration and shame. On this occasion, contrary to other times, their father found them deeply disturbed and depressed and that Benjamin and the oldest brother were not with them, thus he realized that something .unpleasant had taken place

In order to remove their father’s suspicions and increase his confidence in them, this time they told the truth of the matter as it had appeared to them, calling him to inquire .from the people of Egypt and the caravan to verify their story

Ya‘qūb was not impressed, he became angry, and staring at them, he told them that it was their souls that had made something appealing to them that had led to this .disaster

:The verse says

”... ,He (Ya‘qūb) said: ‘No, but your (guilty) selves have made a matter fair for you “

On his part Ya‘qūb had no other choice than to take recourse in sweet patience and trust in Allah to return all his sons to him, if He willed, because He is aware of them ,inside of all as well as whatever happened and will happen. Moreover

:He is Wise and never does anything undue. The holy verse continues saying so patience is good. Maybe Allah will bring them to me all together; verily He is the ...“ ”. All-Knowing, the All-Wise

:Explanations

When the brothers, feigning sadness, brought Yusuf’s bloody shirt to their father, – ۱ they said that Yusuf had been eaten by a wolf. Haḍrat Ya‘qūb (a.s.) said that their souls had made up something which they had found attractive. Now, with his next two sons taken away from him, he repeats the same sentence

Perhaps, this question may be raised that: in Yusuf’s affair the brothers committed treason and planned conspiracies, while in the Benjamin’s affair, such was not the case. Then, why does Ya‘qūb say the same thing in both cases? Tafsīr Al Mīzān, provides the answer. ‘Allāmah Tabātabā’ī says that Ya‘qūb meant that the facts surrounding these two other brothers remaining in Egypt is an extension of their (.previous conduct with regard to Yusuf (a.s

That is, all these occurrences, even though they were not directly responsible for the last one, were the consequences of their previous unethical behaviour

It may be said that the purpose of Ya‘qūb was that even then they thought themselves as innocent and that they had acted well, however, they had still behaved unethically in the crisis. Firstly why were they quick to assume that their brother was guilty once they saw the cup among his load? Couldn’t it be possible that someone else had hidden it there? Secondly, why did they return so quickly without any ?research? And thirdly, why did they choose servitude as a penalty of the thief

(٨٤) وَتَوَلَّى عَنْهُمْ وَقَالَ يَا أَسْفَىٰ عَلَىٰ يُوسُفَ وَإِیُّضَتْ عَیْنَاهُ مِنَ الْحُزَنِ فَهُوَ كَظِیْمٍ

And he turned away from them and said: ‘Alas for Yusuf!’ And his eyes became “ ٨٤ .
”white with the grief of that he repressed

Commentary: verse ٨٤

The Arabic word /’asaf/ philologically means grief and sorrow accompanied with wrath. Ya’qūb constantly had some tear in his eyes, the word ‘what a pity!’ on his .tongue, and grief in his heart

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) has been narrated who said in a tradition that his father Ali-ibn-il-Husayn, even twenty years after the event of Karbala, used to weep upon any ground. Once he was asked why he wept such a great deal. He answered “Ya’qūb had eleven sons one of whom disappeared, although he was alive Ya’qūb lost his eye-sight for him, while I saw by my own eyes that my father, my brothers and seventeen men from the house-hold of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) were slain as martyr before my ”?eyes. How may I not weep

However, a deep sorrow and grief occupied throughout the entity of Ya’qūb, and the absence of Benjamin, the same son who was a cause of solace for him, reminded him of his dear Yusuf. The remembrance of the time this fair, intelligent, faithful, fair young son was close in his bosom and a moment of the smelling of whose smelt refreshed the father as new life for him. But now, not only there was no sign of him, but also his substitute, Benjamin, had an important painful fate like him. It was at this :moment that he showed reaction as follows

”...’!And he turned away from them and said: ‘Alas for Yusuf “

This double grief caused Ya‘qūb (a.s.) to shed flood of tears involuntarily as much as
:that his eyes lost its sight. The verse continues saying

”And his eyes became white with the grief of that he repressed ...“

He was very sad, yet he tried to control his grief and anger patiently, so that he would

They said: ‘By Allah! You will never cease to remember Yusuf until you are ill or “ ٨٥
”.(until) you are of the perished ones

Commentary: verse ٨٥

.The Arabic term /ḥarad/ refers to a person who grieves to death out of love or sorrow

The brothers, who were over whelmed by sorrow as a result of this sequence of events, had a troubled conscience because of Yusuf’s affair and now they were finding themselves being tried anew with regard to Benjamin while they were profoundly hurt at the ever increasing sadness of their father

:With inconvenience they addressed the Father, and as the verse says

They said: ‘By Allah! You will never cease to remember Yusuf until you are ill or (until) “
”.’you are of the perished ones

:Explanations

The ideal love is spiritual and the heavenly sighs of grief which are of valuable .١
.import. The thinking of the men of Allah is identical with the thinking of Allah Himself

.٢.The issue of paternal love is different from ordinary kinds of love

Spiritual and psychic problems leave their impact on the body, among which one can .٣ name the separation from a loved one which might cause a nervous break-down or .even death

(٨٦) قَالَ إِنَّمَا أَشْكُوا بَثِّي وَحُزْنِي إِلَى اللَّهِ وَأَعْلَمُ مِنَ اللَّهِ مَا لَا تَعْلَمُونَ

He said: ‘I only complain of my anguish and my grief to Allah, and I know from Allah “
”.’Allah that which you do not know

Commentary: verse ٨٦

Ya‘qūb declared that he used to relate his grief, his need, his life problems and his difficulties to Allah in the dark of night and in private times; and some commentators have said that /baθθ/ means an expression of grief while the word /ḥuzn/ signifies :hiding and covering one’s grief. The verse says

He said: ‘I only complain of my anguish and my grief to Allah, and I know from Allah “
”.’that which you do not know

The Prophet of Allah (p.b.u.h.) has been narrated to have said that Gabriel came to visit Ya‘qūb and said: “Allah sends His greetings to you and says that you should be of good cheer that He swears upon His Glory and Magnanimity that if those two sons were dead He would return their lives to them. Now you should prepare some food for the poor, those who are Allah’s most favorite servants.” From then on, whenever Ya‘qūb wanted to have a meal, he would order someone to call any poor man outside his home that was hungry could come inside and share his meal with him. And when he was fasting, he would order someone to proclaim outside his house that whoever was fasting could come in and join him in breaking his fast with him. This narration has .been quoted by Hākim Abū ‘Abdullah Hāfiẓ in his Saḥiḥ

The sentence “and I know from Allah that which you do not know”, means that Ya‘qūb well knew that Yusuf’s dream would come true, that he was alive and according to the dream he saw they would soon prostrate before him

In the book entitled ‘An-Nubuwwah’ (The Prophethood) documented from Sadīr Siyrafī, Imam Bāqir (a.s.) is narrated to have said that Ya‘qūb prayed for Allah to send the Angel of Death to him, and when the latter came to Ya‘qūb, the angel asked him what he could do for him. Ya‘qūb asked him if he had seen the spirit of Yusuf among those that he had taken. He answered he had not, so Ya‘qūb realized that Yusuf was still alive

:Messages to Note

1. A monotheist shares his secrets and his hidden troubles only with Allah .1

2. There are two vicious and heinous attributes regarding human beings: The silence .2 which rules and reigns over one’s heart and nerves, exerting pressure on them and jeopardizing one’s health. The other one is crying and moaning in front of people which diminishes ones honor, and lowers the chances of success. The best action in this regard is to take one’s complaint to Allah

3. There lies in a dialogue or a discussion with Allah such a great pleasure which .3 cannot be understood by ordinary people

4. Superficial people usually pass by events easily. However thoughtful people follow .4 events until their outcome in the Hereafter

(٨٧) يَا بَنِيَّ اذْهَبُوا فَتَحَسَّسُوا مِنْ يُوسُفَ وَأَخِيهِ وَلَا تَيْئَسُوا مِنْ رَوْحِ اللَّهِ إِنَّهُ لَا يَيْئَسُ مِنْ رَوْحِ اللَّهِ إِلَّا الْقَوْمُ الْكَافِرُونَ

O’ my sons! Go and enquire about Yusuf and his brother, and never despair of “ ٨٧
”Allah’s Mercy. Verily none despairs of Allah’s Mercy except the unbelieving people

Commentary: verse ٨٧

The Arabic term /taḥassus/ means searching for something good by using one’s
.senses, while the Arabic term /tajassus/ means to search for bad things

According to Rāqib, both the terms /rauh/ and /rūh/ mean spirit, but the word /rauh/ is used when there is a relief and favor in question. It seems, by the removal of difficulties a new and fresh spirit emerges in man. In Tafsīr-i-Tibyān it is said that the word /rūḥ/ (spirit) is derived from /rīḥ/ (wind). As man feels comfortable when the wind
.blows, he feels happy once he has the Divine Grace

The famine, however, continued to strike hard in Egypt and in the surrounding areas, including Kan‘ān. Once again Ya‘qūb ordered his sons to go to Egypt and procure the food supplies necessary; but this time, the search for Yusuf and his brother Benjamin
:were placed at the top of the list of priorities. Jacob said

”... ,O’ my sons! Go and enquire about Yusuf and his brother “

The brothers were sure that Yusuf was no longer alive, so the advice of their old father astonished them greatly. He reminded them that they should never despair of Divine grace for that was a sign of unbelief. Allah's mercy can remove all difficulties. Ya'qūb

:continued saying and never despair of Allah's Mercy. Verily none despairs of Allah's Mercy except ... "

(٨٨) فَلَمَّا دَخَلُوا عَلَيْهِ قَالُوا يَا أَيُّهَا الْعَزِيزُ مَسَّنَا وَأَهْلَنَا الضُّرُّ وَجِئْنَا بِبِضْءٍ مُّزْجَاهٍ فَآوُفْ لَنَا الْكَيْلَ وَتَصَدَّقْ عَلَيْنَا إِنَّ اللَّهَ يَجْزِي الْمُتَصَدِّقِينَ

Then, when they entered unto him (Yusuf), they said: ‘O’ ‘Aziz! Affliction has “ ٨٨ visited us and our family, and we have brought scanty merchandise. So pay us full “measure and bestow you charity on us; verily Allah will reward the charitable ones

Commentary: verse ٨٨

So once again the sons of Ya‘qūb loaded up their goods and, for the third time, they :headed for Egypt, a land that had been full of adventures for them. The verse says

Then, when they entered unto him (Yusuf), they said: ‘O’ ‘Aziz! Affliction has visited “ us and our family, and we have brought scanty merchandise. So pay us full measure “and bestow you charity on us; verily Allah will reward the charitable ones

This time, however, they entered Egypt feeling embarrassed and ashamed, because, contrary to their other trips, their past record had been badly damaged with the ‘Aziz and it is probable that some people now considered them as the thieves of Kan‘ān. The only thing which was their source of comfort among the host of difficulties and their exasperating troubles was the advice their father gave them; that they should .not despair of Allah’s mercy, for solving any difficulty was an easy matter for Him

The Arabic term /biḍā‘at/ refers to a property in the form of a price. The Qur’ānic term /muzjāt/ is derived from /‘izjā’/ with the sense of ‘casting out’. When salesmen return the money to the customer when it is less than the required amount, they call it: .//biḍā‘tun muzjāt

Some commentators have claimed that the meaning of “bestow you charity on us” is a request for Benjamin’s return, but most of the other commentators believe that it is a .request for wheat itself

(٨٩) قَالَ هَلْ عَلِمْتُمْ مَا فَعَلْتُمْ بِيُوسُفَ وَأَخِيهِ إِذْ أَنْتُمْ جَاهِلُونَ

He (Yusuf) said: ‘did you know what you did with Yusuf and his brother when you “ .٨٩
””?were ignorant

Commentary: verse ٨٩

A question can be the product of many objectives which can be positive and constructive or negative and disturbing. Perhaps Yusuf’s objective in asking this question was to let them know that he knew the whole story. Another possible objective could be that he wanted them to know that they did wrong and that they .had to repent

In any rate, at that moment when the period of trial had ended, and Yusuf also seemed terribly anxious and restless, in order to introduce himself, turned to the :brothers and began as follows

He (Yusuf) said: ‘did you know what you did with Yusuf and his brother when you “
””?were ignorant

Yusuf, the ‘Aziz, finished his speaking while he was smiling. His smile showed his beautiful teeth to his brothers quite manifestly. Once they noticed them, realized that .they were amazingly similar to the teeth of their brother Yusuf

They said: ‘Are you indeed Yusuf?’ He said: ‘(Yes), I am Yusuf and this is my “ .٩٠ brother. Allah has been indeed gracious to us. Verily whoever keeps from evil and is patient (is always rewarded) for verily Allah does not waste the reward of the ”.’righteous

Commentary: verse ٩٠

The more the time passed the more the brothers were astonished at why the ‘Aziz wept upon their father’s letter and how he knew the story of Yusuf. They thought his feature was very alike to that of Yusuf; perhaps he was the same Yusuf. They decided to ask this question from him. If he was not Yusuf they would not be considered as .mad; but if he was Yusuf what they could do with shame

Excitement had encompassed them thoroughly. At last, they broke their silence by :asking whether he was Yusuf. The verse says

”... ’?They said: ‘Are you indeed Yusuf “

What happened here in this scene? Which painter can draw in a painting the feature .of shame, happiness, weeping, and embracing? Only Allah knows it and none else

The conditions should be in a state that people ask, and the stimuli increase in them for development and guidance. The stimulus for research and questions ceaselessly increase in Yusuf’s brothers. They said to themselves why he persisted on bringing Benjamin with them. Why was the king’s cup found in the loads? Why did he return their money first time they bought wheat? Where from did he know the story of ?Yusuf

Would he not give them wheat again? When this excitement went to its climax, they asked him whether he was Yusuf and he answered: ‘Yes

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) said: “There is indeed a course of Yusuf in Haḍrat Ghā’im (a.s.)...
People will not recognize him (a.s.) until when Allah will allow him to introduce (himself.” (1)

:Explanations

The length of time in history containing bitter and sweet events can change the .1
.relations and comprehensions and cognitions

.It is true that the people’s obligation is bitter, but the obligation of Allah is sweet .2

.The men of Allah believe that all bounties belong to Him .3

.Patience and virtue pave the ground for one's honor .4

Allah’s grace is wisely distributed and is allocated according to the well established .5
.criteria

That person is eligible for an administrative position and who must have passed the .6
.tests of crises, jealousies, titles, lusts, humiliations, imprisonments, and slander

One must make use of sensitive periods to inform and propagate. Once the .7 brothers’ sense of shame was aroused because of their wrong deeds, they were .most ready to accept Yusuf’s remarks

One of the Divine ways of treatment is the bestowal of power in government upon .8

They said: ‘By Allah! Allah has indeed preferred you above us, and we certainly “ ٩١ .
”.’have been guilty

Commentary: verse ٩١

The Arabic term /’īthār/ means: ‘accepting other people’s superiority over oneself’. Because of their wrong way of thinking, such as saying “We are a (strong) group” (١), they did wrong things like throwing Yusuf down the well. Allah made them so exasperated that they had to beg in order to fill their stomachs and only after this were they ready to confess that their plans were in ruins and they could see the :reality of their wrong thinking. The verse says

They said: ‘By Allah! Allah has indeed preferred you above us, and we certainly have “
”.’been guilty

The brothers had sworn on several occasions employing the holy phrase /tallah/. When the cup was discovered they swore to Allah that they had not come to that land (to commit theft or any other kind of corruption. (٢) Swearing to Allah, they told their father that he was always repeating the name of Yusuf, (٣) and by doing so he showed his extreme love towards him being in his ancient (error. (٤) Now they swore Yusuf was superior to them. (٥)

Of course the brothers could not look Yusuf in the eyes because of their shame, and .they were probably worried whether or not their crimes would be forgiven

He said: ‘There is no reproach against you this day. Allah may forgive you; and He “ .٩٢
”.’(is the most Merciful of the merciful (ones

Commentary: verse ٩٢

The Arabic term /taθrib/, mentioned in this verse, means ‘to scorn, to count something
,sin, and as much blameworthy

At the time of the conquest of Mecca, the pagans had sought refuge in the Ka‘bah. ‘Umar on that occasion said: “We shall take revenge today!” However the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) replied: “Today is the day of blessings”. Then he asked the pagans what they .thought

They said that they believed that all would be good, that the Prophet was their sublime brother. The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said that his words that day were the same as :those of Yusuf. Here is the word of Yusuf

”... .He said: ‘There is no reproach against you this day “

Umar then replied that he was ashamed of himself for what he said. (١٤ Ali (a.s.) said: “When you gain power over your adversary pardon him by way of (thanks for being able to overcome him.” (١٥

The traditions say that the heart of a youth is more lenient than that of an old person, and the immaculate Imam, narrating this verse has said that since Yusuf was young,
.he soon forgave his brothers

Yusuf did not expect the shameful state of his brothers to continue at the time of his success in particular, and to reassure them, he immediately said that they would not be threatened or blamed on that day, and they would not feel grief or sorrow due to the past. Not only did he declare that he had forgiven them but he also informed them that the right of Allah was forgivable, as well, by means of that regret and remorse. He added

”.(Allah may forgive you; and He is the most Merciful of the merciful (ones ...“

This incident illustrates Yusuf’s greatness for not only did he spare his own right, but as far as the Divine right was concerned, he reassured them that Allah was .Compassionate and Merciful

:Explanations

.Tolerance is an important instrument of administration .1

One must learn from Yusuf’s humanity and generosity for he not only overlooked .2
.his own right but he also went out of his way to secure Allah’s pardon for his brothers

Men of Allah are in the habit of pardoning once they are at the climax of their power .3
.and glory

Allah’s pardon can also extend to include those who had for years been giving .4
.trouble to two of His prophets, Yusuf and Ya‘qūb

Once the servant of Allah forgives what can one expect Allah to do? He is the Most .5
!Forgiving of all

.To forgive those who are ashamed is the very habit of the Divine Being .6

To attribute Allah as the Most Forgiving and as the Most Merciful of the merciful .7
.ones is the ritual for the process of prayer and repentance

(٩٣) اذْهَبُوا بِقَمِيصِي هَذَا فَاَلْقُوهُ عَلٰى وَجْهِ اَبِي يَاتِ بَصِيْرًا وَاْتُونِيْ بِاَهْلِكُمْ اَجْمَعِيْنَ

Go with this shirt of mine and lay it on my father's face, he will (again) be able to “ .٩٣
”see; and bring me your family all together

Commentary: verse ٩٣

.This shirt has been mentioned in several occurrences of the story of Haḍrat Yusuf

A – At first the brothers had stained the shirt of Yusuf with fake blood and took it to his (father, claiming that the wolf had eaten him. (١)

(B – A shirt was torn from the back and was instrumental in identifying the offender. (٢)

:C – A shirt caused Ya‘qūb to regain his eyesight. The verse says Go with this shirt of mine and lay it on my father's face, he will (again) be able to see; “

”.and bring me your family all together

We see that Yusuf's shirt on the face of a blind man can make him regain his sight, therefore, one can hope to be cured by whatever is in contact with the men of Allah, such as their mausoleums, courtyards, houses, doors, the earth, the walls, clothing, and anything else

We have already been covering the stages in which Yusuf was recognized, their apologies to him, the pardon he granted

The current Sura; verse ١٨ – ١

Ibid, verse ٢٧ – ٢

and his request for Divine forgiveness; but the father's blindness, which had been a clue to the brothers' crime, was still outstanding. We have the solution to this problem in this verse. Incidentally, the traditions say that Yusuf said: "The person who takes my shirt to my father must be the same one who had taken my blood stained shirt to him, so that he may rejoice after having been saddened by it

The traditions say that Yusuf seated all his brothers next to him every day and night for their meals and they always felt ashamed. So they sent him a message saying that they wanted to have their meals separately since looking at his face made them feel ashamed. Yusuf answered: "I take pride in sitting next to you and having my meals with you." One could only say: 'Allah is the greatest' for such a magnitude of spirit

:Explanations

1. Taking recourse to objects, which are somehow associated with men of Allah, is permitted. Yusuf's shirt, for example, makes a blind man regain his eyesight

2. He who fights against his carnal desires and passions, even his clothing becomes sacrosanct and sanctified

3. There is no age limit for performing miracles and wonder workings by a saint

4. Yusuf was knowledgeable about the invisible world, otherwise, how could he know that the shirt could cure his father's blindness

5. Affluent children ought to provide for their less well to do relatives especially their elderly parents

6. Social conditions leave their impact on the performance of one's duties

7. One must take care of one's family, in Yusuf's case, he had to look after his family in order for them to come to Egypt

.Attending to one's relatives is a necessity once one fully observes the rights of others

Migration and changing one's residence have many effects, one of which is that it .^
.removes sad and bitter memories

Point

Jacob Goes to Yusuf

Joseph receives his parents and relates to them the bounties of Allah bestowed upon him and his experiences in Egypt

(٩٤) وَلَمَّا فَصَلَتِ الْعِيرُ قَالَ أَبُوهُمْ إِنِّي لَأَجِدُ رِيحَ يُوسُفَ لَوْلَا أَنْ تُفَنِّدُونِ

And when the caravan set out (from Egypt to Kan‘ān), their father said: ‘Verily I “ .٩٤ ”.’perceive Yusuf’s scent, unless you think me doting

Commentary: verse ٩٤

Finally, Allah’s grace became manifest. Beside them with joy, Ya‘qūb’s sons took the shirt and headed for Kan‘ān. When the caravan departed from Egypt, their father said that he perceived Yusuf’s scent while people around him would not believe him. The :verse says

And when the caravan set out (from Egypt to Kan‘ān), their father said: ‘Verily I “ ”.’perceive Yusuf’s scent, unless you think me doting

:Explanations

The Qur’ānic term /faṣalat/ means ‘distance’ and /fasalati l’īru/ here means that the caravan distanced itself from Egypt. The term /tufannidūn/ is derived from /fanida/ meaning the lack of ability to think and absence of wisdom. Ya‘qūb was worry about the people around him who might attribute him silly, so he said: Perhaps the ‘scent of Yusuf ’ implies some fresh news from Yusuf. This issue is being discussed in scientific circles today as 'telepathy' which means the transfer of thought to others in far distant places. That is, those who are closely related with each other, or who have extrasensory perception, can receive direct messages from someone else from a very long distance away

Someone said to Imam Bāqir (a.s.): "Sometimes, I feel terribly sorry for no reason in such a way that those around me perceive it." The Imam responded: "Muslims are all created out of the same core and nature, and when a serious accident occurs to one, someone else feels sorry in another land and place

(٩٥) قَالُوا تَاللَّهِ إِنَّكَ لَفِي ضَلَالِكَ الْقَدِيمِ

”.”They said: ‘By Allah! you are in your ancient error “ .٩٥

Commentary: verse ٩٥

Those with Ya‘qūb, who normally were the spouses of his children, his grand sons and grand daughters, and other members of his extended family, had long since given up Yusuf for dead and thought this new assertion by Ya‘qūb was nothing but his refusal to face reality. In fact they probably thought he was having delusions when he said that he perceived the scent of Yusuf. That was why, addressing him, they seriously and rudely said he was in his old error. The verse says

”.”They said: ‘By Allah! you are in your ancient error “

It becomes evident that ‘persisting in his old error’ does not mean error in belief. On the contrary, it means being in error in refusing to recognize what they perceived as the reality about Yusuf

However these meanings show that they behaved unto that old great prophet very rudely and boldly. Once they remarked their father had been in a manifest aberration, and here they told him

”.”you are in your ancient error ...“

They were unaware of the intimacy and sincerity of the old man of Kan‘ān, and regarded him as not being as enlightened and illuminated as them. They did not think that future events might be as clear to him as a reflection in a mirror

(٩٦) فَلَمَّا أَن جَاءَ الْبَشِيرُ أَلْقَاهُ عَلَىٰ وَجْهِهِ فَارْتَدَّدَ بَصِيرًا قَالَ أَلَمْ أَقُلْ لَكُمْ إِنِّي أَعْلَمُ مِنَ اللَّهِ مَا لَا تَعْلَمُونَ

Then, when the bearer of the good news came, he cast it (the shirt) on his “ .٩٦ (Jacob’s) face and (forthwith) he regained his sight. He said: ‘Did I not tell you I know ”?from Allah what you do not know

Commentary: verse ٩٦

After a number of difficult nights and days, one day Ya‘qūb heard a loud voice proclaiming that the caravan of Kan‘ān had just arrived from Egypt. Unlike the previous occasion, the brothers arrived in joyous spirits and went straight to their father’s house. Before anybody else, Bashīr, ‘the bearer of good news’, came up to the old grieving man and placed the shirt over his face. Ya‘qūb was unable to see the shirt, but just before it was placed on his face, he sensed the familiar scent of his Yusuf. A wonderful excitement overwhelmed the old man, the scent intensified when the shirt fell on his face, and suddenly he felt his eyes were opened and he was able to see. The world, with all its beauties, was once again before his eyes; as the Qur’ān says:

Then, when the bearer of the good news came, he cast it (the shirt) on his (Jacob’s) “
”... face and (forthwith) he regained his sight

The brothers and their entourage burst into tears of joy and he, with a decisive tone,
:told them

”?Did I not tell you I know from Allah what you do not know‘...“

If the purpose of the Qur'ān that says 'his eyes turned white' is a decrease and diminishing of the eyesight, then the term /baṣīran/ means illumination, and it indicates that sadness and joy both leave an impact on one's sense of vision. However, if the intent of the verse is a complete blindness, which can be inferred from the literal view of the verse, then the Qur'ānic phrase which says 'and (forthwith) he regained his sight' would imply that the return of his eyesight was a miracle that the Qur'ān proves it

:Explanations

1. The knowledge of the prophets has its origin in the Divine knowledge .

2. The prophets trust the promises of the Almighty as the Divine Will rules over all .
.natural laws

3. The clothing and the belongings of men of Allah can have an impact over some .
.other beings

(٩٧) قَالُوا يَا أَبَانَا اسْتَغْفِرْ لَنَا ذُنُوبَنَا إِنَّا كُنَّا خَاطِئِينَ

”They said: ‘O’ our father! Ask forgiveness of our sins for us, verily we were guilty “ .٩٧

Commentary: verse ٩٧

This amazing miracle made the brothers think deeply about their dark past. In so doing they regretted their past misdeeds and asked their father to seek forgiveness for their sins. The verse says

”They said: ‘O’ our father! Ask forgiveness of our sins for us, verily we were guilty “

This is a good lesson for us; that we must always think of reforming ourselves and compensate for our past mistakes. We are all sinners and offenders

We should also take note that it is permissible to appeal to the men of Allah to ask forgiveness of one’s sins

(٩٨) قَالَ سَوْفَ أَسْتَغْفِرُ لَكُمْ رَبِّي إِنَّهُ هُوَ الْغَفُورُ الرَّحِيمُ

He said: ‘Soon I will ask forgiveness for you from my Lord; He is the Forgiving, the “ ٩٨ .
”.’Merciful

Commentary: verse ٩٨

The great old man, who possessed a magnanimous spirit and with immense generosity, refrained from blaming them; instead he promised them that he would soon ask forgiveness for them from Allah. The verse says

”... ;He said: ‘Soon I will ask forgiveness for you from my Lord “

It has been mentioned in some Islamic traditions that Ya‘qūb’s (a.s.) aim was to postpone acting upon their request until dawn the next Friday when would have been a more appropriate time for the acceptance of prayers and repentance. Ya‘qūb hoped that Allah would accept their repentance and overlook their sins, for Allah is :Compassionate and Kind as the verse states

”.’He is the Forgiving, the Merciful ...“

This verse and the verse before it show that asking a third party to ask forgiveness from Allah for oneself not only is not incompatible with monotheism, but also provides a way to merit Allah’s approbation

Otherwise, how would it be possible that prophet Ya‘qūb (a.s.) could accept his sons’ request to seek forgiveness for them from Allah? There is a light at the end of the tunnel

These verses teach us that no matter how hard and painful one’s difficulties might be, and how limited and insufficient the apparent means and the possibilities might seem, one must not feel removed from hope in Allah’s grace and favor. In this story, Allah made a blind man regain his eyesight with a shirt and made the smell of that shirt travel a long distance, He enabled someone lost to return home after long years of separation, and healed the wounds of broken hearts can also remove the .grave pains and difficulties

Yes, in this story and historical event, there lies the great lesson of Unity and theology .proving that nothing is difficult and complicated for the Will of Allah

Then when they entered unto Yusuf, he lodged his parents with him and said: “ ٩٩ .
”.’Enter Egypt, Allah willing, (all) in security

Commentary: verse ٩٩

:The End of Yusuf and His Brothers

The family, in response to Yusuf’s invitation, and after much preparation, traveled to Egypt. Ya‘qūb was riding to the destination while his lips were busy calling Allah and thanking Him. This journey, unlike the previous ones, was free from all kinds of troubles, and those troubles could not even be compared to the remarkable gains which awaited them at the end of the journey. The very thought of joining Yusuf made the trip easy for them so much so that a painful thorny path would seem as if it had been paved with velvet. Soon when the oases of Egypt came into view, they were .finally there Typical of the style of the Qur’ān, it skips over the details which we fill in by means of the traditional narrations and by our own imagination, and simply says that they :entered into the presence of Yusuf. The verse says

”... Then when they entered unto Yusuf, he lodged his parents with him “

When they arrived at his palace, and Yusuf embraced his parents, this was the sweetest moment in Ya‘qūb’s life. It was a meeting that had come about after many years of separation. Every moment of this meeting and embracing Ya‘qūb and Yusuf was so exciting that only Allah knows what happened and none else. In these sweet moments of reunion, then, only Allah knows the intensity of the bliss shared between the father and his beloved son

Yusuf told every one to enter the land of Egypt and assured them that they would be safe and secure there. The verse continues saying

”and said: ‘Enter Egypt, Allah willing, (all) in security ...‘

One can conclude from this statement that Yusuf had come out of the gates of the town to welcome his parents. Perhaps the sentence ‘they entered unto Yusuf’ means that he had ordered tents to be erected there to receive and entertain preliminarily his parents before they entered the town

It is difficult, of course, to describe this part of the story. Yusuf had arranged some tents outside the city and waiting for his parents to come and that he would bring them respectfully into Egypt

It was natural that in Kan‘ān, when Yusuf’s parents and brothers were preparing themselves for the journey, people there had a very happy time. They saw that by receiving the good news of Yusuf’s safety, and in the case that Ya‘qūb had regained his eyesight, how joyful were the family setting off to meet Yusuf. These people were also happy that Yusuf had become a treasurer and governor in Egypt and especially that, by sending wheat for them in the course of famine, he had supported them

One can conclude from the Arabic term /abawayh/ (his parents), that Yusuf’s mother had also been alive at the time

Some narrations say that Ya‘qūb insisted and swore that Yusuf would recount his own story for him. As Yusuf began telling his story of how his brothers had taken him near the edge of the well and took off his shirt while threatening him, Ya‘qūb fainted. When he recovered, he again asked him to continue, but Yusuf swore by Abraham, Ishmael, and Isaac (a.s.) and begged his father to spare him from telling it, and Ya‘qūb accepted.

By the way, it is worthy to note that social posts and ranks should not cause us to be heedless of respecting our parents in any condition

Commentary: verse ١٠٠

When he seated his parents on the throne, the magnitude of the Divine Grace and the profundity of such favors and blessings left such an impact upon his parents and brothers that they went into a state of prostration before him. The verse says

And he raised both his parents upon the throne, and they fell down prostrating “ ... ,before him

Certainly prostration, implying worship, belongs only to Allah alone. Some Islamic traditions state that this prostration had been done as obedience and worship unto Allah as well as an act of respect towards Yusuf

At this point he told his father that the meaning of his dream had now become clear, the dream of the sun, the moon and the eleven stars all prostrating before him were now represented by his parents and his eleven brothers prostrating before him. The
:verse says

and he said: ‘O’ my father! This is the interpretation of my dream of aforesaid! My ...“ Lord has made it
”... ;come true

But even in the midst of triumph and glory, Yusuf never forgot Allah’s mercy upon him; he recounted all of his troubles and how Allah had always helped him overcome
:them. The verse says and He was indeed kind to me when He brought me out of the prison, and He ...“ brought you out of the desert (of Kan‘ān into Egypt) after Satan had made strife

”... .between me and my brothers

Interestingly enough, he did not mention his sojourn in the well; perhaps it was because he did not want to embarrass his brothers. All these favors and graces have their origin in Allah, for Allah is the source of Grace and He bestows his favors whenever and upon whosoever He wants. He administers all the affairs of His subjects and helps them to solve their problems. He knows those who are in need and :who merits his favor, for He is knowledgeable and wise. The verse says Verily my Lord is Benignant unto what He wills. Verily He is indeed the All-knowing, ...“

”.’the All-Wise

:Explanations

The Arabic term /‘arš/ lexically means the throne on which a sultan or ruler is seated. ١
The term /xarrū/ means throwing oneself upon the earth, while the term /badw/means

‘oasis, desert’ and /nazaqa/ means ‘initiating a task with intention of corruption’

The Qur’ānic term ‘Latīf’ is one of Allah’s names which implies that His power permeates into all complicated matters and its relevance to this verse is the fact that there were complications in Yusuf’s life which could only have been solved by Allah’s Power alone

Yusuf became like the Ka‘ba for them, and his parents and his brothers prostrated before him for the sake of Allah. Were this prostration for other than Allah (s.w.t.), it would have been an act of polytheism, however, Ya‘qūb (a.s.) and Yusuf (a.s.), who were two of Allah’s prophets, would not support such a forbidden act

:Messages to Remember

No matter in what position you are in, you should regard your parents as superior to yourselves

Men of Allah regard entering and leaving prison as a monotheistic circle and a theological gesture

All bitter and sweet events take place in accordance with Divine Knowledge and Wisdom

Commentary: verse ١٠١

When they witness their own glory and power, the men of Allah are at once reminded of the Almighty

.They are aware that everything that exists has its origin in Him

Turning to the true Proprietor, the everlasting Benefactor, Yusuf gave thanks to Almighty Allah for bestowing upon him great political power, and the science of dream interpretation. This science had created tremendous changes in his life and that of the :majority of His subjects and what a profound science it is! The verse says O my Lord! You have given me to rule, and have taught me the interpretation of “ ”... .dreams

It is Allah Who created the heavens and the earth and it is for this reason that everything is humble when facing Him; He is our Guardian and our Protector in this :world and in the world Hereafter. Yusuf continues his plea to Allah saying O!) Originator of the heavens and the earth! You are my Protector in the world and) ...“ the Hereafter. Cause me die

”a Muslim (in submission (unto you) and join me with the righteous

:Explanations

It is a Divine prerogative to bestow sovereignty upon someone. Therefore, one should not consider one’s sovereignty as a consequence of one’s own initiative, thinking, power, allies, or one’s own plan; on the contrary, the Divine will is the root and the main factor in one’s rise to power

Abū Hamzah has said that Ya‘qūb (a.s.) lived for ۱۴۷ years and he was ۱۳۰ years of age when he called upon Yusuf in Egypt and stayed there for ۱۷ years. Ibn Ishaq has said that when Ya‘qūb died, his body was placed in a casket made of Ebony wood and taken to the city of Bayt ul Muqaddas (Jerusalem). After burying his father there, Yusuf returned to Egypt in accordance with the will of that great man

He lived for ۲۳ years more after his father died. He was the first Messenger of the Children of Israel. He stated in his will that he would be buried near the grave of his fathers. Some have said that he was buried in Egypt until Moses (a.s.) brought his remains with him and buried them near the tomb of his father

It is said that the position of prophecy was accorded to Robil after him and Yahuda acceded to the rank after the latter’s term

In the Book, An-Nubuwwah, Muhammad ibn Muslim, is quoted as saying: “I asked Imam Bāqir (a.s.) who was /ḥujjah/, Allah’s Authority on the earth at that time? Was it Ya‘qūb or Yusuf? He answered that Ya‘qūb (a.s.) was, and Yusuf was the sovereign. When Ya‘qūb passed away, Yusuf laid him in a casket, brought him to Damascus, and buried him in Bayt ul Muqaddas, and then Yusuf became the Authority of Allah after Ya‘qūb. I asked if Yusuf was a prophet and a messenger of Allah as well. He answered: “Yes, have you not heard what

Allah, the Glorious and the Magnanimous has said: meaning: ‘Yusuf came to you

Imam Şādiq (a.s.) is narrated to have said: “When Yusuf went to prison, he was twelve years old. He remained in prison for 18 years and he lived for 10 years after his release from prison which amounts to a total of 28 years. And as Allah the Almighty destined him to pass away in Egypt, he was put into a casket made of marble and was buried in the middle of the Nile River. The reason why he was buried in such a way was because the people of Egypt started to vie with each other to bury him in their own quarter of the city and hence benefit from the blessings of the presence of such a pure body among them

Thus it was considered more appropriate to bury the body in the middle of the Nile River, making it possible for the river water to flow over it and allow all the inhabitants to benefit from it

This tomb remained in the Nile River until the time of Moses (a.s.) when he took it out of the Nile and out of Egypt with himself

:A closer look at a few of the previous verses would reveal the following points of note

?Is prostration allowed to other than Allah –1

As we discussed a foretime, regarding issues relating to the prostration of the angels to Adam; prostration can signify worship which in this case is particular to Allah, and it is not allowed for anyone in any religion to worship any being other than Allah. The monotheism of worship is an important part of general monotheism about which all prophets had a similar message and outlook

p: 560

Therefore, from this particular point of view, prostration must only be for Allah the same Allah Who had accorded so many favors and sovereignty to Yusuf, and who removed all of Ya‘qūb’s difficulties. However, although prostration can be for Allah’s sake, in the case of Yusuf it could also have been a sign of glorification and respect for Yusuf as well, because it had been performed in view of the grandeur of the favours which Allah had bestowed upon him. From this point of view, the Arabic pronoun /lahū/ meaning ‘before him’ in the phrase: “and they fell down prostrating before him” which .definitely refers to Yusuf is compatible with this meaning

Another way of looking at it is that prostration in its broad meaning indicates humility or modesty, and is not always used according to its prevalent meaning as worship, .rather it sometimes can refer to a very profound type of respect

.Social security is a great blessing from Allah –۲

Among all the merits and bounties of Egypt, Yusuf Pointed out the bounty of security. This shows that the bounty of security is the root of all merits. It is indeed true because when security disappears other material and spiritual subjects of welfare will be in danger. When an environment is not secured, neither worshipping Allah is possible, nor is life with honesty and free mind, nor struggle and effort and endeavour .for progression and social aims

This phrase may be; however, an illusion to this fact that Yusuf wanted to say that the land of Egypt, where he was governing, was not any more the former country of .Pharaoh

Those despotic behaviours, crimes, exploitations, cruelties and tortures had been .disappeared. It was a completely secured site

.The important position of knowledge –۳

At the end of the holy verse, Yusuf once again stresses the importance of the science of dream interpretation and compares it with the sovereignty bestowed upon him. He finally concludes that knowledge, even such a science as dream interpretation has a great impact even on such matters as political rule Man can undergo a great deal of changes throughout his lifetime. However, the last ۴ years are the milestones in one's life, because it marks the conclusion of one's life, and the final judgment depends on it. Therefore, faithful and conscious people always ask Allah to illuminate the last years of their lives and Yusuf did as such saying: "...

"!Cause me die a Muslim (in submission unto You), and join me with the righteous

?Did Yusuf's Mother Come to Egypt –۵

One can well conclude from the above verses that Yusuf's mother was still alive at that time and that she came to Egypt along with her husband and her sons. To compensate for this blessing she prostrated. However, some commentators insist on the matter that his mother, Rail (Rāhīl), had already passed away and it was his aunt who came to Egypt and had substituted for his mother. Nevertheless, in the Torah it \(says that Rail passed away after giving birth to Benjamin.\)

This conclusion can also be drawn from other narrations such as those narrated by Wahab ibn Bunyah and Ka'b ul Akhbār both of which have been apparently taken from the Torah

Anyway, we cannot explain away or interpret the verses of the Qur'ān at face value which say that Yusuf's mother was alive that day and this fact should not be overlooked without adequate justification

The Torah, Genesis, Chapter ۳۵, No. ۱۸ says: "And it came to pass, as her soul was in ۱) departing, (for she died) that she called his name Ben-oni: but his father called him Benjamin

(١٠٢) ذَلِكْ مِنْ أَنْبَاءِ الْغَيْبِ نُوحِيهِ إِلَيْكَ وَمَا كُنْتَ لَدَيْهِمْ إِذْ أَجْمَعُوا أَمْرَهُمْ وَهُمْ يَمْكُرُونَ

That is of the news of the Unseen (which) We reveal to you (O' Prophet); and you “ ١٠٢ . were not with them (the brothers of Joseph) when they agreed upon their plan and ”.they were plotting

Commentary: verse ١٠٢

After winding up the story of Yusuf, with all its didactic lessons and precious conclusions and without any extravagant and historical superstition, the Qur'ān, addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), says that this information was news from the invisible world which Allah had revealed to him, because he was not there to witness the most secret and detailed thoughts and behaviors that they had occurred, such as the secret plotting of the brothers against Yusuf and their attempts to deceive their :father. The verse says

That is of the news of the Unseen (which) We reveal to you (O' Prophet); and you “ were not with them (the brothers of Joseph) when they agreed upon their plan and ”.they were plotting

.Therefore, it was only revelation of Allah which informed him of such important news

This statement makes it clear that though the story of Yusuf has been mentioned in the Torah, and naturally the people of Arabia, more or less, knew something about it, but they never knew the whole event properly and in detail, even what was said in .private meetings has not been free from additional matters and superstitions

(١٠٣) وَمَا أَكْثَرُ النَّاسِ وَلَوْ حَرَصْتَ بِمُؤْمِنِينَ

And most people will not believe, though “ ١٠٣ .

”you desire it

Commentary: verse ١٠٣

The Arabic term (ḥaraṣa) refers to an intense desire for something and the struggle to attain it. The prophets were zealous, sympathetic, and eager in their efforts to guide others to the Right Path and the fact that people did not accept the faith does not imply that the prophets had failed or that they had any shortcomings. This refusal is due to man’s liberty and freedom of choice itself which he employs in his reluctance to accept the faith. Therefore, most people have been repeatedly criticized by the :Qur’ān from the ideological and religious perspective. The verse says

”And most people will not believe, though you desire it “

However, receiving these clear signs revealed and hearing these divine admonitions all people must believe and return to the right path, but in spite of the desist of the .Prophet, most of them do not believe

(١٠٤) وَمَا تَسْأَلُهُمْ عَلَيْهِ مِنْ أَجْرٍ إِنْ هُوَ إِلَّا ذِكْرٌ لِلْعَالَمِينَ

And you do not ask them for any reward for it; it (the Qur'ān) is no other than a “ ١٠٤ .
” reminder for all mankind

Commentary: verse ١٠٤

In this verse the Qur'ān refers to the fact that mankind has excuse and no real reason to reject the call of the Prophet because of the obviousness of the message, he also does not require any reward for delivering it to them, which indicates that he has no personal ulterior motives and there is no heed for him to fabricate the text of his message. The verse says

”... ;And you do not ask them for any reward for it “

This is a universal call and a reminder to the people of the world, at the same time, it is a table spread for princes and the paupers alike, indeed for all human beings. The verse says

”it (the Qur'ān) is no other than a reminder for all mankind ... “

Generosity is one of the signs of a sincere believer. He expects no reward or thanks from anyone

:Certainly, the Qur'ān is a reminder because

١ .It reminds one of His blessings and attributes

٢ .It reminds one of his past and his future

٣ .It reminds one of the fall, the collapse, as well as the glory of human societies

٤ .It reminds one of the Day of Resurrection and its stages

٥ .It reminds one of the magnitudes of existence

٦ .It reminds one of the lives of historical personages

The Qur'ānic sciences and its ordinances are facts which must be learned and always kept in mind, because the Qur'ānic term /ōikr/ is called to a knowledge which exists in .mind and one does not neglect it

Point

Histories of the Ancient people

Serve as a Lesson

People turn away from the Truth in spite of the abundant signs of Allah in the heavens and the earth – People are warned of Wrath of Allah – The histories of the ancient people serve as a lesson for those who can understand

(۱۰۵) وَكَأَيِّن مِّنْ آيَةٍ فِي السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ يَمُرُّونَ عَلَيْهَا وَهُمْ عَنْهَا مُعْرِضُونَ

And how many a sign there is in the heavens and on the earth which they pass “ ۱۰۵ .
”by while they turn away from it

Commentary: verse ۱۰۵

They have been misled for their eyes are not open and their ears do not hear. Thus they disregard and turn away from the many signs of Allah which are in the heavens and on the earth as if they were nonexistent

They do not realize the Divine implications associated with all those events which they experience in their everyday lives and see with their own eyes, such as the profound system at work in the sunrise and the sunset, the dynamism of the everyday lives of plants, birds, insects, and human beings, the flow of streams and rivers, the submission of all of creation to laws and commands, and finally, the universal plan and purpose inherent in the entirety of existence, written, as it were merely drawings on its doors and walls

This verse was probably revealed to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in order to soothe him.
Every authentic leader and Imam would naturally be concerned and saddened if his call to the people was ignored. Such needless people always see the signs of Allah's power and wisdom in nature and in creation and are not mindful about them for one minute. They witness earthquakes, solar and lunar eclipses, thunder and lightning, the revolution of the stars and the :galaxies, and still pay no attention to them in their minds. The verse says

And how many a sign there is in the heavens and on the earth which they pass by “
”while they turn away from it

:Explanations

1. The purpose of man “passing by” the Divine signs is for him to observe them .

2. The objective of man ‘passing by’ the signs is the motion of the Earth which makes it . possible for man to observe astronomical phenomena in the skies

3. Some verses have indirectly predicted that man would bring outer space under his . control

”.(him

Commentary: verse ١٠٦

This verse indicates that most of those who claim to be believers in Allah in fact associate others with Him, their faith is not pure but mixed with the worship of and .reliance upon others

Imam Riḍā (a.s.) has said that polytheism in this verse does not mean blasphemy and the worship of idols. Rather, it means focusing one’s attention on anything other than (Allah.)

Also Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) has said that polytheism in man is more hidden and latent than (the movement of black ants on a black stone at night.”)

And, in a tradition, Imam Bāqir (a.s.) has said that people are monotheistic in their (worship but in their obedience to other than Allah they enter into polytheism.)

In some other narrations, we read that the purpose of polytheism mentioned in this verse is polytheism in regard to favours: for example, when one says that someone else has accomplished his task for him and were it not for his sake, he would have (perished; and the like of it.)

A pure monotheist is one who does not have anyone or any object upon which he depends and which occupies a central role in his life, and worship except Allah. His words are for

Allah's sake, his deeds are for Allah, whatever he does, he does it having Allah in mind, and he recognizes no laws except the laws of Allah

To sum up, faith is hierarchical, and pure faith is that which allows no room for polytheism

Commentary: verse ١٠٧

The Qur’ānic noble term /qāšyah/ means a punishment that encompasses the entire
.society or each individual

In this verse, Allah issues a warning to all those who have not yet accepted the faith, and who pass by clear Divine signs and heedlessly overlook it. Such people are polytheists in their deeds and should not consider themselves safe and secure from .the all-encompassing Divine penalty which will suddenly be inflicted upon them

:The verse says

Do they then feel secure from the enveloping punishment coming upon them from “

The Day of Judgment will suddenly arrive and the Divine great court of justice will be established in order to settle their accounts while they are unaware and ignorant about it. The Divine punishment is all encompassing and there is no possibility for escape, yet they behave as if they were secure from all this. The verse continues Say (O' Our Apostle): 'This is my way. I invite to Allah with clear sight, I and " ١٠٨ .

".'whoever follows me; and glory be to Allah! And I am not (one) of the polytheists

Commentary: verse ١٠٨

The way of the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) is clear and transparent to all those who want to seek guidance, and true guidance comes from Allah, thus his way is a call to
:Allah, the only true Reality. The verse says

"... ,Say (O' Our Apostle): 'This is my way. I invite to Allah with clear sight "

Indeed, he does not follow this path without knowledge or by imitation; rather he and those who follow him traverse this path with full knowledge and insight. This verse implies that every Muslim who follows the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) must show the Way of .Allah to others in his words and deeds

This is the path of pure monotheism, the path to Allah the One, Who is free of all :defects and has no partners or companions. The verse says

I and whoever follows me; and glory be to Allah! And I am not (one) of the ... "
".'polytheists

Thus the believer in the One True God cannot and should not be considered as one of
.the polytheists

This verse being located within the context of the Sura Yusuf itself indicates that the way of life of the Prophet Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) is not differentiable from that of Yusuf, the great Divine prophet. From the prison he used to call people to worship the One Allah, and regarded deities other than Him as merely fictitious names which when called upon could not answer, for they are ignorantly worshipped only through imitation and superstition

:Explanations

The Prophet's way of life is visible and transparent and is the object of attention and concentration for all those who seek the truth

A leader must have full insight into everything that is relevant to his position

A leader's call must be directed towards Allah, not towards himself

Religious propagators and preachers must be sincere and genuine and their propagation techniques must revolve around making the concept of Allah that is free of all symbols of polytheism and partnership

Each and every one of the followers of the Prophet must be a propagator and preacher calling the people towards Allah with insight

Incidentally, the basic pillar of Islam is monotheism and the negation of polytheism

Have they not traveled in the earth and seen what was the end of those who came before them? And certainly the abode of the ”?Hereafter is better for those who are pious. Do you not understand

Commentary: verse ١٠٩

The opponents of the prophets always used to criticize them for being human and therefore not different to those who did not believe. This was also the case with the people who were the contemporaries of our Prophet (p.b.u.h.). They also used to raise such a criticism which this verse answers. The verse does not deny the humanity of the prophets, it affirms that they were men, but men upon whom descended Divine Revelation. These men used to live in the same towns and villages as other human beings, and had social intercourse with them and were well aware of their pains, :needs and difficulties. The verse says

And We did not send (apostles) before you but men from the people of the towns “ ... whom We did inspire with revelations

All of the history of mankind is the history of sending prophets and their acceptance or rejection by the people to whom they were sent. In this regard the Qur’ān challenges the skeptical to travel throughout the earth and see the end of those who rejected the :truth. The verse continues saying

Have they not traveled in the earth and seen what was the end of those who came ...“
”... ?before them

This investigation and research, because its subject is tangible and evident, provides
.the best instructive lesson that is available to all and can be experienced by everyone

Compared to this passing and transient world, the Hereafter is more suited to the pious and is better than this world, it is free from troubles and is eternal, and man :would come to this very conclusion if he utilized his intellect. The verse says

And certainly the abode of the Hereafter is better for those who are pious. Do you ...“
”?not understand

:Explanations

The prophets were human beings like other people in the fullest sense of the word . ۱ and used to live among them. They were not angels, nor were they seeking after their .own welfare

All the prophets were men for the means of propagation and long arduous travel in . ۲
.its way can only be accomplished by men

The knowledge of the prophets has been gained through revelation from the . ۳ .’omniscience of Allah. Technically it has been ‘inspired

The dispatch of the prophets (a.s.) on their mission, the descent of the Divine . ۴ revelation, and the uprooting of obstinate unbelievers are all examples of the .traditional way of the Divine in history

The polytheists, however, have nothing to gain from their opposition to the . ۵ prophets. Even in this world they will be surrounded by punishment and pain.
However, for the virtuous people in this world, the Hereafter would be much more than they could have

.imagined while being in this world

.Wisdom and meditation lead man directly towards the teachings of the prophets .۶

It is necessary, of course, to preserve historical relics and monuments for the .۷
.experience and instruction of the future generations

(١١٠) حَتَّىٰ إِذَا اسْتَيْأَسَ الرُّسُلُ وَظَنُّوا أَنَّهُمْ قَدْ كَذَّبُوا جَاءَهُمْ نَصْرُنَا فَنُجِّىٰ مِنْ نَشَأٍ وَلَا يُرَدُّ بَأْسُنَا عَنِ الْقَوْمِ الْمُجْرِمِينَ

Till when the messengers despaired and they (disbelievers) thought they had “ ١١٠ . been told a lie, Our help came to them and We delivered whom We pleased. But Our ”punishment will not be averted from the guilty people

Commentary: verse ١١٠

Whilst preaching the Divine message, incorrigible and obstinate elements would raise such a hue and cry and put up such an opposition that even the prophets began to despair of ever guiding such ungrateful and ignorant folk and became concerned that the people would take them to be liars. It was at these low moments that Allah would send them His assistance and saved those whom He chose and punished whom He :willed. The verse says

Till when the messengers despaired and they (disbelievers) thought they had been “
”... .told a lie, Our help came to them and We delivered whom We pleased

After insisting on doing their evil deeds, after actively resisting the Divine call, and after all the ultimatums delivered to him, when the inveterate sinner is confronted with the Divine punishment, it is impossible for him to avert it by any power. The verse :says

”But Our punishment will not be averted from the guilty people ...“

:Some Examples of the despair of the prophets throughout their call

Only a few individuals accepted the faith after Noah had tried for very many years to call the people to the worship of the One True God. Allah told him: ‘None of your people will believe except those who have already believed.’<sup>(1)</sup>

Noah then, condemning those people which reveal his desperate situation says that no one except immoral, ungrateful children will be born from this generation.<sup>(2)</sup>

In the lives and call of the prophets Hūd, Salih, Shu’ayb, Mūsā, and ‘Isā (a.s.), one sees their despair when confronted by the recalcitrance of their enemies

There are many examples where the people suspected the prophets of lying. We read in Sura Hūd, No. 11, verse 27: “...may we think you are liars.” And the Pharaoh told Mūsā \(a.s.\): “Truly, I think that you have been bewitched O Moses!”<sup>(3)</sup>

As for Allah’s triumph in this state, the Qur’ān also shows that during this state of despair Allah bestows victory over the unbelieving folk, which is a right that Allah has reserved for Himself. In Sura Ar-Rūm, Allah says: “And helping the believers is ever incumbent on Us.”<sup>(4)</sup>

Elsewhere He says: “We saved Hūd and those who believed with him by a mercy from Us, and delivered them from a harsh punishment.”<sup>(5)</sup>

With regard to the inexorability of Allah’s punishment, we see in Sura Ar-Ra‘d, No. 13, verse 11, which implies that when Allah intends evil upon a people, there is no averting it

وَرَحْمَةً لِّقَوْمٍ يُؤْمِنُونَ

Indeed in their stories, there is a lesson for the possessors of intellect. It is not an “ .١١١ invented tale, but a confirmation of what came before it, and a clear exposition of all ” things, and a guidance and a mercy for people who believe

Commentary: verse 111

The Arabic words /‘ibrat/ and /ta‘bīr/ denote to pass, and the passing from one stage to another. When Yusuf says that this was the interpretation of his dream of old, it signifies the passing of his dream into reality

And /’brat/ also means passing from what was capable of being seen and heard into a state where they are not capable of being seen or heard but exist nevertheless

The Qur’ānic term /qaṣaṣihim/ perhaps refers to the story of all the prophets or it probably focuses on the stories of Yusuf, Ya‘qūb, the brothers, the ‘Aziz of Egypt, and the bitter and sweet events associated with them told in this story

Anyway, the last verse of this Sura is comprehensive in content dealing with all the issues of this Sura in a concise manner. It tells us that all the stories of the holy Qur’ān, including the story of Yusuf and his brothers as well as that of the prophets, the faithful and the unbelievers, are useful and instructive lessons for all those who are not afraid to use their minds

These stories teach us about the causes of victory and defeat, success and frustration, happiness and misfortune, and elevation and degradation. Briefly put, they show us what should be of value or should lack value in our lives. However, it is only the /'ulil al bāb/ (the people of understanding) that can learn from the instructive lessons that are taught

:The Qur'ān says

”... .Indeed in their stories, there is a lesson for the possessors of intellect “

These stories, the Qur'ān adds, have not been fabricated or false. They have been revealed to the Prophet unveiling the true history of past generations which confirm the original books of the past prophets. The verse says

”... ,It is not an invented tale, but a confirmation of what came before it ...“

Whatever is needed by man and the identification of all those things that are the real bases of man's true happiness, have been elucidated in these verses

For this reason the Qur'ān is the source of all guidance for those who seek it and the source of blessings for all those who are believers. The verse continues saying and a clear exposition of all things, and a guidance and a mercy for people who ... “ ”.believe

These stories, as instructive and heart rending as they are, are identical with the truth and there is not the slightest deviation in their authenticity or objectivity

They therefore carry an enormous impact for we know that fables, no matter how interesting they might be, are not as impressive as true stories

Therefore, it becomes clear how the school of Yusuf, the fighter for holy causes, the abstinent, the champion of faith and virtue, the angel like man, the exemplar of benevolence and humanitarianism, the man of peace and reform and, finally, the representation of .human perfection, is formed

The godly school represented by this spiritual and political personality, does not only have a beneficial impact upon all social classes, but it can also provide valuable lessons for world leaders as well, saving the political world from lack of faith, mischief, lying, and aggression, leading them towards faith, humanitarianism and virtue, thus .guaranteeing world peace and security for all

We send warm greetings to you O' celestial and heavenly man from the lovers of truth and humanitarianism whose illustrious story has been the center of attention of the entire world. Your life is a torch that leads and directs man towards his true happiness. We who aspire to truth and justice send loving greetings to you, the champion of faith and virtue who did not surrender himself to the illegitimate tendencies of deviants, who was jailed for not having committed any crime, adding
.another page of pride to the history of enlightened people

O Allah! bestow upon us open eyes, open ears, and zealous hearts so that we can benefit from the ways of our predecessors to find a path of salvation from the .difficulties in which we are immersed

O Allah! Make us so receptive and kin to be able to see the true end of the life of the former nations who, after victory, painfully defeated because of disunity and that we .do not go along the way they went

O Allah, provide us with such a sincere intention to be able to trample upon our egoistic selves and bestow upon us a wisdom which does not make us arrogant when we are victorious, and bestow upon us such tolerance which would enable us to leave others to undertake tasks which they are more capable of .performing

Once you bestow these on us, we shall then be able to overcome all difficulties and illuminate the world with the Everlasting Light which shines forth from Islam and the
.Qur'ān

O Allah, the Almighty, illuminate our hearts with the light of the Qur'ān and put us in a .position to execute all the commands of the Qur'ān

The End of Sura Yusuf

In 'Ikmāl-ud-Dīn' a tradition, through 'Jābir-il-Ju'fī', is narrated from 'Jābir-ibn-'Abdillāh' thus: " I said: ' O Messenger of Allah, we have known Allah and His Apostle; then who is 'Ulul-'Amr, those that Allah has made their obedience the same as your obedience?' Then, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: 'O Jābir! they are, after me, my successors and the Guides of Muslims; the first of them is Ali-ibn-Abītālib; then (Imam) hassan, and (Imam) Husayn; then Ali-ibn-il-Husayn; then Mohammad-ibn-Ali; known in the Turah as Bāqir, whom you will see. O Jābir! when you visit him, give my regards to him. After him, there is Sādiq, – Ja'far-ibnMuhammad; and after him Mūsa-ibn-Ja'far; then Ali-ibn-Mūsā; then Muhammad-ibn-Ali; then Ali-ibn-Muhammad, then Hassan-ibn-Ali; and after him (there comes) Al-Ghā'im, whose name and sir-name is the same as mine. He is Allah's Authority on the Earth and His Remainder amongst His servants. He is the son of (Imam) Hassan-ibn-Ali (al-'Askarī). This is the very personality by whose hands Allah will open the Easts and the Wests of the worlds, and this is the very personality who will be absent from his followers and his lovers in which his mastership can not be proved by a statement of anyone except for

".the one whose heart Allah tests for Faith

Jābir said: " I asked him: 'O' Messenger of Allah! Will his followers avail of him during his occultation?' He answered: 'Yes. By the One Who appointed me to prophethood, they will seek brightness from his light and will avail by devotion in his absence the

The main introductory to this noble series, the Enlightening Commentary into the Light of the Holy Qur'ān, has been explained in detail at the beginning of the first part of the commentary of the Qur'ān. Thus, those dear readers who wish to know more about the original source of the commentary of the Qur'ān and to be acquainted with some essential data towards the aim of this holy effort, may refer to that. It can surely be helpful along the study of this book, too

The book offered before this one, No. ۷, contained nearly parts eleven and twelve, while this book, No. ۸, which is fortunately available for you after an undesired delay, consists of five suras of the Holy Qur'ān: Ar-Ra'd, 'Ibrāhīm, Al-Hijr, An-Nahl, forming parts thirteen and fourteen, as well as Sura Banī-'Israel which begins part fifteen. Now, as we promised aforetime, the gap between books ۶ and ۷ has prosperously been wiped out and they are also available for the readers of the Qur'ān, by the help of Allah

As usual, again and again we ask Allah, the Almighty, to help us, as ever before, and assist us to complete this sacred endeavour successfully

May He (s.w.t.) guide and succour all of us by the light of the Qur'ān to pave its Straight Path further and further, for we are always in need of His favours

:The Content of Sura Ar-Ra'd

As was mentioned aforetime, Meccan suras were revealed at the beginning of the call of the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.), when the hostile pagans seriously opposed to accept the Faith. Then these suras are mostly upon the issues of belief, specially invitation to Monotheism, struggling against idolatry, and proving the Resurrection. While the Medinite suras, which were revealed after the expansion of Islam and the formation of the Islamic government, explain the Divine ordinances and religious social rules, according to the needs of the society

This Sura, which is among the Meccan suras, also follows the same line. After making allusions to the legitimacy and greatness of the Qur'ān, it refers to monotheism and states the secrets of creation which are the signs of the existence of the Pure Essence of Allah

Then the Qur'ān, in this Sura, discusses about Resurrection and the new life of mankind in Hereafter, as well as the Divine Court of Justice on the Reckoning Day. It completes this introduction of Monotheism and Resurrection by pointing to the responsibilities and duties of people

.Once again, it returns to the issue of Monotheism

Then it gives examples in order to make the right and wrong known. They are some .manifest and sensible examples which are understandable for all

In view of the fact that the ultimate worldly fruit of belief in Monotheism and Resurrection is the very constructive and practical programs, following these discussions, it invites people to; fulfilling the promise, union of kindred, patience and .perseverance, spending out in charity secretly and openly, and leaving revenge

And, finally, the content of this Sura guides people to search the depths of events in .history through showing them the painful end of the disobedient nations in the past

Thus, Sura Ar-Ra‘d begins with some verses concerning Faith and convictions, and ends with introducing the deeds and activities which are helpful in the formation of .human character

(۱) المر تِلْكَ ءَايَاتُ الْكِتَابِ وَالَّذِي أُنزِلَ إِلَيْكَ مِنْ رَبِّكَ الْحَقُّ وَلَكِنَّ أَكْثَرَ النَّاسِ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ

Alif ‘A’, Lām ‘L’, Mīm ‘M’, Rā ‘R’. These are the verses of the Book; and that which “ .۱ .has been revealed to you from your Lord is the Truth, but most people do not believe

At the beginning of this Holy Sura, again we have the abbreviated letters which are found in ۲۹ suras of the Qur'ān. The abbreviated letters here are a combination of 'Alif', 'Lām', and 'Mīm', which has occurred at the beginning of several suras, while 'Alif', 'Lām' and 'Rā' are mentioned at the beginning of some other suras. Thus, in fact, this Sura is the only Sura that begins with 'Alif, 'Lām', 'Mīm', and 'Rā'. In view of the fact that the particular abbreviated letters at the beginning of every Sura seem to have a direct connection with the content of that Sura, it is probable that the present combination of the abbreviated letters at the beginning of Sura Ar-Ra'd indicate that the content of this Sura consists of the contents of both group of suras which begin with 'Alif, Lām, Mīm' and 'Alif, Lām, Rā'. A careful attention over the contents of these suras also testifies this idea

Since there have been talked upon the abbreviated letters of the Qur'ān stated at the beginning of suras Al-Baqarah, 'Al-i-'Imrān and Al-'A'rāf, their repetition is not so necessary here again. The first verse, on the dignity of the Qur'ān, says

These are the verses of the Book; and that which has been revealed to you from ...“
”... ,your Lord is the Truth

There is no room for any doubt to be seen in it, because it is the statement of the objective facts of the world of creation, and its relation with humankind

It is a truth that the Qur'ān has not been mixed with falsehood. That is why the signs of its legitimacy is found even in its appearance so that there is no need of further reasoning

Yet, the ignorant and empty-headed persons, who form the majority of people, do not believe in the revelations. It says

”...but most people do not believe ...“

(٢) اللَّهُ الَّذِي رَفَعَ السَّمَاوَاتِ بِغَيْرِ عَمَدٍ تَرَوْنَهَا ثُمَّ اسْتَوَىٰ عَلَى الْعَرْشِ وَسَخَّرَ الشَّمْسَ وَالْقَمَرَ كُلٌّ يَجْرِي لِأَجَلٍ مُّسَمًّى يُدَبَّرُ

.the moon, each one runs unto an appointed term

He directs the affair (of existence). He explains the signs (in detail) so that you may be

Commentary: verse ٢

Here, in this verse, which is stated after the abbreviated letters, the Qur’ān refers to an important part of the evidences of monotheism and the signs of Allah in the world
:of creation. What a beautiful statement it is when it says

”... ,Allah is He Who raised the heavens without any pillars which you (can) see “

This verse unveils a scientific fact which was not manifest for anyone at the time of the revelation of the Qur’ān. At that time the Ptolemaic system governed over the scientific centers and the thoughts of people. According to it, the planets and heavens were considered as the layers of an onion which were located over each other, and the earth was in the center. About one thousand years after the revelation of these verses, the knowledge of humankind realized that the mentioned theory was utterly wrong and the reality is that the celestial planets each rotates on a fix axis in its own position, suspending and

.also invariable, without having anything to lean against

The only factor which supports them to be fix in their own particular rotations is the .equilibrium resulted from the attractive and repelling forces

This equilibrium of the attractive and repelling forces, as an unseen pillar, keeps the .celestial planets fix in their positions and orbits

:Then, the verse continues saying

”... (then He established Himself on ‘Arsh (the Throne of authority ...“

Next to the statement of creation of the heavens, and the existence of Allah’s authority over them all, it refers to the subjection of the sun and the moon which is :under His control. The verse says

”... ,and subjected the sun and the moon ...“

But the material system of the world is not eternal, and all the celestial bodies, such as the sun and the moon, will continue to rotate along their defined orbits until an :appointed time. The verse says

”... .each one runs unto an appointed term ...“

Next to that, the Qur’ān implies that these acts of to and fro are not undue and do not exist with no result, because it is Allah Who arranges everything. Then there is an account for every movement, and every account has been appointed for a particular
:aim. The verse continues saying

”... .(He directs the affair (of existence ...“

:Then, it adds

He explains the signs (in detail) so that you may be certain of the meeting with ... “
”.your Lord

There are some verses in the Qur'ān which indicate that Allah maintains the . . .
:heavens and the earth. Among them are the followings

A. “ Allah is He Who raised the heavens without any pillars which you (can) see, ...”
.(The above mentioned verse

B. “Verily Allah holds the heavens and the earth lest they come to naught; and if they (come to naught none besides Him can hold them back; ...” (Sura Fātir, No. ۳۵, verse ۴۱

”... C. “... And He withholds the heaven from falling on the earth

In Tafsīr Al-Mīzān, ‘Allamah Tabātabā’ī says that the purpose of the Qur’ānic word /tafṣīl/ (explanation) is separation of the celestial planets and the earth from each other. The observation of this separation makes us aware of the separation of people .in the Hereafter

The Arabic word /‘amad/ is the plural form of /‘amūd/ which means ‘pillar’. However,
.when we do not see something, it cannot be taken as a reason for its inexistence Imam Riḍā (a.s.) said: “There are some pillars, but you do not see them”. (Bihār, vol. ۶۰, (p. ۷۹, and Burhān, vol. ۲, p. ۲۷۸

There is a very attractive tradition in this field narrated from Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) who has said: “ These stars, which are in the sky, are some cities like the cities on the earth, every one of which is connected with another by means of a pillar of (light.” (۱

Could there be found a more expressive and clearer meaning than ‘invisible pillar’ or ‘a pillar of light’ in the expansion of the literature of that time for mentioning the concept of ‘attractive force’

?’and its resulting equilibrium against the ‘repelling force

D. The creation of the world with no Resurrection is a vain action. The reference for Resurrection is the same reasoning of theism. The same One Who creates and directs
.the affairs of existence, can accomplish the Resurrection and Hereafter, too

”.so that you may be certain of the meeting with your Lord ...“

Once Ali-ibn-Abī-tālib (a.s.) was asked how Allah reckons (the deeds of) all mankind in Hereafter. Then he answered: “In the same way that He sustains all humankind.”

((Tafsīr-ul-Kabīr

:The Subjection of the Sun and the Moon

The above-mentioned verse indicates that Allah (s.w.t.) has subjected the sun and the moon. There are also many other verses in the Qur’ān which denote that the entire celestial stars, all beings on the earth, the day and the night, and the like of them are
.wholly subjected to mankind

(In one occurrence, it says: “... and He has made the rivers subservient to you.” ۱)

By another statement in the same verse the holy Qur’ān says: “... and He has made (the ships subservient to you, ...” ۲)

The Qur'ān also in another occurrence says: “And He it is Who has made the sea

In another occurrence, the Qur'ān questions: “Do you not see that Allah has made (subservient to you whatsoever is in the earth...?” (٢)

And, finally, somewhere else the Qur'ān says: “And He has made subservient to you (whatsoever is in the heavens and whatsoever is in the earth, all, from Himself; ...” (٣)

From the totality of these verses, it is well understood that: Man is the most complete being in the world of creation, and, from the view of Islam, he is so worthy and respected that Allah has made all other beings subservient to him; i.e., it is the Man who is the representative of Allah, and whose heart is the place fit for the Light of Allah

However, it is evident that the Qur'ānic word /tasxīr/ (subjection), referred to in these verses, does not mean that man can bring all these things under his own command, but it implies that they are alongside his benefit and service. For example, the celestial planets reflect the light for him, or have some other advantages for him, which he may utilize

No school of thought, other than Islam, has considered so much worth and high rank for Man, and in no other doctrine and philosophy Man has such an exalted position and personality

These are the specialties of the ideology of Islam which promote the value of man high as such. Knowing this fact has a deep moral effect in man; because, when he mediates that Allah has bestowed upon him so much grandeur

How can one says that the sun and the moon are not at the service of man while they illuminate and warm the scene of his life by their lights? Without sunshine, there will be no movement and development on the earth. Moreover, by its gravity, the sun causes the earth to rotate on its orbit, the moon causes the low tides and the high tides appear in the seas, which are the source of many blessings and benefits for man. The ships on the seas, the rivers, the day and the night, and the like of them, each serves and helps man in a particular way. A careful observation and contemplation over them, and over the regular order they have, makes it clear that they are some manifest evidences unto the Greatness, Power and Wisdom of the

And He it is Who spread the earth and placed mountains and streams in it and “ ٣. inserted in it two pairs of the each kind of fruit. He covers the day with the night. ”.Certainly, there are signs in these matters for a people who reflect

This verse reveals the Divine signs in the upper universe and calls on man to meditate on the earth, the mountains, the streams the various kinds of fruits, and the dawn and sunset, saying that Allah spread the earth so as to make it ready for man to live in it :and to grow plants and breed livestock in it. The verse says

”... And He it is Who spread the earth “

The Qur’ān then goes on dealing with the issue of the emergence of mountains :implying that Allah has placed mountains in the earth. It continues saying

”... and placed mountains and streams in it ...“

These are the very same mountains which are referred to as /’autād/ meaning the nails of the earth. Probably, it is because mountains are interconnected with each other from underneath and armour-like they have covered the face of the earth so as to counter-balance not only the internal pressure, which is being exerted from within the crust of the earth, but also to counteract the extraordinary gravity power of the moon and its ebb and tide from outside. Therefore, they are meant to respond to the continuous earth tremors and earth quakes as well as the tensions which are brought about as a result of them, and to pave the way for calm and relaxation on the terrestrial globe for

.man to live in

In the meantime, the verse, alluding to the rivers and the springs which are flowing on
.the earth, declares that there are streams placed therein

The irrigation system of the earth supported by mountains and the interdependence of the mountains with the streams are noteworthy, for many of the mountains on the earth deposit water in the form of snow within the cracks of their valleys or on their tops. This snow eventually and gradually melts and travels from higher altitude regions to the lower altitude regions owing to the natural law of gravitation.

.Sometimes also, there are lakes formed at the outskirts of the mountains

Then, the Qur'ān makes mention of foodstuffs and fruits which grow, as a result of the water and sunshine, from the earth and are best for human nutrition, implying that He has placed two pairs of each type of fruit in the earth. Here is allusion made to the fact that fruits are living beings that contain male and female cells which are
:fertilized through the process of cross – fertilization. The verse says

”...and inserted in it two pairs of the each kind of fruit ...“

Although ‘Linet’, the Swedish famous botanist and scientist succeeded himself in the discovery of general and universal fertilization inside the world of plants in the mid eighteenth century, the Glorious Qur'ān revealed this truth more than one thousand and four hundred years ago which can by itself be considered as one of its miracles,
.showing the magnitude of this great celestial Book

As man's life and that of all other beings, especially that of the plants and fruits, can not go on without an exact and an accurate system of the timing of the day and the night, the Qur'ān refers to it in another part of the verse, indicating that He covers day with night and He veils it. The verse says

”... He covers the day with the night ...“

The reason for this is that once the dark veil of night does not cover the light, continuous sunshine burns away all plants, and no trace of the fruits and, generally speaking, of living beings would be left on the face of the earth

At the end of the verse, the Qur'ān points out that, in the foregoing discussions, there are signs for those who meditate. The verse says

”Certainly, there are signs in these matters for a people who reflect ...“

Honestly speaking, those who contemplate can witness the power of the Omnipotence and unending Omniscience of the Creator very clearly

:Explanations

The previous verse dealt with the skies while this verse relates to the earth and earthly blessings

The Arabic term /rawāsī/ is the plural form of /rāsiyah/ and it signifies ‘firmness’. That is why, mountains are alluded to as /rawāsī/. The terms /zauj/ and /zaujān/ both mean male and female

The male and female in plants are often in one tree and sometimes in one blossom (and sometimes in two trees or two blossoms. (Tafsīr-ul-Furqān

The Qur'ānic phrase /madd al 'ard/ probably refers to the emerging of the earth from under the water which has been mentioned in Islamic quotations as /dahw ul 'ard/. This probability is consonant with and compatible with the views of the contemporary geologists who claim that the (earth has been originally covered with water. (Allah knows the best

Commentary: verse ٤

The Arabic term /ṣinwān/ contrary to its appearance, which is in the form of dual (referring to two), is the plural form of /ṣinw/ and means ‘a branch which stems out of the principal tree’. It refers here to being similar or identical

In this noble verse, we are confronted a series of interesting geological and botanical issues which are all the signs of a predetermined system of creation. The Qur’ān first mentions that there are different tracts side by side in the earth, and there are gardens and trees which have different kinds of grapes and different plantations, and :palm trees as well. The verse says

And in the earth there are tracts, side by side, and gardens of (different) grapes and “ ... ,corn-fields and palm trees

The amazing thing is that these trees and their various kinds take their roots from one ,basic stem on some occasion and at other times they have their roots from different stems. The verse continues

:saying

like and unlike, watered through one...“

”... ,irrigation system

This sentence probably provides clues as to the issue of the potentialities of trees for grafting which is occasionally based on the grafting of several parts on the original .stem, each of which develop and consequently a special kind of fruit will be delivered

What is more amazing is that they are all watered with one type of water. “Watered through one irrigation system”. In spite of all this, Allah has excelled some of these :trees over others in their type of fruit. The verse says and We made some of them excel in taste than ...“

”... others

Does each of these clues not provide us with sufficient reasons as to the leadership which is unique in its origin and is knowledgeable in its system? It is here where, at the end of the verse, the Qur’ān declares that there are signs in these matters as to the :magnitude of Allah for those who contemplate. The verse says

”.Verily, there are signs in this for a people who understand ...“

:Explanation

The variety of fruits as to the colour, taste and smell and their different forms all have their origin in the Divine power, and are consonant with Allah’s will. Otherwise, one .kind of water could not generate more than one type of fruit

Commentary: verse ٥

Addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), this verse implies that he should not be amazed at the denial of the prophecy by the people, for they are also astonished at Allah’s power in transforming the dead back into life and do not believe it. The unbelievers in the Resurrection have not provided any proof for the impossibility of resurrection and they only consider its occurrence as remote. On the contrary, besides mentioning Allah’s Justice and Wisdom, which necessitates the existence of the Hereafter, the Qur’ān has reiterated on many occasions and has provided answers to this denial.

:The verse says

And if you do wonder, then wondrous is their sayings: ‘What, when we turn into dust, “Will we then surly be in a new creation?’ They are those who disbelieve in their Lord and these shall have chains on their necks, and they are the people of the Fire, ”.abiding therein for ever

On one occasion it implies that if they were in doubt as to the advent of the Hereafter, they would remember their \(original creation and as to how Allah created them out of earth and sperm.\)

Elsewhere, it commands the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to tell his people that: He Who originally created them will also recreate them in the Resurrection Day, and there is no room \(for any astonishment.\)

Therefore, the denial and refutation of resurrection means the negation of Allah's power, His Justice, as well as His Wisdom which implies profanity and paganism. Such a person, who negates resurrection, will be involved with superstition and ignorance as his entire outlook centers around worldly aims and is entangled with material benefits and selfishness, and he will also be held in the chains of the Divine .punishment in the Hereafter

And they ask you to hasten on the evil (the chastisement) before the good while “ .٤ there have been exemplary punishments before them. And verily, your Lord is full of forgiveness for people despite their injustice; and verily your Lord is strict in retribution.”

Commentary: verse ٤

The Arabic term /maθulāt/ is the plural form of /maθulah/ which denotes punishment and penalty that man will be inflicted upon. Sometimes, enmity and obstinacy reaches the point where one is inclined to desire death and not to accept the truth

There are allusions made in the Glorious Qur’ān to the examples of such moods and feelings. Among them one is that the pagans used to say: “O’ Allah! If this (Qur’ān) is indeed the Truth from You, then storm us with stone from the sky, or bring us a (painful punishment ...)” (١)

Elsewhere, the Qur’ān says: “If We had sent down it to any of non-Arabs, and had he (recited it to them, they would not have believed in it.” (٢)

Or the people of the Book would tell the pagans and idol worshippers: “... These are better guided on the way than those who have believed (in Islam).”<sup>(۱)</sup> While, the people of the Book among the disbelievers are closer to Islam than the pagans. They were kept away from expressing the truth because of their obstinacy

p: ٣٥

In the meantime, the haste shown by some people in the descending of the Divine punishment then may be due to the following reasons

I- The ignorance and oblivion due to the history of the predecessors and the lack of belief in the Divine punishment and considering it as remote matter

II- Jealousy towards the possessions of others. As it is recorded in history, upon the accession of Amir-ul-Mu'mineen Ali (a.s.) to the Imamate, someone desired his own death for he could not tolerate the event. This event has been mentioned and alluded to on the occasion of the revelation of Sura Al-Ma'arij, verse No. ۱

.III- The feelings of being cut off, depressed, and reaching complete deadlock

.IV- Ridiculing and lack of acceptance, even at the expense of losing one's life

Therefore, the verse indicates that: instead of asking for Allah's blessings, they requested hastening of His punishment. The verse says

And they ask you to hasten on the evil (the chastisement) before the good while “... there have been exemplary punishments before them

Do they think that Allah's punishment is mere deception, despite the fact that there were divine penalties which were sent down upon the previous rogue and unruly nations the news of which have been recorded on the pages of history and in the heart of the ?earth

Then the verse adds implication that the Lord is forgiving towards the people though they are committing cruelty, and, at the same time, He is capable of inflicting severe :punishment as well. The verse says

And Verily, your Lord is full of forgiveness for people despite their injustice; and ... “
”.verily your Lord is strict in retribution

(٧) وَيَقُولُ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا لَوْلَا نُزِّلَ عَلَيْهِ آيَةٌ مِنْ رَبِّهِ إِنَّمَا أَنْتَ مُنذِرٌ وَلِكُلِّ قَوْمٍ هَادٍ

And those who disbelieve say: ‘Why has there not been sent down a sign to him “ .v from his Lord? (O’ Prophet!) You are only a Warner, and there is a guide for every ” .people

Commentary: verse ٧

Ibn Abbas has been quoted to say that the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) putting his hand on his chest, said: /’anal mun’oir/ (I am the Warner), and then alluding to Ali-Ibn-Abi-Tālib (a.s.), he said: “You are the guide, those who will be guided after me will be (guided through you.” (١)

Here, the holy verse deals with one of the criticisms of the obstinate pagans concerning the prophecy, saying that Allah did not send the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) with :miracles or signs. The verse says

And those who disbelieve say: ‘Why has there not been sent down a sign to him from “
” ... ?his Lord

It goes without saying that one of the functions of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is to present miracles as documentation for his legitimacy and his actual interconnection with the
.Divine revelation

However, the opponents of the prophets have not always been entertaining sound intentions. That is, they did not seek miracles for the sake of discovering the truth but, to show their arrogance and disobedience against the Truth, every time they asked
.for an odd miracle

p: ٣٨

So, when facing such individuals, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), without accepting their desires, used to say that performing miracles is in Allah's hands and it is by His commands that such things happen; then his duty was to guide and train people

Therefore, in response to these vain requests, the Qur'an continues telling the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that he is only a Warner and to provide people with instructions and guidance. The verse says

"... ,O' Prophet!) You are only a Warner) ..."

In actual fact, the Qur'an implies that these pagans have forgotten the primary objective of the prophet which is the issue of admonition and calling of people towards Allah. They have wrong thought that his primary function has been to perform miracles

It is interesting to note that the difference between the Qur'anic terms /'inŏār/ and /hidāyat/ is that, the former relates to the leading of the misled to the right path and providing them with self-awareness, while the latter deals with guiding people and directing them forward after they have adjusted their way in the right direction

Therefore, in various quotations from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in the books of Shi'ite and Sunni people, it is quoted that he said: he provided admonitions and Ali was the leader, by whom the guided are guided

We have it in ۲۶ traditions that, the objective meaning of /hād/ (guide) is the (Immaculate Imams (a.s

Allah knows what every female carries (in her womb) and what the wombs absorb “ ۸ .and (that) in which they increase, and there is a measure with Him of everything

Commentary: verse ۸

At first, the verse deals with Allah’s knowledge as to the carrying by female of whatever it is pregnant with, whether it has got any womb like human beings or animals, or it has got no wombs like in animate objects or plants. Later, allusion is .made to the beings which have got wombs

The Arabic term /qayd/ means handling (of the sperm) into oneself or infiltration. That is, Allah is aware of that ‘water’ which is absorbed by the womb and which undergoes .alterations and growth

At any rate, one finds that the holy verse deals with the comprehensive knowledge of Allah namely, His knowledge of the system of creation and of His subjects’ behavior .and, finally, of everything

At first, the Qur'ān implies that Allah is aware of what every female carries in her womb. Not only does He know of the gender and sexuality of the foetus, but He also is aware of all the characteristics, potentialities, interests, and his inherent potential powers as well. And He also knows all the shortcomings of the wombs which they may :throw away before the time is ripe. The verse says

Allah knows what every female carries (in her womb) and what the wombs absorb “ and (that) in which they

”... ,increase

And everything has got its measures with Allah, so that one may not think that all these extremes, whether less or more, are for no reason, as is the case with the parts of the foetus and womb's blood which are accountable by all means. The verse :continues saying

”and there is a measure with Him of everything ...“

Commentary: verse ٩

The seen and the unseen is an issue involved only in the finite man whose five senses are even more limited than those of many animals. However, such a matter does not sound meaningful for Allah Who is the Creator of the world of unseen and that of the seen. The verse says

”He knows the unseen and the seen, He is the Great, the Most High “

It is alike (for Him) whether any of you conceals his speech or speaks openly, and “ ١٠ .whether he hides himself by night or he who exposes himself during day-time

Commentary: verse ١٠

This noble verse, which is apparently an explanation of and complementary to the previous verse, is one of the many verses of the Qur’ān which refers to Allah’s knowledge as to the small and big, open and hidden acts of man and even man’s thought and intentions. If men believe in such knowledge by Allah, it can be the best factor in one’s modesty and virtue and the greatest means for one’s education for it .can encourage the righteous and warn the evildoers

It is interesting that, in this verse Allah has mentioned the fact of His knowledge unto the secret speech and hidden acts done at night before referring to open words and :the manifest activities in the day. The verse says

It is alike (for Him) whether any of you conceals his speech or speaks openly, and “ .whether he hides himself by night or he who exposes himself during day-time

The Arabic term /sārib/ is derived from /sarib/ which originally means ‘running water’ .though it also refers to the one who goes on with a job during the day

At any rate, Allah’s knowledge is identical with respect to all things, unlike our knowledge and our awareness is relative with respect to the things, in some cases it is .deeper while in other cases, it is less deep or at zero point in some cases

(١١) لَهُ مَعَقَّبَاتٌ مِنْ بَيْنِ يَدَيْهِ وَمِنْ خَلْفِهِ يَحْفَظُونَهُ مِنْ أَمْرِ اللَّهِ إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يُغَيِّرُ مَا بِقَوْمٍ حَتَّى يُغَيِّرُوا مَا بِأَنْفُسِهِمْ وَإِذَا أَرَادَ اللَّهُ بِقَوْمٍ سُوءًا فَلَا مَرَدَّ لَهُ وَمَا لَهُمْ مِنْ دُونِهِ مِنْ وَالٍ

There are (angels) in succession, before him and behind him, who protect him by “ .١١ Allah’s command. Verily, Allah does not change the condition of a people until they change their own condition. And if Allah intends evil upon a people, there is no turning ”.it back; and they have, apart from Him, no protector

Commentary: verse ١١

Point

The Qur’ānic term /mu‘aqqibāt/ is the Arabic plural form of /mu‘aqqibah/ and the ending letter ‘t’, included in it, does not allude to its grammatical gender as feminine, rather, it implies exaggeration like the Arabic word /‘allamah/. Therefore, the subject of the term /yahfazunahu/ is masculine. Certainly, the purpose in the Qur’ānic term /mu‘aqqibāt/ is not to be considered as chasing and hunting man so as to be regarded as incompatible with the phrase /bayna yadayh/ (before him and behind him). On the contrary, it refers to succession and consecutive arrival of the angels during, day and .night

The Qur’ānic phrase /’amrullah/, mentioned in this verse, does not imply the penalty and punishment of Allah, for it does not make any sense to say that the angels protect man from Divine punishment, but it implies that they protect man from dangers and natural accidents; since the nature has been

.created by Allah and whatever goes on in it, is done in accordance with His will

Many verses of the Qur'ān and Islamic traditions indicate that there are angels that guard and protect human beings from dangers and calamities and record their deeds. They protect them from those dangers which are not seriously ordained under the Will of Allah. Based upon the Islamic narrations in conformity with the Will of Allah, on various occasions, the protecting angels are allowed to abandon their role and allow some harm to come to man in accordance with Divine wisdom. Certainly, according to the inferences from quotations, as soon as the decisive Will of Allah arrives, the protecting angels abandon their protection mission and leave man to his doom and .death which is certain to happen

Thus there are two sides to Allah's commandments: those that are certain to happen and those that are not certain. The angels only save man from those accidents which are not certain to occur. It goes without saying that such a protection in fact does not relieve man of his duties and freedom of choice. The destinies of individuals and .nations are always in their own hands

The protection of angels is not confined to that of the lives of men but it also involves their acts as well as their faith and thought against deviations and satanic temptations .as the Qur'ānic term /yahfazūnahū/ includes both the soul and the body

Imam Sajjād (a.s.), alluding to this verse, said: The sins which alter blessings consist of: Oppressing the people, ingratitude of Allah, abandoning of the good deeds which (one is used to do. (Nur-uth-Thaqalayn

This holy verse deals with human societies and not with individuals one by one. That is, a decent righteous society is covered by Allah's blessings, and a deviant one will get entangled with the Divine punishment. However, this formula does not adapt to the case of a righteous individual and an indecent one, for one may be righteous though he may, for divine trial or experimental purposes, get involved with difficulties; or one may be viscous though he may be momentarily left to himself for the respite given to him by Allah

Any way, we read in the foregoing verse that because of the fact that 'He knows the Unseen and the Seen', Allah is aware of the visible as well as the invisible nature of men and is Omnipresent and Omnipotent

The Qur'an adds in this verse that in addition to this, Allah is also the Protector and Guardian of His servants. There are agents commissioned for men to oversee things around man consecutively and to protect him from evil events. The verse says

There are (angels) in succession, before him and behind him, who protect him by " ... Allah's command

However, to enable one not to mix every thing that such a protection and guardianship is unconditional and one can throw oneself down the pit and get involved in random acts or commit every kind of sin which merits Divine penalties, still expecting Allah's angels to protect him, the Qur'an adds

Verily, Allah does not change the condition of a people until they change their own ... " ... condition

To avoid any misunderstandings as to the meaningfulness of Divine punishments despite the existence of Divine agents whose mission is to protect man, the Qur'an adds at the end of the verse that once Allah determines to inflict penalties on a nation or a population there is no reversal or defense for that

:nation, which will have no protector except Allah. The verse continues saying

And if Allah intends evil upon a people, there is no turning it back; and they have, ...“
”apart from Him, no protector

It is for this reason that once Allah’s decree is issued as to the punishment or annihilation of a nation, the guardians and the protectors distance themselves,
.submitting man to his doom

.The Alterations Must Have Their Onset in Ourselves

The Qur’ānic sentence: “...Verily, Allah does not change the condition of a people until they change any alterations in the mood of any their own condition ...” which has been mentioned throughout the Qur’ān on two occasions with a slight difference, reflects a .general and universal law

This Qur’ānic principle, which explains one of the most important social programs of Islam, informs us that whatever external changes which occur rest on the internal changes of nations and tribes, and whatever victory or defeat is inflicted upon a nation usually has its origin in this principle. Therefore, those who seek external factors for their self-acquittal are indeed mistaken, for if such infernal powers have .not got any basis within a society, they are left crippled

This Qur’ānic principle implies that in order to put an end to all misfortunes and miseries, one must turn to a revolution from within, a revolution in thinking and in culture, a revolution in faith and in ethics. In cases of miseries and deadlocks, one must immediately turn to the discovery of weak points in oneself and clear one’s soul and self from them by reconstructing himself with repentance and returning to Allah in order to wash his soul and self and to have a rebirth and a renaissance and

.convert one's defeats and frustrations into success

Thereby, we all know that Allah's Will stands as superior to all wills, and His protection extends as far as man does not spoil His blessings. Otherwise, one would be deprived .of the Divine favour and would be left to him

(١٢) هُوَ الَّذِي يُرِيكُمْ الْبُرُوقَ خَوْفًا وَطَمَعًا وَيُنشِئُ السَّحَابَ الثِّقَالَ

It is He Who shows you the lightning for fear and hope and produces heavy “ .١٢
” .clouds

Commentary: verse ١٢

The blissful Qur’ān once again here deals with the monotheistic verses and the signs
.of Allah’s magnitude and glory as well as the secrets of creation

At first, it alludes to the lightning which emerges from within the pieces of clouds, and implies that it is Allah Who offers you the lightning which is a source of fear as well as :of greed. The verse says

”...It is He Who shows you the lightning for fear and hope “

On the one hand, its shining rays astound one’s eyes and generate and incite terror in
.him

On the other hand, as it is usually accompanied by raining which offers the thirsty desert pure water, and waters the trees and fields, it creates hope and incites greed
.in man, between which, he passes sensitive moments

Then the Qur’ān declares that it is He Who creates heavy clouds which are fully-:loaded and which are capable of watering thirsty lands. The verse continues saying

” .and produces heavy clouds ... “

The main thing to remember is that although natural causes pave the way for the emergence of thunder and lightning, nevertheless, the true source and origin of all these factors is Allah. The discovery of the laws of physics and chemistry of the nature must not diminish in any way our faith in Allah, for the nature and its laws are .themselves created by Allah

(١٣) وَيُسَبِّحُ الرَّعْدُ بِحَمْدِهِ وَالْمَلَائِكَةُ مِنْ خِيفَتِهِ وَيُرْسِلُ الصَّوَاعِقَ فَيُصِيبُ بِهَا مَنْ يَشَاءُ وَهُمْ يُجَادِلُونَ فِي اللَّهِ وَهُوَ شَدِيدُ الْمِحَالِ

And The thunder glorifies Him with His praise, and the angels, too, in awe of Him; “ ١٣. and He sends the thunderbolts so as to smite with them whomever He pleases, while ”.they dispute about Allah, and He is mighty in wrath

Commentary: verse ١٣

This noble verse deals with the thunderbolt which is never separable from lightning.
:The verse says

”... And The thunder glorifies Him with His praise “

Certainly, this vibrating echoing sound of the world of nature, which is coupled with the lightning phenomenon, both act towards one goal which is the glorification of Allah. In other words, the thunder is a vocal expression of lightning, which reveals the .nature of the system of creation and the magnitude of the Creator

Not only the sound of the thunder and other particles of the material world glorify and thank Him, but all the angels are also busy thanking praising Him because of their awe :and fear. The verse continues saying

”... ;and the angels, too, in awe of Him ...“

The divine angels are frightened that they might have had shortcomings and failures as to the execution of their duties and responsibilities assigned to them by Allah in the system of existence, thus facing Divine punishment. We know well that the duties and responsibilities have always been awe–inspiring and frightening for those who feel responsible, that kind of constructive fear which .derives and directs them to action

In order to give a further explanation concerning thunder and lightning, the Qur'ān
:alludes to thunderbolts, where it declares

"... ,and He sends the thunderbolts so as to smite with them whomever He pleases ..."

Despite all these and in spite of observing all signs of Allah's magnitude, comparing them to the inferiority of man with respect to catastrophes, even in the case of a celestial spark, there are some ignorant groups who go on disputing about Allah. The
:verse says

"... ,while they dispute about Allah ..."

They dispute while Allah's powers know no limits and His punishment would be painful
:and He punishes severely. The verse concludes

".and He is mighty in wrath ..."

:Explanations

In the Qur'ānic literature, the totality of existence is ever engaged in praising the glory of Allah; that kind of praising which is based on knowledge and cognition and free will. What is interesting in this respect is that the Qur'ān explains this subject in such a way that it attracts the attention of all, and obliterates all matters which give :rise to disbelief and loss of faith, among which one may point to the following

The application of such noble words as /sabbaha/ or /yusabbiḥu/ which explicitly – ١
.express the meaning of praise and glorification

.The repetition of this subject in the various Suras of the Qur'ān – ٢

The raising of the issue of the glorification of Allah by all beings at the beginning of –١
the Sura, and immediately after the holy phrase /bismillāh

The use of such words as the humility of the entire domain of existence “... all are –٢ obedient to him” (١). The prostration of the stars and the plants “And the herbs and the trees do adore (Him).” (٢) The obedience of the skies and the earth “... they both said: ‘We come willingly.’” (٣) The awareness that all beings are in a state of prayer and gratitude: “... He knows the prayer of each and its glorification, ...” (٤)

Addressing of man as to his lack of understanding of the expression of gratitude of –٣ other beings “... but you do not understand their glorification, ...” (٥)

The Arabic term /miḥāl/ is derived from /ḥīlah/ which means every kind of hidden and covert way of seeking a remedy, and since this process is interconnected with and interdependent on knowledge and power, therefore, commentators have interpreted the Qur’ānic holy phrase /šadīdulmiḥāl/ as ‘mighty in power and punishment

In some Qur’ānic verses, the acts of gratitude to Allah and glorifying Him have been mentioned with together: “The thunder glorifies Him with His praise, ...” (٦) “ and there is not a single thing but glorifies Him with His praise, ...” (٧)

(١٤) لَهُ دَعْوَةُ الْحَقِّ وَالَّذِينَ يَدْعُونَ مِنْ دُونِهِ لَا يَسْتَجِيبُونَ لَهُمْ بِشَيْءٍ إِلَّا كَبَاسِطٍ كَفَّيْهِ إِلَى الْمَاءِ لِيَبْلُغَ فَاهُ وَمَا هُوَ بِبَالِغِهِ وَمَا دُعَاءُ الْكَافِرِينَ إِلَّا فِي ضَلَالٍ

To Him (alone) is the call of Truth; and those to whom they call, besides Him, will “ ١٤ . answer them nothing, but like one who stretches his two hands towards the water so that it may reach his mouth, while it does not reach it. And the prayer of disbelievers is ”only in error

Commentary: verse ١٤

This holy verse refers to two points. The first is that: Allah’s call belongs to Him alone. That is, He will accept us whenever we call Him. He is both well aware of the prayers of His servants and He also has the authority to fulfill their wishes. The verse says

”... ;To Him (alone) is the call of Truth “

Another point raised here is that calling the idols and requesting them is absurd and erroneous, for those whom the pagans call, other than Allah, and seek refuge in them for fulfilling their wishes, their call and their prayers will be left unanswered. The verse :continues saying

”... ,and those to whom they call, besides Him, will answer them nothing ...“

Then, as it is the case with the Qur’ānic method, in order to visualize this rational subject, including the feeling of beauty and explicitness, the Qur’ān brings a sensible and expressive similitude by declaring that: Those who call on other than Allah are like the ones who stretch their hand-palms towards water so as to fetch water and take it to their mouth, but such a thing will never :happen. The verse says but like one who stretches his two hands towards the water so that it may reach ...“

”... .his mouth, while it does not reach it

Can one sit next to a well and stretch his hands and send it to his mouth instantly and just by pointing to it? Can one expect such a thing to happen by any other one than he
?who is foolish or lunatic

To stress the issue further, the Qur’ān at the end of the verse indicates that: the prayers of the pagans from their idols is nothing more than taking steps in the dark,
:and being misled. The verse says

”And the prayer of disbelievers is only in error ...“

What a course of being misled can be worse than that man does his utmost to go
!astray which may lead him nowhere

:Explanations

Calling on people to worship the sole Allah and alienating oneself from the attention –۱ of others, and regarding Him as the only effective factor has been frequently referred to in the Qur’ān, among which one may name the followings: “ I answer the prayer of (every supplicant when he calls on Me, ...” (Sura Al-Baqqarah, No. ۲, verse ۱۸۶

However, if he goes to others and calls on them for the fulfillment of his needs, he must beware that they do not hear and if they hear, they will not accept. The Qur’ān says: “If you call on them they will not listen to your call, and even if they were to (listen, they cannot answer you ...” (Sura Fāṭer, No. ۳۵, verse ۱۴

The confined man naturally requires a safe haven in the adventurous life of the – ١ world. The divine prophets introduce Allah as the safe haven: “To Him (alone) is the call of Truth ...”. However, other people’s help, such as the despots, are either for fooling him or for his exploitation or propagation and for their own protection of .positions, etc. What is not worth consideration to them, is the ‘man’ himself

Man is inherently truth seeking and thirsty for the Truth but he often loses his way – ٢ to obtain it. Except for his faith in Allah and love of Him and that his prayers be directed to Him, nothing else will quench the thirst of man who infinitely aspires. “... so that it may reach his mouth, while it does not reach it...” For, anything inferior to Allah .is a mirage and calling on others is of no avail

Therefore, he who sincerely calls Allah will return not empty-handed. Returning .empty-handed is because of focusing towards other than Him

(١٥) وَلِلَّهِ يَسْجُدُ مَنْ فِي السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ طَوْعاً وَكَرْهاً وَظِلَالُهُم بِالْغُدُوِّ وَالْأَصَالِ

And whoever is in the skies and on the earth prostrates for Allah willingly or “ ١٥ .
”.unwillingly, and (so do) their shadows in the mornings and the evenings

Commentary: verse ١٥

In order to explain how the idol-worshippers have become separated from the mainstream of the world of existence and have been led stray one by one, this verse proclaims that all those who are in the heavens and on the earth willingly or reluctantly obey and submit themselves and prostrate before Allah every morning and evening. The verse says

And whoever is in the skies and on the earth prostrates for Allah willingly or “
”.unwillingly, and (so do) their shadows in the mornings and the evenings

What is the objective of prostration by the beings? In such cases, prostration signifies utmost modesty, humbleness, and submission. Nevertheless, the humility and prostration of some groups of creatures is done in the genetic form. That is, they are only submissive in face of the laws of the world of existence and creation. However, some others do have religious prostration in addition to the genetic prostration, which means that they prostrate before Allah willingly and with their own free will

The Arabic expression: /ṭau‘an wa karhan/ (willingly and unwillingly) might point out to the fact that the believers willingly prostrate before Allah and exhibit their modesty, while the unbelievers, who are not ready to perform such a ritual, all the particles of their entity are submissive to Allah's commandments in accordance with the laws of creation, whether they want it or not

:Explanations

Perhaps the objective in mind as regards the prostration of the shadows is their manner in which they are being cast on the floor, which implies that the entire universe is obedient to and prostrates before Allah, and that this mode of existential prostration of all beings is a continuous process

The Arabic term /'āṣāl/ is the plural form of /'uṣul/, which itself is the plural of /'aṣīl/, and is derived from /'aṣl/ which means 'the end of the day

Or have they set up partners for Allah who have created (something) like :His creation, so that creation is all alike to them?’ Say ‘Allah is the Creator of everything, and He is the One’

”.’the All-Dominant

Commentary: verse ١٦

As there were numerous discussions as to the cognition of Allah’s Existence in the previous holy verses, the Qur’ān has devoted the discussion in this verse to the mistakes of the pagans and the worshippers of the idols. It follows this discussion on several fronts

At first, the Qur’ān addresses the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and tells him to ask them about :the creator and administrator of the heavens and the earth. It declares

”... ”?Say: ‘Who is the Lord of the heavens and the earth “

Then, before that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) waits for any answer from them, it immediately issues the decree to him

:p.b.u.h.) that he provides the best answer to this query, proclaiming that)

”... ?Say: ‘Allah ...“

Then blaming them and reproaching them with this sentence the Qur’ān issues another query for the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to ask them, saying whether they have designated any one other than Allah as their worshipping center and their supporting person, without considering the fact that these idols can be of no profit or loss even :for themselves. The verse says

Then) say: ‘Why is it that you have taken guardians other than Him who own no) ...“
”... ?profit and loss for themselves

Then, by providing two explicit and clear examples, the Qur’ān differentiates between :the position of the individuals who are ‘monotheist’ and that of ‘pagans’, stating

”... ?Say: ‘Are the blind and the eyed equal ...“

As the blind and the eyed people are not similar, therefore, the pagan and the faithful are not alike either, and one cannot designate the position of the idols alongside Allah.
:The other point the verse remarks is that

”... ?Or are the darkneses and light identical ...“

How would it be possible to align the idols, which are utter darkness, alongside Allah
?(s.w.t.) Who is the absolute light of existence

Then, the Qur’ān stresses further the rejection of the ideas of the pagans, asking whether they have aligned counterparts for Allah for the sake that they are engaged in the process of creation like Allah, and hence, such a creation has brought about for :them a state of confusion. The verse says

Or have they set up partners for Allah who have created (something) like His ... “
”... ?creation, so that creation is all alike to them

However, even the idol worshippers are not of the same opinion about idols. They, too, regard Allah as the Creator of everything and consider the world of creation as a whole package in His Authority

:Therefore, the verse instantly adds

”.’Say: ‘Allah is the Creator of everything, and He is the One, the All-Dominant ...“

One can infer from the above verse that the process of creation is a continuous matter and Allah (s.w.t.) is continuously shedding rays of existence, in which case, every being is benefiting existence from His Pure Essence from moment to moment

Therefore, the process of creation and administration of the world of existence are both in His Own Power, just like the onset of creation

:Explanations

Discussing issues in the form of ‘question-and-answer’ is one of the methods of – ۱ propagation, and dissemination of information, and is an educational means, which has been notably used by the Qur’ān. “Say: ‘Who is the Lord of heavens and the earth ...”?

Some pagans only accepted the creative nature of Allah and considered others as – ۲ administrators. Therefore, in Sura ‘Ankabūt, No. ۲۹, verse ۶۱, the Qur’ān proclaims: “And if you ask them (these pagans) who created the heavens and the earth and made the sun and the moon subservient, they will certainly say ‘Allah’. ...” Then how is it that they hasten to paganism, ‘Deism’, and ignorance after making such a ?confession

Paganism in all its forms, according to some Islamic quotations, is more hidden and –۳ covert than the movement of an ant over a dark stone by night. An example of this is that one might say that this task was done under Allah’s blessings and with the help of .such a person

Thus does Allah illustrate the Truth and falsehood; then as for the foam passes away as a worthless thing, and what is beneficial for people remains on the earth. Thus Allah sets forth the ”.parables

Commentary: verse ١٧

As the method of the Qur’ān relies heavily on objective issues as an educational book, in order to explain the complicated concepts, it points to the tangible examples which are interesting and beautiful in everyday life of the people. It explains an explicit example for visualization of the facts referred to in the previous verses regarding monotheism, paganism, faith and blasphemy, the truth and the untruth. At first the :Qur’ān says

”... ,He sent down water from the sky “

It is the kind of water which is life-giving and creating, and it is also the source of development and movement. There are floodwaters which flow from every valley and ,every river

:measured according to their capacity. The holy verse continues saying

”... then rivers flew according to their capacity ...“

Small streams join one another, stream-lining into canals that join together to form huge torrents which flow down the mountains. Waters piling up carry whatever stand in their way, which strike over them. At this moment, foams emerge from between :the layers of the wares. As the Qur’ān says

”... ,and the floodwater carried along a swelling foam ...“

The emergence of the foams is not confined to the coming of rain. There arises a foam out of what is being melted in the furnaces for obtaining jewelry or home appliances, upon which they light fire to melt, so there are also foams appearing :which are like the ones on water surface. The Qur’ān says and from metals, which they melt with fire so as to make an ornament or goods, ...“

”... .arises a foam similar to it

After giving this example, the Holy Qur’ān concludes by pointing out that Allah provides you with an example in this manner for the truth and the untruth. The verse
:says

”... ;Thus does Allah illustrate the Truth and falsehood...“

Afterwards, discussing it in detail, it declares, however, the seeming high foams, which are void in the process of flow of water, go away and the water, which is useful :for people, stays on the earth. The verse says then as for the foam passes away as a worthless thing, and what is beneficial for ...“

”... .people remains on the earth

The truth is also always useful, just like pure water which is the source of life. However, the wrong and the untruth is useless and absurd, while the truth must ?always be flourishing and alive so as to expel the ‘untruth

At the end of the verse, to stress further the point and to call all to study in depth and in a more exact way over this example, as well as other examples of the Qur'ān, it says

”Thus Allah sets forth the parables ...“

Examples usually universalize cases. There are many scientific discussions which are only understandable for a selected few persons and the masses of people do not benefit from them very much. However, once they are accompanied with examples, they tend to become better understandable for the people of all echelons and all levels of knowledge

Therefore, examples are best as a means of generalization of knowledge and culture, and they have some undeniable and numerous applications

There are two examples introducing the falsehood in this verse. One is the foam which appears on the surface of water. The second is the foam which covers metals once they are in the melting pot

1- The falsehood is like the foam for

1- It is transient

2- It appears as the shadow of the truth and under it

3- It covers up the truth

4- It has got looks but is worthless. It does neither quench the thirst of anyone, nor does any plant grow as a result of it

5- It disappears once the conditions are normal

6- It places itself on top though it is void and without any substance

2- Illustration

Illustration makes rational problems tangible and paves the way for arriving at the objectives. It universalizes all subjects and tends to silence the obstinate. Therefore, the Qur'ān has utilized this method

.extensively. Allah has provided three examples in this verse

First, He has exemplified the revelation of the Qur'ān to the water which is descended from the sky. He has also compared the hearts of the people to the oases which attract the water to themselves according to their own capacity. Those who make their utmost effort to understand the Qur'ān will reap great rewards, like rivers and oases which are big; and those who are content with the Qur'ān and make less effort in understanding its facts will reap less and take less advantages just like smaller .oases and streams which obtain less shares

Later, Allah compares the satanically whims and temptations to foam which appears on water surface. It goes without saying that the main cause of the foam is not water itself, but it is the land which does not have good soil. Also, skepticisms and doubts as well as selfish whims do not have their origin in the truth, but they have their source in the people's selves. Allah, the Almighty, proclaims that as foam does not last long and what remains of it is pure and soft water, satanical whims will ultimately disappear .and vanish while the real face of the truth reveals itself and remains forever

The third example is that He (s.w.t.) has compared paganism to those nasty materials which are dark in colour and exemplified as such which melt while they are placed on metals and the simile goes on in the case of faith which is exemplified to a melted .piece of metal which is pure

.And thus end the proverbs of the Qur'ān here which are so instructive

(١٨) لِلَّذِينَ اسْتَجَابُوا لِرَبِّهِمْ الْحُسْنَىٰ وَالَّذِينَ لَمْ يَسْتَجِيبُوا لَهُ لَوْ أَنَّ لَهُمْ مَا فِي الْأَرْضِ جَمِيعًا وَمِثْلَهُ مَعَهُ لَافْتَدَوْا بِهِ أُولَٰئِكَ لَهُمْ سُوءُ الْحِسَابِ وَمَأْوَاهُمْ جَهَنَّمُ وَبِئْسَ الْمِهَادُ

For those (people) who accepted their Lord, it is the best (reward). But those who “ ١٨ did not accept Him, even if they were to have all that is on the earth and the like of it, they would certainly offer it as ransom. It is they for whom the reckoning will be “terrible and their abode will be Hell and what an awful place it is

Commentary: verse ١٨

One can infer from the Holy Qur’ān that there are several accounts kept for people on the Day of Judgment

(Some have an easy account. “... by an easy reckoning” (Al-’Inshiqāq, No. ٨٤, verse ٨ –١)

Some have their account inspected audited and settled in a hard and an exact way. –٢ (“... a severe account ...” (Aṭ-Ṭalāq, No. ٦٥, verse ٨

Some go to hell and there is no need for any settlement by court or trials. “... and on –٣
(the Day of Resurrection We assign no weight for them.” (Al-Kahf, No. ١٨, verse ١٠٥

Some go to the Paradise without having to settle any accounts. “... only the patient –٤ (will be paid back their reward in full without measure.” (Az-Zumar, No. ٣٩, verse ١٦

According to the Islamic quotations and traditions, those who are forgiving and merciful towards people and treat them with favor, will have an easy time as far as their account is concerned; and those who are hard on others, their account will be hard to settle. The unbelievers will go to Hell with no account, and those believers who are patient will go to Paradise without any .worries for their settlement of account

As the Qur'ān confirms, acceptance is mutual. That is, if the people expect Allah to accept their call, they must also accept Allah's call. "... Answer Allah and the Messenger when he invites you to that which gives you life, ..." (Al-'Anfāl, No. ٨, verse ٢٤)

:A discussion about the call

:The issue of the invitation can be dealt with from different dimensions

:Those Who Invite to the Truth –١

A: Prophets: "Say: '... I call to Allah, ...'" Allah commands the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to tell the people that his way of life and that of his followers is this which leads and directs people towards Allah with insight. (Sura Yūsuf, No. ١٢, verse ١٠٨) "Remember when you were climbing (the hillside) and you paid no heed to any one, while the Messenger was calling you from your rear, ..." (Sura 'Āl-i-'Imrān, No. ٣, verse ١٥٣) "And as one inviting to Allah by His leave, and as a light-giving torch." (Sura Al-Aḥzāb, No. ٣٣, verse ٤٤) Meaning that you call on people directing them towards Allah with His permission, .thus becoming the burning torch of the world

B: The Believers: "And there should be a party among you who invite (others) to good ,..." ('Āl-i-'Imrān, No. ٣, verse ١٠٤) This means that from among you Muslims those who are more knowledgeable and more virtuous must lead the people towards

.the good and righteousness

C: Jinn: “O’ our people accept the caller of Allah (just as we did)...” (Sura Al-’Aḥqāf, No.
(۴۶, verse ۳۱)

:The Callers to Falsehood

I- Pioneers of paganism: “And We made them the pioneers (who) call to the Fire, ...”
(Sura Al-Qaṣaṣ, No. ۲۸, verse ۴۱)

II- The Satan: “... the Satan calls them to the chastisement...” That is: would they still follow the Satan’s lead to hell regardless of the fact that he has called their fathers to Hell? (Sura Luqmān, No. ۳۱, verse ۲۱); and: “I did not have any authority over you, (except that I called you and you responded me, ...” (Sura ’Ibrāhīm, No. ۱۴, verse ۲۲)

III-The Unbelievers: “... those invite to the Fire ...” That is the pagans call you to hell (fire by way of ignorance and darkness. (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse ۲۲۱)

:The Subject of Invitation –۲

I- Life: “...he invites you to that which gives you life,...” This verse means that Allah and your prophet call you to accept the faith so as to enable you to reach an eternal (life. (Sura Al-’Anfāl, No. ۸, verse ۲۴) II- The Straight path: “And certainly you invite them to a straight path.” (Sura Al-(Mu’minūn, No. ۲۳, verse ۳۳)

III- Forgiveness: “... Allah invites to Paradise and forgiveness ...” (Sura Al-Baqarah, IV- The Paradise: “And Allah does call mankind to the Abode of Peace...” (Sura Yūnus,
(No. ۲, verse ۲۲۱)

(No. ۱۰, verse ۲۵)

(I- Salvation: “I call you to the salvation ...” (Sura Al-Ghāfir, No. ٤٠, verse ٤١)

:Confronting the Dissidents –٣

I- Accusation: Sorcerer: “... Verily this indeed is a knowing sorcerer.” (Sura ‘A‘rāf, No. ٧, verse ١٠٩)

A poet: “... nay! he is a poet ...” (Sura Al-‘Anbiyā’, No. ٢١, verse ٥) Soothsayer: “... for by the grace of your Lord, you are not a soothsayer...” In this verse the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is commanded to mention unto people that he speaks while he is blessed by revelation and prophecy from his Lord and there is no question of lunacy existing in (him. (Sura At-Tūr, No. ٥٢, verse ٢٩ (Crazy: “... And they say: “Verily he is crazy.” (Sura Al-Qalam, No. ٤٨, verse ٥١) Liar: “... verily we do think you to be of the liars.” We guess you are from among the (liars. (Sura Al-‘A‘rāf, No. ٧, verse ٤٤ Oppressor: “... who desires that he may have superiority over you, ...” This verse is about the people of Noah who, answering him, said to others that this person wants (to achieve supremacy over you. (Sura Al-Mu‘minūn, No. ٢٣, verse ٢٤ (II- Threat: “... we would certainly stone you ...” (Sura Hūd, No. ١١, verse ٢١) Slaying: “... And (remember) when those who disbelieved plotted against you to take (you captive, or to kill you, ...” (Sura Al-‘Anfāl, No. ٨, verse ٣٠ III- Humiliation: “... Is this he who speaks of your gods? ...” (Sura Al-‘Anbiyā’, No. ٢١, verse ٣٤

IV- Skepticism: Leaders and chieftains of the people of Sāliḥ, ridiculing the poor who :became believers, said

(Do you believe that Sālih is sent by his Lord? ...” (Sura Al-’A’rāf, No. ٧, verse ٧٥“

V- Conspiracy and war: “And (remember) when those who disbelieved plotted against you to take you captive, or to kill you, or to expel you ...” (Sura Al-’Anfāl, No. ٨, verse

:The Motives and Factors for lack of acceptance – ٤

I- Imitation

II- Fanaticism

III- Arrogance

IV- Sensual desire: “But if they do not answer you, then know that they only follow (their low desires,...” (Sura Al-Qaṣaṣ, No. ٢٨, verse ٥٠

:The Reward for Acceptance – ٥

I- Reward: “Then, as for those who believe and do righteous deeds, He will pay them their rewards fully and will bestow them out of His Grace, ...” (Sura An-Nisā’, No. ٤, (verse ١٧٣ II- Life: “O’ you who have Faith! Answer Allah and the Messenger when he invites you (to that which gives you life, ...” (Sura Al-Anfāl, No. ٨, verse ٢٤

III- Happiness: “For those who respond to their Lord is the best (reward). ...” (Sura Ar-Ra’d, No. ١٣, verse ١٨

Any way, after depicting the profile of the ‘truth’ and the ‘untruth’ through an expressive example mentioned in the previous verse, here the Qur’ān alludes to the fate of those who have accepted Allah’s call and at the same time, it refers to the :destiny of the ones who rejected the truth and turned to vices. At first, it says

”... .(For those people who accepted their Lord, it is the best (reward “

Then the Qur'ān further adds that as for those who do not accept this call of Allah (s.w.t.), their destiny is so wicked and relentless that even if they were in full possession of all of what is found on the earth or the like of it, they would be ready to dispense with them all so as to attain salvation. However, all this would not be accepted from them. The verse says

But those who did not accept Him, even if they were to have all that is on the earth ...“
”... .and the like of it, they would certainly offer it as ransom

To portray the grievousness of their punishment, there would be no interpretation more explicit than the one which assumes that supposedly one owns all of what is on the earth, rather doubling that amount, and dispenses all just to be relieved and receive salvation, yet it is of no avail

This sentence refers, in fact, to one's ultimate desire that he wants to be the proprietor of all that exists on the earth. However, the intensity of the punishment of the oppressors and dissidents of the Allah's call is so much so that they are ready to sacrifice this ultimate worldly desire, and beyond it, and become relieved

Following this catastrophe, abstention from accepting all that is on the earth for one's salvation, is an allusion made to their other misfortune which implies that they have got a hard and an awful account to settle, and ultimately, they will be located in the fire of the inferno. The verse says

It is they for whom the reckoning will be terrible and their abode will be Hell and ...“
”!what an awful place it is

Point

The faithful to their covenant and those who break it, can never be equal – Those who spend benevolently in the way of Allah shall have the abode of perpetual bliss – Allah it is Who amplifies and straitens the sustenance of His creatures – The life of this world is nothing but a vain comfort

(۱۹) أَفَمَنْ يَعْلَمُ أَنَّمَا أُنزِلَ إِلَيْكَ مِنْ رَبِّكَ الْحَقُّ كَمَنْ هُوَ أَعْمَىٰ إِنَّمَا يَتَذَكَّرُ أُولُو الْأَلْبَابِ

Is he who knows that what is revealed to you from your Lord is the Truth, like the “ ۱۹ .
”,one who is blind? Indeed, only the possessors of intellects take admonition

Commentary: verse ۱۹

:The Possessors of Intellect

We have picture and profile of the details of the programs of the proponents of the truth depicted in this verse which supplements the discussion of the previous verses. In the first instance, He poses the issue in a positive interrogation with negative sense, saying

Is he who knows that what is revealed to you from your Lord is the Truth, like the “
”... ?one who is blind

This type of interpretation is a delicate reference to the fact that the lack of knowledge of this reality is utterly impossible unless one’s deep insight has been entirely blocked

:Therefore, the Qur’ān, towards the end of the verse adds

”,Indeed, only the possessors of intellects take admonition ...“

Anyway, we have allusions made to those who have accepted the life-giving call of the prophets (a.s.) in the previous verse, while the impact of the acceptance of that call is being stated in this verse and in the following verses. Everyone of: human nature, reason, and knowledge has got a core in one's brain which may be dismantled as a result of habits, customs, superstitions, and instincts. Therefore, man must be (constantly concentrating on that central nucleus and core. (Tafsīr-ul-Furqān

:The Wise in the Qur'ān

The Arabic term /'ulul-'albāb/ has been mentioned in the Qur'ān ۱۶ times, every one of which has been stated accompanied with one accomplishment or an attribution, among them, we note

They understand the secret of commandments: "And in (the law of) retaliation there .۱ is (saving of life for you, O' possessors of intellects, ..." (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse (۱۷۹).

They are future-oriented: "...and make provision, but surely the best provision is the .۲ piety. So, have awe of Me, O' possessors of intellect!" (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse (۱۹۷)

They regard the world as a passing stage and not a destination and residence point. .۳
The possessors of intellect are those who: "... mediate on the creation of the heavens and the earth, seriously saying): 'Our Lord! You have not created (all) thin in vain! ..."
(Sura 'Āl-i-'Imrān, No. ۳, verse ۱۹۱)

They receive instructive lessons from history: "Indeed in their stories there is a .۴ (lesson for the possessors of intellect, ..." (Sura Yūsuf, No. ۱۲, verse ۱۱۱)

They accept the best and the most superior logic of all: “Those who listen to the .۵ (saying, then follow the best of it; ...” (Sura Az-Zumar, No. ۳۹, verse ۱۸

They are of the worshipping and struggling lot who perform the night prayer: “ Is he .۶ who is obedient during hours of the night ... only the possessors of intellect are (mindful.” (Sura Az-Zumar, No. ۳۹, verse ۹

٢٠. "Those who fulfill the covenant of Allah and do not break the pledge "

Commentary: verse ٢٠

The Arabic phrase /‘ahdillah/ includes both the innate and inherent promises such as ‘love unto the Truth and justice’, and rational promises like the comprehension of the facts of the world of existence including the issues of ‘the origin and the end’. They also refer to both the religious promises such as practicing all the required acts and rituals and abstention from all that is prohibited, and the commitments of promises which men keep with regard to one another and Allah has made their observation required.

According to the statements of some commentators,<sup>(١)</sup> one of the most important Divine covenants is the Imamate, ‘leadership’, of the celestial leaders. After that Haḍrat ‘Ibrāhīm (a.s.) attained accession to the position of Imamate following numerous tests and trials, he requested Allah to enable his progeny to achieve that rank. Instead of saying that the position of Imamate would not be bestowed on the cruel people, and to clarify the importance of this position, He said: “My covenant does not include the unjust.” <sup>(٢)</sup>, which itself is an evidence for the importance of the position and magnitude of Imamate.

Incidentally, the Arabic term /miḥāq/ ‘testament’ refers to what is the source of confidence between one’s heart and that

In Tafsīr-us-Sāfī, it is quoted from Haḍrat Musa-ibn-Ja‘far (a.s.) indicating that this – ١ verse is revealed with regard to the position of the household of Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) and their guardianship. This is the covenant of Allah thing. As the existence of a Divine leader provides comfort for men's heart and soul,

Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ١٢٤ – ٢

.therefore, this matter has been regarded as one of the examples of 'testament

Anyway, keeping one's promise, like respect for one's parents, and returning of the deposits, is not confined to the Islamic jurisprudence. On the other hand, it is included .in human rights as well. Thus every wise and rational man must observe it

In conclusion, religious testament is the kind of the commitment which the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has secured from the believing people so as to obey him and abstain from .committing sins and overlooking the religious commandments and prohibitions

Incidentally the reason why the term 'testament' or 'pledge' is repeated after the word 'covenant' is that none imagines that the objective is only the Divine promise and that of the people for all the commandments and the prohibitions are included in the meaning of 'covenant'. It is for this reason that He informs us that the testament and covenant of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and the people is as vigorously to be observed
:as that of Allah (s.w.t.) and the people. The verse says

”.Those who fulfill the covenant of Allah and do not break the pledge “

Some commentators, however, believe that the aim of this repetition is merely .emphasis

(٢١) وَالَّذِينَ يَصِلُونَ مَا أَمَرَ اللَّهُ بِهِ أَنْ يُوصَلَ وَيَخْشَوْنَ رَبَّهُمْ وَيَخَافُونَ سُوءَ الْحِسَابِ

And those who join what Allah has commanded to be joined and they fear their “ Lord and dread the terrible reckoning ”.

Commentary: verse ٢١

Some Islamic quotations indicate that what Allah has ordained to be joined together is union of kindred. That is, conservation of family ties as well as the ideological ties which implies continuous and profound ties with the heavenly leaders and the following of the line of ‘Wilāyat’ (leadership). (Tafsīr-us-Şāfi). The verse says

And those who join what Allah has commanded to be joined and they fear their Lord “ and dread the terrible reckoning ”.

A simple and in-passing glance at our contemporary world will reveal that despite having utmost and the best capital, i.e., oil, beneath their feet, and enjoying, in front of them, the common point of unity and love of over one Billion Muslims, that is Ka‘bah, and despite benefiting from the best of schools and logic, some Muslims are constantly under all kinds of pressure from the super-powers for their lack of connection with the Divine leadership. It is for this reason that in the verse ٢٧ of Sura Al-Baqarah, after the sentence “... and cut asunder what Allah has commanded to be joined ...”

fāsiqīn/ transgressors are) “Those who break the covenant of Allah after its confirmation and cut asunder what Allah had commanded to be joined, and they ... ;make corruption on the Earth there has been mentioned: "... and they make corruption on the Earth, ...", for it goes without saying that the mere cutting off ties of relationship does not by itself cause corruption on the earth. On the contrary, it is giving up of the Divine leadership which leads to the entanglement in the confinement of the despots and spreading of corruption.

:Note the Following Points

Union of Kindred: strengthening blood-kinship is not merely confined to the family – visits and meetings. Provision of financial assistance also is one of the aspects of union of kindred. Imam Sādiq (a.s.) proclaims that in addition to Zakāt (alms), there are also other dues to be paid and which are necessary. Then he recited this verse (Tafsīr-us-Şāfi). The objective in mind of the Imam (a.s.) probably has been ‘Khoms’ (one fifth) when mentioning other dues.

As for the importance of ‘union of kindred’, it is sufficient to be noted that Allah has – made mention of it next to His name. "...And be in awe of Allah through Whom you demand one of another, as well as any ties of kinship; ..." (Sura An-Nisā’, No. 4, verse 1)

The meaning of ‘relatives’ is not confined to one’s family genealogical relatives, – but, it refers to the great Muslim community in which all individuals of the nation are considered as brothers, where the Qur’ān says: “The believers are but brethren ...” (Sura Al-Hujurāt, No. ٤٩, verse ١٠). Their father is the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) as well as Haḍrat Ali (a.s.). The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has remarked: “Ali and I are to be regarded as fathers of this community

Imam Sādiq (a.s.), while on deathbed, ordered to hand on some gifts to those – ١ relatives who had been rude to him. When he was criticized for this act, he recited the above verse; and so did he teach us that the condition for union of kindred would not .be their optimism, love and relationship with us

To explain the Qur’ānic phrases: ‘they fear their Lord’ and ‘dread the terrible – ٢ reckoning’, one must say that though the Arabic words /xašiyat/ (fear) and /xauf/ (dread) have sometimes been used interchangeably and as synonyms, meaning one thing in mind, they are in fact different in an Arabic context. The word /xašiyat/ refers to that kind of fear and impression which is left on someone as a result of respect he bears for a person. However, the term /xauf/ refers to a wider range of meaning and includes all kinds of fear and anxiety. In other words, the term /xašiyat/ is never used for a damaging accident and one does not refer to cold and disease as having /xašiyat/ with respect to them, while the application of the word to /xauf/ holds in cases of cold, heat, disease and is prevalent. Ultimately, since /xašiyat/ is based on one’s knowledge as to the respect, magnitude and importance of the other person, one can say /xašiyat/ is peculiar to the learned men and /xauf/ is generally applicable for all. As the Qur’ān says: “... those of His servants only who are knowledgeable fear (Allah, ...)” (Sura Fātir, No. ٣٥, verse ٢٨ Jābir quoting Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “Kindness towards one’s parents and union of kindred facilitates one’s settlement of his accounts.” Then, he (p.b.u.h.) recited this very verse. (Tafsīr Majma‘-ul-Bayān, vol. – ١ (١٣, p. ٥٤

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) remarked: “ He who cuts off his relationship with – ٢ (his kindred, will not enter Paradise.” (Bihār, vol. ٧١, p. ٩١ Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) said: “Cutting off of one’s relationship with the relatives – ٣ (leads to poverty.” (Bihār, vol. ٧١, p. ٩١ Imam Sādiq (a.s.) remarked: “He who is disobedient with respect to his parents and – ٤ he who cuts off his relationship with his relatives can never sense the smell and the (flavor of Paradise” (Safīnah, vol. ١, p. ٥١٤ Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) said: “Cutting off one’s relationship with his relatives, – ٥ (spoils all of (one’s) blessings.” (Qurar-ul-Hikam, vol. ٤, P. ٥٠٩

A man, addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), asked: “Which deed is considered as – ٦ conducive to the utmost outrage before Allah?” He answered: “Attributing partners to Allah.” Then he asked: “Which action comes next?” He answered: “Cutting off one’s relationship with his relatives?” Then he asked: “Which action comes next?” He answered: “Bidding to indecency and forbidding right conduct.” (Safīnat-ul-Bihār, vol. (١, p. ٥١٤

(٢٢) وَالَّذِينَ صَبَرُوا ابْتِغَاءَ وَجْهِ رَبِّهِمْ وَأَقَامُوا الصَّلَاةَ وَأَنْفَقُوا مِمَّا رَزَقْنَاهُمْ سِرًّا وَعَلَانِيَةً وَيَدْرءُونَ بِالْحَسَنَةِ السَّيِّئَةِ أُولَئِكَ لَهُمْ عُقُوبَةُ الدَّارِ

And those who patiently persevere, seeking the countenance of their Lord, and “ ٢٢. establish prayer, and spend of what We have provided them, secretly and openly, and ”they avert evil with good; theirs shall be the Ultimate abode

Commentary: verse ٢٢

And those who usually keep their patience in performing the commandments of Allah and do not lose their integrity in face of the diseases and evil consequences and abstain themselves from committing Allah’s sins, and by keeping their patience, they mean to obtain rewards from Allah, the Almighty, because ‘seeking the countenance of Allah’ signifies ‘asking for Allah’ which in turn means asking for Allah’s reward. Once, in the Arabic language, Arabs want to glorify something, they say ‘its countenance’ and ‘its self’, and by ‘the countenance of Allah’ they mean the Glorious Essence of the Almighty. Nothing is greater than Allah and nothing is His counterpart. Some say that: the purpose of ‘countenance’ in here is reference made as to sincerity
:and repelling of bigotry and hypocrisy. The verse says

”... And those who patiently persevere, seeking the countenance of their Lord “

Then the verse continues explaining the qualities of the possessors of intellect by adding that they perform the prayer with keeping all its limits. In other words, they are always serious in performing their prayer rituals, and they share with others whatever Allah has bestowed on them whether be it in secret or openly. And :through their obedience, they repel all sins. The verse says and establish prayer, and spend of what We have provided them, secretly and ... “

”... ;openly, and they avert evil with good

Ibn-i-Abbās, regarding the last quality, has said that through the mean of decent and
.allowed action, they repel the indecent behavior

It is quoted from the highly esteemed Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) who has told Ma‘āzibn-Jabal that: Whenever he did an evil act, then he would perform an admirable deed
.so as to wipe it out

Some commentators say one must be kind to those who have bad treatment to them and he would not try to retaliate it. Some other commentators have claimed that the purpose is that once they are deprived, they go on giving away and once they are oppressed, they forgive; and when they are isolated, they try to establish relationships once more. Ibn-i-Kīsān says: it means that they try to remove the .penalty for their sins by repentance

:The ending sentence of the verse says

”.Theirs shall be the Ultimate abode ...“

It means that those whom We depicted their profiles of, will receive their reward of Paradise. In this holy sentence the objective meaning of /ad-dār/ is ‘Paradise’ and that .of /‘uqbā/ is ‘reward’ which refers to the happy ending

:Explanations

Patience’ does not merely signify tolerating difficulties; rather, it mostly includes ‘ –١
,perseverance in worshipping restraining from sins, toleration in case of calamities, submission in case of obedience, and lack of arrogance in case of affluence

The Qur'ānic phrase 'the countenance of their Lord' signifies attracting the – ۲ attention, favour, and satisfaction of Allah

Performing prayer is one of the examples of the Divine covenants, which was – ۳ discussed in the previous verses. Some Islamic traditions also refer to it, saying:
"Prayer is the covenant of Allah

Patience and prayers are two channels of communication with Allah, and charity – ۴ and good acts are two channels of communication with people

:Giving in charity of one's wealth has got a hierarchy – ۵

Step one: Sharing of the things Allah has bestowed upon us. "... spend (in alms) of that (which We have provided for you, ..." (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse ۱۵۴ Step two: Giving in charity out of one's earnings through allowed business. "O you who have faith! Spend (in charity) of the good things that you have earned, ..." (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse ۲۶۷

Step three: Giving away of what one likes most. "You will never attain righteousness (unless you spend out of what you love, ..." (Sura An-Nisā, No. ۴, verse ۹۲ Step four: Self-sacrifice: "... and prefer (them) before themselves though poverty may (afflict them, ..." (Sura Ḥashr, No. ۵۳, verse ۹

According to Al-Mizān, the Arabic term /'uqbaddār/ signifies happy ending in the – ۶ world, though it may be .considered as including both, this world and the Hereafter

The meaning of returning the good in exchange for evil is that: if from among the –v faithful someone commits an evil act in connection with us, We ought to overlook it. But we must not have the same pattern of action with the tyrants and the corrupt, for, concerning them, they must be paid in their own coins. Anyway, though Islam is a religion of ethics, compassion and forgiveness, it has also the following instruction in its place. The Holy Qur’ān says: “(As for) the fornicatress and the fornicator, flog each of them, (giving) a hundred stripes, and let not pity for them detain you in the matter of obedience to Allah, if you believe in Allah and the Last Day, ...” (Sura An-Nūr, No. ۲۴, (verse ۲

Islam is a comprehensive religion, and ‘the possessors of intellect’ are some – ۳ perfect persons. The existence of such Qur’ānic words concerning them as: /yūfūn/, /yaxšāun/, /yaxāfūn/, /ṣabarū/, /’aqāmū/, /’anfiqū/, and /yadra’ūn/ are signs to show that the perfect men not only are undertaking their promises, but also preserve all their proper communications, and they enjoy a superior state of virtuosity and they .stay on the whole scenes of truth actively instead of creeping into isolation

(٢٣) جَنَّاتٍ عَدْنٍ يَدْخُلُونَهَا وَمَنْ صَلَحَ مِنْ آبَائِهِمْ وَأَزْوَاجِهِمْ وَذُرِّيَّاتِهِمْ وَالْمَلَائِكَةُ يَدْخُلُونَ عَلَيْهِمْ مِنْ كُلِّ بَابٍ

Gardens of Eternity, they shall enter therein and also the righteous from among “ .٢٣ their fathers, their spouses, and their children, and unto whom the angels will enter ”.’from every gate

Commentary: verse ٢٣

Out of ١٣٧ times that the Qur’ānic words /jannāt/ and /jannat/ have been repeated in the glorious Qur’ān, only ١٢ times they have been mentioned under /jannātu ‘adnin/.

\(١\) According to a tradition from ‘Durr-ul-Manthūr’, it signifies ‘a special paradise’.

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) remarks: “Whoever wants his life and death to be like those of mine, and enters the Gardens of Eden which is my Paradise, must designate Ali-Ibn-Abī-Tālib (a.s.) and his Immaculate successors from among his descendents as his leaders and his Imam, who are most supreme in knowledge and wisdom over \(٢\) all human beings and they are guides for people towards right path.”

In the meantime, we have it in the Qur’ān repeatedly that the righteous people of a family will also be nigh to each other when in Paradise and will be able to enjoy each other’s company therein as they associate with each other. Certainly, the mention of the titles of some individuals of the family like father, wife, and child in the above noble verse, does not

Tafsīr-i-Forqhān –١

Tafsīr Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn –٢

specify any particular point, and it covers all the righteous members of the family, including the above mentioned ones, and as well as mothers, sisters and brothers, .too

Incidentally, perhaps the reason for the absence of the name ‘mother’ here is that the mother is the wife of one’s father and is covered by the word of /’azwāj/ (spouses) as is the case with brothers and sisters who are regarded as paternal descendents, and .uncles and aunts are considered as the descendents of one’s ancestors

Anyway, whatever of the conclusion we obtain from the Divine verses is that the angels, under all circumstances, whether in this world or in the world hereafter (purgatory or resurrection day), are in contact with man. They sometimes send him greetings “... sends His greeting on you, and (so do) His angels, ...” (Sura Al-’Ahzāb, No. ٣٣, verse ٤٣), while on other occasions, they ask forgiveness for him: “... and ask forgiveness for those who believe, ...” (Sura Qāfir, No. ٤٠, verse ٧) That is, the angels who carry the magnanimous heavens on top of their shoulders and those who are engaged in thanking and in worshipping are both faithful believers and ask for forgiveness for the faithful from Allah. At other times, they utter invocation for him, saying: “Our Lord! and make them enter the Gardens of Perpetuity ...” (Sura Qāfir, No. ٤٠, verse ٨). That is, O’ Allah! Give them all along with their parents, wives, and children access and abode in the Paradise of Eden. At the time of death and at the onset of the purgatory, the angels let them voice with the slogan chanting “... ‘Fear not, nor be grieved ...” (Sura Fuṣṣilat, No. ٤١, verse ٣٠). And they take their lives with the sentence ‘Greetings to you’. The Qur’ān says: “Those whom the angels cause to die in a good state, saying: ‘Peace be on you, ...” (Sura An-Nahl, No. ١٦, verse ٣٢) That is, those who, like angels, ‘the agents of blessings’, take their souls, address them saying that due to your good deeds performed in the world, you

Allah's will thus enter the Eternal Paradise, and they would also go on greeting them
:from every corner. The verse says Gardens of Eternity, they shall enter therein and also the righteous from among their “ fathers, their spouses, and their children, and unto whom the angels will enter from ”.’every gate

:Explanations

There are eight gateways mentioned for Paradise which correspond to the number –۱ of traits already mentioned for ‘the possessors of intellect’ counted in recent verses.
Probably, each of the eight traits and characteristics leads man through one of the .gateways of Paradise and is a leading path towards the eternal happiness for man

Not every father and child, and every husband and wife, every descendent whether –۲ paternal or maternal will join one another in Paradise or will be placed side-by-side there, for in the Day of Resurrection, the relatives by blood and those kin by marriage, as a means, will be of no use. On that Day, every body will be held responsible for his own self, in which case nothing, except one's own efforts and struggle, will have any :effect

Therefore, the entrance of some relatives, unto some others into Paradise, is only
.because of their competence and individual qualification

A Paradise-deserving family is a family among whom there is sincerity and unity in –۳ pursuance of the path of the Truth, because the condition for entering Paradise is
.righteousness

(٢٤) سَلَامٌ عَلَيْكُمْ بِمَا صَبَرْتُمْ فَنِعْمَ عُقْبَى الدَّارِ

Peace (be) upon you (saying) that you persevered in patience! (And now) how “ .٢٤
” .excellent is the Ultimate Abode

Commentary: verse ٢٤

Point

One of the unique advantages of the Qur’ān is that it states the most meaningful matters in the most concise terms, among which reference may be made to the sentence ‘Peace be upon you’ which is a very concise yet very meaningful sentence. Its historical perspective goes back to the previous prophets like ‘Ibrāhīm, Noah, and Adam (a.s.) “Peace be upon Noah among the nations.” (Sura As-Sāffāt, No. ٣٧, verse (٧٩

The Qur’ānic term /salām/ (Peace) is one of Allah’s names, and it is one of the ways of greetings of Allah to the prophets, the Divine congratulations on the people of Paradise, the whisper of the angles; the international saying of all the Muslims; the slogan of all the paradise-deserving in this world and in the other one; the common words of the Creator and the created; the voice heard on arrival and departure, and the beginning of every speech and of every letter which is said to both the living and the dead, and on the aged and the young. Answering and returning it, however, is .obligatory for a believer

The message of /salām/ (peace) is a message of respect, congratulations, prayer and greetings from Allah. “Peace; a word from a Merciful Lord.” (Sura Yāsīn, No. ٣٦, verse ٥٨) When we utter at the end of each of our prayers: “Greetings ‘peace’ to us and to the righteous servants of Allah”, with this greeting /salām/ all the dividing lines in the ,realm of race, absurd privileges of senility, sexuality, property, position language, and time will be obliterated and we can establish communications with all

.the righteous people to whom we send our greetings

Some Islamic quotations denote that some people go to Paradise without having settled their accounts. When the angels ask the reason, they will be answered: “We used to keep waiting for obedience of Allah and used to keep our patience while we were struck by disasters and why suffering from difficulties.” By hearing this answer, the angels will welcome them by saying /salāmun ‘alykum/ (peace be on you). (Tafsīr (Qurtubī Imam Sādiq (a.s.) said: “We are among those who keep their patience though our Shi‘ite followers are more patient than us, for our patience is upon what we know, but (they are keeping their patience as to what they do not know. (Tafsīr Sāfi

:Points Concerning Patience

We must regard Allah as the source of all patience: “...and your patience is not but –۱ (by Allah ...” (Sura An-Naḥl, No. ۱۶, verse ۱۲۷

We must do consider the Divine consent as the main purpose and objective of our –۲ patience, not for the sake of fame or anything else: “And for the sake of your Lord, be (patient.” (Sura Al-Mudathir No. ۷۴, verse ۷

Patience is one of the traits of the prophets and the key to Paradise: “Or did you –۳ (suppose you would enter Paradise untouched ...” (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse ۲۱۴

Patience, when kept in the face of the calamities and the Divine trials is the criterion –۴ for cognition of the true profile of those who are patient: “And most certainly We will try you until We have known those among you who exert themselves hard, and the patient, ...” (Sura (Muhammad, No. ٤٧, verse ٣١) Patience leads one to receive Allah’s blessings: “Those are they on whom are – ٥ (blessings and Mercy from their Lord, ...” (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ١٥٧

Perhaps one of the reasons for sending greetings to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and his – ٦ .Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.) is that they were among the most patient of the people

Patience with regard to faith is just like the head as for the body. The Prophet – ٧ (p.b.u.h.) remarks: “Patience is a part of Faith, just like the head and the body.” (Bihār, (vol. ٩, p. ٢٠٣ Patience categorizes the hierarchy of those who deserve Paradise: “These shall be – ٨ rewarded with high places because they were patient, ...” (Sura Al-Furqān, No. ٢٥, verse ٧٥); “And He will reward them for their patience, with a garden and clothes of (silk (in Heaven).” (Sura Insān, No. ٧٦, verse ١٢ Patience has got a hierarchy; and we read in an Islamic tradition that patience in – ٩ case of calamities has got ٣٠٠ degrees; in case of religious worship has got ٦٠٠ degrees, and with regard to restraining from sins has got ٩٠٠ degrees. (Bihār, vol. ٧١, p. (٩٢

Throughout the Qur’ān, one finds that only the reward for those who are patient is ١٠ so vast and is indefinitely unlimited: “ ... only the patient will be paid back their reward in full without measure.” (Sura Az-Zumar, No. ٣٩, verse ١٠) Alongside patience, the glorious Qur’ān has also dealt with the issue of gratitude as well. It also alludes to the fact that difficulties also constitute blessings: "... for every patient, grateful one." – ۱ (Sura 'Ibrāhīm, No. ۱۴, verse ۵

Patience' is involved in the will of Imam Hussayn (a.s.) passed down to his son, ' – ۲ Haḍrat Sajjād (a.s.): " O my son! Be patient with the Truth even if it is bitter!" (Bihār, vol.
(۷۰, p. ۱۸۴

Sometimes, there are several kinds of patience observed in one occasion; as in the – ۳ case of Haḍrat 'Ibrāhīm (a.s.) in sacrificing Ishmael, in which case, patience with regard to obedience and submission to the will of Allah, as well as patience with .regard to the calamity are involved and are required

.Patience, among all, stands at the top of all perfections and virtues – ۴

Commentary: verse ٢٥

.In some former holy verses, the traits of the possessors of intellect were explained

As the good and evil can well be differentiated once they are compared and juxtaposed against each other, the Qur’ān recounts here some of the main traits of the ones who incite corruption and those who have lost their true sense of reasoning :where it says

And there are those who break the covenant of Allah after its confirmation and cut “ asunder what Allah has commanded to be joined, and make mischief in the earth; ”.they, theirs shall be the curse and theirs shall be the evil abode

In fact, all of their ideological and scientific corruptions can be summarized in the :following three categories

Breaking of the Divine testaments which includes the inherent testaments, the – ١ .rational testaments, and, finally, the religious testaments

Cutting off relationships, the relationship with Allah, the relationship with Divine – ٢ religious leaders, the relationship with people, and the relationship with one’s own .self

The last part, which is the consequence of the above two, is the corruption on the –۳ earth

:Explanations

The Qur’ān refers to a group who have the opposite of the attributes which – ۱ characterize the good prominent traits of the possessors of intellect as in their keeping of their promise and relationships with whatever Allah has preordained. That is, they break their promises and cut off the relationships which have been commended to be established. Thus, there are ‘evil abodes’ designated for them .’instead of ‘Ultimate abodes

Corruption on the Earth: There are actions dealt with in the Qur’ān which are – ۲ attributed to individuals, among which the Pharaoh has been noted as an example of those who incite corruption. The Qur’ān concerning him says: “... Verily he was one of the mischief-makers.” (Sura Qaṣaṣ, No. ۲۸, verse ۴). Actions like homicide, destruction of tillage and generation, inciting and provoking differences, and murder are also among the corruption cases on the earth. (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse ۲۰۵). The Qur’ān considers ‘execution’ or amputation for punishing of the ‘corrupt ones on the earth’. And as for those who have ambitions in their thinking for corruption, the Qur’ān considers them as the ones who are deprived from the Divine blessings on the .Day of Resurrection Imam Sajjād (a.s.) writes in his will to his son: “Abstain from association and avoid –۳ the company of those who cut off their relationship with their relatives, for I have

:Messages

Allah enlarges the sustenance for whomever he pleases and straitens (it for “ .٢٦ whomever He wishes) and they rejoice in the life of the world, while the life of the ”.world beside the Hereafter is naught but a temporary enjoyment

Commentary: verse ٢٦

The amplification and the straitening of one’s means of subsistence has been attributed to Allah in this verse, but it goes without saying that the acts of Allah, the Wise, are planned according to pragmatism and are philosophical, as some of its reasons can be seen explained in some verses of the Qur’ān and in the Islamic quotations. For instance, committing sin causes changes in the life and means of .subsistence of many individuals

We read in the supplication of Kumayl that: “O’ Allah: Forgive those sins of mine which ”.change the course of the blessings which you have bestowed upon me

At times, the differences, which exist in one’s means of subsistence, are because of the trial of these individuals. ‘Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ١٥٥’ says: “And We will surely test you (all) with something of fear and hanger and loss of property, lives and
”.fruits; but give glad tidings to the (stead fast) patient

At times, being deprived is due to the deprivation which is inflicted on other people from their rights, like the garden which burned under fire, which Sura Al-Qalam No. ٦٨ has made allusion to. At other times, lack of concentration on the circumstances of orphans results in straitening of one's means of subsistence. "Nay! But you honour not (the orphans." (Sura Al-Fajr, No. ۸۹, verse ۱۷

What is important is the fact that we must not feel rude and arrogant once our means of subsistence is amplified, forgetting everything; nor must we become desperate of everything when our means of subsistence is at stake, for the Divine system is one which is based on His Wisdom and has got trial basis, and it is not based on luck, .chance and good omens

Anyway, usually those who are affluent in their means of subsistence and are given sustenance in abundant, tend to forget it and ignore the Hereafter, sticking to the mortal world and its beauty, while this worldly life is nothing else but limited in its scope and is a mortal one as compared to the Hereafter, for the latter is immortal. :The verse says

Allah enlarges the sustenance for whomever he pleases and straitens (it for " whomever He wishes) and they rejoice in the life of the world, while the life of the ".world beside the Hereafter is naught but a temporary enjoyment :Explanations

One's means of subsistence depends on Him alone. It is not dependent upon one's –۱ shrewdness, bigotry, breaking of testaments, and cutting off of those relationships .which probably require disbursing and giving away

Low scale for means of subsistence is also allocated according to a divine – ۲ .philosophical echelon which is predetermined already

Point

Allah leaves to go astray whomsoever He wills, and He guides towards Him whomsoever turns to Him – The Wrath of Allah shall reach the disbelievers

(۲۷) وَيَقُولُ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا لَوْلَا نُزِّلَ عَلَيْهِ آيَةٌ مِنْ رَبِّهِ قُلْ إِنَّ اللَّهَ يُضِلُّ مَنْ يَشَاءُ وَيَهْدِي إِلَيْهِ مَنْ أَنْابَ

And those who disbelieve say: ‘Why has a sign not been sent down upon him from “ .۲۷ his Lord?’ Say: ‘Verily Allah leaves to stray whomever He wills and guides unto Himself ”.’ (whomever turns to Him in repentance

Commentary: verse ۲۷

As there are so many topics of discussion concerning monotheism, resurrection and the mission of prophecy of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) included in this Sura, this verse deals once again with the Prophet of Islam’s call, discussing one of the criticisms of those obstinate dissidents, saying that the pagans claim why it is that no miracle has been bestowed upon him from his Lord as they demanded. The verse says

And those who disbelieve say: ‘Why has a sign not been sent down upon him from “ ... ’?his Lord

They expect that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) sits in isolation as an extraordinary being while each one of them calls on him and asks him to perform a miracle he must bring it on their request. No sooner they ask for the miracle than he has performed. Even, notwithstanding that, they do not accept the faith if they are willing to do so

Responding them, the Qur'ān answers that the Prophet should tell them that Allah lets whomever He wants go astray, and whoever returns to Him will be led by Him. The :verse continues saying

Say: 'Verily Allah leaves to stray whomever He wills and guides unto Himself ... " (whomever turns (to Him in repentance

Allusion is made to the fact that their deficiency is not a matter of miracles; rather that their deficiency is from within themselves. Their obstinacy, fanaticism, ignorance, and .the sins which hinder and obstruct the road to success, cause them to disbelieve

Anyway, every prophet must have a sign from his Lord to prove his claim of his prophetic mission, which is called 'miracle'. This miracle is naturally in some particular and identical affairs. But those obstinate persons who did not intend to accept the truth, asked the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) for miracles on their own request based upon their whims. Were they to stop being obstinate, the Qur'ān by itself would provide them .with the greatest miracle

Sometimes, food and water is detrimental to the sick. However, this harm does not imply that there is anything wrong with the food or water. On the contrary, it is for the sake of their illness. Certainly, those who are mentally sick, in accepting the Divine and pure verses are upset like the ones whose body is ill, for they will be provoked as soon as they are confronting the truth, and they become obstinate immediately following its presentation, then they turn away from the Truth. And this is the very meaning of ./yuḍill/ (leaves to stray) mentioned in the verse

Divine leadership is of two kinds: the primary leadership and the supplementary leadership

The Divine leadership concerns all mankind. The Qur'ān says: “Verily We showed him the Way, ...” (1) However, supplementary leadership only concerns those who have already accepted the former general guidance. For instance, take the case of a teacher who offers his course in an identical and monotonous way to all his students. After sometime, he tends to do more favor to those of his students who are more strenuous and hard-working. The Qur'ān says: “And (as for) those who follow the right direction, He increases them in guidance ...” (2)

And there are those who refuse to accept all the Divine verses as the Qur'ān says about them. “And there never came unto them any sign from the signs of their Lord but they turned away from it...” (Sura Al-'An'ām, No. 6, verse 4) “And had We sent down unto you a book, written on a paper, so that they touched it with their own hands, certainly (still) the disbelievers would have said: ‘That is naught but a manifest sorcery’.” (Sura Al-'An'ām, No. 6, verse 7) “... And (even) if they witness a miracle, they will not believe in it, ...” (Sura Al-'An'ām, No. 6, verse 25). Would there be any other way of dealing with them except restraining them from favors and stamping them with the discarding seal

Anyway, Allah is Wise and Just and He does all according to “... He guides whomever He pleases ...” (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. 2, verse 142), and “... leaves to stray whomever He wills ...” (verse under discussion), and “... Allah provides with

.sustenance for whomever He wills ..." (Sura Al-Baqarah, No verse ۲۱۲), and "He will forgive him whom He wills" and "He will punish whom He ,۲ wills ..." (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse ۲۸۴), and "He creates whatever He pleases ..." (Sura 'Āl-i-'Imrān, No. ۳, verse ۴۷). All the above are to be rendered into the basis of .His Justice, Wisdom, Grace, and Favour

That is, once He says: "... He guides whomever He pleases, ..." it does not imply that He leads, regardless of all criteria, whomever He wants. As one can conclude, from other verses, on one occasion He considers 'Faith' as the condition for being led, saying: "... and whomever believes in Allah, He guides aright his heart..." (Sura At-Taqābun, No. ۶۴, verse ۱۱). Elsewhere, securing of consent of Allah along with taking the right path are deemed necessary for being led. It says: "With it Allah guides whomever follows His pleasure into the ways of safety, ..." (Sura Al-Mā'idah, No. ۵, verse ۱۶). Or once He says: "... He leaves to stray whomever He wills..."<sup>(۱)</sup>, in another verse, He considers immoderation, hesitation and skepticism as factors for such a case of being misled. It says: "...Allah misleads him who is extravagant, a doubter." ((Sura Al-Mu'min, No. ۴۰, verse ۳۴ Anyway, if the opening of a container faces the sky the rain will enter into it, but if the opening of it faces the earth, it will not be filled with any rain and snow. So is the case with the man whose soul aspires towards material things. It is obvious that such a person will not benefit from the Divine spirituality. The Qur'ān says: "That (Divine wrath) is because they have preferred the worldly life over the Hereafter, and (definitely Allah does not guide the infidel people." (Sura An-Nahl, No. ۱۶, verse ۱۰۷

The obstinate pagans often demand new miracles every moment. The issue in – ١ question is not an outstanding miracle. Rather, it is their inherent enmity. “... Why has
”... a sign not been sent down upon him

Allah’s way of treatment is concerned with leading all people: “Verily, it is incumbent –٢ on Us to lead (them).” (Sura Al-Layl, No. ٩٢, verse ١٢). However, if someone took to the deviant path, Allah would ascribe to him his punishment in the form of being misled.
.”... “... Allah leaves to stray whomever He wills

Submission and humility in face of Allah is the key to one’s salvation and guidance –٣
”.(“...and guides unto Himself whomever turns (to Him in repentance

Leading people is up to Allah, yet His leading will be confined to those who show –٤

The guided are) those who believe and their hearts are set at rest by the) “ .٢٨ remembrance of Allah. Behold! By Allah’s remembrance (only) the hearts are set at .rest

Commentary: verse ٢٨

Those who acknowledge the unity of Allah and accept His attributes and the prophetic mission of His Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and embrace whatever has been revealed from Him, and their hearts are set at rest by the remembrance of Allah, allow Allah to soothe their hearts regarding His blessings and rewards with the thought of Him, and of His grace and favors, for Allah’s promise is decisive and nothing will soothe the anxious .hearts better than his Divine truthful promises

To remember Allah does not mean merely paying lip service to Him, though it is one of the clear examples of thinking of Him. For what counts is thinking of Allah in all .circumstances, in particular, at the time of committing sin

:Thinking of Allah brings with it numerous blessings, including

.The remembrance of His blessings leads one to show his gratitude for Him -١

.The remembrance of His Power causes one of putting his trust in Him -٢

.The remembrance of His favours serves as the source of our love for Him -٣

.The remembrance of His Wrath and fury inspires awe of Him in us -٤

The remembrance of His magnitude and greatness causes one's humility and – ۵
.submission towards Him

The remembrance of His Omniscience in the open and hidden serves as an impetus – ۶
.for our chastity

The remembrance of His forgiveness and generosity serves as our source of hope – ۷
.and repentance

.The remembrance of His justice serves as an impetus for our austerity and piety – ۸

Man is searching the extremes and he wants absolute perfection. However, as – ۹ everything, except Allah, is finite and is accidental in itself, it cannot leave one's heart in rest. In contrast to those whose hearts are set at rest by the remembrance of Allah, there are also some ones whose scope of mind and vision are limited and are content
.with so little in this world

The prayers consist of the remembrance of Allah and are the source of one's – ۱۰ comfort. The Qur'ān says: "... establish prayer for My remembrance." (Sura Tā Hā, No.
(۲۰, verse ۱۴

The holy phrase "Behold! By Allah's remembrance (only) the hearts are set at rest."
might mean that by Allah's remembering you, your hearts will be at peace. That is, once we know that Allah is remembering us and we are in His presence, our hearts will be at peace. As Haḍrat Noah (a.s.) found peace of heart by means of the Divine words: "And make you the Ark under Our eyes, ..." (Sura Hūd, No. ۱۱, verse ۳۷) And, Imam Hussayn (a.s.) found peace of mind while uttered it at the time of martyrdom of his son Ali Asqar, by expressing: "It is easy over me for verily it is before Allah." Or, it is ".cited in 'Arafah supplication: "O Reminder of the reminders

Query: This verse remarks that all minds, and that of a believer in particular, find their peace by the remembrance of Allah, but some other verses denote that whenever the faithful believer remembers Allah, his heart trembles. Sura Al-'Anfāl, No. ٨, verse ٣ says: "Verily believers are only those who, when Allah is mentioned, their hearts quake, ..." Can this kind of trembling be compatible with one's peace of mind? What is the justification for that

Answer: To imagine how the two incompatibles, that is the peace of mind and trembling of one's heart, can be present at the same time in one person, the following examples can be leading. First: Sometimes, one has peace of mind when he has made all kinds of preparations while, at the same time, he is anxious and fears the consequences as well. The example of it is a specialized surgeon who is confident of his knowledge and job though at the time of operation of a VIP he still has his anxieties

Secondly: the children find their peace of mind once they are with their parents, while at the same time, they fear them too

Thirdly: Sometimes, one is happy and has his peace of mind since he knows that whatever unpleasant happens is for his trial, development and promotion. However, he is going to be anxious for not being sure whether he will succeed in his duties or not

Fourthly: Once the believers go on reading the Qur'ānic verses of punishment, Hell or of the Divine outrage, they start trembling all over. However, once they read the holy verses concerning blessings, garden of Eden and paradise, they find a sweet kind of peace of mind which brings them warm feelings

Imam Sajjād (a.s.) says in Abu Hamzah Supplication: "Whenever, I remember my sins (and Your justice and Your wrath), I cry, but when I consider Your grace and Your forgiveness, I regain hope.” As an evidence for this meaning, the writer of Al-Mizān, the Late, quotes the Qur’ān to be its documentation: “... whereat do shudder the skins of those who fear their Lord, then their skins and their hearts become pliant to the remembrance of Allah ...” (Sura Az-Zumar, No. ٣٩, verse ٢٣). That is, one is anxious at first though he finds peace of mind gradually.

Fifthly: He who ignores the remembrance of Allah, does not have peace of mind, in which case life becomes troublesome for him. The Qur’ān says: And whoever turns away from My remembrance, verily for him is a life straitened ...” (Sura TāHā, No. ٢٠, (verse ١٢٤

:Factors of Encourage and Peace of Mind

There may be many different causes for one’s certainty and peace of mind. However, at the top of all those factors stands specifically one’s awareness and knowledge

He who is aware of the fact that his slightest piece of work will be accounted for he –١ is hopeful on his job properly and has peace of mind thereby. Sura Az-Zilzāl, No. ٩٩, .verse ٧ says: “So, whoever has done an atom’s weight of good shall behold it

He who knows that he is created out of the Divine favor, wisdom, and blessings, he –٢ is calm and hopes for and confident of Allah’s bounteousness. The Qur’ān says: “(It will be said to some) O’ you serene soul!” “Come back to your Lord well-pleased (with Him) and well-pleasing (Him),” (Sura Al-Fajr, No. ٨٩, verses ٢٧ and ٢٨). This means that the addressing of the Beneficent comes, saying: O’ Heavenly confident and peaceful self, ‘always remembering Allah’! Return, now, to your Lord as you are pleased with His eternal blessings and He is content with your good deeds. Return and stay in line alongside My particular servants and enter My Paradise and Garden of Eden. It is for this reason and following His remarks in this noble verse that the faithful and intimate believers are always hopeful. As an example, one finds the Late Ayatullah-ul-'Uzmā Imam Khomaynī, (may he rest in peace in Paradise), remarks at the end of his very important will that: "I am departing from you while having peace of mind, and I am confident in heart, while I am happy from within and while I am ".hopeful in spirit for Allah's grace and forgiveness

He who knows that Allah is All-Wise and Omniscience, and He has not created – ۳
.anyone in vain, is optimistic

He who knows that his leader and his Imam is a perfect man, elected by Allah, and – ۴ is innocent of every deviance and error, will be having peace of mind. "... Verily I have (appointed you an Imam (leader) for mankind. ..." (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse ۱۲۴

He who knows that his way of life is obvious and his future is going to be better than – ۵ before, is confident in his soul. "While the world to come is better and more lasting." (Sura 'A'lā, No. ۸۷, verse ۱۷

He who knows that Allah loves the righteous has warm feelings with regard to his – ۶
.righteous deed

.Factors Which Generate Anxiety and Worries

One of the most common diseases of the present century is worries and anxieties, for which various reasons have been mentioned. The symptoms of this disease include, isolation, depression, inferiority complexes and purposelessness. A depressed person becomes so because of finding that nothing is in line with his wishes, while the one must not abandon altogether those few instances which might be in keeping with his wishes for the sake of not having obtained all that he has desired. A depressed person thinks as to why all people do not love him while such a thing is impossible in the case that even Allah and Gabriel also have got enemies. Therefore, one must not expect that all love him

A depressed person thinks that all people are bad, while it is not so, and Allah, addressing the angels who thought so, answered them negatively

A depressed person thinks that all the unpleasant things come from outside his self, while the main causes of frustration have their origin in reactions generating from within ourselves

An anxious person is worried at the onset of every activity and thus he feels lonely and scared

For repelling such a mood, Hadrat Ali (a.s.) says: "When you are afraid of something, (cast yourself in it." (Bihār-ul-Anwār, vol. ۷۱, p. ۳۶۲

This means that you may make yourself involved in whatever you are scared of, for fear of everything exceeds its own limits

An anxious person worries as what will occur in future. This case may be treated by trusting Allah and by one's own perseverance

As one has been frustrated in some of his affairs, he may worry as to be frustrated in all circumstances

As one relies on individuals and some powers which are not sustaining, one will be anxious and worried once those sources of power are shaken

Briefly, and concisely, such cases as lack of gratitude for one's services by the people, feelings of guilt, fear of death being brain-washed by the family as to the lack of one's power to cope with problems and his lack of knowledge of those things, and jumping to conclusions are some of the factors which cause anxieties and can be adequately dealt with by Allah's remembrance, His power, His amnesty, and His favor which all bring one's peace of mind. The verse says

The guided are) those who believe and their hearts are set at rest by the) “remembrance of Allah. Behold! By Allah's remembrance (only) the hearts are set at rest.”

Commentary: verse ٢٩

:People are in four categories

.I. Believers: Those who both believe and their acts are righteous

.II. Pagans: Those who are neither believers nor their acts are decent

III. The evil-doers: Those who are believers but their acts are not righteous and .decent

.IV. The hypocrites: Those who are not believers but their apparent acts are decent

The Arabic term /ṭūbā/ is either an infinitive, or it is the feminine gender of /ʾaṭyab/ which means ‘the best’. We have not got any example specific to this meaning in the verse to include all the utmost good ones. Perhaps, we have it in a quotation that /ṭūbā/ is a tree which has its roots in the house of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and that of Ali (a.s.), and its branches cast their shadow over the faithful(١), in which case this serves as an allegory that all the good have their origin in pledge of and are somehow
.connected to the celestial leaders

When some short-sighted persons criticized the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) as to “ Why you kiss Fātimah Zahrā (a.s.) so much?” He (p.b.u.h.) said: “When I was taken to Paradise at the night of Mi‘rāj, I ate from the fruit of the ‘Ṭūbā tree’ out of which

p: ١١٠

Fātimah (a.s.) has been originated and appeared, and whenever I desire the scent of (Paradise, I smell my daughter, Fātimah” (1)

The success of the unbelievers and those who are distanced from good acts is not profound. As Haḍrat Ali (a.s.) says: “There is no good in pleasures which are ensued by (the Fire of Hell” (2)

:Explanations

The sweet worldly life as well as the happy ending of the life in Hereafter will only be .1
.procured with faith and decent righteous behaviour

Success in this world makes sense and is of value when coupled with happy ending .2 of the life Hereafter. How happy they are and what a good happy ending awaits them.

Thus did We send you among a nation before whom (other) nations have (come “ ٣٠. and) passed away, in order that you might recite to them whatever We have revealed to you, whereas they reject the Beneficent (Allah). Say: ‘He is my Lord, there is no god but He; on Him only I rely, and unto Him is my return

Commentary: verse ٣٠

We have already discussed about the Divine blessings which are conferred upon the people who are believers and the righteous and the rewards they deserve

Now, Allah (s.w.t.) deals with the blessing of the prophetic mission bestowed on the highly-esteemed Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.), implying that as We provided the believers and the righteous with the blessings of reward, We designated your Ummat with the utmost blessing of your celestial prophetic mission. Some commentators have argued that this signifies that: As We commissioned prophets for previous nations, We thus also sent you for the nation of Islam. Your nation is not the first one. Before this nation, there have also been other nations and tribes as well. The verse says:

Thus did We send you among a nation before whom (other) nations have (come and) “ ... ,passed away

The main purpose and objective of your heavenly mission is to read to them the Qur’ān, which is Our revelation revealed to you, so as to enable them to engage in meditation about its

.instructive contents and topics and learn admonitions and draw lessons from them

However, the tribe of Quraysh are blasphemous about ‘Raḥmān’ (the Beneficent) and say that they know ‘Allah’, but they do not know Raḥmān (The Beneficent). The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was commanded to tell them that ‘Raḥmān’ (The Beneficent) is his Lord, the One Whom they deny and ignore, and Who is unique and peerless. The Beneficent is his Creator and his administrator to whom he has left all his affairs to administer, and he has made allegiance to His obedience and submit to His verdict. And his return is towards Him and his repentance involves Him alone. The verse continues saying in order that you might recite to them whatever We have revealed to you, ... “ whereas they reject the Beneficent (Allah). Say: ‘He is my Lord, there is no god but He; ”.on Him only I rely, and unto Him is my return

:Explanations

The prophetic mission of the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has occurred among the – ١ nation of Arabs, yet other verses of the Qur’ān are explicit in declaring that he is the prophet of all nations. “And We have not sent you but to all mankind ...” (Sura Sabā, (No. ٣٤, verse ٢٨

The prophetic mission of the godly prophets is a Divine tradition and it is based on –٢ His grace and His blessings. And the duty which is incumbent on the prophets is .conveying the Divine revelations and ordinances to the people

Reasons and rationale for our faith in Allah and the issues involved are: His Lordship –٣ (my Lord), His Unitarianism (there is no god but He), His provision of asylum for all (I .(rely only on Him), and our return is to Him (unto Him is my return

(٣١) وَلَوْ أَنَّ قُرْءَانًا سِيَّرَتْ بِهِ الْجِبَالَ أَوْ قُطِّعَتْ بِهِ الْأَرْضُ أَوْ كُلِّمَ بِهِ الْمَوْتَىٰ بَلِ لِلَّهِ الْأَمْرُ جَمِيعًا أَفَلَمْ يَتَّسِبِ الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا أَنْ لَوْ يَشَاءُ اللَّهُ لَهَدَى النَّاسَ جَمِيعًا وَلَا يَزَالُ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا تُصَِّبُهُم بِمَا صَدَّوْا قَارِعَةً أَوْ تَحُلُّ قَرِيبًا مِنْ دَارِهِمْ حَتَّىٰ يَأْتِيَ وَعْدُ اللَّهِ إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يُخْلِفُ الْمِيعَادَ

And if there were a Qur’ān by which the mountains were moved or the earth “ ٣١ were cloven asunder with it, or the dead were made to speak thereby, (still they would not believe). But the affair is Allah’s altogether. Have not those who believe yet known that if Allah had willed He would certainly have guided all the people? And (as for) those who disbelieve, there will not cause to afflict them because of what they do a calamity, or it will alight close .to their habitation, until Allah’s promise comes

”.Verily Allah will not fail the trust

:The Occasion of the Revelation

Some great commentators have claimed that this holy verse has been revealed in response to a group of pagans of Mecca who were sitting next to the door of Ka’bah and had sent after the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) who hoping to lead them, came to them. They said that if he wanted them to follow him, he should remove back the mountains of Mecca by his Qur’ān so that the tight and limited land there would become vast. They told the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that he considered himself no less in rank than Dawūd for whose sake Allah had conquered the mountains; or he should conquer wind for them as it was over dominated by Sulaymān; or he should enliven his grandfather

Qasiy' (the grandfather of Quraysh) because Jesus (a.s.) used to make the dead alive, and he was no less than him

At this time, the verse was revealed implying that what they said was because of their obstinacy and not for embracing the Faith

Commentary: verse ۳۱

As was already mentioned in the discussion of the occasion of revelation, this verse was revealed in response to the pagans' pretexts which were raised owing to their obstinacy and not for the sake of embracing the faith. They asked for performing extemporarily miracles from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). Allah says

And if there were a Qur'ān by which the mountains were moved or the earth were "cloven asunder with it, or the dead were made to speak thereby, (still they would not "... believe). But the affair is Allah's altogether

.However, all of these are at His disposal and thus He does whatever He deems fit

Nevertheless, you are not seeking the truth and if you were, you could be content (.with the signs which have already been exposed to you by the Prophet (p.b.u.h

:Then, the Qur'ān adds

Have not those who believe yet known that if Allah had willed He would certainly ... " "... ?have guided all the people

But, He will never do so, because such a compulsory faith lacks any value and is .devoid of all kinds of spirituality and development which man needs

Then the verse implies that the pagans are always at the stake and mercy of the invasion from pounding calamities for their deeds, which are damaging and devastating to them in the :form of the fights of the Islamic warriors. The verse continues saying

And (as for) those who disbelieve, there will not cause to afflict them because of ... “ ”... ,what they do a calamity

And in case that such disasters are not inflicted upon them within their houses, they enter near their houses so as to provide lessons for them and be shaken in order to :return to Allah. The verse says

”... ,or it will alight close to their habitation ...“

And such warnings will continue ever more till the ultimate decree of Allah will be .issued

Such an order might concern and be an allusion to death or reference to the Day of Judgment, or, as some claim, it may be a hint to the ‘Conquest of Mecca’ which :devastated the last bastion of the enemies. The verse adds

”... .until Allah’s promise comes ...“

Anyway, Allah’s promise is decisive and He will never break His promise or deviate
:from its conditions. The verse concludes

”.Verily Allah will not fail the tryst ...“

:Explanations

This holy verse explains the utmost climax of the hostility and obstinacy of the – ١ pagans, just like verse ١١١ of Sura Al-’An‘ām which says: “And even if We sent down the angels to them, and the dead spoke to them and We mustered all things before ”... ,them, (even then) they would not believe

The Qur’ān is a Book which has shaken what has been firmer than mountains and – ٢ has enlivened those who have been deadlier than the mortally dead. It has provided life for the dead mind and souls and the stone-hearted ignorant Arab people, and if there were a Book to be able to move mountains, and rise the dead, it is .this same Qur'ān

One may conclude from remarks made by Imam Kāzīm (a.s.) that there are clues – ۲
.and secrets in the Qur'ān by which one can conquer nature

Incidentally, do not expect all to accept the Faith as hostility and obstinacy are both inherent incurable diseases of human societies. If one is seeking after the Truth, one miracle is more than enough for him to accept the Faith. But, if someone is obstinate,
.he may ignore even the most explicit miracle

Miracles are under Allah's control and not to be incited on proposals and whims of – ۳ obstinate people. In the meantime, Allah's Will is toward voluntary guidance of man,
.and it is not based on their compulsion and toward forceful scrutiny

Pagans must expect strikes from Allah on their country and on their borders and – ۴ the Divine warnings sometimes come to us directly and are directed toward us and sometimes they come indirectly and are directed to others and the regions in our neighboring. "... And (as for) those who disbelieve, there will not cause to afflict them because of what they do a calamity, ..." The pagan people are always in the course of devastating and pounding catastrophes and extensive accidents because of their paganism and their heinous deeds, namely wars, famine, massacre, entanglement, etc., so that they may witness the punishment of their evil and viscous deeds and be
.therefore warned against them

Point

Mockers of the truth given respite but shall be requited and brought low – The disbelievers shall be chastised in this world as well as in the Hereafter and the punishment for them in the Hereafter will certainly be more grievous and lasting

(۳۲) وَلَقَدْ اسْتَهْزَأَ بِرُسُلٍ مِّن قَبْلِكَ فَاَمَلَيْتُ لِلَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا ثُمَّ اَخَذْتُهُمْ فَكَيْفَ كَانَ عِقَابِ

And messengers before you were certainly mocked at, but I gave respite to those “ ۳۲ who disbelieved, then I seized them (in My Wrath); then (see) how was My ”?retribution

Commentary: verse ۳۲

Addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), He proclaims in this verse that you are not the only one who is confronted various requests and proposals for explicit miracles by this pagan group and who is mocked and ridiculed by them. This matter has a long record in the history of the prophets and many of the prophets prior to you were also mocked and ridiculed. However, We did not punish those pagans immediately. On the contrary, we provided them with a second chance so as to enable them to wake up and return to the path of the truth or, at least, to be provided with a sufficient ultimatum. For, though they are vicious and guilty, there is still room for Allah’s favor, grace, and wisdom. The verse says

And messengers before you were certainly mocked at, but I gave respite to those “ ... ,who disbelieved

Anyway, this opportunity and delay does not mean that their punishment is a forgotten affair. Therefore, We then captured them after the expiry of the date of their respite. And so did you note or witness as to how our punishment was? This fate will also be the destiny awaiting your obstinate nation as well. The verse continues
:saying

”?then I seized them (in My Wrath); then (see) how was My retribution ...“

Is He then Who watches every soul as to what it earns (like the idols)? And yet “ ٣٣. they ascribe partners to Allah. Say: ‘Name them! Do you inform Him of something (partners) He does not know in the earth, or is it (just) a show of words?’ Rather, to those who disbelieve their devising are made to appear fair seeming, and they are kept back from the (right) path; and whomever Allah leaves to stray, for him there will be no guide”.

Commentary: verse ٣٣

?How is it that you align and consider Allah as a counterpart for the idols

The Qur’ān then returns to the issue of monotheism and paganism in this verse. It addresses the people with this clear evidence and asks: Can one put Him on a parity? Is He Who overlooks all and is the protector and guardian of all, and witnesses the action of all equal with the one who lacks all the above characteristics? The verse says:

”... ?(Is He then Who watches every soul as to what it earns (like the idols “

To supplement His previous discussion and to present an introduction for the next discussion, He asserts

”... .And yet they ascribe partners to Allah ...“

Allah provides answers for them using different methods immediately. At first He :commands

”... !Say: ‘Name them ...“

That is, how would you consider as counterparts for Allah the Almighty, a number of ?anonymous beings which lack any title and value, and are ineffective

Secondly, as about the issue which predisposes one to ask how such partners exist for Allah whom He is not aware of their existence despite His Omniscience. The :Qur’ān inquires

”... ,Do you inform Him of something (partners) He does not know in the earth ...“

Thirdly, the fact is that you yourselves are not confident from the bottom of your heart that such a thing may exist, is evident from uttering the words ‘shadowy appearance’ in which there is no correct concept implied and you have sufficed to it.

:The Qur’ān continues saying

”... ’?or is it (just) a show of words ...“

It is for this reason that these pagans call on Allah when they are caught in the hard
.entanglements of life, for they know clearly in their hearts that the idols are of no use

Fourthly, as the pagans lack a correct understanding and as they imitate and follow
.blindly their whims, they are not able to judge rationally and correctly

It is for this reason that they are misled and seduced in this manner. However, in the view of the pagans, their lies have been decorated (and as a result of their inner wickedness are of the opinion that their thinking is identical with reality). The verse
:says

”... ,Rather, to those who disbelieve their devising are made to appear fair seeming ...“

.And they have been obstructed from Allah’s path

And whomever Allah considers as seduced, that is, after delivering ultimatum on him, no other one can lead him and direct him to the right path. The verse continues
:saying

”;and they are kept back from the (right) path ...“

The Divine astray’ signifies the reaction of one’s own incorrect behaviour which are misleading for him, and as this trait and quality has been involved in such acts, they :are being attributed to Allah. The verse says

”.and whomever Allah leaves to stray, for him there will be no guide...“

Incidentally, the fact that Allah is ‘the guardian of all’ denotes that He administers all affairs, is the protector of everything, is qualified and capable for them, superintends, records and registers everything, and whoever departs from the knowledgeable, single, unique and protecting Allah, will be entangled in the abyss of paganism and
.polytheism

There is chastisement for them in the life of the world, and the chastisement of “ ٣٤ . the hereafter is certainly more grievous, and for them shall not be against (the Wrath of) Allah any protector

Commentary: verse ٣٤

The Qur’ān makes allusions in this verse to the painful punishments which will face them in this world and the hereafter. These chastisements naturally include defeats, frustrations, misfortunes, damaging to one’s reputation and so forth. It implies that there are punishments for them in this world, and the punishment of the hereafter is harder and more intensive, for it is eternal, physical and spiritual, coupled with all :kinds of discomfort. The verse says

There is chastisement for them in the life of the world, and the chastisement of the “ :hereafter is certainly more grievous ...”

And if they think that there is any way out of these, or they contemplate on some means of defense, they are making a grave mistake, for, nothing will protect them :from Allah’s Wrath. The verse continues saying

”and for them shall not be against (the Wrath of) Allah any protector ...“

The likeness of the Garden (of bliss) which the pious are promised, (is such that) “ ٣٥. beneath it rivers flow, its fruits and its shades are everlasting. This is the End of those who keep from evil, and the End of the unbelievers is the Fire

Commentary: verse ٣٥

From among the methods of education in the Qur’ān, one can cite comparison and evaluation among individual’s cases and the end-result of the truth and the untruth. Therefore, as the future of the pagans was already explained in the previous verse, the ultimate destiny of the men of virtue is being discussed in his verse so that one can select his own way of life with a more and better understanding when comparing the two

Therefore, this noble verse deals with Resurrection and specifically with the blessings of Paradise and with the infernal punishments. At first, it says

The likeness of the Garden (of bliss) which the pious are promised, (is such that) “ ... ,beneath it rivers flow

The second attribute relating to the Gardens of the Paradise is that their fruits are everlasting and perennial. They are not of the sort of this world in which case the fruits are seasonal and appear only in certain seasons, or under certain circumstances. In this life, the fruits sometimes disappear altogether in some years because of pestilence and for unforeseen reasons. Their shadow is also eternal. The verse says

One can conclude from this sentence that the Gardens of the Paradise have no autumn and one may conclude still further that illumination of light, or similar to it, also exists in Paradise in its nature

At the end of the holy verse, after recounting the three-fold characteristics of Paradise, the Qur'ān implies: Such is the ultimate destiny of the devout and the pious, though the fate of the pagans is Fire and inferno. The verse says

”... ,This is the End of those who keep from evil ...“

In this beautiful meaning, the blessings of Paradise have been explained in detail and with delicacy. However, with regard to the inhabitants of Hell, He remarks in a short, harsh, and rough tone

”.and the End of the unbelievers is the Fire ...“

Anyway, Paradise is a compensation for one's virtuosity and it will not be offered to anyone undue

The reward of the devout and self-abstaining from the worldly sins, is eternal happiness in Hereafter. “... its fruits and its shades are everlasting.” And whatever one can make out of the Paradise is similar and like that one, “the likeness of the Garden (of bliss)...”. Otherwise, the Paradise is not to be comprehended fully by some limited beings such as us

(٣٦) وَالَّذِينَ ءَاتَيْنَاهُمُ الْكِتَابَ يَفْرَحُونَ بِمَا أُنزِلَ إِلَيْكَ وَمِنَ الْأَحْزَابِ مَنْ يُنْكِرُ بَعْضَهُ قُلْ إِنَّمَا أُمِرْتُ أَنْ أَعْبُدَ اللَّهَ وَلَا أُشْرِكَ بِهِ إِلَيْهِ أَدْعُوا وَإِلَيْهِ مَابِ

And those people to whom We have given the Book will rejoice in what has been “ .٣٦ sent down to you. And of the clans are some who deny a part of it. Say: ‘Verily, I am commanded to worship Allah and not to associate (aught) with Him. Unto Him (only) I ”.’invite (you), and unto Him is my return

Commentary: verse ٣٦

Of course, accepting the verses is important, however, their acceptance and embracing of them eagerly and with joy is of more significance

The different kinds of reactions of the people as to the revelation of the verses of the Qur’ān have been alluded to in this verse. It illustrates how the truth-seeking individuals and the truth-loving ones embraced and submitted to whatever was revealed to the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) while the hostile and obstinate individuals :started their opposition to it. It says

And those people to whom We have given the Book will rejoice in what has been “ ... sent down to you

That is, the Truth seekers from among the Jews and the Christians and the like of them are happy for the revelation of these verses to you, because, on the one hand, they witness that as consonant and harmonious with the signs and symbols which they have at their disposal, while, on the other hand, they are finding it as a source of freedom and salvation for themselves from the vices generated by the superstitions of seemingly scholars of Christian and Jewish and the like of them which have placed them under the yoke, and thus have deprived them of the intellectual freedom and .human development

Then the Qur'ān implies that, however, some parties negate parts of the verses which :have been revealed to you. The verse says

”... .And of the clans are some who deny a part of it ...“

The purpose in mind of these disbelieving groups has been the population of the Jews and of the Christians who were not submitting even to their own faith and in face of their own celestial Book because of their tribal and religious fanaticism which had dominated them. They were in fact some groups and parties which followed only their .own line

It might also concern those pagans who had no specific religion or way of life. Rather, they were groups and parties which were dispersed originally, though their opposition .to the Qur'ān and Islam had made them united

At the end of the holy verse, He commands the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that he must be headless with regard to this and that one's opposition and obstinacy. On the contrary, he should stand in line with his original and direct path and state that he is only commissioned by Allah to worship the only Allah and does not associate any partners for Him; and that he calls and directs to Him and his return, and every one's return is :to him. The verse says

Say: ‘Verily, I am commanded to worship Allah and not to associate (aught) with ...“
”.’Him. Unto Him (only) I invite (you), and unto Him is my return

Here allusion is made to the fact that the true monotheist and real theist has no other .lines and schedule to follow except submission to all of Allah's commandments

(٣٧) وَكَذَلِكَ أَنْزَلْنَاهُ حُكْمًا عَرَبِيًّا وَلَئِنَّ اتَّبَعْتَ أَهْوَاءَهُمْ بَعْدَ مَا جَاءَكَ مِنَ الْعِلْمِ مَا لَكَ مِنَ اللَّهِ مِنْ وَلِيٍّ وَلَا وَاقٍ

And thus have We sent it (the Qur’ān) (as a true) authority in the Arabic, and if you “ ٣٧ follow their low desires after what has come to you of knowledge, there shall not be ”.for you against Allah any guardian or a protector

Commentary: verse ٣٧

The appointment of the prophets and the revelation of the celestial Books are the wise Divine way of treatment. Therefore, He implies in this verse that as We sent the people of the Book and the former prophets celestial Books, We also revealed this Qur’ān to the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) while it contains clear and obvious :commandments. The verse says

”... ,And thus have We sent it (the Qur’ān) (as a true) authority in the Arabic “

It is cited in the commentary of Majma‘-ul-Bayān: The reason as to why the Qur’ān has been called commandments is that there are commandments in it as to what is allowed and what is prohibited. And the reason why it is called Arabic is that its bearer has been an Arab prophet. In other words, the application of the word /‘arabiyyan/, mentioned in the verse, is a reference to the fact that the language of the Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) has been Arabic, for which reason Allah’s way of treatment has been such that every prophet must communicate His Book through the language of his own people and, hence, He remarks in Sura ‘Ibrāhīm, No. ١٤, verse ٤: “We sent no prophet ”.except the ones who communicated in the language of their own people

And, in order that we know that Allah has no kinship with anyone, and even if the prophets supposedly go a wrong way, they will be faced with the Divine punishment, addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) with a threatening and decisive tone of voice, the Qur'ān implies that: if he follows their whims after having been briefed, he will receive Divine punishment and no body will be able to protect and preserve him as against Allah's power. The verse says and if you follow their low desires after what has come to you of knowledge, there ...“

”shall not be for you against Allah any guardian or a protector

Although there was certainly no probability for the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to be deviant with such a stage of chastity, knowledge and awareness, this meaning makes it clear that Allah entertains no special relationship with any one. Even if the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) enjoys an elevated position, it is because of his submission servitude, faith, and his perseverance.

It has been cited in the Majma‘-ul-Bayān that although this meaning is addressed to the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.), the main objective is his followers

Commentary: verse ۳۸

The appointment of the prophets is one of the Divine ways of treatment, and performing of miracles is not achieved on request or upon the wishes of people. On .the contrary, it occurs with Allah’s permission

Incidentally, the prophets used to live like other people and they had wives and :children. The verse says

And indeed We sent Messengers before you, and appointed for them wives and “ ... ;children Imam Sādiq (a.s.) said: “We are the children of Haḍrat Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) and our mother has been Fātimah (a.s.). And Allah has given none of the prophets anything which has not been provided for Haḍrat Mohamad (p.b.u.h.)” Then, he recited the (above mentioned verse: (Bihār, vol. ۲۴, p. ۲۶۵

And in another quotation, he (a.s.) remarks: “We are the descendents of the (Messenger of Allah.” (Tafsīr-ul-Burhān, and ‘Ayyashī

At the end of the verse, the Qur’ān declares that there is a book for everything which Allah has ordained, therein everything is recorded like one’s life-span, death, and other affairs each of which is subject to the time when Allah has assigned according to :His Own discretion. The verse says

Allah effaces out whatever He pleases and He confirms (similarly), and with Him is “ ٣٩ .
”the Mother (Basic Source) of the Book

Commentary: verse ٣٩

The Qur’ānic sentence “Allah effaces out whatever He pleases and He confirms (similarly)” presents a universal law which has been alluded to in the various Islamic texts. It states that the actualization of the various beings and events in the world follows two stages

The stage of decisiveness within which no changes may occur, (and it has been referred to in the verse as ‘the Mother of the Book’). The other stage or the second stage, within which changes may occur, is referred to, here, as the effacement and confirmation stage. The verse says

”the Mother (Basic Source) of the Book

At times, these two stages are referred to as ‘the Preserved Table’ and ‘the Effacement and Confirmation Tablet.’ It seems as though no alteration can find its way in one of the above Tables and it is completely preserved, while the other Table is prone to undergo changes, something may be written on it and then can be wiped out or something else be written instead of it

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) has been quoted as saying: “There are some events which are certain to happen while there are others which are dependent on some conditions and circumstance with Allah, each of which He deems He precedes it and each of which He wills He effaces it and confirms the other, as He chooses.” (Tafsīr Burhān, (vol. ۲

Anyway, according to what is concluded from the verses of the Qur’ān and .quotations, all pre-ordained Divine acts are of two kinds

Those matters which should be everlasting and thus their laws are also perennial – ۱ like the verses which say: “My word shall not be changed, ...” (۱) and where it says: “every thing has its exact measurement before Allah. (۲) Or where it implies that Such pre-determined acts are kept recorded in the preserved table: “In a guarded tablet
...” (۳) and “It is a written Book,” “Those who are drawn near (to Allah) shall witness (it.” (۴

Those matters which are uncertain and their expediency depends on the people’s – ۲ behaviour, such as people’s repentance from sin which is ensued by forgiveness as it is expedient, or donation to charity which is expedient for the repulsion of calamities, or oppression and cruelty which causes Divine punishment for the corruption which goes with it; that is, Allah is not confined in His administration of the universe as His infinite wisdom and His Omniscience and because of the change of conditions, He can .introduce changes in His system of creation and laws

It goes without saying that such changes are not signs of His ignorance or reconsideration or His regret, but they are based on His Wisdom and changes in conditions or the end of the cycle of that matter. The Glorious Qur’ān

Question: If the knowledge of Allah is identical with His Essence and it is unchangeable, then whatever there has been in His knowledge must be executed, .otherwise, it is identical with ignorance

Answer: Allah's knowledge is based on the system of means and devices. That is, He knows that if such an instrument is used it will result in a specific conclusion, and if the other one is used such a thing will ensue; and thus His knowledge is not apart from (the knowledge of causes and devices. (Shahīd Muṭahharī

One of the criticisms, which is proposed by the Sunni people as against the Shiites, is that they claim: The Shi'ites regard /bidā'/ (change in an earlier divine ruling, or heresy) for Allah, and they imagine that /bidā'/ means change in the Divine knowledge and discovery of the offence for Allah. While what the Shi'ites have in mind is not so and their objective is the appearance of something which we human beings imagined .the reverse of it before

The Arabic term /bidā'/ in creation is like 'abrogation in law'. That is, as if we consider by the appearance of a regulation or a verdict that it is binding and continuous, while after sometime we notice that it has been changed. Certainly, it does not follow that the law-maker has been regretting or he has been ignorant of it. Rather, the circumstances have led to these changes in the law, just like a prescription which the physician changes in accordance with the existing conditions of the sick. However, as soon as the patient's mood changes, the physician issues a new prescription.

Therefore, similar to the case of abrogation in the verses, which in fact is regarded as a kind of /bidā', and is accepted by all of the Islamic sects, they must also accept /bidā' in this very stated sense. Thus, /bidā' signifies our ignorance and not of Allah's .ignorance

:/Some Examples of /bidā

We thought that when Allah ordered Haḍrat 'Ibrāhīm (a.s.) to decapitate his son, He – ١ wanted Ishmael (a.s.) to be killed and his blood be shed on the earth. But, it was later revealed that the Divine Will had been to put the father to the test and not to kill the .son

Concerning the issue of Allah's having a date with Haḍrat Mūsā (a.s.), we thought – ٢ that the course of supplication and talking to Allah would take ٣٠ nights: "And made an appointment with Moses for thirty nights, ..." \(1\) however, we found later that the course has been for forty nights from the beginning. At first ٣٠ nights and later ١٠
.nights were added

We thought that the qiblah of the Muslims has been Bayt-ul-Muqaddas forever. – ٣
However, the verses clarified for us the change of qiblah, telling us that our constant
.qiblah has been Ka'bah

When the signs of Allah's wrath appeared, even Haḍrat Yūnus (a.s.) became – ٤ confident that the Divine punishment was certain to come and that his infidel nation would perish. Thus, he went out from among the people, but the people accepted the ? (faith and Allah's wrath was removed: "... except the people of Jonah (Yūnus

Sura Al-'A'rāf, No. ٧, verse ١٤٣ – ١

\(When they believed, We removed from them the penalty...\)

Anyway, the meaning of /bidā’/ is not Allah’s ignorance and changing of His knowledge, for Allah knew from the beginning that the blood of Ishmael would not be shed; or the course of Moses’ supplication and talking to Allah would last for forty nights; the qiblah of the Muslims would be Ka’bah; and the nation of Yūnus would deserve being saved. However, the apparent picture of the commandments and events were such that man had a different thought. Thus, no change has occurred in .the Divine knowledge and it is we whose view has undergone changes

In this stated sense /bidā’/ has got numerous educational implications, among which is that man is hopeful for changes of conditions till the last minutes of his life. The spirit of trust enlivens in him and he will not fall into the trap of outward aspects. Thus man’s faith in the invisible world and Allah’s power may increase; and by way of repentance, donations and prayers, he seeks to change the course of accidents and
.the Divine wrath

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) has remarked: “Allah has pledged faith in /bidā’/ accompanied with Unity from all prophets.” In another tradition, we are advised that whoever thinks that a new problem has been clarified for Allah which He did not know already, we should
.try to avoid him

:Some Traditions

Amir-ul-Mu'mineen Ali (a.s.) has been quoted as having asked the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) – ۱ with regard to the above verse, and he (p.b.u.h.) said: “I illuminate your eyes with the interpretation of this verse and I also illuminate the eye of my Ummah after me by its interrelation: Charity given in its proper place, and kindness to one's parents and achieving any other good deeds, done in a correct manner, convert unhappiness into (happiness, and prolong one's life, and prevent dangers.” (Al-Mizān, vol. ۱۱, p. ۴۱۹

Allusion is made here to the fact that happiness or wretchedness is not an unavoidable matter. Even if man has done certain jobs which align him along the line of the wretched ones, he can still change his position and his destiny by turning to good things, especially helping and serving the people, since the room for these !affairs is ‘the Table of effacement and confirmation’ and not ‘the Mother of the Book

:Imam Ali-Ibn-il-Hussayn, Zany-ul-‘Ābidīn (a.s.) has also been quoted as saying

If there were not one verse in the Qur'ān, I would foretell for you all the events of the “past and the future until the Day of Resurrection.” The one quoting the tradition says he asked which verse he (a.s.) meant. He answered: “Allah said: ‘Allah effaces out whatever He pleases and He confirms (similarly), and with Him is the Mother (Basic Source) of the Book’.”

This tradition provides the reason that at least a part of the knowledge of the great leaders of the religion, regarding the different events, concerns ‘the Table of effacement and confirmation’, and ‘the Preserved Table’, with all its traits, is peculiar to Allah, and He instructs only those parts of it that He deems worthy to those special servants whom He considers as suitable.

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) has been quoted as saying: “Some events are certain to happen – and they do become realized. And there are some other events which are depended on conditions and are conditional before Allah; whichever He deems fit, He will give it the priority and whichever He pleases, He will efface out, and whichever He pleases, (He will confirm.” (Al-Mīzān, vol. 11, p. 419)

:Therefore, we have it in a tradition from Imam Sādiq (a.s.) who said

Allah, Almighty and Glorious, sent no prophets except that He took these three “pledges from him: Confession as to be subservient and subject to Allah; negation of all kinds of paganism; and the acceptance of this creed that Allah gives priority to whatever He pleases and delays whatever He pleases.” (‘Usūl-i-Kāfī, vol. 1, p. 114 and (Safīnat-ul-Bihār, vol. 1, p. 61)

In fact, the first testament is concerned with obedience and submission to Allah, and the second one relates to the campaign against the paganism, and the third one relates to the subject of /bidāʾ/, the result of which is that man's destiny is in his own hands and by changing the conditions, he can be covered by Allah's favor or by His punishment

Finally, the Shi'ite scholars, basing their argument on the above, are of the opinion that when /bidāʾ/ is attributed to Allah, it may be rendered as /'ibdāʾ/, that is, the appearance of something which was not apparent formerly and what would not be predicted

As for attributing this matter to the Shi'ites, that they believe that Allah sometimes regrets His Own acts or becomes aware about what He did not know already, is of the greatest crimes and is of the most unforgiving accusations

Therefore, some of the Imams have been quoted as saying: "He who believes that something will be revealed and exposed to Allah today which He was not aware of yesterday, then such a person must be abhorred and detested." (Safīnat-ul-Bihār, (vol.1, p. ۶۱

And We will either let you see part of what We promise them or cause you to die, “ ٤٠. for your duty is only to make (the Message) reach them, while (calling them) to ”.account is on Us

Commentary: verse ٤٠

One must conclude of all that what is being observed of Allah’s favour on the Muslims and the Divine punishment over the pagans is only some partial actualization of the .Divine promises

Even the death of such individuals as the dear Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) cannot hinder the actualization of the Divine promises which will be realized at the time when .predicted

Therefore, in this verse, concerning the divine penalties which the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was promising and they were expecting them and even they criticized as to why his promises were not fulfilled, He says to him: And if parts of what We have promised them would be shown to you in your life–time as of your victory and of their defeat as well as ‘the liberation of your followers and the capture of their followers’ or We would make you pass away before such promises are materialized, under all such circumstances your duty and mission has been to convey your prophetic mission’s :message and the settlement of accounts with them is on Us. The verse says

And We will either let you see part of what We promise them or cause you to die, for “ your duty is only to make (the

”Message) reach them, while (calling them) to account is on Us

In the meantime, one concludes from this verse that Islam will dominate all other religions, and within the Prophet’s lifetime and after his death, the roots of paganism .will be eradicated

And this meaning is reconfirmed by verse ٣٣ of the Sura At-Taubah which says: “He it is Who sent His Messenger with guidance and the religion of Truth, that He may ”.prevail it over all religions, though the polytheists may detest it

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said: “This process goes on at the time of Haḍrat-i-Mahdī (a.j.) when no one will remain on the earth unless he confesses to the prophetic mission of (Mohammad (p.b.u.h.).” (Tafsīr-i-Majma‘-ul-Bayān and Burhān

Do they not see that We come unto the earth and reduce it from its sides? And “ ٤١. (were) Allah commands, there is no reverser for His command, and He is swift in reckoning”.

Commentary: verse ٤١

We read in various Islamic quotations that the objective of reducing the sides of the (earth means the loss of lives of the great scholars. (Tafsīr Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

One must take lessons from the history and the ultimate end of the life of the predecessors, and thus not to be skeptic about the promises and the testaments of Allah.

The termination of governments and personalities depend on the Divine Will, and the theocracy and the commands of Allah are not vulnerable. The verse says

Do they not see that We come unto the earth and reduce it from its sides? And “ ... (were) Allah commands, there is no reverser for His command

Incidentally, it is clear that the meaning of ‘the earth’ in here is the inhabitants of the earth. That is: ‘Do they not notice the reality that the tribes, civilizations, and governments are constantly falling and are being annihilated?’ And this provides a warning to all people, including the good and the evil, even in cases of the scholars and the learned men of human communities in which once a member of them dies, the entire world may sometimes suffer from shortcomings, which case is self-explanatory and shaking

Then the holy verse implies that the administration and the issuing of decrees are His Own monopolies and no one else is in a position to reject those commands or obstruct :His decrees, and He is fast in setting accounts. The verse says

”and He is swift in reckoning ...“

And indeed those before them devised, but the devising altogether is Allah's; He “ .٤٢ knows what every soul earns, and the unbelievers soon will know for whom is the ”.Ultimate abode

Commentary: verse ٤٢

The Qur'ān closes ranks with whatever is other than Allah in order to enable all to concentrate on Him and on Him alone, despairing from others. For instance, it says: “... Verily the glory is wholly Allah's, ...” (١) Once you appeal to others for the sake of acquiring prestige and good reputation, beware that all prestige and honour is for Him alone. Elsewhere, the Holy Qur'ān says: “... that the Power is wholly Allah's, ...” (٢) All powers are His. And in this verse, it says: “but the devising altogether is Allah's”, in order that man would not tend to others for obtaining prestige, power, and politics

One of the best examples of Allah's devising is His offering of a respite to the deviants in such a manner that they feel that they are on the right track. However, Allah has repeatedly said in the Qur'ān that the pagans must not think that their respite signifies Allah's love unto them. On the contrary, He respites them to fill their pot to the fullest

Sura Yūnus, No. ١٠, verse ٦٥-١

Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ١٦٥-٢

Anyway, the pagans who were before them, played tricks on the believers, mixing their paganism with tricks and they did all this to refute the prophets

As Allah obliterated all their tricks, He will do the same with this lot as well. The verse says

”... ;And indeed those before them devised, but the devising altogether is Allah’s “

Therefore, Allah returns their tricks to themselves and He will provide clear evidences for His servants. No one’s traits are hidden from Allah whether they are good or bad, as he is knowledgeable unto all that there is to be known. The verse continues saying

”... ,He knows what every soul earns ...“

That is, Allah is aware of all tricks which are played on the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), and he obliterates them all, revealing His religion

Here, Allah threatens them by saying that they will soon learn as whose will be the Paradise. And this happens when the believers will enter the Paradise and the pagans will be sent into Hell. That is, the pagans will realize whether the ultimate happy ending is yours or theirs, which case reveals when Allah makes His religion manifest.

And those who disbelieve say: ‘You are not a messenger’. Say: Allah is sufficient “ .٤٣
”as a witness between me and you and he with whom is the knowledge of the Book

Commentary: verse ٤٣

We read in the first verse of this Sura that whatever is revealed to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is identical with the Truth, though most people disbelieve it. We also read in this last verse of the Sura that the pagans refute the prophetic mission of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). This indicates to the climax of the obstinacy and hostility of the seduced people as against the Divine Messenger and his words of truth. Therefore, it implies in this noble verse that they use a new pretext everyday, and they demand a new :miracle, and eventually they claim that he is not a prophet. The verse says

And those who disbelieve say: ‘You are not a “

”... ’messenger

Addressing them he should answer them: It was sufficient for them that two persons bear witness between them and him, one of whom was ‘Allah’ and the other one consists of those who have a full command of the knowledge of the Book, of the .Qur’ān

Both parties are aware that I am His messenger: Allah as well as those who are :knowledgeable about this Book, that is the Qur’ān. The verse says

Say: ‘Allah is sufficient as a witness between me and you and he with whom is the ...“
”.’knowledge of the Book

And this further stresses once again the miraculous nature of the Qur’ān in its .different aspects

As for the sentence “... and he with whom is the knowledge of the Book”, we have got the news which are in proximity of sequential order that the objective in mind is Amīr-ul-Mu’mineen, and in some, that the objective in mind is the Immaculate Imams. However, these quotations do not confirm a monopoly and as we have repeatedly said allusions to cases are made to perfect example or examples, and we claim that if the objective in mind is the glorious Qur’ān, no one else is knowledgeable as to the apparent and the hidden and as to the interpretations of the Qur’ān, having monopoly in such cases except the household of the prophet. As He declares: “... none knows its (hidden) interpretation except Allah and those firmly rooted in knowledge. ...” (Sura Al(i-‘Imrān, No. ٣, verse ٧

Abū Sa‘īd Khidary says: “I asked the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) about: the Qur’ānic phrase: ‘said he with whom was knowledge from the Book’, (which is found in the story of Solomon). He answered: ‘He was the inheritor of my brother Solomon and replaced him.’ I inquired: ‘Whom is it (the above verse) talking about and to whom allusions are being made?’ He answered: ‘He is my brother Ali Ibn Abi Tālib (a.s.)’.” (Al-Mizān) The author of Atyab-ul-Bayān claims that we may say the objective in mind of ‘the knowledge of the Book’ is the greatest Name of Allah, of which ‘Aṣif-Ibn-Barkhyā the inheritor of Haḍrat Sulaymān, only knew a faction and not more. And Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.), as well as other Immaculate Imams (a.s.), knew all in its entirety except what was kept by Allah for Himself. Some Islamic traditions denote that the relationship of the Qur'ānic phrase /min-al-kitāb/ to /ilm-ul-kitāb/ is just like a drop with respect to a green sea. Certainly, when one of the companions of Haḍrat Sulaymān, who had some partial knowledge of the Book, could at a glance revoke the throne of the queen of Saba before him, how mighty one might be if he possesses all the knowledge of that Book

According to the quotations, as we said, the objective in mind about whom he has the knowledge of the entire Book is Haḍrat Ali (a.s.) and Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s)

For further information about these quotations refer to Tafsīr Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, Tafsīr Burhān, Tafsīr Sāfī, and Tafsīr Kanz-ud-Daqā'iq

O' Allah! In the Name of Allah, The Beneficent, The Merciful

The Content of Sura 'Ibrāhīm

This holy Sura contains ٥٢ verses which were revealed in Mecca, except the verses ٢٨ and ٢٩ that are about those killed in the Badre campaign and are revealed in Medina

There are some matters in this Sura relating to the prophetic missions of the prophets, their admonitions, their tidings as well as the prayers of Haḍrat-i-'Ibrāhīm (a.s.). According to the commendation of quotations, reading this Sura has got blessings attached to it, among which one may name being secure and feeling of security from disasters, poverty and insanity

This Sura, owing to its discussion about Haḍrat-i-'Ibrāhīm (a.s.), has been named as 'Sura 'Ibrāhīm', and like its preceding Suras, such as: Yūnus, Hūd, and Yūsuf, it begins with Alif. Lām. Rā. The first verses of these holy Suras deal with the characteristics of the Qur'ān

”.(the light (of faith), into the way of the Mighty, the Praised (One

p: ١٥٢

Similar to some of other suras of the Qur'ān, this Sura begins with the abbreviated letters. What is worth mentioning here is that out of ۲۹ Suras, which begin with abbreviated letters, in ۲۴ of them the words next to them are about the Glorious Qur'ān. This indicates that there is a connection between these two, i.e. the abbreviated letters and the Qur'ān the Lord is perhaps seeking to exhibit that this great celestial Book, with such great meaningful content, that tops in the leadership of all human beings, begins with simple letters of the alphabet, which by itself is a sign of the significance of this Divine miracle

:Anyway, after the mention of the letters Alif, Lam, Ra, He says

This is) a Book which We have sent down to you so that, by their Lord's permission,)“
”... ,(you lead out the people from the darkness (of ignorance) into the light (of faith

In fact, all the educational objectives, as well as spiritual and material aims of the revelation of the Holy Qur'ān are condensed in this single sentence: 'leading the people from the darkness to the light', which means directing them towards enlightenment from the state of utter darkness; or directing the people from the state of darkness of paganism towards the state of illumination of faith; from the state of the darkness of oppression and tyranny towards the state of the enlightenment of justice; from the state of corruption and injustice into the state of righteousness and justice; from sin to piety and virtuosity, and finally from the state of disunity and dispersion into the state of unify

As the source of all good is the Pure Essence of Allah, and the main pre-condition of understanding of monotheism is focusing on this very reality, the Qur'ān adds immediately that all of these are achieved in accordance with the permission of people's Lord: "... by their Lord's ... ,permission

To clarify the issue further for the direction towards enlightenment, the Qur'ān implies that this enlightenment of faith is in the path of the Lord, the Dear and the Praised One. The Lord Whose Glory is a sign of His Power; and His Praised state is a :sign of His unlimited favours and blessings. The verse says

”(into the way of the Mighty, the Praised (One ...“

:Explanations

To bring people out of darkness into the light has been repeated several times in – ١ the Qur'ān. At times, this act is attributed to Allah: "... Allah is the Guardian of those who have faith; He brings them out of the darkness into the light; ..." (Sura Al- (Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ٢٥٧

Sometimes, this is attributed to the prophets: "... 'Bring forth your people from the (darkness into the light ..." (The current Sura, verse ٥

.At other times, it is attributed to the Book, like the verse under discussion

Using metaphors of profanity, disunity, ignorance and skepticism as well as – ٢ paganism, described as "darkness", is for the sake that man in these cases is amazed, .like the time when he is in darkness

Light is the means for seeing, awakening, movement, guidance and development, –٣ .as they are all included in the celestial Book and the way of Allah

The Qur'ān is not adequate in itself; the Divine leader is also necessary for guiding –٤ .the people as well

The philosophy underlying the revelation of the celestial Books, and the prophetic – mission of the prophets are concerned with the salvation of mankind from the darkneses: from the darkness of ignorance into the light of knowledge; from the darkness of profanity into the light of faith; from the darkness of disparity into the .light of unity, and finally from the darkness of sin into the light of virtue

(٣) الَّذِينَ يَسْتَحِبُّونَ الْحَيَاةَ الدُّنْيَا عَلَى الْآخِرَةِ وَيَصُدُّونَ عَن سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ وَيَبْغُونَهَا عِوَجًا أُولَئِكَ فِي ضَلَالٍ بَعِيدٍ

Those who prefer the life of the world to the Hereafter, and hinder (others) from “ ٣. ”.the path of Allah, and seek to make it crooked. They are in far error

Commentary: verse ٣

To enjoy oneself in this world is permissible, but to prefer this world to the next is a dangerous thing, for ones adherence to this world, necessarily obstructs him from his worship, spending out of belongings, participating in the Holy War, obtaining the allowed profits, truthfulness, and the performance of religious duties. And, eventually, seeking of worldly pleasures paves the way for paganism and is leading a campaign against religion which consequences aberration

Therefore, the Qur’ān tends to introduce the pagans in this verse, and it makes their position quite transparent by mentioning three parts of their characteristics so that everybody can recognize them at first sight. At first, it says

Those who prefer the life of the world to the“

”... ,Hereafter

And they sacrifice every thing even their faith and the truth in face of the mean interests, passions, and their low desires. Then the Qur’ān implies that they are not even content with this, but, in addition to their own seduction, they seek to seduce others as well. They stand in the way of the people in order to obstruct them from the path of Allah. Or they even tend to introduce changes in it as well

In fact, their job is to decorate the low desires and persuade the people to commit sins, frightening them of being honest and pure, while seeking to bring others in line with themselves. Through adding superstitions and all kinds of distortions to it as well as creating dirty and ugly traditions, they try to achieve their objectives. The verse says

”... and hinder (others) from the path of Allah, and seek to make it crooked ...“

It is obvious that such people distance themselves from the true path in an extensive manner with such qualifications and overt behaviour. Such a state of being misled which makes it an impossibility for them to return to the point of the truth because of its remote distance. However all such conditions and states of mind are the product of their own behaviour. The verse says

”.They are in far error ...“

Incidentally, one must know that obstruction of Allah’s path is not confined to one or two cases. On the contrary, inappropriate propaganda, overt committing of sins, spread of the methods of corruption and of ways of negligence, inciting of skepticism, creating and spreading the means of discord, and spreading of seducing films and publications, misrepresenting the religion of the truth, introducing the wrong kind of people as the identification religious figures, are all among tens of examples of the obstruction of Allah’s path

(٤) وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَا مِنْ رَّسُولٍ إِلَّا بِلِسَانِ قَوْمِهِ لِيُبَيِّنَ لَهُمْ فَيُضِلَّ اللَّهُ مَنْ يَشَاءُ وَيَهْدِي مَنْ يَشَاءُ وَهُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الْحَكِيمُ

And We never sent a messenger except with the language of his people, so that he “ .٤ might explain (Our Message) to them clearly; then Allah leads astray whom He .pleases and guides whom He pleases, and He is the Mighty, the Wise

Commentary: verse ٤

The object in mind as of /lisān-i-qaum/ in this verse is not confined only to the language of the people, for it sometimes happens that a speaker speaks in the .language of a people though they might not understand him properly

As Allah remarks in other verses: “So We have made it (the Qur’ān) easy in your tongue ...” (Maryam, No. ١٩, verse ٩٧) Haḍrat-i-Mūsā also asks Allah to release his tongue in such a manner that the people understand his words: “And loose a knot from my tongue,” “(That) they may understand my saying.” (Sura TāHā, No. ٢٠, verses (٢٧-٢٨

:The verse under discussion says

And We never sent a messenger except with the language of his people, so that he “ ... ;might explain (Our Message) to them clearly

In the meantime, the purpose of “Allah leads astray” is depriving of obstinate people from His grace. Otherwise if Allah wanted to mislead any one directly, He would neither send any Books, nor would He send any prophet. In other verses we read that Allah misleads the unjust, transgressors, and the lavish persons. That is, man deprives himself from the divine guidance and paves the way for his own seduction by committing sins and acts of tyranny

Some commentators have claimed that the subject of /yašā’/ is the people and not Allah. That is, Allah misleads him who wishes himself to be misled and leads the one :whom he wishes to be led. The verse says then Allah leads astray whom He pleases and guides whom He pleases, and He is ... “

”.the Mighty, the Wise

He is Omnipotent under all circumstances and as a result of His Glory and Power though He will not mislead any one for no reason as a consequence of His wisdom. However, the first steps are voluntarily taken with their utmost freedom by the servants on the path of Allah (s.w.t.) and then the enlightening rays of guidance are
.cast and the grace of Allah covers them in their hearts

Those who have alienated themselves from eligibility of meriting Allah’s approbation because of their obstinacy and fanaticism, and their hostility against the truth and as a consequence of being immersed in the abyss of their passion or tyranny, are
.deprived from the favour of guidance and are lost in utter darkness

As it can be seen, the origin and the source of guidance and seduction lay in our own .hands

Incidentally, one must keep in mind that the propagation of the truth by the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), which has been done in the language of his local people, is not incompatible with the cosmopolitan and universal nature of the religion. For, the content of the text or message does not have any particular medium of expression, and, on the recommendation of the Qur’ān, some groups must learn religious matters, whether
.by going on exodus or by giving up their special favours so as they can teach others

(٥) وَلَقَدْ أَرْسَلْنَا مُوسَىٰ بِآيَاتِنَا أَنْ أَخْرِجْ قَوْمِيكَ مِنَ الظُّلُمَاتِ إِلَى النُّورِ وَذَكَرَهُمْ بِآيَاتِ اللَّهِ إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَاتٍ لِّكُلِّ صَبَّارٍ شَكُورٍ

And indeed We sent Moses with Our Signs (saying): ‘Bring forth your people from “ ٥. the darkness into the light and remind them of the days of Allah. Verily there are signs ”.’(in this for every patient, grateful (one

Commentary: verse ٥

Allah is alluding in this noble verse to one of the samples of the sending of the prophets as against their contemporary despots for getting them out of the darkness :and directing them to light. He says

And indeed We sent Moses with Our Signs (saying): ‘Bring forth your people from the “ ...darkness into the light

:Then, referring to one of the great missions of Moses (a.s.), it remarks

”... and remind them of the days of Allah ...“

.The days of Allah” are all those days which stand prominent in the history of mankind“

Each day which marks the beginning of a new chapter and provides an instructive lesson for man and has witnessed the emergence or the uprising of a prophet or has witnessed the downfall of an unruly despot or pharaoh, is considered as “the day of Allah”. In short, on every day when one witnesses that justice is being achieved and an injustice or any innovation has been wiped out, all such days are among the days .of Allah

A tradition quoted from Imam Bāqir (a.s.) indicates that he remarked: “The days of Allah refer to: the day on which the uprising of the promised Mahdī (a.s.) takes place, and to the day of Return to life, as ”..well as the Resurrection day

At the end of the verse the Qur’ān remarks that: in these words and throughout all the days of Allah there are signs for each man and for every persevering, resisting and :grateful individual. The verse says

”.(Verily there are signs in this for every patient, grateful (one ...“

Therefore, the faithful people will neither lose their way when they are having a hard time so that they submit to the events, nor do they become arrogant and negligent during the days of victory and affluence. All they often do is that they constantly show
.their gratitude towards Allah

:Explanations

Concentration on history leads to and paves the way for one’s patience and – ۱ gratitude. The remembrance of the catastrophes and of the past bitter events and their removal, makes man grateful and thankful, and once his attention is focused on the resistance of the nations and on their eventual victory, this invites man to
.patience and perseverance

All days are the days of Allah (s.w.t.), though the day of the glorification of Allah’s – ۲ power is a different matter. (The glorification of His Power is seen through His punishment over the pagans, and the glorification of His favor over the believers is .(regarded as the days of Allah

(٤) وَإِذْ قَالَ مُوسَىٰ لِقَوْمِهِ اذْكُرُوا نِعْمَةَ اللَّهِ عَلَيْكُمْ إِذْ أَنْجَاكُمْ مِنْ آلِ فِرْعَوْنَ يَسُومُونَكُمْ سُوءَ الْعَذَابِ وَيَدَّبُّونَ أَبْنَاءَكُمْ وَيَسْتَحْيُونَ نِسَاءَكُمْ وَفِي ذَلِكَ بَلَاءٌ مِنْ رَبِّكُمْ عَظِيمٌ

And (remember) when Moses said to his people: ‘Remember Allah’s favour to you “ .٤ when He delivered you from Pharaoh’s people. They afflicted you with evil chastisement, slaughtering your sons, and sparing your women; and in this was a ”.great trial from your Lord

Commentary: verse ٤

He alludes to one of those Divine days, in this verse, and to those eventful and illuminated days which existed in the history of the Children of Israel, and the mentioning of which provides an appropriate admonition for the Muslims. The Qur’ān, addressing them, implies that you should remember the time when Mūsā told his own nation that they would remember Allah’s blessings and favor at the time when He liberated you from the hands of the Pharaoh’s people. Verily they were punishing you and inflicting the worst kind of chastisement on you, used to decapitate your sons before you and used to keep your wives alive for the sake of service to them. The :verse says

And (remember) when Moses said to his people: ‘Remember Allah’s favour to you “ when He delivered you from Pharaoh’s people. They afflicted you with evil ”... ;chastisement, slaughtering your sons, and sparing your women

Such has been the case with every colonizing power throughout history that it has always sought to destroy and perish parts of the aggressive, active and resisting powers, or to render useless other sections of such powers, and finally, to weaken other segments so as to utilize them for the sake of and in line with their own :interests. The verse continues saying

”.and in this was a great trial from your Lord ...“

Incidentally, such trial and test has not been the case only in connection with the Children of Israel, but it has also been the case with all the nations as well that the day of their liberation and independence from the hands of the despots, has been always .remembered as the Divine days

Point

Moses exhorts his people to accept the truth – The exhortations of the other apostles of Allah were first rejected – People demanding miracles from the apostles – The disbelievers' attachment to the false belief and the wrong conduct of their ancestors

(۷) وَإِذْ تَأَذَّنَ رَبُّكُمْ لَئِن شَكَرْتُمْ لَأَزِيدَنَّكُمْ وَلَئِن كَفَرْتُمْ إِنَّ عَذَابِي لَشَدِيدٌ

And (remember) when your Lord declared: ‘If you be thankful I will certainly “ .۷ increase you (your blessings) and if you be ungrateful, verily My chastisement is ”.’indeed severe

Commentary: verse ۷

Allah announces that if you are grateful for My favours, I shall augment your favors and if you deny them, My punishment covers all those who are ungrateful and deny :them. It says

And (remember) when your Lord declared: ‘If you be thankful I will certainly increase “ you (your blessings) and if you be ungrateful, verily My chastisement is indeed ”.’severe

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) has remarked: “Whoever was given a favor and by his heart made confessions as to having that and thanked Allah with his speech, praising Him, no later would he have finished uttering his words than Allah would have commanded that his ”.blessings be augmented

This verse is the most important and the most explicit verse of the Qur’ān in regard to thankfulness due to divine blessings or being ingratitude to them, which has been discussed after the verse concerning the blessings of freedom and the formation of the Divine government under the leadership of Haḍrat-i-Mūsā. This is the secret as to the fact that the Divine government and the godly leaders are the supreme blessings for mankind, and if thanksgiving is not performed for them, Allah will inflict a severe punishment on those who are not grateful

:There are various stages for thanksgiving

A- Cordial thankfulness, in which case, man regards all the blessings from Allah

B- Verbal thankfulness consists of uttering the words such as: “ (All) praise belongs to Allah”

C- Practical gratitude, which comes about as a result of performing religious rituals and spending one’s time along side gaining Allah’s satisfaction and in the service of people

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) says: “Avoiding sins is (a kind of) being grateful for the favours.” And he also said: “Thanking for Allah’s blessing is done once a person regards all blessings as originated from the part of Allah (and not from his own intelligence, wisdom, reasoning and one’s own struggle or that of other people’s), and that he is content with what Allah has given him, and does not use Allah’s blessings as a means of committing sins, he is really thankful to Allah. Real gratitude consists of the utilization Allah’s blessings for Allah’s ends.” (‘Usūl-i-Kāfī, section: Thanks giving). Thankfulness for the Divine blessings is very tiny and unmentionable

Some Islamic traditions indicate that Allah revealed to Moses: “Thank Me as it is My due!” Moses answered: “It is an impossible act, for each word of thanks requires another word of thanks.” The revelation came: “Your confession as to the fact that you are aware that whatever exists has its origin in Me, is the best way of thanking (Me. (‘Usūl-i-Kāfī, vol. ۴, p ۸

Incidentally, if we use Allah’s blessings in ways other than the path of Allah, we have practiced the act of ingratitude and paved the ground for disbelief and deserve :chastisement. The verse says

”and if you be ungrateful, verily My chastisement is indeed severe ...“

:Several Traditions Concerning Gratitude

Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) once said: “Continue (the act of) thanksgiving so as – ۱ (your favour becomes continuous. (Jāmi‘-i-’Ahādīth-ush-Shī‘ah, vol. ۱۳, p. ۵۴۵ Imam Sādiq (a.s.) said: “There are three things with which provide no harm: praying – ۲ when one is in difficulty, asking for forgiveness when one is sinning, and showing (gratitude when one is affluent.” (Bihār, vol. ۷۵, p. ۳۶۵

Imam Şādiq (a.s.) also said: “The gratitude for the blessings is avoiding the – ۳ prohibitions, and the totality of thankfulness is that one says: ‘(All) praise is (only) (Allah’s, the Lord of the Worlds’.” (Kāfī, vol. ۳, p. ۹۵ Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) said: “Thanking for the blessing causes it to be – ۴ preserved from alteration and guarantees its sustenance.” (Qurar-ul-Hikam, vol. ۲, p.

(۱۵۹

Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) said: “The result of showing gratitude is the – ۵ (multiplication of the favours.” (Nāsikh-ut-Tawārikh, vol. ۶, p. ۱۴۵ Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) said: “Any blessing for which gratitude is expressed – ۶ does not terminate; and when ingratitude is shown, it will not last long. (Bihār, vol. ۷۴,

(p. ۴۲۰

The holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) remarked: “The quickest punishment for the sins is (that – ۷ (of) ingratitude of a blessing.” (Safīnat-ul-Bihār, vol. ۱, p. ۷۱۰

(٨) وَقَالَ مُوسَىٰ إِنَّ تَكْفُرُوا أَنْتُمْ وَمَنْ فِي الْأَرْضِ جَمِيعًا فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ لَغَنِيٌّ حَمِيدٌ

And Moses said: ‘If you be ungrateful, you and whoso is on the earth, all together, “
”verily Allah is Self-Sufficient, Praiseworthy

Commentary: verse ٨

Our faith or disbelief and our gratitude or our ingratitude will have not any impact on
.His Inherent Essence

We must not hold Allah any indebtedness for our faith or acts since Allah is in no need
.of our deeds

This holy verse is a confirmation and complementary to the discussion regarding the gratitude and ingratitude, which were referred to in the previous verse. It is said from the tongue of Mūsa Ibn ‘Imran implying that he reminded the Children of Israel that if they and the entire people of the world become disbelievers, showing ingratitude towards the blessings of Allah there will be no harm to Him for He is in no need and is
.praise-worthy

And Moses said: ‘If you be ungrateful, you and whoso is on the earth, all together, “
”verily Allah is Self-Sufficient, Praiseworthy

In fact, thanking Allah for His blessings, and accepting the faith are sources of increasing one’s blessings and one’s evolution and pride, otherwise Allah is needless and were all the existing beings to turn ungrateful, His kingdom would remain just
.intact as ever

To define the Qur’ānic term /qanyy/ many commentators have claimed that it means withdrawal of ones needs. We have been of the opinion that it means “possession” and it includes the totality of Attributes of perfection of the Essence, qualities consisting of knowledge, power, life, sovereignty, splendour, magnitude, loftiness and so on and so forth. They require withdrawal of needs and defects. And the term /ḥamīd/ embraces the totality of attributes of action, which include all the Divine acts irrespective of creation, nourishment, death, revival, health, disease, blessings and catastrophe, reward, chastisement, needlessness, poverty, development, restraint, tightness, legislation of ordinances, sending prophets on their mission, substituting successors, allocation of duties, and His other acts are all consonant and in accordance with wisdom and expedience, that are correct, appropriate, and timely, all .of which signify ‘Justice’ and are among the principles of the Shi‘ite doctrine

Their messengers came to them with clear signs (miracles) while they thrust their hands into their mouths, and they said: ‘Verily we disbelieve in (that) which you have been .’sent with, and verily we are in doubt about that unto which you invite us

Commentary: verse ٩

This verse is one of the examples of reminding and calling attention to the Divine days which was dealt with in the fifth verse of the current Sura, where it says: “... and ... remind them of the days of Allah

According to Shaykh-i-Tūsī, (May his soul be sanctified) cited in Tafsīr-i-Tibyān, there are differences between the Arabic words /šakk/ and /rayb/. The former means natural skepticism while the latter signifies that kind of skepticism which is mixed with .suspicion and accusations

A doubt, which may pave the ground for research and acceptance of the truth, is a constructive type and useful type of criticism; while that kind of skepticism which is expressed with regard to the Clear Evidences’, or with regard to miracles is only of the obstinate and destructive kind of doubt which stands in the way of man for accepting the truth

Incidentally, one can translate the Qur'ānic holy sentence /faraddū 'aydiahum fī afwāhihim/ in several ways: A- The dissidents shut the mouth of those who were uttering the truth by putting their hands on their mouth. B- The miracles and the reasons of the prophets were so strong as if they had taken people's hands and put them on their mouth; alluding metaphorically to the fact that the language of the people was obstructed because of the truth and they had no words to say. C- The opponents of the prophets were so angry that they bit their fingers. D- The opponents of the prophets, at the presence of their prophet, would put their hands on their mouth, metaphorically alluding to the fact that they silence themselves and stop preaching

Anyway, here the Qur'ān refers to the fate of some groups of previous nations in several verses. Those nations who took to the road of ingratitude as against Allah's blessings and went on opposing and disbelieving in face of the call of the Divine leaders and their logic. Eventually, the Qur'ān explains their acts to be an emphasis on :what was said in the former verse. It says

Has not the account of those before you reach you of the people of Noah, and 'Ād, "
"... ?and Thamūd and those who (came) after them

:Then, it adds

"... .None knows them but Allah ..."

.This means that no one is aware of the news of them, except Him

Then, as a further explanation about their biographies, it implies that their prophets called on them with clear evidences though they put their hands on their mouths because of their amazement and denial, saying: We are ungrateful for whatever you are sent for, for we are skeptic as to what you call us for, and how would it be possible for us to accept :your call despite such a doubt and skepticism? The verse says

Their messengers came to them with clear signs (miracles) while they thrust their ... “ hands into their mouths, and they said: ‘Verily we disbelieve in (that) which you have ”.’been sent with, and verily we are in doubt about that unto which you invite us

(١٠) قَالَتْ رُسُلُهُمْ أَفِى اللّهِ شَكٌّ فَاطِرِ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ يَدْعُوكُمْ لِيُغْفِرَ لَكُمْ مِنْ ذُنُوبِكُمْ وَيُؤَخِّجَكُمْ إِلَىٰ أَجَلٍ مُّسَمًّى قَالُوا إِنَّ أَنْتُمْ إِلَّا بَشَرٌ مِّثْلُنَا تُرِيدُونَ أَنْ تَصُدُّونَا عَمَّا كَانَ يَعْبُدُ آبَاؤُنَا فَأْتُونَا بِسُلْطَانٍ مُّبِينٍ

Their messenger said: ‘Is there any doubts about Allah, the Originator of the “ ١٠ .
heavens and the earth?’ He calls you to forgive for you of your sins and respite you till an appointed term. They said: ‘You are nothing but mortals like us; you intend that you turn us away from what our ancestors used to worship. Then bring us some clear ”.’authority

Commentary: verse ١٠

In the previous verse, the pagans told the prophets: “You call us to the way of Allah.” However, in this verse, the prophets told them: “Allah calls you.” That is, our call does not initiate from our side and is not directed towards us. On the contrary, it originates
.in Allah and terminates in Allah as well

According to, Zamakhsharī and Marāghī, the promises of the Qur’ān concerning the faithful relate to the forgiveness of all of their sins, while concerning others the case is ”... forgiveness of some of their sins: “... to forgive for you of your sins

Anyway, as was explained in the previous verse with regard to the pagans and disbelievers and their lack of faith owing to their skepticism, immediately in this verse,
:He negates their skepticism with clear reasoning and in a concise statement, saying

Their messenger said: ‘Is there any doubts about Allah, the Originator of the “
”...’?heavens and the earth

Probably, the Arabic term /fātir/ (the Originator) refers to the splitting of the preliminary matter mass of the world which we are up-dated about in everyday life of the existing science we read that the totality of the world mass matter consisted of an integrated continuum which burst asunder, revealing and causing the emergence of .the globes

Anyway, here, as in other situations and cases, the Qur’ān insists on the creation of the system the world of existence as well as the creation of the heavens and the .earth for demonstrating Allah’s Existence and His Attributes

Then, it turns to answer the second criticism raised by the opponents whose criticism relates to the issue of the prophetic mission of the prophets. It implies that it is obvious that the Wise and Omniscient Creator of the world does not abandon His servants without a leader. On the contrary, by sending you messengers, He calls you so as to remove your faults and pollutions and forgive your sins. And He gives you a limited amount of time in order that you go through your development process and :make the most of your life. The verse says

.He calls you to forgive for you of your sins and respite you till an appointed term ...“
”...

In fact, the call of the prophets has had two objectives in mind: The forgiveness of sins and the continuation of life till a pre-fixed date, both of which are in fact having a cause-and- effect for each other. For, a society can continue to live which is on the whole pure from sins and injustice. However, despite all these, the obstinate disbelievers did not accept this enlivening call which was mixed with the evident logic of monotheism. They answered their prophets with the words :which were loaded with obstinacy and non-submission of the truth. The verse says

”... ;They said: ‘You are nothing but mortals like us ...“

Moreover you want to keep us from worshipping what our ancestors worshipped. In addition to all these, you must provide us with clear evidences. The verse continues

:saying

you intend that you turn us away from what our ancestors used to worship. Then ...“

”.’bring us some clear authority

Their messengers said (answering) them: “We are nothing but mortals like you, “ .١١ but Allah bestows (His) favour on whomever He pleases of His servants; and it is not for us that we bring unto you any authority except by Allah’s permission. And on Allah should the believers rely

Commentary: verse ١١

The Qur’ān in this holy verse implies that Allah bestows (His) favours on whomever He pleases and appoints him as His prophet, yet, Allah, the Wise, knows who has the capacity and who is capable of performing such a great responsibility. “... Allah knows (best where to place His apostleship. ...” (Sura Al-’An‘ām, No. ٦, verse ١٢٤

Incidentally, the disbelievers and the pagans had two claims to make with the prophets: ١- You are a man like all of us. ٢- Perform the miracle which we propose for .us

The answer to these two claims has been provided in this verse. We do accept the fact that we are human beings just like you; but Allah granted us this favour and has provided us with revelations. And as for your claim saying that our miracles must be performed according to your request. This cannot be achieved, for we reserve the right not to perform any miracles without Allah’s permission. Anyway, performing miracles is not our job, so that we tend to isolate ourselves sitting in a corner and perform extraordinary things with everyone requesting a different miracle as he wishes, thus making perform of extraordinary things into a useless affair, reducing it to a plaything matter. On the contrary, we cannot perform any miracles :without the command of Allah. The verse says

Their messengers said (answering) them: ‘We are nothing but mortals like you, but “ Allah bestows (His) favour on whomever He pleases of His servants; and it is not for ”... us that we bring unto you any authority except by Allah’s permission

Moreover, every prophet does perform miraculous works without being requested by .the people in order to prove his legitimacy

Afterwards, in order to provide the pretenders with a decisive answer regarding their various threats, they clarified their position, saying that all faithful individuals must rely on Allah, the same Almighty to Whose Power all powers are insignificant and :useless. The verse says

”And on Allah should the believers rely ...“

And why should we not rely on Allah while He has guided us to our ways (of “ .١٢ happiness)? And certainly we will bear patiently whatever hurt you inflict on us; and ”on Allah (alone) should the reliant rely

Commentary: verse ١٢

The Arabic term /tawakkul/ signifies ‘employing a lawyer or an advocate’. Such a person must have four attributes: perspicacity, honesty in keeping other’s deposits, power, and affection. No one but Allah possesses all these attributes fully. Thus we .must trust Him

Imam Riḍā (a.s.) said: “The border of the trust is that, by belief in Allah, you be scared of none.” (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn). Therefore, that Lord Who leads us will also protect us.
.Thus, we must solely trust Him

Therefore, providing transparent justifications for the issue of trust, the prophets said as to why must they not trust Him and ask for His help in all circumstances? Why must they be frightened by the straw powers and threats while He has led them through :the ways of happiness? The verse says

And why should we not rely on Allah while He has guided us to our ways (of “ ”... ?(happiness

Then, they would continue saying that now that they rely solely on Allah, Who is not vulnerable and is supreme over all things definitely, they should stand against all of :disbelievers’ tortures and harms. The verse says

”... ;And certainly we will bear patiently whatever hurt you inflict on us ...“

:Then, finally, they ended up their speech with these words

”.and on Allah (alone) should the reliant rely ...“

The objective of /tawakkul/ is to enable one not to have feelings of inferiority and weakness when facing with the greatness of difficulties, but by relying on the unending vast power of Allah, he should consider himself as conquering and victorious. Thus, surely such a trust is hope-inspiring and strengthening, and can .increase our resistance

The disbelievers threaten the Messengers against banishment from their land if they do not return to their creed – The punishment in store for disbelievers

And those who disbelieved told their messengers: ‘We will certainly expel you “ ۱۳. from our land, or else you return to our creed.’ Then their Lord revealed to them: ”. ‘Certainly We will perish the unjust

Commentary: verse ۱۳

Question: Were the prophets pagan before the onset of their mission when they were requested by the pagans to return to the previous beliefs of pagans

Answer: Firstly, perhaps the objective in mind of the disbelievers was the return of the prophets to be under to their own control. That is, they used to suggest supposedly you are believers, but you must not stand up against us and you, as well as your companions, deviate from our path

Secondly, the Arabic word /‘aud/ when is followed with /’ilā/ it means return to the prior condition. However, now that it is followed by /fī/, it denotes change and not returning to the previous condition, which implies change of ideas into their creed

Thirdly, the idea of returning to paganism probably implies the return of the prophets' companions and not of the prophets themselves

Anyway, as is usually the case with the way of life of the illogical people, that they quit the course of reasoning when they become aware of their weaknesses in ideas and in words, abandoning reasoning, they rely on forces and powers. Here, we notice when the prophets demonstrated their sound and explicit way of reasoning, which were discussed in the former verses, the obstinate and pretending pagans told their prophets that they would swear to drive them out of their lands unless they return to pagans' way of life which was the worshipping of the idols. The verse says

And those who disbelieved told their messengers: "We will certainly expel you from our land, or else you return to our creed

These unaware and arrogant people perhaps considered all of the lands as their own lands and they did not have any regards for their prophets, even they did not consider them as a compatriot, thus they used to say 'our land' while Allah has created the land and all its blessings for the sake of the righteous people

Then the Qur'an implies that while at the same time, Allah expressed His compassion to the prophets and reassured them, revealing to them that the tyrants would be perished and, therefore, they should not be scared of such threats and no weakness must appear in the strength of their will. The verse says

"Then their Lord revealed to them: "Certainly We will perish the unjust ..."

Commentary: verse ١٤

Allah, the Almighty, has promised that the oppressors will be perished and His saints would replace them, and since this promise has not been realized to the fullest possible way, it will be actualized at the time of the reappearance of Imam-i-Zamān (‘aj (the Expected Mahdī).

The blissful Qur’ān has repeatedly promised that the saint of Allah (s.w.t.) will be ruling the earth and their enemies will be annihilated. The Qur’ān says

And, certainly, We shall settle you in the land after them. This is for him who fears My “
”Majesty and fears My threat

We mention here only three cases regarding the verses concerning this Divine promise

A- “And verily Our host will definitely prevail.” ١

Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse ۱۶۵-۱

And they (the prophets as well as the believers) sought victory, but every “ ١٥ .obstinate oppressor remained deprived

Commentary: verse ١٥

Once all the prophets performed all their duties with regard to their nations, those who were supposed to become believers accepted the faith and the rest insisted on their paganism, and threatened frequently the prophets. It was at this time that they :asked Allah for victory over the pagans. The verse says

”... ,And they (the prophets as well as the believers) sought victory “

Allah also accepted the prayer call of these true warriors for holy causes who were genuinely beseeching. And, eventually every deviant stiff-necked person became :desperate and perished. The verse says

.but every obstinate oppressor remained deprived ...“

All the prophets were expecting victory. Noah called upon his Lord: “...Verily I am \(١\) (overcome, so give help?”

Other prophets also sought victory from Allah. They used to say: “... Our Lord! Decide between us and our people with truth, and You are the best of deciders.” \(٢\) Thus the Qur’ān, the blissful, through many verses deals with the victory of the prophets and the annihilation of the pagans as well as their punishment, declaring to the pagans decisively that the day of conquest will soon come and every spiteful oppressor will be .punished by his own retribution

(١٤) مِنْ وَرَائِهِ جَهَنَّمُ وَيُسْقَى مِنْ مَّاءٍ صَدِيدٍ

”Hell is before him, and he will be given to drink of festering fluid “ ١٤.

Commentary: verse ١٤

The Arabic term /warā’/ means the ultimate and the end of a course, as it is said in Persian, the end-result of this meal is becoming ill

There are three kinds of drink in Hell ١- A drink that consists of pussy fluid and blood, which comes out of a wound and is called ‘Şadīd’. ٢- Something which flows out of the skin of the hell-dwelling people and is called ‘Qassāq’. ٣- The third drink is ‘melted copper’ which is called ‘Hamīm

The drinks of the hell-dwelling people is burning and not quenching one’s thirst. A few Qur’ānic verses in this regard are

(A: “... who are made to drink boiling water so it rends their bowels a sunder.” (١)

B: “... They will be succoured with water like molten copper that shall scold the faces; (...” (٢)

Of course, those who burned the hearts of the faithful and who slapped them on their faces, making blood-bath flow by their destructive weapons and chemical bombs, must not have any punishment other than what was said. The verse says

”Hell is before him, and he will be given to drink of festering fluid “

He will drink it little by little which he can hardly swallow agreeably, and death will “ .١٧ come to him from every side, while he will not be about to die, and there will be a “vehement chastisement before him

Commentary: verse ١٧

The punishment of the hell-dwelling people is depicted well in the profile in this verse.

A- The chastisement of such people is bit by bit, little by little and gradual so as to be :tortured to the utmost. The verse says

”... ,He will drink it little by little which he can hardly swallow agreeably “

B- The different kinds of punishments take the dwellers of Hell as to the brink of their :death-beds, though they will not die despite all these. The verse continues saying

”... ,and death will come to him from every side, while he will not be about to die ...“

C- The chastisements are followed by graver consequences, which will be ever :increasing as well. The verse says

”and there will be a vehement chastisement before him ...“

The Qur’ān contains several qualities for the chastisement of the Hereafter Day: ‘painful, ‘severe’, ‘great’, ‘vehement’ all of which mean and make allusions to the .intensity and the magnitude of the type of chastisement

The Arabic word /'isāqah/ denotes drinking water with one's own will. The sentence mentioned in the verse signifies that one will never drink that water willingly. (Tafsīr .Tibyān

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) remarked: "Whoever drinks wine, his prayers will not be answered for forty days and it is appropriate for him that Allah makes him drink the ".stinking and infectious water of Hell

The Arabic term /ṣadīd/ means the festering fluid which comes out of a wound. And /tajarru': signifies sipping gradually and continuously. The Arabic term /'isāqah/ means making the drink flow through one's throat, and /'iṣṭidād/ means acceleration with all of one's power. The Qur'ānic word /'āsif/ means a strong wind which blows .during day-time, or it may mean the day in which blows a strong wind

The parable of those who disbelieve in their Lord, their deeds are like ashes on “ ١٨ . which the wind blows severely on a stormy day; they will have no power over any ”.(thing out of what they have earned; that is the very straying, far (and deep

Commentary: verse ١٨

The issue discussed in the previous verses concerned mostly with the loss and the disadvantage incurred by the obstinate oppressors and of their deprivations. Here, .we have an explanation upon the same meaning

Allah, the Almighty, converts the vices and the evils of the faithful into the good and the decent in case of their repentance, but the evil deeds of the disbelievers wipe out .the impact of their good deeds

Therefore, there is an explicit parable or example explained in this noble verse for the deeds of the unbelievers, which supplements the discussion of the previous verses as :to the ultimate end of the pagans. It says

The parable of those who disbelieve in their Lord, their deeds are like ashes on which “ ... ;the wind blows severely on a stormy day

The objective is all their deeds, even their apparently good deeds which are .orientated from paganism and idolatry

Just in the same way that ashes cannot stand in the way of a strong wind in a stormy day, even for one moment, and will spread immediately, and no one is able to assemble them, the same case is for the disbelievers in the truth who will be unable to gain any thing from the good deeds they have performed. All will be lost and gone with the wind, leaving them empty-handed. Such is the case with being misguided to the utmost. The verse

:says

” ٢٠ .And this is not difficult for Allah “

Commentary: verses ١٩–٢٠

The Qur’ān has repeated on several occasions that Allah has not created the heavens and the earth for vain and for the sake of fun of it. The Qur’ān says: “And We did not create the heavens and the earth and what is between them in sport.”<sup>(١)</sup> Elsewhere He remarks: “And We did not create the heaven and the earth and what is between them in vain, that is the opinion of those who disbelieve; ...”<sup>(٢)</sup>

Of course, it is the disbelievers who presume that the creation of existence is aimless and out of question

Now Allah declares that He has made man for the purpose of worshipping and of having faith and not for the sake of disbelieving and disobedience. Hence, He says

”... ?Did you not see that Allah created the heavens and the earth with truth “

The Qur’ānic term /ru’yat/ has been also employed in the sense of knowledge as well as its employment in the sense of perception' and 'seeing'. The meaning implied in the first sense is in mind in this' context. This statement is addressed to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), but the main aim is his .?Ummat

Do you not know that Allah created the skies and the earth as His Own wisdom required, which was in the name of the truth or for the aim of the truth? The purpose of the aim of the truth is the religion and worshipping. That is, He created the world so .as the people worship Him (s.w.t.) and they merit His rewards

The commentators of the Qur'ān have held the view that the truth signifies 'being identical and harmonious'. The structural system of the world of creation in here, as well as the skies and the earth, all show that there has been a great deal of wisdom, order, and aim involved in their creation. Neither Allah has been in need of their creation, nor would He feel any shortcomings brought about without them, for He is in .no need of any thing

Then, the Qur'ān implies that the reason as to Him having no need to you and your believing is that when He determines He will take you, replacing you with a new :generation of people. The verse says

”If He wills He will take you away and bring (in your place) a new creation ...“

A new generation of people who are all believers and who do not commit any of the indecent acts committed by you, for whoever is to be the author and the architect of .some thing is also able to destroy it

It is not impossible for Allah to annihilate you and create a new generation of people. :The verse says

Can you avert from us any part of the chastisement of Allah? They would say: ‘If Allah had guided us we too would have definitely guided you. It is all the same to us whether we cry or we are patient; there is no way for us to escape

Commentary: verse ٢١

The Arabic term /burūz/ denotes ‘exit’, and the word /mubāriz/ refers to the person who comes forth out of the line of the army and who declares his intention and readiness for combating the enemy

We had references made to the hard punishment and severe and painful chastisement of the obstinate disbelievers in some of the previous verses; the Qur’ān follows this matter up and supplements it in this verse as well. It first declares that all of them will appear in Allah’s court on the day of resurrection, (the oppressors, the pagans, the tyrants, including the ones who were authors or those who were subordinate in positions, the ones who led or the ones who followed). The verse says

”... And they shall come forth in front of Allah all together“

At this moment, the oppressed ones, that is, those ignorant lot who misled themselves to the sphere of darkness because of their blind obedience and imitation, addressing the seduced oppressors say: We were your followers and have been fallen into this entanglement of disastrous plight because of your leadership. Are you :then ready to bear part of our burden? The verse says

Then the week shall say to those who were the arrogant: ‘Verily we were your ... “ ?followers (in the world). Can you avert from us any part of the chastisement of Allah ” ...

.But they immediately will answer them

.They would say: ‘If Allah had guided us we too would have definitely guided you ... “ ” ...

Nevertheless, what a pity that there is no more room left for such complaints. It is all the same for us whether we become restless or go on crying; whether we are :persevering or impatient as there is no way out of our plight for us. The verse says

It is all the same to us whether we cry or we are patient; there is no way for us to ... “ ”.escape

And Satan says, when the affair is decided: ‘Verily Allah promised you the promise “ ۲۲ of truth; I also promised you but I failed to keep them to you, and I did not have any authority over you except that I called you and you responded me. Therefore, do not blame me, but blame yourselves. I cannot help you, nor can you help me. Verily I disbelieved in your associating me with Allah from before. Verily the unjust, for them ”.’shall be a painful chastisement

In the Hereafter, sinners seek to get others involved in their sins and they try to find fellow-conspirators so as to put the whole blame on them for the wrong they have committed. Sometimes the sinner will say: “Friends seduced me!” At other times he says: “Corrupt leaders made me corrupt”. Some other times, he blames the Satan and regards him as the cause of his own seduction. But, the Satan answers: Do not put the blame on me, I did not have any role to play except wavering your opinion and calling :you to it. It was you who decided to deviate and to become deviant. The verse says

And Satan says, when the affair is decided: ‘Verily Allah promised you the promise of “ truth; I also promised you but I failed to keep them to you, and I did not have any ”... .authority over you except that I called you and you responded me

The fact that the Satan has no domination over man, not only is verified by Allah but also the Satan himself confesses it. Addressing Satan, Allah says: “Verily (as regards) My (devoted) servants, there is not for you over them any authority, ...”\(١\) and in this verse, Satan says: “... and I did not have any authority over you, ...” However, in the :continuation of the above verse, the Holy Qur’ān says

Therefore, do not blame me, but blame yourselves. I cannot help you, nor can you ...“ help me. Verily I disbelieved in your associating me with Allah from before. Verily the ”.’unjust, for them shall be a painful chastisement

.Anyway, the Divine promises are all true and they are identical with the reality

And those who believed and did righteous deeds will be admitted to Gardens “ ٢٣ . beneath which rivers flow, wherein shall they abide for ever by their Lord’s permission; their greetings therein is: ‘Peace’.”

Commentary: verse ٢٣

In the day of resurrection, the people of Paradise will hear the word ‘Peace’ from every direction. ‘Peace’ from Allah to those whose residence is Paradise. “Peace: a word from a Merciful Lord.” (١) Peace from the part of the angels to the faithful: “... Peace be on you, you shall be happy; therefore enter it to abide.” (٢) ‘Peace’ from the residents of Paradise to one another: “... their greetings therein is: ‘Peace’.” (٣)

Sometime one goes somewhere by his own will, and at other times, it happens that others come along and take him to a place with some respect and particular ceremonies. Allah, the Almighty, remarks in this noble verse: /wa ’udxila/, that is, those who are dwelling in Paradise do not enter the Paradise in a simple and usual manner. On the contrary, they will be admitted to Paradise with particular respect and ceremonial gestures. The verse says

And those who believed and did righteous deeds will be admitted to Gardens “ beneath which rivers flow, wherein

In the noble verse ۷۳ of the blissful Sura Az-Zumar, No. ۳۹, the Qur’ān He also declares: “And those who are in awe of their Lord shall be conveyed to the Garden in companies until when they come to it, and its doors shall be opened, and the keepers of it shall say to them: ‘Peace be on you, you shall be happy; therefore enter it to ”.’abide

As for those who are residents of Hell, we read that they direct them towards the chastisement while they are being tortured: “Lay hold on him, then put a chain on (him.”(۱

There are various streams running in Paradise: A- Streams of water “.. In it are rivers of water incorruptible ...”(۲) B- Streams of milk “...rivers of milk of which the taste never changes...”(۳) C: Streams of wines with the nature of Paradise: “... rivers of wine, a joy for the drinkers ...”(۴) D: Streams of honey: “... a river of honey, pure and (clear....” (۵

The dwellers of Hell resent and detest one another and curse each other, while the dwellers of Paradise greet one another and will remain constantly in the Paradise. Those paradise-dwellers are sincere and cordial with one another and they always say ‘Peace’ to each other. They are never involved in quarrelling nor in estrangement

Have you not seen how Allah sets forth a parable? A good word is like a good tree, “ .٢٤ ”,the roots of which are fixed and its branches are in heaven

Commentary: verse ٢٤

A good tree and a tidy noble one has got several ensuing outcomes like: growing, bearing fruits abundantly, casting shadows and sustaining itself, and bearing fruits under all kinds of circumstances. A monotheistic person is never stagnant and the signs of his faith constantly reveal themselves in his speech and his acts. His faith is continuous and not seasonal, and he always calls others to the faith, persuading them :to act according what is allowed. The verse says

„Have you not seen how Allah sets forth a parable? A good word is like a good tree “
” ...

In some Islamic quotations and in the commentaries of the Qur’ān, several things as the examples of the Qur’ānic term /tayyibah/ are referred to. Monotheism, faith, correct and sound ideas, heavenly leaders and their companions are among them. Of course, monotheism is a constantly- fixed principle which is inherently embedded in .human nature

”... the roots of which are fixed ...“

.It affects all the deeds and words as well as the thinking of man

One can enjoy the fruits of faith at any time, anywhere, and in all of one’s ups and :downs. The verse says

”,and its branches are in heaven ...“

The tree of monotheism has got fixed roots. No threats, or conspiracies, no instigators and blame as well as the despots can uproot or eradicate it. If we find that in quotations this tree has been rendered to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and his Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.), it is because of this very reason that the religion of Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) and the path of his household widens ever more as against the background of all those enemies, and it will globalize one day

Commentary: verse ٢٥

The tree of faith always bears good fruits and there are no seasons for the faithful as
:autumn and winter. The verse says

”... ,The good tree) yields its fruits at all times by the permission of its Lord) “

The use of allegories, similes and parables are methods of the Holy Qur’ān for calling
:the attention of the people and of reminding them. The verse continues saying

”.and Allah sets forth parables for the people that they may reflect ...“

Therefore, all is mortal except Allah and the faith in Him. And whatever is mortal cannot bear fruits forever. However, whatever is godly by nature is eternal.(١) Of course, the colour of Allah is constant and other colours will vanish. “...and who can

The tree of faith always bears fruits and a believer is under all circumstances welfare or in hardship, in happiness or in disaster, in poverty or in wealth, and in time time of propagating religion, he does not expect any returns from others. When he is adamant, he will control himself for gaining Allah's consent.<sup>(١)</sup> At the time of marriage, he trusts in Him.<sup>(٢)</sup> At the time of worship and obedience, he has intention with divine motive.<sup>(٣)</sup> At the time of poverty, he does not go to the rich and is not of the flattering lot.<sup>(٤)</sup> In time of conquest or defeat, he is happy throughout his campaign for he is busy performing his duties.<sup>(٥)</sup>

Of course, faith in Allah, the Almighty, is like a tree the fruits of which satisfies man both in the world, and in the intermediate world, and in the Hereafter. However, man's property and position and his children as well as other blessings of this life are like a tree which bears fruits only for a few days and in a limited way, if such property, position, etc. might even bear no fruits at all, and, therefore, they become merely his own source of spiritual torture. Sura Al-Taubah, No. ٩, verse ٥٥ says: "So let not their possessions and their issues astonish you; verily Allah only desires thereby to chastise ... ,them in the life of (this) world

And the parable of an evil word is like an evil tree rooted upon the surface of the “ .٢٤
” .earth; it has naught of stability

Commentary: verse ٢٤

The Arabic word /'ijtiθāθ/ mostly signifies uprooting and eradication. The words, ideas and deviant individuals have neither got any roots, nor do they possess any fruits, flowers, beauty, perfume, perseverance, shade, and development. On the contrary, they are just thorns in the eyes of others

At any rate, as comparative studies present one of the best ways for understanding problems, the opposite of the ‘good tree’, pops up in ones mind soon and is discussed as: ‘the word evil and unclean’ is like the evil and unclean tree which is without any roots which is up-rooted from the earth and which is thrown to one side when standing in the stormy weather and has got no stability

It is interesting to note that the Qur’ān speaks in detail about ‘the good tree’ while, when talking about ‘the evil tree’, it describes it in one short sentence and passes by it. The verse says

And the parable of an evil word is like an evil tree rooted upon the surface of the “
” .earth; it has naught of stability

This method presents a delicate way of expression which encourages man to describe all qualification of the person once he is talking about the beloved one, whereas, when talking .about the detested individual, he discusses it in a very concise manner

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) is quoted as saying that the objective in mind with regard to (šajaratin xabiṯah/ (the evil tree) is the Umayyads. (Tafsīr Majma‘-ul-Bayān

(٢٧) يُثَبِّتُ اللَّهُ الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا بِالْقَوْلِ الثَّابِتِ فِي الْحَيَاةِ الدُّنْيَا وَفِي الْآخِرَةِ وَيُضِلُّ اللَّهُ الظَّالِمِينَ وَيَفْعَلُ اللَّهُ مَا يَشَاءُ

Allah confirms those who believe by a firm saying in the life of the world and in the “ ٢٧ .
” Hereafter, and Allah leaves the unjust to stray; and Allah does what He pleases

Commentary: verse ٢٧

That is, Allah provides stability for the believers, in this worldly life, because of their belief in the word monotheism and its sanctuary, so that they do not deviate and be misled from the path of the truth, making them staunch proponents lest they shall .deviate from the right path in their worldly affairs which will also result in Hereafter

Some commentators suggest: It means that Allah provides them with a living and settlement on earth, and He assists them to overcome their enemies and will place .them in the Paradise in the Hereafter

Ibn-i-‘Abbās and Ibn-i-Mass‘ūd and the majority of the commentators are of the belief that: This verse has been revealed to the question asked in the grave and the objective in mind is the grave once talking about the hereafter. That is, concerning the question of the grave, He fixes them over the issue of faith. Our dear Immaculate .Imams have also been quoted as such

Therefore, we read in various Islamic quotations that Allah keeps the believer stable on the line of faith once entering the grave at the time when angels ask questions :regarding his identity. This is the meaning of Allah confirms those who believe by a firm saying in the life of the world and in the “

”... ,Hereafter

In some of these quotations, we have it explicitly stated the word /qabr/ (grave), while in some other quotations we read that the Satan calls on the faithful at the time of death and tries to seduce him from every direction and any side by his temptations. However, Allah does not permit him to mislead the faithful and this is the meaning of .the abovementioned Qur’ānic sentence

Most of the commentators have accepted this commentary according to the quotation of the great commentator, Tabarsī, in Majma‘-ul-Bayān. Perhaps, their reason is that the hereafter is no place for erroneous behaviour, nor is it a place for practice, but it is only a place for attaining the results. However, at the time of the arrival of death, and even in the state of purgatory, which is the world that exists between this world and the Hereafter, there is the possibility of deviation more or less. It is in this circumstance that Allah’s favour comes to the assistance of man in .order to protect him and make him straightforward

Anyway, in two explanatory examples in the previous verses, the state of ‘faith’ ‘disbelief’ ‘a believer’, ‘a disbeliever’ and, in general, the state of every ‘clean’ and ‘untidy’ were visualized. In this verse, the consequence of the job and the ultimate
.destiny of man are referred to

First, it implies that Allah straightens and strengthens those who are believers, for their belief, their words and their ideas. He confirms them and protects them in this world, in the purgatory where there is a possibility of deviation, and in the Hereafter, for their belief has not been a superficial one and a shaky one, and their personality has not been a hypocritical and a versatile one. They will remain constant in their confrontation with difficulties and whims, and they will be kept clean of all scandalous flaws of character in here. Allah's endless blessings will be bestowed on them in the .eternal life there

:Then, dealing with the opposite point, it says

”.and Allah leaves the unjust to stray; and Allah does what He pleases ...“

We have repeatedly asserted that wherever, in the Qur'ān, there is the question of leading and misleading and it is attributed to Allah, its first steps have been taken by man himself. Allah's job is that very impact that has been created in every act, and also Allah's job is bestowal of blessings or withdrawal of blessings that are designated .by Him as a consequence of a person's suitability or his lack of worth

Have you not seen those who changed Allah's favour for ingratitude, and caused “ ۲۸. ”?their people to alight into the abode of perdition

”!Hell! They shall enter into it; and (what) a bad place it is “ ۲۹.

Commentary: verses ۲۸–۲۹

It is the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) who is being addressed in this verse and, in fact, it is a depiction of one of the aspects of ‘evil tree’ pointed out here. At first, the Qur’ān implies whether you did not see those who converted Allah's blessings and gratitude into ingratitude and sent themselves ultimately to the land of annihilation. Such people are the roots of the ‘evil tree’ and are the pioneers of paganism and deviation. The verse says

Have you not seen those who changed Allah's favour for ingratitude, and caused “ ”?their people to alight into the abode of perdition

Commentators have sometimes commented this blessing as the existence of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and, at other times, they have considered it to be Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.) and the ungrateful ones of this blessing to Umayyads, or to Banī Muqayrah and, at times, they have introduced all the unbelievers who were contemporaries of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). Yet, definitely, the meaning of the verse is extensive and covers a wide range, thus one cannot confine it to a certain group. It embraces all of those who have been ungrateful with respect to .one of the blessings of Allah and have misused it

The pagans and the unbelievers converted the great blessings of Allah into a matter of ingratitude. A- They took the option of paganism instead of the blessing of monotheism. B- They abandoned the blessing of the clean and pure inherent nature .and imitated their seduced ancestors

C- They preferred superstitions to the Divine revelation. D- They expressed their lack .of gratitude in face of the blessing of the Divine leaders and followed the despots

Many quotations indicate that the Imams (a.s.) of Shi'ites have remarked: "By Allah, we are the blessing of Allah that He bestowed upon His servants." (Majma'ul-Bayān) In other words, it means: Swearing to Allah: the blessings which were converted were our existence. The folks abandoned us and went in search of other leaders. Thus, they .changed the blessing of Allah

The Qur'ān, later, comments on the Qur'ānic phrase: /dār-ul-bawār/ (a bad place) as: It is Hell in the flames of which they will immerse, and it is the worst of all places for .someone to settle, for its ultimate end is annihilation

In other word, they invite their people to oppose against the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), :throwing them into the Hell Fire, and what an evil abode is Hell. The verse says

"!Hell! They shall enter into it; and (what) a bad place it is "

(٣٠) وَجَعَلُوا لِلَّهِ أَنْدَادًا لَّيُضِلُّوا عَنْ سَبِيلِهِ قُلْ تَمَتَّعُوا فَإِنَّ مَصِيرَكُمْ إِلَى النَّارِ

And they set up (idols as) equals to Allah that they might mislead (the people) “ ٣٠ .
”from His path. Say: ‘Enjoy yourselves, for verily your journey’s end will be the Fire

Commentary: verse ٣٠

Some consider equal partners for Allah in the course of the creation of the world. Others consider equal partners for Allah in connection with His blessings. Such people consider enjoying good health, knowledge, power, splendour, and property as of the outcome of their own ability, and or as the result of different powers. Nonetheless, they soon find out that they have gone astray. Therefore, the Qur’ān alludes to one of the worst cases of ingratitude in this verse, and says

And they set up (idols as) equals to Allah that they might mislead (the people) from “
”... His path

They do all these things so as to make the people deviate from thinking about the true path and, as a result, they enjoy their material life, and presiding over and governing the people also for a few days. Then the verse, addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), implies that he should tell them to enjoy themselves out of this worldly life which is worthless. However, they must know that the ultimate objective of their job will direct them towards the hell-fire. The verse says

”Say: ‘Enjoy yourselves, for verily your journey’s end will be the Fire ...“

Notwithstanding such a life is not a true life; it is rather a misery, and such a presidency and governorship is of no value, but, in its real sense, it is deceit, disaster, and affliction

(٣١) قُلْ لِّعِبَادِيَ الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا يُقِيمُوا الصَّلَاةَ وَيُنْفِقُوا مِمَّا رَزَقْنَاهُمْ سِرًّا وَعَلَانِيَةً مِنْ قَبْلِ أَنْ يَأْتِيَ يَوْمٌ لَا بَيْعَ فِيهِ وَلَا خِلَالَ

O' Prophet! Say to My servants who have believed, to perform the prayers and to “ ٣١ . spend (in charity) out of what We have provided them, secretly and openly, before the ”.coming of a Day in which there shall be neither bartering nor befriending

Commentary: verse ٣١

Openly spending out of the wealth may encourage the present generation, and cause the encouragement of others, and self-acquittal from all accusations, while secretly spending out of the wealth is the cause of development and sincerity. Some commentators, of course, have claimed that overt spend relates to the obligatory giving away of the wealth, like Khoms (one fifth) and alms, while secretly giving away .of it relates to the recommended cases, such as: charity

Although each of the open and in secret giving away of the wealth exerts some impacts on others, nonetheless, one can perhaps say that to give away part of the wealth in secret is better, for the Qur'ānic term /sirran/ (secretly) precedes the word ./alānyatan/ (openly) in this verse

:Explanations

In order to command others, respect their personalities first. Serving as - ١ :subservient to Allah provides the believers with a medal of honour. The verse says

”... O' Prophet! Say to My servants “

Having mere faith in the bottom of one's heart is not sufficient. Prayers, giving – ۲
:away of one's wealth, and good deeds are also necessary. The verse says who have believed, to perform the prayers and to spend (in charity) out of what ... “ ”... ,We have provided them

Islam is a comprehensive religion. One's relationship with Allah (s.w.t.), along with – ۳ one's assistance to the deprived, are coupled with each other and are required for the .acceptance of both to perform the prayers and to spend (in charity) out of what We have provided ... “

”... ,them

spending out is not only confined to wealth alone. One must often share whatever – ۴
.he has with others, whether they are knowledge and wealth, or prestige and power

Giving away of the wealth must be out of one's allowed earnings and wealth, and – ۵ not out of whatever wealth we have. Allah said: “We have provided them” and He did

The act of spending out of the wealth must sometimes be done in secret and – ۶

:One must take the opportunity. The Qur'ān remarks – ۷

Allah is He Who created the heavens and the earth, and sent down water from “ ٣٢ . the sky; then brought forth fruits with it to be sustenance for you; and He has made the ships subservient to you that they might run through the sea by His command; ”.and He has made the rivers subservient to you

Commentary: verse ٣٢

:The issue of ‘water’ is being discussed in this noble verse from three dimensions

Rain-water by which irrigation of the plants, source of their life, and purification of ١ – the weather are provided

Sea-water which provides the water required for the life of the sea animals, and ٢ – which also provides water ways for the passage of ships, and is the source of clouds and rain

.Canal waters which provide an irrigation system for regions lacking water ٣ –

In the previous verse, the Qur’ān made allusions to prayers and sharing of one’s wealth with others. In this verse, it asserts: Why are you so neglectful in connection with spend despite the fact that Allah has provided you with everything? The holy :verse says

Allah is He Who created the heavens and the earth, and sent down water from the “ sky; then brought forth fruits with it to be sustenance for you; and He has made the ships subservient to you that they might run through the sea by His command; and He has ".made the rivers subservient to you

The Arabic term /tasxīr/ denotes both utilization of all interests, such as the making subservient of the sun and the moon, and in the sense of man's full domination, such .as making the ships and canals subservient to him

In the end, cognition of Allah's blessings is the best method for theology which is coupled with general understanding and the public love, motives and worship. Among .entire blessings of Allah, water is one of the most important of them

(۳۳) وَسَخَّرَ لَكُمْ الشَّمْسَ وَالْقَمَرَ دَائِبِينَ وَسَخَّرَ لَكُمْ اللَّيْلَ وَالنَّهَارَ

And He has made the constantly moving sun and the moon subservient to you, “ ۳۳ .
”and He has made the night and the day subservient to you

Commentary: verse ۳۳

The Qur’ānic term /dā’ibīn/ is derived from the word /da’b/ which means a ‘continuous habit’. Maraghī has mentioned in his commentary that /dā’ibīn/ means ‘those .?continues in moving

Certainly, the sun is a great power house which functions constantly, as contrary to the man-made power plants which require repair every now and then and close down at times. Once the sun disappears for sometime, what will then happen? How will man’s life and the life of the plants and animals terminate or come to an end? In face of the existence of numerous microbes and lack of heat and steam, what kind of catastrophe would await the world? Allah not only conquered and made the existing beings subservient to you but He also made the constantly moving sun and moon :subservient to you. The verse says

Allah not only made the existing beings of this world subservient to you but He also made their accidental states as submissive to you in the same way He did with the .day and night

From the Qur’ān’s point of view, man is so splendid that all these beings are made submissive to him by the command of Allah. That is, either they are directly at the .service of man’s interest, or they are running by man’s control

(٣٤) وَعَاتَاكُمْ مِنْ كُلِّ مَا سَأَلْتُمُوهُ وَإِنْ تَعُدُّوا نِعْمَتَ اللَّهِ لَا تَحْصُوهَا إِنَّ الْإِنْسَانَ لَظَلُومٌ كَفَّارٌ

And He has given you whatever you have asked Him; and if you count Allah's "٣٤ .blessings, you are unable to number them. Verily, man is very unjust, very ungrateful

Commentary: verse ٣٤

We read in verse ١٨ from Sura An-Nahl "And if you count Allah's blessings, you are unable to number them. Verily Allah is Forgiving, Merciful." In the previous verses, we read that the corrupt leaders direct and lead people towards persons or objects other than Allah: "And they set up (idols as) equals to Allah ..." (١) This verse proclaims: despite the fact that the ones other than Allah are unable to do anything, and whatever one possesses belongs to Allah alone, but man is usually heedless in these .respects and is ungrateful in these connections

In the meantime, the Arabic term /'add/ signifies counting, and the term /'ihṣā'/ means 'to count accurately in such a way that nothing is left over in the process'. Anyway, if one decides to count Allah's blessings, he can never do that, for the material and spiritual blessings provided by Allah are so widespread throughout our lives, and our :environment which can never be counted. The verse says

And He has given you whatever you have asked Him; and if you count Allah's " .blessings, you are unable to number them. Verily, man is very unjust, very ungrateful

Nonetheless, despite all those favours and Divine grace, mankind is still oppressive and ungrateful for Allah's blessings. The blessings which if utilized properly can turn
.the entire world into a paradise-like garden

In fact the Qur'ān implies: O' man! Everything is at your disposal in sufficient quantities but on condition that you are not ungrateful and oppressive, while you should try to remain content with your lot and with your own rights and do not violate
.the rights of other people

Abraham prays for himself and his sons to be kept always on the right path of prayer and devotion – He prays for the land (Mecca) in which he houses his family, to be secured and attracted by the faithful ones among men – Prayer for one's self, his parents and all the faithful ones for pardon on the Day of Reckoning

And (remember) when Abraham said: ‘My Lord, make this city secure and “ ٣٥ ”.distance me and my children from worshipping the idols

Commentary: verse ٣٥

This verse and the following verses exhibit a profile and the content of the prayers of 'Ibrāhīm (a.s.) which reflect his burning desire for Allah and his greatness in spirit and, perhaps, this is the reason why this Sura has been named Sura 'Ibrāhīm

Ibrāhīm (a.s.) prayed for Mecca on two occasions: The first instance was when he settled Ishmael and Hājar there and asked Allah to make that city secure.<sup>(١)</sup> The :verse says

”... And (remember) when Abraham said: ‘My Lord, make this city secure “

p: ٢١٨

The second occasion that he prayed for Mecca was when a multitude of people came to Mecca to settle down there. 'Ibrāhīm (a.s.) prayed saying: "... 'My Lord, make this a secure City ...' \(1\)

Question: Are all of the people of the generation of 'Ibrāhīm monotheists because of this prayer

Answer: Prayers present one factor and the will of the children provides another factor. Let us not forget the story of Noah's son

Question: How is it that 'Ibrāhīm (a. s.) recalled Mecca as a town while he refers to it in the following verses "as a valley without cultivation?" \(2\)

Answer: The state of township of Mecca returns to the time when the tribes arrived in that region, in which case the prayer also relates to that time, or we might say that if a region is arid and without cultivation, this would not make it incompatible with becoming a township. At the present moment, Mecca is also in a region which is arid in general

Question: Notwithstanding the fact that Abraham (a.s.) was a champion of monotheism, why is it that he prayed to Allah to distance him from paganism? The verse in this regard continues saying

"and distance me and my children from worshipping the idols ..."

Answer: The Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) also was constantly having his steps in the Straight Path and was heading in the straightforward direction. Nonetheless, he used to say in every prayer: "Guide us (O' Lord) on the Straight Path." That is, if one is even sure that he is heading in the right direction, he must be scared of the dangers of deviation either and must seek Allah's

p: ۲۱۹

.assistance

The objective in mind of 'to make security' is a law which guarantees the security of Mecca, and not to the matter that Mecca has always been safe and secure throughout its history. For, Mecca has been repeatedly invaded by hostile forces and immense blood has been shed there. The Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) and his companions were also tortured there, and Imam Hussayn (a.s.) abandoned the Hajj rituals because of lack of security of Mecca. Nevertheless, the Divine law has .designated it as a safe and secure region

(٣٦) رَبِّ إِنَّهُمْ أَضَلَّلَنَّا كَثِيرًا مِّنَ النَّاسِ فَمَنْ تَبِعَنِي فَإِنَّهُ مِنِّي وَمَنْ عَصَانِي فَإِنَّكَ غَفُورٌ رَّحِيمٌ

My Lord, verily, they (idols) have misled many of the people. Then, whoever “ ٣٦ follows me, he is definitely of me, and whoever disobeys me; then verily you are ”.Forgiving, Merciful

Commentary: verse ٣٦

Question: How is it that the idols, which are statues of stone and wood, can mislead
?man

Answer: Firstly, the idols are not always inanimate objects. Sometimes, men and those who are despots also become idols. Secondly, sometimes ignorance of a people causes stone and wood to be turned into valuable and precious commodities. Thirdly, the issue of the art involved in the jewelry, which was carried along with the idols, was
.attractive

If we interpret this noble verse along with the previous one, we obtain desirable conclusions, for we had it in the previous verse that 'Ibrāhīm (a.s.) said: “ My Lord! ... distance me and my children from worshipping the idols”. In this verse he says: “... whoever follows me, he is definitely of me, ...” Therefore, all the monotheists of the world are the scholastic children of 'Ibrāhīm by ideology. The Qur'ān says: “... The faith of your father, 'Ibrāhīm; ...”<sup>(١)</sup> And as the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “Ali and I are the fathers of this Ummah.” However, if a pagan is even the son of a prophet, he will also be addressed: "... O' Noah! Verily he is not of your family, ..." (1)

p: ٢٢١

Hadrat Ali (a.s.) remarks: " Verily, the friend of Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) is he who obeys Allah though he may be distanced by his blood. And verily the foe of Muhammad is he who disobeys Allah though he might be near to him (p.b.u.h.) by his blood." (2)

Incidentally, there is a scholastic and an ideological relationship between the celestial leaders and the faithful people. It is for this reason that the prophets (a.s.) were even .compassionate with their own opponents and they never disappointed them

Commentary: verse ٣٧

When Allah bestowed Ishmael to Abraham in his old age, He commanded him to settle that child with his mother in Mecca. Abraham obeyed the Divine order and then he prayed for them

Some Islamic quotations denote that Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said: “We are the Ahl-ul-Bayt of the Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) and the remaining descendents of Abraham. That is why the people’s hearts are inclined towards us.” Then, he recited this verse: “Our ... Lord! Verily I have settled (a part) of my offspring in a valley without cultivation

The Ka‘bah was located in a desert with no water and vegetation so that the people might be tried by it. As Haḍrat-i-Ali (a.s.) declared in the sermon of Ghāsiyah: “If the Ka‘bah were situated in a place with a good climate, the people would not go on a pilgrimage toward it for the sake of Allah

The call and prayers of the prophets (a.s.) are accepted. Abraham in this verse says: “...“... and provide them with fruits

In another verse Allah says: "... a safe, sacred territory to which fruits of every kind (shall be drawn? ...)" (1)

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) has stated: "Whatever fruits are found in the east or in the west of ."the world can be found in Mecca

:However, Abraham (a.s.) continued with his prayers and his invocation as follows

Our Lord! Verily I have settled (a part) of my offspring in a valley without cultivation "
"... ;near Your Sacred House, in order, Our Lord! that they may establish prayer

Afterwards, when Allah bestowed a son on Abraham from his female-slave, Hājar, and called him Ismā'īl, his first wife's jealousy, Sārah, was provoked and, she could not tolerate Hājar and her son. She asked Abraham to take that mother and child to another place, and Abraham submitted to this request which was in accordance with Allah's command. Ishmael and his mother, Hājar, were taken by him to the land of Mecca which was then an arid land, lacking everything in those days. He left them there and said Good-bye to them. Then Abraham continued his prayer to Allah implying that: Now that they have settled down in this extremely hot desert for the respect of Your great house, persuade some people to pay attention to them heartily, and have affection for them. Let them enjoy all kinds of fruits, whether material or :spiritual, perhaps they might be grateful to you. The verse continues saying

”.nothing in the earth nor anything in the heaven is hidden from Allah

Commentary: verse ٣٨

Now that everything is obvious for Allah (s.w.t.), and His knowledge encompasses everything and every affair of us, we, therefore, must not commit sin in His presence and not interfere in His creatures except with His satisfaction and His commands. We must remain sure that nothing will be hidden from Allah on the earth and in the skies.

:The verse says

Our Lord! Verily, You know whatever we hide and whatever we manifest, and “
”.nothing in the earth nor anything in the heaven is hidden from Allah

And Abraham invokes Allah declaring that once I am in distress for being parted from my son and wife, You know that well, and in case a drop of tears is shed from my eyes You notice. And if at the time of my separation from my wife she tells me: “Whom do you appoint as my guardian?” You are aware of all these things, and the future of this land as well as the future of them, which are interwoven with one another, are all
.transparent and crystal clear before You and Your knowledge

Praise be to Allah, Who has granted me in old age Ishmael and Isaac. Verily my “ ٣٩ .

Commentary: verse ٣٩

:Ishmael and Isaac are among the specific blessings of Allah, for

They were born because of the prayers of the prophet of Allah, 'Ibrāhīm. ٢- They – ١ were born during the old age of their father. ٣- They were both righteous children. ٤-
.They headed their following chain of prophets

Incidentally, what is important is the issue of having righteous children, whether they are born by a female slave or else. (Ismael was born by a female slave and Ishaq was (born by a free woman

At any rate, one's children are gifts from Allah and nothing deters or serves as a hindrance for Allah's Will and the Divine power; therefore, senility did not obstruct him
:from having children. The verse says Praise be to Allah, Who has granted me in old age Ishmael and Isaac. Verily my Lord “

”and accept my petition

Our Lord! Forgive me and my parents, and the believers on the Day when the “ .٤١
”.reckoning shall come to pass

Commentary: verses ٤٠–٤١

Through the verses which we have discussed so far in this Sura, Abraham (a.s.) has seven wishes from Allah (s.w.t.). They consist of: the security of Mecca, remaining distant from worshipping idols, winning the heart of the faithful with regard to his children and his school of thought, benefiting of his offspring from the fruits and the dividends, the success in keeping up his prayers, acceptance of his call and his .prayers, and finally, forgiveness of himself, his parents and all the faithful

The Arabic term /wālid/ refers to one’s real father, but the term /’ab/ has a wider sense and refers also to other than father, such as uncle and one’s father-in-law as well. As the parents of Abraham (a.s.) were believers, therefore, Haḍrat-i-’Ibrāhīm :(a.s.) prays for them in this verse. The verse says

My Lord! Make me a performer of the prayer, and of my offspring (too): Our Lord! “
”and accept my petition

Nonetheless, in other verses where the Arabic word /’ab/ is employed the objective in mind is ’Ibrāhīm’s uncle. Haḍrat-i-’Ibrāhīm deplored and abhorred him for his .paganism

The repetition of the Qur'ānic word /rabb/ at the beginning of the prayers of – ١ Abraham (a.s.) is the sign of the impact of the acceptance of prayers, or it may also be .regarded as one of the rituals belonging to it

.Establishing prayer is the center of Abraham's calls –٢

Keeping up prayers is a counterpart for leadership. Abraham employed the phrase –٣ /wa min ōuriyyatī/ (and of my offspring) on two occasions: One is when there was the issue involved as of the prayers of his generation, and the other one concerned with :the leadership of his generation. Here he (a.s.) says

Our Lord! Forgive me and my parents, and the believers on the Day when the “
”.reckoning shall come to pass

And do not regard Allah to be heedless of what the unjust do. He only respite “ ٤٢ .
”, (them (their punishment) to a day on which the eyes shall stare (of terror

Commentary: verse ٤٢

The previous verses dealt with the issue of the day for settlement of accounts. For this reason, the Qur’ān points out the case of the plight of the oppressors and the tyrants in this verse

Incidentally, by means of the Qur’ānic statement of this part of the discussions of resurrection, the sections on the issue of monotheism of the previous discussions are complemented

At first, with a threatening tone of voice while addressing the oppressors and the tyrants, the Qur’ān begins implying that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) should not rest assured :that Allah is ignorant of whatever the oppressors do. The verse says

”... And do not regard Allah to be heedless of what the unjust do “

These are the words, in fact, uttered in answer to the query of those who say: If this world has got a Lord, a just Lord, so why the oppressors are left to themselves? The Qur'ān answers this question by saying that Allah is never ignorant. If He does not punish them instantly, it is for the fact that this world is a trial ground only and it is meant for the development of human beings, and achieving this objective is impossible without freedom. Then the Qur'ān implies that Allah postpones their punishment for one day when on that day all are stunned with their eyes amazed because of intensive fear and terror, and are fixed to one points remaining motionless. The verse says

He only respite them (their punishment) to a day on which the eyes shall stare (of ... “
”, (terror

Moreover, He declares in other verses as such: “And whoever turns away from My (remembrance verily for him is a life straitened, ...” (۱

It is besides that Allah in another verse adds that such people will be afflicted in this world, too, where he says: “And whatever affliction befalls you, it is on account of (what your hands have wrought, ...” (۲

Hastening forward, their heads upraised, their eyes (and eyelids) not blinking and “ .٤٣

Commentary: verse ٤٣

There are several meanings proposed for the Arabic term /muhti‘in/ which is derived from /’ihṭā‘/ in the sense of: upraising the head, to speed up, looking pleasurably, all of which meanings can be implied in this verse

The chastisements of the Resurrection Day are so horrifying that these oppressors stiffen their necks, raising their heads towards the sky, they even may fix their eyelids in a state of motionlessness, while their hearts are becoming void because of their :intensive fear, distress, anxiety and despair. The verse says

” .their hearts void

Those persons who considered themselves as think tanks and considered others as stupid will lose their reasoning in such a way that their looks resemble not the lunatics but that of the dead. Their looks will be ‘empty’, indifferent, motionless and full of fear and horror

Truly speaking, once the Qur’ān decides to depict a scenario or a landscape, it depicts every thing in the most concise manner and provides the most comprehensive picture .of everything, an example of which is shown in the above short verse

”?end for you

Commentary: verse ٤٤

The Qur’ānic term /’inǒār/ (warning) is the antonym of /bišārat/ (glad tidings) both of which were the mission of the prophets who were the bearers of the good news as well as the warners. They were bearer of the good news regarding faith, righteous acts, virtue, and being characterized by attributes which lead one to salvation, happiness, Divine blessings, and ushering one to Paradise. And they were warners as to the cases of paganism, ingratitude, darkness, sins, and evil attributes and characteristics which lead one to wretchedness misery, Divine Wrath, and awful .consequences and punishments in this world and in the Hereafter

Then, in order not to give impression that the Divine punishments are confined to a specific group, as a general rule He commands His prophet to warn all people about :the day when the painful chastisement of Allah will call on them. The verse says

”... ;And warn the people as to the day when the chastisement comes to them “

That is, when the tyrants notice the terrible consequences of their behaviour, they :may regret and think of compensating for it. The verse continues saying then those who did injustice will say: ‘Our Lord, defer us to a near term, (that) we ...“

”... ’will answer Your call and follow the messengers

The objective of this day is the day when some calamities and worldly chastisements will be descended, just like the punishments which were inflicted on the peoples of Lūt, and on ‘Ād, and Thamūd people as well as on the Pharaoh people which .exterminated them

However, they are instantly held back and this shaking message is delivered to them that such a thing is impossible to happen. The course of action has come to an end.
Were you not the ones who swore that there would be no end and perishing of your :life and power? The verse says

And you dwelt in the abodes of those who did injustice to themselves oppression “ .٤٥ on yourself in the houses of those who preceded you, and it became clear for you how ”.we did with them, and We set forth (may) parables for you

Commentary: verse ٤٥

Many people do not take examples and instructions from those who preceded them and neglected everything though they are seating themselves in their seats. Therefore, to warn and to blame them further, the Qur’ān addresses them implying that you were such people who settled down in the lands of those who refuted the prophets and you knew as to how Allah had inflicted catastrophes on them and had :exterminated them. The verse says

And you dwelt in the abodes of those who did injustice to themselves oppression on “ yourself in the houses of those who preceded you, and it became clear for you how ”... ,we did with them

Some are of the opinion that they were the people of ‘Ād, and Thamūd, while others .claim that they were those who were killed in the Battle of the Badr

We provided you examples and made you acquainted with the characteristics of your predecessors so as to enable you to take example, but you did not draw lessons, and :admonitions did not have any impacts on you. The verse says

”.and We set forth (may) parables for you ...“

Some suggest that the objective of the parables which are mentioned is those matters which are dealt with in the Qur'ān and demonstrate that Allah is Omnipotent in the world of creation as before, and is able to re-enliven all after their death, and to reckon their accounts

And indeed they have devised their devising, and their devising is with Allah, “ ٤٦ .

Commentary: verse ٤٦

Allah is both aware of their devices and tricks, and is all-powerful over them, and He shall provide all conspirators with commensurate chastisement. He can also diffuse
 .and expel their tricks or return those tricks to themselves

At any rate, do not worry, such conspiracies and plans will have no effect on you even if their strategies are such that enable them to remove mountains. For, no matter how powerful and forceful they may be, the oppressors will eventually be perished by
 :Allah. The verse says

And indeed they have devised their devising, and their devising is with Allah, though “
” .their devising were such as to remove the mountains thereby

Some commentators have claimed that the objective in mind of ‘the mountains’ has been the Islamic religion and the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that have withstood all sorts of
 .conspiracies and tricks of the enemies

(٤٧) فَلَا تَحْسَبَنَّ اللَّهَ مُخْلِفًا وَعْدِهِ رُسُلَهُ إِنَّ اللَّهَ عَزِيزٌ ذُو انتِقَامٍ

So do not think that Allah will fail in His promise to His messengers. Verily Allah is “ .٤٧
” .Mighty, the Lord of Retribution

Commentary: verse ٤٧

As a man takes revenge, he does it along with hatred and instinctive satisfaction. Nevertheless, what Allah does is based on justice and wisdom. Therefore, addressing the prophet (p.b.u.h.) once again, as to warn the oppressors and evildoers with a threatening voice, it implies that they should not imagine that Allah opposes His earlier promise and pledge which He has kept with the prophets. For, that kind of person violates his promise who is either not able to keep his promise or he has not included such words in his vocabulary as punishment or vengeance. However, Allah is both able and can take vengeance. The verse says

So do not think that Allah will fail in His promise to His messengers. Verily Allah is “
” .Mighty, the Lord of Retribution

This noble verse is in fact complementary to the verse which we already cited, saying: “And do not regard Allah to be heedless of what the unjust do. ...” (This Sura, verse ٤٢) That is, if you notice that the oppressors have got a respite, it is not because of Allah’s negligence and overlooking of their acts, and it is not for that Allah may violate His promise. Rather, all of their accounts will be settled and cleared in a day and their just chastisement will be given to them

Incidentally, the respite given to the pagans and the oppressors is based on a practice and on wisdom, and it is not because of negligence and of going back on one’s promises

(٤٨) يَوْمَ تُبَدَّلُ الْأَرْضُ غَيْرَ الْأَرْضِ وَالسَّمَاوَاتُ وَبَرَزُوا لِلَّهِ الْوَاحِدِ الْقَهَّارِ

On the day when the earth shall be changed into other than the earth and (so will “ ٤٨ be) the heavens, and (all men) shall come forth before Allah, the One, the All-
”Dominant

Commentary: verse ٤٨

The changing and the transformation of the earth on the Hereafter Day has been explained in a number of verses of the Qur’ān. On that Day, a strong earthquake will take place; the mountains will be displaced and start moving and they will be softened like wool and cotton. It refers to the day when the earth will be turned into a soft piece of plain which is even. As the Qur’ān says: “And they ask you (O Apostle) about the mountains (on that Day). Say: ‘My Lord will uproot them and scatter them (as dust),’” “Then He will leave them as a plain, smooth level;”<sup>(١)</sup> But, the transformation of the skies will take place with the setting off the sun and the rolling over of the skies.

.However, this existing system of existence has got a culmination point

Anyway, after destruction, everything will be reborn and renewed on that Day and man will step forward with some new conditions of the world, the conditions of which differ from these of this world, as regards its vastness, its blessings, its chastisements. And it is on that Day that one appears with all of his existence and with all of his possessions before the Allah Who is unique and

p: ٢٣٨

:Almighty. The verse says

On the day when the earth shall be changed into other than the earth and (so will be) “
”.the heavens, and (all men) shall come forth before Allah, the One, the All-Dominant

Therefore, the attribute of Allah as ‘the All-Dominant’ signifies His domination over everything and His authority over what is inside and what exists in the outside of .every single being

”And you will see the guilty on that day bound together in chains “ .٤٩

”,Their robes (shall be) of pitch, and their faces covered with Fire “ .٥٠

Commentary: verses ٤٩–٥٠

The person who is experiencing punishment and trouble will be ever more suffering if he hears other people crying, as the case is with those who are happy and rejoicing and their happiness and rejoicing will double if they find themselves beside others who are happy as well. It is for this reason that the Qur’ān declares that: Allah will bring together all those individuals who resemble one another in their line of thinking:
the culprits in Hell and the good ones in Paradise

And we also find that the Qur’ān depicts the conditions of the offenders in a different way in this verse. It says

”And you will see the guilty on that day bound together in chains “

These chains and yokes represent the mental and practical connections of the sinners who joined together and who were interwoven as in a line to help each other in this world.

Then, the Qur’ān describes their dressing pattern which is in itself a great disaster for them. Their robes and dresses are made of tar (a stinking, malodorous, and inflammable material) and their faces are covered by flames of fire. The verse says

As such is the case, instead of proper clothing, their bodies are wrapped up in a kind of material which has four distinct awful defects as they are stinking, black, inflammable and burnable, for robes are put on for protection as well as for ornamental and cosmetic purposes. They are meant to protect one against heat and cold. Such robes, .contrast all garments, are both ugly and inflammable

The Arabic term /ʾaṣfād/ is the plural form of /ṣufūd/ which means ‘the bone of a tree’, .it was also used for attaching to the feet of prisoners

The Arabic term /qatrān/ is a kind of material which is extracted from some trees after the boiling of which and after its solidification. It is used for curing the skin diseases of .camels for its intensive burning. It is extremely stinking and inflammable

Commentary: verse ٥١

None of the people will remain without compensation. And no action in the world will be left without any reactions. Thus, the Divine punishment and reward have their origin in our own practices. The verse says

”...That Allah may requite everyone what he has earned “

This means that Allah rewards or punishes everyone according to His own discretion for whatever he has done

At the end of the verse, the Qur’ān implies that Allah is quick to discern and settle accounts. The verse continues to say

”verily Allah is swift at reckoning ...“

This is a clear message for mankind and that they may be warned by it, and that “ ٥٢. they may know that He is God (the only) One, and that those possessors of intellects ”.may take admonition

Commentary: verse ٥٢

Point

As we already noted, Sura 'Ibrāhīm began with depicting the sensitive role of the Qur'ān in bringing out man from utter darkness of ignorance and paganism into the enlightenment of knowledge and of monotheism. It ends by providing an exposition of the role of the Qur'ān in warning all human kind and instruction of monotheism and :that the possessors of intellects may take admonition. The verse says

This is a clear message for mankind and that they may be warned by it, and that “ they may know that He is God (the only) One, and that those possessors of intellects ”.may take admonition

Such a beginning and such an end provide us with clues to the reality as to the fact that whatever we read about is already mentioned in the Qur'ān, and as Amir-ul-Mu'mineen Ali (a.s.) says: “The sources of all knowledge and the delight of the heart are in the Qur'ān.”<sup>(١)</sup> One also has to look for the remedies of mental, ethical, social and political illnesses in the Qur'ān. It has been said: “Seek from it for the treatment of your diseases.”<sup>(٢)</sup> This exposition provides us with sufficient reasons

The End of Sura 'Ibrāhīm

.You can read the biography of Haḍrat-i-’Ibrāhīm in the following pages

The Highly Adventurous Life of ’Ibrāhīm, the Iconoclastic Prophet

This Sura is the only one which is named after ’Ibrāhīm. However, the biography of ’Ibrāhīm is not covered only in this Sura. On the other hand, as there are mentions of this great Divine prophet on various occasions in other Suras, we considered it appropriate to discuss the highly-esteemed biography of this champion of monotheism in a concise manner at the end of this Sura so that we shall be able to interpret and comment on the various verses which we come across in the future, as they require command of this prophet’s life. We hope that this short discussion provides sufficient awareness for our dear readers and we shall be able to provide .them with useful references

One can distinguish the life of ’Ibrāhīm into three distinct periods: ١- The Era prior to his prophetic Mission; ٢- The Era of his prophetic Mission and his Campaign against the worshippers of idols in Babylon; ٣- The Exodus Era from Babylon and his struggles .and efforts in the Lands of Egypt, Palestine, and Mecca

:The Birthplace and Childhood of ’Ibrāhīm

Ibrāhīm was born in the land of Babylon which was an amazing land of the world and which had a powerful and, at the same time, an oppressive and a tyrannical government which was in full control of it. (Some historians have regarded his .birthplace in ’Ur’, a city in the land of Babylon

(.The Highly Adventurous Life of 'Ibrāhīm (a. s

Ibrāhīm was born at the time when, Nimrod-ibn-Kan'ān, that oppressive and cruel' king, was ruling Babylon and he used to present himself as the great god of Babylon. Certainly, the people of Babylon did not possess only this sole idol to worship, but, in the meantime, they had fabricated idols out of the various materials and used to .worship them

The dominant government of that land used to encourage vigorously the worshipping of idols as it considered the job as an effective means for stupefying and inciting hallucinations in people and regarded any kind of insult to the idols as a great crime .and an unforgivable one

Historians have recounted an amazing story about the birth of 'Ibrāhīm, a summary :of which is as follows

Astrologers had predicted and had foretold that a person could be born who would stand up to the undivided and invincible power and authority of Nimrod. Then Nimrod sought to obstruct such a baby from being born, and once it was born, he did utmost to have him killed. Nonetheless, none of his plans was effective and the baby was .born

The mother of the baby tried her best and brought her child up in a cave near her birthplace so much so that she spent ۱۳ years of her life in that place. And in such a situation, eventually, the child was brought up far from the scrutiny of the agents of Nimrūd. He attained the age of puberty, and decided to leave that hiding-place forever, in order to go among the people, and explain the lessons of monotheism to the people which he had received with inspirations from within himself supplemented .by his mental studies

Campaigns Against Various Groups of Idol-worshippers

At the time when the people of Babylon were worshipping such self-made idols, further, they were also worshipping such celestial beings as the sun, the moon and the stars. 'Ibrāhīm decided to awaken their dormant conscience by means of logic and clear and evident reasoning methods, thus drawing the dark curtains of the wrong suggestions down from the face of their clean inherent nature, so as to enable their enlightening nature to shine, in order that they might take several steps
.alongside of the path of monotheism

Ibrāhīm had done a great deal of studies concerning the creation of the universe, the skies and the earth as well as the power which was dominating and governing them and their amazing hierarchy, thus the light of certainty was being shed on his entire .existence\(\)

Logical Campaign Against the Idol-worshippers

At first, Abraham faced the worshippers of the stars, especially against those who used to worship Venus, which appears in the sky immediately after sunset, shining to .the west of the horizon. They engaged in bowing and worshipping it

Abraham shouted, "This is my Lord." This he did either wonderfully, using a positive interrogation with a negative sense to stress the issue, or he used this way of expression to provide an introduction for the demonstration of their mistakes, or just for the sake of reinforcing of harmony with the opposite side in order to bring them in .line

p: ۲۴۷

However, when it set, he remarked: “I do not like those the setting ones.”<sup>(۱)</sup> And when the moon split the widely-open horizon, inciting the moon-worshippers to begin their worship, joining them he shouted: “This is my Lord!” But when it set, he said: ‘If my ”?Lord does not guide me I shall surely be of the people gone astray

When the sun split the darkness of night, shedding its golden rays over the mountains and plains, the sun-worshippers went on with their prayers. Then, Abraham said: “This is my Lord; this is the greatest! But when it set, he said: ‘O’ my people! Surely I am quit of that you associate (with Allah)’.” All these have got falls. They are at the mercy of change and are as puppets at the hands of creation and they have no feelings and will power of their own much less that they should be deemed as creator and administrator of this world: “Verily I have turned my face (myself wholly) toward Him Who created the heavens and the earth, being upright, and I am not of the idolaters.”<sup>(۲)</sup>

Ibrāhīm left behind this stage of his campaign against the idol-worshippers in the most efficient way and could awaken some, while seeking to make others at least skeptic. He was soon subject of rumour in that region as to whom he might be who can affect masses of people’s hearts, leaving such an impact on them with such an
.explicit and straightforward logic

Dialogue with ‘Āzar

Abraham got engaged in a conversation with his uncle at another stage, and by using explicit and far-reaching speech

---

Sura Al-’An‘ām, No. ۶, verse ۷۶ –۱

Ibid, verses ۷۷-۷۹ –۲

coupled with affection and, at times, with warnings regarding idol-worshipping, told him: Why do you worship something which can not hear, can not see, and can not solve any problems you have? If you follow me, I shall lead you in the right path. I am .scared that soon you may face the Divine punishment if you follow the Satan

Even, at the time when his uncle threatened him to stone him to death when he was admonishing him, he used the sentence “Peace be upon you! Saying: I shall ask my .Lord to forgive you”\(۱\), and he tried to find a way through his stone like heart

The prophetic Mission of 'Ibrāhīm

As for the age when Abraham attained to the position of the prophetic mission, we have no access to clear evidence. However, we can conclude from Sura Maryam, that he had attained to the rank of his prophetic mission when he engaged in the dialogue with his uncle, for we read in this Sura addressing the prophet (p.b.u.h.): “And mention in the Book; verily he was a truthful man, a prophet.” “When he said to his father (i.e. his uncle): ‘O my father! Why do you worship that which neither hears nor sees, nor \(does avail you in aught?\)’”\(۲\)

We know that this adventure took place before an extensive entanglement with the idol-worshippers and his being was about to be burned by them. If we add what some historians have written saying that Abraham was only ۱۶ years of age when setting of him a flame took place, it becomes clear that he was appointed to achieve his great .mission even as early as his adolescence

Practical Campaigns Against the Idol-worshippers

Anyway, 'Ibrāhīm's involvement with the idol-worshippers reached greater proportions day by day which, eventually, terminated in breaking of all the idols of temple of Babylon except the great idol

:Dialogue with the oppressive Ruler

The affairs regarding the opposition and campaign of Abraham (a.s.) with the idols finally reached Nimrūd. He summoned him so as to silence him by the way of advising, or by warning, or by threatening him. He, who was very advert in sophisticating, asked Abraham if he did not worship the idols, who was then his Lord? He answered the same one whose life and death are in His own hands: "... My Lord is He Who gives life and causes to die.'..." He shouted: O you unaware person! This is in my hands! Do you not see how I command the offender who is to be executed to be freed, and how I stop his execution or I order the execution of the prisoner who is not convicted to be executed? 'Ibrāhīm, who was advert in giving extraordinary sharp answers, seeking assistance from his prophetic power, told him: It is not but the matters of death and life which are in His hands; all of the affairs of the world of existence are at His command. Do you not see how the sun rises from the east every morning by His order and sets in the west? If you rule the entire world of existence, reverse the process, so that the sun rises in the west and sets in the east. Nimrūd was so astonished that he lost his ability to talk to him

Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse ۲۵۸-۱

Undoubtedly, 'Ibrāhīm knew that Nimrūd was playing with words as regards having power of life and death. However, his skill in reasoning did not permit the enemy side to win him over in his argument. Thus he abdicated that soon and stuck to a different method in which he got the enemy caught

The Exodus of 'Ibrāhīm

At long last, the government of Nimrūd, who felt that the youth was organizing a dangerous campaign threatening his despotic rule, by his clear logic and his expressive powerful tongue decided to put an end to the life of 'Ibrāhīm by aggrandizement of the fanatical ignorance of the idol-worshippers. He feared that the eloquent language and powerful thinking coupled with his sound logic would awaken the oppressed masses, and finally break up the chains of his exploitations. He then organized certain ceremonies (which will be discussed later, in Sura 'Anbiyā) to burn him alive in an inferno of fire which was prepared by the help of the ignorance of the masses and the crime of the dominant system, in order to be delivered from him for ever

However, as the fire was put off by the command of Allah and Abraham was saved from that scenario intact, Nimrūd's system started trembling in such a way that Nimrūd lost his morale, as Abraham was no more an adventurous young man who was planting seeds of discord the labeling which Nimrūd had addressed him with. Abraham was then regarded as a Divine leader and a brave champion who could by himself and single-handedly invade his powerful enemies and overcome them all

It was for this reason that Nimrūd and his courtiers, who used to suck the blood of the poor people like leeches, decided to stand up against Abraham with all their powers to guarantee the safety of their .regime and fight him to the end

On the other hand, Abraham had secured his share from that group. That is, those who had receptive hearts had believed in him. He found it more convenient to depart from the land of Babylon along with his companions and the population of the faithful and to spread the call of Allah to the people of Damascus, Palestine, and Egypt, the land of the Pharaohs. He could propagate the truth of monotheism in those regions .and call numerous people to become faithful to the worshipping of Allah, the only One

The Last Stage of the Prophetic Mission of 'Ibrāhīm

Ibrāhīm spent a whole life-time campaigning against worshipping the idols in all its' forms especially the 'worshipping of man' and could enlighten the ones who were ready with the light of monotheism and provide them with a new life, thus liberating numerous groups from the chains of the despots. Now it was time to enter the last stage of Allah's worshipping and servitude to Him and offering Him whatever he possessed with utmost sincerity, so that to pass successfully all the great Divine trials with a great leap forward in spiritual matters which would culminate in his 'Imamate' and leader-ship' of men. Simultaneous with this matter, he erected the pillars of the House of monotheism, 'the House of Ka'bah' and turned it into a unique center for worshipping Allah. This he did to call all the believers to this great conference near this .huge and fantastic as well as splendid 'house of monotheism

His adventures about the jealousy of Sara, his first wife, with 'Hājar', the slave whom he had accepted as his wife and had given birth to a son called Ishmael, caused him to take the mother and infant child and depart them from the land of Palestine to the arid desert of Mecca, within those rugged mountains. Upon Allah's command, they went to a land where not even a drop of water was to be found, in order to pass a great test

The discovery of the spring Zamzam, and the arrival of the tribe Jarham, who asked the permission of Hājar to dwell in that region, has got a lengthy history along with others, all of which led to the development of that land. 'Ibrāhīm had asked Allah to make that area into a well-developed city and an affluent one, and attract the attention of the people on that spot where his family was residing.

It is interesting to note that some historians have cited that when Abraham was locating the baby Ishmael and Hājar in the land of Mecca and wanted to return, calling him Hājar asked 'Ibrāhīm as to who had commanded him to take them to a land where no vegetation was found and no milk-providing animals existed, and not a single drop of water was to be found, all of which took place with no storage of food and no companions. 'Ibrāhīm answered her in a concise statement. "My Lord Who has commanded me so!" As soon as Hājar heard this response, she said: "Now that such is the case, Allah will never leave us alone

Abraham repeatedly came from Palestine to Mecca to visit Ishmael and it was in the course of one of such trips during which he performed the Hajj pilgrimage rituals. It was by the command of Allah that he took his son, who was in his teens as an extraordinary faithful and clean individual, to the sacrificing spot and got ready to sacrifice him, who was the best he had to offer Allah by his own hands

When this most important trial was staged in its best form and he (a.s.) went through all the processes to the end, Allah accepted the sacrifice and preserved Ishmael for him, sending him a sheep to replace his sacrifice.

Ultimately, after all the trials and out of all tests, 'Ibrāhīm attained the highest rank which a perfect man can ever reach and thus received promotion and as the blissful Qur'ān implies that Allah tried 'Ibrāhīm with certain words and he got through with them all, after which He told him that he was appointed as the leader and 'Imam'. Transported with joy, 'Ibrāhīm asked that this position be awarded to some of his children as well. His call was accepted but on condition that He would not bestow such a position on those who had been oppressors or had committed any atrocities. The holy Qur'ān says: " And (remember) when his Lord tested Abraham with words (of command) which he fulfilled, He said: 'Verily I have appointed you an Imam (leader) for mankind.'" (Abraham) pleaded: 'And of my offspring (as well)?' He (Allah) said: 'My covenant does not incline the unjust

The Highly-esteemed position of 'Ibrāhīm in the Qur'ān

A study of the holy verses of the Qur'ān reveals the fact that Allah has appointed a very highly-esteemed position to Abraham, a rank which has been accorded to no other prophet. One can draw his conclusions as to this matter by considering the following expressions

Allah has made mention of 'Ibrāhīm as a 'nation' and praises his personality as a - 1 (nation as well. (Sura An-Nahl, No. 16, verse 120

---

Sura Aṣ-Ṣāfāt, No. 37, verses 104 to 107 - 1

Allah has accorded the position of ‘Divine friend’ to him. “... And Allah took Abraham –۲ (as a friend.” (۱)

It is interesting to note that in some quotations we read as to the commentary of this verse that: Such a high position was bestowed on Abraham for he never asked . (anyone anything, and he never despaired anyone who requested him something (۲

He was from among the good ones (Sura Şād, No. ۳۸ verse ۴۷) the righteous ones –۳ (Sura An-Naḥl, No. ۱۶, verse ۱۲۳), the content ones (Sura An-Naḥl, No. ۱۶, verse ۱۲۵), the truthful ones (Sura Maryam, No. ۱۹, verse ۴۱), the forbearing ones (Sura At-Taubah, No. ۹, verse ۱۱۴), and the keepers of promises (Sura An-Najm, No. ۵۳, verse (۳۷

Abraham was very hospitable (Sura Ath-Thāriyāt, No. ۵۱, verses ۲۴-۲۷); as one finds –۴ in some quotations, he is referred to as ‘The father or the lord of the guests’ (Safinat-(ul-Bihār, vol. ۱. p. ۷۴

He was unique in trusting Allah, as far as he relied on no one but on Allah in – ۵ everything and under all circumstances. He would ask Him as to whatever he wanted, and he referred only to Him. (Sura Ash-Shu‘arā, No. ۲۶ verses ۷۸ to ۸۲) The story of the angel’s proposals for his deliverance when the obstinate nation wanted to throw him into the fire and his lack of acceptance has been recorded in history books. He used to say: “I am needy all over, but I am in need of assistance from the Creator, not from (those who themselves are the created ones. (Kāmil-ibn-Athīr, vol. ۱, p. ۹۹

He was unique in bravery and courage and he used to stand up against the – ۶ challenging fanaticism of the idol-worshippers single-handedly, and would leave no room for the slightest fear and terror. He used their idols as subjects of his ridicule and turned their temples into ruins, and addressed Nimrūd and his guards with a unique courage, each of which has been mentioned in several of the verses of the Qur'ān Ibrāhīm had an extraordinary powerful logic. He used concise, firm, and reasonable language while addressing his seduced opponents. By his explicitly sound logic, he would bring these obstinate enemies down to earth, never losing ground to them.

He never became angry as a result of their intensive rudeness. Contrarily, he used to face them in cold blood which reflected his elevated spirit. He used to hand them their condemnation papers with his solemn words and deeds which have been covered in the story of dispute of Abraham with Nimrūd and with his uncle and with the court trial of Babylon when they wanted to condemn him for his theistic belief and for breaking up of the idols.

:Concentrate on the following verses which have been dealt with in Sura Al-'Anbiyā

When the judges asked him as to whether it was he who had done all those offences to their gods, breaking up of all their small and big idols, he answered: "... surely (some doer) has done it; the chief of them is this, therefore ask them, if they can speak." \(1\)

.This he said to corner them in an awful deadlock out of which they could not escape

He placed his opponents in an awful situation by declaring this single sentence. For, if they answered that their idols were dumb and deaf and unable to speak, they would be feeling ashamed for such of mute and irresponsible god. If they accepted that they were able to speak, they should ask and hear the answer from them. It was on this occasion that their dormant conscience was aroused and discovered themselves. They would hear words from within themselves which shouted that they were oppressors, selfish and tyrants. That is, you are having neither any mercy on yourselves nor do you show any mercy on the community to which you belong

Anyway, they had necessarily had to provide an answer. Thus, they uttered these words while being humiliated with to utmost that: “You well know that these idols cannot speak.” It was at this moment that the pounding words of Abraham struck them like thunderbolt. He shouted: “Woe unto you for worshipping any one but Allah. O’ brainless people! Fie on you and on what you serve besides Allah; What! Do you not understand?”<sup>(1)</sup>

Ultimately, as they did not find the power to stand up against the strong logic of ‘Ibrāhīm in them, as is the case with all oppressors, they took to the logic of force and declared that he should be burned alive

To fulfill their aim, they utilized the blind fanaticism of the worshippers of the idols and hastened to call them to help their gods. “Burn him and help your gods, if you are going to do (anything).”<sup>(2)</sup> This was an example of the explicit, reasonable, and decisive logic of ‘Ibrāhīm

It is interesting to note that the Qur’ān considers this as one of the sources of pride – for the Muslims to be adherents of ‘Ibrāhīm. And it was he who called them by the name of ‘Muslims’.<sup>(3)</sup>

Even, in order to encourage Muslims, the Qur’ān calls to their minds that they must imitate ‘Ibrāhīm and his companions for achieving some of the important objectives. (Sura Mumtaḥanah, No.

(٤٠, verse ٤

The rituals of the Hajj pilgrimage, with all its splendour, have been initiated by – ٩ 'Ibrāhīm and upon Allah's command. Therefore, the name of 'Ibrāhīm and the memory of 'Ibrāhīm have been associated with Hajj. (Sura Al-Hajj, No. ٢٢, verse ٢٧).
And man is reminded of this Divine prophet at any moment and with every part of the splendid ceremonies of Hajj, so that he feels the grandeur of this man in the bottom of his heart. In principle, the performance of the Hajj rituals is meaningless without .the name of Abraham

The personality of 'Ibrāhīm was so elevated that every group sought to consider – ١٠ him as one of their own. The Jews and the Christians each stressed their relationship with him. The Holy Qur'ān, answering them, however, insisted that he (s.w.t.) was only a Muslim and a true monotheist. That is, he was subservient to all of Allah's commandments and submissive to Him; he never thought of anyone but Him and he never would take any steps except in the path shown by Him. (Sura 'Āl-i-'Imrān, No. ٣, Sura Al-Hijr No. ۱۵

(Revealed in Mecca)

(verses in ۶ sections ۹۹)

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

In the Name of Allah, The Beneficent, The Merciful

The Contents of Sura Al-Hijr

This Sura contains ۹۹ verses and is generally believed to be chronologically the fifty-second Sura. It was revealed to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in Mecca prior to his Migration. The Arabic term ‘Hijr’ is the name of a town where the people of Haḍrat Sālih used to live. The name of this Sura, Al-Hijr, is taken from the eightieth verse of it which deals with the people of Sālih, saying: “And indeed the inhabitants of Hijr (also) rejected the messengers”.

Most of the discussions in this noble Sura are about the accusations and scoffs of the pagans unto the Qur’ān and the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.), as well as some commandments to him to be patient and perseverant with forbearance towards them. It provided some kind of comfort and soothing effect as against the pressure exerted by the invasion of the opponents after the death of Haḍrat Khadijah and Haḍrat Abu-Tālib, both of whom were dear to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.).

Some of the verses deal with the origin of the world of existence, and belief in Him which are brought about by the study of the secrets of creation. The story of man’s creation

.and the disobedience of Iblis, as well as his ultimate destiny, are also exposed

There are also allusions made to the biography of such tribes as the people of Lūt, the .people of Sālih, and the people of Shu‘ayb

In the meantime, there are also some verses which are concerned with the issues of .Resurrection and the retribution of evildoers, each of which will be explained

People left to enjoy this world have only respited – Allah Himself promises the protection of the Qur'ān (against any corruption or getting extinct as it happened in the case of the previous scriptures Alif 'A', Lām 'L', Rā 'R'. These are the verses of the Book and (of) a clear Qur'ān “ .١

” .(that makes things manifest

.٢ Often will those who disbelieved wish that they were Muslims “

Commentary: verses ١–٢

We notice once again that this noble Sura begins with the abbreviated letters of Alif, Lām, Rā, which exhibit the combination of these great celestial words, that lead all men towards happiness, are made up of simple alphabetical letters, the same raw material which are at the disposal of all human beings even children aged ٢ or ٣ years.

This is the utmost kind of miraculous performance that such a unique feat should be produced out of such ordinary kinds of material

:Therefore, immediately next to them, it has been added Alif ‘A’, Lām ‘L’, Rā ‘R’. These are the verses of the Book and (of) a clear Qur’ān (that “

”. (makes things manifest

That is: these are the verses of the celestial Book, revealed in the Qur’ān, which !express facts and which reveal the truth as distinguished from the untruth

In Tafsīr-i-Tabarī and Majma‘ul-Bayān, there has been cited a tradition implying that in Hereafter the pagans tell those Muslims who are entangled in the inferno “Did you also become hellish people like us, and, you were not saved by Islam?” While the sinful Muslims will be saved after sometime being punished, but the pagans will be :remaining in the Fire of Hell for ever, saying: “We wish we were Muslims, too.” It says

”.Often will those who disbelieved wish that they were Muslims “

Although the holy Qur’ān has got a very highly esteemed position, yet it is always available for all and everybody can have access to it. At the same time, it is written in a .’book format and is readable by all, ‘the Qur’ān

It is for this reason that its discussions are explicit and they draw a line between right and wrong. It will be a source of credit for Islam in the future and, at the same time, it .will be a source of regret for disbelievers

Thus, those who are ridiculing Islam today, will regret tomorrow. Many a time, pagans aspire to embrace Islam, but they are involved in the affairs to the despots or entangled in their corrupt environment. Therefore, we have it in history that the Caesar of Rome decided to embrace Islam when he saw the letter of the holy Prophet
”.of Islam (p.b.u.h.), but he said: “My life is in danger and my kingdom will be lost

(٣) ذَرُّهُمْ يَأْكُلُوا وَيَتَمَتَّعُوا وَيُلْهِمُ الْأَمَلُ فَسَوْفَ يَعْلَمُونَ

Leave them (alone) so that they may eat and enjoy themselves, and that they may “
” .be bemused by hope for they will soon know

Commentary: verse ٣

One can conclude from the Qur’ānic phrase /ōarhum/ which means leaving the pagans alone because of their own disobedience, while Allah has never left anyone alone since the beginning of creation and has sent them prophets to guide them, and
.this matter has been repeatedly dealt with in the Qur’ān

Therefore, Allah, the Magnificent, with a pounding tone in this holy verse, advises the Prophet implying that he (p.b.u.h.) leaves these pagans alone so as they feed-themselves like four-footed animals and enjoy themselves out of the pleasures of this fleeting world, and their aspirations make them ignorant of this grave reality though :they will soon find out. The verse says

Leave them (alone) so that they may eat and enjoy themselves, and that they may “
” .be bemused by hope for they will soon know

They are like animals which do not understand anything except the stable and grass and the material life, and they do not move unless they are on the look out for such .things

They are so blindfolded because of their arrogance and negligence that they are distanced from reality and engaged in their daily routine affairs which all make them
.unable to comprehend the real truth

They will only understand to what extent they have been at a loss and negligence, and they will be disillusioned once they are about to see their doom in the bed of .death or they are about to rise in the resurrection plain

Commentary: verse ٤

There will be an end to the joys and enjoyment of those who customarily rejoice themselves in this world, and once Allah wills, He is able to put an end to the pagans, perishing them at once

However, it is Allah’s way of treatment to provide all with as many respites as requires and postponement of the punishment. Therefore, we must not feel rest assured of the Divine respites thus provided for us

(٥) مَا تَسْبِقُ مِنْ أُمَّهٖ أَجَلَهَا وَمَا يَسْتَأْخِرُونَ

٥. “(No nation outstrips its term, nor can they postpone it)

Commentary: verse ٥

Allah’s way of treatment has been such under all circumstances that He has sought to provide adequate respite for reconsideration by all and for their awakening. He sends the means to inform all through causing painful disasters to happen, and enabling all to receive blessings one after the other. He does them both: He rewards, threatens, and He warns simultaneously so that each and everyone of the people is provided with the necessary ultimatum

However, as soon as this duration of respite expires, the unavoidable and decisive doom awaits them all. The verse says

“(No nation outstrips its term, nor can they postpone it)

:Notes to be considered

One’s fate and the calamities which ensue are of two kinds: those which are certain to happen, and those which are not so

The deaths which are not certain to occur can be avoided by praying, giving away alms and spending in charity, and making donations as well as charitable acts. They can be altered. However, the deaths which are certain to occur are unchangeable

(٦) وَقَالُوا يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِي نُزِّلَ عَلَيْهِ الذِّكْرُ إِنَّكَ لَمَجْنُونٌ

(٧) لَوْ مَا تَأْتِينَا بِالْمَلَائِكَةِ إِن كُنْتَ مِنَ الصَّادِقِينَ

And they (unbelievers) said: ‘O’ you to whom the (Divine) Reminder has been sent “ .٦
”;down, you are surely insane

”?If you are of the truthful ones, why do you not bring to us the angels “ .٧

Commentary: verses ٦–٧

The Arabic term /majnūn/ (insane) here does not signify ‘irrational’. Rather, that means being overtaken by ‘Jinns’, as is the case with the word ‘demoniac’ which means possessed or influenced by demons or by the spirit of the demons. During the age of Ignorance, there was a widespread common belief that poets could compose .?poems because of the relationship they had with the ‘jinns’ or ‘fairies

In these two noble verses, cases of humiliation, ridicule, accusations, and hesitation or skepticism have been mentioned from the tongue of the pagans with respect to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). Employing the phrase ‘O you to whom’ instead of ‘O Prophet!’ exhibits a kind of humiliation. The Arabic term /’ōikr/ is some kind of ridicule when applied by the pagans considering the fact that they did not believe in revelations. The Arabic word /majnūn/ meaning ‘lunatic’, applied for the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), implies accusation. And the sentence: “If you are of the truthful ones” makes allusions to their skepticism regarding the prophetic mission of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). Moreover, the Arabic signs /’inna/ and ‘Lam’ in the sentence "... you are surely insane" as well as the Arabic structure of the 'nominative clause', all are kinds of emphasis in various ways of their speech and exhibit their :deviant form of thinking. The verse says

And they (unbelievers) said: 'O' you to whom the (Divine) Reminder has been sent "
";down you are surely insane

"?If you are of the truthful ones, why do you not bring to us the angels "

Incidentally, the pagans regarded the descending of angels as the authenticity of the mission of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) though this was only a pretext, for, Allah elsewhere, in the Qur'ān says: "And even if We sent down the angels to them, and the dead spoke to them, and We mustered all things before them, (even then) they would not believe,

(٨) مَا نُنزِّلُ الْمَلَائِكَةَ إِلَّا بِالْحَقِّ وَمَا كَانُوا إِذًا مُنظَرِينَ

”We do not send angels but with the Truth, and then they would not be respited“ ۞

Commentary: verse ۞

One can conclude from the verses of the Qur’ān that whenever a miracle is performed by one of the prophets and people are heedless about that, the divine outrage may ensue. They may also be given a respite for sometime. However, in the cases that the kind of miracle and the request for its performance is proposed by the people, such as the coming out of the she camel from inside the mountain which the disbelievers demanded from Haḍrat Sālih (a.s.), or the descending of heavenly food which was requested from Jesus (a.s.), the Divine outrage is certain to promptly happen when the people offend and they will be given no extra respite. It says

”We do not send angels but with the Truth, and then they would not be respited“

In the previous verse, the pagans demanded that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) should descend angels for them. This noble verse provides the answer that the descending of the angels is with the Truth, which requires that they descend on the qualified people. The descent of the angels upon the indecent individuals is for no good reasons and Allah does not do anything but with the Truth

In other words, performing of miracles is not to be regarded as a game or plaything. On the other hand, it is for proving the truth which is adequately demonstrated for those who are seeking the truth, for the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) has demonstrated his prophetic mission with the Qur’ān and other miracles

(٩) إِنَّا نَحْنُ نَزَّلْنَا الذِّكْرَ وَإِنَّا لَهُ لَحَافِظُونَ

Verily, We Ourselves have sent down the Reminder (the Qur'ān) and verily We, “ .٩
.”(Ourselves) will be its Guardian

Commentary: verse ٩

According to verse ٩, the unbelievers used to imply that it was not clear as to where the source of the Prophet's Reminder was. In this noble verse, Allah says: Stop hesitating! It is certainly We Who reveal the Qur'ān and the Reminder upon him, and as the pagans used to stress the issue of insanity with regard to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), Allah (s.w.t.) attributes to His Own Sacred Essence the revelation of the Qur'ān and its :preservation. (١) The verse says

In this short verse, there are two kinds of emphasis employed. A series of ٥ - ١ emphasis are dealt with for the revelation of the Qur'ān which appear in words /'in/, /nā/, /naḥnu/, /nazzal/ /naḥ-ḥikr/, and a series of ٥ emphasis are found in the preservation of the Qur'ān in such words as: /'in/, /nā/, /lahū/, /la/ and /hāfiẓūn/, which are obvious in the Arabic literature. ٢- As for the lack of distortions of the Qur'ān, there are hundreds of books and essays as well as researches written on the absence of any distortions in the Qur'ān. However, it is most unfortunate that the Shi'ites are unjustly held responsible for any idea of distortions, which is ascribed to them. ٣- The tradition of Thaqaalayn has been quoted from the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.). That form which has been narrated by and among all of Islamic sects on various occasions is as follows: “I am leaving behind me two weighty (very worthy and important) things among you: The book of Allah (i.e. the Qur'ān) and my progeny, my Ahl-ul-Bayt. Never these two get separated from each other, and once you take recourse to the two, you will never get astray.” ٤- The Qur'ān is a Reminder: “... We have sent down the Reminder...”, and turning away from the Reminder and the Qur'ān will lead man astray, and, hence, causes him misfortunes: “And whoever turns away from My remembrance verily for him is a life straitened, ...” (Sura TāHā, No. ٢٠, verse ١٢٤). The Qur'ān is a Remembrance and only by the remembrance of Allah all hearts will be comforted. The Qur'ān says: "... Behold! By Allah's remembrance (only) the hearts are (set at rest." (Sura Ar-Ra'd, No. ۱۳, verse ۲۸

Verily, We Ourselves have sent down the Reminder (the Qur'ān) and verily We, “
.”(Ourselves) will be its Guardian

According to the Allah's testimony and His pledge in this verse, no changes or distortions have occurred in the Qur'ān. In its other verses as well this meaning has been referred to, among which one may name Sura Fuṣṣilat, No. 41, verse 42: “Falsehood shall not come to it from before it nor from behind it, ...” which signifies
.that: No untruth has any way into the Holy Qur'ān

In addition to Allah's pledge to the preservation of the Qur'ān, Muslims have protected it from the beginning and have been earnest in its writing and preserving it. They would even assign the instruction of the Qur'ān as a dower for their wives, and designate it for a man's marriage as a pre-condition. They used to recite or read it in their prayers, and there were a number of scribes who were the writers of the revelations, one of whom was Haḍrat Ali (a.s.). The Imams, the Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.), used to call people to this very Qur'ān which exists now. Moreover, the tradition of Thaḳalayn, quoted from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), provides another proof for the authenticity of the Qur'ān. Sincerely, can one claim that the prophetic mission of the ?Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is constant but his Book is alterable

And indeed, We sent (messengers) before you among the nations of the “ ١٠ .
”.ancients

”.And there came no messenger to them, but they used to mock at him “ ١١ .

Commentary: verses ١٠–١١

The Arabic term /šiya‘/ signifies ‘a nation’ or ‘a party’ which are somehow bound and related to each other, whether be it a bound which is in the path of the truth, as Sura As-Sāffāt, No. ٣٧ verse ٨٣ says: “And verily from his party was Abraham”, or be it in the path of the deviant, like Sura Al-ʿAnʿām, No. ٦, verse ١٥٩ which says: “ Verily those who :divided their religion and became parties ...” Here, the verse says

”.And indeed, We sent (messengers) before you among the nations of the ancients “

The aim was the ridiculing or the damaging of the prestige of the prophets so that the truth-seeking people might not assemble around them; or their aim was to compensate for their own weaknesses in face of the logic of the prophets. The object of their ridicule was either the simple way of life of the prophets, or that of the deprived followers of them, or the breaking up of the superstitious traditions of the :people. The verse says

”.And there came no messenger to them, but they used to mock at him “

Anyway, ridicule and mockery has constantly been the way of the pagans as against the prophets, and such is the usual case that, whenever the weapon of logic is lacking, .mockery will replace one's weapon

Therefore, a preacher must never feel desperate when facing the ridicules of some .people

”.a people bewitched

Commentary: verses ١٢-١٥

In a few verses before, we had that the pagans requested the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to bring forth angels for them to see. Here, verse ١٤ proclaims that even if Allah opens a gateway to them from the sky so that they will ascend it and they will see the angels and other things, they will not yet believe in the Truth, for their request for seeing angels is just a pretext, and an obstinate fellow may also deny his own ascent to the sky, too. Here are the verses

”.Thus do We make it to enter into the hearts of the guilty“

”.But) they do not believe in it and such has been the way of the ancients) “

And even if We opened to them a gate from the sky, so that they ascended into it all “
”,the while

Another verse of the Qur'ān says: "And had We sent a book down to you, written on a paper, so that they touched it with their own hands, certainly (still) those who disbelieved would have said: 'This is naught but a manifest sorcery'." (Sura Al-'An'ām, (No. 6, verse 103)

Anyway, such disbelievers are so immersed in the abyss of passions, insistence, and obstinacy with respect to the 'untruth' that they if any grounds are provided for them through which they can repeatedly ascend to the sky and descend from it, they still go on saying that they have been playing magic works on them and they claim that they are a group which has been under enchantment all over, and whatever they witness is never in anyway identical with reality. The verse says

They would definitely say: "Indeed our eyes have been blindfolded, rather we are a "bewitched people".

It is not surprising that man reaches such heights in proportions as regards hostilities and obstinacy. For man's inherent nature and his untouched inner self is able to receive the factual realities and observations of the true profiles of what is real. As a result of committing sin, having ignorance and hostility against the Truth, he will gradually adhere to what is utter ignorance and darkness. Certainly, it is possible to wipe out everything in the first stages, though once it is embedded in one's nature, thus becoming habitual, it cannot be easily wiped out

It is in this case that the profile of the Truth alters in man, as far as that the most rational arguments and the most explicit tangible reasons will have no impact on him, thus leading him to the denial of all the rational as well as tangible matters of life

The strongholds in Heaven guarded against every accursed devil – Everything is originated and sustained by Allah alone – All shall be collected to account for on the Day of Judgment

And indeed, We have established constellations in the sky and We have “ ۱۶ .
”,decorated them for the beholders

Commentary: verse ۱۶

The Arabic term /burūj/ originally signifies ‘emergence’, and a woman who shows off his ornaments in Arabic is said: /taburrajat-il-mar’ah/. The Arabic term /burj/ also refers to a palace, and those high-raised buildings which present special splendours.

.In this verse the celestial globes, or their locations, are likened to constellations

As the earth rotates around the sun, an imaginary circle is formed which is called ‘the Zodiac’. This circle is divided into twelve equal zones within either of which certain stars are located, according to the shape of that collection of stars, it has been named to it. In Persian, they are called as Farvardin, Ordibehesht, khordad, ... and in Arabic, they are called Hamal, Sour, Jowzā, Saratān, Asad, Sunbulah, Mīzān, Aqrab, Qous, Judī, Dalw and Ḥūt. All of these phenomena represent the power and splendour of Allah

(١٧) وَحَفِظْنَاَهَا مِنْ كُلِّ شَيْطَانٍ رَجِيمٍ

(١٨) إِلَّا مَنْ اسْتَرَقَ السَّمْعَ فَاتَّبَعَهُ شِهَابٌ مُبِينٌ

”And We have guarded them against every accursed Satan “ .١٧

”.Save him who steals the hearing, so there pursues him a clear flame“ .١٨

Commentary: verses ١٧–١٨

The Arabic word /'istirāq/ is derived from /sirqat/, and thus the Arabic phrase means: ‘the stealing of words’. The commentators have raised some issues with regard to this verse; among them one may name Fakhr-i-Rāzī and 'Ālūsī who have said in their commentaries that the objective meaning, in talking about the sky, is this same apparent sky, and the objective in mind in talking about the meteor is this same celestial stone-like objects, which are thrown down and are set in flame. However, some other commentators have suggested that here the objective in mind, when referring to the sky, is the ‘invisible world’, and the world of Truth, into which Satans :have no way and permission to enter. Here are the verses

”And We have guarded them against every accursed Satan “

”.Save him who steals the hearing, so there pursues him a clear flame“

And, regarding its meaning, perhaps one can say: We have located identification figures and leaders in the spaces of spirituality, thus protecting the truth from the temptations of

Satan. And whenever a person who has the qualities of Satan, is acting temptation, We will launch an attack on him, expelling and perishing all sorts of innovation, and eclecticism, as well as other temptations, by sound reasoning and sound logic of the true believers. Thus, one can find the relationship between the birth of Haḍrat-i-Massiah (a.s.) and further-more, the birth of Haḍrat-i-Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) and the .casting off of such Satans from the skies

:Explanations

.The Satan is not only Iblis, but there are Satans .۱

.Eavesdropping and spying are both jobs of the Satan .۲

” .save in appointed measure

Commentary: verses ١٩–٢١

To complement the previous discussion, the Qur’ān brings here some Divine verses about the whole creation, and the symbols of Allah’s splendour on the earth

:It begins with the earth at first, saying

” ... ,And We have spread the earth “

The Arabic term /madd/ originally means ‘expansion and spreading’, and most probably, it points to those parts of the land which emerged from under the water. For, as we know, the entire surface of the earth was covered hidden with water because of flood-like rains in the beginning. Many years passed before those flood-like rains settled down in pitfalls of the earth, and parts of dry lands emerged gradually. This is the same thing which is referred to in Islamic literature as /dahw-ul-ʿard/ (expansion of the earth)

And since the creation of mountains, with all the various advantages which carried with them, is considered as one of the signs of monotheism, the Qurʿān refers to them, by adding

”... ,and We have cast therein firm mountains ...“

The Arabic term /ʿilqāʾ/ means ‘throwing or casting’. However, we know that mountains are the same ups and downs of the earth which have emerged because of the gradual freezing of the crust of the earth or owing to the eruption of the volcanoes. It is possible that the term /ʿilqāʾ/ has been applied to mean as to bring into existence in this context. In our daily life, we also say that we have, for instance, developed plans for such a land and have planned several rooms in it, in which case it means that we have built those rooms

Anyway, in addition to the fact that such mountains are inter-connected with one another from the foundations and are protecting the earth against the pressures from within which cause earthquakes, and in addition to their function of obstructing the power of the storms and breaking them, thus controlling the blowing of winds and breezes in a very exact manner, they also constitute a good place for reservoirs of water, whether be it in the form of snow or of springs

The emphasis has especially been laid on the Qurʿānic word /rawāsī/, the plural of /rāsiyah/ which means: ‘constant, and stationary or sustaining’, which is a delicate reference to what we discussed above, indicating that not only they are all constant themselves but also they serve as a pillar for the constancy of the crust of the earth and human life

Then, alluding to the most important factor in human life, as well as all living creatures, that is, the plants, the holy verse continues saying

”and We have grown in it of every thing in due balance ...“

What a beautiful and yet explicit interpretation it is to the Arabic term /mauzūn/ which is principally derived from the word /wazn/ (weight) which refers to the recognition of the quantity of everything. It is cited in Mufradāt Rāqib: “Weight is the knowledge as ”to the quantity of the thing

This Qur’ānic word refers to the exact keeping of the wonderful accounts and the measurements which are appropriate to all parts of plants, each of which has its own particles as of stems, branches, leaves, layers, seeds, and fruits

There are perhaps hundreds of thousands of plants with various qualifications and varieties of effects the knowledge of which provides us with an outlook into the cognition of Allah, and the foliage of each leaf opens up a new chapter and presents a new volume upon the knowledge unto the Creator

This possibility has also been forwarded that the objective of mentioning growth in this phrase is in case of various mines in mountains, because Arabs also refer to mines as /’inbāt

In some quotations, there are also allusions made to this very meaning. A tradition narrated from Imam Bāqir (a.s.) denotes: “Someone asked him about the commentary of this verse, and he answered: ‘The objective is that Allah has created (the mines of gold, silver, jewels and other metals in mountains.’”\(1\)

This possibility also exists that the objective of /’inbāt/ (to grow) is its meaning in its comprehensive form which

.encompasses all of those creatures which Allah has created on the earth

In Sura Noah, from the tongue of that great prophet the Qur'ān says that he told the people: “ And Allah made you grow like a plant from the earth.” (Sura Noah, No. ٧١, (verse ١٧

Anyway, there is no incompatibility found in case that this verse has a vast and .comprehensive meaning which includes plants, human beings and mines or the like

****

As the means of life and sustenance of human beings is not confined to the plants and mines, the Qur'ān refers to all such blessings in the next verse, and implies that Allah has located all means of sustenance for you within the earth. They are available not only for you but they are there also for all living creatures as well as those which you do not procure anything for their sustenance and which are beyond your reach. Of :course, Allah has been providing for all of them their requirements. The verse says

And there is not a thing but with Us are its treasures, and We do not send it down “
”.save in appointed measure

The Arabic term /ma'āyīš/ is the plural form of /ma'īšah/ which signifies one's means of sustenance after which one sometimes seeks and, at other times, they are made .accessible to him

Some commentators have interpreted the word /ma'āyīš/ into ‘agriculture, plants, foods or drinks,’ it seems, however, that the meaning of this word is quite .comprehensive and it encompasses all means of life

The commentators have presented two versions for the sentence “for him whom you are not responsible for his sustenance' The first version suggests that, as we said in the above, Allah wants to explain all of His blessings with regard to the human beings as well as with regard to those animals and living beings which man cannot feed. The other version suggests that Allah wants to make man aware of the fact that He does both, providing the means of sustenance for man, on the earth, and making available some living animals for him (like four-footed animals), which man can not feed. It is He Who nourishes them though this job of nourishing is accomplished by him. However, we are of the opinion that the first version is more correct

We can also base our confirmation as to the interpretation of this in a tradition adapted from the commentary book by Ali-Ibn-i-'Ibrāhīm, where concerning the meaning of the above mentioned sentence: he says: "It means: 'We predetermined (something for each of the animals'." (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, vol. ۳, p. ۹

In the last verse under discussion, the Qur'ān deals with the answer to the query which is raised by many people. That is, why is it that Allah does not provide adequate means of sustenance with all the people so as to free them from all kinds of struggling? Allah answers

And there is not a thing but with Us are its treasures, and We do not send it down " save in appointed measure

Therefore, such is not the case that Allah's power is limited and He should be terrified by the case of running short of supplies. However, the stores and reservoirs as well as stocks of this world have got its proper book-keepings, and the means of sustenance are descended from His side in carefully measured and calculated proportions

Elsewhere in the Qur'ān we read: “And if Allah should amplify the provision for His servants, they would certainly revolt in the earth; but He sends it down according to a measure as He pleases; ...”

It is quite clear that struggling for survival not only distances man from laziness, slowness, and despondency, but it also provides for him with the means for engagement in sound ways of thinking and bodily activities. Were it not so, and were there everything placed at man's disposal without any calculations, it could not be predicted how the world would look like in that situation

A dozen jobless men, in welfare and with no controls imposed on them, would create a terrible atmosphere. For we know that the people of this world are not of the sort of those in Paradise who are devoid of all passions, egoisms, arrogance, and deviations. They are rather of the mixed type with good and evil attributes who must be placed in the melting pot of this world so as to be experienced and differentiated

Therefore, as need and poverty often leads man towards deviation and misfortune, too much affluence also can be a cause of corruption and destruction

:Explanations

?What Are Allah's Treasures – ۱

There are many verses in the Qur'ān which denote that Allah has got treasures, the heavenly treasures and the earthly ones are all His. Or the Qur'ān indicates that the treasures of everything are with Him

p: ۲۸۴

Sura Ash-Shaurā, No. ۴۲, verse ۲۷ –۱

The Arabic term /xazā'in/ is the plural form of /xazānah/ which signifies a place where one stores his wealth to be protected. It is originally derived from /xazan/ which means protecting and preserving something. Obviously, one seeks to store and preserve something who has got limited power and when one is unable to procure whatever he wants in any time. Therefore, once he is able he stores in his treasury .whatever he feels it is necessary for him in the future

However, can one apply such concepts in case of Allah? Certainly not. That is why some commentators, like Tabarsī in Majma‘-ul-Bayān, Fakhr-i-Rāzī in Tafsīr-i-Kabīr and Rāqib in Mufradāt, have interpreted the phrase /xazā'inullah/ (the treasures of Allah) as ‘the possibilities of Allah’. That is, everything is assembled in Allah’s treasury .of power, and He can bring forth whatever of it is deemed necessary in His Wisdom

However, some other great commentators have claimed that the application of ‘Allah’s treasures’ refers to the entire affairs which exist in the world of existence and the material world, including the elements and the means for creating them. In this collection, everything exists to an unlimited extent, but every single one of the products and particular beings of this world is created to a limited extent, without (considering that the existence is exclusive to it. (Al-Mīzān, vol. ۱۲, p. ۱۴۸

Such interpretation, though principally is an acceptable proposition, is less acceptable .’than the first one which interprets it ‘with Us

Anyway, the application of such a sense like /xazā'inullah/ which apparently does not hold true with its usual significance due to Allah, but it is such because Allah wants to speak to people through their own language. Once you are supposed to .deal with a child, you will have to apply the language of children

In conclusion, one finds it evident that the comments of some commentators who have considered the word /ḫazā'in/ as reservoirs of 'water and rain', and its confinement within this specified example, not only, is unsubstantiated but also it is .not commensurate with the vast concept of the verse

:Kinds of Descent – ۲

As it was stated earlier, descent does not always mean coming down from a high place. It also means descending in one's rank as well as in one's position. Thus, if some favour from a superior is bestowed on inferiors, it is meant as descent. It is for this reason that this term has been applied also to Allah's blessings in the Glorious Qur'ān: Whether they may be descended from the skies like rain, or they might be grown up on the earth, like animals, as verse ۶ in Sura Az-Zumar, No. ۳۹ says: "... and He sent down for you eight head of cattle in pairs; ...". We also read concerning iron, in .Sura Al-Hadīd, No. ۵۷, verse ۲۵ that it says: "... and We sent down iron, ...", and the like

Briefly speaking the Arabic words /nuzūl/ and /'inzāl/ here signify 'existence, creation and origination'. Nonetheless, as it is achieved from the side of Allah towards His .servants, such an interpretation has been ascribed to it

(٢٢) وَأَرْسَلْنَا الرِّيحَ لَوَاقِحَ فَنَزَلْنَا مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مَاءً فَأَسْقَيْنَاكُمُوهُ وَمَا أَنْتُمْ لَهُ بِخَازِنِينَ

And We send winds fertilizing, and We send down water from the sky, so We give “ .٢٢
”it to you to drink of, while you are not its treasurers

Commentary: verse ٢٢

The Arabic term /lawāqih/ is derived from /liqāh/ which means: fertilizing of the clouds by joining together of the positive and negative pieces of cloud,<sup>(١)</sup> or it also refers to .the fertilization of plants through the act of transferring of plant pollination

Following the discussion about some of the secrets of creation and other kinds of the blessings of Allah in previous verses, the holy Qur’ān alludes to the blow of the winds and their effective role in raining, when it implies that Allah sends down the winds while they are fertilizing. They join pieces of clouds together and fertilize them. The :verse says

”... ,And We send winds fertilizing “

Then it continues following that Allah sends down rain, and by that He quenches the :thirst of all of men, while they are unable to protect and preserve it. The verse says and We send down water from the sky, so We give it to you to drink of, while you ... “
”are not its treasurers

---

Sura Az-Zāriyāt, No. ٥١, verse ٤١ implies that the wind is at times of no use and – ١ causes no fertilization, while at other times, it is also serving as sources of blessings. Again Sura An-Nūr, No. ٢٤, verse ٤٣ says: “Do you not see that Allah directs the scattered clouds then He gathers them together and amasses them once again, and ”... ?then you see the rain coming forth from their midst

That is, you are unable to collect and preserve rain in great quantities after raining. It is Allah Who by freezing it in the form of snow and ice, or through sending that to the depth of the earth, makes them come out and flow in the form of springs and wells. It is He Who collects and stores them

:Explanations

.Man is often unable to preserve his most necessary requirements –۱

Man cannot store water within clouds for a long time. Nor can he store it on the –۲ surface of the earth. This cannot be done on the earth since it penetrates the earth, and it can not be done on stone and rocky valleys either as it evaporates

And indeed We know those of you who have gone before and We are certainly “ .٢٤
”aware of the succeeding ones

And verily, it is your Lord Who will gather them together, verily He is All-Wise, All- “ .٢٥
”.Knowing

Commentary: verses ٢٣-٢٥

The matters of death and life are solely in His authority. All are transient; therefore, it is appropriate for us to leave a good heritage for the Authentic Inheritor. The verse says:

”And certainly We make alive and We cause to die and We are the (only) Heirs “

Thus, time also will leave no impact on the knowledge of Allah. His knowledge is identical as to the past, the present, and the future. The verse says

And indeed We know those of you who have gone before and We are certainly “
”aware of the succeeding ones

The commentators have mentioned some examples for the Qur’ānic terms:
:/mustaqdimīn/ and /musta’xirīn/, among which are the followings

١- The predecessors and the survivors

٢- Those who overtake and lovers of the Holy War, etc

Those who present themselves for prayers in the front line of congregation prayer, -۳ and those who queue up in the last line

According to this meaning, some went as far as to queue up in the last line of congregation prayer so as to be able to look at women, who presented themselves for congregation prayer, with evil intentions as Allah says: “ We know ”. Some believers would go as far as to sell their houses to exchange it for buying a house close to the mosque so as to be able to arrive there for standing in the front line of the prayers. These are those whom the verse refers to and implies that Allah knows such people, too

Anyway, the uprising of the Resurrection Day, and the provision of both punishment and reward are all the affairs concerned to the Ranks of the Sovereignty of Allah. The :verse says

And verily, it is your Lord Who will gather them together, verily He is All-Wise, All- “
”.Knowing

:Notes

Those preceding and those succeeding will be mustered altogether in the . ۱ Resurrection Day: “... who will gather them together; ...” And Allah is well aware of the .performances of all as well as of the intentions and impacts of any individual

The rationale behind the resurrection is His Wisdom. If all of the particles of dust .۲ become food, and all foods become sperms and all sperms transform into human beings and they turn into dust again with their death, while there might not be any .record and accounts for them, this is not a wise job done

Point

Man's Creation – Satan's Arrogance

Man's creation – Angels ordered to prostrate in obedience to Man – Satan's arrogance – Satan driven away accursed – Satan respited until the Day of Judgment – Satan's enmity to Man – Satan denied authority over the chosen devotees of Allah in Adam's seed

(۲۶) وَلَقَدْ خَلَقْنَا الْإِنْسَانَ مِنْ صَلْصَالٍ مِّنْ حَمَإٍ مَّسْنُونٍ

(۲۷) وَالْجَانَّ خَلَقْنَاهُ مِنْ قَبْلُ مِنْ نَّارِ السَّمُومِ

”And certainly We created man of raw clay, of black mud moulded “ .۲۶

”And the jinn We created before, of intensively burning fire “ .۲۷

Commentary: verses ۲۶–۲۷

The Arabic term /ṣalṣāl/ refers to a dry and raw kind of clay in which once blown, the (sound of whistling comes out of it. (Tafsīr-i-Al-Mizān

The Qur'ānic term /ḥama' refers to dark mud, and the word /maṣnūn/ means varying and moulded. The Arabic word /sumūm/ refers to a hot wind which infiltrates into the depth of one's entity like poison

This verse either makes allusions to the creation of the first man, namely Haḍrat-i-Adam, or the objective is the process of creation of all human beings in which case, the materials within the earth are transformed through food and sperm into human beings. As Qur'ān in Sura Al-Kahf, No. ۱۸, verse ۳۷, implies that man was first in the form of dust, then it was

.turned into semen (sperm-drop) and it was finally turned into a (complete) man

In the Qur'ānic literature, 'jinn' is a responsible being which has been addressed by Allah: "O' assembly of the jinn and mankind! ..." (١) And Jinn understands the Qur'ān: "... a party of the jinn listened, and they said: Verily we have heard a wonderful Qur'ān." (٢) Jinns also have passions like human beings

According to this verse, the creation of jinn took place before man and it was created out of fire. Allah says: Iblīs is also one of Jinns: "... he was of the Jinn ..." (٣) and Iblīs will go into Hell like other evil Jinns. "... Certainly I will fill Hell with the Jinn and the (mankind together)." (٤)

In conclusion, the Qur'ān implies that Allah has created man out of raw and dry clay (like tile or ceramic) which is extracted out of a kind of black clay. Prior to this, He had created Jinns out of hot and burning fire. The verse says

"And certainly We created man of raw clay, of black mud moulded "

"And the jinn We created before, of intensively burning fire "

And (remember) when your Lord said to the angels: ‘Verily, I am about to create “ .٢٨
”.’man of raw clay, of black mud moulded

So when I have completed him and I have breathed into him of My Spirit, fall you “ .٢٩
.down, prostrating yourselves unto him

”,So the angels fell prostrate, all of them together “ .٣٠

”.(Except ‘Iblīs; he refused to be with those who prostrated (in obedience “ .٣١

Commentary: verses ٢٨–٣١

The statement of the Qur’ān returns to the issue of creation of man once again and continues Allah’s speaking with the angels which took place before the man’s :creation. It says as follows

And (remember) when your Lord said to the angels: ‘Verily, I am about to create man “
”.’of raw clay, of black mud moulded

Addressing the Divine angels, He continues: And when I completed the creation process and I blow into him a noble, clean and splendid soul out of My Own, all and :each one of you prostrate before him. The verse says

So when I have completed him and I have breathed into him of My Spirit, fall you “
down, prostrating yourselves unto him

The creation of man then was over and man was provided for with whatever of body and soul was required for him. Everything was accomplished: At this moment, all
:angels prostrated without any exceptions before him. The Qur’ān says

”,So the angels fell prostrate, all of them together “

:The only one who did not obey this order was ‘Iblīs. Therefore, it adds

”.(Except ‘Iblīs; he refused to be with those who prostrated (in obedience “

:Note Two Issues with Respect to This matter

The objective meaning of the blowing of Allah’s spirit into man is not the state of . ١ being alive and to breathe, for animals also do the same thing. However, the purpose is the bestowal of such qualifications as creativity, will, and knowledge from the part of Allah accorded to human beings. The attributing of spirit to Allah is for the sake of elevation of the position of spirit, such as the words as /bayt-ul-lah/ (House of Allah) (and /šahr-ul-lah/ (the month of Allah

The prostration of the angels before man was not a ceremonial kind of prostration. . ٢ It was meant to present the modesty of angels when confronting man himself and the human generations. That is, the angels are also at the service of man and submissive (to him. (Tafsīr-i-Al-Mizān, vol. ١٢, p. ١٤٥

(۳۲) قَالَ يَا إِبْلِيسُ مَا لَكَ أَلَّا تَكُونَ مَعَ السَّاجِدِينَ

(۳۳) قَالَ لَمْ أَكُنْ لَأَسْجُدَ لِبَشَرٍ خَلَقْتَهُ مِنْ صَلْصَالٍ مِنْ حَمَإٍ مَسْنُونٍ

(۳۴) قَالَ فَاخْرُجْ مِنْهَا فَإِنَّكَ رَجِيمٌ

(۳۵) وَإِنَّ عَلَيْكَ اللَّعْنَةَ إِلَى يَوْمِ الدِّينِ

He said: ‘O’ Iblīs! What is your reason for not being with those who prostrated (in “ .۳۲
”)?(obedience

Iblīs) said: ‘I am not such that I prostrate myself unto a man whom You have’) “ .۳۳
”.’created of raw clay, of black mud moulded

”.’He said: ‘Then get out of it, for verily you are driven away accursed “ .۳۴

”.’And, verily, the curse will be on you until the Day of Judgment “ .۳۵

Commentary: verses ۳۲–۳۵

It was on this occasion that ‘Iblīs was interrogated, in the course of which he was
:addressed as follows

He said: ‘O’ Iblīs! What is your reason for not being with those who prostrated (in“
”)?(obedience

Iblīs who was selfishly engaged in matters of pride and egoism, so much so that he’
:had lost his wisdom, responded to the Lord in a rude way, as the verse says Iblīs) said I am not such that I prostrate myself unto a man whom you have created’) “

”.’of raw clay, of black mud moulded

He who had not been kept in touch with the secrets of creation due to his pride and egoism, and who fell down suddenly from the climax of his position, was no more eligible to be among the ranks :of the angels. Therefore, he was immediately addressed by Allah, as such

”He said: ‘Then get out of it, for verily you are driven away accursed ‘

And Satan was warned to beware that his arrogance served as the source of his
:disbelief. This disbelief made his cast off for ever. The verse says

”And, verily, the curse will be on you until the Day of Judgment ‘

(٣٦) قَالَ رَبِّ فَأَنْظِرْنِي إِلَى يَوْمِ يُبْعَثُونَ

(٣٨) إِلَى يَوْمِ الْوَقْتِ الْمَعْلُومِ

”?Iblīs) said: ‘O’ Lord! Respite me then till the day when they are raised’) “ .٣٦

”.’Said He: ‘Then verily you are of the respited ones “ .٣٧

”.Till the day of the appointed time “ .٣٨

Commentary: verses ٣٦–٣٨

As ’Iblīs found himself an outcast from the threshold of the Allah’s court and felt that man’s creation caused his misfortune, the flames of hatred started within him so as to :take vengeance on the sons of Adam. It was why, as the verse says

”?Iblīs) said: ‘O’ Lord! Respite me then till the day when they are raised’) “

This the Satan asked not for the sake of repenting, or for the sake of regretting as to what he had done, seeking to compensate for everything, but rather in order to .continue his obstinacy, hostility, and his stiff-neckedness

:So did Allah accept this request of ’Iblīs. The verse says

”.’Said He: ‘Then verily you are of the respited ones “

However, this respite does not extend in time as far as the Day of Judgment on which
:all mankind will be raised, as ’Iblīs requested, but for ‘a definite time’. The verse says

”.Till the day of the appointed time “

The objective in mind when mentioning “Till the day of the appointed time.”, is the end .of this world and the rolling up of the designated duration of the duties

(٣٩) قَالَ رَبِّ بِمَا أَغْوَيْتَنِي لَأَزِيَنَّ لَهُمْ فِي الْأَرْضِ وَلَا أُغْوِيَنَّهُمْ أَجْمَعِينَ

(٤٠) إِلَّا عِبَادَكَ مِنْهُمْ الْمُخْلِصِينَ

Iblīs) said: ‘O’ Lord! because You have left me to stray, certainly I will adorn (evil)’ “ .٣٩
”.’to them on the earth, and certainly I will cause them all to go astray

”.Except Your chosen servants among them “ .٤٠

Commentary: verses ٣٩–٤٠

Here we find ‘Iblīs revealed and exposed his true hidden intention, though nothing was hidden from Him, when ‘Iblīs answered Allah implying that He refused him and it was this ‘man’ who paved the ground for his misfortunes, ‘Iblīs should be engaged from then on in attracting them to the material blessings of this world by decorating and vanishing them, thus seeking to make them engaged in them. Therefore, :ultimately, he would cause them all to be misled. The verse says Iblīs) said: ‘O’ Lord! because You have left me to stray, certainly I will adorn (evil) to’ “

”.’them on the earth, and certainly I will cause them all to go astray

Nevertheless, he knew well that his mischief would never leave any impact on the devotee servants of Allah. Therefore, he soon made an exception to his saying, and :said

”.Except Your chosen servants among them “

These are those who have attained the highest levels of Faith and practice which have been brought about after going through a thorough educational curriculum and :struggle against their ‘egotistic selves

:There are two points raised in here which are worth mentioning

Allah never leads anyone astray. However, if someone seeks willingly to accept the deviant path, Allah may leave him alone. This abandoning is the utmost case of the Divine punishment and outrage. As 'Iblis also willingly selected the path of arrogance and obstinacy, Allah left him to his own means. Then the objective in saying /'aqwaytanī/ (you have left me to stray) is meant in the same sense. That is, now that You no longer locate me within the reach of Your blessings and You left me alone to my own devices for the sake of my obstinate behavior, I will then do this and that Iblīs knows that a group of people are among the Divine selected ones. (That is, he' has also accepted the legitimacy of 'Prophethood' and 'Imamate' as one can conclude from the clause: "O' Lord! because You have left me to stray" that he has also accepted Allah. And as one also concludes from his prayer to be given a second chance "... till the day when they are raised", he has also accepted the principle of Resurrection

Therefore, 'Iblis was right in his ideological principles. However, his main fault was his arrogance and his not having a spirit of submission and servitude

Thus, it is not enough to embrace merely the Faith and to have knowledge of something; but also practice, submission to the Will of Allah, and servitude are necessary

****

(٤١) قَالَ هَذَا صِرَاطٌ عَلَيَّ مُسْتَقِيمٌ

(٤٢) إِنَّ عِبَادِي لَيْسَ لَكَ عَلَيْهِمْ سُلْطَانٌ إِلَّا مَنِ اتَّبَعَكَ مِنَ الْغَاوِينَ

”.(Said He: ‘This is for Me a straight path (which I have undertaken “ .٤١

Verily, (as regards) My (devoted) servants, there is not for you over them any “ .٤٢
”.authority, except those who follow you of the deviators

Commentary: verses ٤١–٤٢

In the previous verse, 'Iblis announced that he would mislead all except the selected devotee individuals. In this verse, Allah remarks: The reason as to why 'Iblis does not have the power to dominate His servants is because of His Straight Path and His way of treatment. That is, Allah's way of treatment is such that He Himself guarantees their protection, and this does not imply that 'Iblis would have nothing to do with them. On the contrary, he might not be in a position to exercise any power over them.

:The verse says

”.(Said He: ‘This is for Me a straight path (which I have undertaken “

Thus, the Satan has got no power over those who are devoted to Allah and are submissive to Him. If we can enter the circle of Allah's servants through our :worshipping and virtue, we may be insured and can be rest assure. The verse says

”.authority, except those who follow you of the deviators

Incidentally, the Satan's job is engaging man in mischief and not exercising or exerting his domination: "... there is not for you over them any authority, ...". In the resurrection day, the Satan, answering the people's protests, will say: " I only invited
".you; I did not put you under any obligation or domination

Anyway, in order to despise the Satan and to reinforce the position of the truth-seeking individuals and those who are the followers of the path of monotheism, He said that the straight path which He has undertaken is His usual way of treatment and that Satan will have no authority or domination over His servants except on those misled ones who may voluntarily follow his footsteps. That is, it is not indeed Satan who is able to seduce people. Rather, it is the deviants who willingly accept Satan's
.call and follow his footsteps

”And verily Hell is certainly the promised place of them all “ .٤٣

It has seven gates, for every gate there shall be a (separate) party of them “ .٤٤

Commentary: verses ٤٣-٤٤

:Allah has directed His most explicit threats towards the followers of the Satan, saying

”And verily Hell is certainly the promised place of them all “

Let them not conjecture that they can escape punishment or their accounts would not be scrutinized. It is the same Hell which has got seven gates, and each of which is :allocated to one category of the followers of Satan. The verse says

It has seven gates, for every gate there shall be a (separate) party of them “
”.assigned

These are, in fact, the gates of the sins through which men will be led into Hell. As is the case with those categories of people who enter Paradise, having with them a bag
.back of righteous deeds and struggles, which qualify them for entering Paradise

The seven gateways of the Hell probably signifies that the number of the factors for those going to Hell is abundant. That is, there are numerous ways which predispose one to go to Hell. Like verse ٢٧ of Sura Luqmān No. ٣١ which says: “And were every tree that is in the earth (made into) pens and the sea (to supply it with ink), with seven more seas to increase it, the words of Allah would not come to an end; ..." This means that they cannot write out all Allah's words, and here an allusion is made to the fact that Allah's creatures are so enormous in quantity that they are not to be accounted

:Messages

"... ,Each of the Paradise and Hell has some doorways. "It has seven gates .)

We read in Nahj-ul-Balāghah that the strugglers in the path of Allah will have got a) (particular entrance to Paradise

Hell, just like Paradise, has also got different levels and grades, and each person will .) be punished in it according to his own offence

Section ٩:Reward for the Righteous – Angels Give Abraham the Tidings of a Son

Point

The great reward the righteous will be given – Angels give Abraham the glad tidings of a son in his old age – Angels sent to punish the guilty ones among the people of Lot

(٤٥) إِنَّ الْمُتَّقِينَ فِي جَنَّاتٍ وَعُيُونٍ (٤٦) ادْخُلُوهَا بِسَلَامٍ ءَامِنِينَ

(٤٧) وَنَزَعْنَا مَا فِي صُدُورِهِمْ مِنْ غَلٍّ إِخْوَانًا عَلَى سُرُرٍ مُتَقَابِلِينَ

(٤٨) لَا يَمَسُّهُمْ فِيهَا نَصَبٌ وَمَا هُمْ مِنْهَا بِمُخْرَجِينَ

”Verily, the pious ones shall be amidst gardens and watersprings “ .٤٥

”They will be addressed:) ‘Enter you therein in peace, secure) “ .٤٦

And We remove whatever rancour may be in their breasts. (They will be as) “ .٤٧

”brothers upon coaches, face to face

”.No toil there shall afflict them in it, nor shall they be ever cast out of it “ .٤٨

Commentary: verses ٤٥–٤٨

Through these holy verses, Allah has stated eight heavenly rewards for the people of virtue. They are: gardens, springs, health, security, removal of all hatred, brotherhood, face to face coaches, being aloof from any kind of harm or toil, and immortality. The Qur’ān says

”.Verily, the pious ones shall be amidst gardens and watersprings “

”They will be addressed:) ‘Enter you therein in peace, secure) “

In the previous verse, we read that except those sincere believers selected by Allah, all people will be targeted by the Satan’s temptations. In these verses the Qur’ān implies that if man does not reach the heights already achieved by those who are devoted and selected, but attains the objectives for the hierarchy of virtues, he will still be covered by the kinds of Divine blessings. The Qur’ān says

And We remove whatever rancour may be in their breasts. (They will be as) brothers “
”upon coaches, face to face

What is of importance in this stage is the assembling of all blessings in one unit. In this world one finds gardens in one place, while there may be no springs therein, sometimes there are streams to be found there but there is no security over there; at times all are present with together, though there may not be authenticity or sincerity furnished there. At times, it happens that all those blessings are coupled with different kinds of hardships and are tedious to obtain. At other times, when all blessings are brought together, one has to abdicate them all and leave them behind. However, what differentiates Hereafter from this world is that all material, spiritual, social and psychological blessings are eternal in Heaven. The verse says

”No toil there shall afflict them in it, nor shall they be ever cast out of it “

Attention: The Arabic term /qill/ mentioned in verse ۴۷ signifies secret infiltration. Therefore, evil characteristics set in their roots secretly in human beings. The Qur’ānic terms /surur/ and /sarīr/ are derived from the word /surūr/ which means ‘throne’. One concludes that accession to the throne is pleasant and causes one’s rejoicing

(٤٩) نَبِّئْ عِبَادِي أَنِّي أَنَا الْغَفُورُ الرَّحِيمُ

(٥٠) وَأَنَّ عَذَابِي هُوَ الْعَذَابُ الْأَلِيمُ

”O Prophet!) Inform My servants (that) verily I am the Forgiving, the Merciful) “ .٤٩

”And that My chastisement is the painful chastisement “ .٥٠

Commentary: verses ٤٩–٥٠

Now, it may be possible that some sinners and deviant individuals sink in their own depression, saying: “ We wish we could also reap parts of such blessings.” It is at this moment that Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful, opens up the gateways of ”Paradise to them, but with some conditions

:Addressing affectionately and with utmost caressing His Prophet, He says

”O Prophet!) Inform My servants (that) verily I am the Forgiving, the Merciful) “

:Note

:In these holy verses, the blissful Qur’ān divides all people into ٤ categories

.1 The devotees (prophets and the saints) over whom ’Iblīs has no domination

.٢ The pious ones who will be dwelling in Paradise

.٣ The repenting sinners whom the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) talks about their amnesty in this
.verse

.٤ The disobedient sinners who have been warned as against their severe and painful
.chastisement

:The verse says

”And that My chastisement is the painful chastisement “

(٥١) وَنَبِّئُهُمْ عَنِ ضَيْفِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ

(٥٢) إِذْ دَخَلُوا عَلَيْهِ فَقَالُوا سَلَامًا قَالَ إِنَّا مِنْكُمْ وَجُلُونَ

٥١. "And inform them of the guests of Abraham "

٥٢. "When they entered upon him and said: 'Peace', he said: 'Verily we are scared of you "

Commentary: verses ٥١-٥٢

From this verse on, the Qur'ān discusses some instructive parts of the history of great prophets and the disobedient nations as clear examples of the devotee servants and the followers of Satan. It begins with the story of 'Ibrāhīm's guests, saying

"And inform them of the guests of Abraham "

****

These uninvited guests were the same angels who anonymously called on 'Ibrāhīm first, and said /salām/ (peace) to him. The verse says

"When they entered upon him and said: 'Peace', he said: 'Verily we are scared of you "

Ibrāhīm got ready to receive them, as is the case with a great and kind host, and prepared immediately a proper food for them. But when he spread the dinner table, the unknown guests did not stretch their hands to take food. Abraham terrified by this act and, without concealing his terror, he explicitly told them that he was afraid of them: "Verily we are scared of you

This kind of fear was because of a tradition prevalent at that time and at later times, even at the present among some nations that whenever someone eats out of someone else's bread and salt, he would feel safe from his side for he feels he owes him something. It was for this reason that when the angels did not eat the food, 'Ibrāhīm reasoned it as the sign of having ill-intentions, rancour, and enmity with .regard to him

(٥٣) قَالُوا لَا تَوْجَلْ إِنَّا نُبَشِّرُكَ بِغُلَامٍ عَلِيمٍ

” .knowledge

He said: ‘Do you give me such good news (of a son) while old age has touched “ ٥٤ .
?me? Of what do you give me good news

Commentary: verses ٥٣-٥٤

One of the examples of the Divine blessings and Divine outrage is the story of prophet ‘Ibrāhīm (a.s.) in which we have the angels, on one hand, giving good news of a son to him, while on the other hand, we have their news concerning the annihilation of the .people of Lot as well, when by the latter Abraham was worried

However, before long the angels stopped ‘Ibrāhīm from worrying, commending him not to be frightened, for they were giving him good news of fathering a wise son. The :verse says

They said: ‘Be not afraid! Verily we give you the good news of a son endowed with “
” .knowledge

However, Abraham knew that, from the point of the natural laws, the birth of such a child by him was a remote matter. Yet, there is nothing impossible for the Power of :Allah. So, regarding the normal circumstances and natural laws, he said

?He said: ‘Do you give me such good news (of a son) while old age has touched me “
” ...

:Then Abraham continued his statement by saying

”?Of what do you give me good news ...“

Is this news from Allah’s side or is it you who are giving me the news by yourselves?

.State clearly so as I can be sure

p: ३.१

(٥٥) قَالُوا بَشِّرْنَاكَ بِالْحَقِّ فَلَا تَكُن مِّنَ الْقَانِطِينَ

(٥٦) قَالَ وَمَنْ يَقْنُطُ مِن رَّحْمَةِ رَبِّهِ إِلَّا الضَّالُّونَ

They (the guests) said: ‘We give you good news of the Truth. Therefore, be you “ ٥٥
”.’not of the despairing ones

”?He said: ‘And who despairs of the mercy of his Lord save those who are astray “ ٥٦

Commentary: verses ٥٥–٥٦

Let us take didactic lessons, sweet and bitter ones, from history. The best histories are the ones which concern the life of the prophets (a.s.) and the best historians are .the prophets themselves

Sometimes the angels appear in the form of human beings by the Divine Will and get in touch with man, among which one may refer to this very story of Haḍrat Abraham (a.s.) in which the angels felt that Abraham became scared. Therefore, the angels did not give any further chances to Abraham to wonder or hesitate more. They told him explicitly and decisively that they were carrying the news of the Truth to provide him with. The kind of good news coming from Allah, and by His order, is the Truth, and nothing but the truth, that is why it is identical with the Truth and is certain as well.

:The verse says

”... .They (the guests) said: ‘We give you good news of the Truth “

Following that and to stress further presuming ’Ibrāhīm having not been overtaken by any fear and depression, they declared: Now that such is the case, do not be among :the desperate. The verse continues saying

”?Therefore, be you not of the despairing ones ...“

Nonetheless, Abraham quickly alienated this thinking from their minds that he might be overtaken by hopelessness from the Divine grace. On the contrary, his sole astonishment concentrated on the issues of natural laws. Therefore, he explicitly stated in an interrogative sentence, implying who on earth despairs from Allah’s :grace except those who are misled? The verse says

”?He said: ‘And who despairs of the mercy of his Lord save those who are astray “

These are those seduced people who have not rightly come to know Allah and have not realized the dimensions of His indefinite powers. That Lord Who creates such an amazing and smashing being called ‘man’ out of some tiny particles of dust, and brings into existence such a prestigious child out of insignificant semen. He Who turns and transforms burning fires into a rose-garden. Who can then doubt the ability of ?such a Lord or despair from His grace

(٥٧) قَالَ فَمَا خَطْبِكُمْ أَتَيْهَا الْمُرْسَلُونَ

(٥٨) قَالُوا إِنَّا أُرْسِلْنَا إِلَىٰ قَوْمٍ مُّجْرِمِينَ

٥٧. ”?He said: ‘What is your business, then, O’ you (Divine) messengers “

٥٨. ”,(They said: ‘Verily we have been sent unto a guilty people (to annihilate them “

Commentary: verses ٥٧–٥٨

Before starting their mission, the angels used to brief the Divine leaders about their own missions

Therefore, after hearing about this good news, Abraham (a.s.) started thinking as to the fact that the angels, under those circumstances, had not merely come there to give him simply the news of having a son

Definitely, they had come to achieve a more important mission, and the conveying of the good news could be regarded only as a part of that mission. It was for this reason that he went on asking them

”?He said: ‘What is your business, then, O’ you (Divine) messengers “

The angels responded that they had been sent to a sinful nation to annihilate them. The Qur’ān announces their answer, as the verse says

”,(They said: ‘Verily we have been sent unto a guilty people (to annihilate them “

Thus they made him understand that they had come to destroy the sinful people of Lot, for the angels were not sent down to that nation but for their destruction

(٥٩) إِلَّا ءَالَ لُوطٍ إِنَّا لَمُنَجُّوهُمْ أَجْمَعِينَ

(٦٠) إِلَّا امْرَأَتَهُ قَدَرْنَا إِنَّهَا لَمِنَ الْغَابِرِينَ

٥٩. "Save the family of Lot, We shall surely rescue them all "

٦٠. " Except his wife, of whom we decreed that she should be among those who " (remain behind (in the chastisement

Commentary: verses ٥٩-٦٠

Haḍrat-i-'Ibrāhīm (a.s.) and Haḍrat-i-Lot (a.s.) did not recognize the angels in their first encounter. Therefore, Abraham said: "Verily we are scared of you!" (١) and Lot (٢) said: "Verily you are an unknown people."

Certainly, these angels became as Lot's guests while appearing in the form of some handsome youths with smart and beautiful faces, and that prophet got worried about such guests because of the corruption which was prevalent in that society

And it was for this reason that the angels, knowing about the curiosity of Abraham, especially in such matters and issues, would not be content with such a brief answer, instantly added that such an offensive nation is no other than the Lot's people. They also remarked that they were sent on the mission to wipe out that evil-begotten and shameless villains, pounding them thoroughly and to exterminate them altogether, except Lot's family members whom they should rescue all. The verse says

---

The current Sura, verse ٥٢ -١

Ibid, verse ٦٢ -٢

”Save the family of Lot, We shall surely rescue them all “

****

However, as the Arabic phrase /’ālalūt/ (the family of Lot) with an emphasis on /’ajma’in/ (them all), included all of his family members encompassing even his misguided wife, who cooperated with the pagans, and perhaps with the awareness of ’Ibrāhīm of the matter, the angels immediately made her an exception to the rule, and :said

Except his wife, of whom we decreed that she should be among those who remain “
”.(behind (in the chastisement

:Explanations

The Arabic term /qābirīn/ is the plural of /qābir/ which means; ‘the remaining ones’ and .the remaining soil is called dust

One may conclude from the concept of the noble verse that she (Lot’s wife) was among those who had got to stay in the town and was to be killed like other
.inhabitants of the town

Point

The people of Lot warned – They reject the warning – They are punished – Shu‘ayb’s people also transgressed and were punished

(۶۱) فَلَمَّا جَاءَ آلَ لُوطٍ الْمُرْسَلُونَ

(۶۲) قَالَ إِنَّكُمْ قَوْمٌ مُنْكَرُونَ

”So when the (Divine) messengers came unto the family of Lot “ .۶۱

”.’He said: ‘Verily you are an unknown people “ .۶۲

Commentary: verses ۶۱–۶۲

As the angels called upon the household of Lot, the situation was such that Lot was busy with his agriculture in the land outside the town. He wanted to give them a reception. At the same time, he was terrified of his people, therefore, he brought them secretly and by night to the house

The wife of Lot, on their arrival, went up on the top of the roof and, by burning fire, informed the people about what was going on. Those people, who were thus informed, assembled in that house and determined to commit that heinous and hideous act with them in which case Haḍrat-i-Lot (a.s.) was disturbed

Haḍrat-i-Lot told the angels that they were an unknown group of individuals to him as they had not been met before. The Qur’ān says

”So when the (Divine) messengers came unto the family of Lot “

”.’He said: ‘Verily you are an unknown people “

The angels introduced themselves saying that they were angels coming from Allah’s
.side to exterminate the nation and to save the household of Lot

” .٦٤ .And we have come to you with the truth, and we are certainly truthful “

Commentary: verses ٦٣–٦٤

The Qur’ān has repeatedly raised this issue that the pagans used to request the prophets to accelerate the Divine outrage and punishment and used to say: ‘... then bring us what you promise us to, if you are of the truthful ones’ (١). Meaning that if you are honest, show us the outrage and they used to ridicule and mock all the warnings. As for the Divine outrage, they were skeptic as to its occurrence whether in this world or in the next. Allah explains in these verses that the outrage, which is the object of :skepticism of the pagans, will definitely come. The verse says

They said: ‘Nay, but we have come to you with that in which they have been “
”.’doubting

Anyway, the angels did not leave Lot in expectation for a long time and they explicitly stated that they had brought him something which his people were in doubt about. That is, they were commissioned to inflict a painful and severe chastisement against them which Lot had repeatedly warned them about and they had never taken it .seriously

p: ٣١٧

To emphasize, they implied that they had brought Lot an unequivocal and an obvious reality for him. That is, a certain and decisive chastisement for those unbelieving and :deviant group. The verse says

”... ,And we have come to you with the truth “

:To stress further, they added

”and we are certainly truthful ...“

That is, this group has destroyed all the bridges behind them and there is no room left for any type of mediation or discussion about them. They said such so as Lot would stop thinking about any mediation efforts and become aware of the fact that they .were not in the least worthy of such steps to be taken for them

(٦٥) فَاسْرِبْ بِأَهْلِكَ بِقِطْعٍ مِّنَ اللَّيْلِ وَاتَّبِعْ أَدْبَارَهُمْ وَلَا يَلْتَفِتْ مِنْكُمْ أَحَدٌ وَامْضُوا حَيْثُ تُؤْمَرُونَ

(٦٦) وَقَضَيْنَا إِلَيْهِ ذَلِكَ الْأَمْرَ أَنَّ دَابِرَ هَؤُلَاءِ مَقْطُوعٌ مُّصْبِحِينَ

”and let not any one of you turn back, and go whither you are ordered

And We made known this decree to him that the roots of those (sinners) should “ .٦٦

Commentary: verses ٦٥–٦٦

Do not take the Divine warnings and threats as a joke, for the Divine punishments are .always based on justice, the truth and what the culprits deserve

And at the time of war or of exodus, the leader must move keeping abreast with the weakest of the people so as no believer would be left behind and no foes or pagans could join, and rest assured of Allah’s grace in important circumstances, which will be herded down moment by moment and will be of assistance to him once he is in dire :need. The verse says

”... ,So set forth, you with your family “

It will be shown to him as to when the exodus must take place, and with whom, by :what means, and finally, towards what destination. The verse continues saying in a part of the night and do you go behind them and let not any one of you turn ... “

”back, and go whither you are ordered

And as the small group of believers (the household of Lot except his wife) was to be rescued from such a campaign safely, Lot was provided with the necessary instructions. He should take his family out of the town late at night when the sinners were in deep asleep or they were drunk or engaged in gratifying their sexual desires. However, he should move behind them so that he might be sure that no one was left behind. In the meantime, none of them was .allowed to look or turn back

:Then, the tone of the statement changes, where Allah says

And We made known this decree to him that the roots of those (sinners) should be “

”.’He said: ‘Verily these are my guests, therefore do not disgrace me “ .٦٨

”And be in awe of Allah and do not put me to shame “ .٦٩

Commentary: verses ٦٧–٦٩

Some authentic quotations indicate that the wife of Lot informed the sinners that there are guests arrived for Lot with beautiful faces and, following their evil intention, they headed for the Lot’s house while giving one another the good news. However, Allah exterminated them all before proceeding to undertake any action. (Tafsīr-i-Marāghī

Anyway, they were busy thinking about their misleading and shameful acts, and they intended to commit as to the fact that they had then an easy prey at their disposal; :beautiful and good-looking youths and at the Lot’s house. The verse says

”And the inhabitants of the town came rejoicing “

Lot (a.s.), who heard their fuss, got terrified in a state of astonishing terror and feared .for his guests

:Therefore, he stood up against them, as the verse says

”.’He said: ‘Verily these are my guests, therefore do not disgrace me “

Then he adds, implying: Fear Allah and do not make me shameful in front of my .guests

”And be in awe of Allah and do not put me to shame “

” .so

Commentary: verses ٧٠–٧١

The prophets’ school of thought does not recommend the forbidding of pleasures and repressing of instincts. On the contrary, it offers guidance and mostly provides ways for their control. Therefore, Haḍrat-i-Lot (a.s.) offered them guidance and persuaded them to act decently

Nonetheless, they were so rude and vulgar that they did not have any feelings of shame. On the contrary, they felt that Lot had also to be indebted to them as if he had committed a crime they went on raising objections. The verse says

”?They said: ‘Did we not dissuade you from (entertaining) people “

Anyway, Lot, who noticed such rudeness and vulgarity, tried a different method so as to perhaps be able to awaken them from their state of negligence, drunkenness, deviation and scandal. Turning to them, he advised them

Why do you take a deviant path? If your objective in mind is gratification of your sexual instincts why is it that you do not take the legitimate path and the correct marriage path? These are my daughters; (I am ready to give my consent for them marrying you). In case you decide to perform a correct and decent act, this is the right path. The verse says

”He (Lot) said: ‘These are my daughters, (you may wed them) if you desire to do so “

Lot’s aim was to complete the argument to them, saying that he was ready to preserve the prestige of his guests and to save them from the abyss of corruption by offering his daughters in marriage to them

Question: Was Lot (a.s.) able to offer his daughters in marriage to the pagans, when he offered such a proposal

Answer: It may be that the aim of proposing the marriage issue was to make believers out of them; or that, among them, marriage with unbelievers was not legally prohibited at that time

”By your life (O’ Prophet), verily they were wandering on in their intoxication “ .٧٢

”.So the (violent) blast overtook them at the sunrise “ .٧٣

Commentary: verses ٧٢–٧٣

The Arabic words /‘umr/ and /‘amr/ both have got an identical meaning, but, at the (time of swearing, the term /‘amr/ is employed. (Al-Mīzān. The commentary

The Qur’ānic term /ya‘mahūn/ is derived from /‘amaha/ which signifies ‘astonishment’; and the Arabic word /mušriqīn/ means ‘entering into the illumination ’.and the light which appears at dawn or sunrise

Nevertheless, woe unto those who are intoxicated by their passions, deviations, arrogance, and obstinacy. If there were the slightest of human ethical values or human emotions embedded in them, it would be adequate to make them feel ashamed for having such a logic to return from the Lot’s house at least and feel shameful. But, they were not only unaffected by that, but they became also more .rude and tried to violate and rape Lot’s guests as well

:It is why Allah, addressing the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.), says

”By your life (O’ Prophet), verily they were wandering on in their intoxication “

Finally, we find the Divine words and speech, concerning this nation, reaches its climax. Allah states in two concise, compact and short following verses the evil destiny of those people in a decisive and pounding form here which is also instructive as well. The :Qur'ān says

”So the (violent) blast overtook them at the sunrise “

Such a blast might have been caused by a huge thunderbolt or by a terrible .earthquake

”Thus We turned that city upside down and rained upon them stones of hard clay “ .٧٤

Commentary: verse ٧٤

Raining stones was probably for the extermination of those who had survived at the moment of the turning upside down of the town and were still alive, or for the total .annihilation of the town

Certainly, Allah’s Will knows no limits for as He descends His blessings from the sky in .the form of rain, He is also able to rain stones, and chastisement as well

However, Allah did not stop at that, but He turned their cities entirely upside down, overthrowing all its upper part downwards and the lower part upwards. The verse :says

”... Thus We turned that city upside down “

:Such a chastisement was not enough for them either. The verse continues saying

”.and rained upon them stones of hard clay ...“

The descending of the three-fold kind of punishments (terrible blast, turning everything upside down, and raining stones) each was sufficient by itself to wipe out .every nation

However, for the intensity of the sin and in their submission to sinfulness and ill fame, .and that others may take an example, Allah multiplied their punishment

”Verily, in this there are signs for those who by tokens do understand “ .٧٥

Commentary: verse ٧٥

The blissful Qur’ān, here, draws ethical and educational conclusions. It implies that there are various signs for the wise in this didactic biography, for those who wisely draw their own conclusions from every single symbol, collect facts from every allusion made, and learn from every note what is to be learnt. The Qur’ān says

”Verily, in this there are signs for those who by tokens do understand “

The Qur’ānic term /mutawassimīn/, mentioned in the verse, is derived from /wasama/ which means ‘to affect’ and it is applied to a person who is smart and sharp in drawing conclusions once he has the tiniest clues at his disposal he comprehends the facts. That is, he is clever and wise. Some Islamic quotations indicate that the objective of applying the term /mutawassimīn/ is the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and his Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.).

((Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

Somebody told Imam Sādiq (a.s.) that he had got a question. The Imam answered:

”?“Do you want me to tell you what your question is before you ask your question

”?That person asked with astonishment: “How do you know what is in my mind

The Imam answered: “/bil-tawassum/ (by affection).” Then he recited this verse.

((Tafsīr-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

We are informed from the Immaculate Imams (a.s.) who have said: “We are the /mutavassimīn/.” It is clear that the ,’purpose here ‘is the most complete denotation expansion otherwise, there are a lot of intelligent people among the believers. Therefore, there are reliable information from the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) who stated: “Be in virtue with the intelligence of the faithful, since he looks by the light of Allah.” He also reaffirmed: “Verily Allah has some servants who recognize people by /tawassum/.”

(Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, vol. ۳, p. ۲۳

This is the same light of faith which leaves its effect as a sign on a believer’s heart; so it is said: “Knowledge is a light (that) Allah casts it inside the heart of whomever He

And the Arabic term /wasm/ means the same sign, symbol, and emblem which is being forged on the Arabian horses. Man’s soul also has got a special mark of ‘belief’ or ‘disbelief’, or of ‘obedience’ and of ‘disobedience’ toward Allah, each of which appears from his front view. Thus, /mutawassimīn/, those who by tokens do understand can .observe or feel it and, therefore, know everyone

And again, the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) has said: “ There are certain Allah’s servants (who know people by tokens.” (Tafsīr-uş-Şāfī, the details of the verse Imam Sādiq (a.s.) remarked: “We are those who think and take instructive lessons. The path towards happiness has been designated and embedded in us. This path is (the way towards Paradise.” (Tafsīr-ul-Burhān and Majma‘-ul-Bayān

”.Verily, in this there is a sign for the believers “ .٧٧

Commentary: verses ٧٦–٧٧

The preservation of the monuments and relics of the past provide instructive lessons for the future generations

Therefore, He implies in this noble verse: Do not presume that all their relics have been vanished. It is not so. Their relics and monuments have remained constant and fixed on the roads for caravans and those who pass over there. As the city of Lot is located on the people’s path and when they pass by them for meeting their daily needs, they draw lessons from them. For, the relics, which become focus of attention of the people there, are always constant, fixed and sustaining. The verse says

”And verily it is on a way (yet) remaining “

This city is called ‘Sudūm’. Qattādah says: The villages of the people of Lot are (situated between Medina and Shām (Damascus

As the author of Tafsīr-i-Atyab-ul-Bayān says: Perhaps, the meaning of the above verse is that the Divine outrage is not confined to the people of Lot only; rather, it is the method and the tradition which is constant and holds true for all the criminals of the history. It is also a warning for all those who commit such heinous and hideous acts that the people of Lot used to do

Some Islamic traditions denote that he who commits the act committed by the people of Lot, will be suffering from the utmost punishment at the time when his soul is being taken out of his body. Further, some quotations indicate that this act has been rendered into the disbelief in Allah and .’the punishment of which is ‘execution

As a further emphasis, and in order to call the faithful to meditate more over this instructive story, the Qur’ān implies that there is a sign in this story for those who are believers, as the true believers are always full of insight and are quite intelligent. The :verse says

”.Verily, in this there is a sign for the believers “

How may one be a believer and yet reads this shaking biography and still does not ?draw instructive lessons from it

Commentary: verses ٧٨–٧٩

The Arabic word /’aykah/ means a small thick forest in which trees and their branches are often intertwined with one another. The objective of ‘the inhabitants of ’Aykah’ is the people of Haḍrat Shu‘ayb, who used to live in a region with moderate weather and .(full of trees, somewhere between Hijāz and Shām (Syria

A quotation from the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) indicates that ‘the people of Madyan’ and ‘the people of ’Aykah’ were two nations whose prophet was Shu‘ayb and both of :them disbelieved. The verse says

”And verily, the inhabitants of ’Aykah were certainly unjust “

.However, each of these two nations received a different kind of Divine punishment

” .And indeed the inhabitants of Hijr (also) rejected the messengers “ ۸۰

” .And We presented Our signs to them, but they turned away from them “ ۸۱

Commentary: verses ۸۰–۸۱

The Arabic word ‘Al-Hijr’ is the name of a town in which the nation of Thamūd used to live. It also generally refers to a dwelling place as well. The term /hijr/ also refers to the lap of the mother and Arabic phrase Hijr-i-’Ismā’īl and /hujrah/ are the derivatives of the same word. (Tafsīr Majma‘-ul Bayān) Thus, the name of this Sura has been :taken from this verse. The verse says

” .And indeed the inhabitants of Hijr (also) rejected the messengers “

One can conclude from the Qur’ānic term /mursalīn/ (messengers) that ‘the inhabitants of Hijr’ had also some prophets other than Haḍrat-i-Ṣālih. Some commentators say as the rejection of one prophet is, in fact, the rejection of all

.prophets, hence the term /mursalīn/ has been mentioned here in this verse

:Anyway, the Qur'ān continues regarding 'the inhabitants of Hijr' by saying

”And We presented Our signs to them, but they turned away from them “

The application of the sense 'turning away' in this verse indicates that they were not .even ready to listen to the verses of Allah or to look at them

Commentary: verses ٨٢–٨٤

Those people were quite heedless of theological issues and of religious matters, and paid no attention to such things. On the contrary, regarding their worldly life and livelihood, they were so earnest that they maximized the security of their houses by building and setting them up through cutting stones and rocks within the mountains.

:The verse says

”And they used to hew secure houses in the mountains “

It is astonishing that man maximized the security and whatever belongs to his fleeting worldly life so much, while he is extremely so negligent for his eternal and immortal life in the Hereafter that he sometimes is not even ready to listen to Allah’s speech .and is not predisposed to even to glance at His signs of communication

After all, what can one expect from such a people? Expect for the ‘Divine law of the survival of the fittest’ and except for the abstinence from providing the right of continuing with one’s life for those nations who are entirely corrupt and incite corruption. An exterminating catastrophe must be inflicted :upon them and annihilate them altogether. Therefore, the Holy Qur'ān asserts

Commentary: verses ٨٥–٨٦

The Arabic term /ṣafḥ/ is derived from /ṣafḥah/ which means ‘face’. The Arabic phrase /faṣḥah-iṣ-ṣafḥ/ signifies ‘turning one’s face away from someone but not out of one’s outrage but to do that for forgiving and overlooking in case of one’s compassion and out of one’s affections’. Imam Riḍā (a.s.) has commented upon the Qur’ānic phrase /ṣafḥ-in-jamīl/ as ‘forgiving without inquisition, or with no taking to task

As man’s everlasting troubles and entanglements have their roots in his lack of ideology and correct system of beliefs and, briefly speaking, in his disbelief in the origin of existence and in the Resurrection Day, the Qur’ān returns to the issues of ‘monotheism’ and of ‘resurrection’ after describing the situation of nations such as the people of Lot and the people of Shu‘ayb and that of Sālih, those who were entangled in all of those afflictions. It has referred to the issues of monotheism and :resurrection both in a single verse, saying

And We did not create the heavens and the earth and what is between them two but “
”... ;with truth

This, He has said about monotheism; then He proclaims in connection with :resurrection that everybody will be given his reward therein. The verse says

”...;and verily the Hour (of resurrection) is surely coming ...“

In pursuit of this goal, He commands His prophet to be lenient towards them when facing their obstinacies, ignorance, fanaticism, meddling and their intensive oppositions, and to overlook their sins and forgive them with a beautiful forgiveness which is not even coupled with any blame. As you will not be in any need or require any violence in spite of the fact that you have got clear evidence for your call and messengership to which you are given mission to accomplish. Moreover, violence against the ignorant people will usually lead to further violence and their further fanatic behavior. Therefore, leniency and forgiveness is the best. The verse continues
:saying

”.then pardon you, with a gracious pardoning ...“

****

In the end, in the following verse the Qur’ān proclaims that He Who commands as to the forgiving, is the Lord Who is Educator, creative, and knowing. He is aware that amnesty and forgiveness have a very great impact on the soul of the individuals and of the society, and have a tremendous impact on the attraction as well as on the development of the people. Therefore, putting into practice the commandment of
:ṣafḥ/ (remittal) should not appear as a burden to you. It says

”.Verily your Lord, He is the Creator, the All-Knowing “

And indeed We have given you seven of the oft-repeated (verses) (Sura Al-Hamd) “ ٨٧ ”.and the Grand Qur’ān

Commentary: verse ٨٧

The Islamic quotations narrated by both Shi’ite and Sunni scholars indicate that the objective of the Qur’ānic phrase /sab‘an minal- maθānī/ (seven of the oft-repeated (verses)) is Sura Al-Hamd. For this Sura is to be recited twice in every prayer, and it has been twice revealed. There has been mentioned in a quotation that Allah (s.w.t.) says He has separated Sura Al-Hamd into two parts between Himself and His servants. One part is in connection with Him, while the other part concerns His servants. From the holy phrase /bismillah/ as far as /malik i yaumiddīn/ is in connection with Allah, and from /’iyyāka na‘bud/, which is the expression of obedience in .worshipping, seeking assistance, and invocation, relates to the servants

Also, some have claimed that the objective in mind in /maθānī/ is the Qur’ān itself. In this case, the above mentioned Qur’ānic phrase means ‘seven verses from the .Qur’ān’ which is necessarily the same Sura Al-Hamd

The reason for this idea is the verse which says: “Allah has revealed the most beautiful Message in the form of a Book, consistent with itself (yet) repeating ...”<sup>(١)</sup>
.The Book the verses of which are similar, harmonious and repetitive

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) proclaimed: “Whoever, upon whom Allah bestows the Qur’ān, imagines such that another one has been bestowed something better than that, he has downgraded the (magnificent (Qur'ān) and has magnified a tiny (thing).” (1)

Anyway, Allah seeks to condole the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) not to be terrified by the enemy's violence, their density of population and the immense capabilities which are at their disposal, for Allah has made some blessings available to him with which :nothing will match equally. The verse says

And indeed We have given you seven of the oft-repeated (verses) (Sura Al-Hamd) “
”.and the Grand Qur'ān

Allah explains to His Prophet (p.b.u.h.) this reality that he possesses a great capital, a capital such as the Qur'ān which is as great as the entire world of existence, in particular, the Sura Al-Hamd which embodies such magnificent content that it joins man with Allah instantly and makes his soul bow and submit before Him, as well as
.invoking Him for help

In Tafsir-i-Borhān, under this noble verse there is cited a quotation from Imam Muhammad-i-Bāqir (a.s.) who said: We are the objective of /maṭānī/ which Allah has bestowed on our prophet, and we are Allah's countenance on the earth known among the people and the Shi'ah followers. He who has known us, he is certain to believe in the origin of existence, resurrection and paradise, and he who is ignorant as regards
.us, he will surely face the Hell and Divine chastisement

:Explanations

Legislation is solely the prerogative of the Creator, and the laws of religious edicts .1
.? must be based on 'creation

p: ۳۴۰

The principle of repetition in educational issues is a fundamental matter. The word .۲
'Oft-repeated' refers to the repetition of the revelation of the verses, the repetition of words, the repetition of stories, the repetition of Divine attributes, the repetition of verses of chastisement and of resurrection, the repetition of the fate of nations, the repetition of Divine blessings, the repetition of commandments, and the repetition of .reciting the Qur'ān

Sura Al-Hamd is equivalent with the Qur'ān, though the number of its verses .۳
.amounts to seven

O' prophet!) Do not strain your eyes after what we have given certain classes of) “ ٨٨ them to enjoy, and do not grieve for them, and lower your wing (of affection) unto the believers”.

Commentary: verse ٨٨

Warnings always do not follow the course of action. Rather, they sometimes precede and form as warning and preventive measures. The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was never interested in the world of the unbelievers. Hence, Allah's dissuasion signifies warnings and serves as such, which causes dissuasion among other believers so as not to focus their eyes on the world of the pagans

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has stated: “He who focuses on what others hold or possess, his troubles increase and his distress will not be treated.” (Tafsīr-uṣ-Ṣafī

One of the strict recommendations of the Qur'ān to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and the believers consists of recommendation as to leniency, mercifulness, and patience towards the faithful believers, among which one may name the instance when they should be patience with those who always call on their Lord and be modest and affectionate unto the believers

Incidentally, the Arabic word /'azwāj/ includes both men and women. Some claim that this word means /'asnāf/ (classes). That is, do not focus on the blessings which we have provided the classes of pagans with and do not consider them great while thinking about them. For, the blessings which We have bestowed upon you and your followers, namely, your prophetic mission, the Qur'ān, Islam, the conquest etc, are so far more in quantity and worth that they exceed all

:their blessings. The verse says

O' prophet!) Do not strain your eyes after what we have given certain classes of) “ ”... ,them to enjoy

And if the Quraysh pagans do not become believers and, as a consequence, will :receive chastisement, do not grieve for them. The verse continues saying
”... ,and do not grieve for them ...“

At the end of the verse, He issues His third command to the prophet about modesty, :humbleness, and leniency towards those who are believers, when He says
”.and lower your wing (of affection) unto the believers ...“

This sense is a beautiful ambiguous metaphorical allusion to modesty, affection, and friendliness as in the case of birds when they want to show their affection towards their chickens they cover them under their wings, where they provide us with the most existing emotional scene as they try to protect them against all sorts of .accidents and enemies

Therefore, all these are intended to show that leaders and prophets must be modest
.and humble with regard to the believers so that they follow him

٨٩. "And say: 'Verily I am the manifest Warner "

٩٠. "We shall send them chastisement) as We sent down on the dividers) "

٩١. "Those who made the Qur'ān into shreds "

Commentary: verses ٨٩-٩١

Similar to the case that leniency and affection with the believers and friends are necessary, being decisive against the opponents is also required, and decisiveness, threats and warnings are a necessity when one faces paganism

Allah commanded the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to say if he warns them Allah has asserted the fact that He will send them that kind of chastisement which was sent to 'those who divided', the same ones who divided the Qur'ān and the Divine verses into acceptable and none acceptable parts. The Holy Qur'ān says

"And say: 'Verily I am the manifest Warner "

"We shall send them chastisement) as We sent down on the dividers) "

They took up the Qur'ān and accepted from it whatever was to their advantage and discarded whatever was to their disadvantage. But the true believers do not impose any kind of analysis, divisions or discrimination as regards the Divine commandments.

The verse says

"Those who made the Qur'ān into shreds "

There are three meanings mentioned in the commentaries for the Qur'ānic term
://muqtasimīn

There were some chiefs of the unbelievers who during the days of Hajj pilgrimage .۱ used to divide forces at the crossroads and entrance gates of Mecca in order to tell the travelers that a person called Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) has got certain claims and they should not listen to him. They introduced him as a soothsayer, a sorcerer, and a .lunatic

The second meaning points to those who divided the Holy Qur'ān among .۲ themselves so as to produce each a simulation form of the Qur'ān

The third meaning refers to those persons who took certain parts of the Qur'ān for .۳ practice while leaving the other parts as unpractical

The Arabic word /'iḍīn/ is either the plural of /'iḍāh/ in the sense of 'quarrel and .disputation', or it is derived from the word /'uḍw/ which means 'cutting into pieces

Incidentally, the retribution of those who divide the Holy Book in that form is the Divine punishment. A believer is the one who accepts the Qur'ān in its entirety, saying .that whatever has been revealed has come from the side of Allah

”,(So, by your Lord, We shall surely question them all (in the Hereafter “ .٩٢

” .٩٣ .As to what they used to do “

Commentary: verses ٩٢-٩٣

Following their state of unbelief as to the Qur’ān and their dividing it, the Qur’ān implies that they shall see the punishment for this evil act of theirs and will be questioned about it

O’ Mohammad (p.b.u.h.) by your Lord We shall question them about it and We mean by interrogating them warning and blaming of them, that is, to convey to them this message as to why they committed sin. What proofs have they got to offer for having committed sins? They will then be target of all scandals. The Qur’ān says

”,(So, by your Lord, We shall surely question them all (in the Hereafter “

In this verse, Allah swears to Himself, presenting Himself as the Lord of Muhammad so as to prove his splendid position to the people. Then it continues saying

” .As to what they used to do “

Incidentally, the subject in question in this verse is: We ask them what they worshipped and what answer they would have to offer the prophets! They will have no answer

And in general, the fact that attention is focused on interrogation and auditing of accounts in resurrection day and the fact that everybody is going to be asked questions regarding everything is itself one of the factors in the awakening process

(٩٤) فَاصْدَعْ بِمَا تُؤْمَرُ وَأَعْرِضْ عَنِ الْمُشْرِكِينَ

(٩٥) إِنَّا كَفَيْنَاكَ الْمُسْتَهْزِئِينَ

(٩٦) الَّذِينَ يَجْعَلُونَ مَعَ اللَّهِ إِلَهًا آخَرَ فَسَوْفَ يَعْلَمُونَ

Therefore, declare openly what you are bidden and turn you away from the “ ٩٤ .polytheists ”.

”,Verily We will suffice you against the scoffers “ ٩٥ .

”.(Those who set up another god with Allah, so they will soon know (the truth “ ٩٦ .

Commentary: verses ٩٤–٩٦

.The Arabic term /ṣad‘/ signifies splitting and exposing or exhibiting

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) engaged in propagation for three years in secret, and as the Qur’ānic clause “Therefore, declare openly what you are bidden” was revealed, he openly went on his invitation and he told the people if they accepted his call, their administrative government, and the splendor of this world and the world hereafter :would be all theirs. The verse says

Therefore, declare openly what you are bidden and turn you away from the “ ٩٤ .polytheists ”.

However, they decided to be engaged in ridiculing and mocking that Divine Prophet .and went to Abū-Tālib, the uncle of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), to present their complaint

They complained that Muhammad was seducing their youths. If Muhammad was after wealth, wife and high position, they were ready to provide him with them all. The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) told his uncle: “Dear uncle! My words are the Divine messages and I shall never give up preaching.” The pagans requested Abu-Tālib to surrender Muhammad to them, but he did not condescend to the request. (Tafsīr-(Kanz-ud-Daqāyiq

Anyway, Allah issues a decisive decree to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in this noble verse, implying: you are here by instruction not only to stop letting any weakness, fear and numbness overtake you when facing the fuss and ado of the pagans, but you are also advised to openly declare your mission and what you are up to do, revealing the facts of the religion explicitly and turn away from the polytheists and remain headless with .regard to them

Afterwards, to provide reinforcement for the heart of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), Allah reassures him that He will back him up as against those who ridicule him. Allah implies: We shall remove the evil of those who ridicule you and We shall perish them. The
:verse says

”,Verily We will suffice you against the scoffers “

Allah then describes /mustahziʿīn/ (those who ridicule), as: They are the ones who designate counterparts for Allah, but they will soon face the consequence of their evil
:behavior. The verse says

”.(Those who set up another god with Allah, so they will soon know (the truth “

It may be that this meaning alludes to the fact that these are the ones whose thoughts and deeds are ridiculous by themselves, for they are so ignorant that they create god-like figures out of stones and wood as against Allah Who is the Creator of the world of existence, despite all of which they want to make an object of ridicule out
.of you

Therefore, (to reinforce yourself), celebrate the praise of your Lord, and be of “ .٩٨
”(those who make prostration (unto Him

And worship your Lord until the Certain comes “ .٩٩

”.to you

Commentary: verses ٩٧–٩٩

Among the commentators it is well-known that the aim in mentioning /yaqīn/ (certainty), in these verses, is the most certain of all that takes place with regard to man, that is, death. As it is also quoted from the tongue of the pagans in verses ٤٦–٤٧ of Sura Al-Muddaththir No. ٧٤ saying that they used to reject the Day of Judgment till .death overtook them

The meaning of the Arabic word /yaqīn/ is not death, of course, but death prepares the grounds for arriving at certainty, for at the time when death is forth coming, all .curtains are drawn and man becomes certain of the realities

Some deviants have made a pretext out of the verse and claim: if one arrives at the state of certainty, there is no more any need for worshipping, little knowing that it is the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) who is being addressed and who had arrived at certainty from the earliest day and used to declare in face of inciting greed and threats of the pagans: “If you place the moon into my one hand and the sun into another one, I shall not be stopped from performing my duty.” However, despite such a state of certainty, he used to worship

.till the last moments of his life

Anyway, Allah adds as a console and as a reinforcement for elevating the spirit of the :holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in the noble verse

”And (O’ prophet!) We certainly know your breast is straitened by what they say “

Your delicate spirit and your very sensitive heart cannot withstand all those ill-
.intentioned words and blasphemous sentences, thus making you deeply depressed

However, do not be disturbed; to remove the ill-effects of their nasty and inappropriate words, worship and praise your Lord, and remain one of those who :prostrate. The verse says

Therefore, (to reinforce yourself), celebrate the praise of your Lord, and be of those “ ”.(who make prostration (unto Him

For, such a gratitude shown towards Allah will remove the ill-effects of their words from the minds of the lovers of Allah. Moreover, it provides you with energy, ability,
.illumination and sincerity as well

Some Islamic traditions denote that whenever the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) became sad, he used to establish prayer by which he would wipe out the effects of that grief from his .mind

Therefore, The Lord gives him His last commandment in connection with this matter that he must not give up worshipping Allah throughout his life and he (p.b.u.h.) must :keep on worshipping and serving Him till his certain death occurs. The holy verse says

”And worship your Lord until the Certain comes to you “

It is cited in Majma‘-ul-Bayān that if Allah would say only: ‘worship the Lord’ and would not confine it to a certain limit in time, it was sufficient for man to worship Allah once and prove his servitude to Him. However, with this meaning, He convinces man .to worship Allah as long as he is alive

In conclusion, worshipping Him is the highest level of education; it provokes one’s thought and calls one’s way of thinking towards the endless boundaries. It wipes out and washes away all the dust of sinfulness and negligence from one’s heart and soul, while inculcating supreme human values within him. It strengthens one’s faith and .awareness, and makes one responsible in his affairs

It is for this reason that it would be impossible to imagine that man might be needless of this great educational school for even one moment. Those who think man may reach a stage where he will be no more in need of worshipping, either have regarded man’s development as a limited process, or they have not grasped the full meaning of .worshipping

p: ۳۵۱

In the Name of Allah, The Beneficent, The Merciful

(Sura An-Naḥl (The Bee

(No. ١٦ (Revealed in Mecca

verses in ١٦ sections ١٢٨

:Content of Sura An-Naḥl

The sixteenth Sura of the Glorious Qur'ān which contains ١٢٨ verses is called 'Naḥl'
'Bees' owing to allusions made in it to the creation of bees

Notwithstanding the Qur'ān is a Book of Divine legislation, but many of its Suras are named based on creation, such as An-Najm (star), 'Ash-Shams' (the sun), 'Al-Fil' (the (elephant), 'Al-Ankabūt' (spider), and 'An-Naḥl' (the bee

These names are clues as to the fact that all the creatures whether in the sky or on the earth, whether small or great, they are all equal to Him due to His Power, and the Book of legislation is based on the Book of nature, both of which have their sources in one origin

One of the names of this Sura is 'the Sura of the Blessings' for there are the names of over ٥٠ blessings mentioned in it. The issues dealt with in this Sura are: the Divine blessings, reasons for monotheism and resurrection, ordinances concerning the Holy war, the threats against the pagans, the dissuasions of injustice, indecency, breaking of one's promises, innovations, and satanical temptations

Incidentally, most of the commentators are of the opinion that it is understood from the occasions of the revelation of the verses of this Sura that the first forty verses of it have been revealed at the end of the Meccan era, while the remaining eighty eight were revealed during the early period of the migration to Medina. Therefore, this holy Sura is both Meccan as well as Medinite

:The Virtues of Reading this Sura

In some quotations narrated from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), it has been confirmed that he said: "He who recites this Sura, Allah will not hold him accountable for the blessings which He has bestowed on him in this world." All means will be made available to him to go to Paradise. (Tafsīr-i-Burhān). Certainly, that kind of reading is meant hereby that is coupled with meditation and decision which leads one to practice and taking steps on the path of gratitude Allah’s commandment has come, hence do not seek to hasten it. Glory be to Him “ .۱

”and Exalted is He above every thing with which they associate Him

Commentary: verse ۱

A considerable part of the commencing verses of this Sura have been revealed in Mecca, during which time the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was intensively entangled with the pagans and idol-worshippers who used various pretexts every day for the liberating and life-saving call of Islam. Among such pretexts one might name the Divine chastisement, which, whenever the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) warned them against, some obstinate folks would declare. “Why would such a chastisement which you claim, if truly said, do not ”?come to be inflicted on us

They might sometimes add that if supposedly there was such a case impending, they should take recourse to their idols to serve as mediators with Allah (s.w.t.) to be .rescued from punishment

The first verse of this Sura drew an obliterating line over such imaginary claims by implying that they should stop making haste in that connection for Allah’s
:commandment had definitely been issued already. It says

”... Allah’s commandment has come, hence do not seek to hasten it “

If you think that the idols will be involved as mediators with Him, you are seriously mistaken, as Allah is far more intact and superior to being attached with associates.
:The verse continues saying

Glory be to Him and Exalted is He above every thing with which they associate ... “
”.Him

:Explanation

Notwithstanding the case in question in this verse is the pagans’ impatience in their receiving of the Divine punishment, but the beginning sentence of the verse is not confined to the Divine punishment. Rather, it includes all the Divine commandments such as that relating to waging of the Holy war, the commandment concerning the reappearance of the contemporary Imam (a.j.), the Return of the Immaculate Imams (a.s.), and the commandment for the stepping up and staging of the resurrection day
.about which one must not make haste

He sends down the angels with the inspiration of His commandment upon “ .٢ whomever of His servants He wills as to warn (people) that there is no God but I, so be ”.in awe of Me

Commentary: verse ٢

The Arabic term /rūh/ refers to one of the Divine near-stationed angels the name of which is mentioned separately in the Qur’ān and has come beside the word ‘the angels’: “The Day (on which) the spirit (Rūh) and the angels shall stand arrayed, ...” ((Sura An-Naba’, No. ٧٨, verse ٣٨

However, in the verse under discussion the letter /b/ (with) is employed between the two words used instead of the conjunction /wa/ (and). Perhaps, the meaning intended in this verse is not ‘that angel’ when dealing with /rūh/, but it may mean the literal sense of the word which is the spiritual life. In this case the verse signifies: Allah sends down the angels along with the means of life to those servants whom He pleases; as is the case in verse ٥٠ from Sura Ash-Shourā, where the word /rūh/ denotes the Qur’ān which is the source of spiritual life.<sup>(١)</sup>

In any case, as no punishment and retribution will be inflicted on anyone without adequate explanation and without delivering a just ultimatum, the Qur’ān implies that Allah sends down angels with the Divine spirit to those of His

”with which they associate Him

Commentary: verse ٣

Here, the Qur’ān selects two ways for dealing with the issue of the eradication of .paganism and focusing all people’s attention on the One God

First, He tackles the issue with rational reasoning regarding the magnificent order of creation and its system. Secondly, He tackles the issue through emotional ways and the explanation of the various blessings towards man and by instigating man’s sense
:of gratitude. At first, it says

”... ;He created the skies and the earth with the truth “

The rightfulness of creation of the skies and the earth is evident both when one considers the amazing system of well-regulated creation, and the goal and the .various interests which exist in it

Are those idols whom they associate with Him able to bring about such a creation process, or can they create a small mosquito or create a particle of dust? The verse
:says

”.Exalted is He above everything with which they associate Him ...“

”He created man out of semen, yet behold! He is an open adversary “ .٤

Commentary: verse ٤

After allusions made to the issue of the creation of the skies and the earth and their endless mysteries, He enters into the discussion of man himself; the man who is closer to Him than any other one

The Qur’ān in regard to man implies that: And eventually when he was a worthless sperm with no soul, he was made into a rational being as well as defendant, expressive of his own interior, and engaging in disputations with foes. (This meaning refers to the different stages of man’s development process

The other meaning attributed to this verse is that man eventually turned into Allah’s enemy, rejecting his own Creator. (This alludes to the retrogression and meanness of the sinful ones.) The verse says

”He created man out of semen, yet behold! He is an open adversary “

And He created the cattle for you, therein is warmth and (other) advantages, and “ ٥ .
”of them you eat

Commentary: verse ٥

There are many advantages in animals for man. Their meat and milk serve for his food; their skin and wool serve for making shoes and clothing; their back serves for loading, their feet are utilized for cultivation, and even their feces are used for fertilization. In spite of all the above advantages, they cause the least trouble for man.

:The verse says

And He created the cattle for you, therein is warmth and (other) advantages, and of “
”them you eat

In Islamic quotations, next to agriculture, the best job proposed is breeding live-stock. This has been mentioned on condition that the job is coupled with the payment of one's religious dues of Zakāt and with an eye on the deprived people

Incidentally, focusing one's attention on the divine blessings enlivens the love unto the Creator as well as the spirit of His servitude in man

(٤) وَلَكُمْ فِيهَا جَمَالٌ حِينَ تُرِيحُونَ وَحِينَ تَسْرَحُونَ

And there is beauty in them for you when you drive them (home in the evening), “ ٤ .
”.(and when you send them forth to pasture (in the morning

Commentary: verse ٤

The Qur’ānic term /tasraḥūn/ is derived from /saraḥa/ which signifies sending livestock to the pastureland; and the Arabic term /turiḥūn/, which is derived from /rauḥ/, means .the time when the cattle return to their stable

Allah, the Gracious, does not confine Himself to the mentioning of the ordinary advantages provided by the useful animals, but He also insists on the psychological :benefits which can be drawn out of them. The verse says

And there is beauty in them for you when you drive them (home in the evening), and “
”.(when you send them forth to pasture (in the morning

This, in fact, provides the beauty of the self-sufficiency for the society, as this is a way of the provision for the needs by a society which are to be fulfilled. In other words this provides a picture for the beauty laid out in the process for achieving economic .independence as well as the stoppage of all source of dependence

:Explanations

١ .The four-footed animals are (just like other creatures,) created for the sake of man .

٢ .Vegetarianism is not a value in itself. Allah recounts the eating of the meat of lawful .
animals as one of their advantages: "... of them you eat." Certainly, indulgence in consumption of meat is not .recommended

The perfection of the glory of a society resides in its independence, self-sufficiency, .۳
.production and expanding of its livestock breeding industry

.Beauty and decoration' is one of the natural needs of the individual and society' .۴

The perfection in beauty of a society rests with the struggle, and not with .۵ stagnation and impasse; the struggle which is achieved through mass movement, and
.not through individualistic achievements

Beauty in perfection requires being of service to the people; it is not attained .۶
.through only filling up of one's own stomach

That kind of beauty makes perfect in case of being under the umbrella of a .۷ shepherd which is coupled with one's own wisdom, and not being left alone and to .oneself

And they carry your heavy loads unto a land that you could not reach except with “ .٧
” .distress of (your) self. Verily your Lord is Compassionate, Merciful

Commentary: verse ٧

The Qur’ān points out to another of the advantages of animals in this noble verse. It implies that animals carry your heavy loads on their back, going towards towns and regions which you could not reach without undergoing tremendous troubles. The
:verse says

And they carry your heavy loads unto a land that you could not reach except with“
”... .distress of (your) self

This is a sign of Mercy and compassion of Allah Who has created these four-footed animals with such tremendous strength, and has made them tamed and submissive
:to you. The verse continues saying

” .Verily your Lord is Compassionate, Merciful ... “

As one may note, these four-footed animals, firstly, provide man with means for covering him against cold and heat. In the second place, their milk products are used and, then, their meat. And, finally, they provide those psychological effects which
.leave an impact on man’s heart, and their use as a means of transportation

And (He created) horses, and mules and donkeys that you may ride upon them, “<sup>٨</sup>”
”and for ornament, and He creates what you do not know

Commentary: verse <sup>٨</sup>

The Qur’ānic term /xayl/ means: ‘pride, arrogance’, but here, in this verse, the .objective is ‘horse’, as if man feels a kind of pride and arrogance in horse riding

The Arabic word /biqāl/ signifies ‘mule’ which comes to being by a horse and a donkey;
.’and the word /ḥamīr/ is the plural from of /ḥimār/ in the sense of ‘ass

In this holy verse, the Qur’ān points to some other animals which man uses for riding.
:The verse says

And (He created) horses, and mules and donkeys that you may ride upon them, and “
”... ,for ornament

In conclusion, Allah points out to a more important issue and calls everybody’s attention to the various means of transportation and mounts which will be made available to man in the future, and, which he can make better use of them. And Allah will create other things that you know nothing about them, like the modern various means of transportation, whether be it cars, trains, or airplanes which are indeed
:Allah’s creatures, not those of men. The verse continues saying

”and He creates what you do not know ...“

(٩) وَعَلَى اللَّهِ قَصْدُ السَّبِيلِ وَمِنْهَا جَائِزٌ وَلَوْ شَاءَ لَهَدَاكُمْ أَجْمَعِينَ

And upon Allah is to show the right way, and of them (the ways) are the deviating “ .٩
”ones; and if He had willed He could have guided all of you

Commentary: verse ٩

From among the affairs which Allah regards them as His Own obligations is leading people and providing them with proper guidance, as He remarks “Verily We take upon :Ourselves to guide,” (١) and again in this verse the Holy Qur’ān states

”... ,And upon Allah is to show the right way “

Here, the Qur’ānic term /qaṣḍ/ signifies moderation, and the aim in referring to /qaṣḍ-
.’us-sabīl/ is the in-between way or the ‘straight way

Anyway, in pursuing the various blessings, which were discussed in the previous verses, the Qur’ān points out here to one of the most important spiritual blessings of them, when it implies that it is up to Allah to show the right and straight path to the :people, a path which has no deviation found in it. The verse says

”... ,And upon Allah is to show the right way “

As for this ‘straight path’ which alludes to either the ‘genetic’ or the ‘religious’ dimension, the commentators have offered various interpretations. However, their .ideas are not incompatible with each other if they include both cases

p: ٣٦٥

On the other hand, Allah has sent the prophets equipping them with revelations, adequate instructions and regulations required by man, so that, from the religious laws point of view be able to discriminate the good from the evil and, by means of kind of statements, to persuade man to cover the straight way and refrain him from the .deviate paths

Afterwards, as there are many deviating paths, He warns human beings, implying :that some of these paths are deviating and have dead ends. The verse says

”... ;and of them (the ways) are the deviating ones ...“

And since the blessings of freedom of choice and free will are among the most important factors in man’s perfection, the Qur’ān refers to them with a short sentence and remarks in implication that if Allah wanted, He would lead all of you by compulsion to the straight path in such a way as you would not be able to deviate in :the least from that path. The verse continues saying

”.and if He had willed He could have guided all of you ...“

But, He did not do that, for compulsory guidance is neither something which makes .one proud; nor is it a development for him

Anyway, Allah has not deemed it appropriate to make people believers by .compulsion; on the contrary, He has left man free to choose his own path

”.(grows) trees on which you pasture your cattle

Commentary: verse ۱۰

The Arabic term /tasīmūn/ is derived from /'asāmah/ and means letting animals graze in the pastureland; and the word /šajar/ in Arabic has a broad meaning which includes every type of plant, whether trees or bushes. As Sura Aṣ-Ṣāffāt, No. ۳۷, verse ۱۴۶, concerning pumpkins, says: “And caused We to grow (to give shade) over him a plant .of pumpkin.”, notwithstanding the fact that pumpkins have bushes and not trees

At any rate, in this noble verse, the Qur'ān again makes allusion to the material blessings so as to provoke men's sense of gratitude, to light the love of Allah in their hearts, and to call them to attain a wider cognition of the One Who has been granting :them the blessings. It says

”... ;He it is Who sends down water from the sky for you “

It is the enlivening and freshening, pure, and transparent water which is free from all kinds of pollution and which is the source of drinking

”... ,from it you drink ...“

And there are plants and trees which grow out of it, and which forms pasturelands :where you send your domestic animals for grazing. The verse continues saying

”.and by it (grows) trees on which you pasture your cattle ...“

It is certain that the advantages of rainwater are not confined to drinking by man, enabling plants to grow and trees to flourish. These advantages include the washing of the earth compounds, purification of the air, creating of the required moisture for freshness of man’s skin, facilitating of one’s breathing process, and the like. However, in view of the fact that the abovementioned two parts were of more importance, they .have been emphasized far more than the other domains

Therewith He causes to grow for you herbage, and the olives, and the palm trees, “ .١١ and the grapes, and of all the fruits. Verily there is a sign in this for a people who ”.reflect

Commentary: verse ١١

One must note that to make something grow is the job of Allah and not farming it; and all kinds of fruits are created for man. So we must keep in mind that all products and fruits have a passing effect and they are not to be regarded as ends in themselves; they are proper signs and symbols leading towards the destination and are not to be :regarded as destinations themselves. The verse says

Therewith He causes to grow for you herbage, and the olives, and the palm trees, “ ”... and the grapes, and of all the fruits

Certainly, only to see and to know does not suffice; but thinking and taking the :appropriate measures are also necessary. The verse continues saying

”.Verily there is a sign in this for a people who reflect ...“

****

?Why Does He only Name Olives, Palm-trees and Grapes

Perhaps it seems such that if the Qur’ān stresses on fruits as olives, dates and grapes, it is because of the fact that their location in the environment of the revelation of the Holy

p: ٣٦٩

Qur'ān has been conducive to the growth of such fruits. However, considering the fact that the Holy Qur'ān has been a universal and an eternal phenomenon and given note to the depth of its interpretation, it becomes obvious that the issue goes beyond such .limits

Nutrition scientists remark that there are few fruits the excellence of which can match nutritionally these three fruits. They also claim that olive oil can produce excellent fuel for bodily activities. Its quantity of calories is enormous for which it is regarded as energizing, and those who always seek to keep healthy, must become interested in .this

Olive oil is friendly towards one's liver; while, at the same time, it is effective in removing the ill conditions of kidneys, biliary stones, lithiasis, nephritic colic and .hepatic colic, as well as removing of constipation syndromes

With the progress of medical sciences and nutrition and food sciences, the pharmaceutical effects of dates have also been adequately proved. There is calcium in dates which is the prime factor for the strengthening of bones, and there is also phosphorus in dates which is the principal source and element which constitutes brain and inhibits weakness of nerves and fatigue syndromes. It also increases the power of one's eyesight. Dates also possess potassium, the absence of which in one's body .results in stomach ulcer. It is very useful for one's muscles, and human body tissues

The fact that dates prevent cancer is nowadays widely circulated among nutrition .scientists

As for the grapes, according to nutrition scientists, they are so effective in numerous ways that one can regard them as a naturally established pharmacy or \(pharmaceutical laboratory.\)

p: ۳۷۰

Grapes produce twice as much heat in one's body as meat. Moreover, they counterattack poison and play a host of other roles as purifying ones blood, removing of rheumatism, goat, and the increase in urea in one's blood stream. Grapes polish one's stomach and intestines and are activating, and they remove one's depression.

.They reinforce one's nerves and strengthen man because of their various vitamins

Therefore, the stress which the Qur'ān lays on these three fruits is not groundless.

.Probably, some important parts of it have been unknown to the people at that time

And He (has) made the night and the day, and the sun and the moon subservient “ ١٢ . for you, and the stars have been made subservient by His command. Verily there are ”signs in this for a people who understand

Commentary: verse ١٢

The objective of the conquest of the sun and the moon is man’s manipulation of them for his own advantage. Otherwise, man who is not able to create even a fly, how would he be able to conquer the sun. By His grace, Allah, the Almighty, has made them subservient for man

At any rate, alluding to the blessings offered to man by Allah in man’s conquest of the various beings in the world, the Qur’ān remarks

And He (has) made the night and the day, and the sun and the moon subservient for “
”... you, and the stars have been made subservient by His command

Most certainly, there are signs and clues of the grandeur of Allah (s.w.t.) and the magnificence of creation for those who contemplate. The verse continues saying

”Verily there are signs in this for a people who understand ...“

In the meantime, the hierarchical order of the system of existence is solely attracting the attention and are the object of development of those individuals who are thinking as well as reasoning, and not for those with naively-thinking, and those who are simple-minded

(١٣) وَمَا ذَرَأَ لَكُمْ فِي الْأَرْضِ مُخْتَلِفًا أَلْوَانُهُ إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَةً لِّقَوْمٍ يَذَّكَّرُونَ

And (also) whatever He has produced for you on the earth of different colours; “ ١٣ .
” .verily there is a sign in this for a people who take advice

Commentary: verse ١٣

The varieties of hues in existence are nothing but signs of the Power and Wisdom of Allah. Of course, He has created them for humankind. Hence, Allah declares in this noble verse, implying that the creatures which He has created for you on the earth have also been made subservient to you as well, various creatures and of different coloring. The verse says

”... ;And (also) whatever He has produced for you on the earth of different colours “

They are from different coverings, foods, clean spouses, and well-fare means to different mines and underground useful sources as well as other over-ground ones .plus other blessings

In these, there are also signs which are evident for those who are reminded in these :matters as well. The verse says

” .verily there is a sign in this for a people who take advice ... “

:Reflection, Reasoning, Reminding

In the above verses, after calling people to three parts of the Divine blessings, He .invites people to the act of reflection

However, in one case He points out that ‘There are signs in these for those who reflect’. In another case He reiterates that there are signs for those who reason, .while in the third case He declares that there are signs for those who remember

Such a wide range of differences in senses does not certainly reflect some technical .maneuvering in expression

Conversely, out of what we grasp from the methodology of the Qur'ān, each has got a different point of reference. Maybe, the note on such difference points out to the case of varieties of the existing blessings in the world are so obvious that the mere fact of .mentioning may be sufficient

However, in case of agriculture, olives, palm trees, grapes and the fruits in general, they require reflection so that one gets more acquainted with their nutritional and .therapeutic qualities. Therefore, He makes allusion to reflection and points it out

As for the conquest of the sun and the moon as well as stars along with the secrets of the day and night, there is need for further thinking. Thus, He refers to 'reasoning'
.which ranks higher in the hierarchy of the ladder of contemplation

In any case, the Qur'ān always addresses the enlightened, meditating, think tank individuals who have got highly sophisticated brains and reasoning despite the fact that the Qur'ān has been appeared in an environment where ruled naught but ignorance. One thus concludes the magnanimity of such meanings. In particular when facing those who negate the truly authentic religions altogether. Crossing them out who, because of some superstitious religions, claim that religions, in general, put one's meditation channels out of work. They claim that having faith in Allah is the .product of ignorance

Such Qur'ānic verses are almost found throughout all of the suras. The Qur'ān explicitly states that the truly authentic religion is the product of meditation, reflection, and reasoning, and Islam addresses the intellectuals, the reflecting people and the men of knowledge everywhere, and not those who are ignorant, superstitious
.or the seemingly enlightened ones who have got no solid logical framework

(١٤) وَهُوَ الَّذِي سَخَّرَ الْبَحْرَ لَيْتاً تَأْكُلُوا مِنْهُ لَحْمًا طَرِيًّا وَتَسْتَخْرِجُوا مِنْهُ حِلْيَةً تَلْبَسُونَهَا وَتَرَى الْفُلْكَ مَوَاجِرَ فِيهِ وَلِتَبْتَغُوا مِنْ فَضْلِهِ

And He it is Who has made the sea subservient that you may eat fresh meat from “ ١٤ .
it and bring forth from it ornaments which you wear, and you see the ships cleaving
” through it, and that you may seek of His bounty, and that you may be grateful

Commentary: verse ١٤

The sea has got an important role to play in man’s life. The seawater is the source of steam, clouds and rain. The depth of the sea provides man with the most delicious food, fishes, and its surface provides the cheapest, and the most widespread lines of transportation for cargo and passengers. All of the above advantages have been made possible through the policies and powers of the Almighty, and man has got no
:role to play in bringing them about. The verse says

And He it is Who has made the sea subservient that you may eat fresh meat from it “ and bring forth from it ornaments which you wear, and you see the ships cleaving
” through it, and that you may seek of His bounty, and that you may be grateful

The Arabic term /mawāxir/ is the plural form of /māxirah/ which is derived from /maxr/
.and it signifies splitting from all sides, the left side as well as the right side

The sea, with all its magnanimity and despite all its ebbs and flows, is subject and subservient to man and is at his disposal. “And He it is Who has made the sea ... subservient

The seas provide the most important source of fresh and healthy meat. “...that you ...may eat fresh meat from it

Allah provides man not only with the means of primary needs, such as water and food, but also He provides him even with ornamental materials as well; in a manner: So as you would be able to exploit the precious gems of the seas with deep-sea diving for the sake of your dressing as well as the dressing of your wives. “...and bring forth ... ,from it ornaments which you wear

.The seas provide man with the best of natural ornaments .

The general laws with regard to the sea animals are concerned with their categorization as being religiously ‘lawful meat’ for eating, unless there is a law as not being allowed for a specific reason

.Freshness of meat is a value in itself .

Although man ought to struggle for obtaining food, his sustenance depends on ... ,Allah. “...and that you may seek of His bounty

All of one’s success must be targeted in order that sense of gratitude may be awakened. “... and that you may be grateful

(١٥) وَالْقَى فِي الْأَرْضِ رَوَاسِيَ أَنْ تَمِيدَ بِكُمْ وَأَنْهَاراً وَسُبُلًا لَعَلَّكُمْ تَهْتَدُونَ

And He has cast firm mountains in the earth that it does not quake with you, and “ ١٥ .
”,streams and roads that you may be guided aright

Commentary: verse ١٥

Mountains provide sources of equilibrium and comfort for man. The Arabic term /mayd/ means ‘movement towards the right and left directions, as well as tension’. The Qur’ānic sentence /’an tamīda bikum/ (that it does not quake with you) signifies that mountains are the cause of one’s peace of mind as well as preventing of earth quakes. Haḍrat Ali (a.s.), with regard to mountains, says: “Allah rendered the earth in a sustaining form by fixing in it gigantic stones and firm mountains.”<sup>(١)</sup> The foundations of the mountains have penetrated in all of the ups and downs of the earth and are :geared into its holes. The verse says

And He has cast firm mountains in the earth that it does not quake with you, and “
”,streams and roads that you may be guided aright

As the tension of the earth requires gigantic mountains to keep it sustaining, the tension found among the inhabitants of the earth also requires up-straight and Godly .figures so that they can serve as causes of peace of mind in the people of the society

p: ٣٧٧

Some Islamic quotations indicate that Allah (s.w.t.) made the Ahl-ul-Bayt of the Prophet of Islam (a.s.) as the pillars of (the earth so as to rescue the inhabitants of the earth from anxiety and tension.)

In the meantime, mountains play an important role in man's life. They store the winter snow amidst their outskirts which serve as the sources of streams and canals in springtime and with their variety of shapes they can serve as the road signs for guiding the travelers. We can grasp this meaning once we suppose that the entire .earth were flat and soft

”And landmarks (too), and by the star they find the right way “ .١٦

Commentary: verse ١٦

We need landmarks for moving in the deserts and finding our way. The natural signs guide us during day-time and the stars lead us by night, to both of which Allah makes allusions in this verse. It says

”And landmarks (too), and by the star they find the right way “

We do not only need signs for finding our right way from circumlocution roads which lead us astray, but we also need clear signs for knowing the right from wrong in the midst of our desires, instincts, and of the despotic methods of dictators. The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has designated and assigned some symbols to know the truth after him .when people need it and when they are wandering aimlessly by looking at them

In many quotations from the immaculate Imāms (a.s.) we have it that /najm/ (star) is interpreted as the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and /‘alāmāt/ (symbols) is interpreted as the Imams, in which case we have reference made to the spiritual commentary of this .verse of the Qur’ān

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) in a tradition has said: The ‘star’ reflects the Messenger of Allah, and ‘symbols’ alludes to the Imams (a.s.)” And Imam Sādiq (a.s.) also states: “ We are the symbols”. One of the best examples and cases of those so-called ‘symbols’ are (Haḍrat Zahrā, and Imam Husayn (a.s.). (Tafsīr-ul-Burhān

”?Is He then Who creates as he who does not create? Do you not then consider “ .١٧

Commentary: verse ١٧

From the onset of the Sura Nahl as far as here, the Qur’ān has recounted the Divine blessings in ١٥ verses. It draws a general conclusion in this verse and explains the issue in an interrogative form implying whether He then Who creates is on a par with or equal to those idols and despots who are lacking in power to create. Why is it that you search for them instead of turning to the Almighty? The verse says

”... ?Is He then Who creates as he who does not create “

After the discussion of all those great blessings and the hidden graces of Allah, the Qur’ān addresses the conscience of the human beings and states

”?Is He then Who creates as he who does not create? Do you not then consider “

Should one prostrate before the Creator of all such blessings or should one prostrate before those beings which are only tiny creatures themselves and who have never created anything and are not creating anything at the present

This is an effective educational method which the Qur’ān has employed in various circumstances. It raises the issues in an interrogative form and leaves their answers to the awakened consciences while appealing to the sense of spontaneity of the people.

In conclusion, theology and the worship of the Almighty is embedded in the nature of all human beings; what is needed is reminding them of it

”?Do you not then consider ... “

(١٨) وَإِنْ تَعُدُّوا نِعْمَةَ اللَّهِ لَا تُحْصُوهَا إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَغَفُورٌ رَحِيمٌ

And if you count Allah's blessings, you are unable to number them. Verily Allah is " ١٨ .
".Forgiving, Merciful

Commentary: verse ١٨

Finally, in order to let no one think that the favors of Allah are confined to those things
:only, the Qur'an states

"... And if you count Allah's blessings, you are unable to number them "

Now, this question arises as to how can we express our gratitude to Him which we owe Him? In this case, are we not among those who are ungrateful? The Qur'an :provides the answer to this question in the last sentence of this verse, saying

".Verily Allah is Forgiving, Merciful ..."

Certainly, Allah is more compassionate and more lenient than you may think of Him to take actions in questioning or in punishing you for your inability to express your thanks for His blessings. You would better know this much that you are head over heel intermingled in His Graces and you are unable to express due recognition for His favors, and you should pay Him the apology that you always owe Him for your shortcoming in order to fulfill your duty in thanking Him. It is in this case that you have .performed your utmost thankfulness to Him

Who is he the one who affords to express his gratitude adequately to Him. That servant does best who offers his apology to Him for the sins he has committed.

.Otherwise, what can best suit Him is utterly impossible to be performed by anyone

However, all these obstacles cannot obstruct us or stand in our way to keep account .of His bounties and graces as far as we can, and thus be grateful to Him

Commentary: verse ١٩

Allah’s knowledge as to all affairs, whether open or covert, is identical, and if we know that Allah is fully aware of whatever we do, we seek to lead a virtuous life. Definitely, Allah knows as to what our intentions and objectives might be. The verse says

Commentary: verse ٢٠

The Holy Qur’ān stresses the issue of creativity once again, implying: Those whom they worship other than Allah, not only they do not create anything but also they .themselves are created ones. The verse says

And those they call on besides Allah do not create anything and they are themselves “
” .created

The issue in question has so far been that these are not the creators and for this reason they are not worth worshipping. Now the Qur’ān declares that they are .themselves created and needy as well

(٢١) أَمْوَاتٌ غَيْرُ أَحْيَاءٍ وَمَا يَشْعُرُونَ أَيَّانَ يُبْعَثُونَ

”They are dead, not alive, and they do not know when they will be raised“ .٢١

Commentary: verse ٢١

As the worshippers of the idols used to manufacture idols in the shape of man, and they used to treat them as if they were conscious beings, therefore, Allah in this verse .calls the idols as dead ones which are used for the conscious living beings

All beings except Allah are regarded as dead, whether be it inanimate ones or human :beings from the point of being worshipped. The verse says

”They are dead, not alive, and they do not know when they will be raised“

This is the fifth characteristic which the worshipped one must possess, and which the .idols are lacking

Idols and idolatry have got a wide range of meanings in the logic of the Qur’ān. Whomever and whatever is juxtaposed as against Allah in respect to its leaning and supporting power and we imagine in whose hands our destiny is laid, that will be regarded as an idol for us. It is for this reason that whatever is mentioned in the above verses are in connection with those who claim apparently seem to be worshippers of Allah, but they have lost the independence of a faithful and truthful believer, leaning on the support of some weak subjects on whom they count for their .livelihood, they are the target of them

Commentary: verse ۲۲

Your Lord is One God, unique and no one else is able to be the creator of the :blessings. Therefore, stick to the rules of His worship. The verse says

“... Your God is One God “

Those who disbelieve in the Hereafter, their hearts deny the truth and they refrain from accepting admonitions and advices. Such ones are those who are arrogant and refrain from submission to the truth. They go on disobeying it without having any :grounds for what they do. The holy verse continues saying

Hence, those who do not believe in the Hereafter, their hearts are repulsive, and ... “ :they are arrogant”

****

The previous verses dealt with the ability of Allah and the inability of all others . ۱ relating to the act of creation and lack of their awareness about the future. This verse stresses the fact that your real Lord is Allah, One God

The Arabic term /kibr/ signifies ‘megalomania’ or regarding of one’s own self as . ۲ greater than what one is. The word /takabbur/ means putting into practice or implementation of the attributes of being megalomaniac. The Arabic word /’istikbār/ also denotes that one is not great in itself but wants to create and prove his grandeur and splendor by whatever means which are usually at his disposal

Some Islamic quotations indicate that Imam Husayn (a.s.) once was passing by a . ۳ group of impoverished needy people who were having their meals. They invited him to join them. The Imam (a.s.) accepted their invitation and sat down next to them, engaging in eating, then he said: “Allah does not love the arrogant.” \(۱\)

(٢٣) لَا جَرَمَ أَنَّ اللَّهَ يَعْلَمُ مَا يُسْرُونَ وَمَا يُعْلِنُونَ إِنَّهُ لَا يُحِبُّ الْمُسْتَكْبِرِينَ

Undoubtedly Allah does know that which they conceal and that which they reveal. “ ٢٣ .
”.Verily He does not love the arrogant

Commentary: verse ٢٣

The Arabic word /jarama/ means ‘picking of and cutting fruits from the trees’. The term /lājarama/ signifies that the issue in question is not to be ‘cut’, ‘taken away’ or .such that one can be skeptic about. Conversely, it is something certain and decisive

This verse serves two functions: It threatens the pagans warning them all as to the awareness of Allah of their performances, and, at the same time, it carries the good news unto the believers about the fact that Allah is aware of the situation of their .enemies and can punish them as well

This noble verse also stresses once again on Allah’s knowledge of the invisible and His intuition of what is open and hidden, saying that Allah is definitely aware of what they make manifest as well as what they hide away. This sentence is in fact a threat against the pagans and the foes of the Truth about which Allah is never unaware. The :verse says

”... .Undoubtedly Allah does know that which they conceal and that which they reveal “

They are arrogant and Allah does not love the arrogant, for arrogance, when facing :the Truth, is considered as the first sign of one’s alienation from Allah. The verse says

”.Verily He does not love the arrogant ...“

(٢٤) وَإِذَا قِيلَ لَهُمْ مَآذَا أَنْزَلَ رَبُّكُمْ قَالُوا أَسَاطِيرُ الْأَوَّلِينَ

And when they are asked: ‘What has your Lord sent down?’ They say: ‘The “ .٢٤
”.’legends of the ancients

Commentary: verse ٢٤

The Arabic term ʾasāṭīr is the plural form of ʾusṭūrah which signifies the stories and superstitious fables which have been turned into written forms. Or, it may be the plural form of ʾasṭār which means lines that have been copied in duplicated forms from the previous books. This word has been quoted nine times in the Qurʾān from the pagan’s tongue in all cases of which they have been accompanied by the word ʾawwalīn meaning the ‘first one’s’. That is, they would say: “These words are nothing .new; they are contrarily, those expressed or rather fabricated by the predecessors

In the previous verse, the discussion concentrated on those who were arrogant. The usual logic of these disbelievers is reflected in this verse which implies that when they are asked as to what their Lord has revealed, they answer that these are not the Divine revelations; they are the same false stories of the predecessors. The verse
:says

And when they are asked: ‘What has your Lord sent down?’ They say: ‘The legends “
”.’of the ancients

It is interesting to note that the arrogant today usually mischievously appeal to this way of escaping the truth in order to mislead others. In some books concerning sociology, they have turned to even putting their deceptive ideas into a scientific framework and claim that ‘religion’ is the product of man’s ignorance and religious .interpretations are confined to ‘fables’ only

However, they do not organize any campaigns against the superstitious and fabricated religions. Their opposition is only concentrated around true religions which seek to awaken people's minds, breaking up of the policies of colonialism and of obstructing the way of the expansionists and colonialists

In conclusion, the sending of the prophets (a.s.) and of the Celestial Books are among the Lordly acts for the education and guidance of the people

But, the habit of the arrogant people is to despise and humiliate whether be it sometimes the school, at other times the leader, or the entire nation

That they must bear their burdens entirely on the Day of Resurrection and (also) “ .٢٥ some of the burdens of those whom they lead astray without knowledge. Beware! Evil ”is it what they bear

Commentary: verse ٢٥

This verse deals with the pioneers of paganism who, in this life, lead the people astray with their falsified propaganda. Therefore, in the Hereafter they must shoulder the burden of their own sins as well as those whom they have seduced and caused to deviate from the straight path. As some Islamic quotations indicate: He who founds a deviating path, must share the punishment of all those who are deviants in it; and he who leads others in the right direction will also share in the rewards accorded to those who are seeking the truth without being at a disadvantage as far as his own share is concerned; and beware that the former are shouldering the worst kind of responsibilities. The holy verse says

That they must bear their burdens entirely on the Day of Resurrection and (also) “ some of the burdens of those whom they lead astray without knowledge. Beware! Evil ”is it what they bear

The reason why this case happens is that their word will sometimes seduce thousands of people. How difficult it is that one adds to his own punishment by suffering not only for his own sins but also sharing in the sins of thousands of others.

Moreover, when their misleading words stay and serve as sources of the seduction of future generations, they will also have to suffer for their .sins which are extra to those of their own

Incidentally, the cause of most deviations is ignorance, and the enemy utilizes that ignorance to achieve his own goals. Nevertheless, ignorance cannot serve as an .excuse and does not acquit one from the punishment for his guilt

Commentary: verse ٢٦

This noble verse discusses the point that it is not the first occasion when the arrogant accuse the Divine leaders, and consider the Divine revelations as old fables. On the contrary, those who preceded them also devised such conspiracies. Nevertheless, Allah hit the foundations of their life, destroying it from the scratch and thus their roof :fell on them from above. The verse says

Indeed, those who were before them (also) devised plans. So (the wrath of Allah) “ struck at the foundations of their buildings, and then the roof fell on them from ... ,above them

And Allah's punishment came upon them from where they could never have the :slightest idea. The holy verse continues saying

”and the (Divine) punishment came to them from whence they never perceived ...“

The total destruction of the foundations of the buildings and the falling down of the roofs might be taken as allusions made to the buildings and their apparent roofs which were pounded and devastated as a result of earthquakes and thunderbolts, falling over them. It might just as well be reference metaphorically to their
.organizational hierarchy which was eradicated by Allah's command

.Incidentally, it is not incompatible that the verse refers to both meanings

:Explanations

To eradicate the entire mental and organizational system of the enemies, one must .1 deal with them fundamentally and not superficially so that all of them might be

At times, it happens that a building, with very solid foundations, turns into one's own .2

Commentary: verse ٢٧

Knowledge and ignorance have some broader meanings in the context of the Qur’ān than the general meanings which are ascribed to them. A knowledgeable person, in the Qur’ānic context, is the one whose thinking and practice are based on the truth even though he may have no command of reading and writing. An ignorant fellow, on the other hand, is he whose actions are based on what is wrong even though he might have mastery of all the subjects of science. The Qur’ān regards the notion of paganism and worshipping of idols as utter ignorance, as it regards the root of the heinous act of the people of Lot as ignorance. In this verse, also “Those Who have been given knowledge” addresses those who are facing against unbelief and .paganism. That is, true knowledge leads and directs man to Monotheism and Faith

In the meantime, what was mentioned about them in the previous verse was regarding their punishment in this world, which does not end at this point. Besides that, Allah will bring them disgrace, shame and scandal in the Resurrection Day. The :verse says

Then on the Day of Resurrection He will “

”... disgrace them

Addressing them, He puts this question to them asking: Where are those whom you fabricated as associates for Me, used to love them and you had hostile attitudes towards others for their sake? It continues

”... ’?and say: ‘Where are My associates for whose sake you have been disputing ...’“

Most definitely, they shall have no answers here for this question. Nevertheless, those who have been given knowledge, including the angels, prophets and the believers, open their mouth asserting: Shamefulness, scandal and ill-fate are to-day incumbent (upon ‘the unbelievers’. (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn and ’Aṭyab-ul-Bayān

(٢٨) الَّذِينَ تَتَوَفَّاهُمُ الْمَلَائِكَةُ ظَالِمِي أَنْفُسِهِمْ فَأَلْقَوْا السَّلَمَ مَا كُنَّا نَعْمَلُ مِنْ سُوءٍ بَلَى إِنَّ اللَّهَ عَلِيمٌ بِمَا كُنْتُمْ تَعْمَلُونَ

Those whom the angels take their lives while they are unjust to themselves. Then “ ٢٨. they would offer submission, (falsely saying:) ‘We used not to commit any evil act’. ”. “Nay; Allah is definitely aware of what you used to do

Commentary: verse ٢٨

The unbelievers do both at the time when angels are taking their life: They offer their submission and they deny their evil past. However, neither that faith, to which they confess is of any kind of value, for it has its origin in ‘necessity’; nor is their denial acceptable from them, for Allah is always aware of everything

This noble verse with its particular interpretation, which provides a thought-provoking instructive lesson for awakening the ignorant and those who are unaware, describes the pagan as follows

“Those whom the angels of death take their lives, while they are unjust to themselves“ ...

For, whatever tyranny one inflicts on others, it will first of all start with himself, and he will ruin his own house before that of the others

Nonetheless when man finds himself in his deathbed, and the curtains of his own arrogance and negligence are removed from before his eyes, he will immediately offer his submission, falsely claiming that he has not done anything wrong. The verse says

Then they would offer submission, (falsely saying:) ‘We used not to commit any evil ...’
”...’act

Are they telling lies because, as a result of their habitual repetition, lying has become their inherent characteristic? Or else, they want to say that they know such acts which they have committed have been mistakes. It is probable that the two cases might be .involved and both hold true

Nevertheless, they are soon reminded that they are liars and that they have committed many evil acts, saying that Allah is aware of whatever they have done as :well as their intentions under all circumstances. The verse says

”.’Nay; Allah is definitely aware of what you used to do’ ...“

Therefore, there is no room for them to deny or refute! And this ‘emergency faith’ of .theirs, which is instantly expressed for pragmatic reasons, is of no use either Therefore, enter through the gates of Hell, to abide therein. Thus, indeed, evil is “ ٢٩ .

Commentary: verse ٢٩

Then, enter Hell through its gates where you will always be staying. Note what an .awful place is the residence of the arrogant people

They have not voluntarily entered the inferno! On the contrary, they have been made
.enter into it

There are seven gates for the Hell according to the text of the Qur’ān, each of which .belongs to one category of the seven categories in the Hell

The Qur’ān says: “It has seven gates, for every gate there shall be a (separate) party of them assigned.” (Sura Al-Hijr, No. ١٥, verse ٤٤) This verse does not signify that they can enter through whichever gate they choose. On the contrary, it means that every class of those sinners can enter through one of the gates according to their intensity of: paganism, disbelief or profanity, opposition or hostility, their intensity of being misled, seductive ability, and oppression as well as the like of them. For example: the Jews will enter through one gate while the Christians enter through another gate; the pagans enter through their own particular gate-way whereas the dissidents have their own gate; so on and so forth. The gateway of the seventh floor belongs to the hypocrites and those who were unjust unto the Ahl-ul-Bayt of the Messenger
.(.p.b.u.h

The hell is incidentally the dark prison of Allah in which all kinds of punishments for chastising the evil doers are found, including: Fire, yoke, chains, vertical means of ,stabbing

.lashes, 'Hamim' (boiling drink), Ghassaq (pus), Zaqqūm (bitter drink), and the like

May Allah keep us away from these means of torture and punishment, and let us

They say: ‘Good!’ Goodness is for those who do ‘good’ in this world; and certainly the “ .abode of the Hereafter is better, and excellent indeed is the abode of the pious

Commentary: verse ٣٠

In the early days of Islam, those who had heard the names of the Qur’ān and the Prophet, when they entered Mecca, they would ask various people they confronted “What has your Lord descended?” In answer to them, the pagans would say: “The old legends”, while the believers would answer them: “Good!”, meaning He has .’descended whatever is the source of ‘good’ and ‘happiness

We have noted in the previous verses the remarks made by the pagans about the Qur’ān. We shall focus our attention here on the beliefs of the faithful along with the .consequences of their faith

At first, the Qur’ān implies that when the pious were asked as to what their Lord has :descended, they would answer ‘The good and happiness.’ The verse says

And (when) those who keep from evil are asked: ‘What has your Lord sent down?’ “ ٣٠.
”... ’!They say: ‘Good

What an explicit, beautiful and comprehensive sense it is! ‘The good’ and, in particular, in its absolute concept of the word, the comprehensive meaning of which encompasses all

.the decent acts, happiness and successes, whether material or spiritual

To sum up, as in the case of the pagans through previous verses which have explained their increasing punishment, spiritual, material, worldly and that of the Hereafter, the concluding remarks made by the believers are as follow in the verse in

:question: where it says

”... ;Goodness is for those who do ‘good’ in this world ...“

It is worth noting that the Qur’ānic term /hasanah/ is just like /xayr/ ‘the good’ which encompasses all kinds of ‘decencies’ as well as the ‘blessings’, which are found in this .world

Such are their worldly rewards. Moreover, it emphasizes the fact that: their abode in Hereafter is even better than their worldly life. What a nice place it is the residence of :those who are pious. The verse says and certainly the abode of the Hereafter is better, and excellent indeed is the ... “ “ .abode of the pious

Commentary: verse ٣١

The reward for abstinence from the forbidden pleasures of this world is the unending
.success in the Hereafter

In this noble verse, the residence of the pious, which was briefly alluded to before, is being discussed, saying that the residence of the pious are the eternal gardens of Paradise into which all enter, where flowing streams pass beneath its trees. The verse
:says

,Gardens of Eternity they shall enter, therein beneath (the trees of) which rivers flow “
” ...

The issue in question is not merely the gardens and the trees, but for them there are :all things which please them at their disposal. The verse continues

”... .wherein they will have whatever they desire for ...“

:In conclusion, it states at the end of the verse

” .Thus Allah rewards the pious ...“

(٣٢) الَّذِينَ تَتَوَفَّاهُم الْمَلَائِكَةُ طَيِّبِينَ يَقُولُونَ سَلَامٌ عَلَيْكُمْ ادْخُلُوا الْجَنَّةَ بِمَا كُنْتُمْ تَعْمَلُونَ

Those whom the angels cause to die (while from polytheism and sin) are clean, “ ٣٢ . saying (to them): ‘Peace be upon you! Enter the Paradise because of what you used to do.’”

Commentary: verse ٣٢

The objective in using the Qur’ānic term /ṭayyibīn/, which was formerly used in the previous verses with regard to the pagans and the disbelievers, concerns those who have not already been of the polytheists and sinful ones, and it refers to those who are pious

The term /ṭayyib/ alludes to those who are clean from all kinds of dirt and pollution or ‘impurity’ and are decorated with virtues and positive attributes

In the previous holy verses, we read as to how the angels of death usually take the life of the arrogant pagans while they are oppressors

Here, in this noble verse, we read as to how the angels would take the life of those who are clean of everything and are clear of all oppressions, arrogance, and every kind of sin

In this verse, the angels, addressing them, say: “peace be upon you!” That kind of ‘peace’ which is uttered as a mark or a sign of respect, security, safety as a thorough :peace of mind. The verse says

Those whom the angels cause to die (while from polytheism and sin) are clean, “ ... saying (to them): ‘Peace be upon you

:Then, afterwards, the angels will add

”.’Enter the Paradise because of what you used to do ...“

Here, the Arabic phrase /tatawaffāhum/, meaning that ‘they will receive their soul’, signifies the fact that death does not mean ‘mortality’ and nothingness or the end of every thing. On the contrary, it is only a transit or a passing stage which paves the way for climbing up the ladder and going up to another stage

:Traditions on the Qualifications of the Paradise and Hell

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “All blessings are perishable except the ones – ۱ which belong to those who reside in Paradise, and all depressions are temporary except the ones which belong to those who are the dwellers of Hell.” (Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, vol. ۱۴, p. ۴۷۴

Ibn-Abbas (r.h.) says: those in Paradise will go through an hour during which time – ۲ they witness the sun and the moon and ask: Did Allah not promise that we shall not see the sun and the moon in our residence in Paradise? To which an oracle will exclaim: Your Lord has promised you truly that you would no more see the sun and the moon in Paradise. But, that light beam belongs to a man from among the followers of Ali-Ibn-i-Abī-Tālib (a.s.) who is going from one compartment into another one, and that which you have been exposed to has been (the rays of) the light out of his face.

((Bihār, vol. ۸, p. ۱۴۹ Abū-Sa‘īd says: “The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: A man from the dwellers of – ۳ Paradise, of high-ranking position, comes upon those residing in Paradise and illuminates the entire Paradise. It is as if his face brightens everywhere like a brilliant (star. (Kanz-ul-Ummāl, vol. ۱۴, p. ۴۶۸

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “Verily the dwellers of Paradise will witness –۴ those compartment-dwellers from above their head just like you observing the morning star which has been left in the horizon to the east or to the west. (Kanz-ul-Ummāl, vol. ۱۴, p. ۴۷۵

The Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) said: “There are certain (blessings) in the Paradise –۵ which neither any eyes have seen nor anyone’s ears have heard; nor has it been revealed to any man’s heart

:Some Traditions on the Attributes of Hell

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “The least torment for the people of Hell on –۶ the day of resurrection will be to make them put on a pair of shoes made of fire which will cause their brains to boil because of the intensity of their heat.” (Mahhaja-tul-Bayzā’, vol. ۸, p. ۳۵۶

It has been narrated from Amīr-ul-Mu’mineen, Ali (a.s.) who said: “Be in owe of that –۷ kind of fire the heat of which is excessive, the depth of which is intensive, the ornament of which is of iron, and the drinks of it consist of warm sewage made up of (blood mixed with puss.” (Bihār, vol. ۸, p. ۲۰۶, from Nahj-ul-Balaqha

It has been quoted from Imam Sādiq, the sixth Imam (a.s.), in a tradition that the –۸ Hell has got seven gateways; through one of which our enemies and those who take up arms against us and humiliate us will enter. This gateway is most definitely the (largest and the most burning of all gateways. (Bihār, vol. ۸, p. ۲۸۵

It has also been quoted from Imam Sādiq (a.s.) who said: “Verily there exists a –۹ desert in the Hell for the arrogant which is named /saqar/. The excessive and intensive heat of it will be the main cause of their complaint when they will ask Allah to allow it to breathe, then He will allow it, so it will

Ayyāshī quoted from Imam Sādiq (a.s.) who narrated from his father and his grandfather who have quoted in turn from Amīr-ul-Mu’mineen (a.s.) saying

At the time when ‘Zaqqūm’ (a tree in Hell out of which the hell-dwelling people feed themselves) and ‘Zarī’ (a substance in hell which is bitter, stinking and burning) boils up in their stomach in Hell, those people will ask for a drink, then they will be provided with the drink of ‘Ghassāq and Ṣadīd’, which are in turn made up of sewage secretions mixed with abscess secretion and blood. They will thus be made to drink the dirty liquid consistently, which would not quench their thirst. They aspire towards death, though they will not die so as to be made to receive terrible punishment the fullest. The Qur’ān says: “He will drink it little by little which he can hardly swallow agreeably, and death will come to him from every side, while he will not be about to die, and (there will be a severe chastisement before him.)”

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) asked the people: “Shall I not tell you about the people of Paradise?” They answered: “Of course, O’, Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.)” He said: “The people of Paradise are the ones whom the people in this world have regarded as weak ones and humiliated them. Were they to swear to Allah to anything, Allah would thereon take them into account.” Then he said: “Shall I not tell you about the people of Hell

They said: “Yes”. He said: “They are the hostile, stupid, nonsensical, vociferous, (uncharitable wealthy people, (who are) tyrants.” (Saḥīḥ-i-Muslim, vol. ۴, p. ۲۱۹.

Sura ‘Ibrāhīm, No. ۱۴, verse ۱۷-۱

(٣٣) هَلْ يَنْظُرُونَ إِلَّا أَنْ تَأْتِيَهُمُ الْمَلَائِكَةُ أَوْ يَأْتِيَ أَمْرٌ رَبِّكَ كَذَلِكَ فَعَلَ الَّذِينَ مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ وَمَا ظَلَمَهُمُ اللَّهُ وَلَكِنْ كَانُوا أَنْفُسِهِمْ يَظْلِمُونَ

Do they expect aught but the angels (of death) come to them, or the decree of “ ٣٣ . your Lord comes (to pass)? Thus did those before them. And Allah was not unjust to them, but they were unjust to themselves

Commentary: verse ٣٣

Were the warnings provided by the prophets not to awaken the people, the lashes of chastisement would surely do that job. However, to what effect will it be? The descending of punishment after the delivering of an ultimatum, and sending prophets with Books, not only is not unjust but also is identical with the realization of justice in particular following the assigning of the prophets on their mission

Once again, analyzing the attitudes and procedures of the pagans and oppressors, the Qur’ān takes up the issue with a threatening vocabulary, and implies: What kind of expectations do they have? Do they expect to receive any other things except that the death angels call upon them, while the ‘gates’ leading to repentance close up to their faces, their records be rolled up, and there remain no bridges for their return?

:The verse says

”... ,Do they expect aught but the angels (of death) come to them “

Or else, do they keep waiting for Allah’s command to be issued as to their ?chastisement and then they seek repentance

Nonetheless, their repentance is untimely belated at that time and hence ineffective.

:The verse continues saying

”... ?(or the decree of your Lord comes (to pass ...“

Then, the Qur’ān implies that those who undertake such acts are not confined to this :group only. Contrarily, those who preceded them acted in just the same way. It says

”... .Thus did those before them ...“

It is not Allah Who did them injustice; however, it is they who did that to themselves, :for they reap what they have sowed. The verse says

”And Allah was not unjust to them, but they were unjust to themselves ...“

(٣٤) فَاصَابَهُمْ سَيِّئَاتُ مَا عَمِلُوا وَحَاقَ بِهِم مَّا كَانُوا بِهِ يَسْتَهْزِءُونَ

So the evil (consequences) of what they did afflicted them and that which they “ ٣٤ .
”used to ridicule encompassed them

Commentary: verse ٣٤

The Qur’ānic term /sayyi’ah/ signifies petty and minor sins as compared to the capital sins, like what Sura An-Nisā’, No. ٤, verse ٣١ says: “If you avoid the great sins which you are forbidden, We remit from you your small sins ...” Therefore, whatever of chastisement is afflicted on man in this world is only the retribution of part of what has been due to him for his evil actions and the principal punishment will be saved for the .Day of Resurrection

The Qur’ānic phrase /hāqa bihim/ is in the sense of /ḥalla bihim/ which in fact signifies: .“whatever they mocked and ridiculed were reflected and returned upon themselves

In this noble verse, the Qur’ān deals once again with the consequences of their performances, stating: The viciousness of their evil performances was returned to :them. The Qur’ān says

”... So the evil (consequences) of what they did afflicted them “

And the promises and pledges of the Divine chastisement were afflicted on them which were already the subject and the main issues of their mockery and ridicule. The :verse continues saying

”.and that which they used to ridicule encompassed them ...“

The above verse once again emphasizes the fact that it is man's own deeds, acts and performances which will entangle him, getting him involved both in this world and in the next and they will be reflected in various forms and shapes, and which will serve .him as a source of trouble, harm, and torture, and not any other thing

Point

Every people had the guidance through an apostle from Allah – The wrong belief that the dead will not be raised – Anything, Allah wills, takes existence

(۳۵) وَقَالَ الَّذِينَ أَشْرَكُوا لَوْ شَاءَ اللَّهُ مَا عَبَدْنَا مِنْ دُونِهِ مِنْ شَيْءٍ نَحْنُ وَلَا آبَاؤُنَا وَلَا حَرَمْنَا مِنْ دُونِهِ مِنْ شَيْءٍ كَذَلِكَ فَعَلَ الَّذِينَ مِنْ قَبْلِهِمْ فَهَلْ عَلَى الرُّسُلِ إِلَّا الْبَلَاغُ الْمُبِينُ

And those who associate (other gods with Allah) say: ‘If Allah had willed, we would “ ۳۵ not have worshipped aught besides Him, neither we nor our fathers, nor would we have prohibited anything without (command from) Him.’ Thus did those before them. ”?Is aught for the Messengers, but to deliver the manifest message

Commentary: verse ۳۵

The issue of determinism and fatalism is one of the unsound justifications of the polytheists who claimed that Allah has predetermined us to worship other than Him. Had He determined otherwise we would not have been pagans. This issue has been discussed in verse ۱۴۸ of Sura Al-’An‘ām, No. ۶ and verse ۲ of Sura Az-Zukhruf, No. ۴۳, :also quoted from the pagans. The verse says

And those who associate (other gods with Allah) say: ‘If Allah had willed, we would “ not have worshipped aught besides Him, neither we nor our fathers, nor would we have prohibited anything without

”... ’.command from) Him)

Question: Does it not reflect Allah’s condescending and consent to and with the ?matter, as He does not obstruct people from deviation

Answer: Definitely not, for Allah has simultaneously made adequate means for the guidance of the people. He has sent prophets and Books. Therefore, He has not decided that any one should deviate. At the same time, He has not compelled any one .to embrace the faith, for compulsory faith is of no use

However, what is more dangerous than paganism and disbelief is the justification provided for it and its ascription to Allah. It is like the case with the deviants who tend to provide justification not only for their deeds but they also seek to justify those wrong acts of their ancestors as well as their collaborators. Such a mode of behavior, that is, providing justification, is the task incumbent upon all those who have been :deviants throughout history. The verse continues saying Thus did those before them. Is aught for the Messengers, but to deliver the ... “ ”?manifest message

Commentary: verse ٣٦

The Arabic term /’ummah/ is a derivative of the word /’umm/ which signifies something which takes up something else on itself. Every group of people who has got something in common and are unified in a sense is called, /’ummah

The Arabic term /tāqūt/ (dictator or despot) is employed when someone wants to exaggerate or overstress the act of ‘unruliness’. In the Holy Qur’ān, the Satan, the oppressors, the tyrants and the idols, who are unruly and disobedient in face of Allah’s commandments, are called /tāqūt/. This word has got no plural form; it is used both as singular, like: “... whoever rejects false deity (tāghūt) ...”, (١) which is used as singular, and like: “... their guardians are false deities (tāghūt)...” (٢) which is used in plural meaning

:Allah has provided means of guidance for all the people. The above verse says

And verily We have appointed a messenger in every nation (to say): ‘Serve Allah and “ ”... ’.shun false gods

---

Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ٢٥٦ –١

Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ٢٥٧ –٢

Nevertheless, some groups accept the fact of the matter and will be guided aright, while others deny or reject it and, therefore, are misled. Thus, it is He Who guides us though it is us who are misled. The verse continues saying

Then, of them were some whom Allah guided, and there were others against ... “
”... .whom error was due

An interesting example of this case might be the example of the earth which rotates around the sun during the rotation of which part of it faces the sun and is being enlightened while the other part of it, which is in behind, is darkened. Hence, one can say that every light beam which the earth possesses comes from the sun while every .dark spot it has is of its own position

Anyway, Allah does not ascribe misguidance to Himself, unless man personally paves .the grounds for it

In conclusion, at the end of the holy verse, He issues this general command for awakening of those who are misled and for the reinforcement of those who are already guided, where He implies that you may travel through the earth and examine the remains and relics of your predecessors which are on the surface of the earth or are buried under the earth and note for yourselves the ultimate destiny of those who :have rejected Allah and their eventual fate. The verse says

”.Hence, travel in the earth, then see what was the end of the rejecters ...“

This meaning serves as a clear evidence for man’s free will, for in case that the guidance and being misled were compulsory matters, there would certainly be no reasons for His commendation of traveling through the earth and the examination of .the circumstances of the predecessors which would all be in vain

(٣٧) إِنْ تَحْرِصْ عَلَىٰ هُدَاهُمْ فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يَهْدِي مَنْ يُضِلُّ وَمَا لَهُمْ مِّن نَّاصِرِينَ

O' Prophet!) Even if you desire for their guidance, yet verily Allah does not guide) “ ٣٧ .
”those whom He leads astray, nor shall they have any helpers

Commentary: verse ٣٧

In pursuance of the previous verse which ascertained that the deviation of a certain group is an irrevocable and an unequivocal matter owing to their paganism and rejection, this verse, addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), implies that he should not sympathize with them for his sympathy is ineffective as Allah has sealed their hearts because of their deviation and they would be no more having the capacity to be :guided. The verse says

O' Prophet!) Even if you desire for their guidance, yet verily Allah does not guide) “
”those whom He leads astray, nor shall they have any helpers

Sometimes, there is difficulty in people's eligibility for guidance which must not be attributed to the preacher. The Divine prophet is immaculate and he shows no weak-points while he has best quality ethics and is compassionate as well, yet some people .do not approve

Certainly, man sometimes reaches a point where he neither will be eligible to be guided in this world; nor will he have the capacity of being interceded and assisted in .the next world

Commentary: verse ٣٨

It is quoted that a Muslim man, who was indebted to by a pagan, went to him to claim his due. The pagan acted evasively which made the Muslim man infuriated and made this oath in his speech: “I swear to whatever I expect after death” He meant the resurrection and Allah’s account, to which the pagan replied: “I swear to God that He will raise no one from the dead.” Upon this, the verse was revealed which embodied
.an answer to him and to the ones like him

Allah, the Almighty, deals with another type of their deviation and ill ways of thinking, indicating that they swear to the Lord vehemently, exaggerating with utmost insistence that He does not raise any one from the dead, and meaning that generally
:no one will be enlivened and revived after death. The holy verse says

And they swore by Allah with their most earnest oaths (that) Allah will not raise up “
”... .him who dies

Here, Allah, rejecting their speech, implies that: of course, Allah will revive them and will reappoint them. This is the unequivocal promise which Allah has given them, and it is incumbent on Him to fulfill all His promises because of His wisdom, for His promise is truthful and is irrevocable, as were there no Resurrection Day to be held, duties of men would be meaningless. In other words, once duties are correctly in place that there are punishment and rewards designated for one's actions

However, most people do not draw proper conclusions from this fact because of their paganism and rejection of the prophets. Some claim that those who do not follow the philosophy of the resurrection and rebirth of the dead, therefore they reject

:Two Points

One of the capital sins is swearing for false causes especially when the issue in question begins with the terms: /wallah/, /billah/ and /tallah/, which are the three terms for swearing

According to the quotations which have been mentioned in the books of Roudāh- Kāfī, Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, and Tafsīr-i-Burhān from Imam Sādiq (a.s.) and Haḍrat-i-Imam Bāqir (a.s.), it has been quoted that one of the examples of this verse is 'regression' or 'return' during the course of which, in this world, Allah enlivens some groups during the era of the revolution or uprising of Imam-i-Zamān (a.s.) though the opponents of Shi'ites refute that

They will be raised up) so that He may make clear to them that which they) “ ٣٩. differed about, and that those who disbelieved might know that they (themselves) were liars

Commentary: verse ٣٩

The pagans were hesitant and disagreed on such issues as monotheism, legitimacy and authenticity of the prophets' mission, resurrection day, and the accountability of one's deeds. This holy verse proclaims that all these issues will be clarified for them in the resurrection day and they will discover as to what untrue and unacceptable beliefs they were holding in the world. But to what effect will it be

It is for this reason that Allah raises them from the dead so as to enable them to see for them what they rejected and disagreed on, for the doomsday makes them acquire positively decisive knowledge

Another point is that the pagans become aware that they were liars in this world and their claim as to the fact that Allah will not make the dead rise up after death was utter nonsense and groundless. The verse says

They will be raised up) so that He may make clear to them that which they differed) “ about, and that those who disbelieved might know that they (themselves) were liars

(٤٠) إِنَّمَا قَوْلُنَا لِشَيْءٍ إِذَا أَرَدْنَاهُ أَنْ نَقُولَ لَهُ كُنْ فَيَكُونُ

”.Verily, only Our word for a thing, when We intend it, is that We say: ‘Be!’, and it is “ .٤٠

Commentary: verse ٤٠

Allah has remarked in this verse “Verily, only Our word” and in verse ٨٢ of Sura Yāsīn No. ٣٦, He has stated: “Verily only His command” while we find in verse ٥٩ of ‘Āl-i-‘Imrān, No. ٣, concerning the creation of Haḍrat-i-‘Īssā, He says: “... He said to him ‘Be’ and he ‘was’.”, all of which lead us to the conclusion that His command and His speech are identical with His Will

The Qur’ānic word /kun/ signifies ‘be’ which is used for promoting our understanding of the proximity in our frame of mind. Otherwise, Allah does not require that either. As man can imagine anything in his own mind whenever he intends to, which he can do without him needing anything. He can create everything. To excuse the similitude expressed here, Allah can also create everything though His creation is real and it is done only if He so wills

Therefore, He takes up the issue in this verse that if they consider the return of man to life impossible, they must know that Allah’s power is above everything else. Whenever He intends something to exist, He only says ‘Be it’, following which it will immediately exist. The verse says

”.Verily, only Our word for a thing, when We intend it, is that We say: ‘Be!’, and it is “

Despite this all-embracing power which Allah possesses in creation every thing by intending it, how could one still be skeptical as to the Allah's power in matters regarding resurrection of the dead after ?their death

The expression of /kun/ (Be) which is the imperative form of 'to be' is also due to the scarcity of the words and their lack of capacity for better expression, in which case there is no need even for uttering such a word either. His Will is more than adequate
.for the actualization of everything

Therefore, how can one doubt as to the issue of resurrection despite the fact that .Allah's Will is utterly sufficient to bring everything into existence

Point

The reward for those who migrate for the cause of Allah and those who practise patience and rely upon Allah – Should any one seek to have the knowledge of the Qur'ān he should have the guidance from the people of the Qur'ān

(۴۱) وَالَّذِينَ هَاجَرُوا فِي اللَّهِ مِنْ بَعْدِ مَا ظَلَمُوا لَنَبُوْنَهُمْ فِي الدُّنْيَا حَسَنَةً وَلَا جَزَاءَ الْآخِرَةِ أَكْبَرُ لَوْ كَانُوا يَعْلَمُونَ

And those who migrated in Allah's cause after they had been oppressed, “ ۴۱. undoubtedly We will give them a good abode in this world, and certainly the reward in ”; (the Hereafter is much greater, if they know (this

:Occasion of Revelation

As for the occasion of the revelation of this verse and the following one, it is quoted that some groups of Muslims like 'Bilāl', "Ammār", 'Şahīb' and 'Khabāb' fell under great pressure in Mecca after they embraced Islam, and after the migration of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), they went to Medina for the strengthening of Islam and for propagating their religion to others. Among them Şahīb, who was an elderly man, proposed to the pagans of Mecca to confiscate all of his property in exchange for .allowing him to go to Medina, to which they agreed

The above verse was revealed which reiterated the victory for him and for the ones .like him in this world and the next

:The Reward of the Emigrants

In pursuance of the previous verses, which dealt with those who rejected the resurrection as well as the obstinate pagans, this verse deals with the true Emigrants, so as to make the situation of the two groups clear as compared to each other

At first, He proclaims that those who went on exodus after being oppressed for the sake of Allah undoubtedly will be given a decent abode in this world, for they gave up everything they had with utmost sincerity for the propagation of Islam. The verse says:

And those who migrated in Allah's cause after they had been oppressed, " ... ,undoubtedly We will give them a good abode in this world

This reward is given to them for this world; and if they know, they shall have greater rewards for the world to come. The verse continues saying

”; (and certainly the reward in the Hereafter is much greater, if they know (this ...“

At the end, migration, perseverance and trust are the codes of conduct for victory over the enemies, and one must rely on his own resistance, trust, and faith whenever confronting the oppressors and he should not rely on the powers and forces of external foreign sources. Hence, those who give up their belongings and homeland and go on exodus while preserving their own lives for the propagation of religion, will benefit most

”Those who endured patiently and on their Lord did they rely “ .٤٢

Commentary: verse ٤٢

The Qur’ān describes these true, steadfast emigrants who are truly faithful with perseverance by two attributes in this noble verse, saying

”Those who endured patiently and on their Lord did they rely “

:Some Traditions

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said: “Patience is of two categories: Patience upon calamities, .١ which is good and beautiful; and the best of the two is the patience in avoiding of the (prohibitions.” (Usūl-i-Kāfī, vol. ٣, p. ١٤٨

The Prophet said: “Patience is the best mount. Allah has not provided any servant .٢ with sustenance better and wider than patience.” (Musakkin-ul-Fu’ād, pp. ٤٧, ٤٨ and (٥٠ (Ali (a.s.) said: “Patience is the best repeller of affliction.” (Qurār-ul-Hikam .٣

Also, Ali (a.s.) said: “O’ people! Be patient, because he who has not patience has not .٤ (religion.” (Qurār-ul-Hikam

The Holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “He who loves to be the most virtuous of the people, .٥ (then he must rely on Allah.” (Mishkāt-ul-’Anwār, p. ٥٠

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “The best of the servants with Allah is the one .٦ (who mostly relies on Him and obeys Him.” (Majmū‘ah Warrām, vol. ٣, p. ٢٨٨

Imām Riḍā (a.s.) was asked about the limit of reliance. He said: “It is that you do not .٧ ”.fear any one other than Allah

(٤٣) وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَا مِنْ قَبْلِكَ إِلَّا رِجَالًا نُوحِيَ إِلَيْهِمْ فَسَأَلُوا أَهْلَ الذِّكْرِ إِنْ كُنْتُمْ لَا تَعْلَمُونَ

And We did not send before you except men unto whom We revealed; So ask the “ .٤٣
”,people of ‘Thikr’ (the Qur’ān) if you do not know

Commentary: verse ٤٣

At this time, addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), the Qur’ān asserts that Allah did not send anyone before him except those individuals from mankind whose hearts were illuminated with the light of Divine revelation. That is, they were just like him in divine messengership benefiting from revelation and in the capacity of being His own .envoys

This matter was raised in answer to the pagans of Mecca who rejected the prophetic mission of man. Allah points out that the prophet must be of the people’s own equals so that they can see him and talk to him and, finally, understand his words. Therefore, in such a case, it is not appropriate that instead of a man, an angel be appointed as a :messenger to carry out the prophetic mission. The verse says

And We did not send before you except men unto whom We revealed; So ask the “
”,people of ‘Thikr’ (the Qur’ān) if you do not know

In other words, He recounts in this verse: We did not send before you, O’ Mohammad (p.b.u.h.), anyone to any nation but the cases confirmed and equipped with Our revelation, to which your people raise objections as to why it is that their prophet is not an angel who is from among the human kind. Declare that they seek the truth out
-by referring to the Ahl-uth

Thikr, the knowledgeable people and the scientists of each nation, if they are unable to put questions concerning issues to all prophets who belong to the human kind

According to Ibn Abbas, the object of ‘Ahl-uth-Thikr’ are the Christian and Jewish scholars in this context; that is: were they doubtful as to the truth of the matter, they would better refer to the people of Turat, and the nation of the Bible for the clarification of the issues. These words are addressed to the pagans, for the news which the Jews and the Christians provided them with, out of their Books, were acceptable to them while rejecting the words of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), owing to their intensive hostility. Some, however, claim that ‘Ahl-uth-Thikr’ signifies the ‘followers of the Qur’ān,’ because /thikr/ means ‘the Qur’ān

Jābir-Ibn-i-Yazīd and Muhammad Ibn-i-Muslim, quoting Imam-Mohammad-i-Bāqir ((a.s.)) state that he has proclaimed: “We are ‘Ahl-uth-Thikr’.” (Tafsīr-i-Burhān

To sum up, this noble verse deals with a general universal principle which is acceptable by human reason, and it is referring of whatever one is not knowledgeable about to the experts in that field. That is, for whatever you do not know, you may ask the knowledgeable ones. Certainly, the best example in religious issues is the Ahl-ul-Bayt of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) who can provide the point of reference. There are numerous quotations as to the validity of this point in the Shi‘ite as well as the Sunni literature which have been dealt with extensively in the third volume of Mulhaqat-i-’Ihqāq-ul-Haqq p.p. ۴۸۲, onwards

Tabarī, Ibn-i-Kathīr, and ’Āllūsī have also pointed out that ‘Ahl-uth-Thikr’ is the same and identical with ‘Ahl-ul-Bayt’ in their commentaries beneath this verse. We also have it that Hāfiz Muhammad Ibn-i-Mu’min-i-Shīrāzī has mentioned the

.?same matter in ‘Mustakhraj’ when discussing the ‘position’ of the ‘Ahl-ul-Bayt

Again, in vol. ۲۳ of Bihār, pages ۱۷۲ onwards, there have been quoted about ۶۰ quotations concerning this issue, through some of which the Immaculate Imams have confirmed that: “Swearing by Allah, it is we who are the ‘Ahl-uth-Thikr’, the ”.(responsible, (to whom the people must put their questions

Therefore, one must turn to the specialists in the Qur’ānic sciences, namely, the Ahl-ul-Bayt for ones inquiry regarding his religious and ideological questions, who are experts in the field of the Qur’ānic knowledge and not at random turn to whoever has .got a superficial knowledge of Islam

Books and We sent down to you the ‘Thikr’ (the Reminder, Qur’ān) that you may ”.make clear to mankind what has been sent down to them, that they may reflect

Commentary: verse ٤٤

The Arabic term /bayyināt/ signifies clear evidences of the prophetic mission and miracles; and the word /zubur/ is the plural form of /zabūr/ which means ‘Celestial Book’. The verse probably refers to two kinds of revelation, one of which is the Qur’ān, which belongs to all the people. The other one is aimed at the interpretation and explanation of the Qur’ān, and which is particular and exclusive to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). It signifies that We sent you the ‘Thikr’, so as you explain the interpretation .and commentary of the Qur’ān which has been descended for the people

Therefore, the prophets have had both miracles and Divine Book, so that the people :do not get mixed up between right and wrong. The verse says

We sent the prophets before you) with clear proofs (miracles) and (celestial) Books) “
” ...

Therefore, Allah implies in the Qur’ān that: If you are unaware, ask those who are .knowledgeable about the clear evidences and the Books of the previous prophets

It is in this way that the question of specialization has been recognized as having a .sound basis in the Holy Qur’ān

Furthermore, it has been the only way of acceptance or rejection in all fields, on the basis of which, all Muslims are required to have access to knowledgeable and learned people in all fields who are honest at all times and places for their reference

Turning to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) later, He declares that We thus revealed to you this ‘Thikr’ (the Qur’ān) so that you explain to them what is descended to the people, so that they meditate upon these verses and on their duties which are incumbent upon them. The verse says and We sent down to you the ‘Thikr’ (the Reminder, Qur’ān) that you may make ... “

”clear to mankind what has been sent down to them, that they may reflect

In fact, your call and your mission are not in principle a novelty or an unprecedented matter. It is just in the same manner which We revealed the Books to the previous prophets so as to make the people acquainted with their duties towards Allah, their own selves, and the other people. Just in the same way We also revealed this Qur’ān to you so that you engage in the explanation of its didactic lessons, thus awakening mankind to meditate

Therefore, it is the duty of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to explain the Qur’ān and it is the duty of the people to accept those explanations on the basis of their sound thinking, for the Qur’ān is ‘Thikr’, ‘reminder’ and, at the same time, it is a way of mentioning and calling man’s attention, while distancing him from the core of negligence, oblivion and erroneous behavior

Or that He will not seize them in the state of fear, for verily your Lord is certainly “ .٤٧
”.Compassionate, Merciful

Commentary: verses ٤٥–٤٧

Allah, the Almighty, in these noble verses, has mentioned four kinds of punishment for
:the conspirators against the religion

١ .Punishment on the earth: “Allah will cause the earth to swallow them up .١

٢ .Celestial punishment: “The wrath will come upon them .٢

٣ .Sudden punishment: “He may seize them during their movement .٣

٤ .Spiritual punishment: “He will seize them in the state of fear .٤

He, the Mighty, has pointed out the above punishments so as to make the conspirators against religion aware that

.certainly their tricks become null and void when confronted the Divine power

:Different Kinds of Punishment for Various Sins

The Qur'ān deals with the demonstrative materials and emotional questions, intermingling them in such a way that they make the utmost impact on the audience. The previous verses dealt with a logical discussion regarding the issues of the prophetic mission and resurrection in connection with the pagans. In here, it concerns itself with the threatening of the oppressors and the tyrants as well as the obstinate sinners, and rather scares them with the different types of the Divine punishments

At first, it raises the question whether those conspirators who tried to put out the light of the truth with their evil plans feel safe and secure from Allah's making the earth swallow them. The verse says

Do then those who devise evil (plots) feel secure (of this) that Allah will not cause the “ ... ,earth to swallow them up

Is it a remote possibility that a terrible earthquake strikes the earth, splitting the crust of the earth, opening it up and swallowing them all with all their belongings, as was ?the case repeatedly with the previous nations

Then, it adds: Or when they are in a negligent mood, the Divine punishment overtakes
:them from whence they never perceive? The verse continues saying

”?or that the wrath will not come upon them from whence they do not perceive ...“

Or, as they struggle for accumulating more wealth and increasing more income, the Divine punishment strikes them hard, while they are unable to escape the consequences of their punishment? The

:verse says

Or that He may not seize them during their movement, so that they shall not “
”.(frustrate Allah’s wrath

Or else, the Divine punishment does not strike them all of a sudden; it strikes them on :a gradual basis and along with consecutive warnings. The verse says

Or that He will not seize them in the state of fear, for verily your Lord is certainly “
”.compassionate and Merciful

(٤٨) أَوَلَمْ يَرَوْا إِلَىٰ مَا خَلَقَ اللَّهُ مِنْ شَيْءٍ يَتَفَتَّحُونَ ظِلَالَهُ عَنِ الْأَيْمِينِ وَالشَّمَائِلِ سُجَّدًا لِلَّهِ وَهُمْ ذَاخِرُونَ

Have they not seen all things that Allah has created the shadows of which spread “ .٤٨
”?from right and left, prostrating (before Allah) while they are humble

Commentary: verse ٤٨

The Arabic term /fi/ refers to the shadow in the afternoon which is reversing; while the term /zill/ refers to any kinds of shadow. The Qur’ānic word /dāxir/ signifies ‘humble’, and it is most probable that the aim in stating ‘the right side’ and ‘the north side’; in the verse it refers to the two sides of the day, namely, morning and evening. Perhaps, because shadow spreads on the earth, the expression of prostration is applied for it, though from the point of creation, all beings are prostrating and humble .before Allah

At any rate, the Qur’ān implies in this verse whether those pagans who reject the Oneness of Allah and refute His blessed Prophet (p.b.u.h.) do not observe the trees, mountains, shadow-casting objects and buildings which are the created things of Allah and cast their shadows to their right and sometimes to their left-side? For, at dawn, if man stands facing the ‘qiblah’ his shadow will be cast in front of him, after dawn, it falls to his right side and, in the late noon, his shadow will be reflected behind him, while at sunset, it falls on his left side. This is the meaning of the shadows turning to one’s right and to the one’s left side. This interpretation belongs to Kalbī who remarks that when the Qur’ān states that shadows prostrate before Allah, it means that shadows are in obeisance and obey the rules of Allah and their turnings and rotations are not achieved in accordance to their own will. This verse is like verse ١٥, Sura Ar-Ra'd, No. ١٣ which says: "And whoever is in the skies and on the earth prostrates willingly or unwillingly, and (so do) their shadows in the mornings and the evenings." So the Qur'ānic phrase /wa hum dāxirūn/ signifies that :they are mean and humiliated. The verse says

Have they not seen all things that Allah has created the shadows of which spread " ?from right and left, prostrating (before Allah) while they are humble

Thus, Allah wants to make us understand that all beings, living and inanimate, are humble before Him because of their needs for their Omnipotent and Wise Creator. That is: because if He tends to be slow in affairs, all 'frames and modes of behavior' will collapse and perish. Therefore, all beings, just like mankind, are prostrating and .humble before Him

(٤٩) وَلِلَّهِ يَسْجُدُ مَا فِي السَّمَاوَاتِ وَمَا فِي الْأَرْضِ مِنْ دَابَّهِ وَالْمَلَائِكَةُ وَهُمْ لَا يَسْتَكْبِرُونَ

And whatever is in the skies and whatever is in the earth, whether (moving) “ ٤٩ .
”creatures and angels, prostrate before Allah (only) and they do not pride

Commentary: verse ٤٩

The Arabic term /dābbah/ refers to that living being which moves from a place to another place. This word is used in the cases of ‘man’, ‘animals’ and ‘jinns’. However, .’it is not used for ‘angels

The aim in stating the prostration of all beings, earthly or celestial, is either their genetic humbleness before the laws of existence, or it might be a prostration emanating from their consciousness and understanding, in which case, the latter .interpretation is apparently intended, though it is beyond our understanding

In other words, all beings which are in the skies and all those which are on the earth, prostrate before Allah. The intention in stating /min dābbah/ (whatever moves) is .those earthly beings which move or come and go on the surface of the earth

The angels also prostrate before the magnanimity of Allah and worship Him. The Qur’ān mentions the angels apart from other beings so as to glorify their position. Another point to be considered is that the word /dābbah/ is applied to those beings which move and which come and go. However, we must keep in mind that the angels :have got wings and can fly as well. The verse says

And whatever is in the skies and whatever is in the earth, whether (moving) “
”creatures and angels, prostrate before Allah (only) and they do not pride

The Qur’ānic sentence /wa hum lā yastakbirūn/ signifies that the angels do never abstain from the worshipping of Allah and they never show an arrogant attitude. This sentence qualifies the angels, for it is the angels who do not show the least arrogance
.in humbleness and prostration before Allah

(٥٠) يَخَافُونَ رَبَّهُمْ مِّنْ فَوْقِهِمْ وَيَفْعَلُونَ مَا يُؤْمَرُونَ

They fear their Lord (supreme) from above them, and they do what they are “ ٥٠ .
”commanded

Commentary: verse ٥٠

The angels are utterly subservient towards Allah. Our fear of Allah is because of the sins which we have committed. However, the fear of the angels of Allah has its roots in the magnitude and splendor of Allah. It is for this reason that the Qur’ān says in this :verse

They fear their Lord (supreme) from above them, and they do what they are “
”commanded

The reason why the Qur’ānic phrase /min fauqihim/ ‘from above them’ has been used :is for two aspects

One side to this issue is that they fear the punishment of Allah, which, in such cases, ١ .
is mostly inflicted from above one’s head

Allah is qualified as being superior and being above everything else in power and ٢ . perfection, and He all-encompasses in Guardianship and in ‘Omnipotence’ over all celestial and earthly possible beings. Therefore, the above-mentioned interpretation .is suitable

One can, therefore, conclude from this holy verse that there are two signs for the negation of oppression: Fear when confronting responsibilities, and the execution of Allah’s commandments without any questioning. Therefore, if all beings, like angels, are humble and God-fearing, and prostrate before Allah, why should we human ?beings not prostrate before Him and go on oppressing others

****

Point

Unity of Allah – Everything in the heavens and in the earth is Allah’s – Man to refer and serve only Allah and none else – Assigning daughters to Allah – Hatred against female issues condemned

(٥١) وَقَالَ اللَّهُ لَا تَتَّخِذُوا إِلَهَيْنِ اثْنَيْنِ إِنَّمَا هُوَ إِلَهٌ وَاحِدٌ فَإِيَّايَ فَارْهَبُونِ

And Allah has said: ‘Do not take two gods. Verily, He is only One God; hence, fear “ ٥١ .
”.(Me (and Me alone

Commentary: verse ٥١

The objective in declaring here that you must not designate for yourselves two gods is not the fact that you must and you are allowed to designate three gods. On the other hand, firstly, the total and the least negation imply the utmost negation in it as well. Secondly, the objective of this verse, perhaps is the ideas of those pagans who used to say: We have got One God Who is the Creator, and one who is administrator, (and we must direct our worshipping towards the later one. (Tafsīr-i-Al-Mizān

As for the query of the pagans who raised this issue in some previous verses that: if Allah so wanted, we would not become pagans, this verse states that Allah has dissuaded you from paganism, hence, how can He have intended you to become pagans? Therefore, Allah has ordained you not to designate two gods for yourselves.

:The verse says

”... ;And Allah has said: ‘Do not take two gods. Verily, He is only One God ‘

The unity in the system of creation and the unity governing its laws and procedures are themselves clues as to the unity of Allah. Such being the case, He declares: Fear My punishment only and fear opposition to My commandments and nothing else. The :verse continues saying

”.(hence, fear Me (and Me alone ...“

The fact that the Qur’ānic word /’iyyāya/, which proceeds, is the proof for its confinements and limitations, which implies only and solely fear opposition to Me and My punishment. Another example of this form is “You (alone) do we worship and of (you (only) do we seek help.”\(1\)

The great commentator, the Late Ṭabarsī quotes a delicate sentence from some philosophers under this verse, saying: “Allah has commanded you not to worship two gods, but you fabricated so many gods for yourself. Your unruly self is one idol, your whims and passions are regarded as other idols, and the world and your material objectives are your other idols. You even prostrate before other human beings; so ”!?!how can you be a monotheist

Sura Al-Fātihah, No. ۱, verse ۵ -۱

(٥٢) وَلَهُ مَا فِي السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَلَهُ الدِّينُ وَاصِبًا أَفَغَيْرَ اللَّهِ تَتَّقُونَ

Unto Him belongs whatever is in the heavens and the earth, and to Him should “ .٥٢
”?obedience be (rendered) constantly. Then are you in awe of other than Allah

Commentary: verse ٥٢

The Qur’ānic term /dīn/ mentioned in this verse denotes ‘worshipping’ and ‘servitude’ which are the requirements of the embracing of Faith and of the school of Truth. The Arabic word /wāṣib/ signifies ‘constantly’ and ‘intensively’, as verse ٩ of Sura Aṣ-Ṣāffāt, No. ٣٧ says: “... and for them is a perpetual chastisement

In sharp contrast to those superstitious ideas by which they used to suppose god for every type of beings, Allah is only One for whatever is found in the Heavens and on .the earth

So, religious framework for laws and religious legislations are the sole rights of the :One Who possesses the entire process of genesis and creation. The verse says

Unto Him belongs whatever is in the heavens and the earth, and to Him should “
”... .obedience be (rendered) constantly

Towards the end of this verse, the Qur’ān declares that despite the fact that all laws, religion, and obedience belongs to Allah, do you still fear other than Allah and abstain :from other than Him? The verse continues saying

”?Then are you in awe of other than Allah ...“

Can the idols do any harm against you or bestow on you any blessings the opposition ?of which scares you and you consider their worship as a requirement

(٥٣) وَمَا بِكُمْ مِّنْ نَّعْمَةٍ فَمِنَ اللَّهِ ثُمَّ إِذَا مَسَّكُمُ الضُّرُّ فَإِلَيْهِ تَجْأَرُونَ

(٥٤) ثُمَّ إِذَا كُشِفَ الضُّرُّ عَنْكُمْ إِذَا فَرِيقٌ مِّنْكُمْ بِرَبِّهِمْ يُشْرِكُونَ

And whatever of favour is (bestowed) on you, it is from Allah; then whenever any “ .٥٣
.(calamity afflicts upon you, unto Him you cry (for assistance

Then when He remove the affliction from you, behold! A group of you associate “ .٥٤
”.others with their Lord

Commentary: verses ٥٣-٥٤

The Arabic term /ḍurr/ refers to that kind of anxiety which results from the absence of
.’blessings, and the Qur’ānic term /taj’arūn/ signifies ‘crying’ and ‘appealing

The content of this verse has also been repeated in some other verses of the Qur’ān as is the case in verse ٩٧ of Sura ‘Isrā’ which proclaims: “And when affliction touches you in the sea, away will go those on whom you call except Him; but as He delivers
”.you to the land, you turn away (from Him), and man is very ungrateful

However, once He embarks you safely, you will turn away from Him and you start
:betraying His favours and blessings. The verse says

And whatever of favour is (bestowed) on you, it is from Allah; then whenever any “
.(calamity afflicts upon you, unto Him you cry (for assistance

Certainly, hearing your call for help, Allah answers your call and solves your difficulties. Afterwards, as He removed your troubles and saved you from your losses, some of you

:designate associates and counterparts for Him and turn to the idols. The verse says

Then when He remove the affliction from you, behold! A group of you associate “
”others with their Lord

In fact, the Holy Qur’ān alludes to this minute point that monotheism, as an inherent trait, is embedded in everybody’s nature, but in normal circumstances, it is obscured by one’s negligence, arrogance ignorance, fanaticism and superstition. Anyway, do not regard Allah’s blessings as the consequences of your own struggle, education and your own administrative ability or as a result of your luck or chances. By contrast, regard whatever of blessings given to you, even the most insignificant ones in your eyes, as what Allah has given you

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) remarks: “He who regards the blessings of Allah as only food and clothing, has failed both in performing his duties, and he has approached (Allah’s punishment.” (Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, Vol. ۳

So that they may show ingratitude for whatever (of blessings and removing “ ٥٥ .hardships) We have given them; then enjoy yourselves for soon will you know

Commentary: verse ٥٥

A glance at previous verses up to this moment depicts the manner of the Divine invitation and the Divine provision for education

He is the sole and only Allah: “... verily He is only One God; ...” (١) “Unto Him belongs whatever is in the heavens and the earth, ...” (٢) He possesses everything: “Unto Him belongs whatever is.” It is He Who provides all with instruction: “To Him should obedience be ...” (٣) He is benevolent, providing all with blessings: “And whatever of favour is (bestowed) on you, it is from Allah; ...” (٤) He answers all calls: “... then (whenever any calamity afflicts upon you, unto Him you cry for assistance.” (٥)

?Do you yet seek other people’s assistance

The end-result of paganism leads to blasphemy, and disregarding of His blessings brings the Divine chastisement

Therefore, there, after naming the above logical reasoning and making the facts transparent, He implies with a threatening tone: Let them spare the blessings which ,We have given them and let them enjoy worldly materials temporarily; they will soon find out the .conclusive results of their performance

(٥٦) وَيَجْعَلُونَ لِمَا لَا يَعْلَمُونَ نَصِيبًا مِّمَّا رَزَقْنَاهُمْ تَاللَّهِ كَتَبْنَا لَهُنَّ عَمَّا كُنتُمْ تَفْتَرُونَ

And they assign a share out of that which We have provided them with, for what “ ٥٦. they do not know. By Allah, you will certainly be questioned for that which you used to ”.forge

Commentary:٥٦

Following the former well-justified discussions concerning the rejection of paganism and worshipping of the idols, the Qur’ān points to the three parts of the innovations and evil habits of the pagans, implying that they appropriate a certain portion of what Allah has allocated to them for the idols which provide no advantages or losses for :them. The verse says

And they assign a share out of that which We have provided them with, for what “ ”... .they do not know

This share consisted of a number of camels and other four-footed animals and part of it comprised of agricultural products which have been alluded to in the Sura Al-An‘ām, verse ١٣٦. they were regarded by the pagans as the proper share of the idols and .which were dispensed within their path

Then, later, the Qur’ān, swearing to Allah, announces that in the Court of Justice of the Resurrection Day, they all will be interrogated about in connection with these lies, :slanders, and accusations or perjuries. The verse says

”.By Allah, you will certainly be questioned for that which you used to forge ...“

Therefore, their vicious and evil acts contains both the losses which they incur in this world, for parts of their capitals are perished in this way, and the punishment which .they will meet in the Hereafter

(٥٧) وَيَجْعَلُونَ لِلَّهِ الْبَنَاتِ سُبْحَانَهِ وَلَهُمْ مَا يَشْتَهُونَ

And they ascribe daughters to Allah, glory be to Him; and for themselves (they “ .٥٧
” .ascribe sons) what they desire

Commentary: verse ٥٧

The second evil innovation of the pagans which they entertained in their imagination was the assigning of daughters to Allah. He is clear of everything and of having .children, and Allah is pure of all material things

:However, they ascribe for themselves whatever they desire. The verse says

And they ascribe daughters to Allah, glory be to Him; and for themselves (they “
” .ascribe sons) what they desire

That is, they were never ready to ascribe those daughters whom they ascribed to God for themselves, too. In principle, having daughters was regarded as a kind of scandal, .and a shame in their culture

” .black while he is wroth inwardly

Commentary: verse ٥٨

This verse refers to the third hideous evil habit of the pagans for the sake of complementing the above discussion. It implies that when one of them is informed of the good tidings of having been provided a daughter by Allah, he will be so infuriated with anger that his face changes altogether and becomes blackened while being full :of wrath. The noble verse says

And when one of them is given the news of having a daughter his face becomes “

He hides him from the people for the evil of the news which has been given to “ ٥٩ him, (asking himself): shall he keep her with disgrace or bury her (alive) in the dust? ”!Beware! (How) evil is what they judge

Commentary: verse ٥٩

It is true that the birth of a child is considered as a good tidings, but superstitions regard such good tidings as disgrace and humiliation. This noble verse declares that all does not end to this and he, in order to save himself from such scandal which, to his incorrect belief, has overtaken him, he escapes from his people, going into hiding for :this evil announcement made to him. The verse says

„He hides him from the people for the evil of the news which has been given to him “
” ...

He goes on immersed in this thought constantly as to whether he should take upon himself the scandal of this disgrace by keeping the daughter or bury her alive under :the earth. The verse says

”... ?asking himself): shall he! keep her with disgrace or bury her (alive) in the dust) ...“

Condemning this tyrannical and inhumane verdict in an evermore–explicit manner, the Holy Qur’ān declares as to what a bad and an evil judgment they pass on such :matters. The verse continues saying

”!Beware! (How) evil is what they judge ...“

Certainly, they do pass a bad judgment on the matter, for they used to bury alive girls while they had the right to stay alive just in the same way as the boys had, and .perhaps a girl might have been better than a boy

Ibn-i-Abbās has quoted as saying that if Allah wanted to consider the wishes of those people in the process of creation, no girls would be born, because no one desired to have a daughter; and if all children were born as sons, the human generation would .be exterminated

:The Role of Islam in the Revival of the Position of Women

The humiliation and the damaging of the personality of women were not confined to the Ignorant Arabs of that time, women had an insignificant position among some other nations, too, any perhaps even among the most civilized nations of that time .and, usually, a woman was regarded as a commodity and not as a human being

However, the Arabs of the Age of Ignorance did their utmost in denouncing and in .humiliating women in some more heinous and terrible forms

Nevertheless, since the dawn of Islam, this superstition was fought out hard in all its dimensions. The Prophet of Islam himself (p.b.u.h.) showed such a high esteem for his daughter, Fatimah Zahrā (a.s.), the Islamic Lady (a.s.), that the people wondered. He used to kiss her hands despite his high position, and he would visit her immediately .upon the return from his trips, and the first person to visit was his daughter, Fatimah

In a tradition from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) we read that he says: “What a nice child a person’s daughter is! She is affectionate and of great help; she is one’s companion ”!and she is clean while cleaning at the same time

In fact, such respect shown towards the personality of women has served as a cause for their liberation in the society and has put an end to the era of servitude and .slavery of women

However, it is most unfortunate that in some Islamic societies, there are still those forms of 'ignorant' thought prevalent, and there are still a good number of families .who rejoice in having sons born to them and are disturbed by having daughters

Even in the case of the Western Societies which imagine that they have high regards for the personality of women, we notice in practice that women are so greatly humiliated and are treated as puppets or as a means for extinguishing the fire of passion of men and / or as an instrument for the dissemination of information with .regard to a certain merchandise

(٦٠) لِلَّذِينَ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ بِالْآخِرَةِ مَثَلُ السَّوِّءِ وَلِلَّهِ الْمَثَلُ الْأَعْلَىٰ وَهُوَ الْعَزِيزُ الْحَكِيمُ

For those who do not believe in the hereafter, is an evil attribute, and Allah's is the “ .٦٠
” .sublime attributes, and He is the Mighty, the Wise

Commentary: verse ٦٠

Those who do not believe in the Hereafter and consider Allah as having children possess an evil and nasty attribute, which consist of shameful and being .sorrowful. But, there are outstanding qualities for Allah such as domination and might

Some commentators suggest that this means that they are having defective traits, like: ignorance, blasphemy, being misled, contingency, weakness, powerlessness, needing sons and murdering of daughters; and there are certain qualifications of Lordship for Allah (s.w.t.) such as: having no need for companionship, spouse, children, .and having the attributes of Lordship, authenticity and monotheistic nature

”, Question: In this holy verse, He declares: “... Allah's is the sublime attributes

Elsewhere He says: “... do not coin any similitude for Allah” (١) How are contradictions
?among them made possible

Answer: The aim in declaring /ʾamθāl/ is using ‘similes’. That is, do not exemplify Allah for something else; and the purpose of /maθal-ul-ʾaʿlā/ is the qualification of /ʾaʿlā/ ‘the highest’ or the ‘most elevated’ and which signifies being

p: ٤٤٩

essential in essence and not accidental; being Eternal, All-powerful, Omniscient, Alive,
.Unique etc

Some commentators claim that the objective of /maḥal-ul-’a’lā/ is examples which are used correctly; and the objective of the latter phrase is ‘those examples which are :incorrectly employed.’ The verse says

For those who do not believe in the hereafter, is an evil attribute, and Allah’s is the “
”... ,sublime attributes

And, the last sentence of the verse means that Omnipotent Allah is He out of Whose domain, nothing exists, and He is the Wise One Who places everything in its proper :place according to His Wisdom. The verse says

”and He is the Mighty, the Wise...”

One can infer from this verse that one must not attribute low traits to Allah, for He has criticized of the pagans who attributed to Him what they did not like for themselves. Once man abhors being attributed an evil thing, how is it that he seeks to attribute ?that hideous thing or the like of it to Allah

****

Point

The end of every one comes neither later nor earlier but at its appointed time – Apostles were also sent before but they were disbelieved – The Qur'ān revealed as a .Guidance and Mercy unto mankind

(۶۱) وَلَوْ يُؤَاخِذُ اللَّهُ النَّاسَ بِظُلْمِهِمْ مَا تَرَكَ عَلَيْهَا مِنْ دَابَّةٍ وَلَكِنْ يُؤَخِّرُهُمْ إِلَىٰ أَجَلٍ مُّسَمًّى فَإِذَا جَاءَ أَجْلُهُمْ لَا يَسْتَأْذِنُونَ سَاعَةً وَلَا يَسْتَقْدِمُونَ

And if Allah were to take people to task for their inequity, He would not leave on it “ ۶۱. (the earth) a single moving being, but He respites them until an appointed time; so, ”.(when their term comes, they can not delay (it) an hour nor (yet) can they advance (it

Commentary: verse ۶۱

The general rule of Allah is the postponement of the punishment, but it sometimes happens that He teaches the oppressors a lesson so as to provide instruction for others such as whatever happened to the nation of Lot, Noah, and Thamūd. This respite provided by Allah is for the sake of repentance and compensation for one's sins and is based on His favour. Hence, do not become arrogant because of it

Anyway, after discussing about the terrible crimes of the Arab pagans through previous verses in connection with the evil innovations they committed and the crime of burying alive of their own daughters, some may raise this question as to why is it that Allah does not immediately punish the culprit subjects with all these ?oppressions, and abhor-able crimes

This very verse in question seeks to provide an answer to this question implying: If Allah were to punish people for the oppressive offences which they commit, no
:moving object will survive throughout the earth. The verse says

And if Allah were to take people to task for their inequity, He would not leave on it “ (the earth) a single
”... ,moving being

The Arabic term /dābbah/ refers to whatever moving and living animal there is. It may, here, allude to ‘human beings’ metaphorically by procuring the symmetrical dimensions to it which in this case is /‘alā zulmihim/ (for their inequity). That is, were Allah to question human beings with regard to their tyranny, there would remain no
.mankind throughout the earth

This possibility also exists that by this, all moving objects is meant, for, we know that such beings are generally created for the sake of human beings, as the Qur’ān says: “It is He Who has created for you all that is in the earth.” (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, (verse ۲۹

Once mankind is perished altogether, the rationale for the existence of other living objects on the earth will also be nonexistent, and their entire generation will be
.exterminated

This question may be raised in here that if we look closely at the generalization and at the comprehensiveness of the significance of the verse, the result will be that no one exists on the earth except those who are oppressors and everybody has had his share of committing cruelties. So if the punishment is to be administered rapidly, no one will be excluded. Nevertheless, we know that not only the prophets and the Imams who are immaculate and thus not subjected to such punishments, for this rule does not apply to them, but also there are certain devout people and people of true faith whose good deeds surely excel as compared to their petty sins, thus they do certainly not fall into this category of fitting for the extermination as a way of being punished

The answer to this question lies in the fact that the verse provides a typical verdict which is not to be regarded as a universal or general verdict. The proof for such an exception is provided in verse ٣٢ of Sura Fāṭir, No. ٣٥ which declares: “Then We gave the Book for an inheritance to those whom We chose from among Our servants; but of them is he who makes his soul to suffer a loss, and of them is he who takes a middle course, and of them is he who is foremost in deeds of goodness by Allah’s permission; this is the great excellence

According to this verse, the people are divided into ٣ groups: The oppressive group, the moderate group, who have committed light sins, and the group who are counted good people; that is, those who are categorized as pioneers of whatever is good and acceptable. Certainly, out of these three groups only the first one is subject to the rule expressed in the verse under discussion and neither the second nor the third ones can be categorized and included. And, since the first group usually constitutes the majority of the people of the societies, making mention of such a generalization is not surprising at all

Then the Qur’ān makes mention of this point that Allah provides all oppressors with a respite for a certain amount of time until their nominal death (certain limited time), thus delaying their death time. However, as their death approaches, no advancing nor delaying for the least time will occur. By contrast, their death will take place at that exact date which :will neither come in advance nor in retardation. The verse says but He respites them until an appointed time; so, when their term comes, they can ...“

”.(not delay (it) an hour nor (yet) can they advance (it

As for the significance of the phrase: /'ajalin musammā/ (an appointed time), the commentators have expressed various ideas. However, with regard to other verses of the Qur'ān, including verse ٢ of the Sura Al-'An'ām, No. ٦ and verse ٣٤ of Sura Al-'A'rāf, No. ٧ it seems that the purpose is to be the arrival of death itself. That is, Allah respites people until the end of their lifetime in order to complete the argument, so that haply the oppressors try to reform themselves, reconstructing their life experiences, and thus returning to Allah, the truth and justice

When this respite expires, the order as to their death will be issued, and just from that .very moment their punishments and retributions start

(٦٢) وَيَجْعَلُونَ لِلَّهِ مَا يَكْرَهُونَ وَتَصِفُ أَلْسِنَتُهُمُ الْكَذِبَ أَنَّ لَهُمُ الْحُسْنَى لَا جَرَمَ أَنَّ لَهُمُ النَّارَ وَأَنَّهُمْ مُفْرَطُونَ

And they assign unto Allah what they (themselves) dislike and their tongues “ ٦٢ assert the falsehood that the better (portion) will be theirs. Inevitably the Fire is theirs ”.(and they will be the foremost (to it

Commentary: verse ٦٢

The Qur’ān condemns once again the ugly innovations and superstitions which the Ignorant Arabs entertained concerning the hatred towards their daughters with a novel expression. It also condemns their belief saying that the angels are daughters :of Allah. The verse says

And they assign unto Allah what they “

”... themselves) dislike)

This is an astonishing contradiction. If the angels are daughters of Allah, then it becomes obvious that girls are ‘good things’, why then are you unhappy for having daughters born to your own families? In case it is a bad thing to have daughters, then ?why do you consider it for Allah

Nevertheless, they falsely claim that the ultimate good result and good reward belongs to them. How can they expect such a reward and with what good performance? Do they expect it by burying alive their innocent daughters who are defenseless, or by perjury with regard to the holy presence of Allah? By which deeds :do they expect it? The verse says and their tongues assert the falsehood that the better (portion) will be theirs.... “ ”.(Inevitably the Fire is theirs and they will be the foremost (to it

(٦٣) تَاللّٰهِ لَقَدْ اَرْسَلْنَا اِلٰى اُمَّمٍ مِّنْ قَبْلِكَ فَرَّيْنَا لَهُمُ الشَّيْطَانَ اَعْمَالَهُمْ فَهُوَ وَلِيُّهُمْ الْيَوْمَ وَلَهُمْ عَذَابٌ اَلِيمٌ

By Allah, We verily sent (messengers) unto the nations before you, but the Satan “ ٦٣ made their (abominable) acts fair-seeming to them. Then he (the Satan) is their guardian today, and they will have a painful punishment

Commentary: verse ٦٣

The objective of this holy verse is to console the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) as not to be worried for the sake of the people’s remaining heedless and being negligent, since all prophets used to confront such individuals. In view of the fact that those people who may raise this question after listening to the stories of the pre-Islamic Arabs how one can be so cruel as to bury alive his own daughter and how can such a thing be practical, the Qur’ān apparently seems to be providing an answer to the question, saying

By Allah, We verily sent (messengers) unto the nations before you, but the Satan “ ... made their (abominable) acts fair-seeming to them

Certainly, the Satan is so advert in his own whimsical acts that he makes the worst and the most abominable acts as nice that even one imagines such acts as a source of pride for himself, just in the same way that the ‘pre-Islamic Arab’ was proud of burying alive his own daughter(s) and praised that as protecting his chastity and saving the prestige of his own tribe. He would proudly say: “ I buried my daughter with my own hands so as not to let the enemy capture her in a battle later

While the most shameful behavior is made possible under the guise of the most favored masks owing to the Satan's temptations, the rest of the matter is clearly evident. We nowadays witness such seemingly good-looking acts in many cases of theft, robberies, and crimes which are provided with proper justifications and under .enticing pretexts

Then the Qur'ān adds that the present-day pagans follow the same deviant programs of the previous nations to whom the Satan presented their acts as nice, and the present-day Satan is their guardian, and they are being inspired by him. The verse :says

"... ,Then he (the Satan) is their guardian today ..."

.It is for this very reason that the painful Divine punishment is awaiting them

".and they will have a painful punishment ..."

And We have not sent down unto you the Book (the Qur'ān), except that you may “ .٦٤ make clear to them that about which they differ; and (as) a guidance and a mercy for ”.a people who believe

Commentary: verse ٦٤

This verse explains the objective of the prophetic mission of the messengers of Allah, so as to clarify that if nations and tribes put aside their passions and whims and personal tastes, and take recourse to the prophets, there will not be any of such superstitions, disagreements, and contradictory acts left. He says to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that We have not revealed to you the Qur'ān except that you make transparent to them the issues about which they disagree. And this Book is a source :of guidance and mercy for those who embrace the Faith. The verse says

And We have not sent down unto you the Book (the Qur'ān), except that you may “ make clear to them that about which they differ; and (as) a guidance and a mercy for ”.a people who believe

And it also polishes all Satanical temptations from their heart as well as the enticing layers of one's despotic soul. It also derives away the mischievous curtains from mixing up the facts and, at the same time, reveals and exposes the superstitions and crimes which are covered under the enticing guise. It removes all disagreements which have their roots in the passions and low desires and puts an end to all cruelties .and oppressions. It sheds the light of guidance and mercy all over

(٦٥) وَاللَّهُ أَنْزَلَ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مَاءً فَأَحْيَا بِهِ الْأَرْضَ بَعْدَ مَوْتِهَا إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَةً لِقَوْمٍ يَسْمَعُونَ

And Allah has sent down water from the sky, and therewith given life to the earth “ .٦٥ after its death. Verily, in that is a sign for a people who listen (to the words of truth whole-heartedly

Commentary: verse ٦٥

The previous verse dealt with the revelation of the ‘Book’, which serves as a source of enlivening of the hearts. In the current verse, the process of descending of rain is being discussed which provides life for the earth. Therefore, He returns once again to the issue of the explanation of the various blessings and the favors which serve both as an emphasis concerning the issue of monotheism and cognition of Allah, and alludes to the issue of resurrection in that passing. Moreover, by stressing these graces, He incites the sense of gratitude of the servants, thus enabling them to approach Allah more and more. At first, it says

And Allah has sent down water from the sky, and therewith given life to the earth “ ... after its death

There are clear signs for those who lend their ears as to the magnanimity of Allah while furnishing clues for all regarding His power and splendor. There are also justifications provided for the coming of the resurrection day while exhibiting one of the numerous blessings of Allah. Nevertheless, the sinful man has been so deafened and become out of touch with realities that he can neither hear nor understand. The verse continues saying Verily, in that is a sign for a people who listen (to the words of truth whole- ... “

”.(heartedly

But as for those who do not hearken by their hearts, they are the ones who relate these issues to nature, and we have proclaimed repeatedly that such people are overtaken by blasphemy, paganism, dissidence, and sinfulness, and their rational souls are not moralized and they are the examples of the people who: “do not .”understand,” “do not see”, “do not listen”, and “do not know

As for those who have managed to elevate their souls by the light of faith and moral values, the examples of the following hold true in their cases: to be said: “they .”understand”, “they listen”, “they see”, and “they know

The first category is addressed as: “They are a cattle, rather they are more astray. ...”(1) For they had the power to discriminate the vices from the virtues though they did not implement their sense of discrimination. They are those who took no notice of Allah, the Resurrection Day, and the ultimate aim of their existence, forsaking them for the worldly, matters

The second category comprises of the examples of: Sura Ar-Ra‘d, No. ۱۳, verse ۱۹ which signifies that only the sage and men of wisdom are considerate with regard to .this

The Guidance available for a seeker of knowledge – Allah shows through the Bounties viz., the cattle, the fruits, etc. – Reference to the Bee which has been inspired to act according to the Divine plan – Man created and reverted to the age of weakness and ignorance after once acquiring knowledge

(٦٦) وَإِنَّ لَكُمْ فِي الْأَنْعَامِ لَعِبْرَةً نُسْقِيكُمْ مِمَّا فِي بُطُونِهِ مِنْ بَيْنِ فَرْثٍ وَدَمٍ لَبَنًا خَالِصًا سَائِغًا لِلشَّارِبِينَ

And verily there is a lesson laid out for you in the cattle; We give you to drink of “ ٦٦ what is in their bellies from between the digested food and the blood, pure milk, ”.palatable for the drinkers

Commentary: verse ٦٦

The Almighty does not only let down water from the clouds which is the source of life, but He also extracts milk which is the source of life out of the insides of the animals as well. The Arabic term /farθ/ means digested food within the stomach, and the term /ibrat/ refers to that which enables one to pass through the stage of ignorance towards cognition

Although the Arabic term /an‘ām/ is plural, yet the pronoun in the word /buṭūnihī/ is singular. For, the purpose is every single one of the four-footed animals and not all of them

Milk is a complete food serving which functions both as water and food while having all nutritional values, thus meeting all bodily needs

In quotations, we read that milk enhances one's wisdom, purifies one's mind, enlightens one's eyes, reinforces one's heart, strengthens one's back and diminishes one's oblivion

The four-footed animals are not only the sources of provision for our needs, but also they can serve us as a means for our spiritual development and the growth in our faith. Can the Lord not bring out and reassemble man out of the earth in the resurrection day, He Who extracts milk out of grass? The Almighty, Who provides us with pure milk from between the digested food and blood of animals, will He not be able to differentiate good deeds from evil ones

The conversion of grass into milk requires a purification system, disinfecting process, the elimination of detrimental substances, some sweetening processing unites, heating systems, lubricating materials, coloration techniques, and installing of piping systems within the bodies of animals. How then is it feasible that an oil engineer is required for the refining of oil while refining of milk does not require a creator? The verse says

And verily there is a lesson laid out for you in “

”... ;the cattle

Refined and purified human beings are the ones who go through different ups and downs of the stages of life, political issues and ideologies as well as various friends and yet are not affected by them or by their motives. The verse continues saying

We give you to drink of what is in their bellies from between the digested food and ...“

”... ,the blood

The prime condition for a drink to be agreeable to the taste, is its purification. It is certainly the case with drinkable waters. The verse says

”.pure milk, palatable for the drinkers ...“

Being agreeable to the taste must be confirmed by all consumers, and not only human beings. Therefore, we note that the verse has not mentioned ‘palatable for you’, but it ”.has remarked “palatable for the drinkers

In our civilized contemporary world, it is said and heard that some civilized countries dispatch all those materials, the expiry date of which has been passed, to be
.consumed by displaced people i.e. the refugees etc

Consumption of milk by man reveals the fact that He Who has created the animal and has provided milk within its bodily built-up, is the One Who has created us and Who .has been aware of our needs

Haḍrat-i-Ali (a.s.), addressing the collector of the religious dues, ‘Zakat’, in the ۲۵th letter of Nahj-ul-Balāqah, declares: When you are being sent for the collection of ‘Zakat’, you must observe certain principles, among which is leaving part of the milk of the animal in its breast so as its offspring might not be left without a proper amount of nourishment. Do not separate the animal from its offspring; let the tired animals relax for a while along side the way, and finally, do not stop them from grazing and drinking .water on the whole

Beating animals, milking cattle with long nails, exploitation and requiring over-working
.by animals, and every other kind of oppression towards animals is forbidden

We understand from the Qur’ān that Haḍrat-i-Sulaymān was compassionate towards animals in spite of all his glory and despite the fact that he had dominated all mankind and the ‘Jinns’ (fairies), he used to touch their neck and feet with his blessed hands. It (says: “... so he began to slash their legs and necks.” (Sura Ṣuād, No. ۳۸, verse ۳۳

And of the fruits of the palm and the vines, you get out therefrom (drinks of) “ .٤٧ intoxication and (also) goodly sustenance. Verily there is a sign in that for a people ”.who understand

Commentary: verse ٤٧

The Arabic term /sukr/ signifies ‘losing one’s mind’ and the word /sakar/ refers to its .origin

In the past two verses, the issues in question were water and milk both of which are natural and direct drinks. This verse deals with those drinks which are obtained by .extraction

Once Allah Himself is in action, there is always grace and blessings involved, namely, rainwater and pure milk. But, once man is involved, one finds that at times, provisions are good and at times the issue involved is intoxicating drinks which are the source of .devastation and corruption

Therefore, following the discussion of the animals and their milk, this noble verse refers to a part of the merits of plants, implying that Allah provided you with a kind of blessed nutrition for you out of the fruits of palm-trees and vines which you sometimes turn into detrimental forms and use it in the form of intoxicating substances and liquids, and sometimes use it in their tidy and clean forms. There is an .evident clue in it for those who ponder. The verse says

And of the fruits of the palm and the vines, you get out therefrom (drinks of) “ intoxication and (also) goodly sustenance. Verily there is a sign in that for a people ”.who understand

(٦٨) وَأَوْحَىٰ رَبُّكَ إِلَى النَّحْلِ أَنِ اتَّخِذِي مِنَ الْجِبَالِ بُيُوتًا وَمِنَ الشَّجَرِ وَمِمَّا يَعْرِشُونَ

And your Lord revealed to the Bee (an instinctive revelation) to build cells in the “ .٦٨
”.mountains and in the trees and in what they (men) build

Commentary: verse ٦٨

The Arabic term /waḥy/ signifies allusion and rapid and secret transfer that besides the Divine revelation to the prophets, includes both instincts, like this verse, and the divine inspiration, like Sura Al-Qaṣaṣ, No. ٢٨, verse ٧ which says: “And We revealed to Moses’ mother, ...” It also includes satanical temptations, as in the verse which says:

The Qur’ānic tune alters amazingly in this verse. While continuing previous discussions regarding the various Divine blessings and the statement of the secrets of creation, the Qur’ān switches the discussion to ‘bees’ and later to the issue of ‘honey’ in the final analysis. However, it is named as /waḥy/ (revelation) which implies a form :of Divine mission and a form of ‘mysterious revelation’. At first, it says

And your Lord revealed to the Bee (an instinctive revelation) to build cells in the “
”.mountains and in the trees and in what they (men) build

The Qur’ānic term /waḥy/ here denotes that same instinctive command and motives and that unconscious

.revelation which Allah has created in different animals and living objects

p: ٤٦٥

The first mission of the bees, in this verse, is concerned with building hives. The reason for this is probably the fact that having a proper residence is the first condition for living, following which other activities are being made possible

Incidentally, according to Tafsīr-i-'Aṭyab-ul-Bayān, there are explicit allusions in the Qur'ān as to the fact that all beings, including the inanimate objects, plants and animals have got a certain understanding of His Divinity, the prophetic mission of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and the mastership 'Wilāyat' of the immaculate and infallible Imams such as: "The seven heavens and the earth and every being therein celebrate His glory, ..." (Sura 'Isrā', No. ١٧, verse ٤٤), and like the verse which says: "... O mountains sing praises with him, and the birds, ..." (Sura Sabā, No. ٣٤, verse ١٠) and so on and so forth. We have it in certain Islamic narrations that 'Wilāyat' of the Imams has been offered to the mountains, waters, trees, and animals

There is sequential news as to the fact that numerous animals have petitioned their grievances with them. Therefore, it is not astounding that the 'bees' receive revelations and be commissioned for completing certain missions

Moreover, it is astonishing that the houses of the bees, that is: 'beehives', are built in hexagonal form on top of each other without having any angels, which case has astonished all architectural engineers despite being set upon lofty mountainous regions and high-altitude trees, high places and roofs. Certainly, this struggle by bees and the movement of animals for the selection of the houses, especially of bees, is based on their instinct embedded in their nature by Allah

Incidentally, the best kind of honey is the one that is made by bees in the mountains that they feed on flowers therein and not those which are fed by artificial sugary substances

(٦٩) ثُمَّ كَلِيَ مِنْ كُلِّ الثَّمَرَاتِ فَاسْتَمْلِكِي سُبُلَ رَبِّكِ ذُلُلًا يَخْرُجُ مِنْ بُطُونِهَا شَرَابٌ مُخْتَلِفٌ أَلْوَانُهُ فِيهِ شِفَاءٌ لِلنَّاسِ إِنَّ فِي ذَلِكَ لَآيَةً لِقَوْمٍ يَتَفَكَّرُونَ

Then eat out of all the fruits, and pave the ways of your Lord sincerely. There “ ٦٩. comes forth out of their bellies a drink of varying colours, wherein is healing for men. ”.Verily in that is a sign for a people who reflect

Commentary: verse ٦٩

There are two allusions made by Allah in this verse and in the previous verses to the two sources of vital drinks which are provided by animals: one is milk and the other one is honey. We have seen in the last two holy verses that man makes intoxicating substances or liquids out of fruits, while bees make honey from plants which is healing substance.

In the targeted significant and philosophical Divine system, negligence and idleness is a shunned extremely. Therefore, wherever in the Qur’ān, there is reference made to eating, there is also stated a responsibility alongside that, among which are the following:

“ ... (eat of the good things We have provided you with, and be grateful to Allah, ...” ...“
(Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ١٧٢)

“ ... (eat of its fruit ... and do not act extravagantly, ...” (Sura Al-’An‘ām, No. ٦, verse ١٤١ ...“

In this verse, Allah commands the bees to eat, but that kind of eating which is coupled with a goal and a responsibility. Men of Allah are like bees. They shun low lands and select lofty high lands. They follow the Divine path in a humble manner by the help of Divine knowledge. Such people utter what is based on wisdom and spiritual flavors.

:The verse says

Then eat out of all the fruits, and pave the ways of your Lord sincerely. There comes “forth out of their bellies a drink of varying colours, wherein is healing for men. Verily in” .that is a sign for a people who reflect

:Explanations

Animal behavior is all predetermined according to the Divine command, which is .۱
.instinctively performed by them

”... ,Honey consists of the juice of all fruits. “Then eat out of all fruits .۲

Not only the selection of residence and the food of animals are guided by the Divine .۳ Will, but also all their acts are something pre-determined by Him. “... and pave the ”... ,ways of your Lord

The movement of animals and their direction is done alongside the path which Allah .۴
.has set for them and it is a humble one

The miracle of creation: There is a honey-producing factory within the belly of such .۵ a small animal, the bee. “... there comes forth out of their bellies, a drink of varying
”... ,colours

Natural honey is in different colours. (The colours white, yellow, red. Perhaps such .۶ (.differences in colours are based on the differences of colours in flowers

There are various healing effects in honey by which many diseases may be cured. .v “... wherein is healing for men. ...” It goes without saying that honey is not a cure for all diseases. However, it has been mentioned in the form of indeterminate noun,
./šifā’un

House-building, mummification, and honey-producing alongside toxic-producing . ^ functions are being all done by such a small animal, like the bee. This reveals the sign
.of Allah’s Might and Power

All instructive lessons are only aimed and targeted for those who meditate, “... . 9 Verily in that is a sign for a people who reflect.” Otherwise, there are the bulk of individuals who utilize honey throughout their lifetime but are not predisposed to .allocate even several minutes to thinking about it

(٧٠) وَاللَّهُ خَلَقَكُمْ ثُمَّ يَتَوَفَّاكُمْ وَمِنْكُمْ مَنْ يُرَدُّ إِلَىٰ أَرْذَلِ الْعُمُرِ لِكَيْ لَا يَعْلَمَ بَعْدَ عِلْمٍ شَيْئًا إِنَّ اللَّهَ عَلِيمٌ قَدِيرٌ

And Allah has created you, then He will cause you to die, and some of you will be “ .٧٠ kept back unto lowest state of the age, so that after knowing somewhat, they may ”.know nothing. Verily, Allah is All-Knowing, All-Powerful

Commentary: verse ٧٠

The Arabic term /'arōal/ is derived from the word /raōl/ which means, ‘mean’ and without any value. The meanest part of one’s life is often that period during which .weakness and forgetfulness will reach its peak

The oblivion of the period of senility belongs to the ordinary people, otherwise, men of Allah, such as Haḍrat-i-Noah (a.s.) and Haḍrat-i-Mahdī (a.s.), who live long for carrying .out their missions, will never be entangled with problems of weakness or negligence

Therefore, by all means, the verse follows the line for proving the existence of the sole Allah, which is done by introducing changes in blessings, matters which are beyond the limits of man’s power, and which exhibit the fact that they are determined .from another origin

:At first, it says

And Allah has created you, then He will cause you “

”... ,to die

Both issues are determined by Him: Life and death, so that you may know that it is not you who determine your own life and death. Nor is your life span decided by you.

Some die while they are still young, while others die when reaching old age. However, some of you reach the worst and the utmost years of your life which is .the extreme senility period

The end-result of such a long-lasting life is that, after acquiring the full command of all learning, they would know nothing and all their knowledge would be lost in oblivion.

:The verse says

and some of you will be kept back unto lowest state of the age, so that after ... “
”... .knowing somewhat, they may know nothing

It is just like the beginning of the life and the onset of childhood during which they knew nothing and they were unaware and oblivious. Certainly, Allah is aware and has :all potentialities. The verse continues saying

”.Verily, Allah is All-Knowing, All-Powerful ...“

All power is His and He will bestow that power whenever He feels appropriate and He .will take back whenever He feels fit

He who is faithful and obedient to his Master and he who is unfaithful to Him can never be equal

(٧١) وَاللَّهُ فَضَّلَ بَعْضَكُمْ عَلَى بَعْضٍ فِي الرِّزْقِ فَمَا الَّذِينَ فُضِّلُوا بِرَادِي رِزْقِهِمْ عَلَى مَا مَلَكَتْ أَيْمَانُهُمْ فِيهِ سَوَاءٌ أَفِينِعْمَهُ اللَّهُ يَجْحَدُونَ

And Allah has made some of you excel others in the (means of) sustenance. So “ ٧١. those who have been made to excel do not give their (means of) sustenance to those whom their right hands possess, so that they may be equal therein. Do they then deny Allah’s bounty”?

Commentary: verse ٧١

And Allah has made some of you excel in means of sustenance over others. This blessing is allocated to man by Allah and through one’s own effort, either because of his purity of soul, or for testing of others by him being made an example such as the cases of knowledge, health, and security

However, those who have been made to excel, (owing to their own narrow-sightedness and narrow vision) are not predisposed to part with a portion of their share for the sake of their subjects so as to enable them to be on equal footing with them. The verse says

And Allah has made some of you excel others in the (means of) sustenance. So those “ who have been made to excel do not give their (means of) sustenance to those whom their right hands
”... possess, so that they may be equal therein

One may conclude that Muslims must not feel privileged or at an advantage when .facing those who are in an inferior position with respect to them in their families

Such differences in the amount of incomes have their origin in the abilities and talents of individuals which in turn are also from Allah’s gifts. In certain cases, they may be .acquired in some aspects, though in other cases they are definitely not acquired

Therefore, even in a healthy sound environment from the economics point of view, one finds widespread gaps in incomes, which is undeniable. At any rate and despite all
.this, what lays the main foundations of one’s successes is one’s own struggle

People’s differences in their means of sustenance is one of the Divine wise programs, for if all people were to enjoy equal benefits, their spiritual peaks of perfection would not be demonstrated. For instance, generosity, perseverance, self-sacrifice, protection, compassion, modesty and the like usually exhibit their significance
.whenever there are some differences among men

Certainly, justice does not prevail only when Allah sets up all on an equal footing from the point of view of their abilities and conditions, for if all were to enjoy an equal amount of blessings, the issues of employment and cooperation, which are required
.for social life, would lose sense

Nevertheless, individual differences in talents, abilities and incomes should not result
.in misuse of the potentialities with regard to the social strata

:It is for this reason that He proclaims at the end of the verse that

”?Do they then deny Allah’s bounty ...“

Here, He makes an allusion to the fact that such differences in their original natural forms (and not in their artificial and oppressive sense) are also among Allah’s blessings which have been brought forth to protect the human society and for the .development of their different potentialities

(٧٢) وَاللَّهُ جَعَلَ لَكُمْ مِّنْ أَنْفُسِكُمْ أَزْوَاجًا وَجَعَلَ لَكُمْ مِّنْ أَزْوَاجِكُمْ بَنِينَ وَحَفَدَةً وَرَزَقَكُمْ مِّنَ الطَّيِّبَاتِ أَفَبِالْبَاطِلِ يُؤْمِنُونَ وَبِالْغَيْبِ اللَّهُ هُمْ يَكْفُرُونَ

And Allah has designated wives for you from among your own selves and has “ .٧٢ designated children and grandchildren for you from your wives and sustained you of clean means. Do they (still) believe in the falsehood and they disbelieve in the bounty ”?of Allah

Commentary: verse ٧٢

We read in Tafsīr-i-Ṭabarī that the Arabic term /ḥafadah/ refers to the son-in-law, child, grandchild and even the companions and servants, as well as the children who are born to the wife from a different husband. In Tafsīr-i-Al-Mīzān, it is cited that /ḥafadah/ is the plural form of /ḥāfid/ and means ‘rapidity in action’ and as those near-of-kin are quicker in assisting the parents, they are called /ḥafadah

Anyway, this verse, which like the above two verses, begins with the term ‘Allah’ and discusses Allah’s blessings, makes allusions to the graces from the humanitarian point of view, the aids, as well as to the social workers and clean means of sustenance. This verse complements the three-fold circle of blessings which are mentioned in these three verses

That is, it begins with the life and death system, then it explains the ‘variety in life style’ by referring to the differences in means of sustenance and their abilities. The verse in question, which superintends the reproductive system of mankind, ends with :clean means of sustenance. It says

”... And Allah has designated wives for you from among your own selves “

He has designated for you such wives who are the sources of both comfort for your :soul and body, and the survival of generations. Therefore, He hastens to add

”... and has designated children and grandchildren for you from your wives ...“

:Then the Qur’ān says

”... .and sustained you of clean means ...“

And at the end of the discussion, the Qur’ān declares this as a general conclusion: Do they still call on the idols despite all the splendor and power which they observe and despite all these graces which have been made available to them by Allah? Do they embrace the wrong and believe in it, and neglect the blessings of Allah? The verse

:says

”?Do they (still) believe in the falsehood and they disbelieve in the bounty of Allah ...“

What a judgment is it? And what a wrong and an untrue schedule this consists of that man has forgotten about the source of all blessings and has taken to those beings which lack even the least of all effects and which serve as an example of all the .‘untruth’ in all its dimensions

:Explanations

One’s spouse and children are all among the Divine blessings. One’s spouse is the .۱
.source of comfort and one’s children are the sources of hope

Matching between husband and wife is one of the favors of Allah and of the Divine .۲
wisdom, and marriage is a deliberate Divine program for man. “And Allah has ”... designated wives for you from your own selves

Allah makes provisions for both one's spiritual needs and one's material needs .۳

Separation of oneself from matrimonial links, preventing oneself from having .۴ children and abstaining oneself from what is allowed by Allah are all the examples of .adhering to wrong principles and are signs of ingratitude for Allah's blessings

To fornicate or to commit adultery despite having wives and having allowed means .۵ .of sustenance, present cases of disregarding Allah's favours

Tafsīr-i-Sāfī and Jawāmi'-ul-Jāmi' indicate that the objective of 'Allah's favours', mentioned in the verse, is the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.), the Qur'ān, and Islam which .the unbelievers used to reject

(٧٣) وَيَعْبُدُونَ مِنْ دُونِ اللَّهِ مَا لَا يَمْلِكُ لَهُمْ رِزْقًا مِنَ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ شَيْئًا وَلَا يَسْتَطِيعُونَ

And they worship other than Allah that has no power to provide them, of “ .٧٣
”sustenance, anything from the heavens and the earth and can do nothing

Commentary: verse ٧٣

Following the previous discussions on monotheism, this verse deals with the issue of paganism and, taking a stern and blaming tone, declares that they worship idols other than Allah which do not have at their disposal any means of sustenance in the skies and on the earth. They are not only the proprietors of anything in this regard, but they also have no capabilities to create and have access to the means of sustenance. The :verses says

And they worship other than Allah that has no power to provide them, of sustenance, “
”anything from the heavens and the earth and can do nothing

This style of meaning makes allusion to the matter that the pagans believed in and worshipped idols for they considered them as an impact in their destiny, their profits and their losses, while the worshipped one must be both provider of means of sustenance and mighty

However, the partners whom they designate for Allah are neither able to make provisions now nor in the future

Their imaginary objects of worship are neither able to pour rains from the sky nor are they able to grow plants on the earth

(٧٤) فَلَا تَضْرِبُوا لِلَّهِ الْأَمْثَالَ إِنَّ اللَّهَ يَعْلَمُ وَأَنْتُمْ لَا تَعْلَمُونَ

Therefore do not coin any similitudes for Allah. Verily, Allah knows and you do not “ .٧٤
” .know

Commentary: verse ٧٤

The pagans regarded Allah as a king and considered idols as His ministers. This holy verse declares that an end must be put to such similes, and you should not designate equals for Him when worshipping Allah for He has not got any equals or counterparts :who may deserve being worshipped. The verse says

Therefore do not coin any similitudes for Allah. Verily, Allah knows and you do not “
” .know

Some commentators have claimed that the first sentence of the verse which says: “Therefore do not coin any similitudes for Allah ...” refers to the logic of the pagans during the ‘Age of Ignorance’, (the exact replica of which can also be found among some of contemporary pagans). They used to claim that the reason why they would call on the idols was that they were not worthy for worshipping Allah, so they had to take idols because these were the near-stationed ones to the Lord. Allah is like a great king who grants audience only to ministers and his exclusive entourage. However, the masses of the people who cannot have access to Him, will call on those .who are exclusively received by Him

Such groundless and unjustified kinds of logic which are sometimes depicted in the .form of a deviating parable, are the most dangerous of all kinds of logic

To answer such a claim, the Qur’ān asserts that you should not use allegories in case of Allah; that is, allegories which suit limited scopes of thought and fit in the category of those whose existence is probable

.and which is full of defects and flaws

If you were aware of the All-Encompassing attribute of Allah with regard to all beings and you knew about His grace and favour which is unlimited, and His proximity towards yourself, in which case makes Him approach you closer than your own 'self',
.you would never turn to other means for securing Allah's attention

That Lord Who has invited you to be in direct touch with Him in prayers, and has left the doors of His house wide-open to you day and night, He must not be likened to an oppressive king who has slipped into his palace and does not let anyone in there,
.except a few

In our discussion of concerning Allah's attributes, we have particularly pointed out the fact that one of the sliding slopes which exists in the way of understanding the attributes of Allah is that of the land-slide of using similes. That is, comparing Allah's attributes with those of man and considering them as similarities, because Allah is an infinite and boundless being in every respect and other beings are the ones which are finite and within limits and any comparison made in here causes one to remain aloof
.from knowing Him

Even in cases where we are bound to do so, and to compare His Holy Essence to light and the like, we must note that such similes and metaphorical applications have got shortcomings and fail to achieve our purpose, and they might be only acceptable in
.part and not as a whole

While most people are heedless of this fact, they are often thrown down the bottom of the slopes of the valley seemingly of simile and syllogism, when making their comparisons. They are then distanced from the truth of monotheism. Thus, the

Qur'ān warns us repeatedly and attracts our attention to this fact; sometimes with the sentence “And there is none like unto Him.” (Sura Tauḥīd, No. ۱۱۲, verse ۴), and sometimes it also uses the sentence: “ Nothing is similar to Him.” (Sura Shurā, No. ۴۲, verse ۱۱), At other times, the Qur'ān calls our attention by using the first sentence of .the abovementioned verse

And, perhaps, the last sentence of the verse, by saying: “Verily, Allah knows and you do not know” explains this same subject that usually people are unaware of the .secrets of the attributes of Allah

Allah sets forth a parable of a bonded slave, having no power over anything, and “ .٧٥ one whom We have provided with good means of sustenance from Us, then he spends from it secretly and openly. Are they equal? Praise belongs to Allah! But most ”.of them do not know

Commentary: verse ٧٥

:Allah has discussed the fact as to how the pagans are being misled, saying

”... ,Allah sets forth a parable of a bonded slave, having no power over anything “

Allah here sets forth a parable to clarify His intention by it and thereby approaches the concept to the audience. The parable is: ‘the slave who is a bonded one and has .authority over nothing;’ that is, he has got no options

And a free man whom Allah has provided with means of sustenance, possesses property and blessings, gives away out of his belongings openly and in secret and :without any fear. The verse says and one whom We have provided with good means of sustenance from Us, then ... “

”... .he spends from it secretly and openly

As for the sentence: /hal yastawūn/ signifies: “Are they equal?”, some commentators claim that this allegory relates to the believers and the disbelievers, since a disbeliever has not got involved in anything ‘good ‘, while a believer acquires the ‘good’. Thus Allah has explained the difference between the believer and the disbeliever, hence, He has persuaded people to choose the path of the believers and dissuade them from taking .the path of the disbelievers

The holy phrase “Praise belongs to Allah!” signifies that one must thank Allah for His blessings. This meaning refers to all of Allah’s blessings. That is, say that the act of worship only deserves Him Who leads us towards monotheism, theology (the .sciences of Divinities), and gratitude, and shows us the road to Paradise

However, most people, that is the pagans, do not know that it is He Who deserves :being worshipped, and all blessings belong to Him. The verse says

”Are they equal? Praise belongs to Allah! But most of them do not know ...“

And Allah sets forth a parable of two men, one of whom is dumb having authority “ .٧٦ over nothing, and he is a burden upon his master, wherever he sends him he brings no good. Is he then equal to him who enjoins justice and he (himself) is on the straight ”?path

Commentary: verse ٧٦

You who do not consider the master and the slave as equals, how can you equalize ?the creator with the creature

Thus, we find Him using another parable for the slaves of the idols and the true believers, likening them to a deaf-mute born person who is at the same time a disabled slave, and a free man who is always engaged in calling the people to be just :and fair and who is on the right path. The Qur’ān says

And Allah sets forth a parable of two men, one of whom is dumb having authority “ ”... ,over nothing, and he is a burden upon his master

That is why he usually does not perform well whatever he is sent to. In this manner, this man has got four negative attributes: being a dumb by birth, absolute disability, being a burden to his lord, and, finally, procuring no useful outcome for whatever is .referred to him

Is such a man equal to the one who is eloquent in his speech, always calling people to :be just, and following the right path? Of course, it is not so. The verse says wherever he sends him he brings no good. Is he then equal to him who enjoins ... “

”?justice and he (himself) is on the straight path

Allah has set two allegories in this holy verse and in the previous verse inciting the people to condescend to the fact that all know that neither of these two groups are equal. That is, as the two sides of either of these two parables can not be considered as equal, Allah can not be considered equal to the inanimate idols (which are incapable of doing any harm or benefit) despite all His favours and graces as well as all the religious blessings of this world and of the next which He has accorded to .mankind

Some have claimed that this allegory has been used by Allah to differentiate the believer from the unbeliever. The goal in using a dumb man is the pagan while the aim in mind in the case of mentioning he who resorts to preaching justice, is a believer .who are not equal

” All-powerful over everything

Commentary: verse ٧٧

The Qur’ānic term /qayb/ (unseen) when facing intuition, is a relative matter. That is, something may be invisible to someone while the same thing may be present and .visible to someone else

The Arabic phrase /’amr-us-sā’ah/ (the matter of the Hour) signifies the advent of the resurrection day which is an important example of /qayb/, the ‘invisible world’, and which is one of the blessings of Allah when the timing of which has been kept secret .from us

As we have frequently seen, the Qur’ān usually mixes the issues concerning monotheism with those relating to paganism, resurrection day, and the great court in Hereafter, here, after our discussion in passing about monotheism and polytheism, it touches upon the issue of resurrection and answering a part of the pagans' objections, who said: the dust particles of us scatter all over the places, who will be aware of their location to reassemble them, so that to be able to evaluate their record, it implies at first: It is exclusive to Allah the unseen and the invisible world of :the skies and the earth. And he knows them all. The verse says

”... ;And to Allah belongs the Unseen of the heavens and the earth “

:Then, it adds

and the matter of the Hour (of Doom) is but as a twinkling of the eye or it is nearer ... “

”... .still

These two sentences are self-explanatory and live allusions to the infinite Divine Power (s.w.t.), especially in such areas as of resurrection and the rising from the dead :of men. Thus, at the end it says

”.Verily Allah is All-powerful over everything ... “

.That is, Allah can create resurrection day or everything else, as He is Omnipotent

(٧٨) وَاللَّهُ أَخْرَجَكُمْ مِنْ بُطُونِ أُمَّهَاتِكُمْ لَا تَعْلَمُونَ شَيْئًا وَجَعَلَ لَكُمُ السَّمْعَ وَالْأَبْصَارَ وَالْأَفْئِدَةَ لَعَلَّكُمْ تَشْكُرُونَ

And Allah has brought you forth from the wombs of your mothers (while) you “ .٧٨ knew nothing, and He appointed for you hearing and sight and hearts; that perhaps ”.you may give thanks

Commentary: verse ٧٨

The Holy Qur’ān, once again, refers to another lesson in monotheism and theology as .well as the different bounties of Allah

In this section of the issue of blessings, it devotes its first part to the blessings of :science and learning as well as the means leading to knowledge. The Qur’ān declares

And Allah has brought you forth from the wombs of your mothers (while) you knew “ ”... ,nothing

Certainly, in such a confined environment which lacked openness, such an ignorance was tolerable. However, in this vast universe, that sort of ignorance was impossible to be continued, therefore, from among the devices for the cognition of the world, that is, eyes, ears, and reason were placed at your disposal, so that you understand the facts of life and these great blessings and your sense of gratitude be motivated as in face of such benevolent Creator in order, perhaps, to give Him His due gratitude. The :verse says and He appointed for you hearing and sight and hearts; that perhaps you may give ...“ ”.thanks

One way of expressing one’s thanks for something, is its correct application, for the Qur’ān criticizes those who have got eyes, yet they do not see, and they have got ears, yet they do not hear and they .are not ready to hearken the truth

The true way of expressing one's gratitude for having eyes and ears, is the acquisition of knowledge, for the verse, at first, says that you did not know; it was Allah Who .gave you eyes and ears to thank; that is, to devote your life to learning

Do they not look at the birds, constrained in the middle of the sky? Naught holds “ .٧٩
”them but Allah; verily there are signs in that for a people who believe

Commentary: verse ٧٩

As was said before, the content of this Sura provides us with acquaintance about the blessings and focuses attention on their creator. Up until now, we have noted Him mentioning such blessings as rainwater, milk, fruits, honey, the blessings of having wife and children. In this verse, and the next one, the blessings of birds, skin, wool of .the four-footed animals, and the ways of utilization of mountains are being discussed

The flight of birds, alone or in flocks, sometimes regulated and sometimes without any proper order, at times for escaping and at other times all take place for food. Every bird flies with the right kind of wings commensurate with its weight and needs, all of which must focus the attention of the wise on Allah. Thus, Allah wants us to meditate on those creatures, and then He criticizes the ones who do not so. Birds are :all, in all cases and everywhere, dominated by Him. The verse says

”... ?Do they not look at the birds, constrained in the middle of the sky “

In modern warfare, some planes fly outside the range of anti-aircraft guns. However, .birds are all within Allah’s area of power wherever they go

I was once in an airplane when the airhostess declared, we would soon land in a few minutes at airport. I asked her why she did not mention the words, ‘Allah-willing’. She said: “There is no need for saying ‘Allah-willing’ as the plane computer has set all such as: timing, distance and

”.everything

I told her all those planes which crash in the air in the east and west of the world do have such equipments. Allah’s will does not wait for your computers. She then thought for a while. Returning, she proclaimed that we would, Allah-willing, land after a few .moments. I also thanked her by offering her a gift

We must not forget about Allah because of having access to equipments, energy and :being able to utilize instinctive, experimental and scientific laws as it says

”... ;Naught holds them but Allah ...“

It is only Allah Who protects them from falling to the ground. It is just like swimmers who swim inside water and they are protected by water. Birds are ‘hanging’ also in the air or ‘floating’ in the air and the air, which itself is a created being by Allah, preserves them, like water which keeps man alive. In fact, it is Allah Who keeps the air
.underneath their body

Briefly speaking, one must look out at the birds so that he may become aware of the fact that they have got an on-looker Who looks after them and manages everything and Who is Omnipotent. He is Who has created such beings so as to enable people to take lessons and to receive their share of rewards by obeying the truth. The verse
:says

”.verily there are signs in that for a people who believe ...“

That is to say: There are abundant reasoning involved in this matter for the believers as to the unity and potentialities of Allah. Obviously, it is only the believers who benefit .from such dear evidences

Commentary: verse ٨٠

The issue of the discussion about the blessings of Allah is being continued in this verse as well. The Qur’ān proclaims ”... And Allah appointed a place of rest for you of your houses “

Truly speaking, the blessing of having somewhere as a dwelling place, is of utmost importance, without which other blessings do not find their real place. Following His discussion of the ‘stationary houses’, He begins His discussion with regard to the itinerant houses, saying

”... ,and He appointed tents for you of the skins of the cattle ...“

They are houses which are very light in weight and you can remove them easily from place to place. The holy verse continues saying which you find light (to carry) on the day of your departure and on the day of your ...“

”... ;dwelling

Moreover, in addition to these, He allocated to you for a fixed period of time, goods and utensils and various life appliances out of the wool, woven-wool and hair of the :four-footed animals. It says and of their wool and their fur and their hair, (He designated for you)household ... “

” .stuff and a provision for a time

The mentioning of two words /'aθāθan/ and /matā'an/ in a successive way, may be an allusion made to the fact that you are able to provide numerous means for your life
.out of the wool, woven wool and the hair of the four-footed animals, and utilize them

Even so ”.(does He complete His favours upon you; that haply you will surrender (to Him

Commentary: verse ٨١

The Arabic term /'aknān/ is the plural form of /kinn/ which refers to an object that is the means for covering something. The objective in this verse is the caves and the .tunnels which run under the mountains

In the previous verse, Allah dealt with the blessing of a dwelling place for the inhabitants of the town and the blessing of tent for the moving tribes and their removable dwelling places. In this verse, He deals with the blessings of the caves for :the cave-dwelling people. The verse says

And Allah appointed shadows for you, out of what He has created, and appointed “ shelters for you of the mountains; and He appointed garments for you to protect you ”... ,(from heat (and cold

From among the garments the name /sarābīl/ signifies ‘shirts’ which are sorts of usual clothing for women, men, children as well as adults in all cases and for all circumstances and which can cover the whole body. Here, the Holy Qur’ān mentions only the ‘protection from heat’ while garments are mostly used for protection from cold and not merely from heat. The reason is that whatever protects people from heat it will protect them from cold as well. Moreover, in their locality the Arabs were facing more with heat than with cold. Thus, they needed something to protect them from heat. In addition, by talking about one of two things, the Arabs overlook the second for the second goes without saying. The verse continues saying

”... and garments to protect you from your (other) violence ...“

This may refer to the meaning that He has provided you with ‘iron-garments’ ‘armours’ so as to protect you from being beaten by bullets, blades, and the hostile arrows

Such is the way by which Allah has completed His worldly favours for you. You may perhaps know, O’ the inhabitants of Mecca, that no one else but Allah is able to perform such acts, then worship Him alone and believe in His Prophet (p.b.u.h.). The verse says

Even so does He complete His favours upon you; that haply you will surrender (to ...“

Commentary: verse ٨٢

To provide the blessed Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) with comfort, He implies that if they turn away and disbelieve in you, and / or do not meditate upon Our blessings, thus not take an example, you are not to be blamed, because you are not commissioned to perform any other duty than delivering the message, and you have performed this :duty well. The holy verse says

So (O' Prophet!) if they turn away, then on you is (incumbent) only the clear “

Commentary: verse ٨٣

To complete the discussion, the Holy Qur’ān asserts that they know the blessings of Allah and are familiar with their dimensions while delving into their depth.
:Nevertheless, they deny them. The verse says

They recognize the blessing of Allah, then “

”... ,they deny it

Therefore, one must not be on the look out for the reason of this paganism in their lack of awareness. On the contrary, one must be searching this factor of paganism in their other vicious attributes which have obstructed them in their pursuit of faith, which comprise their selfishness and in their hostile attitude towards religion. It is :perhaps for this reason that He concludes the verse by saying

”.and most of them are ungrateful ...“

The Qur’ān has repeatedly raised the issue of the deliberate and obstinate denial of the disbelievers. At times it says: “And they denied them unjustly and proudly while their souls had been convinced with them, ...”<sup>(١)</sup> At other times, it says: “... they recognize him (the Prophet) as they recognize their sons ...”<sup>(٢)</sup> At other times, He says:
“... but a group of them most surely conceal the truth while they know (it) ...”<sup>(٣)</sup>

And (remember) the Day We will raise up a witness from every nation. Then, shall “ ۸۴ no permission be given to those who disbelieved, nor shall they be allowed to make ”.amends

Commentary: verse ۸۴

The issue of the witnesses of the Day of Resurrection has been repeatedly propoused in the Qur’ān. The prophets, angles, Allah’s saints, the earth as well as one’s bodily organs are among the witnesses on that Day

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) has remarked: “There is an ‘Imam’ a ‘leader’ for every nation and ”.for every period with whom people will be mustered

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) has mentioned concerning the verse: “We are verily the witnesses of ”.this nation

Although the Almighty is Omnipresent and Omniscient as to everything, the fact that numerous witnesses are there to testify and bear witness will lead to the emergence of men of virtue and abstinence for the faithful, and will lead to the exposing of the scandals of

.the culprits

The necessary pre-requisite for bearing witness is one's knowledge. Therefore, Allah's saints, who will bear testimony for us in the day of resurrection, must have an observation over our performances in this world. This is in line with our belief which, according to numerous Islamic quotations, and in accordance with the noble verse that says: "... Allah will see your work and (so will) His Messengers and the believers, ..." \(1\), all records of our performances are being reported to Imam-i-Zamān (a.s.) every week. If we exclude this belief, the verses about the issue of bearing witness on the Day of Resurrection are not justifiable. How can one who is not aware of our ?performances or is not just, bear witness as to our acts on the Day of Resurrection

The Arabic term /'isti'tāb/ is derived from /'itāb/ which means a guilty person asks the owner of the right to blame him so as to quell his anger thereby and then condescend
.as to his forgiveness

One is able both to repent of his sins, and apologize for his guilts, and compensate for his wrongdoings in this world. However, in the Resurrection Day, there is no room for justification; nor would any apologies be accepted; nor one can compensate

Yet, the act of justification is to be dismissed, for when some hell-dwellers tell others: "... Had it not been for you, we would certainly have been believers" \(2\), they will be \(3\) addressed in this way: "... Nay, you (yourselves) were not believers." \(3\)

As for offering apologies it is also out of the question, for the Qur’ān says: “They will (not be allowed to put forth excuses.” (٣)

As the issues involved in the Divine Court are keeping account and record of everything, as well as bearing testimony and witnesses, there will be no rooms left for :apologizing, rationalizing or securing the other side’s consent. The verse says

We had it in the previous verse that in the Hereafter there will be no permission for rationalization; nor any possibility securing the consent of others. However, He proclaims in this holy verse that the Divine punishment on that day recognizes no .alleviation nor postponement

Therefore, as soon as the pagans noticed the Hell Fire, and were subjected to the Divine punishment, there would be no alleviation involved for their chastisement, and no respite will be given to them, and their torment will be perpetual, because the time :of regretting and repenting has passed. The noble verse says

Commentary: verse ٨٦

According to the Islamic quotations received, there are several stages in Hereafter in some of which lips remain closed when hands and foot bear witness. In other stages one hears crying and supplications. In another stage, one does his best to put all blames for his sins on others. For instance, he would say to the Satan: It is you who made me pagan, to which the Satan answers: “... verily I disbelieved in your \(١\) associating me with Allah from before, ...”

Sometimes, they hold the idols responsible, while the idols, too, acquit themselves. \(٢\) Even, Allah, addressing Issa, says: “... O’ Jesus, son of Mary! deliberation, and whatever they rejected regarding monotheism will disappear from their minds, and those false and empty desires which they cherished regarding the

All corruptions have their origin in paganism, as is the case with all decent acts which take their roots from Faith. Those pioneers of paganism, who obstruct the people from the path of Allah by their pen, expression and other means, will have to settle a different kind of account from those of ordinary people

Up till now, we were involved in our discussion of those misled pagans who were caught in their paganism and deviation without calling others to their path. Later, the cases of those are exposed who are not only misled themselves but they also seek to :mislead others as well. The verse says

And (remember) the day when We raise up a witness from every people against “ ٨٩ them from among themselves, and We shall bring you as a witness against these. And We have sent down the Book to you explaining clearly everything, and as a guidance, ”.and glad tidings for Muslims

The objective of ‘a witness’, is the prophet who has been sent to them, or their ‘contemporary leader’ who serves as the proof of Allah, and We appoint you as a witness of the people, O’ Muhammad! This Book, the Qur’ān, is an explicit and eloquent Book for all religious affairs. The verse says

And (remember) the day when We raise up a witness from every people against “ them from among themselves, and We shall bring you as a witness against these. And We have sent down the Book to you explaining clearly everything, and as a guidance, ”.and glad tidings for Muslims

There are no religious matters which are not concerned within the Qur’ān or not explicitly expressed in it or which are not leading man to the sources of knowledge, i.e., to the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and to his true successors or to the consensus of the Ummah. Therefore, all religious edicts are direct inferences from the Qur’ān, as was explained in the foregoing fifth verse which revealed allusions made to the witnesses of the nations. This is one of our decisive beliefs that every nation will have a witness on the Day of Resurrection and the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) will bear witness over this nation as well as over the witnesses of other nations

The important point in here is that the testimony of men of Allah must be based on the senses, seeing and knowledge, and they must be innocent of any error or falsehood so as their testimony should be regarded as a kind of ultimatum on that sensitive occasion upon all people. It is evident that there is no one to be aware of the deeds of people whether present or absent, apparent or hidden, and whose words will be accepted by all nations and Allah in Hereafter, except for prophets and those 'Immaculate Imams' who have full command of the deeds, words, and behavior as well as the minds of all people owing to their invisible lines of communication

It has been narrated in Tafsīr-i-Sāfi from Imam Sādiq (a.s.) who said: "By Allah! we are knowledgeable about everything which is in the skies and on the earth, and whatever is between them, as well as what is in Paradise or in Hell." Then the Imam (a.s.) recited the above verse three times

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) remarked: "Whatever is needed by the Ummah has already been mentioned in the Qur'ān, and whatever you hear from me, I shall provide its Qur'ānic (documentation if you ask." (Kanz-ud-Daqā'iq, under the verse Haḍrat Ali (a.s.) said: "Whatever news about you, as well as the history of the past nations, the future generations, the skies and the earth all have been stated in the Qur'ān." (Kanz-ud-Daqā'iq, under the verse

Imam Riḍā (a.s.) said to the chief men of some religions in a session that among the miracles of the Messenger of Islam is one which reveals a poor orphan who has been an illiterate shepherd, being in possession of a Book ‘the explanation of every thing’ and that all news of the past and future until the Hereafter be recorded in it. (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, (under the verse Imam Sādiq (a.s.) has said: “In Allah’s Book, there is a solution for every dispute between two parties though the people’s wisdom may not catch it.” (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, vol. ۳, p. ۷۵

The Qur’ān expresses everything though everyone may not understand. Haḍrat Ali (a.s.) says: For the common people, the Qur’ān provides apparent sentences; for some sophisticated individuals, it provides mysterious allusions; and for the saints of Allah, it reveals delicate divine nuances, while for the prophets it presents ‘facts

Such a trait of being ‘explanatory of everything’ is either in a direct manner or by means of verses which contain some principles that are leading for us, such as in the Qur’ān it says: “... and whatever the Messenger gives you, accept it, and from whatever he forbids you, keep back, ...” (۱) And as in the verse: which says: “... That you may make clear to mankind what has been sent down to them ...” (۲

Verily, Allah enjoins justice and kindness (to others) and giving (the right of) the “ ۹۰. kindred, and forbids lewdness, and evil and insolence; He admonishes you so that you might remember ”.

Commentary: verse ۹۰

This verse provides a thorough explanation and the most comprehensive picture of the Islamic teachings in the spheres of social problems, the humanitarian issues, and the ethical matters. At first, the Qur’ān implies that Allah commands all to involve themselves in justice and to be generous and forgiving with regard to one’s family members and those who are around them. The verse says

Verily, Allah enjoins justice and kindness (to others) and giving (the right of) the “ ... ,kindred ”

Justice is that universal law around the axis of which the totality of the system of creation runs. In the true sense of the word, it implies that everything takes its own proper place. Therefore, whatever deviation, excess and defect, extremism to the right or left, and violation of other people's rights run contrary to the principle of justice

However, as justice, despite all its splendour, power, and its deep impact is not workable in times of crises and in exceptional circumstances, the Qur'ān brings the command of kindness with regard to generosity and forgiveness immediately next to it

In a tradition, Ali (a.s.) says: "Justice is achieved once you provide people with their due rights, and kindness is applied when you do them a favour." (Nahj-ul-Balāqah, (sermon ۲۳۱; and Mīzān-al-Hikmah, p. ۳۴۹۶

After completing these three positive principles, the Qur'ān refers to three negative principles which the people must be dissuaded from. It says

"... ;and forbids lewdness, and evil and insolence ..."

Lewdness' alludes to latent and secret sins, /munkar/ (abominable acts) refers to overt and open sinful acts, and /baqy/ (insolence) refers to whatever violation of one's own rights, and oppression and self-admiration with regards to others

At the end of the verse, to re-emphasize once again the above six principles, the Qur'ān says

".He admonishes you so that you might remember ..."

The revival and revitalization of the three principles of: justice, generosity and provision of the due rights of one's next of kinds, as well as campaigning against the three-fold deviations of lewdness, forbidden matters, and oppression, at the world level, provide sufficient grounds for creating a well-developed kind of world quiet and devoid of all calamities and corruption. Once we find the famous Companion, Ibn-i-Mas'ūd, has been quoted as saying: "This verse is the most comprehensive of all the Qur'ānic verses regarding the good and the evil," it is not to .be regarded as an exaggeration

:Explanations

This verse is the universal investiture charter of Islam and the bill of rights which .1
Imam Muhammad Bāqir (a.s.) used to recite in his sermons during the Friday Prayer rituals; and according to Tafsīr-uṣ-Ṣāfi: Were there only this single verse to be found in the Qur'ān we had sufficient grounds to declare that the Qur'ān is explanatory Book for everything. The commandments as well as the forbidden matters of this verse
.have been included in all religions and have never been abrogated

Walīd-Ibn-Muqayrah was so attracted and magnetized by this verse that he declared:
The sweetness, beauty, and the content of this verse is such that it can not be .regarded as an expression uttered by any human being Othmān Ibn Maz'ūn says: "Upon hearing this verse, Islam exerted such a deep impact

".on me that I embraced it whole-heartedly

Justice' /'adl/, refers to the cases where the concerning equalization process is' .2 comprehended with insight, while /'idl/ signifies that case during which its equalization
.process is perceived through the senses

The concept of /'adl/ (justice) indicates 'equality which exists in parts', while /'ihsān/(kindness or 'generosity') refers to multiplication or 'increase' in the amount of .reward

The Arabic term /'adl/ also implies distancing oneself from both excess and defect with regard to creeds as well as to the personal behavior and the social ones. Thus, the recommendation of this verse encompasses both the individuals as well as .governments

Justice, in the realm of creation, is the secret of its resistance, while in the realm of religious affairs it crowns itself on top of all the prophets' mission

The Arabic term /iḥsān/ (benevolence) refers to a blessed word which includes financial, mental, cultural, and emotional services rendered generously. The Qur'ānic term /faḥṣā'/ (lewdness) refers to a sin which is a capital one and is coupled with a scandal. The term /munkar/ 'forbidden' signifies that act which is rejected by reason, runs contrary to inherent human nature and is refused by religious laws

According to 'Tafsīr-Fī-Zalāl', once the despotic rulers, introducing corrupt procedures of propaganda, seek to present sinful acts as insignificant in the eyes of the people thus make people insensitive regarding sins, the ultimate criterion for differentiating 'right' from 'wrong' are religious laws

(٩١) وَأَوْفُوا بِعَهْدِ اللَّهِ إِذَا عَاهَدْتُمْ وَلَا تَنْقُضُوا الْأَيْمَانَ بَعْدَ تَوْكِيدِهَا وَقَدْ جَعَلْتُمُ اللَّهَ عَلَيْكُمْ كَفِيلًا إِنَّ اللَّهَ يَعْلَمُ مَا تَفْعَلُونَ

And fulfill you the covenant of Allah, when you make covenant, and do not break “ .٩١ the oaths after making them fast, for you have appointed Allah over you a surety. ”.Verily, Allah knows what you do

Commentary: verse ٩١

In Islamic quotations that the term /‘ahd/ (covenant), mentioned in the verse, has been regarded as the covenant of people made with the Divine leaders. If people stick to their pledges faithfully, Allah will also fulfill the promises which He has made, as the Qur’ān says: “ ...fulfill My covenant and I shall fulfill your covenant, ...” (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ٤٠

In those days of the advent of Islam when the population of the Muslims was scanty and they had numerous enemies, and there was a strong possibility that because of this very fact, some believers might break their pledges which they had made with the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) thus backing him down and withholding their support for him, the verse was thus revealed and they were, hence, warned about the dire consequences .of their behavior

They were told that the strength of their oaths was the proof of their faith. Thus, the Qur’ān has dealt with another one of the most important teachings of Islam in this :verse, when it says

And fulfill you the covenant of Allah, when you make covenant, and do not break the “
”... ,oaths after making them fast

You have sworn in the name of Allah and you have designated Allah as your surety and sponsor for your oath, it is because He is aware of all your acts. The verse
:continues saying

”for you have appointed Allah over you a surety. Verily, Allah knows what you do ...“

The issue of /'aymān/, the plural of /yamīn/ meaning oath, which is mentioned in the above holy verse, has got a comprehensive meaning which includes, both the pledges made by man with Allah as well as those oaths which he makes in the name of Allah
.with the people

In other words, every kind of commitment which is made under the name of Allah and
.by swearing His name, is included in this statement

And do not be like the woman who unravels her yarn, disintegrating it into pieces “ .٩٢ after having spun it tightly, by taking your oaths to be means of deceit between you, (imagining that) one group is more numerous than (another) group. Verily Allah only puts you on trial thereby and He will most certainly make clear to you on the Day of ”.Resurrection that wherein you differed

Commentary: verse ٩٢

As the issue of keeping to ones words and pledges is one of the main backbones of the perseverance of any society, the Qur’ān, in this verse, pursues the discussion concerning the subject in question with a tone of voice coupled with some kind of :blame and scorn, saying

And do not be like the woman who unravels her yarn, disintegrating it into pieces “ ”... ,after having spun it tightly

The allusion here refers to a woman from the Quraysh tribe called ‘Rā’iṭih’ during the age of Ignorance, who used to weave the wool and the yarn which she had at her disposal along with her woman slaves. She would then order all to be disintegrated into pieces after having been spun. It was for this reason that she was known as the .‘stupid woman’, among the Arabs

Then, the Qur’ān adds implying that you use your oath and pledges as a means of deceit and corruption, imagining one group exceeds another one in number, thus using the increase in number of the enemies as a pretext for breaking pledges of support which you had with the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). The verse says by taking your oaths to be means of deceit between you, (imagining that) one ... “

”... .group is more numerous than (another) group

Beware you! That Allah is thus putting you in a trial situation in this way, and, anyway, Allah will reveal to you the consequences of such a trial in the Day of Resurrection, unveiling the secrets in the bottom of all people’s hearts, and hence, everyone will :reap what he has sown. The verse says

Verily Allah only puts you on trial thereby and He will most certainly make clear to ... “
”.you on the Day of Resurrection that wherein you differed

There has been cited in Tafsīr-i-Furqān that: Haḍrat-i-Fātimah Zahrā (a.s.) in her sermon gave in Medina Mosque against her contemporary rulers, recited this verse, indicating that they resembled that woman who disintegrated what she had spun for their breaking of pledges which they had kept with Ali-Ibn-i-’Abī Tālib (a.s.) at Ghadīr-i-Khom

The allegories, parables, and the proverbs of the Qur’ān are such that they hold their natural entity, their freshness, and transparency everywhere and at all times, and from the primary school kid upward as far as the philosophers of the world will
.quench their thirst by it

One of the means for experiments is keeping to one’s commitments, and the recall of the resurrection and the dooms day are the factors which lead one to be virtuous and
.pay attention to whatever he has pledged

And if Allah had willed, He would have made you (all) one nation; but He leaves “ .٩٣ straying whom He pleases, and He guides whom He pleases; and you will definitely be ”.questioned of what you used to do

Commentary: verse ٩٣

Allah leads all people inherently. However, the people, based on their authority and will, are mainly divided into two categories: The ones who select the wrong path contrary to their inherent nature and intellect and are not repenting. Allah leaves such people to themselves. However, another category select what is inherently embedded of goodness in their nature. Allah then assists them and leads them. Therefore, what is meant through leading and misleading by Allah comes a stage after the man's selection. For instance, a teacher intends, from the first day of his teaching, to cover all students in his instruction, though some struggle to understand to whom the teacher also allocates extra time for teaching, while the mischievous child is often left to himself by the teacher. Incidentally, if the issue of leading man and of his being misled were not voluntary matters, Allah would not proclaim: “You will definitely be questioned”. Therefore, Allah's question in this connection is a sign of our .free will, for the man under compulsion, would not be held responsible

Anyway, Allah is free in imposing obligations on people, though His way of treatment .and programs only include leaving people free

(٩٤) وَلَا تَتَّخِذُوا أَيْمَانَكُمْ دَخَالًا بَيْنَكُمْ فَتَرِلَّ قَدَمٌ بَعْدَ ثُبُوتِهَا وَتَذُوقُوا الشُّوَاءَ بِمَا صَدَدْتُمْ عَنِ سَبِيلِ اللَّهِ وَلَكُمْ عَذَابٌ عَظِيمٌ

And do not make your oaths a means of deceit among you, lest any foot might slip “ .٩٤ after its stability and you should taste evil for that you hindered (people) from the path ”.of Allah, and for you there will be a great torment

Commentary: verse ٩٤

According to Rāqib, the Qur’ānic term /ṣadadtum/ signifies both ‘being kept away from’ and ‘keeping others away’, and the Arabic word /daxal/ equates in rhyming and .?meaning as /daqal/ which means ‘deceit

A sinful act certainly leads to other sins, paving the way for them. Breaking of one’s words paves the ground for evil ending which itself would make preparation for being .kept away and keeping others away from the path of Allah

Anyway, to stress the importance of keeping one’s words and of standing up to :performing one’s pledges, which are important in social stability, He declares

”... ,And do not make your oaths a means of deceit among you “

The reason of it is that there are two main disadvantages attached to it: Firstly, it causes your firm steps in Faith to be shaky, for once you pledge to do something, and make an oath, while you do not intend to keep to it, and you repeat such a cycle, people’s confidence will be eroded and some believers may become weak in their faith. Such circumstances lead them to believe that they have stood on firm grounds at first but they have found the .grounds slippery afterwards

Another disadvantage stated is that you will feel the dire consequences of such an act, which is hindering people from the path of Allah, in this world while the Great
:Divine Chastisement awaits you in the Hereafter. The holy verse continues saying lest any foot might slip after its stability and you should taste evil for that you ... “

”... ,hindered (people) from the path of Allah

In fact, breaking of one’s promises and violation of swearing for pledges, on the one hand, would lead people to be pessimistic and would cause people to abhor the way of the truth. It will also disintegrate the united front of the people and would lead to the loss of confidence among them as far as making people lose their interest in embracing Islam and in case they have made a commitment with you, they would not feel obligated or obliged to fulfill their promise, which would in turn lead to numerous complications, defeat and failures in the world. On the other hand, it would bring forth
:the Divine punishment for you in the Hereafter. The verse concludes

”.and for you there will be a great torment ...“

Incidentally, Haḍrat Imam Bāqir (a.s.) and Haḍrat Imam Sādiq (a.s.) have been quoted in the following commentaries as saying: “This noble verse is about the ‘mastership’ of Amir-ul-Mu’mineen (a.s.), and allegiance with him, and when it was revealed, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) addressing the people, declared: “ Convey your greetings to Ali (a.s.) as the leader of the believers.” (The commentaries: Furghān, Burhān, Majma‘-ul-(Bayān and Aṭyab-ul-Bayān

:The Philosophy of Respect for pledges

We know that the most important capital of a society is the reciprocal confidence of the individuals with respect to one another. Principally, what causes firm coherence among the members of a society, who are in a disintegrated and separate group of individuals, thus making them into coherent unity, is this same mutual confidence which backs up and supports the harmonious activities and cooperation at a broader level in the society.

Pledging, committing and swearing all stress upon the preservation of this solidarity and mutual confidence. However, the day when promises are broken one after another, there will be nothing left out of such public confidence which is a great investment by itself, and the seemingly-integrated society will be disintegrated into individual units which lacks power.

It is for this reason that we find repeated and wide-spread talk of keeping of one's promises in the Qur'ān as well as in traditions of Islam, the breaking up of which is considered as once of the capital sins.

Amir-ul-Mu'mineen Ali (a.s.) has made allusions in his command to 'Malik-i-'Ashtar' as to the importance of such issue in Islam and during 'the Age of Ignorance', regarding it as one of the prime importance and the most general issues, emphasizing that even the pagans had been aware of its significance, sticking to it for they had found out about the painful consequences of breaking of promises. (Nahj-ul-Balāqah, letter No.

We have it in the Islamic War Commandments that when even one ordinary soldier gives respite of security to one or a group of the enemy army it must be observed by all Muslims.

Historians and commentators are of the opinion that among reasons which caused groups of people to embrace the Great Divine way, was the Muslims' keeping to their promises and having regards for their oaths.

This went as far as we read in quotations from Salmān-i-Fārsī (R.A.) who said: "The extermination of this nation might be only brought about because of their breach of treaties.” (See Majma‘-ul-Bayān,

.(under the verse in question

That is, as keeping of one’s promise will bring about power, splendor and progress, breaking of one’s promises will also result in his weakness, inability and his self-
.annihilation

And do not sell Allah's covenant for a meagre price; for verily that which is with " ٩٥ .
"Allah is better for you, if you only know

:The Occasion of the Revelation

As for the occasion of the revelation of this noble verse and the two consecutive verses, it has been reported that: a man from among the inhabitants of 'Haḍar-Maut' came up to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and said: O' Messenger of Allah! I have got a neighbour called 'Imra'-ul-Qays who has usurped part of my land. Summoning 'Imra'-ul-Qays, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) questioned him about the subject and made him go through the process of oath taking when he denied everything. As soon as he stood up to deliver his oath, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), respiting him, reminded him of thinking about the oath at first and then swearing. The two then returned and it was then that the verse was revealed. He warned them against the dire consequences of the wrong and false taking of oaths. When the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) recited these two verses for them, 'Imra'-ul-Qays said: " It is true. I have usurped part of his land though I do not know the exact scale of usurpation. Such being the case, he can have it back, and besides that he may take the equal of it for the use I have made during the period of usurpation. It was at this time that verse ٩٧ was revealed and gave good tidings of /hayāt-i-tayyibah/ (good life) for those whose good acts are coupled with .their faith

Following the previous verses in connection with the nasty and evil act of breaking one's promise and of lying by oath, this verse stresses the same subject. The only difference being that the motive for breaking promise and swearing falsely was being threatened as against the majority in terms of numerical matters, while, in here, the issue is the motive of insignificant and scanty material benefits

Therefore, the Holy Qur'ān implies that you should not exchange Allah's covenant for an insignificant price; that is, whatever of pricing you name is unmatched and insignificant in comparison with the worth of one moment in fulfilling the pledges which you have made with Allah even if all the world were to be given to you. The :verse says

”... ;And do not sell Allah's covenant for a meagre price “

To offer further proofs, the Qur'ān adds implying that whatever is with Allah, is best for you if you know, that is, if you are aware of the difference between what is right :and what is wrong. The verse continues saying

”.for verily that which is with Allah is better for you, if you only know ...“

What is with you comes to an end, and what is with Allah will endure, and certainly “ .٩٦
We will pay those who were (patiently) steadfast a recompense in proportion to the ”best they used to do

Commentary: verse ٩٦

In this noble verse, the Qur’ān explains the reason for the superiority as such: what is with you is perishable, but what is with Allah is everlasting and enduring; and those .who keep their perseverance would be rewarded with the best of what they did

The Qur’ān offers the criterion for the excellence in this verse, saying: What is with you is ultimately mortal and would perish, whereas what is with Allah will be everlasting and eternal. Therefore, come and put to use all your capital for Allah and in His path and for the sake of attaining His consent so that it becomes an example and a symbol of ‘with Allah’ and consonant with. ‘Whatever is with Allah will last’. The :verse says

”... ,What is with you comes to an end, and what is with Allah will endure “

Then the holy verse implies that Allah shall reward them as the best of their acts, all those who keep their patience and resistance in the process of realization of His :commandments in the face of oaths and promises. The verse says and certainly We will pay those who were (patiently) steadfast a recompense in ... “ ” .proportion to the best they used to do

The reason why the term ‘best’ is used in this connection, is that all of a person’s good deeds are not identical; some are good; some others are better, nevertheless Allah places all as the best and rewards them accordingly which case is the utmost kind of .generosity on His part

(٩٧) مَنْ عَمِلَ صَالِحًا مِنْ ذَكَرٍ أَوْ أُنْثَىٰ وَهُوَ مُؤْمِنٌ فَلَنُحْيِيَنَّهٗ حَيَاةً طَيِّبَةً وَلَنَجْزِيَنَّهُمْ أَجْرَهُمْ بِأَحْسَنِ مَا كَانُوا يَعْمَلُونَ

Whoever does a righteous deed, whether male or female, and is a believer, We “ .٩٧ shall certainly give him to live a goodly pure life and, definitely, We will pay them a ”.recompense in proportion to the reward for the best of what they used to do

Commentary: verse ٩٧

A goodly pure life’ is that a person has a restful heart, and a faithful spirit. Such a’ believer whose insight is furnished by the light of Allah, he will be in composed by the prayers of the angels, and he will receive the favours of Allah. The people of this kind .will have neither fear nor grieve

This verse states, as a general rule, that the result of the righteous deeds of every believer and in any form that they be performed will be rewarded with the best scale :of good deeds. The verse says

Whoever does a righteous deed, whether male or female, and is a believer, We shall “ certainly give him to live a goodly pure life and, definitely, We will pay them a ”.recompense in proportion to the reward for the best of what they used to do

Thus, the criterion here is ‘faith’ and the righteous acts emerged from it, and, therefore, there is no other condition for it from any point of view: neither from the .point of race, gender, nor from the point of position, and social rank

Divine way, was the Muslims’ keeping to their promises and having regards for their .oaths

This went as far as we read in quotations from Salmān-i-Fārsī (R.A.) who said: “The extermination of this nation might

The Qur’ānic phrase /hayāt-i-tayyibah/ meaning ‘a goodly pure life’ signifies a ‘clean’ ;life from every point of view clean from all pollutions, cruelties, treasons, hostilities, capturing meanness and all sorts of anxieties including all of those things which turn the wholesome length of .one's life into a disagreeable one

In the end, one infers from this verse that a man without faith and without good deeds is just regarded as dead. "... and We shall certainly give him to live a goodly ... pure life

(٩٨) فَإِذَا قَرَأْتَ الْقُرْآنَ فَاسْتَعِذْ بِاللَّهِ مِنَ الشَّيْطَانِ الرَّجِيمِ

So when you recite the Qur’ān, seek refuge with Allah from (the vices of) the “ .٩٨
”Satan, the accursed

Commentary: verse ٩٨

This noble verse explains the ways for making use of the Glorious Qur’ān and that how it ought to be recited, for the fact that the Qur’ān has got a rich content is not adequate by itself; the obstacles must also be removed from our entire existence, as well as from the thought and environment of our thought and entity, if we are to discover the true meaning of that rich content. Therefore, at first it says

So when you recite the Qur’ān, seek refuge with Allah from (the vices of) the Satan, “
”the accursed

Certainly, the aim is not merely to recite the sentence “I refuge with Allah from (the vices of) the Satan, the accursed”, but one must turn the term ‘mentioning’ into ‘thinking’ so that this thinking becomes a pre-requisite for the realization of that state in the self and soul within which man turns to Allah and distances himself from the whims and violent passions which hinder man’s correct understanding, thus seeking refuge with Allah at the time of reciting every single verse. This makes it possible for us to be kept away from the satanical temptations which stand between us and Allah’s enlivening words. Unless such a state of mind is not achieved, one cannot have
.a true understanding of the facts of the Holy Qur’ān

A Persian poem says: The beauty of our sweetheart is not veiled and covered all over; dust off yourself so as you may be able to see it. Unless one’s self-hood is not kept intact from all of what is forbidden; one's heart will not be turned into a mirror for reflecting the Divine rays of light

:Explanations

Every good deed might also be accompanied by certain defects, as is the case with .۱
'glory' the counter-acting agent of which might be 'pride'; and 'serving people' the counter-acting of which might be indebtedness. The reciting of the Qur'ān may also have certain counter-acting factors attached to it, such as exposing of oneself and exhibitionism, the acquisition of wealth, negative competitions, deceiving people, wrong understanding, and interpreting it according to one's own criterion which serves one's own purpose against all of which one must safe-guard himself by seeking refuge with Allah

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) has remarked: "The recitation of the Qur'ān requires three preconditions to be fulfilled: a humble heart, a void body, a vacant situation, which refers (to a state of mind in which there is no prejudice involved." (Tafsīr-i-Furqān

Were the Qur'ān to be accompanied by an interpretation, the views of the .۲ Immaculate Imams (a.s.), and were it to be presented to the tender minds, it would serve as a means of guidance and one's development, and increasing of one's faith and knowledge. As the Qur'ān proclaims: "(O' Prophet!) And when you recite the Qur'ān, We place between you and those who do not believe in the Hereafter a (hidden barrier." (Sura Al-'Isrā', No. ۱۷, verse ۴۵

The Islamic quotations indicate that the blessed Prophet (p.b.u.h.) at time of reciting the Qur'ān, used to recite the sentence: ‘I seek refuge with Allah from (the vices of) the Satan, the accursed.’ .\n ((Tafsīr-i-Kanz-ud-Daqā’iq

At the end, seeking refuge with Allah implies that a lower-ranking person seeks refuge with a person of higher echelon to refuge him and to defend him against the enemy. In the meantime, this process is coupled with expression of humbleness, that is, one must seek refuge with Allah while reciting the Qur’ān from the satanic temptations so that one can remain immune from all errors

The process of seeking refuge in Allah is a recommended act while one is reciting the Qur’ān, whether be it at the prayer times or at other times

One’s faith serves as a citadel which protects man from all kinds of vulnerabilities. Therefore, the Satan has no control over those who believe in Allah and trust Him.

Commentary: verse ١٠٠

Real monotheists are insured. However, he who looks for other than Allah can receive and is liable to receive wrong influences. Thus, in this noble verse, the Qur’ān declares that the Satan’s domination extends over only all those who admire him and his leadership, and they have selected him as to supervise and guide them

The Satan also has a domineering role for those who have placed him as a partner for Allah in obeying and in serving him, and those who consider his commandments as a :‘must’ instead of the commandments of Allah. The holy verse says

His authority is only over those who befriend him, (following him), and those who “
” .associate others with Him

Thus, the Satanically domination over men is not a compulsory and an unconscious matter. On the other hand, it is human beings who pave the way for Satan’s entry into their realm of life

****

Point

The Qur'ān supersedes all previous scriptures – Doubts of the disbelievers about the Qur'ān – Qur'ān was brought down by Holy Spirit – Hiding the faith under unavoidable pressure but maintaining it at heart – Those who migrate and endeavour in the way of Allah, will be entitled to pardon of their past sins

(۱۰۱) وَإِذَا بَدَّلْنَا آيَةً مَّكَانَ آيَةٍ وَاللَّهُ أَعْلَمُ بِمَا نُنزِّلُ قَالُوا إِنَّمَا أَنْتَ مُفْتَرٍ بَلْ أَكْثَرُهُمْ لَا يَعْلَمُونَ

And when We exchange a verse in the place of another verse, and Allah is well “ ۱۰۱ aware of what He sends down, they say: ‘You are only a forger.’ Nay, most of them do not know”

:The Occasion of the Revelation

Ibn-i-‘Abbās says: The pretext seeking pagans used to claim that Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) had made an object of ridicule out of his companions, whenever a verse was revealed and contained some harsh commandments in it and at other time another verse was revealed and a more lenient decree was involved in it, they used to say: Today he decrees one thing while tomorrow he forbids that same order, all of which exhibits the fact that Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) claims everything by himself and not from the sphere of Allah. It was at this time that the verse was revealed and provided them with the appropriate answer

This verse explains the objections which the pagans had with regard to the Divine verses. Firstly, the Holy Qur'ān implies that when Allah (s.w.t.) converts a verse into another one (thus abrogating a decree), that is, He replaces one verse with another one, pagans say: You are involved in accusations. However, most of them do not know the truth, for Allah is knowledgeable about the commandments which He sends. Therefore, He sends orders according to those circumstances which are required.

:The verse says

And when We exchange a verse in the place of another verse, and Allah is well “aware of what He sends down, they say: ‘You are only a forger.’ Nay, most of them do
”.not know

They do not know that the Qur'ān is seeking to set up the human society which is pioneering in every respect and with a superior kind of spirituality. Despite all these, it is obvious that this Divine prescription sometimes required some changes and
.conversions from the side of Allah

Certainly, they are unaware of these facts and know nothing about the conditions which have brought about the revelation of the Holy Qur'ān, otherwise, they knew that the discarding of certain commandments and verses of the Qur'ān is a pre-determined well-calculated and exact procedure of Islam for educational purposes without which the ultimate attainment of the evolutionary process can not be achieved and can not be regarded as reasons allegedly for contradictory statements by the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) or false accusations to Allah: “Nay, most of them do not know.” Nevertheless, most of them do not know that this abrogation is done by Him alone or they are unaware that such a process is allowed, or what is the reason that a
.commandment alters

Sometimes a physician changes his prescription for his patient. This kind of change .۱ is found in the verses and commandments by the Wise, the Omniscient, which is .۲ called 'abrogation

The religion has got two sets of rules: constant and changeable, both of which cases .۳ are ordained by Him

.Certainly, all the Divine rules are holding true at their own time and conditions .۴

The changes of the Divine rules are not the signs of skepticism or regret, or because .۵ of scientific development, or experimental development and, finally, due to the weaknesses in the legislation system. On the contrary, they exhibit the fact that they are caused by precautionary measures taken and wisdom, as well as having the .environmental conditions in mind. Allah knows

(١٠٢) قُلْ نَزَّلَهُ رُوحُ الْقُدُسِ مِنْ رَبِّكَ بِالْحَقِّ لِيُثَبِّتَ الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا وَهُدًى وَبُشْرَى لِلْمُسْلِمِينَ

Say: ‘The Holy Spirit has brought it down (unto you) from your Lord with the “ ١٠٢ truth, in order to confirm those who believe, and to be a guidance and good news for ”.’the Muslims

Commentary: verse ١٠٢

This noble verse, following the course set by the previous issue, emphasizes on :ordering the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to do as follows

”... ,Say: ‘The Holy Spirit has brought it down (unto you) from your Lord with the truth “

The ‘Holy Spirit’ or ‘Rūh-ul-Ghudus’, mentioned here, is the same messenger of the Divine revelations or ‘Gabriel, the Confident’. It is he who upon the Divine command reveals the verses to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), whether they are abrogative or .abrogated, they are verses which are all with the truth and are for the training of Man

It is for this reason that following it the Qur’ān proclaims in implication that the aim is to enable the believers to stand on firmer grounds in their course of action and to :provide guidance and good news for the general Muslims. The verse continues saying in order to confirm those who believe, and to be a guidance and good news for the ...“ ”.’Muslims

Anyway, in order to strengthen the people’s power of faith and to cover the road to guidance and good news, sometimes, there is no other means provided except short-term schedules and temporary programs which will later be replaced by final and constant procedures. Such is the way which constitutes the secret of the existence of the ‘abrogative’ and the ‘abrogated’ in the Divine verses

In the final analysis, the alterations introduced in the entire content of the Qur’ān, as well as each of the rules, are authentic in their own particular circumstances are right, and the pre-condition for receiving guidance and good news is having a healthy spirit and being submitted

Incidentally, concerning the revelation of the Qur’ān both the Qur’ānic phrase /’anzalnā/ has been employed in the course of the revelation as in “We have sent it down by the Grand Night” (١), and “We have sent it down gradually in portions.” (٢) It is because the Qur’ān has got two methods of revelation: one is when it has been instantly revealed to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) on the Night of ‘Qadr’. The other method is (the one which has been gradually achieved and revealed in the course of ٢٣ years. (٣)

The difference between the Arabic term /tanzīl/ and /’inzāl/ is that the former implies ‘bring down gradually’ and the latter means ‘bringing down all at once’. This difference, which is seen in the verses of the Qur’ān, can be taken as an indication to the above kinds of descent

And certainly We know that they say: ‘Only a mortal teaches him’. The language “ ١٠٣ .” of him at whom they hint is outlandish, while this (Qur’ān) is clear Arabic

Commentary: verse ١٠٣

It seems apparently there was a non-Arab person living in Mecca and the pagans accused the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) of receiving the Qur’ānic instructions from him and he ascribed them to Allah, while one may raise the issue as how could a person teach the other if they did not know each other’s language? And how is it that no one claimed at that time that he had been the instructor of the Prophet? And how is it that the words which were revealed in the course of ٢٣ years and under various circumstances did not contradict one another? And why is it that the said instructor himself did not claim to be a prophet himself? And how is it that no one has answered the challenge of the Qur’ān that were even one Sura to be produced by anyone, the Qur’ān would take its claim back? And how is it that words uttered during the ‘Age of Ignorance’ have not been even partially discovered and their secrets revealed by the scientists even to-day? And how is it that a Book, a Sura of which has not even been produced by the dissident Arabs, could have been brought forward and taught by a ?non-Arab

At any rate, this noble verse refers indirectly and in a correct way to the pretexts for accusations set forth by the opponents to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) of Islam, saying that

p: ٥٣٩

knows that they claim a man instructs these verses to him. The Holy Qur'ān obliterates all these unfounded and groundless accusations and claims with a decisive response, implying that they are heedless of the fact that: the language of him to whom they ascribe the Qur'ān is not Arabic, while this Qur'ān is revealed through the Arabic language which is eloquent and explicit. The verse says

And certainly We know that they say: 'Only a mortal teaches him'. The language of "him at whom they hint is outlandish, while this (Qur'ān) is clear Arabic

One can infer from this verse that the miracle performed by the Qur'ān is not confined to its content. On the contrary, the words employed by the Qur'ān are also reaching the heights of miracle, while attraction, sweetness, and particular harmony are to be found in its words and structural forms of sentences are beyond the power of men

To sum up, the Arabic term /yalḥadūn/ is derived from /'ilhād/ which signifies deviation of the right toward what is wrong, and sometimes it refers to all kinds of deviation. In this context, it alludes to the fact that professional accusers and liars sought to ascribe the Qur'ān to a man and considered him to be the teacher of the Prophet .(p.b.u.h

The Qur'ānic terms /'i'jām/ and /'ajmah/ originally means ambiguity and /'a'jamī/ refers to the person who has shortcoming in his expression, whether an Arab or a non-Arab. As the Arabs were faced with lack of information from the part of non-Arabs, they used to call others as /'ajam

Verily, those who do not believe in the signs of Allah, Allah will not guide them “ ١٠٤ .
”and they will have a painful punishment

Commentary: verse ١٠٤

With a threatening tone, the Qur’ān deals in this verse with the fact that such accusations and deviations are all caused by their lack of faith which has penetrated all their selves

”... Verily, those who do not believe in the signs of Allah, Allah will not guide them “

That is, they will be lead neither to the right path, nor to the road leading to Paradise and eternal happiness, and a painful chastisement awaits them. For they are so entangled with fanaticism, obstinacy and hostility when facing the truth that they have lost the eligibility of being guided, and they are not prepared but for a painful :punishment. The verse continues saying

”and they will have a painful punishment ...“

It is for this reason that those, whom Allah knows not to be believers, are not guided .by Him. That is, His grace does not involve them and they would be left to their own

Only they forge falsehood who do not believe in Allah's signs, and they “ ١٠٥ .
”themselves are liars

Commentary: verse ١٠٥

In the last two verses, the pagans used to claim among their accusations to the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that these verses were taught to him by a man and he falsely ascribed them to Allah

In answer to them the Qur'ān, through previous verse, implied that that man is not an Arab instructor; furthermore, Allah will not teach all of the Qur'ānic sciences to a pagan. Now, it implies in this verse that: The prophet is not the one who ascribes the words of others to Allah; this is the job of those who are not believers. Thus the :Qur'ān says

Only they forge falsehood who do not believe in Allah's signs and they themselves “
”are liars

And what a lie is greater than accusing men of the truth, and causing other obstacles
?to stand in the path of them and those who are thirsty for the truth

The above verse is one of the shaking verses which concern the ugliness of falsehood.
.It equates liars with the pagans and with those who reject the Divine verses

In principle, there is a great deal of importance attached to the issue of telling the truth and campaigning against lying and falsehood in Islamic teachings in so far as lying has been equated with the key to all sins, and telling the truth as the bill or the .ticket to enter the Paradise

The blissful Qur'ān proclaims: "And if he had fabricated against Us some of the sayings," "Then We would certainly have cut off his aorta." (Sura Al-Haqqah, No. 69, (verses 44 and 46

In Tafsīr-i-Durr-ul-Manthūr and Al-Mīzān, it has been quoted from the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that a believer may be involved in fornication or in theft, but he will .never tell lies. Then he recited this verse

Ali (a.s.) says: "Telling lie is disgrace in the world and will cause the punishment of Fire (in the Hereafter." (Qurar-ul-Hikam, vol. 2, p. 31)

And also, Imam 'Askarī (a.s.) proclaims: "All evil and nasty things are placed in a room, (the key to which is 'telling lies'." (Bihār, vol. 69, p. 263

In another quotation from Ali (a.s.) we read: "One can not be blessed with faith unless he abandons lying whether it is in the form of a joke or is seriously said." (Bihār, vol. 72, (p. 249, and Ad-Durrat-ul-Bāhirah, p. 43

He who disbelieves in Allah after believing in Him; not he who has been “ ١٠٦ . compelled, while his heart is still content with the faith, but he who opens (his) breast to disbelief, upon them shall rest wrath from Allah and for them shall be a great ”.chastisement

Commentary: verse ١٠٦

In the early days of Islam, the pagans of Mecca martyred the parents of ‘Ammār Yāsir, a true believer, while torturing them for embracing Islam. As soon as it was ‘Ammār’s turn to be tortured, he declared those words which the pagans wanted him to utter and saved his life. ‘Ammār was then blamed for having abandoned Islam by some persons. He called on the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) while crying. The Prophet caressed him, saying: “If your life is at stake again, utter these words and save yourself; you are faithful all over.” (Tafsīr Qurtubī, Sāfī, Burhān and Majma‘-ul-Bayān (and the books of Muslim scholars concerning the issue of concealing of faith

This procedure is called /taqqiyah/ in Islam which requires certain rules. However, we must know that there are certain cases of ‘Taqiyyah’. At times, it is compulsory while at other times, one must stand up to the end and utter his words, and not engage in Taqiyyah, like what the sorcerers of Pharaoh did. They embraced the faith as soon as they noticed the miracle of Moses (a.s.) not fearing the threats of Pharaoh and telling him to do what he wanted, and that they would not abandon their faith. Pharaoh martyred them all, the resistance of whom has been .praised by the Qur'ān

Certainly, the act of Taqiyyah (concealing of faith) is not a sign of excommunication, weakness, fear, retreat, loss of faith, and submission. On the contrary, it is a kind of cover-up and a strategy for the preservation of powers and programs. In Islamic quotations, it has been likened to a shield and 'guarding' against 'something' and 'boundaries'. Thus, in this noble verse, the Qur'ān implies that he who disbelieves in Allah and abandons Islam, embracing paganism will be entangled with Allah's outrage and there is a great punishment awaiting him; unless he is compelled to utter words of blasphemy while feeling heartily in a different way, in which case, he will not be :held responsible. The verse says

He who disbelieves in Allah after believing in Him; not he who has been compelled, " while his heart is still content with the faith, but he who opens (his) breast to disbelief, upon them shall rest wrath from Allah and for them
".shall be a great chastisement

In fact, there are here allusions made to two groups of people who turn their back to Islam after embracing it. The first group are those who become entangled with illogical enemies under whose pressure and torture, they declare their apostasy with Islam and their loyalty in paganism, while whatever they proclaim is with their tongue and they are heartily faithful. Such a group is certainly pardoned. However we must note that they have not committed any sin to start with. This is an example of allowed 'Taqiyah' which has been permissible for the sake of the protection of lives and for .the conservation of powers for further services to the causes of Allah and of Islam

The second group consists of those who truly leave their 'selves' to paganism and disbelief and change their ideological system of thought altogether. Such people are both targeted by Allah's wrath and His great chastisement, for such an act causes the disintegration of the Islamic society, thus constituting some kind of revolt against the Islamic government. Such an act is often a source of evil intentions and causes the .secrets of Islamic society to fall into the hands of the enemies

That (Divine wrath) is because they have preferred the worldly life over the “... Hereafter, and definitely Allah does not guide the infidel people

Commentary: verse ١٠٧

Sticking to the material world and giving preference to it over the Hereafter paves the ground for one’s loss of faith and one’s entanglement with the Divine punishment.

:Therefore, the causes for their apostasy are cited in this holy verse as follows

That (Divine wrath) is because they have preferred the worldly life over the “... Hereafter

It is for this reason that they take once again the path to paganism, and Allah does not lead the pagan group who insist on rejection and blasphemy. The verse continues :saying

...and definitely Allah does not guide the infidel people ...“

To sum up, once they embraced Islam, some of their material benefits were being jeopardized and as they loved the worldly life they regretted having embraced the faith and once again, they returned to paganism

It is obvious that such a group, who are not attracted in the faith from within their selves, will not be covered in the Divine guidance, for the love of worldly life, welfare-loving sense, and giving its priority to the Hereafter pave the way for the abandoning of one’s faith, the growth of apostasy, and, consequently, entanglement in the Divine outrage

They are those on whose hearts, and their ears and eyes Allah has set a seal, “ ١٠٨ .
”and these are the heedless ones

Commentary: verse ١٠٨

The rationale for not guiding them has been explained in this holy verse. It implies that they are the ones on whose hearts, ears and eyes Allah has set a seal in so far as they are deprived of seeing, hearing and understanding the truth. The verse says

”... ,They are those on whose hearts, and their ears and eyes Allah has set a seal “

It is evident that such people, losing all of the tools for their cognition, are the true inconsiderate ones, because their offensive acts and kinds of sin have left some wrong and evil impacts on their sense of understanding which eventually leads them to be obstructed from grasping all facts. The holy verse concludes

He who deliberately prefers the world to the Hereafter, on the Reckoning Day he will realize that he is of the losers and he has vainly lost the capital of his growth

The consequences of the work of such people have been depicted in this noble verse,
:as

”Undoubtedly, they are the losers in the Hereafter “

They are definitely and unequivocally the losers in the Hereafter. What kind of a loss may be worse than this that man remains heedless of all the necessary potentialities for his own guidance and eternal happiness and loses all of those merits because of his whimsical desire Definitely, your Lord unto those who have migrated after being persecuted, then “ ١١٠ . they struggled and patiently persevered; verily your Lord, after that, is forgiving

” .Merciful

Commentary: verse 110

Looking through the previous verses, we find that Muslims were categorized into
:several groups

The group who lost their lives while being tortured by the pagans and did not utter a ١ .
single blasphemous word; such as the parents of ‘Ammār

٢ .The group who had heartily faith but they engaged in simulation, like ‘Ammār

٣ .The group who did apostate, so to speak, after becoming believers

The group who sought to preserve the faith when entangled in rebellions, and ٤ .
deviations, by going on exodus and fighting a holy war, while they persevered
.patiently, repented and protected their faith

There is another group, referred to in this verse, which consists of those who have been cheated and are placed between the abovementioned two groups, i.e., those who uttered blasphemous words in the form of ‘Taqqyah’ (simulation), and those who returned to paganism whole-heartedly. This verse, referring to such people states implying that Allah is forgiving and merciful towards those who returned to their faith after being cheated and went on exodus or took part in a Holy War, resisting all kinds of pressure in Allah's path. They are all :covered by His grace. The verse says Definitely, your Lord unto those who have migrated after being persecuted, then “ they struggled and Patiently persevered; verily your Lord, after that, is forgiving

”.Merciful

Incidentally, this holy verse provides clear evidence for the acceptance of the .’repentance of the ‘nationally apostate

:Certainly, apostate is of two categories

The ‘innate apostate’ which refers to the person who is born of Muslim parents and, .1 after embracing Islam, has returned to paganism. His punishment consists of being executed and his wealth confiscated while his repentance is not accepted for the blows which have been stricken to the Islamic society and against the creed of people
.by his apostasy

As for the second category which consists of ‘nationally apostate’ and which refers .2 to the one who is born of non-Muslim parents at the time of the coagulation of his sperm, then he has become a convert into Islam and, later, he has again become a .pagan. The repentance of such a person is acceptable

****

Point

Every soul shall be recompensed in full for what all it has earned – To eat only the clean and good things allowed – Prohibited food – Forgiveness only for those who repent and amend

(۱۱۱) يَوْمَ تَأْتِي كُلُّ نَفْسٍ تُجَادِلُ عَنْ نَفْسِهَا وَتُوَفَّى كُلُّ نَفْسٍ مَّا عَمِلَتْ وَهُمْ لَا يُظْلَمُونَ

The day (that) everyone will come disputing in his own behalf; and everyone will “ .۱۱۱
”be rewarded in full (for) what he has done, and they will not be dealt with unjustly

Commentary: verse ۱۱۱

The resurrection scene is so dangerous that the culprit and the sinful utter something at every moment. Sometimes, he says: “Swearing to Allah, we were not pagans.” At other times, he says: “It was they who misled us.” Sometimes he says: “ if you were ”not there, we would be believers

Ultimately, this noble verse expresses as a general warning, implying: Remember the day when every one is thinking only about himself and stands up only to defend :himself so that he can relieve himself from the painful punishment. The verse says

”... ;The day (that) everyone will come disputing in his own behalf “

However, this struggle of theirs is entirely useless as the consequences of every body’s action will be made available to him and they will not be oppressed. The verse
:says

and everyone will be rewarded in full (for) what he has done, and they will not be ... “
”dealt with unjustly

(١١٢) وَضَرَبَ اللَّهُ مَثَلًا قَرْيَةً كَانَتْ ءَامِنَةً مُطْمَئِنَّةً يَأْتِيهَا رِزْقُهَا رَغَدًا مِنْ كُلِّ مَكَانٍ فَكَفَرَتْ بِأَنْعُمِ اللَّهِ فَأَذَاقَهَا اللَّهُ لِبَاسَ الْجُوعِ وَالْخَوْفِ بِمَا كَانُوا يَصْنَعُونَ

And Allah sets forth a parable: a township that was secure, at rest, its “ ١١٢ . sustenance coming to it in abundance from every side; then it was ungrateful for the favours of Allah. So Allah made it taste the garment of hunger and of fear because of ”.what they used to do

Commentary: verse ١١٢

Those who became ungrateful and were entangled. We have repeatedly said that this noble Sura is the ‘Sura of blessings’, whether spiritual and material. We note the consequences of ungratefulness of the Divine blessings in the form of an objective .allegory in this verse

At first, the Qur’ān implies that Allah sets forth a parable for those who are ungrateful; a developed area which enjoyed utmost safety and security. It was such that its inhabitants were confident in their life and were never compelled to go on an exodus or emigrate. In addition to its blessings concerning safety and security, its means of sustenance were also coming to it from all places in abundance. However, the inhabitants of that village ultimately became ungrateful for the blessings, and Allah inflicted hunger and fear upon them so as to punish them for their deeds. The :verse says

And Allah sets forth a parable: a township that was secure, at rest, its sustenance “ coming to it in abundance from every side; then it was ungrateful for the favours of

Allah. So Allah made it taste the garment of hunger and of fear because of what they ".used to do

Indeed, as the safety and security as well as welfare had covered them from the .onset, in the end those blessings were replaced by poverty and insecurity

:Point to Remember

Allusions made here to the term 'garment' in the cases of 'hunger' and 'fear' probably reflects the fact that the two serve as clothing, covering them all over, as is the case with the term 'tasting' which refers to the pangs of hunger and fear felt deeply within .their selves

And certainly there came to them a messenger from amongst them, but they “ ۱۱۳ .
”rejected him; so the punishment overtook them while they were unjust

Commentary: verse ۱۱۳

This blissful verse, following the previous one, suggests that: The ungrateful people not only showed ingratitude due to the material blessings but they also rejected and denounced the most important spiritual blessing which was ever conferred upon them by Allah, that is, the Divine prophets as well, the consequence of which was the Divine punishment that covered them all over in the midst of their oppression. The
:verse, pointing to this meaning, says

(١١٤) فَكَلُوا مِمَّا رَزَقَكُمُ اللَّهُ حَلَالًا طَيِّبًا وَاشْكُرُوا نِعْمَتَ اللَّهِ

Therefore, eat out of what Allah has provided for you, lawful and good, and give “ ١١٤ .
”you thanks for Allah’s bounty if (only) Him do you worship

Commentary: verse ١١٤

Islam only allows one to eat what is both ‘clean’ and ‘allowed by the religion’. Those things such as wine and pork are forbidden in Islam, for they are inherently nasty and unclean, as well as those eating stuffs which are bought with usurped money even if they are ‘clean’ by themselves. They are bought in exchange for the money which does not belong to the person himself, thus they are unlawful and forbidden

Now that being ingratitude towards the divine favours and their rejection of the prophets will lead to the Divine outrage and punishment, therefore, instead of ungratefulness and infidelity, we should always necessarily benefit from the allowed favors and consume them in the ‘allowed way’, remaining thankful to Him if we truly :worship Him. The noble verse says

Therefore, eat out of what Allah has provided for you, lawful and good, and give you “
”.thanks for Allah’s bounty if (only) Him do you worship

This verse, as well as the previous one, probably refers to a group of the Children of Israel who used to live in a developed region and were caught in the entanglement of .famine and insecurity because of their ingratitude for the blessings

The proof for this claim is provided by a ‘tradition’ which has been quoted from Imām Sādiq (a.s.) who declared: “A group of the Children of Israel used to enjoy such an affluent life that they used to build small statues out of the food-stuffs and, at times, they used to clean their bodies with them. Consequently, they were led to the point where they were compelled to eat out of those spoiled unclean food-stuffs, which is the case that Allah referred to in the Qur’ān, saying: “And Allah sets forth a parable: a (township that was secure, at rest, ...” (The current Sura, verse ۱۱۲

This parable serves as a warning to all those individuals and nations which are encompassed fully by the Divine blessings so that they may abstain from any kinds of wasteful prodigality, extravagance, and spoiling of the blessings which would lead to certain heavy compensation from their part. This example also serves as a warning to those who throw away half of their additional meal to the dustbins, while at the same time, it serves as a warning to those who hoard the food-stuffs in their houses storage area for their personal consumption and for selling them at a dearer price
.whereas, they become spoiled and become out of use

Nevertheless, despite knowing this, they are not ready to make them available to .others at a cheaper rate

Certainly, all of such acts are punishable by the Divine Will, the least punishment of .which is withholding of such blessings by Allah

And a comprehensive religion has also got comprehensive and all-encompassing rules and regulations. It has got a set of rules for both the ‘apparent cleanliness’ of things which are pre-requisites for their consumption, as well as their inherent and
.’legal cleanliness

(۱۱۵) إِنَّمَا حَرَّمَ عَلَيْكُمُ الْمَيْتَةَ وَالدَّمَ

وَلَحْمَ الْخِنْزِيرِ وَمَا أُهْلَ لِغَيْرِ اللَّهِ بِهِ فَمَنْ اضْطُرَّ غَيْرَ بَاغٍ وَلَا عَادٍ فَإِنَّ اللَّهَ غَفُورٌ رَحِيمٌ

Verily He has forbidden for you only carrion, blood, swine flesh, and whatever “ ۱۱۵ has other (name), than Allah’s, been invoked upon it. But whoever is forced (to eat them by necessity), not desiring, nor (willfully) transgressing (the limit), then Allah is ”.Forgiving, Merciful

Commentary: verse ۱۱۵

As the previous holy verses dealt with the good Divine blessings and the gratitude which is due and outstanding for them, this verse refers to the truly forbidden cases of blessings and the untrue forbidden ones which had been brought about in the religion of Allah through innovation owing to certain heretical views, all of which is :done to complement the circle. Firstly, the Qur’ān says

Verily He has forbidden for you only carrion, blood, swine flesh, and whatever has “ ”... other (name), than Allah’s, been invoked upon it

However, the infection generated by the first three cases nowadays is not unknown to the public today. The corpses of animals are the sources of all kinds of microbes, and one’s blood is more prone to the activities of the microbes than other parts of the .body, while pork is a factor in itself for several dangerous diseases

As for those animals which are slaughtered in the names of other than ‘Allah’, their philosophy for being forbidden does not concern sanitary reasons, but there are ethical and spiritual considerations involved, for, on the one hand, they constitute a campaign against paganism and the worshipping of the idols and, on the other hand, they form the basis for focusing one's attention to the Almighty, the Creator of such .blessings

Incidentally, summing up the content of this verse and the following verses, we can infer this point that Islam opts for moderation with regard to the consumption of meat. It neither rejects this source of nutrition altogether as in the case of vegetarians; nor does it commend it outright in the case of the people of the Age of Ignorance or in the case of some of our so-called civilized contemporaries who approve of all kinds of meat (including even the meat of crocodiles and crabs as well .(as worms

In conclusion, as is the case with the Qur'ānic method in many aspects, it explains the exceptional circumstances, saying that but those who are obliged (that is, they are required to eat certain forbidden meat to stay alive while in danger in a desert) if they do not exceed the limits in eating, Allah will forgive them for He is Compassionate and :Merciful. The verse says

But whoever is forced (to eat them by necessity), not desiring, nor (willfully) ... “ .transgressing (the limit), then Allah is Forgiving, Merciful

:Explanations

The contents of this noble verse are also repeated in Suras of Al-'An'ām and An- .1 Nahl, which are Meccan, and in Suras of Al-Baqarah and Al-Mā'idah which are .Medinan

The Arabic term /'ihlāl/, derived from /hilāl/ means raising one's voice when seeing .2 the crescent of the moon. As the pagans, when slaughtering animals, used to invoke .the name of the idols with a loud voice, this action of theirs has been termed /'ihlāl

Certain foodstuffs have been banned in this verse, but they are not confined to .۳ these only. On the contrary, there are certain other cases named by the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) which we must take into consideration according to the .recommendation of the Qur'ān itself

Banning certain things are only in His Own authority and no one is entitled to ban or .۴ to make lawful (ḥalāl) anything by himself or on the basis of superstitions and .hallucinations

The rationale for banning certain foodstuffs is not based solely on the sanitation .۵ and material issues; but, distancing oneself from the spiritual vices, like paganism, is .also another criterion

(١١٦) وَلَا تَقُولُوا لِمَا تَصِفُ أَلْسِنَتَكُمُ الْكَذِبَ هَذَا حَلَالٌ وَهَذَا حَرَامٌ لَّ تَفْسُرُوا عَلَى اللَّهِ الْكَذِبَ إِنَّ الَّذِينَ يَفْسُرُونَ عَلَى اللَّهِ الْكَذِبَ لَا يُفْلِحُونَ

(١١٧) مَتَاعٌ قَلِيلٌ وَلَهُمْ عَذَابٌ أَلِيمٌ

And do not utter whatever lie your tongues describe (saying): ‘This is lawful and “ .١١٦ this is forbidden’ in order to forge falsehood against Allah. Verily those who forge .falsehood against Allah will not prosper

A brief enjoyment (will be theirs) while for them is a painful punishment (in “ .١١٧ ”.(Hereafter

Commentary: verses ١١٦–١١٧

These two noble verses condemn whatever analysis or bans which are not based on the Divine law, considering it to be attributing false words to Allah in order to arrive at .the insignificant petty worldly goods

Therefore, this verse describes explicitly the issue which the pagans had raised with regard to their baseless bans which were already implicitly discussed, saying: Stop saying such a thing is allowed and the other one is forbidden by religion, charging :Allah with false accusations. The verse says

And do not utter whatever lie your tongues describe (saying): ‘This is lawful and this “ ”... .is forbidden’ in order to forge falsehood against Allah

That is, this is a clear lie which has only been uttered by your mouth. You falsely ban certain things and forbid certain other things by yourselves. Allusion is here being made to the four-footed animals some of which were marked as allowed while others were considered as forbidden by them, and others four-footed animals some of which were marked as allowed while others were considered as forbidden by them, and others were allocated to the idols. Has Allah entitled you to legislate in such a way? Or else, your superstitious beliefs and blind ?obedience have led you to hold such innovations

:To issue a serious warning, the Qur'ān declares at the end of the verse

”Verily those who forge falsehood against Allah will not prosper ...“

In principle, lying and false accusations and allegations are the sources of misfortune and of not being salvaged, no matter who is concerned, lest the one in question .should be Allah, the Almighty

Thus, in the second holy verse, He explains the reasons for the lack of salvation as: It is a meagre advantage which is allocated to them in this world, while they must be :prepared for a painful punishment which is awaiting them. The verse says

As for the meagre advantage referred to might be an allusion to the dead animals in the wombs which they regarded as ‘allowed’ (Halal) and the meat of which was used .by them

At any rate, to exceed the limits of what is ‘allowed’ or ‘forbidden’ will be followed by .both the wretchedness of this world and the painful punishment of the Hereafter

(١١٨) وَعَلَى الَّذِينَ هَادُوا حَرَّمْنَا مَا قَصَصْنَا عَلَيْكَ مِنْ قَبْلُ وَمَا ظَلَمْنَاهُمْ وَلَكِنْ كَانُوا أَنْفُسَهُمْ يَظْلِمُونَ

And for those who were Jews, We prohibited what We have already related to “ .١١٨
.you. And We did them no injustice, but they were unjust to themselves

Commentary: verse 118

A question may be raised in here as to why, besides the above-mentioned four things, other forbidden things from animals were also prohibited for the Jewish nation? This
:verse, dealing apparently with this issue, proclaims

.And for those who were Jews, We prohibited what We have already related to you “
” ...

Here is allusion made to verse ١٤٦ of Sura Al-An‘ām which implies that Allah prohibited every nailed animal for the Jews (allusion is here made to those animals like horses which possess single all-spreading bars in their palm of their feet such as horse), and Allah prohibited them from eating the fat of cows and sheep except all the fat which they carry on their back, or that which is found in-between their stomach intestines, their lateral sides or is mixed with their bones. Allah did that for the punishment of (their cruel behavior and He is true. 1)

---

This verse (١٤٦) in the Qur’ān says: “And those who were Jews We forbade every – ١ (animal) having claws, and of oxen and sheep unto them the fat of both, save what is upon their backs or the entrails or what is mixed with bones. This (prohibition) We ”.recompensed them for their rebellion, and verily we are truthful

In fact, such prohibitions, which are additional, are for the sake of punishing the Jews
:in exchange for their cruelties. Thus, He adds at the end of the verse saying

.And We did them no injustice, but they were unjust to themselves ...“

There are two sorts of prohibitions in Islam: One is permanent and is for all people; the other one is temporary prohibitions which are concerned with a selected group, like the group from among the Jewish nation which were banned from using certain .things for their role in committing oppression

(١١٩) ثُمَّ إِنَّ رَبَّكَ لِلَّذِينَ عَمِلُوا الشُّوْءَ بِجَهَالَةٍ ثُمَّ تَابُوا مِنْ بَعْدِ ذَلِكَ وَأَصْلَحُوا إِنَّ رَبَّكَ مِنْ بَعْدِهَا لَغَفُورٌ رَحِيمٌ

Yet verily your Lord, unto those who do an evil act in ignorance and afterward “ ١١٩ .
”they repent and amend, your Lord after that will definitely be Forgiving, Merciful

Commentary: verse ١١٩

Islam experiences no deadlocks and there is always room for reconstruction for man and the way is left open. The acceptance of repentance is a matter of Divinity and is among the methods of education

Certainly, true repentance is achieved when it is coupled with reformation and making up for the wrongdoings. Those sins which come about as a result of the domination of passions, and are not caused by rejection and out of enmity, are more within the acceptance range. Incidentally, Allah is more compassionate towards the repentant after and on top of accepting one’s repentance. The verse says

Yet verily your Lord, unto those who do an evil act in ignorance and afterward they “
”repent and amend, your Lord after that will definitely be Forgiving, Merciful

To conclude, one must confirm that ‘ignorance’ signifies not knowing; nonetheless it is also applied to the cases in which man usually knows the right kind of behavior, but is overwhelmed by his passion. In verse ٥٤ of Sura Al-’An‘ām, and verse ١٧ from the Sura An-Nisā’, ignorance is applied in this sense as well

Point

Abraham praised – Apostle Muhammad to follow the footsteps of Abraham – To call mankind unto the way of the Lord with Wisdom and Gentle Exhortation – Allah is always with the pious and those who do good to others

(۱۲۰) إِنَّ إِبْرَاهِيمَ كَانَ أُمَّةً قَانِتًا لِلَّهِ حَنِيفًا وَلَمْ يَكُ مِنَ الْمُشْرِكِينَ

Verily, Abraham was a nation (by himself) obedient to Allah, upright, and he was “ ۱۲۰ .
”,not of the polytheists

Commentary: verse ۱۲۰

Allah has taken 'Ibrāhīm to be an entire nation by himself in this holy verse and each and every commentator has presented his own version and interpretation for this sentence, among them we may select the following

As 'Ibrāhīm belonged to a school to which no one else belonged, therefore, he was ۱ .
(an entire nation by himself) ۱

He possessed the good qualities and the perfection which one may expect all the ۲ .
individuals of a nation to possess; that is, in him alone one might find the good traits (which might belong to each of the diverse righteous individuals) ۲

The Arabic term 'ummat/ sometimes signifies the instructor of the good; thus it ۳ .
(signifies that he was the instructor of all the good things) ۳

p: ۵۶۶

Tafsīr-i-Sāfī –۱

Tafsīr-i-Marāghī –۲

Tafsīr-i-Tabarī –۳

The Arabic term ʾummat sometimes means, ‘leader’ and hence, it targets the leading figure, ‘the Imam’ of all the worshippers of Allah

The personality and the spectrum of his unique existence measured up to the scope of a nation, as he was one of the pillars of the strength of the whole nation

As he (a.s.) was knowledgeable, he would lead an entire nation, as he is required to do so

As he initiated a movement, he did what an entire nation was supposed to do, without having any companions, he rose alone and all by himself

It is certain that the number and the quantity is not so important; rather it is the quality which counts and the initiation of the movement is what matters

Therefore, this holy verse deals with a perfect example of a thankful servant of Allah, i.e. ‘Ibrāhīm’ who is the champion of monotheism. This is particularly important for the Muslims, in general, and for the Arabs, in particular, and it is also inspiring for them who regard him to be their leader and their earliest object of identification figure

From among the outstanding characteristics of this great man, one may cite four attributes in this verse

At first, the Qurʾān says: “Verily Abraham was a nation (by himself). ...” Certainly, – ١ Ibrāhīm was ‘a nation’, a great leader, a nation-building man; and in those days when no one spoke of monotheism, he was the champion of monotheism

Another attribute of Ibrāhīm was that he was the obedient servant of Allah. “... ٢
... ,obedient to Allah

” .straight way

And We gave him good in this world, and in the Hereafter he will definitely be “ .١٢٢
” .among the righteous

Commentary: verses ١٢١–١٢٢

Allah has cited five types of perfection for 'Ibrāhīm in these verses, and then He offers
:him five favours and positions

١. 'He was a 'nation

٢. (He was obedient (to the Lord

٣. He was not among the polytheists

٤. He was 'upright' and was clear of all involvements in deviation matters

٥. He was grateful

As for the five kinds of grace and positions which Allah had accorded him, they were
:as follows

١. Allah selected 'Ibrāhīm for His prophetic mission and for the conveying of His .message

“... He was) thankful for His blessings; He selected Him)“

٢. Allah led him to the right path and protected him from all types of misdemeanor and
.deviation

“ .and He guided him to a straight way ...“

And We gave him good in this world, ..." which in its broadest sense signifies all of " what is good, including a wide range of meaning in connection with the prophetic mission as far as the 'House of Ka'bah and a long-lasting life, alongside the acceptance of his call by

.Allah, enormous wealth, decent sons, as well as a host of other blessings

”and in the Hereafter he will definitely be among the righteous ...“ .۴

.The Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) was ordered to follow his way of life .۵

The Arabic term /'ijtabā/ is derived from /jabābah/, which signifies ‘collecting’ and ‘assembling’. ‘Allah’s collecting’ means that Allah assembles individuals from a .diversified range of different approaches, protecting and purifying them for Himself

So We revealed to you that you follow the creed of Abraham, the upright one, “ ١٢٣ .
”and he was not of the polytheists

Commentary: verse ١٢٣

Certainly the methods and the conditions of the prophets have not been identical, yet the path of the prophets has been similar and they were commissioned to follow the .foregoing prophets and to preach monotheism

The frequent praising and eulogizing with the same interpretations alongside verses aligned with one another, reflect the utmost sincerity and the position of 'Ibrāhīm. Thus, in this last verse, the latest privilege which was accorded to 'Ibrāhīm by Allah because of those prominent attributes, was the fact that his school was not only to be set up and flourishing during his own time but also it was destined to be for people at :all times, especially for the nation of Islam as an inspiring school, as the Qur'ān says

In this noble verse, He again reemphasizes that: 'Ibrāhīm was not from among the .polytheists

”and he was not of the polytheists ...“

This refutation sentence is meant mostly for the ‘Quraysh polytheists’ who used to trace back their ancestral line to 'Ibrāhīm despite their paganism and worshipping of .the idols

The Sabbath was appointed only for those who differed about it, and verily your “ ١٢٤ .
Lord definitely will judge between them on the Day of Judgment in what they used to

Commentary: verse ١٢٤

The Jews were repeatedly punished for their obstinacy and hostility by Allah, one of which was proclaimed in verse ١١٨ of this Sura, stating: “And for those who were Jews,
”... .We prohibited what We have already related to you

The designation of the Sabbath as a holiday, which is explained in this verse, is also another punishment, in which case, certainly, some groups have expressed their appreciation and others have been ungrateful, resorting to dirty tricks, for which they :got entangled to harsh cases of punishment. The verse says

”... ,The Sabbath was appointed only for those who differed about it “

Considering the previous verse, the meaning of this verse might be: O’ Prophet! Follow the path of the nation of ’Ibrāhīm; holidays on the Sabbath were designated as exclusive to the Jews, which was a type of punishment for them. Nonetheless, the Jews even differed on this day which was selected by themselves. Therefore, at the :end of the verse, the Qur’ān says and verily your Lord definitely will judge between them on the Day of Judgment in... “

”what they used to differ about

However, there are some Islamic traditions which denote Friday is a great day for .Muslims, and it is also a festival and holiday for them

(١٢٥) اذْعُ إِلَى سَبِيلِ رَبِّكَ بِالْحُكْمِ وَالْمَوْعِظَةِ الْحَسَنَةِ وَجَادِلْهُمْ بِالَّتِي هِيَ أَحْسَنُ إِنَّ رَبَّكَ هُوَ أَعْلَمُ بِمَنْ ضَلَّ عَنْ سَبِيلِهِ وَهُوَ أَعْلَمُ بِالْمُهْتَدِينَ

O' Prophet!) Call (mankind) to the path of your Lord with wisdom and good) “ ١٢٥ . admonition, and dispute with them in the better way. Verily your Lord knows better of ”.him who has gone astray from His path, and He knows best those who are guided

Commentary: verse ١٢٥

There are ten interesting ethical decrees issued from this verse to the end of the Sura for social association with others. This holy verse provides a comprehensive order for all those responsible instructors, professors as well as religious scholars, which calls them to be well-equipped with the various methods to be successful when confronting their different audiences, for one can not invite all those addressed with a single method. Every body has got a delicate way which must be addressed with a certain capacity through the medium of which he must be communicated with. The elect ones, who require exclusive ways of handling and reasoning, must be dealt with in their own way, while the common folks should be addressed with some acceptable exhortations. The dissidents should also be addressed with more convenient ways of .disputations

A good advice is the one that the preacher acts and practices according to what he says, and acceptable disputations are those ones in which wrong provocation of :feelings and insulting do not permeate

Therefore, the first duty of the prophets is their ‘Calling’. “(O’ Prophet!) call . ١
”... ((mankind

”... All callings must be Divinely-Orientated: “... to the path of your Lord . ٢

Every single invitation has got a hierarchy. (Wisdom, preaching, and acceptable . ٣ disputation, in which case wisdom provides the rational method and preaching paves
”... ,the emotional way.) “... with wisdom and good admonition

Preaching must be done in a friendly manner; however, disputation must be carried . ٤ out in a friendlier manner, that is, it must be friendly both in its content and form as ”... .well as in its methods of expression. “... and dispute with them in the better way

The exposition of the impacts and blessings of what is good, as well as the . ٥ statement of the pathological effects and dangers of whatever is evil, are included as methods of the calling. (Wisdom signifies being acquainted with the good and the evil (.of matters by the means of knowledge and reasoning

You are liable to perform your duties and you are not responsible for the . ٦
.consequences of whatever happens

Wisdom and demonstration are always decent means for convincing other people . ٧
Nevertheless, preaching and disputation might be done either with the good method (.or with the bad one. (The terms ‘good’ and ‘better’ are not used in case of wisdom

Islam offers its followers both mental nourishment (with wisdom), and ‘spiritual . ٨ enrichment’ (good admonition) while it entertains logical methods when encountering
.the opponents

Virtue', in its broadest sense, including facing the opponents, means when one is facing the enemy he must observe the principles of the Islamic ethics. "... and dispute ... with them in the better way

Generosity and goodness are the two basic methods in all campaigns if shown at the right time and proper place

In conclusion, these ten-fold duties and important ethical and rational decrees can be employed as tactical principles in every campaign against the opponents of Islam, and may be used as a general rule in whatever kind of circumstances and under whatever conditions and times. Were Muslims to implement such programs which are comprehensive, we should probably witness the glory of Islam as widespread throughout the world today, or at least in the main parts of it. The verse concludes

Verily your Lord knows better of him who has gone astray from His path, and He ... "knows best those who are guided

And if you punish then punish as you were punished with; but if you are patient, “ ١٢٦ .
”decisively, it will be best for the patient ones

Commentary: verse ١٢٦

Up till now, the issue in question dealt with the matter as to how one must engage in a logical dialogue or an emotional or rational disputation with the opponents. Nonetheless, if the worst comes to worst and there is an entanglement involved, and they take up arms and invade, the Holy Qur’ān orders in implication that If you are supposed to retaliate, your retaliation must be with what you have suffered and not more than that. However, if you do not lose patience and have a forgiving attitude, :this would be best for those who are patient. The verse says

And if you punish then punish as you were punished with; but if you are patient, “
”decisively, it will be best for the patient ones

In some quotations, we have it that this verse was revealed during the ‘Uhud Battle’ when the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) witnessed the painful plight of the martyrdom of his uncle Hamzat-ibn-Abdul-Muttalib, in which case, the enemy was not content with killing him. They tore up apart his chest and side with utmost atrocity, taking out his liver or heart, and cut off his nose and ears, which made him (p.b.u.h.) quite upset. Then he said: “O’ My Lord! You are worthy of praise and I take up my case to you and you are my help and of assistance in whatever I notice.” According to the comments made in
-Majma‘-ul

Bayān, Jawāmi‘-ul-Jāmi‘, Burhān, Sāfi etc, the Muslims, witnessing the scenario, declared: “If we get access to them, we shall amputate them all.” Nonetheless, in other commentaries like: ‘Ayyashī, Durr-ul-manthūr, and other commentaries, this quotation has been attributed to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) himself. At this moment the revelation of the above verse took place, upon which occasion, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.)
”.declared: “O’ Lord! I shall be patient, I shall be patient

This was, perhaps, the most painful moments in the life of the prophet, he controlled
.” his nerves once again, selecting the second way which consisted of “ forgiving

And as we note in the history of the conquest of Mecca, the day when the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) overcame those stone-hearted people, he declared a general amnesty to .them and kept to his words in the Battle of ’Uhud

Truly speaking, if one wants to witness superior examples of manhood and those of humane affections, he should try to put the story of ’Uhud alongside that of the .Conquest of Mecca and make a comparative study of the two

It is probable that no other nations in a conquering position, has ever treated the conquered one which the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) did after the Muslims conquest of the pagans of Mecca considering the situation where retaliation and hatred were the rule of the game within the fabrics of the society and of the social order. In such a situation, hatred and hostilities were passed down from one generation to the next
.and a stop to the will to taking revenge was considered as a great defect

As a result of all this magnanimity in character, amnesty and forgiveness, such a backwardly illiterate and obstinate nation was so moved and then awakened where,
.according to the Qur’ān, groups after groups embraced Islam, the religion of Allah

(١٢٧) وَأَصْبِرْ وَمَا صَبْرُكَ إِلَّا بِاللَّهِ وَلَا تَحْزَنْ عَلَيْهِمْ وَلَا تَكُ فِي ضَيْقٍ مِّمَّا يَمْكُرُونَ

And (O' Prophet!) be you patient and your patience is not but by (the assistant of) “ .١٢٧
”Allah, nor grieve over them and do not distress yourself at what they devise

Commentary: verse ١٢٧

Such an amnesty, forgiveness, and patience will only take effect decisively when no returns are expected. That is, they are all done for Allah's sake, and, therefore, the :Qur'an adds

And (O' Prophet!) be you patient and your patience is not but by (the assistant of) “
”... Allah

Can man indeed resist when confronting all such heart-breaking scenarios, which dominate him all over, without having the Divine assistance and without benefiting from a spiritual motive while entertaining within himself all the discomfort and pain and yet not lose his patience? It is, of course, possible in case that all is done for Allah
.and with the benefit of His succour

Once all efforts in the domain of the propagation of faith and calling towards Him in connection with forgiveness and perseverance did not take effect, one should not yet feel depressed, losing patience with a far outcry. On the contrary, the process of propagation must go on patiently and in a state of calmness. Therefore, towards the :end of the holy verse, He declares

”nor grieve over them and do not distress yourself at what they devise ...“

Such a sorrow and grief are due to their lack of faith and can cause one of the following two phenomena to occur: either it makes one depressed for ever and altogether, or it may make one impatient and cry all the time. Therefore, to dissuade one from having grief and getting depressed or feeling in distress has its origin in both cases; that is, once you are calling towards Allah, you should neither be upset nor .should you feel hopeless

Despite all the foregoing qualifications, the obstinate enemy might yet not stop planning his conspiracies and might go on with his dangerous strategies. In such cases, the true strategy to be adopted is what the Qur'ān proclaims: “Do not distress .yourself at what they devise

No matter how well calculated and widespread such conspiracies might be while being dangerous, you must not let yourself down and be driven out. Do not imagine you are cornered and surrounded or entrenched, for your support is Allah, in which case, you are able to counteract and nullify all the conspiracies and undo them .altogether by provoking the forces of Faith, persistence, wisdom and insight

”Verily Allah is with those who keep from evil, and those who are good-doers “ .١٢٨

Commentary: verse ١٢٨

Allah is with those who lead a life of virtue. “Virtue” here signifies the performance of one’s obligatory rituals and the distancing one-self from all those which are prohibited by the religious laws. Nonetheless, the Qur’ānic term ‘virtue’, in all its dimensions and in its broadest sense, includes in the sense of being of virtuous even when one is confronting the opponents. This means that even against one’s enemies, one must adopt the Islamic ethics; treat with the prisoners and captives according to the rites of Islam; do justice with those who are deviants and in a polite manner; to abstain oneself from lying and falsely accusing of others. Even in wartime situations and in battlefields, one must observe the principles of wartime, instructions available in Islam and Islamic criteria. One must avoid attacking the defenseless ones; one must not engage in violating the children and disabled old people; even the four-footed animals must not be hurt, while fields of agriculture must not be destroyed; water supply must not be cut off from the enemy and, in the final analysis, virtue must be observed and principles of justice must be applied to both the friends and enemies in general. The verse says

”... ,Verily Allah is with those who keep from evil “

As the Qur’ān says in other verses, at times, one must return and show a positive reaction in exchange for an evil act, by which one can make the enemy shameful about what he has .done. This procedure may turn the most hostile of the enemies into kind friends

Generosity and kindness can serve as the best techniques for conducting a warfare campaign if achieved correctly, and the Islamic history provides plenty of examples in this connection. The conduct of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) with the pagans of Mecca after its conquest, the way he dealt with Wahshī, the murderer of Hamzah; his conduct with the prisoners of the Battle of Badr, his ways of dealing with those Jews who hurt him in all kinds of way, as well as similar treatments in the biographies of Ali (a.s.) and other religious leader reflect the methods included in the Islamic commandments with .regard to this

Interestingly, we read in Nahj-ul-Balāqah, through the famous sermon of ‘Hammām’ who was a pious, devout, and intelligent man, asking Amir-ul-Mu’mineen (a.s.) for a comprehensive decree with regard to the attributes of the devout people, the Imam confined himself to citing only this verse, saying: Lead a life of virtue, and act in a .decent way for Allah is with those who are pious and act decently

Although this interrogator was such a truth-loving that was not fully satisfied with this short answer and the Imam was necessarily required to provide a more detailed account and offered the most comprehensive speech concerning the attributes of the pious people, which exceeds a hundred qualities, one may infer from the Imam’s first .short answer that this verse reflects, in fact, all the attributes of the pious people

In conclusion, we know that the calling through wisdom, preaching, and good disputation is no easy matter, for some are being obstinate and do not accept the call, while others engage in conspiracies, and a third group get involved in the counter activities, and, to achieve their vicious goals they do not stop doing any thing short of false accusations, ridiculing, threatening, fabricating rival factions, economic embargo, wars, as well as all kinds of torture and hurt. Thus, these two verses provide a kind of comfort, compassion and guidelines which the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) had .so as not to be obstructed by any obstacles in his mission

:Last Words and Remarks on Sura An-Nahl

As we pointed out from the beginning of the Sura, what stands outstanding from among all the verses of the Sura is the explanation of the various blessings, irrespective of the material and spiritual ones; the apparent and the latent ones; and those which are individual and social. The fact that the name of the Sura is selected as .the ‘Sura of blessings’ is for this very reason

A careful study of the verses of the Sura indicates that approximately forty blessings, including the great and the small ones, as well as the spiritual and material ones, have been cited throughout the verses of this Sura. The objectives of this Sura have been: first, to provide instructions concerning lessons on monotheism and the splendor of the Creator. Secondly, to reinforce the love of the human beings with regard to the Creator of such blessings and the provocation of their sense of gratitude towards .Him

Sura Banī-'Israel, No. ١٧

(The Children of Israel)

(Revealed in Mecca)

verses in ١٢ sections ١١١

:The Content of Sura 'Isrā

Sura 'Isrā' contains ١١١ verses, and it is widely known to be a Meccan Sura. However, some are of the opinion that verses ٢٦, ٣٢, ٣٣, ٥٧, and ٥٨ of it were originally revealed in Medina.

This Sura has been named as 'Subhān' for its first word; it has also been named Sura 'Isrā' for the sake of referring to the adventure of ascension of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), and has also been named 'Sura Banī 'Isrā'īl' for recounting of the story of Banī-Israel.

As in the case of other 'Meccan Suras', this Sura deals with such issues as 'monotheism' 'resurrection' beneficial pieces of advice, and struggle against all sorts of paganism, injustice and deviation, traditions and rules, whether individual and social in historical perspective, the story of Adam and 'Iblīs, the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) and his position in Mecca. The main point in question in this Holy Sura is the 'Ascension of the Messenger (p.b.u.h.

The Sura starts with 'Glorification of Allah' and ends up with Praising and worshipping Him.

:The Virtues of the Recitation of the Sura

There are numerous rewards mentioned in various Islamic quotations for those who recite or read this Sura among which one may name the quotation from Imam Sādiq (a.s.) who said: “Whoever reads Sura Banī Israel on each night preceding Fridays will unequivocally grasp the presence of Haḍrat-i-Qā’im (a.s.), before his death and will be included among his companions”.

We have reiterated over and over again that such rewards and gains are not to be attained merely just by reading; on the contrary, they will be brought about when the recitation is coupled with and backed up by meditation, reflection and, consequently, by the obtaining of clues for practical purposes ul-'Aqsā the precincts of which We have blessed that We show him (some) of Our ”.signs. Verily, He is All-Hearing, All-Seeing

Commentary: verse 1

The ascension of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to Heavens is the most sacred of the journeys
.throughout history

The first verse of this Sura discusses the issue of the journey by night of the Prophet
-(p.b.u.h.) from Masjid-ul

Haram (The Sacred Mosque) to Masjid-ul-'Aqṣā (Bayt-ul-Muqaddas) which has been a precursor for /mi'rāj/, the most sacred trip. This trip took place within one night and for a short time. Such a trip could have never been in the least possible given the conditions of the time and through ordinary means which were available in those days, in which case, the miraculous and extraordinary nature of it was obvious. At first, the verse says Glory be to Him Who took his servant by night from Masjid-ul-Harām to Masjid- “

”... ul-'Aqṣā the precincts of which We have blessed

By using the phrase /masjidul'aqṣā/ here meant Bayt-ul-Muqaddas which is the farthest Mosque, for, at that time, no other mosque existed farther than that. We had blessed its entire surroundings with material, spiritual, worldly, and religious blessings. For, that was the place of worship of the highly-esteemed prophets as well as the place for the descending of the revelation which was a sacred point, with flowing streams surrounded by fully fruit-bearing trees

Nonetheless, it is with deepest regret that as a result of the crimes of Israel and America as well as the entire over-oppressive enemies of Islam and their betraying mercenaries, demolitions have been carried out around that sacred place and deadly fire-arms cause thousands of crimes everyday there

Their beautiful landscapes, which are natural, are turned into semi-burned ruins and heaps of corpses of oppressed human beings, who are killed in cold blood, are to be found there everywhere

The Holy Qur'ān implies that Allah's objective in this extraordinary night trip was to expose to him His signs of power, and wonders of creation. His sight-seeing tour from Mecca to Masjid-ul-'Aqṣā during a single night, as well as his elevation to the skies and his witnessing of the prophets and, finally, his eventual access to the Bayt-ul-Ma‘mūr, and Sidrat-ul-Muntahā, as well as a host of other things are all the signs of Allah’s Omnipotence

The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) had formerly acquired full knowledge of Allah’s magnitude, yet this tour of the skies tended to widen the scope of his observation as to those explicit signs which, in turn, enabled him further to guide human beings. The verse says

”... .that We show him (some) of Our signs ...“

Definitely, it is widely known in the Islamic circle of scholars that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), while in Mecca, was taken by the power of Allah on a night from Masjid-ul-Harām to Masjid-ul-’Aqṣā in Bayt-ul-Muqaddas from where he ascended to the skies to note the signs of the magnitude of Allah in the wide open spaces, and then he returned to Mecca on the same night. It is also widely believed among the Muslim scholars that he performed such a sightseeing tour of the earth and the skies with both body and soul coupled with each other

We shall, Allah willing, discuss further the issue of “Mi‘rāj” following our discussion of Sura An-Najm

:In the end of the verse, the Qur’ān says

”.Verily, He is All-Hearing, All-Seeing ...“

Allusion is here made to the fact that if Allah selected His prophet for such a glorification, it was not undue, for his words and deeds were so decent and deserving that such a mission was well in line with his aptitude. The Almighty had thus seen and heard him and approved him for such an assignment

(٢) وَعَاتَيْنَا مُوسَى الْكِتَابَ وَجَعَلْنَاهُ هُدًى لِّبَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ إِلَّا تَتَّخِذُوا مِن دُونِي وَكَيْلًا

And We gave Moses the Book, and made him a Guide for the Children of Israel, “ .٢
”.(saying:) ‘Do not take other than Me a guardian

Commentary: verse ٢

As the first verse of this Sura dealt with the grandeur of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), and as such issues were rejected mainly by pagans and dissidents basing their argument on the subject that how might it be possible for a prophet to be selected from among us with so many distinctions, thus the Qur’ān alludes here to the call of Moses (a.s.) and his Divine Book so as to make it clear that such a prophetic mission is not new and entirely a novelty. Moreover, such an obstinate type of opposition and biased dissidence of the pagans against the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) had not been unprecedented throughout history in general and throughout the history of The Children of Israel in particular. The verse declares

”... ,And We gave Moses the Book, and made him a Guide for the Children of Israel “

It is unequivocal that the objective of naming of the ‘Book’ in this verse is the ‘Torah’ .which Allah provided Moses (a.s.) for the guidance of the Children of Israel

Afterwards, the Qur’ān refers to the main objective of the mission of the prophets, :including Musa, to whom He has commanded

”.(saying:) ‘Do not take other than Me a guardian) ...“

This issue raises one of the main branches of monotheism, that is, 'practical monotheism' which in turn indicates to 'monotheism in ideology'. He, who considers the 'Prime Cause' of the entire world of existence to be only Allah, will necessarily not rely on anyone else. And those who rely on and count on others do so because of their .weakness in their monotheistic ideology

The supreme outcome of the illumination by celestial Books is the enlightenment of the light of monotheism which they bring about in people's hearts and will .consequently lead to one's cutting off of all, and his eventual reliance on Him

”.Verily, he was a grateful servant

Commentary: verse ٣

Noah (a.s.) has been called as the ‘second father’ of man, for, in the Storm of Noah, all people were drowned except those who were in the ship alongside Noah. It is for this reason that the meaning of the first phrase of the verse: “(O’ you!) The offspring of those whom We embarked” is identical with the phrase ‘O’ Children of Adam!’.(١) The
:verse says

O’ you!) the offspring of those whom We embarked along with Noah (on the Ark).) “
”.Verily, he was a grateful servant

Noah (a.s.) lived longer than all of the prophets and remained always the target of attack and teasing of the pagans, unbelievers, and the obstinate. Nevertheless, he was a grateful servant of Allah and thus he enjoyed a differential treatment, to whom Allah conveys His particular greetings, by saying: “Peace be on Noah in (all) the (Worlds!” (Sura As-Sāffāt, No. ٣٧, verse ٧٩

And We declared unto the Children of Israel in the Book (the Torah, saying): “ .٤ “Certainly you will make mischief on the earth twice, and certainly you will seek self-
”.’superiority with great arrogance

Commentary: verse ٤

Alluding to parts of the adventurous history of the Children of Israel in this verse, He
:says

And We declared unto the Children of Israel in the Book (the Torah, saying): “ “Certainly you will make mischief on the earth twice, and certainly you will seek self-
”.’superiority with great arrogance

The Qur’ānic word, /’al ’arḍ/ (the land), symmetrical to the subsequent verse, is meant
.the Holy land of Palestine where Masjid-ul-’Aqsā is located

The issue of ‘making mischief on the earth twice’ might probably be related to the two occasions of the Children of Israel: Once to the martyrdom of Sho’aia and the opposition of Armia, and the second occasion is concerned with the murder of .Zakaryyā and Yahyā

There are, of course, other possibilities also mentioned in connection with the subject
.which will be referred to in the discussions following the ensuing verses

Paradise will belong to those who abstain from arrogance, and distance themselves from every kind of insolence; it does not pertain to the ones who regard themselves as superior to others. (Sura Al-Qaṣaṣ, No. ٢٨, verse ٨٣ says: “That is the abode of the
”... Hereafter

(٥) فَإِذَا جَاءَ وَعْدُ أُولَاهُمَا بَعَثْنَا عَلَيْكُمْ عِبَادًا لَنَا أُولَىٰ بَأْسٍ شَدِيدٍ فَجَاسُوا خِلَالَ الدِّيَارِ وَكَانَ وَعْدًا مَّفْعُولًا

So when the promise for the first of the two came to pass, We raised against you “ ٥. some of powerful servants of Ours, given to terrible warfare, so it was they searched “inside the houses thoroughly; and a promise to be fulfilled

Commentary: verse ٥

The extermination of the unruly oppressors is one of Allah’s ways of treatment. The :Qur’ān says

So when the promise for the first of the two came to pass, We raised against you “ “... ,some of powerful servants of Ours

Certainly, there is always somebody who has the upper hand. The Children of Israel initiated a rebellion; the Almighty made other groups dominate them who were .superior to them

To provide power to put down the unruly ones and the rebellions, as well as the withdrawal of security from them, is a decent performance even if a house-to-house search might be required. Thus, all the Divine prophecies will definitely be :accomplished fully. The verse says given to terrible warfare, so it was they searched inside the houses thoroughly; ... “ “.and a promise to be fulfilled

Therefore, dealing in the previous noble verse with these two great vices and the ensuing happenings which are the consequences of them as the Divine chastisement, He proclaims: When the occasion for the first promise arrives and you engage in corruption, bloodshed, tyranny and crime, We shall send over to you a powerful group, combatant, and belligerent so as to pound

.you, hence, punishing you for your behaviour

This belligerent people invade you in such a manner that for finding even a single one of you, they undertake a house-to-house search mission. And this promise is a .decisive one which would be unavoidable and not to be broken

Then We gave you back the turn to prevail against them, and We assisted you with “ ٦ .

Commentary: verse ٦

Providing sinful people with a respite and re-examination through procurement of their capital and children is one of Allah’s ways of treatment. Allah’s grace will cover both those sinners who are repentant, and the sinful people who have already been punished. Therefore, Allah’s favours will be forthcoming once again and He will enable :you to dominate that invading nation. The verse says

Then We gave you back the turn to prevail “

If you do good, you do it for your own selves; and if you commit evil, it is (in like “ .v manner) for your own selves. Hence, when the promise of the second came to pass, (We permitted the mighty fighters) to disfigure your (military) faces, and that they may enter the Mosque as they entered it the first time, and to destroy extensively ”.whatever they conquered

Commentary: verse ٧

Such Divine favours will cover you. Maybe, you will once discover your own selves and try to reform yourselves, thus distancing yourselves from all evil acts, you may turn to good ones, for when one does good, he has done it to his own self and if he commits :evil, it will eventually turn to him, too. The verse says

If you do good, you do it for your own selves; and if you commit evil, it is (in like “ ”... .manner) for your own selves

This is a general and everlasting rule that all good and evil will eventually return to one’s own self. However, it is with deep regret that neither that punishment of Allah may awaken you, nor this favour and renewed Divine grace, for you turn to rebellion once again, following the path of tyranny, oppression and violation, inciting a grave .corruption on the earth and exceeding the limits in arrogance and self superiority

Then, there comes the second Divine promise, and when it arrives, some warriors and combatants overcome you in such a way that the pains and calamities inflicted upon you by them make you grieve to the extent that signs of sorrow and despair appear on your faces. The verse says

Hence, when the promise of the second came to pass, (We permitted the mighty ...“
”... ,fighters) to disfigure your (military) faces

They even capture your great temple of Bayt-ul-Muqaddas (Jerusalem), then they enter Masjid-ul-’Aqsā in much the same way that they did in the first instance. The
:verse says

”... ,and that they may enter the Mosque as they entered it the first time ...“

They do not even suffice to this matter and they devastate whatever they dominate
:and capture. The verse continues saying

”.and to destroy extensively whatever they conquered ...“

In the end, whatever is of importance in historical events, which leads to development, can be their didactic lessons derived from them, and not the details of the incidents. The adventures of the wandering of the oppressive Jews, which were brought about by the godly believing people, and which have been dealt with in the last two verses, are meant to demonstrate the fact that oppression and paganism will not be left unanswered. Since this very general and educative fact has been targeted, therefore, the verse has not dealt with the issues of the details of the entanglement, number, and weaponry. The case is just in the same way that in the biography of Haḍrat-i-Yusuf (a.s.), details of the story and even the name of Zulaykhā has not been even mentioned because of the educational nature of the objectives and instructions
.with regard to the matters of chastity

In the meantime, some commentaries have pointed out the corruption of the Jews and their eradication on two occasions by individuals in distant past or recent past, and Masjid-ul-Aqsa has born witness to many bitter memories during several thousand years, yet, according to some verses and Islamic quotations, perhaps we must be expecting further violations and oppressions from the side of the Israelis and their eventual extermination by the righteous servants of Allah. As it is understood from the apparent of verses ۵ and ۶, there has not come yet such a widespread corruption on the earth to be brought about by the Children of Israel and such an important devastation and extermination has not been fulfilled by men of Allah

Nowadays, we are witnessing, on the one hand, the widespread violation by Israel and its plot for the conquest of the lands from the Nile to the Euphrates as well as the expulsion of the Muslims from their homeland, the bringing of espionage networks into existence in the world, taking over of the propaganda machinery, assembling of manpower from the east and the west, and other measures which are conducive to corruption. On the other hand, we are also watching the emergence of the Islamic Revolution and the appearance of the godly sincere youths in Palestine who invade Israel and try to recapture and repossess Masjid-ul-'Aqsā, in which case, maybe the noble verse alludes to these aspects. Only Allah is the Most Aware

Incidentally, according to the numerous Islamic quotations, which are recorded under this verse in various commentaries, some consider the occurrence of the extermination of the violating Jews by the faithful revolutionaries before the uprising of Haḍrat-i-Mahdī (a.s.), those who take up their swords (arms) and who go forth as far as their martyrdom

They will in turn pave the way for the universal government of Haḍrat-e-Mahdī (a.j.). Some regard this occurrence to take place within the period of the reappearance of Imam-i-Zamān, in which case the invading Jews will be exterminated

Concluding this statement, we must keep in mind that the Mosques have constantly been the bases for the force of the religions and as a symbol of power. Hence, liberating the mosques from the domination of pagans has constantly been the duty of the believers. To combat the violating Jews, men of Allah will enter Bayt-ul-Muqaddas in the same way that the Muslims did in entering Masjid-ul-Harām at the time of the conquest of Mecca

It may be that your Lord will have mercy on you, but if you revert (to your sins), We “ shall (also) revert (to Our punishment), and We have made Hell a prison for the ”.unbelievers

Commentary: verse ٨

The Arabic term /ḥaṣīr/ is derived from the term /ḥaṣr/ which signifies being entrenched and surrounded in an awful place. Carpets made out of straws are called .by this name /ḥaṣīr/ as they are interwoven in like manner

It is not permissible for anyone to be desperate from the grace of Allah and to lose .hope, as Allah has also left the way of return open even for those who are corrupt

Incidentally, in methods of guidance, we first must start everything with a compassionate tone of voice. Afterwards, we should employ other means as threats or warnings, similar to the noble verse which, at first, begins with “mercy on you,” and then it uses warning and threat in the case of corruption and concludes the statement, when it implies that the gates for repentance and return to Him are not closed; hopefully, your Lord will have mercy on you; but in the case of returning to sin, :His punishment is intensive for what you do. The verse says

It may be that your Lord will have mercy on you, but if you revert (to your sins), We “ shall (also) revert (to Our punishment), and We have made Hell a prison for the ”.unbelievers

(٩) إِنَّ هَذَا الْقُرْآنَ يَهْدِي لِلَّتِي هِيَ أَقْوَمٌ وَيُشِيرُ إِلَى الْمُؤْمِنِينَ الَّذِينَ يَعْمَلُونَ الصَّالِحَاتِ إِنَّ لَهُمْ أَجْرًا كَبِيرًا

Verily, this Qur'ān guides to that which is the most upright, and gives good tidings “ .٩
”to the believers who do righteous deeds that they shall have a great reward

Commentary: verse ٩

.The Holy Qur'ān is the only Book which contains constant and eternal laws

In the previous noble verses our discussion was about the Children of Israel and their celestial Book, the Torah, as well as their deviation from this Divine program and their various punishments with respect to the matter. Parts of this discussion have been transferred to the ‘Glorious Qur'ān’ which is the Holy Book of the Muslims, the last :ring in the chain of the circle of the celestial Books. It says

”... ,Verily, this Qur'ān guides to that which is the most upright “

That is, the Qur'ān leads the people to the most upright, to the purest and the most sustainable of the ways. The purest and the most direct way in here applies to the ideas it presents. It implies the fact that it has achieved coherence between the overt and the hidden, the idea and practice, and thinking and scheduling, all of which .’eventually invites and leads one to ‘Allah

Once reference is made to the point meaning, ‘the purest and the most direct’, it implies that from the point of view of social, economic, and political organization, which is governing human societies, it offers the purest and the most direct codes of humane conduct with respect to these and, eventually, it encompasses administrative system of government which establishes justice while pounding on the tyrants and the oppressors

Then, as the stands taken by people in face of this direct Divine program are different, it refers to two distinguished positions and their consequences, implying that this Qur'ān bears good tidings for those believers who perform good deeds, which constitute great rewards for them. The verse continues saying and gives good tidings to the believers who do righteous deeds that they shall ... “

” .have a great reward

And that (as for) those who do not believe in the Hereafter, We have prepared for “ ١٠ .
”them a painful chastisement

Commentary: verse ١٠

The Divine punishment all depends on our own deeds, and, hence, that kind of corruption which is not followed by repenting, will lead to disbelief. Therefore, the Qur’ān in this verse indicates that those who do not believe in the Hereafter and its great court of justice, and thus may not engage in performing decent and righteous acts, it unveils the fact that a painful chastisement has been prepared for them. The
:verse says

And that (as for) those who do not believe in the Hereafter, We have prepared for “
”them a painful chastisement

****

Point

Man hastens for evil as he should hasten for good – Night and Day caused for counting time and age and also for rest and work – Everyone’s actions cling to himself – Everyone gets guided aright and goes astray for or against his own self – No nation is punished with an Apostle already having been raised among them – The reward in the Hereafter is greater and more excellent

(١١) وَيَدْعُ الْإِنْسَانُ بِالشَّرِّ دُعَاءَهُ بِالْخَيْرِ وَكَانَ الْإِنْسَانُ عَجُولًا

١١. “And man prays for evil as he prays for the good; and man is ever hasty “

Commentary: verse ١١

There are frequent references made to the haste by man and his aspiration for the evil in the Qur’ān. The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is addressed in a verse: “And they ask you to hasten on the evil (the Chastisement) before the good ...”<sup>(١)</sup> The verse signifies that: They expect quick punishment to be administered from him. In another verse, quoting the unbelievers, it says: “... then rain down upon us stones from the sky, or bring us a painful punishment.”<sup>(٢)</sup> This kind of ‘haste’ has its origin in ignorance, hostility, and fanaticism

At any rate, we find in this noble verse and in line with the previous discussions that one of the main causes of disbelief is

---

Sura Ar-Ra’d, No. ١٣, verse ٦ – ١

Sura Al-’Anfāl, No. ٦, verse ٣٢ – ٢ lack of adequate study into the matters, and it is so because man is instinctively hasty.

:Alluding to the matter, it declares

”And man prays for evil as he prays for the good; and man is ever hasty “

In fact, the man’s haste has its origin in his aspiration for acquiring greater amounts of benefits, and his haste for the acquisition of the ‘good’ and the ‘benefits’ causes him not to take into consideration the entire perspective and dimensions of the issues. It so happens that such haste does not lead him to the point where he would be able to differentiate what is truly ‘good’ and ‘beneficial’ for him. On the other hand, his passions and low desires will turn and expose differently the true face of reality in his eyes, therefore, he paves the way to aspire and follow what is evil

It is in this case that man aspires for the evil much in the same way that he aspires for the good, and it is owing to his misconception about what is good and what is evil. It also applies in the same manner that one struggles to obtain what is evil and to follow what is evil as if he struggles to attain what is good. It is a foregone conclusion that such a great calamity exists for humankind and it is an amazing obstacle which obstructs the path of happiness which in turn results in regret and in damages

In an Islamic tradition quoted from the Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.), he says: “Haste brings forth the people’s destruction; if the people did their jobs with deliberation, no one would annihilate

Certainly, in Islamic quotations, we have a chapter on the issue of ‘speed’ and ‘agility’ with respect to the good deeds, among which one can cite a tradition by the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) saying: “Allah admires that good act which is hastened to be performed

At any rate, ‘haste’ is a demising attribute when one might engage in his study and verification of the dimension of a certain thing. Nevertheless, speedy action is required in case the necessary process of decision-making has been achieved, and any sort of delays in that case is detrimental. Therefore, it is for this reason that we read in Islamic quotations: "Speed up in doing decent jobs." That is, once it is certain and proven that a task is good to be performed, there is no room left for any delays

Generally speaking, haste is inherent in human nature, but one must first recognize where to use it properly

Commentary: verse ١٢

The underlying reason behind why the term night has usually preceded the term ‘day’ in the Qur’ān might be due to the fact that the ‘darkness’ of the earth emanates from itself while its ‘light’ has its origin in the sun

The revolving movement of the earth around itself and the emergence of the day and the night and their alterations go according to the Divine providence and will, and they are not circumstantial or accidental. The verse says

And We have appointed the night and the day two signs (of Our power); then We “ took away the sign of the night (the moon light), and We made the sign of the day “... sight-giving that you may seek grace from your Lord

Paving the ground for the acquisition of the means of sustenance is the function of the Divine providence. However, despite the fact that His grace and favor are both in action, we must also go on with our struggle, never to take pride in our

”...cleverness or audacity. “... you may seek grace from your Lord

The night and the day form a natural calendar which is perennial, universal, easy to use, understandable, means of establishing order, and planning, knowing the number :of years and keeping account of the affairs. The holy verse continues saying

”... and that you may know the number of the years and the reckoning ...“

Incidentally, the measures for the organization of the system of creation are not .unintended or without due causes. They are all having man as their main axis

In the hierarchy of existence, everything is well organized, based on universal laws, and distinctly separated so as to avoid any collision, interference, and collapse. The :verse, in this regard, says

”.and We have explained everything very distinctly ...“

Commentary: verse ١٣

The Arabic term /ṭā'ir/, mentioned in this holy verse, alludes metaphorically to man's action, for man's actions are like birds which fly in order to reach man himself.

.Everybody's record of action, whether good or bad, will be hung up around his neck

We have frequent references made in the Qur'ān to man's record of action and there are various points dealt with in different verses, among which are the followings

:Man's record of action is universal. The above verse says (١

"... ;And every man's record of action have We fastened to his neck "

The culprits are intimidated by it. "... and you see the guilty fearful at what is in it, ..." (٣ ((٢

Man himself is in a position to arbitrate about his own course of action. "Read your (٤

Accounts are kept for all and there are no exceptions. And, finally, all human beings .will attend in the gathering place of Resurrection with their record of actions

All people’s actions are evident for Allah; the hanging up of the record of one’s actions .upon the neck is destined for his own understanding

The registration of one’s record of actions is not a tangible process for man in this .world, yet everything will be made transparent and clear for him in the Hereafter

Sura Al-Haqqah, No. ۶۹, verses ۱۹ and ۲۵ – ۱

It will be said to him): ‘Read your book; your own self suffices today as a ) “ ١٤ .
”.’reckoner against you

Commentary: verse ١٤

Man will be told to read his own book of records on the Day of the Hereafter. Those people, who did not know how to read in this world, will be enabled to read then and :there. The verse says

It will be said to him): ‘Read your book; your own self suffices today as a reckoner ) “
”.’against you

In a tradition, Imam Sādiq (a.s.) is quoted as saying: “On that day, will one remember all of what he has done and is registered in his record. It seems as if he has done all those in just the same moment. Therefore, the culprits, voice is being heard loud and clear as to what type of letter of record it is in which no minor offences are missed just .in the same way that the major ones are not missed

Fakhre-Rāzī is of the opinion that the objective by ‘the book of record’ is here the ‘spiritual scroll’ on which man’s acts leave an impact, and by ‘reading’ is here meant the comprehension and understanding of it(١). In Tafsīr Al-Mizān, ‘book’ has been .’commented upon as ‘the acts in themselves

In numerous quotations, man is recommended that before the Resurrection he had better see to his own accounts and records. For example: “Reckon your own account (٢) before you will be reckoned.”(٢)

Such calculations pave the ground for man's awakening, and the lack of them are often signs of his own negligence. An Islamic tradition indicates that he who keeps .record of his own deeds in this world will be at ease with his records in the Hereafter

Therefore, one must read his own record of actions in this world in order to reform, amend, wipe out his weaknesses or compensate for them, repent and add up to his \(scroll of decent acts.\)

(١٥) مَنِ اهْتَدَىٰ فَإِنَّمَا يَهْتَدِي لِنَفْسِهِ وَمَنْ ضَلَّ فَإِنَّمَا يَضِلُّ عَلَيْهَا وَلَا تَزِرُ وَازِرَةٌ وِزْرَ أُخْرَىٰ وَمَا كُنَّا مُعَذِّبِينَ حَتَّىٰ نَبْعَثَ رَسُولًا

Whoever gets guided aright, has only got guided aright to his own gain, and “ ١٥ . whoever goes astray, it is only to his own loss; and no one laden bears the burden of another, nor do We punish (anyone) until We raise a messenger

Commentary: verse ١٥

Keeping the contents of verses ٢٥ of Al-An‘ām, ١٣ of Al-‘Ankabūt, as well as Islamic quotations under consideration, one may conclude that the main pioneers of paganism and seduction must shoulder the burden of the mounting guilt of their followers as well as that of their own without decreasing anything from the guilt of the followers, for they have provided their means of seduction

Man is free to select his own way. Accepting guidance, of course, is to his own advantage, while infidelity and rejection are to his own detriment. They are of no benefits or losses to Allah

At any rate, this noble verse provides four fundamental and principal commandments :in connection with Reckoning and compensations for one’s performances

At first, it implies that he who is led straight on, has been guided to his own (١) advantage and the consequences of his actions will benefit his own self solely

”... ,Whoever gets guided aright, has only got guided aright to his own gain “

He who is misled, is seduced to his own detriment, and will eventually suffer the (۲ :consequences of his own actions. The verse continues saying

”... ;and whoever goes astray, it is only to his own loss ...“

And no one will ever shoulder the burden of the guilt of someone else and no one (۳ will be held responsible for the crime or the offences which are committed by another :person. The verse says

”... ,and no one laden bears the burden of another ...“

Certainly, this general rule, which states that no one will shoulder the burden of the guilt of someone else, has got no discrepancy with the verse in Sura An-Nahl which indicates that the seducers will also have to bear the burden of the responsibility of those whom they have misled,\(۱\) for their act of seduction of others will frame them as the performers of those evil acts and, in fact, it is their own sins which they are .shouldering

The fourth commandment is eventually stated that Allah shall not punish any (۴ person or any nation unless He has sent a prophet to them so as to explain to them :their duties in detail and to complete the argument. The verse says

”.nor do We punish (anyone) until We raise a messenger ...“

And once We determine to exterminate a town, We command its luxurious people “ ١٦ (to obey Us), but they transgress therein, thus the word proves true against it, then ”.We destroy it with utter destruction

Commentary: verse ١٦

The Qur’ānic sentence: /’amranā mutrafihā/ signifies that Allah commands the great men of the nation to obey orders, for We must keep in mind the fact that the Almighty will never issue orders as for the commitment of sins and offences. On the contrary, He always issues orders for the establishment of justice and benevolent acts. Allah’s way of extermination consists of issuing orders for obedience. The affluent, who lack conscience, will oppose and the common people also follow them. It is then that the Divine wrath will be decisively actualized and the Divine chastisement and furry will be :incumbent. The verse says

And once We determine to exterminate a town, We command its luxurious people “ (to obey Us), but they transgress therein, thus the word proves true against it, then ”.We destroy it with utter destruction

The will to execute by the All-Knowing Allah is based upon the sinful grounds which we provide and the negative attributes which we exhibit, otherwise the compassionate Allah will never seek to exterminate any nation unduely. According to a statement issued by Imam Riḍā (a.s.), the (Divine Will in this verse is conditional upon our sin. (Tafsīr-i-Kanz-ud-Daqayiq

:Explanations

One of the manners by which the Divine chastisement and Wrath is achieved is .۱
.‘affluence’ and being immersed in Allah’s blessings

The existence of a luxurious class in every society paves the ground for the Divine .۲
.Wrath

The moral and social decadence of every society is initiated by and is mainly on the .۳
.hands of that society’s luxurious chiefs

The affluent who are indifferent stand up to the call of the prophets before all .۴
.others, for corruption usually has its origins in affluence

Let us take the Divine threats seriously and reform us, for the executive force .۵ behind the Divine threats has its roots in our own performances, and the Divine outrage and chastisement are utterly severe. “... then we destroy it with utter

(١٧) وَكَمْ أَهْلَكْنَا مِنَ الْقُرُونِ مِنْ بَعْدِ نُوحٍ وَكَفَىٰ بِرَبِّكَ بِذُنُوبِ عِبَادِهِ خَبِيرًا بَصِيرًا

And what a great number (of people) We did exterminate after Noah! And your “ ١٧ .
”Lord is sufficient as Knowing and Seeing with regard to the sins of His servants

Commentary: verse ١٧

This noble verse, which recounts the extermination of a generation of mankind and the beginning of a new world order in human life, depicts the fact that the era of Noah (a.s.) has been recorded as a turning point in the history of mankind. The life preceding Noah (a.s.) had been an extremely simple life in nature with a very limited population and was lacking in an adventurous type of history. Moreover, the continuity of the generation of human kind had been made possible with the few .(believers who were inside the ship with Noah (a.s

The verse, while warning the ignorant and the negligent and while being instructive for the people, provides a source of comfort for the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), exclaiming that .if the pagans do not stop hurting and teasing him, they will face the Divine Wrath

After Noah’s people, the nations of ‘Ād, Thamūd, Lūt, as well as the companions of Madyan, Pharaoh, Hāmān, Karun, and the companions of Phīl also were entangled :with the Divine Wrath. The verse says

”... !And what a great number (of people) We did exterminate after Noah “

The nations who throughout history were entangled with the Divine Wrath and fury are numerous, and the Divine Wrath is not exclusive to the Day of Judgment only. It also may take place in this world as well

This noble verse presents examples of the above issues as a general principle, stating that: What a numerous groups of people who lived after Noah who, according to this way of treatment, were annihilated by Allah

Then, The Qur'ān adds that such is not the case that oppressions and tyranny, or sinfulness of an individual or a group remain hidden from the sharp sight of Allah. This much is adequate that Allah is well aware of the sins of His servants and He has got careful eyes on them. The verse says

And your Lord is sufficient as Knowing and Seeing with regard to the sins of His ... “
”servants

The fact that the era succeeding Noah has been stressed here, might probably be for the sake that man's life before Noah had been very simple and so many differences were usually non-existent, in particular the division of the society into the 'affluent' and the 'oppressed' and, therefore, the people in those societies were hardly entangled with the Divine punishment

Whoever desires this (transient worldly) life, We hasten for him therein what We “ .١٨ please for whomever We desire; then We appoint Hell for him into which he will enter
”.disgraced, rejected

Commentary: verse ١٨

As the previous holy verses dealt with the opposition by the still-necked dissidents in face of the Divine orders and their later extermination, this verse alludes to the true causes of such a disobedience and unruliness which is brought about by the love of :the world, saying

Whoever desires this (transient worldly) life, We hasten for him therein what We “ please for whomever
”... ;We desire

It is worthy to note that the Qur’ān does not say that he, who seeks after the world, will obtain what he wishes. But, it sets two conditions for it: the first refers to that He bestows upon him only part of what he wants, or, in other words, he reaches the very .extent to which We will

The second one refers to the matter that all individuals do not obtain access to this much either. On the contrary, only some of them will be provided with access to part of the worldly goods; those people whom We deem right: “... for whomever We ”... ;desire

Therefore, neither do all worldly lovers attain to their wishes, nor those who have
.their aspirations fulfilled will reach the whole of what they desire completely

Our daily life also explicitly unveils the truth regarding this matter. How large is the number of those people who seek after wealth day and night successively and reach nowhere, obtaining very little for their tremendous effort, and what a large number of people exist there who have great ambitions in this world and who attain a limited number of their wishes

Here is an important point of view revealing itself in that, this group, while having been designated to burn in Hell-Fire, are also qualified with two attributes of 'disgraced' and 'rejected' which being applied in their case, each of which is separately being stressed. The verse continues saying

”then We appoint Hell for him into which he will enter disgraced, rejected ...“

In fact, the Hell-Fire will be their physical punishment designated, and being blamed and distanced are their spiritual punishment which are allocated for them, for one must keep in mind that Resurrection is both 'physical' as well as 'spiritual' and its reward and punishment also encompass both

(١٩) وَمَنْ أَرَادَ الْآخِرَةَ وَسَعَىٰ لَهَا سَعْيَهَا وَهُوَ مُؤْمِنٌ فَأُولَٰئِكَ كَانَ سَعْيُهُمْ مَشْكُورًا

And whoever desires the Hereafter and strives for it as he ought to strive, and he “ .١٩
”is a believer, (as for) these, their striving shall be thanked

Commentary: verse ١٩

He who desires for the good of Hereafter and the blessing of Paradise, and struggles along these lines; that is, he who obeys Allah (s.w.t.) and distances himself from the sins while believing in monotheism and the prophetic mission of the prophets, his :struggle will be acknowledged and his worship will be acceptable. The verse says

And whoever desires the Hereafter and strives for it as he ought to strive, and he is a “
”.believer, (as for) these, their striving shall be thanked

:Therefore, in order to achieve eternal happiness, there are three conditions pending

Man’s will, that is, the kind of will which relates to the eternal life, and does not (١) appertain to the passing whims, pleasures, blessings and purely material gains and .goals

Such a ‘will’ must not be in a weak form and lack in strength in the spheres of (٢) thinking and spirit. Contrarily, it must call on all the particles of human existence and .set them in motion and employ all his means and struggles to this end

All of these must be coupled with faith; that kind of faith which is constant and (٣) steady, for one’s decision and his struggle will yield results only when they have got their roots in correct and proper motives and those kinds of motives can not be .anything other than faith to Allah

(٢٠) كَلَّا نُنمِّدُ هَهُؤُلَاءِ وَهَهُؤُلَاءِ مِنْ عَطَاءِ رَبِّكَ وَمَا كَانَ عَطَاءُ رَبِّكَ مَحْظُورًا

All We succour, these and those, from the bounty of your Lord; and the bounty of “ .٢٠
”.(your Lord is not closed (to anyone

Commentary: verse ٢٠

Allah has created all men free and, by placing at their disposal all the means, He has put them to the test so that their way of acting and choice becomes evident, in a manner that those who deal with Allah are parted from the rest. It is just like “the organization of water and electricity, which makes these two blessings available to all .houses so that the individuals, by their own choice, use them in a good or a bad way

Therefore, it is Allah’s way of treatment to make all the blessings and helps available to all so that every body can exhibit his positive and negative attributes. The verse
:says

All We succour, these and those, from the bounty of “

”... ;your Lord

Certainly, having faith in Allah and seeking the Hereafter have not any discrepancy
.with enjoying the material means

Incidentally, Allah’s favours cover us and are encompassing us owing to His Lordship
:and His Own benevolence; otherwise, He does not owe us anything. The verse says

”.(and the bounty of your Lord is not closed (to anyone ...“

****

(٢١) انظُرْ كَيْفَ فَضَّلْنَا بَعْضَهُمْ عَلَى بَعْضٍ وَلَلْآخِرَةُ أَكْبَرُ دَرَجَاتٍ وَأَكْبَرُ تَفْضِيلًا

Behold how We have preferred some of them over others; and, definitely, the “ ٢١ .
”.Hereafter is greater in ranks and greater in excellence

Commentary: verse ٢١

The superiority of individuals over one another consists of two types: At times, man is endowed over his equals in his aptitude, interest, thinking, family conditions, geographical conditions etc, in which case all are Allah’s grace and are for one’s testing and are coupled with responsibilities. This verse alludes to these kinds of superiorities. At other times, such superiorities have their bases in oppression, exploitation and in colonization, which must be considered separately

The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “The hierarchy of Paradise is accorded to each individuals according to the reasoning and power of wisdom of the dwellers of Paradise.” (Tafsīr– (i–Nūr–uth–Thaqalayn

Therefore, the Qur’ān recounts this very basic principle in this verse. As differences in struggles in this world result in differential reaping of the results, this rule also applies in all the transactions in the Hereafter as well. The only difference is that this world is limited and its differences also are confined, whereas the Hereafter is unlimited and its variations also are unlimited. The verse says

”... ;Behold how We have preferred some of them over others “

Note as to how, We made some excel others because of the differences in their struggle: however, the hierarchical order of the here-after excels others and is far more precious. The verse continues saying

”and, definitely, the Hereafter is greater in ranks and greater in excellence ...“

?Are world and Hereafter contrary to each other

In numerous verses, there are great appraisals made for the world along with its material benefits. However, inspire of the entire importance given to the material merits and blessings, one finds numerous meanings with regard to the humiliation and demising of those blessings of the world in the Qur’ānic verses. Such dual meanings are also objectively found in Islamic quotations as well

The answer to this query can be found in the Qur’ān itself that the blessings of the material world, which are also the favours of Allah, and certainly are regarded as necessary in the system of creation, if used as a means for the spiritual development and happiness of man, they are to be appreciated as well and by all means

However, if they are used only as a goal and as an end in themselves, aloof from humane and spiritual values, they naturally lead to the man’s arrogance, negligence, unruliness, tyranny and oppression, and, hence, they are to be regarded as a curse and worthy of all kinds of condemnation

How beautifully has this been stated by Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) in that speech of his which is concise and expressive

He who looks at it with insight, (regarding it as a means of vision), it will bestow him sight; and he who regards it as an end in itself, then it will blind him.” (Nahj-ul-Balaqah, sermon ۸۲)

In fact, the difference between the blamed world and the admired world is the same thing which is understood from the Qur'ānic terms /'ilayhā/ which denotes to the 'aim' and /bihā/ which refers to the 'means

Ali (a.s.), regarding this world and the Reckoning Day, says: "Beware! Surely this world is a place from which protection cannot be sought except (while one is) in it." (Nahj-ul-Balaqah, sermon ٤٢

”Do not associate with Allah any other god, lest you will sit reproved, despised “ .٢٢

Commentary: verse ٢٢

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is being addressed in this verse, but the verse is meant
.for the public who are under the leadership of him

Man’s flourishing nature as well as his glory, rest with monotheism and his paganism and worship of any other being is degradation to him and makes him despised and .mean

Therefore, this noble verse begins with the statement of the issue of monotheism and faith, that kind of monotheism which is the core of all positive activities and good :deeds of man as well as his constructive deeds. At first, the Qur’ān says

”... ,Do not associate with Allah any other god “

It does not state do not worship any other god along with Allah, but it says: ‘Do not associate’, so as to present a wider scope of meaning; that is, neither in ideas, nor in practice, nor in prayers, desires, nor in worshipping associate any other god along
.with Allah

Then, alluding to the devastating effect of paganism, the verse implies that if you associate with Him any other god, you will be demised, despised and will be neglected
:(isolated). It says

”lest you will sit reproved, despised ...“

One can conclude from the above sentence that paganism has got three formidable
:disgraceful effects on man

.Paganism leads to, and is a source of, weakness, disability, and humiliation (١)

Paganism is the source of demise and blame, for it depicts a deviating line and (۲
.method in face of logic, rationality, and it is an obvious neglect of Allah's blessings Paganism will cause Allah to abandon the pagan to his self-made gods and stop (۲

.protecting him

Consequently, the 'neglected one' is he who has got no helpful companions and is blamed by Allah, the angels, the believers, and the awakened conscience of the .enlightened people as well as the wise men of the world

Commentary: verse ۲۳

Next to the principle of monotheism, the Qur’ān alludes to one of the most :fundamental instructions of the prophets with regard to mankind, stating that

And your Lord has commanded that you worship none but Him and (to show) “ ”... ;kindness to parents

Placing Unity, monotheism, which is the most fundamental principles of Islam, alongside with being kind and good towards one’s parents, is a further emphasis laid .on this important Islamic commandment

Later, it refers to one of the clear examples for kindness to one's parents, implying that whenever one of them or both reach old age while living with you, that is when they need your constant care, do not spare them any act of kindness and do not despise them or scorn them by insulting them the least. That is, even stop uttering the .slightest despising murmuring sound

Do not shout at them, but speak to them in a calculated kind and highly esteemed :manner. The noble verse continues saying if one of them or both of them reach old age with you, do not say to them 'fie', nor ...“

And out of compassion, lower unto them the wing of humility, and say: ‘My Lord!’ ٢٤
”Have mercy on them both as they cherished me when I was little

Commentary: verse ٢٤

In words and in deeds, try your best to be humble towards your parents. The objective in mind by the Qur’ānic term /ḥull/ is not meant to denote humility, but, it means ‘gentleness and humbleness.’ By the phrase: ‘lower unto them the wing of humility’, which is literally mentioned in the above verse, is the simile which refers to making oneself in the utmost sense of submissive gentleness towards one’s parents.

.It makes one recall a bird which opens up its wings to provide shelter for its offspring

The Almighty thus proclaims to cover your parents gently under your love and generosity by providing them with shelter and care as they provided you with shelter :and care when you were little. The verse says

”... ,And out of compassion, lower unto them the wing of humility “

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) in this regard said: That is, do not look at them except with compassion and kindness; do not raise your voice when talking to them above their voice; and do not raise your hand above theirs, and do not go before them when .walking

Therefore, pray for them and ask Allah to allocate His blessings and forgiveness to ,them before and after their death for they have brought you up as a child. This very recent one is in case that they are :both believers. The verse says

One can infer from this verse that the praying of children for their parents who are

Your Lord is well aware about what is in your selves. If you be righteous, then “ ٢٥ .
” .verily He is for the repentant forgiving

Commentary: verse ٢٥

Among the Divine powers and Divinity of the Almighty is His Omniscience, and every kind of service rendered to one’s parents, is carried out under His supervision. The :verse, in this respect, says

”... .Your Lord is well aware about what is in your selves “

If one is ignorantly having an unsuitable relationship or approach towards one’s .parents, one can call Allah’s grace to the matter by repenting of his sins

As it may sometimes happen that with regard to one’s relationship with his parents and respect for them and gentle submissiveness concerning them, there might be deviancies occurred which one might unconsciously or deliberately perform, the Qur’ān in this holy verse implies that your Lord is better aware of what is in your mind than you. For, His knowledge in all fields is intuitively direct, constant, original, eternal, everlasting and lacks all errors, while your knowledge does not possess such .characteristics

Therefore, if you, with no intention of disobeying against Allah, get involved in an erroneous behavior with regard to respect and goodness concerning your parents, and you regret it immediately, initiating compensation you will definitely be covered :by His amnesty. The verse says

”If you be righteous, then verily He is for the repentant forgiving ...“

.Quotations Concerning Respect for Parents in Islam

Islam has stressed respect for parents to the extent that one can find such respect for few other matters. As examples, some traditions are cited here in this connection

In four of the Suras of the Glorious Qur’ān, goodness towards one’s parents (١) immediately follows the subject of monotheism. Treating the matter in the same row, and equal basis with monotheism, exhibits the fact that to what extent it regards, for one’s parents is considered important in Islam

This issue is so important that both the Holy Qur’ān and Islamic quotations have (٢) explicitly recommended that even if one’s parents are pagans, respect for them is a must.

Thanking parents, in the Glorious Qur’ān, is placed on an identical basis with (٣) (thanking Allah for His blessings. (Sura Luqmān

The Qur’ān has not allowed the slightest kind of lack of respect for the parents. “... (٤) (do not say to them ‘fie’ ...” (١)

A tradition from Imam Kāzīm (a.s.) declares: “Some one called on the Prophet (٥) (p.b.u.h.) and asked him about the rights of parents. He answered: ‘One must not call them by name. (They must be addressed as: My Father...!) He should not go in front of them when walking; and should not seat himself before his parent. One must not be acting in such a way as to be blamed for his parents. He must not behave such a manner that people say: ‘Hoping that Allah does not forgive

(your father for having done such a job’.” (Usul-i-Kāfī and Tafsir-uş-Şāfī

The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has said: “Let his nose be rubbed against the ground! Let his ( nose be rubbed against the ground! Let his nose be rubbed against the ground!” Then he was asked: “Whose nose O’ Messenger of Allah?” So he answered: “The one who does not do a good job to enter the Paradise once his parents reach old age!” This quotation has been cited by Moslem in his ‘Saḥiḥ’. (Cited in Majma‘-ul-Bayān, and (Tafsīr-uş-Şāfī Abū-Sayyid-’Ansārī has said: “Once we were with the blissful Prophet. A man from (v the Banī-Salmah came and said: ‘O! Messenger of Allah! Is there any thing good that I can do for them after the death of my parents? And is there any generous act which I can do for them?’ He answered: ‘O’, Yes. You can do them good by performing the prayer rituals for them; and asking forgiveness on their behalf from Allah; and keeping to the words and to their commitments and making payments for their debts (as well as respecting their friends. (Tafsīr-i-Majma‘-ul-Bayān

In some of the quotations received, assisting and doing ‘good’ to one’s parents (Λ have been greatly recommended and doing them harm has been discarded. For instances, the reward for looking with compassion at one’s own parents has been equated with an accepted ‘Hajj’. Their consent is identical with the consent of Allah and their outrage is on an equal footing with that by Allah. Kindness and generosity towards one’s parents prolongs one’s lifetime and causes our children to be kind and generous towards us. We have it in quotations that: If you were even beaten by them, do not utter a low word; do not stare at them; do not raise up your hand against them; do not walk in front of them; do not call them by name; do not do what might lead the people to curse them or insult them; do not seat yourselves before them, assist them before being asked by them for assistance. (Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, Usul-i-Kāfī, Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, Tafsīr-uş-Şāfi Generosity and kindness to one’s parents are among the attributes of the prophets (as is explained about Haḍrat-i-‘Issā (a.s.) “And (He has made me) kind to my mother, (...)” (1) and is also said about Haḍrat-i-Yahyā (a.s.) “And kindness to his parents, ...” (2) Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) has remarked: “kindness to the parents is the greatest (1) ((and the most important) of the Divine duties.” (Mizān-ul-Hikmah, vol. 1) Imam Sādiq (a.s.) has stated: “The best of the deeds are: Prayer rituals which are (1) performed at their appropriate time; Kindness and goodness towards one’s parents, (Fighting a holy war for the sake of Allah. (Bihār, vol. ۷۴, p. ۸۵

The prophet of Allah (p.b.u.h.) has stated: “Whoever obeys Allah’s command with (1) regard to his parents, two of the gates of the Paradise will be laid wide open to Him; and if he obeys one (of them), one (of the gate-ways of the Paradise will be left open (for him).” (Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, vol. ۱۶, p. ۴۶۷

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has stated: “The person who obeys his parents and (1) his Lord, will be assigned a highly-elevated position in Paradise.” (Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, (vol. ۱۶, P. ۴۶۷

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) remarked: “He who wishes his life be prolonged (1) and his means of sustenance be made abundant, must treat his parents with kindness and

(observe the union of kindred.” (Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, vol. ۱۶, p. ۴۶۷ Imam Sādiq (a.s.) said: “A man turned up before the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and asked: (۱۵ ‘O’ Messenger of Allah! Whom should I do kindness to?’ He answered: ‘To your mother!’ Again, he asked: ‘Next to my mother, to whom (should I be kind)?’ He answered: ‘To your mother!’ Again, that man asked: ‘After her, to whom (should I do good)?’ He answered again: ‘To your mother.’ And, finally, he asked: ‘Following my mother, to whom (should I do good next)?’ He replied: ‘To your father.’ (Bihār, vol. ۷۴,

(p. ۴۹

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) remarked: “Do your fathers good so as your (۱۶ children also do you good. Turn your eyes away from the wives of others so that (others turn away their eyes from your wives.” (Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, vol. ۱۶, p. ۴۶۶

One must keep in mind the fact that one’s parents are not regarded as only parents.
In some quotations the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and Amir-ul-mu’mineen (a.s.) are considered as the ‘fathers of nation’. The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “Ali and I are the ”fathers of this Ummat

In conclusion, once the parents focus their attention on the fact that they stand in importance next to the principle of monotheism of Islam, they will be motivated
.strongly to call their children to adopt monotheism and Islam still further

(٢٦) وَءَاتِ ذَا الْقُرْبَىٰ حَقَّهُ وَالْمِسْكِينَ وَابْنَ السَّبِيلِ وَلَا تُبَذِّرْ تَبْذِيرًا

And give to the near of kin his due, and (to) the needy, and the wayfarer; and do “ .٢٦
” .not squander wastefully

Commentary: verse ٢٦

In this noble verse, the Qur’ān explains still further another chapter from the interrelated fundamental principles of Islam regarding the rights of relatives and the needy as well as the wayfarer and, generally speaking, the issue of spending one’s wealth, without immoderation and extravagance. At first, the verse says

”... ,And give to the near of kin his due “

This holy phrase signifies broadly and covers all of one’s relatives, though the ‘Ahl-ul-Bayt’ of the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) are the most clear examples of it, and the Prophet himself (p.b.u.h.) is being clearly and straightly addressed in this verse. Moreover, the :verse continues saying

” .and (to) the needy, and the wayfarer; and do not squander wastefully ... “

In the meantime, the Qur’ān recommends all not to engage in wasting or spoiling and .do not exceed the limits, giving them away more than what they merit

Concerning the issue of immoderation and extravagance and concentration on this matter is so highly recommended that we read in quotations: The prophet (p.b.u.h.) was walking once on a road. One of his companions called Sa’d was engaged in performing the ritual ablution for praying, and he was using a lot of water. He (p.b.u.h.) asked: “Why is it that you are wasting so such water, O’ Sa’d?” He said: “Is there any immoderation in the water of ablution?" He replied: "Yes. Even once you find yourself by a flowing stream

:Explanations

The Arabic term /tabōir/ which is derived from /baōr/ signifies 'squandering', like preparing meals for two guests. In other words, that means spreading one's wealth all over by means of wasting it

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) has stated: "He who consumes something in ways other than the path of obedience of Allah, is a 'squanderer'." (Bihār, vol. ۷۵, p.۳۰۲) Answering a query concerning the issue of spending in allowed cases, he has ascertained "Yes, for, he who overspends in almsgiving and gives away out of his wealth, leaving nothing for (himself, he has extravagated in using lawful properly." (Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

After the revelation of this verse, the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was searching for the aim of Allah by the phrase /ōil qurbā/ (near of kin) when Allah revealed to him to give 'Fadak' to Fatimah (a.s.) and he did accordingly. However, later Fadak was illegitimately taken back from the Ahl-ul-Bayt, who tended to document their claim by this verse. Therefore, by the relatives, the objective of /ōawil qurbā/ (near of kin) are: (Ali, Fātimah, Hassan and Hossayn (a.s

The Shi'ite commentators as well as Sunni commentators like Tabarī, deducing from the quotations, write: When arriving at Shām along with other prisoners, Imam Sajjād (a.s.) for demonstrating to their capturers as to why they considered the Ahl-ul-Bayt as aliens and non-Muslims, documented his speech with this verse, saying: "/ōawil
,qurbā/ (relatives) which is mentioned in this verse directly refers to us and are intended for demonstrating our case.” (‘Iḥtijāj-i- . ۱ (Tabarsī, vol. ۲, p.۳۳, Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

Some quotations consider this verse as relating to ‘khums’ (one-fifth), while some others regard the verse as speaking of matters higher than material issues. They have said that this verse commands the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to pay what is due to Ali-Ibn-’Abi-Tālib by appointing him as his successor in his will. Imam Sādiq (a.s.) has mentioned with respect to this verse: “The right of Ali-Ibn-Abi-Tālib (a.s.) which has been due to him, has been succession to the Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) and having (the prophetic sciences.” (Kāfī, vol. ۱, p. ۲۹۴

The objective in mind when mentioning the term /tabōir/ in the verse, which has been cited and which prohibits Muslims from engaging themselves in is /quluww/(exaggerations). (Tafsīr-i-Furqān

Fadak was a large farm which was placed at the disposal of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) .۲ without any fighting. That the Prophet in turn left it at the disposal of the Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.) for reasons of their popularity, chastity, devotion, trustfulness, and on order to support them economically in the line of propagation and removing the poverty of the Muslim Ummah. However, after the passing away of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), Abū-Bakr re-occupied it, which was later returned to them by ‘Umar-Ibn-i-Abdul ’Azīz. They again usurped it and it was returned to them during the era of Ma’mūn Abbasi. Once again they got furious. There is an extensive literature on the discussions about the historical, legal, and political issues involved which is mentioned the commentaries .concerning this verse, which we avoid stating them all in here

(٢٧) إِنَّ الْمُبَذِّرِينَ كَانُوا إِخْوَانَ الشَّيَاطِينِ وَكَانَ الشَّيْطَانُ لِرَبِّهِ كَفُورًا

Verily, the squanderers are the brethrens (accomplices) of the Satans and the “ .٢٧
”Satan was very ungrateful to his Lord

Commentary: verse ٢٧

This verse provides a firm justification and emphasizes once again the negation of squandering. It implies that those who engage in over consumption are accomplices to the Satan, for they tend to spoil Allah’s blessings, and ‘the Satan’ was most ungrateful to Allah, for Allah had bestowed upon him an exceptional potentiality intelligence, as well as extraordinary capability, which he utilized for objectives other than what all of them were destined for, that is, he employed all towards seduction of :the people. The verse says

Verily, the squanderers are the brethrens (accomplices) of the Satans and the Satan “
”.was very ungrateful to his Lord

Incidentally, the term /’ax/ in Arabic often denotes both ‘brother’, as well as one’s ‘companion’, and one’s company, as in the case of /’ixwassafar/ which refers to the person who is constantly engaged in traveling and in the case of /’ixwal karam/ which .’refers to the person who is ‘generous

Brotherhood’ is sometimes a hereditary issue which is established as a result of one’s ‘familial relationship and at times it is the consequence of one’s political affiliation. The squanderers are thus, in a sense, the politically affiliated brothers of the Satan, that is, .they are those who follow in the track of the Satan and keep his company

There are frequent references made in the Qur'ān to the 'Satanical temptations' or his mastership over individuals. But, the only occasion on which the phrase 'ixwān-uš-šayāṭīn/ has been used is this verse, which means the squanderers are as the 'collaborators' of the Satan, and not under his domination. As can be seen, one has here not only been overtaken by his temptations, but he has arrived at a stage of collaboration and assistance of the Satan

The act of 'squander' is mostly used in the sphere of financial matters. However, it might also refer to other blessings such as 'wasting of one's youth', or of his 'life-time' or utilizing of one's thinking, eyes, ears and tongue in incorrect ways, assigning of responsibilities to indecent people, acceptance of responsibilities without having the proper qualifications and over and above one's capacities and limitations, instructing and learning of unessential and useless matters, etc. (Tafsīr-i-Atyab-ul-Bayān, and .(Furqān

(٢٨) وَإِمَّا تُعْرِضَنَّ عَنْهُمْ ائْتِنَاءَ رَحْمَةٍ مِنْ رَبِّكَ تَرْجُوهَا فَقُلْ لَهُمْ قَوْلًا مَيْسُورًا

And if you turn away from them seeking mercy from your Lord, which you are “hopeful for, then speak unto them a gentle word”.

Commentary: verse ٢٨

The Qur’ān declares that whenever you are unable to do them good because of your lack of means and funds and you are about to ask Allah for help, hoping to get His help so as to assist them in fulfilling their needs, pledge to aid them in a good manner and use soft words as far as you can. The verse says

And if you turn away from them seeking mercy from your Lord, which you are “hopeful for, then speak unto them a gentle word”.

Therefore, this noble verse deals with adopting a decent approach towards the people. That was why, while waiting for Allah’s grace and assistance for providing him with the necessary means and funds, the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) would pray for him who might turn to him for help when and if he lacked the means and the fund, saying:

“May Allah provide the means for you and I out of His Grace!” (Tafsīr-i-Lāhijī Fātimah Zahrā (a.s.) once asked the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) for a maid to help her with her chores. He answered: “There are four hundred in the mosque who have no food and clothing. Were the case not so, I would appoint a maid servant for you.” He then taught her the ‘hymms’ known as ‘Tasbīhyāt’ which

(are called as: ‘Tasbīhāt-i-Haḍrat-i-Zahrā’. (Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth- Thaḡalayn

The blissful Qur’ān contains instructions concerning the ways of talking with people, among them one may name the gentleness, leniency, easiness, firmness, idiomatic and eloquent ways with which one must commence his speaking. The verse ۳, Tā Hā;

.۴۴, ۴, ‘Isrā’; ۲۳, ۵, ۹, ۶, ۸, ۷, and ۶۳ Nisā confirm the above points

And do not make your hand to be shackled to your neck nor stretch it to the “ .٢٩
” .utmost (limit) of its stretching, so that you should sit down blamed, empty-handed

Commentary: verse ٢٩

As observing the issue of moderation in everything in life, even in cases of sharing one’s wealth with others, is a prime factor, the Qur’ān stresses this matter in this
:noble verse, saying

And do not make your hand to be Shackled to “

”... your neck

This expression provides a delicate allusion to the fact that one must be generous and not be a miser as those who behave in such a way as if their hands are both in chains
.and tied up to their necks, thus unable to give away anything to anyone

This verse also recommends all not to be overgenerous and open-handed so as not to :be blamed and get stuck with your job. The verse continues saying nor stretch it to the utmost (limit) of its stretching, so that you should sit down ... “

” .blamed, empty-handed

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) remarked: “The Qur’ānic term /mahsūr/ here is meant envy, poverty, and empty-handedness. Some also claim that ‘blame’ concerns with the beginning of the verse which refers to ‘miserliness’ while the term ‘empty-handed’
.alludes to ‘lavishness’ in spending and is related to the end of the verse

A woman once sent down his son to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and asked his shirt for sanctification purposes of blessings. The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) gave away his only shirt and as he had no other one to put on, he did not get out of the house for attending his prayers. This holy verse was revealed indicating that generosity does not imply that .one gives away his only single shirt

We have it in another quotation, saying: Some gold was brought and handed down to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and he gave the whole of it away to the poor instantly. On the following day, a beggar came up to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), asked for something. He had .nothing left to give him. The beggar insulted him

(٣٠) إِنَّ رَبَّكَ يَبْسُطُ الرِّزْقَ لِمَن يَشَاءُ وَيَقْدِرُ إِنَّهُ كَانَ بِعِبَادِهِ خَبِيرًا بَصِيرًا

Verily, your Lord extends the sustenance for whomever He pleases; and straitens “ ٣٠.
”.(it for whom He pleases), verily He is, of His servants, All-Aware, All-Seeing

Commentary: verse ٣٠

Allah’s coffers are plentiful and well expanded, though as a matter of expediency, He sometimes widens the scope for the means of sustenance for some people, while, at other times, He tightens up and makes the means of it meager. He is truly knowledgeable as to what is good for the servant, and He is all-seeing with regard to their advantage. Hence, while one’s scope of sustenance is broadened, another person’s sphere is tightened as He deems what is worthy for them

Therefore, He (s.w.t.) examines some by enabling them to accumulate wealth while He does the same by leaving them in a state of empty-handedness and poverty. It is on the basis of this point that we find Imam Amīr-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) state in Nahj-ul-Balaqah, sermon ٩١, that: The Almighty has predetermined people’s means of sustenance by augmenting in case of some and decreasing in case of others so that He would be please to examine whomever He wants by putting him on trial, thus selecting the rich and the poor by their gratitude and perseverance which they express

Moreover, a great many people start rebelling against everything as soon as they feel self-sufficient. Thus, they would better stay at a certain level of living which will neither

.make them stay in a state of dire poverty nor in a state of rebellion

Concluding these mentioned remarks, one must proclaim that affluence or lack of it, are both characteristics of the Lordship of Allah and are required for the development :and training as well as for the testing of human beings. The verse says

Verily, your Lord extends the sustenance for whomever He pleases; and straitens (it “ .for whom He pleases), verily He is, of His servants, All-Aware, All-Seeing

And do not kill your offspring for fear of poverty. We sustain them as well as you. “ ۳۱
 ”.Verily killing them is a capital sin

Commentary: verse ۳۱

The Arabic term /'imlāq/ signifies poverty and empty-handedness. The provision of the means of sustenance is of the power of Allah and the greatness in quantity and number of population is irrelevant. Therefore, having a larger number of offspring is .not a factor in a family's poverty

Following the former various sections of the Islamic commandments which were discussed in the previous sections, the Holy Qur'ān deals in here with an other part of these commandments and explains six important commandments within five verses
 .in concise, meaningful, and interesting statements

At first, He alludes to one of the viscous practices of the 'Age of Ignorance' which was :among the most heinous of the crimes, saying

”... .And do not kill your offspring for fear of poverty “

It is not you who provide them with nourishment; it is We Who provide them as well as you with means of sustenance. Killing them is and has been a capital sin. The verse
:says

”.We sustain them as well as you. Verily killing them is a capital sin ...“

This verse provides us with clues regarding the economic situation of the Arabs of the Age of Ignorance which has been so gruesome that they used to kill their dear offspring whether boys or girls for fear of lack of financial resources, hence getting rid
.of them

This case of crimes, of course, is obviously presented to us in another form during our times and in our so-called most progressive types of societies. It shows itself in the form of getting rid of pregnancies in a most widespread form for the sake of .preventing over population and avoiding economic insufficiencies

To conclude this statement, we must note that a child is entitled to live and parents cannot take away this right from him. Sometimes, it so happens that our very means of sustenance depends on our children’s means of sustenance, therefore, killing one’s own child and terminating one’s pregnancy (aborting) are both capital sins and an .offence of immense proportions

”And do not approach fornication, verily it is an indecency and an evil way “ .٣٢

Commentary: verse ٣٢

Illegitimate sexual relationship (fornication) paves the way for numerous individual, social, and familial corruptions which follow the act and, therefore, it is forbidden in Islam, and in the Qur’ān it has been mentioned alongside such capital sins as .paganism, murder, and theft

It is for this very reason that this noble verse refers to fornication as an indecent behaviour and recommends not to approach the act of fornication which is a heinous act and an evil way.” It does not state: “Do not fornicate” but it says: “Do not approach fornication.” Here is a delicate allusion made to the fact that involvement in the heinous act of fornication usually requires certain pre-requisites which predispose :one for the act in a gradual manner. The verse says

The act of ‘voyeurism’ is one of such pre-requisites. ‘Nudity’ and ‘unveiling’ of oneself are other steps preceding the act. The prevalence of counter-didactic books, misleading films, corruption-inciting publications and also centers for corruption, are .all serving as the preliminary steps for such an act

Moreover, associating of men and women in private, that is, of those who are not bound to be together by lawful marriage is another factor leading to the act of .fornication

And finally, distancing of the young from marriage as well as imposing of severe unreasonable demands by the two sides in connection with marriage both provide the grounds for ‘approximation to fornication’, which has been dissuaded in a concise sentence in the above verse. In Islamic quotations, each also has separately been .dissuaded

In the meantime, other issues which are at stake in fornication consist of absence of commitment and duty with regard to the survival of generations, lack of education for the children, and absence of fatherly love and motherly affection for the child, which totally disappear. Fornication also wipes out and disrupts the foundations of the laws of inheritance, the consequences of which make it impossible to locate the true .inheritors

:The Philosophy Underlying the Prohibition of Fornication

The emergence of anarchy in the family institution and the disappearance of the ( ) relationships of parents and children are the consequences of fornication the lack of which leads to the cognition of the society and also serve as a backbone for the full protection of children. In the society where there is an increase in the number of illegitimate children and of single mothers, the social relationship, which is based upon family relationship, will seriously be stumbling and, finally, disrupted. Moreover the society will be further deprived of the element of affection which is the determining factor in controlling the crimes and atrocities, and the human society will be fully turned into an animal type of gathering which is constantly coupled with all types of .atrocities Experience reveals and science has also proven the fact that such an act leads to ( ) the spread of all kinds of infections. Despite all organizations which have been established for combating the consequences of the impact of this act today, the statistics again indicate to what extent individuals have suffered in losing their happiness thereby

One must not overlook the fact that the goal in marriage is not solely the gratification of one's sexual instinct. On the contrary, participation in family life and one's spiritual association as well as one's peace of mind along with the education of children and cooperation in all spheres of life constitute all-in-all the end-result of marriage, which all are impossible to bring about without the union in marriage of men and women and along with the prohibition of 'fornication

Fornication provides the basis for numerous kinds of entanglements, suicides, escaping from family life and homes, the rise of fatherless illegitimate children, infections diseases, and anxiety for respectable families

Fornication has been regarded as a heinous, and indecent act throughout history and has also been prohibited in other religions as well

Islam has been quick to present preventive measures against heinous act of fornication, among which one may name the following

1. Prohibition of association of men with unallowed women in some private places

2. Prohibition of private relationship of a man with an unallowed woman

3. Prohibition of women's wearing make-up for unallowed men or in their presence

4. Prohibition of looking of unallowed women and men at each other, and abstention from thinking of fornication, or of watching seducing photographs

One must not only avoid the act of fornication but he must also abstain from the acts which precede fornication. Sometimes, a look, a telephone call, a letter or a contact may pave the way for illegitimate relationships

.Severe punishments issued for those who engage in fornication

Recommendation for marriage and lowering of the level of 'dower' at the time of marriage

.Blaming of the act of marriage which has long been overdue

.Sanctification of the institution of marriage, and struggling for having a family life

In conclusion, Imam-Ali-Ibn-i-Abi-Tālib (a.s.) has been quoted who has said: "I heard from the blissful Prophet who stated: 'There are six negative impacts in the act of fornication, three of which belong to this world and the other three belong to the Hereafter

As for those which exist in this world are the fact that it removes sincerity and illumination from one's life, cuts off one's means of sustenance, and accelerates human beings process of extermination

The three (negative) effects which come about in the Hereafter are: The Wrath of the Almighty, severity in the settlement of one's account and the initiation into the Fire of Hell'." (Man-la Yahduruhul Faqih, Khisāl, Sāfi, Majma'-ul-Bayān

(٣٣) وَلَا تَقْتُلُوا النَّفْسَ الَّتِي حَرَّمَ اللَّهُ إِلَّا بِالْحَقِّ وَمَنْ قُتِلَ مُظْلُوماً فَقَدْ جَعَلْنَا لَوْلِيٍّ سُلْطَاناً فَلَا يُسْرِفُ فِي الْقَتْلِ إِنَّهُ كَانَ مَنْصُوراً

And do not kill any one whom Allah has forbidden, save for just cause, and “ ٣٣. whoever is killed unjustly We have appointed to his heir authority (to demand blood compensation or retaliation), thus he must not exceed limits in slaying; verily he is “(justly) assisted (by Allah

Commentary: verse ٣٣

To protect the oppressed is one of Allah’s ways of treatment. The issue dealt with in this verse is respect for human blood and the utter prohibition of ‘murder’. He says

”... And do not kill any one whom Allah has forbidden, save for just cause “

Not only murder is punishable from the point of view of Islam but also the slightest harm done to a human being is punishable as well, and one can proclaim that this viewpoint of Islam in protecting and respecting human beings’ blood, soul and prestige is unequalled and unsurpassed in other religions

There are, of course, certain cases where respect for human blood is missing as in cases of those who have committed murders or parallel crimes. Therefore, He makes an exception to the rule by the phrase ‘save for just cause

Certainly, respect for human blood is not only a matter exclusive to the Muslims as a category. On the contrary, non-Muslims who are not at war with Muslims and they are coexisting with the Muslims in a peaceful manner, are also being covered by this rule.

Their life, wealth and wives are

.thus protected and any violation of their rights in this respect is prohibited

Then the Holy Qur'ān alludes to the right of retaliation which has been accorded to
:the heirs of the shed blood, saying and whoever is killed unjustly We have appointed to his heir authority (to demand ...“

”... ,(blood compensation or retaliation

However, such a person must not exceed beyond the limits of his rights, and overdo in :retaliation for the murder, for he is fully supported. The verse continues saying

”(thus he must not exceed limits in slaying; verily he is (justly) assisted (by Allah ...“

Certainly, the heirs of the murdered are supported by Allah as long as they observe
.Islamic limits and do not exceed those codes

This sentence makes allusion to the ways of the behaviour which were prevalent during the Age of Ignorance and, nowadays also sometimes takes place in case some innocent victims are being probably murdered who are defenseless in retaliation for
.the killing of one single person and in addition to the killing of the murderer himself

:Explanations

The Qur'ānic sentence 'Thus he must not exceed limits in slaying' signifies that . 1 when the issue of retaliation is involved, do not kill other than the murderer and do not
.amputate him which has a common practice during the 'Age of Ignorance

Murder and killing is among the capital sins. He who kills any one in cases other than those of retaliation or of causes of corruption, seems to have killed all the people. "... whoever slays a human being for other than man slaughter or mischief in the earth, it is as he had slain mankind as a whole; ..." (Sura .1 Al-Mā'idah, No. 5, verse 32). The punishment for such a murder is suffering eternal pains of the hell. "And whoever kills a believer intentionally, his recompense is Hell wherein shall he abide forever, ..." (Sura An-Nisā', No. 4, verse 93) Such a punishment holds constant for the person who uses arms and threatens to kill and is known as .inciting corruption, and as waging war against Allah

In quotations, we have it that one of the examples of the heir of the blood is Haḍrat- .2 i-Mahdī (a.j.) who will take his vengeance of his grandfather Imam Hussayn (a.s.) "We have appointed to his heir authority (to demand blood compensation or retaliation)." ((Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

As a preventive measure the Divine support of the oppressed and the according of .3 the right of one's heir to retaliation and the consignment of such a right to the heir are .noteworthy. It is also a preventive measure for preventing over retaliation

(٣٤) وَلَا تَقْرَبُوا مَالَ الْيَتِيمِ إِلَّا بِالَّتِي هِيَ أَحْسَنُ حَتَّىٰ يَبْلُغَ أَشُدَّهُ وَأَوْفُوا بِالْعَهْدِ إِنَّ الْعَهْدَ كَانَ مَسْئُولًا

And do not approach the property of the orphan except in the best manner (to his “ ٣٤ . advantage); until he reaches his maturity, and keep the promise, verily every promise
”.will be questioned about

Commentary: verse ٣٤

The Arabic term /’ašudd/ refers to a tightly knit knot, and it refers in here to the stage of the development of an orphan when he is physically and spiritually in a firm position
.to defend his properties and belongings

The blissful Qur’ān has made frequent recommendations about the protection of the orphan’s rights and considerations with regard to his state and overall care for their affairs. However, as there is the possibility of stumbling in financial matters and misuse of belongings and properties of the orphans, then more warnings are required in which case even approaching them has been forbidden, and any oppressive intrusion into them has been equated with swallowing of Fire. Thus, He has dealt with this issue in this verse, addressing all in a tone of voice similar to the one used in case
:of unchaste act, the verse says

”... And do not approach the property of the orphan “

The Qur’ān declares that all must not only abstain from using orphans’ belongings
.and properties, but they must also respect quietly its sanctuary

However, as such a decree might be used as a pretext by certain individuals lacking insight who always take into account the negative aspect of things, thus causing the properties and belongings of the orphans to be neglected and spoiled, and be left at the mercy of the circumstances, then the Qur'ān immediately makes a clear exception to this rule and stresses by saying

”... ;(except in the best manner (to his advantage ...“

Therefore, every type of intrusion into the wealth of the orphans, which is fulfilled targeted at the protection, betterment, multiplication and increase in the wealth, is allowed.

It is obvious that such a situation will continue as long as the orphan reaches the stage of mental and economic maturity where the Qur'ān makes mention of following its discussion concerning the issue in the question, saying

”... ,until he reaches his maturity ...“

In the meantime, when this verse was revealed, Muslims abstained from attending the meals served by orphans and kept them in isolation. Then another verse was revealed the aim of which was not condemnation of approaching the orphans. On the contrary, it confirmed the fact that the righteous must not abandon the orphans under the pretext of observing their devotion and of being virtuous. The verse went on saying that if such people mixed their lives with theirs it did not meet with any obstacle, reaffirming the fact that they were their religious brethren and thus they had to treat them in a brotherly way. Allah differentiates those who incite corruption from those who are righteous. Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ٢٢٠.' says: “... and if you ... ,become co-partner with them, they are your brethren

It is for this reason that in a tradition the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “Whoever takes three orphans under his protection is like the person who has spent a life-time in prayers at night, has continued on fasting all days and has continued waging a holy war with his unshielded sword for Allah and he and I would be just two brothers in Paradise like these two fingers.”

(Kanz-ul-’Ummāl, vol. ۱۵, p. ۱۷۸

And again, Amir-ul-Mu’mineen-Ali (a.s.), at the time of his death, said in his will: “Appealing to you in Allah’s name again and again, concerning the issue of the orphans, lest they should feel hungry on and off, and lest they should die for your not (attending to them.” (Kanz-ul-’Ummāl, vol. ۱۵, p. ۱۷۷

We have him again saying: “Be kind towards the orphans; treat the beggars in a gentle way and get along well with them, and, finally, be kind and compassionate with the weak.” In another tradition he has said: “The best way of being good is showing (kindness towards the orphans.” (Qurar-ul-Hikam, vol. ۶

In ‘Nahj-ul-Balaqah, letter ۴۷, he (a.s.) has commended further taking into consideration of the rights of those who are hired to do a job, the farmers, women, and the orphans

:Then, discussing the issue of keeping one’s promise in this verse, the verse states

”and keep the promise, verily every promise will be questioned about ...“

It is so owing to the fact that most of the social relationships and the channels of economic system as well as political issues all revolve around the axis of pledges and promises. If and when there is a stumbling block found in them, the social system will instantly collapse

Therefore, We must stick to our words, keeping them whatever they might be and with whomever they might be

In the meantime, some Islamic traditions denote that one of the examples of pledges and promises which are in question, is compassion affection, and obedience with (respect to Ali (a.s.). (Bihār, vol. ۲۴, p. ۱۸۷

(٣٥) وَأَوْفُوا الْكَيْلَ إِذَا كِلْتُمْ وَزِنُوا بِالْقِسْطَاسِ الْمُسْتَقِيمِ ذَلِكَ خَيْرٌ وَأَحْسَنُ تَأْوِيلًا

And give the full measure when you measure out and weigh you with the right “ ٣٥ .
” .balance, that is good and better in the end

Commentary: verse ٣٥

The Arabic term /qisṭās/ is made up of two words: /qisṭ/, which signifies justice, and /ṭās/ which means the pan of a balance. (Tafsīr-i-Al-Mīzān). Some Islamic traditions denote: The Immaculate Imam (a.s.) is an example and a paradigm of /qisṭās ul (mustaqīm/ (right balance) in Islam. (Bihār, vol. ٢٤, p. ١٨٧

The issues relating to the people’s transactions and respect for other people’s rights are so important that the Qur’ān has frequently stressed it and the lengthiest verse of the Qur’ān, that is, ‘verse ٢٨٢ of Sura Al-Baqarah’ concerns this matter, and Sura Al-Mutaffifin, (the Defrauders), has been named as such to exhibit the importance of the decent ways of carrying out transactions. The first invitation of some prophets, like (Shu‘ayb, was to abandon short weight. (Sura Ash-Shu‘arā, No. ٢٤, verses ١٨١-١٨٣

Therefore, the Muslim markets must severely be free from fraudulent activities, and defrauding, and the salesperson must be trustworthy, accurate, honest, and keep :accurate accounts of everything. The verse says

And give the full measure when you measure out and weigh you with the right “
”... ,balance

Measuring in full with the right kind of balance are both examples of the sticking to one's pledges, which was discussed in the previous verse, because transactions are forms of one's commitments

Balances and measuring devices as well as commercial calculation instruments must be accurate and intact. Accuracy in balances, weighing and calculations are sources of good and blessings, and defrauding will tighten the sphere of one's blessings

The consequences of right transactions and respect for the rights of people produce dividends for the person involved, for they create a confidence-building environment among people, while defrauding and inaccuracies in balancing and calculating lead to financial corruptions and make all lose confidence. Thus, a happy ending requires honesty

In principle, justice, regulations, and accuracy are vital principles in all spheres of life. It is a principle which governs all the universe. All kinds of deviation from this principle are dangerous and lead to evil endings, especially; defrauding disrupts and wipes out confidence, which is essential in transactions, thus leading the economic system to collapse. The verse concludes

”that is good and better in the end ...“

(٣٦) وَلَا تَقْفُ مَا لَيْسَ لَكَ بِهِ عِلْمٌ إِنَّ السَّمْعَ وَالْبَصَرَ كُلَّ أُولَئِكَ كَانَ عَنْهُ مَسْئُولًا

And do not follow that of which you have not knowledge; verily the hearing and “ ٣٦ .
”the sight and the heart, all these will be questioned about it

Commentary: verse ٣٦

The mention of eyes, ears and heart in this verse is perhaps used as examples, for in the day of resurrection, besides man himself, one’s organs such as his hands, feet, and other bodily organs will be questioned, too, in which case they will burst out speaking and make confessions

Throughout history, most of the rebellions, and quarrels, have been the consequences of hastily set-up trial procedures and judgments, undocumented words, and views which have not been backed up by research. Putting into practice the content of this verse will provide protection for the individuals as well as the society against all fraudulent activities and erroneous behaviors, for undue optimism, simple-mindedness in believing others, and accepting rumors turn the society into a chaotic state and submissive towards the enemy

Blind obedience, pursuance of habits and hallucinations, following the order of one’s ancestors, acceptance of the baseless foretellings, and dreams, conjectures, surmises, judgments which are unfounded, bearing testimonies without knowledge, taking sides, appraisal or criticism without prior knowledge, baseless interpretation and analysis, issuing verdicts without knowledge, quoting of groundless rumors, ascribing something wrong to Allah, and religion without authorization, decision-making in cases of emotional tensions and crisis, relying on swearing and crocodile tears of others without due reasons, all are examples of the :sentence and are absolutely forbidden, where it says

And do not follow that of which you have not “

”... ;knowledge

In accordance with the circumstances of sequential and credible quotations, following knowledge implies the pursuing of decisive, religious principles such as the verdicts of a ‘Mujtahid’ or that type of knowledge which is acquired with reassurances which approach the level of certainty. It is just like the case in which people gain knowledge about their illness and rely on the prescription of a compassionate physician who is a specialist, just in the same way one tends to have access to Allah’s commandments .’by inquiring about the verdict of an all-embracing devout ‘Mujtahid

Therefore, this stage of awareness will be enough for the moment though there is a hierarchy for knowledge which comprises other deeper categories, namely: ‘Ilm-ul-Yaqīn’ meaning knowledge with certainty, ‘Ayn-ul-Yaqīn’ which signifies knowledge which is equated with certainty in itself or intuition, and ‘Haq-ul-Yaqīn’ meaning .knowledge which is identical with the truth

In conclusion, the Immaculate Imams (a.s.) used to make their companions abstain from listening to and saying of different kinds of vain words, recommending them to guard of themselves against letting everything enter their hearts and ears. They used .to allude to this noble verse in connection with this matter

As Imam Sādiq (a.s.) recited this verse when instructing the person who would stay over time when using the toilette so as to be able to listen to the music and songs of ,his neighbour

He said: "Ears, eyes, and hearts will be questioned for having listened, having seen, and for having kept memories." Imam Sajjād (a.s.) also stated: "Man is not entitled to (say what he wants." (Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

Therefore, one's life must be based on correct knowledge and information as well as logic and insight. We must not spread rumors making a fuss about them and damage .the prestige of the innocent individuals and violate their rights

The blissful Qur'ān disrupts the entire population of the sorcerers, magicians, and .fortune-tellers who used to assemble simple-minded individuals around themselves

One's faith in the Reckoning Day and clearing of accounts provides the basis for his being of virtuous; and one is also going to be questioned with regard to his hidden .intentions in the Resurrection Day

(٣٧) وَلَا تَمْشِ فِي الْأَرْضِ مَرَحًا إِنَّكَ لَنْ تَخْرِقَ الْأَرْضَ وَلَنْ تَبْلُغَ الْجِبَالَ طُولًا

And do not walk around exultantly on the earth; certainly you will never rend the “ .٣٧
”earth; nor attain the mountains in height

Commentary: verse ٣٧

Islam does not only provide rules and regulations for ideological, political, military and economic issues, but it also offers commandments with regard to such minor matters such as going and coming to the house as well, owing to its encompassing and all-inclusiveness inherent in it. Thus, it launches a campaign in this noble verse against arrogance and, while clearly dissuading the believers, it addresses the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) saying

And do not walk around exultantly on the earth; certainly you will never rend the “
”earth; nor attain the mountains in height

Here, in this holy verse, there is an explicit allusion made to those proud and arrogant people who take their steps with pride, pounding them on the ground so as to make people aware of their comings and goings, and stay with their necks up so as, base on their imagination, to prove their superiority to others

The objective of the Qur’ān is to denounce arrogance in all its forms in general; not only in its apparent aspects as i.e. in the case of walking which is a particular aspect of it, but also in all of its aspects, for arrogance is the source of all kinds of alienation from Allah, from oneself, as well as errors in one’s judgment, losing of one's way in his truth-seeking effort, joining the ranks of the .Satan, and pollution with all kinds of sin

The practical program offered by the pioneers of Islam can serve as the most .instructive paradigm for each and every true Muslim in this regard

We have it in the biography of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that he would never allow others to walk while he was riding on the back of a horse. We also have it that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) used to squat on the earth and he used to have a simple meal just like that of the slaves; he also used to milk the sheep, and used to ride on the back of a donkey
.with no saddles

We also have it in the biography of Hadrat-Ali (a.s.) that he used to carry over water
.for the house and he used to sweep the house occasionally

We have it in the biography of Imam Mujtabā (a.s.) that in spite of having and owning numerous animals for riding, he made the pilgrimage to Mecca twenty times on foot,
".saying: "I practice this way out of sheer modesty for the Lord's sake

(٣٨) كَلَّ ذَلِكْ كَانَ سَيِّئَةً عِنْدَ رَبِّكَ مَكْرُوهًا

”All of that, the sin of it, is hateful in the sight of your Lord “ .٣٨

Commentary: verse ٣٨

This noble verse re-emphasizes all of the afore mentioned divine commandments regarding the prohibition of paganism, homicide, adultery, the killing of one’s own offspring, usurping of the orphan’s belongings and property, and harming of one’s parents and the like. It proclaims: The sins committed with respect to all of these are abominable before Allah. The verse says

”All of that, the sin of it, is hateful in the sight of your Lord“

One can deduce from this meaning that, contrary to the opinion of the followers of the school of determinism, the Lord has never decided that one should commit sin, for had He determined such a thing, it would have been incompatible with the hatred and inconvenience which is stressed in this verse

In other words, one infers from this verse that the ideas of the fatalists are wrong, for, according to this verse, the Lord despises the evils and the wrong-doings of the people and, once He shuns such acts, how would He, then, compel people to commit these acts. Obviously, one issue cannot be, at the same time, both considered as decent and indecent simultaneously by the Lord. It becomes, in the meantime, transparent that the term /makrūh/ ‘abominable’ in the Qur’ānic literature is also applied in the case of the greatest of one’s sins

In conclusion, we must note that the evil character of one’s deeds is a constant matter in all of the Divine religions, and man’s inherent characteristics tend to leave their impacts on his own behaviour

(٣٩) ذَلِكُمْ مِمَّا أَوْحَىٰ إِلَيْكَ رَبُّكَ مِنَ الْحِكْمَةِ وَلَا تَجْعَلْ مَعَ اللَّهِ إِلَهًا ءَاخَرَ فَتَلْقَىٰ فِي جَهَنَّمَ مَلُومًا مَّدْحُورًا

That (commandment) is of the wisdom (that) your Lord has revealed to you, and “ ٣٩. do not associate with Allah any other god for you will be thrown into the Hell, blamed, ”.cast away

Commentary: verse ٣٩

Some commentators of the Holy Qur’ān are of the opinion that by ‘of the wisdom’ in here is meant those constant commandments which have been mentioned in the previous verses and which have been outstanding in other Divine religions as well and .it will never be abrogated

In holy verse No. ٢٢, the first among the wise sayings, was prohibition of paganism, .and, the discussion of paganism in this verse, concludes all wise sayings, too

To stress once again the point that such wise commandments are all having their :origin in Divine revelation, the holy Qur’ān says

”... ,That (commandment) is of the wisdom (that) your Lord has revealed to you “

Allusion as to the fact that the commandments have been both proven through rational philosophy as well as through the method of the Divine revelation, and the principles underlying all of the Divine commandments have common grounds though one can not recognize their details under the weak light of the intellect itself, has been here made. It is only through the power of revelation which one can obtain an .understanding of such issues

As was the case with the beginning of these commandments which concerned the prohibition of paganism, He concludes them with the same issue, implying that you shall never associate any other god with ‘Allah’ and should not place any other god for the purpose of worshipping alongside the Lord, ‘Allah’, for you will be thrown down :into Hell, blamed and outcast from the Lord. The verse says and do not associate with Allah any other god for you will be thrown into the Hell, ...“

”.blamed, cast away

In fact, paganism and dualism in some matters of worship provide the basic substance for deviations, crimes, and sins. Therefore, these chains of fundamental .commandments in Islam began with paganism and ended with it, too

Incidentally, sometimes, the Lord, addressing His Prophet, in an adamant manner, in fact issues warnings to the pagans to abandon hope in the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), who are .targeted in actual fact

:Explanations

Intellect and innate disposition do not make man free from the need in revelation. . ١

.On the contrary, man is in need of revelation

All schools of thought and methods, other than the school of revelation and the . ٢ Divine laws, are out of the question and lead man astray, the following of which would .lead one to total deprivation, blaming, and the opening of one’s way to the ‘inferno

Has your Lord then distinguished you by giving you sons, and has taken “ daughters (for Himself) from among the angels? Verily, you are uttering a grievous saying.

Commentary: verse ٤٠

From among the deviant ideas which pagans held, there was one concerning the fact that they claimed angels to be the daughters of Allah, and the Qur’ān has repeatedly dealt with this matter, regarding it to be a great lie and a false accusation. The following verses may then be referred to as examples: “Or has He daughters while you have sons?” (Sura Al-Tūr, No. ٥٢, verse ٣٩) “What! For you the males and for Him (the females!” (Sura An-Najm, No. ٥٣, verse ٢١)

The first verse means: “Are there daughters for Him and sons for you?” The second “?one means: “Are there sons for you and daughters for Him

Certainly, the belief regarding Allah’s having offspring, has long been held both by the Jews and by the Christians. However, the belief held in Allah’s having daughters, has been exclusive to the idol-worshippers. Therefore, this noble verse makes allusion to one of the superstitious beliefs of the pagans, thus making transparent the logical basis of their thinking by this means. Many of them used to hold the view that angels were daughters of Allah, they were shameful of even listening to or hearing the word ‘girl’ and felt uneasy and unfortunate for having a daughter born to their household.

:Documenting its claims by their own logic, the Qur’ān affirms

Has your Lord then distinguished you by giving you sons, and has taken daughters “
”... ?(for Himself) from among the angels

Undoubtedly, daughters just in the same way as sons are surely both from among the Divine blessings and there is no difference between them in value from humankind
.point of view

However, the Holy Qur’ān seeks to condemn them with their own logic, questioning them as to how ignorant they are by attributing to their Lord what they would .themselves be ashamed of having in their own possession

:Later, at the end of the holy verse, as a decisive verdict, the Qur’ān declares
.Verily, you are uttering a grievous saying ...“

This is a statement which is incompatible with all kinds of logical reasoning and it is :without solid foundations on several grounds, for Your belief in Him having a child is a grave insult to His sanctuary, because He is (١) neither composed of matter; nor does He require any physical provisions; nor does

.He require the survival of His generation

Why is it that you regard all of Allah’s children as being daughters while you (٢)
?consider girls as having the lowest possible status

Moreover, this belief is also regarded as an insult to the status of the Divine angels (٣) who are the followers of the truth and the near-stationed of His presence. You get furious upon hearing the name ‘girls’ while you regard girls as close associates of the .Divine domain

And certainly We have explained (the facts in various ways) in this Qur’ān so that “ ٤١ .they may receive admonition, but it does not add to them save aversion

Commentary: verse ٤١

The Qur’ānic phrase /sarrafnā/ (We have explained) refers to the varied explanation and different reiterations of it for the clarification of the issue in question. Man is searching for variations by nature; whether in the natural sphere or in the domain of the Divine Book and, hence, this is the secret of some repetitions and variations of the statements in the Qur’ān

As raining over an infected corpse produces foul odour and a stinking smell, the introduction of the Divine verses into the realm of the arrogant and some obstinate people who are so habituated, leads to their further detestation

Therefore, the holy verse implies that Allah has thus far reiterated His proofs in the noble Qur’ān, citing in detail, their significance and proverbial sayings and whatever else has been instructive and wise so that they can contemplate and make sure of their truthfulness.

:The verse says

And certainly We have explained (the facts in various ways) in this Qur'ān so that “ they may

”... ,receive admonition

However, those pagans do not benefit from these instructive matters and they :always add up to their abomination and hatred unto the truth. The verse says

”...but it does not add to them save aversion ...“

One can, in the meantime, draw up this conclusion with regard to educational objectives that there is not necessarily a limited number of ways to gain the better educational aims. On the contrary, there exist various means and methods which can be utilized, for there are individuals differences in interests and in abilities which must be taken into account and one must infiltrate in a different manner in each of the .cases. This point is also one of the methods of eloquence employed in expression

Commentary: verse ٤٢

The pagans believed in the Lord and regarded ‘Allah’ as the creator of the world of Nevertheless, they used to consider the icons as their intercessors or as the Lord’s partners. This verse refutes the existence of such a relationship between the Lord and the icons, for the idols can neither grasp the power from the hands of the great

.Almighty; nor can they find the means for their own reinforcement

The hierarchy of the system of creation proves best the monotheistic nature of Allah.
Were there other gods besides the Almighty, that would certainly require competition,
.in which case, there would necessarily be disruptions appearing in the entire system

Therefore, this noble verse alludes to one of the evidences for monotheism, which, in the context of literature of the scientists and the philosophers, has been referred to as ‘the mutual hindrance proof’. This means that type of the anarchical world run by ‘dualism’ the nature of which requires the existence of various gods, centered around all kinds of disruptions(١). It is for this reason that the Qur’ān addresses the

If there were other gods, truly speaking, such a kind of struggle and incompatibility over the extension of their power would result in anarchy and disruptions in all spheres of life. The verse says Glory be to Him and Exalted is He far above from what they say! He is High, the “

The objective in mentioning superiority in this connection, is excellence in the Lord’s attributes which are unmatched by any means and unequalled for any one else, because none is more omnipotent and omniscient than Him. In other words, the Lord .is far superior and pure to what they claim

The seven heavens and the earth, and every being therein, celebrate His glory, “ .٤٤ and there is not single thing but glorifies Him with His Praise, but you do not ”.understand their glorification; verily He is Forbearing, Forgiving

Commentary: verse ٤٤

This noble verse proclaims that all the cosmic order has its own way of glorification, prostration, and individual prayer for the Lord (s.w.t.). Some commentators claim that this type of glorification is of a genetic kind. That is, the structural part of the existence of every particle in the world, is a sign and a symbol of the Lord’s Will, Wisdom, .Knowledge, and of His Justice

Others are of the opinion that the world of existence has its own kind of consciousness and knowledge, and all are glorifying at all times though our ears are incapable of hearing their voice. This latter view is more consonant with the apparent form of the verses. Vocalization of the things is not impossibility, for such a process will actualize in the Hereafter. “... they shall say: ‘Allah’, Who makes everything speak, (has made us speak, ...” (Sura Fuṣṣilat, No. ٤١, verse ٢١

Even stones have got and possess sensibilities and feel frightened, and, for fear of the Lord, they fall down from the mountains. “... and others tumble down through fear of (Allah, ...” (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ٧٤

Solomon (a.s.) could understand the medium of expression used by ants and was in full command of the expression symbols used by birds. A kind of bird called ‘Hud Hud’ used to inspect and recognize the deviation shown by some people and came to report it to Solomon

The Lord, in many cases of the revelations, used to address the mountains. For example, He tells them to pray along with Dawūd, saying: “... O’ mountains! Sing (praises with him, ...” (Sura Saba’, No. ۳۴, verse ۱۰

There are frequent allusions made to the glorification by all beings, besides the above cases, in the Qur’ān

(We also have it in quotations that bees glorify Allah. (Bihār, vol. ۹۵, p. ۳۷۲

A small pebble which was in the hands of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), testified as to the (legitimacy of the Prophet’s mission (p.b.u.h.). (Tafsīr-i-Al-Mīzān

(The shrill voices of the birds are their way of glorification of Allah. (Bihār, vol. ۶۴, p. ۲۷

All the above Islamic quotations refer to the real cases of glorification and they do not include their non-verbal language

:A Persian poetry says

Every one is using one way for You glorification and thankfulness to You. A “nightingale goes on twittering sonnets while ‘qomrī’ sings common songs.” “The entire particles of the world are addressing You during day and night and in private

They say: We are all-eyes all-ears, and all well-aware though we remain voiceless“ when we are with you

Later, to prove the magnitude of the position of the Lord and that it is aside from the imagination of the pagans, the Qur'ān refers to the glorification of the beings of the world in the presence of His

:Sacred Essence, when it says

The seven heavens and the earth, and every being therein, celebrate His glory, and “
”... ,there is not single thing but glorifies Him with His Praise

The profoundly deep universe of such magnitude with its amazing system and with all .those secrets along with its breath-taking art all glorify and thank Him

Nevertheless, He is forbearing and forgiving, at the same time, and you will not be immediately interrogated and questioned for your paganism and disbelief. Contrarily, He will provide you with an adequate respite while He will be leaving the gates of :repentance open to you so as to complete the argument to you. The verse says

”but you do not understand their glorification; verily He is Forbearing, Forgiving ...“

(٤٥) وَإِذَا قَرَأْتَ الْقُرْآنَ جَعَلْنَا بَيْنَكَ وَبَيْنَ الَّذِينَ لَا يُؤْمِنُونَ بِالْآخِرَةِ حِجَابًا مَسْتُورًا

And when you recite the Qur’ān, We place between you, and those who do not “ .٤٥
”believe in the Hereafter, a hidden barrier

:Occasion of the Revelation

This noble verse has been descended with regard to a group of pagans who used to do harm to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) while he used to read the Qur’ān at night within a corner of the House of Ka‘bah. They used to throw stone at him and they also used to .obstruct or stand in the way of him to invite people to embrace Islam

The Lord, through His grace, made it impossible for them to hurt him. Perhaps, it was .(owing to the awe and fear which He inspired in them from the Prophet (p.b.u.h

Commentary: verse ٤٥

Pursuing our discussion of the previous holy verses, this question may be raised for some as to how it is that the pagans avoid accepting the reality of the issue of monotheism despite its self-explanatory nature which is widely accepted by all beings .of the world and testified by them

Why is it that they hear the eloquently expressed and explicit verses of the Qur’ān :and do not wake up? The Lord proclaims to the Prophet

And when you recite the Qur'ān, We place between you, and those who do not “
”.believe in the Hereafter, a hidden barrier

This ‘veil’ or ‘barrier’ was that same obstinacy, tenacity, egotism, arrogance and ignorance which used to hinder them from having access to the Qur'ānic facts, putting them at a dead end in their mental and rational quest for knowledge, and would not permit them to grasp or acquire an understanding of such obvious facts as monotheism, resurrection, and the authenticity of the call of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and .the like

It is for this reason that we declare that if somebody intends to follow the straight path of the truth, remaining secure from deviations and seductions, he must, first of .all, seek to reform and reconstruct his own self

(٤٦) وَجَعَلْنَا عَلَى قُلُوبِهِمْ أَكِنَّةً أَنْ يَفْقَهُوهُ وَفِي آذَانِهِمْ وَقْرًا وَإِذَا ذَكَرْتَ رَبَّكَ فِي الْقُرْآنِ وَحْدَهُ وَلَوَّا عَلَى أَدْبَارِهِمْ نُفُورًا

And We have placed coverings on their hearts lest they should understand it (the “ .٤٦ Qur’ān) and in their ears a heaviness. And when you mention your Lord alone in the Qur’ān, they turn their backs in aversion

Commentary: verse ٤٦

The Arabic term /’akinnah/ is the plural form of /kanān/ or /kann/, which signifies some .means of covering

The Qur’ānic term /waqr/ means ‘partial deafness’. We have verses similar to this one in other Suras as well! We have over a thousand times the term monotheism, reiterated in the Qur’ān, though, it is unfortunate that the blind-hearted ones are deprive and are being at an unease when hearing those verses regarding monotheism. However, they are pleased to hear words of praise for paganism and .absurd materials

Nowadays, whenever the issue monotheism is discussed, some detest it, though they are being attracted to the remarks made by the Eastern or the Western agents. The Qur’ān says: “And when Allah alone is mentioned, the hearts of those who do not believe in the Hereafter shrink, and when those besides Him are mentioned, lo! They (are joyful.” (Sura Az-Zumar, No. ٣٩, verse ٤٥

The blissful Qur’ān has compared such escapist groups from the truth to the donkeys (which flee from the lions. (Sura Al-Muddaththir, No. ٧٤, verse ٥٠

Certainly, a confined soul and a dead heart does not receive the true spirit of the knowledge and wisdom which are offered by the Qur'ān, for hearing and simple understanding of the facts of the Qur'ān is different from the understanding in depth of them and the ensuing pleasure which one obtains this way. The verse says

And We have placed coverings on their hearts lest they should understand it (the “Qur'ān) and in their ears a heaviness. And when you mention your Lord alone in the Qur'ān, they turn their backs in aversion

We are well-aware of what they listen to when they are listening to you, and “ .٤٧ when they are whispering (with each other), when the unjust say (unto the believers)! “You are thus following none but a man bewitched

Commentary: verse ٤٧

We have it in commentaries that each one of the chiefs of pagans used to attend behind the house of the Prophet secretly and without informing each other so that, in the darkness of night, they could hear the voice of the Qur’ān and thereupon analyze it. They would bump into each other at times in the darkness and recognized one another, and thus, blamed themselves, reaffirming the fact that while they could not dispense with the voice of Muhammad (p.b.u.h.), how could then they expect the common folk to behave in this respect. This noble verse sympathizes with the Messenger of Allah, recommending him not to despair because of the lack of respect which the pagans showed towards him, for everything is clear before Him. It is for this reason that He says

We are well-aware of what they listen to when they are listening to you, and when “ they are whispering (with each other), when the unjust say (unto the believers)! “You are thus following none but a man bewitched

The main aim is that We are aware of their mood while they are listening to the Qur’ān and once they leave you, engage themselves in praying, some call you a sorcerer, others regard you as a poet, and, as they notice the respect of people to the Divine leaders, they hit them by false accusations

(٤٨) انظُرْ كَيْفَ ضَرَبُوا لَكَ الْأَمْثَالَ فَضَلُّوا فَلَا يَسْتَطِيعُونَ سَبِيلًا

O' Prophet!) Behold how they strike similitudes for you, so they have gone astray,) “ ٤٨ .
”.(therefore, they cannot find the way (to truth

:Occasion of the Revelation

Ibn Abbas asserts that: Abū Sufyān, Abu Jahl, and the like sometimes came to call on the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and listened to his words. One day, one of them told others: “I have not got any idea as to what Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) says. I only notice that his lips move.” However, Abu Sufyān answered: “I am of the opinion that some of his words are truthful.” Abū Jahl suggested: “He is crazy”, while Abū Lahab added: “He is a soothsayer.” The other one said: “He is a poet,” under which circumstances of futile speech and inconvenient accusations, the verse was revealed

Commentary: verse ٤٨

In this noble verse, again addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), He declares in a short statement, which is a pounding answer and a blow to this seduced group, implying: Watch carefully as to how they are setting examples in your case. One is calling you a sorcerer while the other one calls you as someone bewitched; one calls you a soothsayer while the other ones call you insane and, therefore, they are all being seduced and, hence, unable to discover the truth for themselves. The verse says

p: ٤٨٤

O' Prophet!) Behold how they strike similitudes for you, so they have gone astray,) “
”.(therefore, they cannot find the way (to truth

This does not imply that the path leading towards the truth is not transparent and the profile of the truth remains hidden. On the contrary, they have not got the right kind of eyes to see, and, hence, they have lost their rational attitude because of their tenacity, ignorance, fanaticism, and obstinacy which have all put their sense of
.reasoning out of work

(٤٩) وَقَالُوا أَإِذَا كُنَّا عِظَامًا وَرُفَاتًا أَإِنَّا لَمَبْعُوثُونَ خَلْقًا جَدِيدًا

(٥٠) قُلْ كُونُوا حِجَارَةً أَوْ حَدِيدًا

And they say: ‘What! When we are bones and (scattered) dust, shall we then “ .٤٩
”?’certainly be raised up into a new creation

”,Say: ‘(Nay!) be you stones or iron “ .٥٠

Commentary: verse ٤٩–٥٠

The Arabic term /rufāt/ signifies shredded clay (Mufradāt Rāqib). In the verses of the Qur’ān, no reason has been stated by the disbelievers for their rejection due to resurrection. All one finds in them consist of astonishments, questionings and remoteness everywhere. By putting forth some queries in this connection, they seek .to incite skepticism in others

The Qur’ān, in answer to them, relies on knowledge as well as Allah’s power and Wisdom in the process of creation. There are also examples offered from nature and historical records as well as, from man, himself which were non-existent at first and .emerged later on. Therefore, the Lord is able to re-create all beings after death

Thus, in the previous verses, the issue dealt with concerned ‘monotheism’ itself as well as campaign against paganism. Nonetheless, the great issue involved in here relates to the Resurrection, which tends to supplement the significant issue of monotheism and which provides the answers to the three queries raised by .disbelievers of resurrection

They asked: Once we are spread around as decayed bones, shall we be surely raised
?up again; thus recreated once again

Such a statement exhibits the fact that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) always tended to discuss the significant issue of the ‘physical resurrection’, asserting the fact that one’s body will be reassembled after being scattered, otherwise, if the issue involved related to the matter of “spiritual resurrection”, the objections raised by the opponents would, by no means, make any sense at all

In the interpretation of the ensuing verse, while facing the challenges of the pagans who asked as to how they would be enlivened and mustered in the Hereafter, in which case they would be nothing except remaining bones and dust, the Lord, addressing the Prophet, responds: O’ Muhammad (p.b.u.h.)! Say to them! The bones are peanuts while if you were made up of stones and iron He could re-enliven you, returning to you the joy and freshness of life as well. The verse says

And they say: ‘What! When we are bones and (scattered) dust, shall we then “?”’ certainly be raised up into a new creation

”, Say: ‘(Nay!) be you stones or iron “

Commentary: verse ٥١

Man will be dismembered and turned into dust after death, but the earth is the source of everything which provides man with life. Plants grow out of soil and living beings flourish on the soil. Therefore, to re-enliven the dead out of soil is not to be considered as an ordeal by the Lord, given the fact that you have such materials as iron and stone even creatures in mind which are harder than soil and which are far more remote from life than soil, the Lord is, hence, capable of re-enlivening and re-invigorating :them as well as everything. The verse says

”... ’!Or any (other) creature harder in your minds “

The rejecters of Resurrection have got no reason for denying it. The only question relating to the fact as to when and how are we going to be enliven, and by who? The answer provided by the Qur’ān is that that same Lord Who has created you in the first place, has also got the power to re-create you as well. The timing of this is not at all :far away; maybe it is coming soon. The verse continues saying

”... ’?They will immediately say: ‘Who will return us ...“

Ultimately, to their astonishment, they shake their heads at you, asking you when this resurrection occurs and has its timing? The verse adds

Say: ‘He Who created you the first time.’ Then, they will shake their heads at you, ...“
:and say

”... ?When will it be‘

By raising this objection, in fact, they wanted to unveil this matter that supposing this ‘earthly matter’ is convertible into human shape and supposing we accept the power of Allah with respect to this, this issue is a long-term promise which is far from clear as to when that will take place. The Qur’ān, answers them

”.’Say: ‘Maybe it will be nigh ...“

Certainly, it is approaching soon, for the entire life-span of this world is very short and .is just a passing moment when compared to the endless life in the Hereafter

Moreover, if the resurrection was to be regarded as far away by our small and limited criteria, the threshold of the resurrection day, which is death, is not far away, for your death is ‘a minor resurrection day’ as compared to the ‘major resurrection’ when it is .time for the evaluation of the acts of human beings

A day when He will call you forth, then you shall answer with His praise, yet “ ٥٢ .
”.(thinking that you have tarried but a little while (in the world or in the purgatory

Commentary: verse ٥٢

Without mentioning any accurate date for the resurrection day, the Qur’ān mentions some of the characteristics of it in this noble verse, implying that: This return to life is that same day on which you will be called forth from your tombs, and you will accept the call while praising the Lord. The holy verse says

”... A day when He will call you forth, then you shall answer with His praise “

It is the same day when the distance between death and resurrection, that is, the purgatory, will be regarded as a short time by you. You will then realize that you have only paused for a moment in the purgatory. The verse in this regard says yet thinking that you have tarried but a little while (in the world or in the ... “

”.(purgatory

Some of the commentators of the glorious Qur’ān are of the belief that this verse is being addressed to the believers, for, it is they who will answer the Lord while praise Him, and it is they who regard their stay in the purgatory as short, for, they have had a happy time in their graves and have received no punishment therein. Obviously, the days of joy and happiness are short

Point

Muslims enjoined to be gentle in their dealings – To beware of Satan who sows dissensions and who is an Open Enemy of man – Punishment for transgression is a .decreed and prescribed law of Allah

(۵۳) وَقُلْ لِعِبَادِي يَقُولُوا الَّتِي هِيَ أَحْسَنُ إِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ يَنْزِعُ بَيْنَهُمْ إِنَّ الشَّيْطَانَ كَانَ لِلْإِنْسَانِ عَدُوًّا مُّبِينًا

And say to My servants to speak what is best. Verily, the Satan sows dissensions “ ۵۳. ”.among them. Verily the Satan unto man is an open enemy

Commentary: verse ۵۳

As the discussion in the foregoing verses centered around the issues of the origin and the resurrection and the proofs regarding these two main ideological beliefs, here the Qur’ān instructs the manner of conducting a dialogue and disputation with the dissidents, especially the pagans, for, no matter how elevated in rank the school might be, the powerful logic will also be rendered useless, but if it is not coupled with correct methods, discussion and disputations, and instead of affection and favour .harshness and rudeness prevail, it will be fruitless

:Therefore, the verse proclaims

”... And say to My servants to speak what is best “

The best, in here, signifies what is most appropriate from the view point of content, eloquence, and that which is best in terms of ethical virtues and humanitarian methods, for, if one distances himself from what is best speech, and tends to rudeness and quarrelsomeness in his words, it recalls the Satan's interference and inciting

:corruption amongst them. The verse says

”... .Verily, the Satan sows dissensions among them ...“

Do not remain heedless of the fact that the Satan does not remain idle. The Satan is always round the corner, for he has always been an open enemy of mankind. The holy
:verse continues saying

”.Verily the Satan unto man is an open enemy ...“

Sometimes, the believers who had recently accepted the faith, following their previous ancient habits, used to provoke aggression against those who opposed
.them

Moreover, those humiliating expressions of the dissidents towards the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), some of which were mentioned in the previous verses, such as: sorcerer, insane, soothsayer, poet, etc... sometimes caused the believers to lose control of themselves and raise up against the opponents in a verbal attack, saying whatever they wanted. The Qur'ān seeks to hinder them from such things, persuading them to call with leniency and selection of softest words so as to prevent the Satan from
.inciting corruption

(٥٤) رَبُّكُمْ أَعْلَمُ بِكُمْ إِنَّ يَشَاءُ يَرْحَمَكُمُ أَوْ إِنْ يَشَاءُ يُعَذِّبِكُمْ وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَاكَ عَلَيْهِمْ وَكِيلًا

Your Lord is more knowledgeable about you than yourself. He will have mercy on “ .٥٤ you if He pleases, or He will punish you (for your behaviour) if He pleases, and We ” .have not sent you as a warden over them

Commentary: verse ٥٤

In the previous verse, the stress was based on one’s manner of speech with soft words. In this verse, there are some of its aspects explained as follows: One must not regard himself as superior to others. One must not humiliate others, not even calling the pagans as ‘hell-inhabitants’ while declaring oneself to be one of those who go to the Paradise, for such a manner leads to rebellion and sedition. Moreover, how on earth do we know about the happy ending of each of us? Allah is more :knowledgeable; He excuses if He pleases and punishes if He pleases. The verse says

Your Lord is more knowledgeable about you than yourself. He will have mercy on “
” ... ,you if He pleases, or He will punish you (for your behaviour) if He pleases

In the end, concluding the verse, He addresses the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and, in order to console him for the extraordinary unease which he had suffered at the hands of the :pagans as a result of their lack of faith, He says

” .and We have not sent you as a warden over them ... “

So that you feel as the advocate of the people which compels you to make them definitely embrace the faith. It is your duty to openly take the message to them, and call them earnestly to the truth. If they embrace the faith, so much the better for .them; otherwise, no harm will be done to you

(٥٥) وَرَبُّكَ أَعْلَمُ بِمَن فِي السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَلَقَدْ فَضَّلْنَا بَعْضَ النَّبِيِّينَ عَلَى بَعْضٍ وَآتَيْنَا دَاوُدَ زَبُورًا

And your Lord is more knowledgeable than any one who is in the heavens and the “ ٥٥ earth; and, certainly, We have made some of the prophets excel others, and to David “We gave ‘Zabūr

Commentary: verse ٥٥

In the previous verse, the issue in question involved the knowledge of Allah in connection with man. In this verse, the issue in question relates to His knowledge over :all the beings whether the celestial or earthly ones. The verse says

And your Lord is more knowledgeable than any one who is in the heavens and the “ ... ;earth

In other words, in this verse the meaning is beyond that, implying that Allah is aware not only of your status but also of that of all those who are in the skies and on the earth and He is the most aware of every one and knows their value better. Then whoever He elects from among the angels and the prophets for a matter is not undue that merely He pleases it, but since He is aware of the true innate value of them and :knows them eligible for the job, He elects them. Then He adds

”... ,and, certainly, We have made some of the prophets excel others ...“

By saying: ‘We have made some prophets excel others’, here is meant the “Ulul‘azm’, :’prophets of the Book

We have it in traditions that there have been one hundred and twenty four thousand prophets, some of whom have been appointed for all the people and possess :’celestial Books some, also, were commissioned for a particular region or over a certain group of people and were under the command of a greater prophet, carrying out his mission

In other words, although prophets were placed at the highest echelon of virtues, there was a hierarchy for them which ranked them at various levels, excelling some over the others

This sentence is, in fact, an answer to one of the objections of the pagans, who used to claim in a humiliating tone of voice that: Had the Lord not any one else other than the orphan Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) to appoint as a prophet? Moreover, what made him be the leading figure among all the prophets and the ‘Seal of the Prophets

The Qur’ān implies that it is not astonishing that Allah is aware of the human values of every single individual and, hence, He has selected His prophets from among the bulk of the people. He has bestowed one with the title of “khalīl-ullah” (the friend of Allah). He has conferred the title of “Rūh-ullah” on another one of His prophets. He has (selected the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) as “Habīb-ullah” (the friend of Allah

Briefly speaking, He has made some superior to others in His blessings in accordance with the criteria which He himself deems fit and His Wisdom so deems worthy of

Although Dawood was in charge of a vast territory, the Lord does not regard this matter as his prime object of pride. On the contrary, He regards the Book of ‘Zabūr’ as what he must take pride in so that the pagans become aware of the fact that the glory of man does not depend on his wealth or property or his authority or his apparent domination. At the same time, being an orphan or being stripped off all of one’s belongings will not indicate to the blame of him. The verse concludes

”and to David We gave ‘Zabūr ...“

(٥٦) قُلِ ادْعُوا الَّذِينَ زَعَمْتُمْ مِنْ دُونِهِ فَلَا يَمْلِكُونَ كَشْفَ الضَّرِّ عَنْكُمْ وَلَا تَحْوِيلًا

Say: Call on those whom you asserted (to be your god) besides Him; so they shall “ ٥٦ .
”.(neither have the ability of removing the affliction from you, nor to change (it

Commentary: verse ٥٦

To call on any one other than the Lord, and to put one’s hope into this matter, is merely a daydream, for no one else but Allah is able to remove the dangers or .transfer them to another one or, to convert or to reduce them by any means

Incidentally, one’s belief in intercession occurring by Allah’s saints of removing the difficulties and chastisement takes place by Allah’s permission, and is a different .matter

This verse, once again, deals with the pagans and, pursuing past discussions, the :Qur’ān addresses the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and declares

Say: Call on those whom you asserted (to be your god) besides Him; so they shall “
”.(neither have the ability of removing the affliction from you, nor to change (it

In fact, this verse, as many of other verses of the Qur’ān, obliterates the logic of the pagans in this way which holds that the worship of the idols is either for the sake of acquiring benefits or for the sake of repelling harms; but, they have got no power of .their own to solve difficulties, nor would they be able to displace any of them

The application of the Arabic pronoun /’allaōina/ in this verse explains the point that the objective in here does not exclude all the worshipping objects other than ‘Allah’, but the aim expressed here refers to such objects of worship like angels, Haḍrat .Massih (a.s.) and the like

(٥٧) أُولَئِكَ الَّذِينَ يَدْعُونَ يَبْتَغُونَ إِلَىٰ رَبِّهِمُ الْوَسِيلَةَ أَيُّهُمْ أَقْرَبُ وَيَرْجُونَ رَحْمَتَهُ وَيَخَافُونَ عَذَابَهُ إِنَّ عَذَابَ رَبِّكَ كَانَ مَحْذُورًا

Those whom they call upon, themselves search for means of approaching their “ ٥٧. Lord which of them is nearer, and they hope for His mercy, and fear His punishment. ”.Verily, the punishment of your Lord is to be dreaded of

Commentary: verse ٥٧

Some commentators are of the opinion that the prophets who call the people to the path of the truth, they themselves seek some means of support, especially the ones who can make them nigh to Allah closer and in a speedier manner, or the mediation of .every prophet who is in closer proximity to Allah

In numerous quotations, we have it under this verse that the two sides of the balance between fear and hope must be paralleled, otherwise, the person who is being involved, will either become desperate or arrogant (as a result of being unduly .(hopeful

Anyway, this verse in fact provides justification for what was mentioned in the previous verse. It implies whether you know why they are unable to solve your problem without the Lord’s permission. The reason why they do such a thing is that they invoke to the Lord for solving their own difficulties. They try to approach His :Pure Essence, asking Him for whatever they wish. The verse says

Those whom they call upon, themselves search for means of approaching their Lord “ ...

”... ,which of them is nearer ...“

”... ,and they hope for His mercy ...“

”... .and fear His punishment ...“

The reason why it is so is that the punishment inflicted by Him is so grave in intensity
:that it is always to be avoided. The verse continues saying

”.Verily, the punishment of your Lord is to be dreaded of ...“

In other words, the verse means: those prophets and angels, whom you call gods, try to find access to Allah through praying and worshipping to be might to Allah so that it becomes transparent that whose position would be ranked as higher before the Lord. That is, when the prophets, with the high rank and honour that they have with Him and are nearer to Him than you do not worship any one but Allah, and seek for a mean to approach Him, then why should you not be as such, you that are not nearer to Allah? Therefore, the worship of the Lord alone, and the abandoning of polytheism and dualism in matters of worship are all more indispensable for you. Thus, the Lord
.seeks to urge the people to imitate the prophets

Some, however, claim that the angels and Haḍrat Massih etc, whom you are regarding as god, are only subservient to the Lord themselves and seek to approach Him and come into closer proximity to Allah through their acts of worship, thus coming into closer contact with His Mercy. Or else, they yearn to know which of them is in
.closer proximity to the Allah’s grace

Nevertheless, they try to seek forgiveness from the Lord, hoping for His mercy and grace through their obedience, and fearing His reappraisals because of unruly. Just .like all of the servants of Allah, they, too, follow the path of worship

.Yes, the punishment of your Lord is too hard for you to bear, and all must avoid it

(٥٨) وَإِنْ مِنْ قَرْيَةٍ إِلَّا نَحْنُ مُهْلِكُوهَا قَبْلَ يَوْمِ الْقِيَامَةِ أَوْ مُعَذِّبُوهَا عَذَابًا شَدِيدًا كَانَ ذَلِكَ فِي الْكِتَابِ مَسْطُورًا

And there is not a town but We shall annihilate it before the Day of Resurrection “ ٥٨ or chastise it with a severe chastisement. That is written in the Book, (the Protected Table).”

Commentary: verse ٥٨

The Arabic term /qaryah/ refers to the gathering place of people, whether it is a town or a village. The objective of the Qur’ānic term /’al kitāb/ here is either the ‘Protected Tablet’ or the Qur’ān in which the reasons for the fall and annihilation of the nations are explained.

Therefore, following our discussion about the pagans, which we noted concerning monotheism and resurrection in the foregoing verses, this noble verse, with an awakening tone, advises them and illustrates the end and the annihilation of this world in face of their rational vision, so that they may know that this world is a mortal one and the eternal world remains elsewhere, thus preparing themselves for the consequences of their behaviour. The verse says

And there is not a town but We shall annihilate it before the Day of Resurrection or “ ...chastise it with a severe chastisement

Those who engage in evil acts and are oppressive, and the stiff-necked unruly, are to be wiped out by Allah’s punishment, and the rest will be annihilated by death due to the natural causes or by common accidents

Eventually, this world will end and all will pave the path of annihilation. This is a decisively obvious principal which is registered in the Divine Book, (the ‘Protected :Table’). The verse remarks

”.(That is written in the Book, (the Protected Table ...“

And nothing prevented Us that We should send the signs (requested by the “ ٥٩ people) save that the former nations rejected them; and We gave to Thamūd the She-Camel, a manifest sign, but they did injustice unto her; and We do not send signs (requested) but to warn

Commentary: verse ٥٩

The pretext seeking pagans of Mecca used to ask the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) for miracles frequently, among which was that they wanted him to turn some of the mountains of Mecca (the Safā Mountain) into gold, or to displace mountains and agricultural land be made available in their place. The Lord declares that, according to the historical experiences, the obstinate pagans would not embrace the faith by witnessing such signs either, and the system of creation will not be made subservient to the obstinate individuals.

If a miracle is performed according to the request of the people, and they still remain disbelievers, their worldly chastisement is certain to take place.

A camel is an animal. However, the Lord, with respect to the camel of Sālih, says: (nāqatullah), (the She-Camel of Allah).

Since whatever relates to the Lord in some ways possesses sanctity. Even for the name of Abu-Lahab, because it is in the Qur’ān, one can not touch it before making ritual ablution.

:Miracles are of two types

Some miracles are such that, without them, one cannot acquire cognition of the . ۱ prophecy. Obviously, such miracles must take place, whether the people embrace the .faith or they do not

Others are because of Allah's grace, and may lead to the increase in one's faith. . ۲
.These miracles are done by the grace of the Lord

Those miracles which are outside the category of the two, are not shown by the Lord.
Thus, He implies: We do not send Our verses for the fact that your forefathers had requested such verses to become believer and once We sent them, they refused to embrace the faith. You, too, follow their path, and will refuse to believe as they did.
:The verse says

And nothing prevented Us that We should send the signs (requested by the people) “
”... ;save that the former nations rejected them

:Then, the Qur'ān points the finger to a clear example of the issue by saying

”... ,and We gave to Thamūd the She-Camel, a manifest sign ...“

It was the same camel which came out of the mountain upon Allah's command, for they had requested such a miracle: an illuminating miracle. Nonetheless, they refused to become believers, so they did harm to that she-camel, and killed her. The verse
:says

”... ;but they did injustice unto her ...“

In principle, it is not Allah's procedure that everyone who requests a miracle, the prophet submits to his request, and He does not send the verses and the miracles except for inspiring awe in people and delivering an ultimatum to them. The verse
:says

”and We do not send signs (requested) but to warn ...“

In other words, Allah (s.w.t.) makes His verses and miracles apparent through the prophets so that, by witnessing them, the people receive instructions, fearing Allah’s punishment and embrace the faith

:Explanations

The prophets were always entangled with obstinate individuals despite having . ١
”... ;various miracles. “... save that the former notions rejected them

Allah is all-powerful in every situation, though His procedure is based upon wisdom, . ٢
.and not that of the gratification of the people’s desires

Sacrilege and the denial of the miracles will lead to the Divine fury and . ٣ chastisement. “... and We gave to Thamūd the She-Camel, a manifest sign, but they ”... ;did injustice unto her

Miracles serve as the means for the people’s cognition, enlightenment, and as . ٤

And (remember) when We said to you: ‘Verily your Lord encompasses the “ ٦٠. people;’ and we did not make the dream which We showed you and the cursed tree in the Qur’ān, save (as) a trial for the people; and We cause them to fear, but it only
”.increases them in great insolence

Commentary: verse ٦٠

Now, the Lord, addressing His Prophet (p.b.u.h.), states that he should remember the time when He told him: his Lord is knowledgeable about the state of the people and their good and bad deeds, and He knows who merits rewards and who deserves punishments. He is All-powerful for the punishment and reward of the people. Therefore, all are within the range and scope of His power, and no one is capable of :exceeding the limits of His Will and Providence. The holy verse says ’;And (remember) when We said to you: ‘Verily your Lord encompasses the people “

” ...

Thus, Allah encourages the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to go on with his process of propagation, and He promises him that He will save him from the harm of the people, and,
.eventually, He will conquer Mecca for him

Incidentally, the issue involved in the previous holy verse concerned the killing of Sālih’s she-camel, and in this verse, the issue in question deals with the whole damned lot who were

:the murderers of ‘Ahl-ul-Bayt’, the ‘Prophet’s household’. The verse continues saying and we did not make the dream which We showed you and the cursed tree in the ... “
”... ;Qur’ān, save (as) a trial for the people

We have it in the quotations that the Ahl-ul-Bayt remarked: “We are no less in position than the Sālih’s she-camel. Any insult to us would lead to annihilation.” (Bihār, vol. ۲۸, p.
(۲۰۵, and vol. ۵۰, p. ۱۹۲

In the blissful Qur’ān, there are several dreams cited for the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.), one of which has been cited at the time of the outbreak of the ‘Battle of Badr’, in which, the Lord degraded and minimized the enemies in the sight of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) so that the Muslims would not lose courage. (Sura Al-’Anfāl, No. ۸, (verse ۴۳

Another dream came upon him when he dreamed about the victorious arrival into (Masjid-ul-Harām. (Sura Al-Fath, No. ۴۸, verse ۲۷

A third dream was the one which is referred to in this verse. The first two dreams took place after the Hejrah and in Medina, while this third one came about in Mecca. Of course, some ascribe the dream in relation to ‘Mi’rāj’ (Muhammad’s ascension to Heaven) while the ‘Mi’rāj’ took place in full awakening state but dreams come about
.while one is asleep

That dream and the state of that cursed lot (the cursed tree) are the same and identical, for their end-result is one and the same. That is, they both provide the roots
.of evil for the people

The Lord indicated this ‘cursed tree’ and their acts in dream to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) while he was asleep, saying that this is the cause of the evil of your people, and with the holy sentence: "... 'Verily your Lord encompasses the people;' ..." Allah sought to console

.him

The Arabic term /šajarah/ signifies both 'a tree' as well as whatever else has got branches and offshoots. Therefore, it also refers to 'a tribe'. The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) also remarked: "Ali and I are both from one tribe (the same 'pedigree' and 'line')." ((Bihār, vol. ۳۸, p. ۳۰۹

This term also points to the chain of blood relations and race as in the case of 'family pedigree' which is called 'genealogical tree'. Therefore, the idiomatic expression 'the cursed tree', signify a whole lot of 'branches' and a well-rooted tribe which has got .off-shoots as well, and which is cursed

At the end of this verse, we have it that the Divine warning as for this 'cursed lot', or cursed tree, has brought no results except an increase in their viciousness and :rebellion. The holy verse says

"and We cause them to fear, but it only increases them in great insolence ..."

The phrase: /tuqyānan kabīr/ "great insolence", has only been mentioned once in the Qur'ān and only in this verse. Therefore, one must look out for a "cursed lot" and a tribe in the Qur'ān which has been Muslim in appearance but dissident and rebellious inwardly and in the real sense with a kind of hypocrisy which causes the trial and
.sedition for people

There are numerous causes of condemnation and cursing in the Qur'ān such as: the Satan, the Jews, the hypocrites, the pagans, and the scholars who cover-up the truth as well as those who inflict harm on the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). However, it is only the hypocrites who accompany the Muslims and cause them the maximum injury by their hypocrisy, for the Satan, the people of the Book, and the pagans indicate clearly what they are, while the hypocrites, apparently Muslims, have always been the agents for (.sedition. (Tafsīr–Al–Mizān, under this verse

Some have held the opinion that the ‘cursed tree’ consist of the ‘tree of Zaqqūm’ which, in Hell, is the means of the Divine chastisement. But there are also other things which have been used as the Divine punishment as well, and they do not provide sings for the condemnation of those means, like the River Nile, which drowned Pharaoh, or the angels who inflicted punishment on certain peoples, or the believers who served as the arms of Allah in punishment and annihilation of the pagans. “Fight them (and) (Allah will punish them at your hands...” (Sura At–Taubah, No. ٩, verse ١٤

Alameh Tabātabā’ī (q.s.), in his discussion dealing with the quotations concerning ‘Sura Al–Qadr, No. ٩٧’, quotes from some outstanding of Sunni sources such as: Khatīb Baqdādī, Turmathī, Ibn–Jarīr, Tabarānī, Bīhaqī, Ibn Mardooyah, as well as Shi‘ah sources such as Kāfī, etc, that the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) dreamed of panthers climbing his pulpit and it saddened him greatly. Gabriel descended when the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) recounted his dream for him. Gabriel ascended to the heaven, and, on his return, He brought along with him the following verses: “Have you then considered if We let them enjoy themselves for years.” “Then there comes to them that with which they are threatened,” “That which they were made to enjoy shall not avail them?” (Sura Ash–Shu‘arā, No. ٢٦, verses ٢٠٥–٢٠٧

This dream also caused the descending of Sura ‘Al–Qadr’ so as to comfort the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that if the ‘Umayyads’ ruled for a thousand months, We provided you with .the Night of ‘Qadr’ in exchange, which is better than a thousand months

The issue concerning the dreaming about the panthers, which overtook the government and were climbing the pulpit of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), has also been (quoted from Imam Bāqir and Imam Sādiq (a.s.) (Tafsīr-i-Tibyān

.The Sunni and Shī‘ah commentators regard the ‘Umayyads’ as the ‘cursed tree Imam Sajjād (a.s.) remarked: Gabriel adapted the panthers to the Umayyads. The (Prophet (p.b.u.h.) asked: “Does this event take place during my era?” (Tafsīr-i-Lāhijī

From among the Umayyads, the person who was most rebellious, and caused the advent of Karbala to come about, was ‘Yazīd’, and this calamity was the greatest rebellion throughout history

:Explanations

.The Lord uses the dreams at times to reveal some facts to the prophets and others .1

Every event, even interpretation of dreams, can be used as a means for the testing .2 of the people

Those tribes and groups who incite deviations are the ‘cursed tree’ “... and the .3
”... ;cursed tree in the Qur’ān save (as) a trial for the people

Issuing warnings to the people, even to the cursed tribes and the ‘cursed families’ is .4
among Allah’s ways of treatment

Warnings will have no impact on the tenacious people who are obstinate. ‘An iron .5
”nail will not penetrate stones’. “... but it only increase them in great insolence

****

Point

Satan refuses to pay obeisance to man thinking himself superior to man – Satan seeks respite to beguile man – Satan given respite but without any influence over Allah's selected servants – Man's ingratitude to Allah

(٦١) وَإِذْ قُلْنَا لِلْمَلَائِكَةِ اسْجُدُوا لِآدَمَ فَسَجَدُوا إِلَّا إِبْلِيسَ قَالَ أَأَسْجُدُ لِمَنْ خَلَقْتَ طِينًا

And (remember) when We said to the angels: 'Prostrate unto Adam'; so they (all) " ٦١. did prostrate except 'Iblīs who said: 'Am I to prostrate to the one You have created of " 'clay

Commentary: verse ٦١

Here, the Qur'ān alludes to the unruliness of 'Iblīs with regard to the Allah's command, concerning the issue of prostration to Adam, and the viscous fate awaiting him, sums up the story

Dealing with this issue, following the previous discussions about the obstinate pagans, indeed, reveals the fact that the complete and the total picture of arrogance, paganism, and unruliness has been the Satan. The Qur'ān points out as to how his fate ended; hence, the followers of the Satan will meet their doom in just the same :way. At first, He says

And (remember) when We said to the angels: 'Prostrate unto Adam'; so they (all) did " "... prostrate except 'Iblīs

This prostration is some kind of modesty and humbleness for the sake of the glorification of the creation of man and his excellence over other beings or else it has been of the sort that has been performed, facing Allah for the creation of such an amazing creature

The Satan which had been overwhelmed by arrogance and pride, and his egotism and conceit had covered a curtain over his intelligence, and thinking that ‘the earth’, which is the source of all blessings and the origin of all beings, is inferior to fire, addressing his objections to the Lord, the verse says about him

”?who said: ‘Am I to prostrate to the one You have created of clay ...“

Therefore, we repeatedly face the issue of the prostration of the angels in the Qur’ān, and the unruliness of the Satan in this connection

Iblīs is of the ‘Jinn’ lot, “... he was of the jinn, ...”<sup>(1)</sup> and has got an army: “And the host of Iblīs, all.”<sup>(2)</sup> and has also got infantry battalions as well as a mounting army: “... and collect your cavalry and infantry against them, ...”<sup>(3)</sup> and is the cause of all deviations and, finally, his abstinence from prostration, provides a comparison between the earth and fire, where he said: “... You created me of fire while you created him of clay.”<sup>(4)</sup>

Commentary: verse ٦٢

When the Satan noticed that, as a consequence of his arrogance and unruliness in face of the Lord’s command, he has become an outcast from the Lord’s holy sanctuary for ever, said humbly: Were I to be given a respite till the resurrection day by You, I shall seduce all the progenitors of this human being, make them perish altogether starting from the scratch, seducing them all except a few of them. The
:verse says

He (the Satan) said: ‘Tell me, is this he whom you have honoured above me? If You “
”.respite me till the Day of Resurrection, I will certainly master his progeny, save a few

The Arabic term /’ahtanikanna/ which is derived from the term /’ihtināk/ means ‘eradicating’ something or ‘uprooting’. Thus, when locusts perish an entire agricultural land, the Arabs say: “locusts eradicated the farming.” This Qur’ānic expression, therefore, refers to the point that: I will uproot all of the children of Adam from the .path of obedience, except a few of them

There is the possibility that the Arabic term /’ihtanikanna/ is a derivation of /hanak/,
.’meaning: ‘beneath the throat

When the rope or the bridle is placed around the neck of an animal, the Arabs often use the expression /hanatk-ad-dābbah/, meaning that ‘the animal was bridled’. In fact, the Satan wants to claim that he will put the bridle of temptation around the neck .of all human beings thus leading them toward the wrong path

Incidentally, in order to realize an experimental field for all, and proper means for the education of the true devout believers, which all tend to shape man in the melting pot, and in order to become strong against the enemy, the Satan was provided with the :means for survival and activities: the verse says

Addressing the Satan), He said: ‘Depart! But whoever of them follows you, then) “

And startle whomever of them you can with your voice, and collect your cavalry “ .٦٤ and infantry against them; and share with them in wealth and children and make ”.promises to them; and the Satan makes no promises to them except delusion

Commentary: verse ٦٤

The Satan, at first, removes man’s instinct for monotheism by means of persuasion. .Later, he seeks to invade him with his ammunitions and armies

The Arabic term /’istifzāz/ here signifies ‘stumbling’ or ‘slipping’ with speed and .adeptness as well as by way of pushing

The Satan does not just select one way for deceiving man. On the contrary, he usually entrenches man from all sides, accompanied by a number of other ways using all forms of persuasions, dissuasions, promises, aspirations, temptations, and enticements, which are as its mounting forces and its foot-soldiers, and in this course .some people follow him

We have it in quotations that he who has no fear of anyone in what he says and in what he does, or what he is said about; committing sins or back-biting openly, is a (partner to the Satan. (Tafsīr-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

Other cases of forming partnership with the Satan, consist of: having forbidden sources of income, living on illegal money, adultery, raising corrupt and deviant offspring (Bihār, vol. ۱۰۱, p. ۱۳۶). And he who regards the Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.) of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) as enemies, has allowed (the Satan to enter into partnership with him. (Kāfī, vol. ۵, p. ۵۰۲

Unhealthy production and consumption, hoarding wealth, investment of foreign companies and foreign corporations, creation of scientific, cultural, and artistic centers as well as international games, which are colonial, are kinds of partnership with the Satan

Anyway, explaining in an interesting and explicit fashion, He exposes the ways and means through which the Satan employs in his temptations. The Qur'ān, addressing him, implies: you can provoke them each with your voice, and you can dispatch your :mounting and infantry army units against them. The verse says

And startle whomever of them you can with your voice, and collect your cavalry and “ ... ;infantry against them

The Satan possesses numerous aids and assistants who are of his own kind as well as from among mankind who help the Satan in seducing people. Some who are more powerful and speedier in act just like the mounting army; others are weaker and slower in action and behave just like infantry. The verse, addressing the Satan, :continues saying

”... ;and share with them in wealth and children and make promises to them ...“

Then the Qur'ān warns that the Satan does not do anything else except deceiving :them. The verse says

”.and the Satan makes no promises to them except delusion ...“

”suffices (as their) Guardian

Commentary: verse ٦٥

Notwithstanding the fact that all people are the servants of Allah, the Lord, out of respect, has ascribed some to Himself by saying “My servants”, as He has also used such a term for proximity concerning the inanimate objects as well as in the case of .(baytī/ (My house

The servants of Allah’, have also been introduced with specifications of ‘faith’ and ‘trust’ in another verse, those who are by no means dominated by the Satan. (Sura (An-Nahl, No. ١٦, verse ٩٩

Certainly, the Satan carries out its temptation; establishes contacts, but they become (constantly mindful and go on with their resistance. (Sura Al-’A’rāf, No. ٧, verse ٢٠١

We have it in quotations that ‘prayer call’ and ‘prayers’ are two ways of expelling the (Satan. (Bihār, vol. ٦٣, p. ٢٦٨

Therefore, serving and worshipping the Lord provides one with insurance against satanic persuasions, temptations and Satanic deployments, for he who joins the :Infinite Power, will become impenetrable. The verse says

Verily (as for) My servants, you have not any authority over them; and your Lord “

Your Lord is He Who makes the ship go for you through the sea that you may “ ٦٦ .
”seek of His grace; verily He is ever Merciful to you

Commentary: verse ٦٦

This verse pursues the discussions which we had before about monotheism and about the campaigns against paganism. It enters this discussion through two different ways: by reasoning, and through the way of conscience and the inside or .internal system

:At first, the Holy Qur’ān alludes to the monotheism through reasoning, saying

”... Your Lord is He Who makes the ship go for you through the sea “

Obviously, there are numerous benefits for transportation available by sea-routes, including cheapness of traveling, their suitability for being used at all the times by all the general public and for transportation of goods passengers and fishing. The role of the seas in the field of providing oxygen, production of water vapor, clouds, and rain; developing beds for fishery industries and wanders of material, plants and animals are remarkable. The amazing surprises they present in matters relating to the .inanimate objects, plant and animal life are abundant

We read in the ‘Joushan Kabīr’ “O! The One Whose wonders of creation are found in ”!abundance at sea

Then the Qur'ān adds that the aim of all these preparations are that you benefit from His blessings in matters relating to your travels, to the transportation of your goods, merchandise, and to whatever else which is of help to your religion as well as to your worldly life, for the Lord is kind to you. The holy verse says

”that you may seek of His grace; verily He is ever Merciful to you ...“

فَلَمَّا نَجَّكُمْ إِلَى الْبَرِّ أَعْرَضْتُمْ وَكَانَ الْإِنْسَانُ كَفُورًا

And when affliction touches you in the sea, away will go those on whom you call“ .٦٧ except him; but as He delivers you to the land, you turn away (from Him); and man is ”.very ungrateful

Commentary: verse ٦٧

One of the reasons as to why monotheism is inherent in human nature is the fact that
.man turns to an invisible point to save him when he is caught in distress and despair

A man, who was an atheist, once asked Imam Sādiq (a.s.) to provide him with a proof
.for proving the existence of the Lord

The Imam asked him: “Have you ever embarked a ship which has been wrecked?”
“Yes,” He answered: “Only once. We were once ship wrecked and I used a piece of wood.” The Imam (a.s.) then asked: “Were you then focusing on a power to save you?”
He answered: “Yes,” He (a.s.) continued: “That very invisible power is the Lord, the ”.Almighty

Therefore, when at loss in a sea and winds stop blowing or the sea waves threaten you, etc, all your objects of worship will be forgotten, except the only Lord. in such a circumstance, it is Allah Who can save you, to Whom you appeal and you call on no one else. However, as you were saved by Him from drowning; and felt safe, you will turn away from Him and refuse to believe in Him and to obey Him being ungrateful,
:and man does this too often. The verse says

And when affliction touches you in the sea, away will go those on whom you call“
”... ;(except him; but as He delivers you to the land, you turn away (from Him

Certainly, worldly interests are so enticing that man tends to forget everything shortly, after being saved of the affliction and neglecting Allah after being saved is an :explicit example of ungratefulness. The verse continues saying

”.and man is very ungrateful ...“

(٦٨) أَفَأَمِنْتُمْ أَنْ يَخْسِفَ بِكُمْ جَانِبَ الْبَرِّ أَوْ يُرْسِلَ عَلَيْكُمْ حَاصِبًا

ثُمَّ لَا تَجِدُوا لَكُمْ وَكِيلاً

Do you then feel secure that He will not cause the shore to swallow you up, or “ ٦٨ .send on you squall of pebbles? Then, you will not find protector for yourselves

Commentary: verse ٦٨

The annihilation of the former nations has been completed in various ways. The Lord has made the earth bury some of the violators and enemies, while He has made others drown at sea. Some have been stoned in landslip, and others have been perished in thunderbolts. Therefore, the Lord is evermore capable of annihilation of the pagans. If today you are saved from a ship-wreck at sea, landing safely, do not feel to be safe in other circumstances, or that you are secure from future .punishments

This same feeling of security from chastisement provides grounds for our negligence and unruliness. Man is at Allah’s power whenever and wherever he is; whether be it at :sea or on a dry land; makes no difference for Allah. The verse says

Do you then feel secure that He will not cause the shore to swallow you up, or send “ ... ?on you squall of pebbles

Therefore, Do you think that Allah is unable to inflict severe punishment on you, whether at sea or on land? Do you then feel safe if there is a tornado in which you get caught, stoning you to death? Such a chastisement is harsher than being drowned at .sea

Thus, why do you not look out for a protector to guard you off all dangers? The verse :concludes

”.Then, you will not find protector for yourselves ...“

(٦٩) أَمْ أَمِنْتُمْ أَنْ يُعِيدَكُم فِيهِ تَارَةً أُخْرَى فَيُرْسِلَ عَلَيْكُمْ قَاصِفًا مِنَ الرِّيحِ فَيُغْرِقَكُم بِمَا كَفَرْتُمْ ثُمَّ لَا تَجِدُوا لَكُمْ عَلَيْنَا بِهِ تَبِيعًا

Or do you feel secure that He will (not) send you back into it (the sea) another “ .٦٩ time, and then send on you a fierce gale then drown you for your disbelief; then you “?will find no prosecutor for you against Us

Commentary: verse ٦٩

The Arabic term /ḥāṣib/ refers to a storm in land and the Qur’ānic word /qāṣif/ here refers to a sea-hurricane, and it is a tornado with a severe sound as if the things are .broken up

The Qur’ānic term /tabī‘/ which is a derivative of /taba‘/, refers to the person who seeks for blood-price and retribution, and follows up his appeal processes for lawsuit. Thus, He implies in this noble verse that: You the oblivious! Are you of the opinion that this was the last time that you went on a sea journey? Or do you feel safe and secure if going on such a journey next time and a pounding tornado will not be sent to you to inflict punishment on you for your lack of gratefulness? Then, you shall find no savior :facing Us? The verse says

Or do you feel secure that He will (not) send you back into it (the sea) another time, “ and then send on you a fierce gale then drown you for your disbelief; then you will find “?no prosecutor for you against Us

Thus, we must not feel proud when having temporary comfort. The danger is always near us. By being saved from an affliction, the danger is not done with for good forever. Neglecting Allah after being saved serves as a good example of ungratefulness towards Him. No power can face the Lord, and Allah is not responsible .to anyone

(٧٠) وَلَقَدْ كَرَّمْنَا بَنِي آدَمَ وَحَمَلْنَاهُمْ فِي الْبَرِّ وَالْبَحْرِ وَرَزَقْنَاهُمْ مِنَ الطَّيِّبَاتِ وَفَضَّلْنَاهُمْ عَلَى كَثِيرٍ مِمَّنْ خَلَقْنَا تَفْضِيلًا

And, indeed, We have honored the children of Adam, and We carried them on the “ .٧٠ land and the sea; and We provided them with sustenance of the good things; and We ”.preferred them greatly over many of those We created

Commentary: verse ٧٠

As attaching importance to the personality of individuals is one way of educating and guiding them, following its discussion concerning pagans and deviants in the previous verses, here the glorious Qur’ān deals with the highly valued personality of humankind and Allah’s blessings regarding them. So that, noting this extraordinary high value, he should, not spoil such a precious material easily, selling it at a cheap :rate. The noble verse says

”... ,And, indeed, We have honored the children of Adam “

Afterwards, the Holy Qur’ān refers to the three aspects of Allah’s blessings to man, implying that He transported them at sea and on land by the different means of :transportation which He made available to them. The verse says

”... ;and We carries them on the land and sea ...“

:And, the other one is that

”... ;and We provided them with sustenance of the good things ...“

:It continues saying

”.and We preferred them greatly over many of those We created ...“

:Why Man Is the Most Superior of Allah's Creatures

The answer is not very complicated for we know that man is the only being that is formed of different potentialities, whether material and spiritual, bodily and mentally, and he can grow up within contradictions. Man is unlimited from the point of capacity and development.

There is a famous tradition quoted from Haḍrat Ali (a.s.) which is a clear evidence for this claim, where he says: "Allah has created all creatures into ۳ different categories: Angels, Animals and Human Beings. The angels have got reasoning without any passion or fury but without intellect. The animals are collections of passions and fury. But, man is a collection unity of both; one of which must prevail. If his reason overcomes his passion, he will be superior to the angels, and if his passions dominate his reason, he will be just inferior to animals."<sup>(۱)</sup>

As for the human dignity, which is at times spiritual and acquired and is with Allah, such as that kind of dignity (or honour) which is exclusive to the men of virtue. The Qur'ān says: "Verily the most honourable of you with Allah is the most virtuous one."
(Sura Al-Hujurāt, No. ۴۹, verse ۱۳)

At other times, human dignity (or honour) is found in the process of creation, like: "... in the best make." (Sura At-Teen, No. ۹۹, verse ۴) which has been mentioned about the creation of man.

The objective of /karramnā/ in this verse, perhaps, is the second aspect of it. Man's dignity is both in his creation, intelligence, intellect, and talents, and in having the Divine laws, the leadership of the 'immaculate' and of being prostrated to by the angels.

p: ۷۲۴

Incidentally, though man has been excelled to all creatures by Allah, even to the angels, his failure in selecting the right path, and his indecent acts bring him down to the lowest possible positions: "... the lowest of the low"<sup>(١)</sup>, which equates those of the animals and even lower than them. "... is as the likeness of the donkey ..."<sup>(٢)</sup> The examples are: "... so his parable is like the parable of a dog ..."<sup>(٣)</sup> and "... they are as cattle, rather they are more astray. ..."<sup>(٤)</sup>, or "... as stone or even worse ..."<sup>(٥)</sup>

This verse refers to both dignity (or honour) and virtues. The differences of the two :may consist of

Honour: can be considered as advantages which are lacking in others, while, virtues, .١
.consist of positive points which are also found in others

Honour refers to the Allah-given blessings which exist within man with no struggles, .٢
while, virtues concern the blessings which have been gained by the effort of man
.accompanied with the Divine succor

.Honour concerns the material blessings, while virtue relates to spiritual blessings .٣

In conclusion, traveling is one of the necessities of human life for meeting his needs and acquiring of experiences, which the Lord has provided for man in land and at sea, .calling it as one of His graces

Then, there are the 'good things' which are of several kinds: The 'clean life', the 'clean offspring', the 'clean sustenance'. Imam Bāqir (a.s.) says: "The clean sustenance is the .(same useful knowledge." (Tafsīr-Kanz-uld-Daqāyiq

Section ۸: Every People will be Summoned with Their Own Imam

Point

On the Day of Judgment every people will be summoned with their own Imam (Guide or leader) – The blind at heart in this life shall be blind in the Hereafter also rather farther astray – The way of Allah is ever unchanged

(۷۱) يَوْمَ نَدْعُوا كُلَّ أُنَاسٍ بِإِمَامِهِمْ فَمَنْ أُوْتِيَ كِتَابَهُ بِيَمِينِهِ فَأُوْلَئِكَ يَقْرَءُونَ كِتَابَهُمْ وَلَا يُظْلَمُونَ فَتِيلًا

On the Day We shall call every people with their Imam (leader); then whoever is “ .۷۱ given his book in his right hand; then these will read their book (joyfully); and they will .not be treated unjustly in the least

Commentary: verse ۷۱

This holy verse makes allusions to one of the other Divine blessings given to man, and then it refers to the heavy responsibilities which run parallel to these blessings and are upon him. At first, the Holy Qur’ān points to the ‘issue of leadership’ and its role in the course of human destiny, implying that on the Hereafter Day He shall call each :people along with their ‘Imams’ ‘Leaders’. The verse says

”... ;(On the Day We shall call every people with their Imam (leader “

That is, those people who, in any age, accepted the call of their contemporary prophets and their emissaries, will be with their leaders, while those who bowed to the leadership of the

Satan or the Imams of aberration or tyrannical rulers and pioneers, will be accompanied by them

This exposition, while reflecting one of the means of the development of man, serves as a dire warning to all the human beings that they should show maximum vigilance in the course of the selection of leaders, not allowing just anyone to take their lead

:The Role of Leadership in Islam

It is narrated in a famous quotation from Imam Bāqir (a.s.), that whenever he discussed upon the ‘principal pillars’ of Islam, he used to place the ‘leadership issue’ (Wilayah) as the fifth, and the most important of the pillars, while, placing the ‘daily prayers’, which is meant to establish one’s personal relationship with the Creator, and ‘fasting’, which is the secret of campaign against passions, and paying of the poor-dues (Zakāt), which is a relationship of people with people, and, finally, ‘Hajj’, which relates to the social aspects of Islam, consist of the other four pillars

The ‘Imam’ (a.s.), then, goes on to say: “Nothing is as important as the issue of leadership (Wilayah)”, for the execution of other four principles depends, entirely, on the issue of leadership and can be realized solely in the light of this principle

It is also for this reason that we have in another famous quotation from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in a famous traditions he said: “He who passes away without having an ‘Imam’, a ‘leader’, his death belongs to the category of ‘paganism

There are numerous examples throughout history when a nation has gained the first row in the world in rank and position under the guidance of a great and an eligible leader, while, the same nation has suffered a devastating blow, and its eventual down fall has been brought about as a result of a weak and incapable leadership that may be beyond recognition

In interpretation of this verse in Islamic sources, there are numerous quotations introduced, all of which enlighten thoroughly the meaning of the verse, indicating that the purpose of this verse is ‘Imamat’, ‘leadership’, as follows

In an authentic documented tradition, quoted from Imam Ali-Ibn-Mūsarriḍā (a.s.) (۱) by Shī‘ah as well as Sunni sources, we read that, the ‘Imam’ (a.s.), quoting from the prophet (p.b.u.h.), narrated by his forefathers, upon the commentary of this verse, said: “On that Day, every nation will be called along with its contemporary Imam, ‘leader’, and the Book of their Lord, as well as the course of practice of their prophet. ((Majma‘-ul-Bayān and Sāfi

And, we have it also quoted by Imam Sādiq (a.s.) saying: “Do you not express your (۲) praise and gratitude to Allah? When the resurrection day comes, the Lord will call every nation along with the one whose leadership it has accepted. We will be called along with the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and you will be along with us. Where do you think you will be taken to then? By the Lord of Ka‘bah to Paradise.” The Imam reiterated the last sentence three times

Haḍrat-i-Riḍā has said in a detailed tradition: “The issue of ‘Imamat’ (leadership) (۳) exhibits the position of the prophets and is a heritage of the forerunners. It tackles with the issue of substitution of Allah and the prophetic mission of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) as well as the position of Amir-ul-Mu’mineen (a.s.) along with the replacement by Imam Hassan, as well as Imam Hussayn (a.s.)” Then he said: “The Imam introduces those issues which are as ‘allowed’ by Allah as they are, and the ones which are regarded ‘forbidden’ by the Lord as such. The Imam seeks to establish the limits which are ordained by Allah and he defends the Lord's religion, and invites (the people) to the path of Allah through wisdom, good admonitions, and self-explanatory proofs. And, finally, the Imam is the rein and head of the religion, order of Muslims, the benefit to the believers in the world and their glory." Again, he remarked: "The 'Imam' is the flourishing root of Islam and the 'prime branch' of it. The 'Imam' is an honest friend, a kind and friendly father, a truly-loyal brother and a companion, just like an affectionate and honest mother towards her young child, and a refuge for Allah's servants." Then, he said: "The 'Imam' is the Lord's trustee on the earth and among His people. He is the Lord's proof for His servants and is His substitute in the cities. He calls (the people) to Allah and defends His sanctuaries." (Tuhaf-ul-'Uqul, and 'Athār-ul-Sādiqīn, Harf-ul-Alaf Quoting Ibn Abbas, Mujāhid says: "The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) has remarked: (۴ 'As the day of resurrection comes about, the Lord commands Gabriel to sit down at the gate of the Paradise, and do not let any one in unless he possesses the admission .(card and passage of Ali Ibn Abī Tālib (a.s.)).' (Manāqib Ibn Maqāzilī, p. ۱۳۱

There are two types of leaders mentioned in the Qur'ān. The first one includes the leaders of 'light' and 'guidance'; while the latter comprises of leaders who lead to the Fire and misguidance. The second group compel people to follow their lead by force, .threats, allurements, and humiliation

Abū Basīr once told Imam Sādiq (a.s.): "I witness that verily you are my Imam." The (۵ Imam replied: "Every group will be mustered with their own Imam in the Hereafter." ((Tafsīr Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

And, again, the same Imam remarked: "He who rejects or refuses to accept one of (۶ the living 'Imams', he has certainly rejected the ‘Imams’ (and ‘leaders’) of the past.” (Bihār, vol. ۲۳, p. ۹۵ and ’Ikmāl-ud-(Dīn

Incidentally, the issue of ‘Imamat’, (leadership) and ‘Wilāyat’ (mastership) are the subject-core of life, and are within the context of one’s very life, and it is not to be regarded as a marginal or merely an ideological issue side-lined by others. The issue of ‘leadership’ may make people either happy or wretched. Therefore, the result of selection of a leader and obedience to him is a burning one till the threshold of the
.Hereafter

The Hereafter is not only the tribunal for individuals, but it is also the great court set-up for nations, peoples, parties, schools of thought, and for governments

Then, the verse implies that the people will be categorized into two different groups in the doomsday. Those whose record of deeds is delivered to their right hand, and this is done with their pride, joy, and pleasure when they read it joyfully, and no cruelty is done to them. And, he, who has not found a way to be saved in the world and who has not been led well, he will not seek his way out into the Paradise in the hereafter. The then whoever is given his book in his right hand; then these will read their book ... “
:verse says

”... ;(joyfully

In conclusion, it is worth noting that the Arabic term /fatī/ signifies a thin noodle which is spilt within a date-stone and which here implies an ‘insignificant’ amount. Therefore, the chastisement in the resurrection day is a hundred percent just and fair, for, on that Day one receives punishment and reward commensurate with his amount of sin or decent act he has undertaken to perform, even it is very insignificant.
:The verse says

.and they will not be treated unjustly in the least ...“

(٧٢) وَمَنْ كَانَ فِي هَذِهِ أَعْمَى فَهُوَ فِي الْآخِرَةِ أَعْمَى وَأَضَلَّ سَبِيلًا

And, whoever is blind in this (life), he will (also) be blind in the Hereafter and (even) “ .٧٢
” .more erring from the way

Commentary: verse ٧٢

Those who have turned a blind eye to the face of the truth in this world, will be likewise and even more misled in the Hereafter. They will neither be led in this world to the way of guidance, nor do they find the way to Heaven and prosperity in Hereafter, for they have turned a blind eye to all the realities, thus they have deprived themselves from all of the blessings which the Lord had bestowed upon them. As the world Hereafter is a grand reflection of this world, it would by no means be astonishing to find that such blind-folded people enter the doomsday scene in their
:like manner. The verse says

And, whoever is blind in this (life), he will (also) be blind in the Hereafter and (even) “
” .more erring from the way

:Explanations

In addition to those who rise up from death as deaf and dumb in the resurrection .١
day, there will also be seen scenes where people are as blind, which case has its roots in their ‘ inwardly blindness’ in this world

Some Islamic quotations denote that whoever is required to go on a ‘Hajj .٢ pilgrimage’ but he does not perform the ceremonies on site, or he who reads the Qur’ān but he does not practice accordingly, will be mustered blind in Hereafter.

((Tafsīr Kanz-ud-Daqāyiq

Being inwardly blind is a worse situation than being a really blind by eyes. As Haḍrat .۳ Ali (a.s.) remarks: “The worst kind of blindness, is the blindness at heart.” He (a.s.) has also stated: “The worst (and the hardest form) of blindness is (when) someone is blind (unto our excellence.” (Tafsīr Kanz-ud-Daḡāyiq

Cases of blindness on the resurrection day, have also been reiterated in other .۴ verses as well, among which one may refer to verse ۹۷, of the Sura 'Isrā' which says: “We shall muster them on the Day of Resurrection upon their faces, blind, dumb, and deaf whose dwelling shall be Hell; ...”. And again verse ۱۲۵ of Sura TāHā, No. ۲۰, indicates the rising blind from the dead on the resurrection day as the consequence of being inwardly blind and neglectful to the Divine verses in this world and turning away .form accepting the truth

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) remarks: “Whoever does not acquire the true spiritual benefit by .۵ witnessing the creation, is far worse blinded in the Hereafter which he has not (witnessed.” (Tauhīd Sadūq

Question: We have it in some verses that on Hereafter Day the sinners are .۶ commanded to read their record. How would that be feasible and compatible despite ?such verses with regard to their conditions of blindness

Answer: Their case of blindness is confined to one of the passing stages of the resurrection day; they will regain their eye-sight in other phases, witnessing clearly .those cases and facts which they have failed to grasp in the world

(٧٣) وَإِنْ كَادُوا لَيَفْتِنُونَكَ عَنِ الَّذِي أُوحِيَ إِلَيْكَ لِتَفْتَرِيَ عَلَيْنَا غَيْرَهُ وَإِذَا لَا تَأْخُذُوكَ خَلِيلًا

And verily they were about to tempt you away from what We revealed to you so “ .٧٣ that you would ascribe against Us other than that, and then they would certainly have ”.taken you as a friend

Commentary: verse ٧٣

Referring to the issues involved in previous holy verses regarding paganism and the pagans, here, He issues a dire warning to the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to be on his guard against this group and their temptations, lest the slightest weakness permeates his beliefs in his campaign against paganism and idolatry, which are to be :ensued decisively to the end. The verse says

And verily they were about to tempt you away from what We revealed to you so that “ you would ascribe against Us other than that, and then they would certainly have ”.taken you as a friend

In some quotations, we read that the pagans wanted the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to pay his respect to the idols or they asked for a one-year respite for their pursuit of their worship of the idols, in which case, the prophet (p.b.u.h.) was about to condescend to their request. However, the Almighty protected him. Nevertheless, such quotations are discarded and they are incompatible with the principle of infallibility and decisiveness of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) which has been mentioned in other verses of the (Qur’ān and which is his usual course in his life. (Tafsīr Al-Mīzān

The author of Tafsīr Atyab-ul-Bayān states that: As we have it in the verse: /‘an-il-la’ī ’auḥaynā/ “... from what We revealed ...” instead of /‘ammā ’auhaynā/, this indicates that attempts made by the pagans for changing the view of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), relates to his diversion of attention from a particular person and not to the revealed matters. However, who has it been the fellow whom Allah has sent His revelations
?about

There is a tradition narrated from Imam Bāqir and Imam Kāzim (a.s.) concerning the issue of ‘Wilāyat’ (Succession) of Hadrat Ali (a.s.), in which, the Lord has made certain recommendations to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) through revelations. The Lord has revealed this verse in order to make the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) remain heedless of the jealousy of the people and their rejection as well as their intolerant attitudes, and to invalidate
.the attempts of the pagans for making the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) exceed the limits

(٧٤) وَلَوْلَا أَنْ مَجْتَنَّكَ لَقَدْ كِدْتُمْ تَزَكُّنَ إِلَيْهِمْ شَيْئًا قَلِيلًا

(٧٥) إِذَا لَادَقْنَاكَ ضِعْفَ الْحَيَاةِ وَضِعْفَ الْمَمَاتِ ثُمَّ لَا تَجِدُ لَكَ عَلَيْنَا نَصِيرًا

And had it not been that We had established you already, you would certainly “ .٧٤
” .have been near to incline towards them a little

In that case, We would certainly have made you taste a double (punishment) in “ .٧٥ this life and a double (punishment) after death, then you would not have found any
” .helper for you against Us

Commentary: verse ٧٤–٧٥

If such were not the case that We had protected you by bestowing upon you the power of infallibility and of Our grace, you were almost about to approach them, showing your inclination, thus putting into practice some of their wishes. The verse says:

And had it not been that We had established you already, you would certainly have “
” .been near to incline towards them a little

In such a case, We would make you taste twice the penalty of the world and the Hereafter. That is, whatever amount of punishment We have procured for the sinners in this world and in the hereafter, and after their death, We would similarly double it for you. This statement provides justifications for the evil and grand nature of the sin as well as that of the position of the sinner. That is, the greater the position of the sinner, the sinner, the :greater the sin and, hence, the greater its punishment would be. The verse says

In that case, We would certainly have made you taste a double (punishment) in this “ life and a double (punishment) after death, then you would not have found any helper
”for you against Us

Imam Riḍā (a.s.) and Ibn Abbas have both been quoted as saying that the Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) enjoyed the ‘position of infallibility’ and was immune against all sins(۱). Nevertheless, this verse, which is addressed to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), aims at dissuading the faithful from showing the slightest inclination towards the pagans in all
.commandments of Allah

In the meantime, this verse is not incompatible in any way with the Prophet’s (p.b.u.h.) infallibility. The sentence, “you would certainly have been near to incline toward them” does not imply committing sin. Moreover, the sentence: “...Had We not established...”, is conditional. That is, if We had not provided protection, perhaps you were going to be inclined. However, as that protection was provided that inclination was non-.existent

In other cases also conditionality ‘if’ does not imply decisiveness in fulfilling the action, as in verses ۴۴ to ۴۶ of Sura Al-Haqqah which mean if he falsely attributes, We cut off his main vein. Other similar case includes verse ۶۵ of Sura Az-Zumar, No. ۳۹ which says: “... surely if you associate (with Allah), your work will certainly come to naught
...” which implies that the act has not been performed

p: ۷۳۶

Thus, the slightest backing down from divine principals and values is not allowed,
.since that will be regarded as a victory for the enemies

In Islamic sources, we read: “When the above three verses were revealed, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) invoked: “O’ Lord! Do not leave me on my own even within the space
”!of one blinking of eyes

This very meaningful prayer of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) provides an important lesson for all of us, showing that all must seek refuge to Allah and rely on His grace while one notes that even ‘Immaculate prophets’ have not been able to resist slipping and .stumbling, much less in our case in face of all satanical temptations

لَا يَلْبَثُونَ خِلافَكَ إِلَّا قَلِيلًا

And verily they were about to startling you from the land so as to expel you from “ .٧٦
” it; and then, they would not have tarried after you but a little

Commentary: verse ٧٦

It is said that this verse and the following one have been revealed about the people of Mecca who gathered and decided to expel the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) from Mecca. After that, this decision was seconded and changed into the verdict for the execution of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in Mecca, then the house of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was surrounded in all directions. As we know the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was miraculously saved and started to .(Medina, which marks the beginning of Hijrah (the Exodus

In the previous verses, of course, we noted that the pagans wanted to influence the prophet (p.b.u.h.), making him deviate from the right path, when Allah’s grace came to his help, disrupting their plans. But, following that, they embraced on a new plan to thwart his call. They planned to oust him to a distant spot which was out of reach. This :plan was also thwarted. The verse says

;And verily they were about to startling you from the land so as to expel you from it “
” ...

The noble verse implies that you were about to be ousted skillfully according to their well-calculated plan from this land. Then the Qur’ān issues a dire warning to them meaning that if they succeeded they would have entangled themselves in a severe Divine punishment. Thus, they would not remain there much longer after :you. The verse says

”and then, they would not have tarried after you but a little ...“

For this was a very great sin, whereby people might seek to oust and expel their compassionate leader and their savior from their city, thereby, showing their ungratefulness towards the greatest blessing of Allah. Such a people are not entitled to live and a devastating penalty would, therefore, call on them. This event happened for soon, after a short time, in the ‘Battle of Badr’, many of them were killed, while a few of them were able to escape or to embrace the faith. Thus, one notes that the mere presence of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) among the people may obstruct the Divine punishment. In case they oust him from amongst themselves, or distance him, they .are certain to perish instantly

The blissful Qur’ān does two things simultaneously. While it informs us about the invisible world, it also provides the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) with information with respect to .the frustrations and failures of the conspiracies of his enemies, hence, condoling him

This was Our way with those of Our messengers whom We sent before you, and “ .٧٧
” .you shall not find any change in Our way

Commentary: verse ٧٧

Providing support for the prophets as well as extermination of the pagans and oppressors, have been among the courses of treatment of the Lord. It has been mentioned in verse ١٣, of Sura 'Ibrāhīm, saying: “And those who disbelieved told their Messengers: ‘We will certainly expel you from our land, or else you return to our creed.’ Then their Lord revealed to them: ‘Certainly We will perish the unjust.’” Therefore, He announces that this punishment is not solely exclusive to the Arab pagans; this procedure of Ours has been in action with regard to the prophets who were sent before you as well, and no changes have taken place with regard to this :course of action. The verse says

This was Our way with those of Our messengers whom We sent before you, and “
” .you shall not find any change in Our way

This course of action stems from a clear source of logic, whereby, such an ungrateful people who break up their source of guiding light they, in fact, ruin their own safeguard fortresses. Certainly such a nation is not worthy of the Divine grace, and they will be encompassed by the due chastisement. We know that the Lord does not discriminate unjustly between his servants, and He gives similar punishments for equal set of acts in equal conditions. And, such is the significance of unchanged ability
” .of Allah’s way of treatment

(٧٨) أَقِمِ الصَّلَاةَ لِدُلُوكِ الشَّمْسِ إِلَى غَسَقِ اللَّيْلِ وَقُرْآنَ الْفَجْرِ

إِنَّ قُرْآنَ الْفَجْرِ كَانَ مَشْهُودًا

Perform the prayer (rituals) from the declension of the sun till the darkness of the “ .٧٨ night, and the recitation (of prayer) at the morn, verily the recitation (of prayer) at the ”.(morn is witnessed (by the angels

Commentary: verse ٧٨

Pursuing the previous verses which concentrated on the issues of monotheism and paganism and, later, discussed the conspiracies, plots and temptations of the pagans, in this verse the Qur’ān deals with such issues as prayers and the focusing of one’s attention on the Lord, which serves as an effective means for campaigning against paganism, as well as a means for expelling the satanical temptations from one’s heart and soul.

Undoubtedly, it is the prayer which makes man remember the Lord, wiping away the dust of sin from him all over and expelling the satanical temptations from him. The :verse, at first, says

Perform the prayer (rituals) from the declension of the sun till the darkness of the “ night, and the recitation (of prayer) at the morn, verily the recitation (of prayer) at the ”.(morn is witnessed (by the angels

The declining time of the sun signifies the declining or fading away of the sunshine .from the meridian circle which is the noon-time on

The Arabic term /dulūk/ is derived originally from the term /dalaka/, meaning ‘rubbing’, for, at that time, and in sunny lands in particular, man usually tends to rub his eyes because of the strength of the sunshine. Or, it might be derived from the Arabic term /dalk/, meaning becoming inclined, for the sun, at this time, becomes inclined from the meridian circle towards the west. It might also signify the fact that man tends to guard off against the sunshine by keeping his hand between his eyes and the .sunshine as if he removes its lights from his eyes, thus reclining it

Anyway, according to the quotations received from the sources of Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.), the Qur’ānic term /dulūk/, mentioned in this verse, has been commented upon as .?signifying the ‘declining of the sun

A quotation from Imam Sādiq (a.s.) indicates that ‘Ubayd-Ibn-i-Zarārah questioned the Imam (a.s.) as to the comments of this holy verse, who answered: “The Almighty has enjoined Muslims to establish four prayers, the beginning of which starts at the (declining of the sun, ‘at moon’, and which ends at ‘midnight’.” (Wasā’il, vol. ۳, p. ۱۱۵

In another quotation, we have it from Imam Bāqir (a.s.) in the commentary upon this very verse when asked by Zarārah, the great Shi’ite traditionist, he (a.s.) answered: “The declining of the sun signifies its fading away (from the meridian circle), and the .?Arabic phrase /qasaq-ul-layl/ denotes ‘midnight

These are the four set of prayers which the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) designated for people, confirming the time, and the Qur'ānic phrase /qur'ān-ul-fajr/ refers to the morning (prayer." \(1\)) (Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, vol. ۳, p. ۱۱۵)

Certainly, some commentators have offered other probable hypotheses with regard to the meaning of /dulūk/ which cannot be considered as remarkable

As for the meaning of the Arabic phrase /qusaq-ul-layl/, one might claim that as the term /qasaq/ signifies the intensive darkness of the night, and such a darkness reaches its peak at midnight, and is utmost in its density, this phrase altogether signifies 'midnight

The Arabic term 'Qur'ān' refers to that which is 'read' and the phrase /qur'ān-ul-fajr/, altogether refers to the 'prayer at dawn

It is for this reason that the above verse is among the ones which briefly refer to the five-time daily prayers and, alongside with the other verses regarding the prayer times, as well as the numerous quotations received in this connection, the five times for daily prayers are exactly distinguished

Certainly, one must keep in mind the fact that some of the verses of the Qur'ān refer to one prayer only, like: "Guard your prayers, and (especially) the middle prayer ..." (Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, verse ۲۳۸) in which case, the 'middle prayer', according to the authentic commentaries, is that same 'midday prayer

According to the consensus of the scholars of two great sects of Islam mentioned in –۱ their books, the Qur'ānic phrase /qur'ān-ul-fajr/ signifies: 'Morning Prayer', some of their books are: Tafsīr Rauh-ul-Ma'ānī, by 'Ālūsī Baqdādī, vol. ۱۵, p. ۱۳۶; Tafsīr-ul-Kāshif, vol. ۵, p. ۷۵; Tafsīr-ul-Baḥr-ul-Muḥīṭ, vol. ۶, p. ۶۸; Tafsīr-Ibn-i-Kathīr, vol. ۳, p. ۵۴; Tafsīr-Jāmi'-'Aḥkām-ul-Qur'ān, by Qirṭabī, vol. ۵, p. ۳۰۹; Tafsīr Rūh-ul-Bayān, vol. ۵, p. ۱۹۱; Tafsīr Majma'-ul-Bayān, under the verse in question; etc

Occasionally, those verses allude to the three times for prayers out of the five-time daily prayers, like: “And establish the prayer at the two ends of the day and at the approaches of the night, ...” (Sura Hūd, No. 11, verse 114), in which case, /ṭarafay-in-nahār/ makes allusions to the morning and evening (Maqrib) prayers, and the phrase /zulafan min-al-layl/ alludes to the night prayer (‘Ishā’ prayer

At times, all of the five-time prayers are briefly referred to, as in the verse in question. (We have already explained in minute details in this connection in commentary, upon (verse 114 of Sura Hūd, No. 11

At any rate, undoubtedly the details as for the five-times daily prayers have not been explained in full in these verses; on the contrary, as is the case with other Islamic commandments, the explanations are confined to the general rules, and their fuller explanations are left to the practice of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and the true Imams

Another point which remains outstanding in here is that the above verse says that the ‘morning prayer is being witnessed’. Now this question arises as by whom is it being ?witnessed

According to the Islamic quotations received through the commentaries upon this verse suggest that ‘They are witnessed by both the angels of night and day’, for, ‘night angels’, who are on guard by night, are replaced by day angels at dawn and as morning prayer is performed at dawn, both groups of angels observe and bear testimony to that

These quotations are quoted by both the Shi‘ah and Sunni scholars, among whom, (according to Tafsīr-Rūh-ul-Ma‘ānī), Ahmad and Nisā’ī, Ibn Mājid, Tarmuzī, and Hākim have quoted the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) who stated in his commentary upon this sentence:

“Both the day and the night angels watch him<sup>(۱)</sup>. The famous scholars of Hadith of the Sunnis, Bukhārī and Muslim have also .’quoted this meaning in their ‘Ṣaḥīḥ

For further information regarding the traditions of the Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.) upon this .meaning refer to Tafsīr-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, vol. ۳, under the verse in question

The transparency provided in this commentary explains that the best time for performing the morning prayer rituals is the moments coinciding with the onset of the .dawn

(٧٩) وَمِنَ اللَّيْلِ فَتَهَجَّدْ بِهِ نَافِلَةً لَّكَ عَسَىٰ أَن يَبْعَثَكَ رَبُّكَ مَقَامًا مَّحْمُودًا

And some part of the night keep vigil for it as an additional prayer for you; maybe “ .٧٩
”.that your Lord will raise you up to a praised position

Commentary: verse ٧٩

Pursuing the foregoing theme of the five-time compulsory daily prayers, the Qur’ān
:adds as follows

”... And some part of the night keep vigil for it “

The well-known Islamic commentators regard these holy words as allusions made to ‘the supererogation of the night’ when quotations are innumerable as to their virtues, though the holy verse does not explicitly refer to it as such. Nevertheless, considering all the circumstantial evidences which are usually available, this interpretation seems .transparent

Then the Qur’ān implies that this is an additional program. In addition to the compulsory daily prayers this schedule has also been designated for you. The verse
:says

”... ;as an additional prayer for you ...“

There are many who believe that this sentence provides evidence as to the fact that ‘night prayers’ were required for the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) for the Arabic term /nāfilah/meaning, ‘intensive’, alludes to the fact that this additional obligation is required of the .(.Prophet (p.b.u.h

Others claim that ‘night prayers’ were required to be performed by the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) long before this occasion, in reference to the verses of Sura Al-Muzzamil.
Later on, the above verse has discarded that obligation, thus making it into a ‘recommended’ act instead of an ‘obligatory’ one

At any rate, the Qur’ān concludes this spiritual and heart-transforming Divine program as: Maybe in the light of this act, the Lord elevates you in rank to the position of the ‘eligible’ and ‘well-praised’ one. The verse continues saying

”.maybe that your Lord will raise you up to a praised position ...“

There is no doubt that such a position is an outstanding one which is praiseworthy, because this Qur’ānic term is expressed in absolute case. Probably, this is a reference made to the fact that you are being praised universally from the time immemorial to the end

Islamic quotations, whether those of the Ahi-ul-Bayt (a.s.) as well as those quoted by the Sunni scholars have regarded the ‘eligible’ or ‘praiseworthy’ rank as a position for ‘the Great Intercession’, since the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is the greatest of the intercessors in the Hereafter. Those who merit this intercession will be covered by such an act of the Great Intercession

(٨٠) وَقُلْ رَبِّ اَدْخِلْنِيْ مُدْخَلَ صِدْقٍ وَّاَخْرِجْنِيْ مُخْرَجَ صِدْقٍ وَّاجْعَلْ لِّيْ مِنْ لَّدُنْكَ سُلْطٰنًا نَّصِيْرًا

And say: ‘My Lord! cause me to enter a goodly entrance and cause me to go out “ ٨٠
”.’(of) a goodly exit, and grant me from Your part a (powerful) authority to assist (me

Commentary: verse ٨٠

This verse alludes to one of the fundamental commandments of Islam which has its roots in the spirit of faith and monotheism. One should ask the Lord to enable him to initiate every job in an honest way. The verse says

”... And say: ‘My Lord! cause me to enter a goodly entrance “

Let us not initiate any individual or social act without honesty and sincerity, and, at the same time, let us not end any program except in a truthful manner. Honesty and sincerity as well as righteousness and keeping of others belongings must be our principal line to follow in all works and we begin and end everything with them. The verse continues saying

”... ,and cause me to go out (of) a goodly exit ...“

Some of the commentators have occasionally attempted to confine the broad meaning of this verse to certain limited cases and examples, such as the entrance and arrival at Medina and the departure from it for destination to Mecca; or one’s entrance to the grave and one’s exit from it on the Resurrection Day, or so forth, but it is quite obvious that the above comprehensive interpretation is not in any way confined to limited cases; rather, it is concerned with the initiation of all kinds of decent activities in an honest manner and its eventual termination in .everything, every job and every schedule

In fact, the main reason for one's success lies in this very point and the Divinelyselected prophets and men of Allah have also followed this very same course of action that their thoughts, words, and deeds have been clean of all frauds, defaults and tricks and

.distanced from whatever is contrary to the truth and honesty

In principle, most of the misfortunes, which we witness with our own eyes nowadays, and which entangle individuals and groups as well as nations, have their roots in deviation from this very point. Their very job is occasionally based on falsehood, fraud and malevolence, and, at times, when they initiate their acts with honesty, they often
.do not keep to their principle to the end which causes their failure

The second principle which, from one point of view, is the outcome of monotheism, and from another point of view, is the fruit of the honest initiation and ending of every
:job. This is that very thing which is referred to at the end of the verse. It says

”.(and grant me from Your part a (powerful) authority to assist (me ...“

For, I am lonely and one cannot do any job by himself! I shall not succeed, in any way, in my difficulties just by reliance on my own power! Assist me, and designate some assisting individuals for me. Provide me with a powerful reasoning; unequivocal, challenging proofs against my foes, devoted friends, a strong will, an illuminated mind, a sound reason all of which will serve me and come to my aid and, certainly, no
.one else but You are to provide me with these

(٨١) وَقُلْ جَاءَ الْحَقُّ وَزَهَقَ الْبَاطِلُ إِنَّ الْبَاطِلَ كَانَ زَهُوقًا

And say: ‘The truth has come and the ‘falsehood’ has vanished away; verily, the “ ٨١
”.’‘falsehood’ is (something) vanishing

Commentary: verse ٨١

The ‘Truth’ is one of the names of the Lord which is in the sense of ‘constant and everlasting’. Therefore, the Lord and whatever emanates from Him is identical with
.the truth

The Arabic term /zahūq/, mentioned here, signifies ‘going away’. The phrase /zahaqa
:nafsahū/ means that ‘the soul went out of his body’. The verse says

And say: ‘The truth has come and the ‘falsehood’ has vanished away; verily, the “
”.’‘falsehood’ is (something) vanishing

There are many extensions cited for this verse, such as: the emergence of Islam, arrival at Medina, the conquest of Mecca, and the breaking of the idols, in all of the cases of which, the ‘untruth’ has met with its own destruction. However, the verse has got a broader meaning which provides us with a sense of the destruction of the .’untruth’ as well as the survival of the truth

As in pursuance of ‘honesty’ and ‘trust’ which have been referred to in the previous verse, hoping for a decisive victory is another cause for success. The Lord tells His Prophet in the last verse in question to say that the truth has come and the untruth
.will vanish away

In principle, it is within the inherent nature of the untruth to be perishable. So, as it was said, the Arabic term /zahaqa/ is derived from /zahūq/, rhyming in weight with the Arabic term

qabūl/ and also equal in syllables, means extermination and, because of its form of exaggeration, it expresses the utmost condition, signifying something which is perishable in its entirety

The ‘untruth’ has got a certain period of maneuvering, though that period will not last long, and, eventually, the victory will be forth coming for the advocates and followers of the truth

:Explanations

Night prayers’ are great spiritual worshipping acts. The tumult of daily life may attract the attention of every one, taking his imagination to the extremes of various points in such a way that one’s mind is rarely at ease, and his thoughts collected with his heart are not fully placed in order. However, in the midst of night and before dawn, when the fuss of material life is pretty well-settled, and one’s a little amount of asleep has put one’s soul and body in order, man feels a unique sense of being refreshed all over

Certainly, in this calm sort of situation, away from all kinds of hypocrisy, bigotry, egoism, and coupled with one’s heartily attention, one is certain to focus in such a way his attention which is extremely reinforcing for his heart and tends to bring forth stages in the process of perfection. It is for this reason that the ‘friends of Allah’ have always strengthened themselves, through their end-of-the night prayers, with the purging of their souls, reinforcement of their heart and of their will, and complementing of their sincerity

At the dawn of Islam, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), too, sought to develop the spiritual programming of the Muslims, elevating their personality so much that as if they were no more their own former ‘selves’. That is, he created ‘new men’ out of their former selves: decisive, brave, faithful, clean and sincere, and, perhaps, ‘the praised position’, which is alluded to in the former verses, might be so owing to this reason

A survey of the quotations in the Islamic sources regarding the virtues of the ‘night prayers’, makes the issue more transparent. The following quotations are as some examples

The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) says: “The best among you are the ones who are polite in their speech; who feed the hungry; and who perform prayers deep into the night, when all (people are asleep.” (Bihār-ul-’Anwār, vol. ۸۷, pp. ۱۴۲-۱۴۸

Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) says: “Getting up at night for prayers will enhance one’s health of body, will please Allah, Almighty and Glorious, and will attract His favour, and, finally, will (enable one to) follow in the ethical course of the prophets.” (Bihār-ul-’Anwār, vol. ۸۷, p. ۱۴۴

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) told one of his disciples: “Never stop getting up at night for prayers; he who is deprived of the getting up at night for prayers and for worship, is the one who is aggrieved

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) says: “He who performs ‘the night prayers’, his face (as well as his soul) will turn good on the following day.” Even, we have it in some quotations that such acts of worship are so important that no one else, except the ‘pure’ and the ‘righteous’ can achieve it with success

A man, calling on Amir-ul-Mo’mineen Ali (a.s.), said: “I was deprived from performing the night prayers.” Ali (a.s.) answered: “You are the one whose sins have held him (captive.” (Bihār, vol. ۸۷, p. ۱۴۲

In another quotation from Imam Sādiq (a.s.), we read: “Man sometimes tells lies and this causes him to be deprived of the night prayers. Once, he is deprived in such a manner, he would also be deprived from sustenance, (the material and spiritual blessing which (will ensue).” (Bihār, vol. ۸۷

Notwithstanding we know that such a person like Ali (a.s.) never gave up the night .۷
prayers, the core of the importance of the matter is such that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) recommended to him in his testament as: “I am recommending you to perform certain acts; keep them well in mind.” Then he said: “O’ Lord: Assist him in performing these duties.” Then he went as far as saying: “Never keep away or forget about the night prayers! Never keep away or forget about the night prayers!” (Wasā’il-ush-Shī‘ah, vol.
(۵, p. ۲۶۸

The Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) told Gabriel: “Give me some pieces of advice” Gabriel .۸ said: ‘O’ Muhammad! Go on living as long as you may, but beware that you will eventually die; love whatever you wish to, but let it be known to you that you will finally separate from it (your object of love)! Perform every kind of act which pleases you, but do know that you will get the end-result of your action. And, finally, beware that a believer is honored by having his night prayers performed, while, his glory rests with abstinence from damaging the reputation of other people.” (Wasā’il-ush-Shī‘ah, (vol. ۵, p. ۲۶۹

Such heavenly pieces of advice of Gabriel, which are all well-calculated, exhibit the fact that the prayers performed in the depth of the night alter and shape one’s personality, education, spirituality and faith to such an extent that it would serve as one’s source of prestige and honor as would be the case with abstinence from .causing harms to other people, which by itself, will be one’s source of pride

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) states: “There are three points which serve as (a source of) pride .۹ for the believers and would be as an ornamental gift in this world and the next:
Prayers in the depth of the night, being heedless of what is in the hands of other people, and, ‘the wilāyat’, (love and leadership) of the Imam from among the progeny of the Prophet ((p.b.u.h.).” (Bihār, vol. ۸۷, p. ۱۴۰

That ‘Imam’ has also been quoted as saying: “Whatever of good acts performed by .۱۰ a believer has been mentioned with its reward explicitly in the Qur’ān, except that of the night prayers which Allah has not mentioned in a transparent way because of the extraordinary importance of it. He has only stated that: ‘They forsake their beds of sleep, the while they call on their Lord in fear and hope. And they spend (in charity) out of the sustenance which We have bestowed on them.’ (۱) Nonetheless, no one knows as to what kind of reward Allah has in mind for their remuneration for their acts which (causes their eyes to be enlightened.” (Bihār, vol. ۸۷, p. ۱۴۰

The highly-esteemed Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) has said: “The best of the prayers, .۱۱ next to the compulsory prayers, are the ones (which one performs) deep into the (night.” (Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, ۲۱۳۹۷.۷

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “The two-unit-prayer which the child of Adam .۱۲ performs in the midst of late night is better for him than the world and what is in it. Were it not causing difficulties for my herd ‘people’, certainly I would have made it (compulsory for them (to perform).” (Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, ۲۱۴۰۵.۷

Imam Riḍā (a.s.) has said: “Beware of the late-night prayers! There is no servant, .۱۳ who gets up late of night and does perform prayers in eight units, and Shaf‘ prayer into two units, and the ‘Watr’ prayer in one unit, seeking forgiveness of Allah seventy times in his ‘Qunūt’, save that Allah will spare him the chastisement of the grave and that of the Fire, prolong his lifetime for him, and will provide a wider range of means in his sustenance.” Afterwards, the Imam (a.s.) said: “Verily the houses in which such night prayers are performed their light will illuminate for the residents of heaven in the same manner that the stars shine and (shed light for the inhabitants of the earth.” (Bihār-ul-’Anwār, vol. ۸۷, p. ۱۶۱)

The blissful Prophet said: “The late-night prayers will serve as a pleasant source . ۱۴ for the Lord, the friendship of the angels, the practice of the prophets, the light of the gnosis (of Allah), the roots of faith, a cause for providing calmness of the body, provoking the disgust of the Satan, spearheading against the foes, a means of acceptance for one’s invocation, acceptance of one’s deeds, and blessings for one’s means of sustenance. The late-night prayers also serve as an intercessor between the performer of the prayers and the Angel of Death, as a light for his grave, as a carpet under him, as a respondent for the ‘Nakīr and Munkar’, an associate and a (visitor for man deep in his grave till the Day of Resurrection.” (Bihār, vol. ۸۷, p. ۱۶۱) Imam Sādiq (a.s.) said: “When a man commits sin, he will be deprived of performing . ۱۵ his late-night prayers. Truly, an evil act, ‘a sin’, serves as a sharper means on the (person involved than a knife cutting meat.” (Mizān-ul-Hikmah, vol. ۵, p. ۱۰۴۶۷)

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “When a person gets up from his pleasure- . ۱۶ providing bed while he has got his eyes full of sleep, in order to please his Lord, Glory be to His Mighty, by his late-night prayers, the Lord takes pride by it to the angels: saying: ‘Do you not watch this My servant, who has got up from his pleasant bed to perform the prayers which I have not compelled him to do? Do bear witness that, (verily, I have pardoned him’.” (Bihār, vol. ۸۷, p. ۱۵۶)

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) said: “There is no good that a servant does but there has been .۱۷ stated a reward for it in the Qur’ān, except for late-night prayers which Allah has not defined its reward because of its importance with Him.” (Wasā’il-ush-Shi‘ah, vol. ۵, p. (۲۸۱)

Imam Sādiq (a.s.) said: “He has told a lie who thinks he will starve in spite of having .۱۸ performed late-night prayers, for verily the late-night prayers guarantee the means (of sustenance of the day.” (Bihar-ul-’Anwār, vol. ۸۷, p. ۱۵۹

Certainly, such prayers have got their own many manners. We shall but present their simplest form in here so that the admirers of such a spiritual act can benefit further from it. The late-night prayers have got ۱۱ units which are divided into three sections :as follows

- a) Four set of prayers each divided into two units, which total ۸ units, called: ‘Nāfilah’ (supererogation) of the night
- b) One set of prayers, consisting of two units which is called ‘Nāfilah Shaf‘. (even (supererogation
- c) One set of prayers, consisting of one unit which is called ‘Nāfilah Watr’. The rituals of which are just the same as the morning prayers though there are no ‘prayer call’ and Iqāmah. (The declaration of prayer). When the Watr prayer is being performed, .the longer the Qunūt the better

?What is a Praised Position

As it is obvious from its apparent form, the position of the ‘highly praised one’ has got an extensive meaning which includes every type of high position and rank which is worthy and eligible for appraisal, though, certainly here, it refers to the outstanding and extraordinary place which has been attained by the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), as a result .of his nightly vigilance for worshipping and praying

As was said earlier, this rank, the Praised Position, according to the commentators, is widely known to be the position of ‘the Great Intercession’ of the Prophet (p.b.u.h).

This comment has been introduced in numerous quotations as well. In ‘Ayyashī’s commentaries, we have it quoted from Imam Bāqir (a.s.) or Imam Sādiq (a.s.) who, commenting on the last sentence of verse ٧٩ from the current Sura said: “It is intercession”.

Some commentators have sought to infer this fact from the very meaning of the verse. They are of the opinion that the Qur’ānic sentence: /‘asā ’an yab‘aθaka/ provides justification as to the fact that such a position ‘will be accorded to you by Allah in the future’. This is a rank which will be the object of universal appreciation, for it will be of benefit to the whole people, (for the Qur’ānic term /mahmūd/ ‘highly praised’, mentioned in the above sentence, refers to the absolute sense of the word and is not subject to any kind of conditions).

Moreover, praise and glory takes place in the case of a voluntary action, and that which embraces all of these worthy attributes, can be nothing else but the ‘universal (intercession’ of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). (Al-Mizān, vol. ١, p. ١٧٨)

This is also probable that the ‘highly praised position’ is the utmost proximity towards the Lord, one of the consequences of which embraces the ‘Great Intercession’.

The addressee in this holy verse is apparently the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), yet, from one point of view, one may generalize the verdict to include all those believing individuals who perform the Divine spiritual program of reciting the late-night prayers, saying they, too, will have a share of the ‘praised position’, and will find their way for proximity towards the Lord’s sanctuary as a result of and just to their depth of faith and their practices. They will be able, then, to intercede and assist the wretched people with the same scale, for we know that every believer will enjoy this rank of intercession, by the leave of Allah, according to the amount of his faith, though the brilliant and utmost complete example of this verse is the very Prophet (p.b.u.h.)

.himself

:Three Factors underlying Success :۴

It is usual with respect to the campaign of the truth against 'the untruth', that the latter excels the former in number and in power, while, the former, despite its lack of resources, and number, enjoys eye-catching victories. The examples of such cases are witnessed over and again in the Islamic Wars of Badr and 'Aḥzāb as well as in Hunayn and the like. In our contemporary world, we also notice the conquest by oppressed nations over the oppressor powers. This is because the advocates of the 'truth enjoy specific spiritual powers which sometimes turn one 'man' into one 'nation

We have noted allusions made to the three factors leading to victory in the above-mentioned verses; the factors from which the contemporary Muslims have distanced themselves and therefore, they witness successive defeats at the hands of their .opponents

These three factors consist of: honest and sincere initiation in the course of actions as .well as the pursuit of such a course through to the end

Reliance upon the power of the Lord, self-reliance, and renouncement from every .sort of reliance on others are other factors

Thus, no policies can prove more efficient than honesty and sincerity in the course of action, and no point of reference and support can be worthier than that of .independence, negation of interdependence, and trust in Allah

How can on earth the Muslims drive their present enemies out of their occupied and usurped lands, who are looting and plundering their resources, while they are heavily dependent on them militarily, economically and politically

Can we ever overcome our enemies by using those same weapons which we have bought from them? What a stupid idea

.The Truth will Prevail and the ‘Untruth’ will Die out :۶

We encounter one more general and fundamental principle as well as one everlasting Allah’s way of treatment in the previous verses, which provide us with a source of hope for all the truth-seeking individuals which pinpoints to the ultimate victory of the truth and the right over ‘the wrong’ and which drives out the ‘wrong’ in its entirety. The ‘wrong’ has got a certain period of prosperity and strength; it initiates blasting temporarily; it shows itself off though its life cycle is short and limited, and its eventual destiny is annihilation. Or, according to the Qur’ān, like foam on water, it winks, making a fuss, and dies out, and water, which provides life, will prevail. (Sura Ar-Ra‘d, (No. ۱۳, verse ۱۸

The reason for such a case is hidden in the word ‘untruth’ itself, for it is that kind of thing which is inconsistent with the world of creation and has got no share in actual reality and the truth

Untruth’ is fabricated and artificial; it is fake, rootless, void from within, and, thus, those things which are normally in possession of such attributes cannot last long

The truth-seeking individuals rely on the force of their faith, logic and keeping their words, the authenticity of their character, self-denials, and preparedness for sacrificing their lives as far as the point of martyrdom

They are those who are enlightened in their hearts and fear no one but ‘Allah’, relying on no one else except Him, hence, this provides the clue to their victory

:(This Verse, and the Uprising of Mahdi (a.s. ﷺ

In some quotations, the Qur’ānic sentence “The truth has come and the falsehood has vanished away” refers to the uprising of Haḍrat Mahdi (a.s.) as commented upon. Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said: “The meaning of these Divine words is that: ‘Once the living (Imam (a.s.) rises up, the fake administration will be up-rooted’.”\(1\)

Certainly, the meaning of these traditions do not confine the significance of the extensive meaning of the verse to this example only, but the uprising of Mahdi (a.s.) is the most notable example of it, the eventuality of which consists of the ultimate victory of the truth over the untruth throughout the entire world

We have it in the biography of the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h) that on the day of the conquest of Mecca, he entered the ‘Sacred Mosque’, overthrowing ۳۶۰ idols which were placed round the Ka‘bah by the Arab tribes, and breaking them one after another by his stick, he was reciting this noble verse continuously

Briefly speaking, this very Divine universal law, and this unequivocal law of creation, have got examples in every epoch. The uprising of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and his conquest over the army of paganism and idol-worshippers, as well as the uprising of Mahdi (a.s.) (May our souls be sacrificed for him) against the tyrants and oppressors of the world are cases of the evident examples of depicting this universal law

It is that same Divine law which provides the truth-seeking people with incentives as against the difficulties, making them more hopeful and strong in resistance, and they .reinforce and refresh us in our Islamic efforts

In the end of the verse, the Qur'ān implies that Allah pounds the truth over the 'untruth', hence uprooting it, in which case, the untruth will perish. Thus, the truth .must invade the untruth powerfully, pounding it

It is in the Divine law and His way of treatment that the truth must survive and the wrong must perish and be wiped out, and this process must take place in actual fact and not in an incidental way or in imagination, though the quantitative number of the followers of the truth might be small and the number of the followers of the wrong might be great, for the truth, like water, will be prevalent and the wrong will be wiped .out like the foam over the water

(٨٢) وَنُنزِّلُ مِنَ الْقُرْآنِ مَا هُوَ شِفَاءٌ وَرَحْمَةٌ لِّلْمُؤْمِنِينَ وَلَا يَزِيدُ الظَّالِمِينَ إِلَّا خَسَارًا

And We send down (stage by stage), of the Qur'ān, that which is healing and “ ٨٢ .
”mercy to the believers, and it adds not to the unjust except in loss

Commentary: verse ٨٢

:The Qur'ān, The Curing Prescription

As the previous noble verses, dealt with the issues of monotheism and the right of organizing campaigns against paganism and the wrong, this verse, takes up the issue of the extraordinary role of the Qur'ān and its constructive impact with respect to this, :saying

And We send down (stage by stage), of the Qur'ān, that which is healing and mercy “
”... ,to the believers

The blissful Qur'ān is a curing prescription for setting all in order and the betterment of the individuals and the society from all kinds of ethical and social diseases. The holy :verse continues saying

”and it adds not to the unjust except in loss ...“

Incidentally, the Arabic word /min/ does not imply in here ‘some’ which might substantiate the belief in the fact that ‘some parts of the Qur'ān are healing’. Contrarily, it suggests that whatever is descended from the Qur'ān is healing in itself. Thus, the term /min/ is an explanatory statement; and, although the Qur'ān is a guide for all; only those are provided with the light of its guidance who open the window of their soul to receive its revelations, alienating themselves from obstinacy and enmity .and are ready to receive it with a sound mind

Thus, the obstinate people, who have ill intentions, can gain nothing except additional disadvantage. It is like the rain, which, when falling on a swamp, makes stinking smell, though it is pure and clean in nature. Anyway, the reasoning of the Qur'ān heals mental stagnation. The admonition of the Qur'ān treats well the callousness. The history of the Qur'ān makes one disillusioned. Its beauty of harmony and its eloquence attracts the fleeing soul. Its ordinances and commands uproot superstitious beliefs, and its recitation and contemplation in it cure negligence. Recourse to it, cures bodily diseases, and its guidelines illuminate all kinds of .darkness

The Qur'ānic healings make a difference when compared with material remedies. They do not have any side-effects and are not outdated. The Qur'ānic remedies do not have any expiry date. He, who is cured by the Qur'ān, will serve as a cause for curing others. There are no errors or blunders in the prescription cure of the Qur'ān. It is always readily available for all. The physician of this medicine not only knows us well but also loves us and, His prescription is for all ages. His prescription and drugs are not .generic medicines to have duplicates Imam Ali (a.s.) remarks: “Verily the Qur'ān consists a cure for the greatest ailments, namely unbelief, hypocrisy, revolt, and seductions.”<sup>(۱)</sup> The Qur'ān is Allah's words and the Lord's Book. It is the Divine shining light, and the site of manifestation of Allah. It exhibits Allah's way; it is the Divine firmly fitted bond, the Divine laws, the curing prescription and a sign of Allah's favour to human beings. It is a sign of the magnitude of Allah and His eternal miracle. It is the saving flag, a didactic book and an instructive one, and an explicit statement. It is a book of glad tidings, warnings, monotheism, preaching, .consciousness and ethics

The Qur'ān is a light without darkness, a guide without aberration, and an endless treasure. It is a book of knowledge, ordinances, history as well as historical analysis. It is a book of politics and administration, consciousness, reflection, and contemplation. It is a book of peace and holy war, a book of the origin and the end. It is a book of faith and belief. The Qur'ān is a company to man in the darkness of ignorance and a guiding leader for him in the labyrinths of life. The Qur'ān is a book of measurement,
.justice, fairness, the truth, certainty, the right path, and the straight way

.It recounts the state of the past generations for the admonition of the future ones

The Qur'ān promises the righteous believers who practice it, salvation and victory, as well as glory and high esteem. It is a book of invitation, development, virtue, expediency, life and eternity. It is a book of the world of appearances and the innate world; a book of the worldly affairs and that of the Hereafter. It is the book of nature as well as that of metaphysics; the book of the visible as well as that of the invisible; it is the book of Allah and of the people. It provides the examples of good deeds, decent acts, and persuading the people to perform what is good and of dissuading them from what is bad. It is instructive and, it provides credit. The Qur'ān shows the way of Paradise and dissuades one from taking the road to the Hell. It is the firmest path which Allah calls the people to. It is the book of religion and Allah's permanent ways of .treatment. It is the Book of ethics, Gnosticism, Islamic jurisprudence and laws

The Qur'ān is the Book of eloquence, fluency, wisdom, and administration. The Qur'ān is the Book of education for Man'. It shows the route to the world of spiritual realities. It is the companion to man' .in his loneliness and keeps him company when in a state of terror

Certainly, tens of other topics only exhibit parts of the glory and depth of the instructions and the concepts of this Holy Book, which is an ever-lasting miracle of the .(Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h

Briefly speaking, this Divine Book and the Qur'ānic verses of it provide reasoning and statements for the public, while, serving as a guide and admonition for the virtuous Muslims. The Qur'ān says: "This is an explanation for mankind, and a guidance and an (admonition for the pious ones." (Sura 'Āl-i-'Imrān, No. ٣, verse ١٣٨

Hoping to receive the Divine success so that by reciting, reading, instructing, acquiring cognition of it, its understanding, and practice of this heavenly Book, we may follow .the track and the course leading to our happiness and virtue

:The Differences Between Healing and Mercy

We are aware of the fact that 'healing' is usually employed as against diseases, defects and deficiencies. Therefore, the first effect that the Qur'ān can affect the souls of men is the cleansing of them from all kinds of mental and ethical illnesses of both the individuals and the society. It is, therefore, from this point onward that the phase of 'favour' arrives which is characterized by the inculcation of Divine morality and the flourishing of human virtues which are embedded in those people who have received the Qur'ānic education. In other words, the Qur'ānic term 'healing' is an allusion made to the 'purification', while 'favour' refers to 'reconstruction'. Or in philosophical and mystical terms, the former refers to the .(process of ‘catharsis’ (1)), and the latter alludes to the process of ‘beautification’ (2)

Therefore, whatever emanates from the source of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful, is a favour for the believers; and the Lord has required doing favors from His part (3), and He has appointed His Prophet to the world as a favour (4), while the Muslims proceed with doing favour to one another (5) and His Book also equals (favour (6)

As the Qur’ān comes from Allah’s side, Who is the Creator of man and his nature, its laws are also corresponding to his nature, and are salvaging, and are the means of happiness and grace

?Why Is It that The Oppressors Get Negative Results

Not only in this verse but also in other verses of the Qur’ān we read that the enemies of the truth, instead of being enlightened whole-heartedly by the illumination of the verses, removing these dark spots, they usually add up to their ignorance and wretchedness. This is due to the fact that the very essence of their existence has transformed into another form because of their paganism and their dissidence. Thus, wherever they behold the light of the truth they stand up against it. This opposition against the truth adds to their ‘nasty’ state, thus reinforcing their spirit of rebellion. In other words, as the disbelievers actually do not observe and practice the ‘commandments’ and ‘Prohibitions’ of the Qur’ān, the revelation of each decree adds up to their crime and offence and, adds up to their disadvantages. The verses of the Qur'ān are like the proverb saying that they are like the raindrops, enlivening, which make tulips grow in gardens and make thorns grow in the wilderness. The verse says

Anyway, the Qur'ān equals cure and mercy for those who are suffering from the love of the world, dependence on material things, and unconditional surrender in face of the passions. And again the Qur'ān provides prescription for cure and mercy for the world in every corner of which the flames of war are burning, bowing under the burden of arms race, and which is throwing all its important capital and human resources at the feet of the monster of war and arms. And, eventually, the Qur'ān is a curing prescription for those whose path for Allah's proximity has been obstructed because of their dark curtains of passions

:Traditions Concerning the Magnitude of the Qur'ān

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has remarked: “I have left two (important) things . ۱ among you so as not to get astray when grabbing the two. One is the Qur'ān, the other one is my family household.” (Jami‘-ul-’Akhbār Wal-’Āthār, Kitāb-ul-Qur’ān, vol. (۱), p. ۹۴

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “The Qur'ān's excellence over other words . ۲ and speeches is like the Lord's superiority over all creatures.” (Jāmi‘-ul-’Akhbār (Wal-’Āthār, Kitāb-ul-Qur’ān, vol. ۱, p. ۱۸۲

The Prophet of Allah (p.b.u.h.) has said: “The Qur'ān is the best and excels every . ۳ thing but the Lord. He who respects the Qur'ān, has respected the Lord and he who does not honour the Qur'ān, has committed acts of insolence towards the Lord.” ((Jāmi‘-ul-’Akhbār Haḍrat-Imam Riḍā (a.s.) has quoted Imam-Mūsā Kāzim (a.s.) who said: “Someone .۴ asked Imam Sādiq (a.s.): ‘How is it that the more the Qur’ān has been read and publicized, the more its refreshing aspect is being added to?’ Imam Sādiq (a.s.) answered: ‘It is because the Lord has not appointed it for a particular time and a certain people. Thus, it is ever fresh and new for every nation in every new epoch until (the day of resurrection’.” (Jāmi‘-ul-’Akḥbār Wal-’Āthār, Kitāb-ul-Qur’ān, vol. ۱, p. ۱۶۹

The great Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) said: “Keep always yourselves reminiscent of .۵ the Qur’ān, for the Qur’ān is a ‘useful cure’, a ‘blissful remedy’, and guards off him (who appeals to it; and it salvages him who follows it.” (Jāmi‘-ul-’Akḥbār, vol. ۱, p. ۴۳۲

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “Those involved in the Qur’ān’s matters excel the .۶ highest human position next to the prophets and the Divine envoys. Thus, do not overlook and downplay (them and) their rights, for they are valued greatly before (Allah.” (Bihār-ul-’Anwār, vol. ۱, p. ۱۸۰

The dear Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “The best ones among you are those who learn and .۷ (teach the Qur’ān.” (Bihār-ul-’Anwār, vol. ۲, p. ۲۸۶

Imam Sādiq (a.s.): has remarked: “The believer who reads the Qur’ān and practices .۸ it in his youth, the Qur’ān is mixed with his flesh and bones (and blood), and the Lord places him alongside the great envoys (the prophets and the Imams) and the benevolent people, and, the Qur’ān acts as his advocating defendant in the (doomsday.” (Bihār-ul-’Anwār, vol. ۹۲, p. ۱۸۷ Imam Sādiq (a.s.) said: “It is appropriate for a believer not to die before learning the .۹ (Qur’ān or being engaged in learning it.” (Bihār, vol. ۹۲, p. ۱۸۹

The blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “Read the Qur’ān and practice accordingly. Do not distance yourselves from it; do not exaggerate over it, do not earn a living by it; (and, do not seek superiority through it.” (Nahj-ul-Fiṣāḥah, p. ۸۰

It is necessary to conclude this statement also that this prescription is only effective once one acts according to its content; otherwise, one must not expect any results. Therefore, the blissful Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has said: “He who reads the Qur’ān and does not act accordingly, the Almighty will muster him blind and tormented on the day of (resurrection.” (Jāmi‘-ul-’Akhbār, vol. ۱, p. ۴۰۹

Say: ‘Every one acts according to his own mould, but your Lord knows best as “ ٨٤
” .who is best guided to the way

Commentary: verses ٨٣–٨٤

When We bestow Our blessings on man, he turns a blind eye to them as if it were not him who has prayed and appealed to Us, distancing himself from performing what is his due in face of Our blessings and is not grateful to Us , and he also turns away from the bounty of the Qur’ān. Mujāhid says that it means: he alienates himself from Us, :hence, he gets involved in arrogance and egotism. The verse says

;And when We bestow favour on man, he turns away and (proudly) withdraws aside “

But, as soon as he is caught in the midst of poverty and sorrow, he loses his patience and becomes desperate, while, a believer is not so, for he is always in a state of hope and activity. Hence, the verse refers to those who are not believers though it appears .to be general

The reason as to why such diseases and calamities are called ‘evil’ is that these are regarded as evil from the viewpoint of a pagan, for a pagan does not expect any reward in exchange for them. Moreover, the human nature detests them. Otherwise, such diseases and catastrophes are, in fact, expediciencies, and appropriate in their own context. Thus, the Qur'ān declares in the next verse that: O! Muhammad: Tell them: A believer and a pagan both act according to their own disposition and manner. The believers who seek cures from the Qur'ānic verses and attain blessings are on the opposite side of those oppressors who do not obtain anything from it except losses. There are also some incapacious ones who are arrogant once they are affluent, but become desperate when they are in difficulties. They all act according to their own characteristics which have been formed in them as a result of their education and habitual training, thus directing man's activities. The

”and when any evil afflicts him, he is in despair ...“

****

”... ,Say: ‘Every one acts according to his own mould “

In the midst of all this, the Lord is observant of the state of everyone. Certainly, your Lord knows best those whose paths are better and from the point of guidance are :more fruitful. The verse says

”.but your Lord knows best as who is best guided to the way ...“

:Let us turn to two concluding points

The Qur'ānic phrase /na'ābijānibihī/ signifies following one's own egotistic desires . ١
.who is self-centered and turns his shoulder round

The Arabic term /šākilihī/ means shaping and forming of one's spiritual state which . ٢
.comes about as a result of one's heredity, education and social culture

And they ask you about the spirit, say: ‘The spirit is of the command of my Lord, “ ۸۵
”.’and you are not given of the knowledge but a little

Commentary: verse ۸۵

The Arabic term /rūh/ (spirit) has been mentioned ۲۱ times in the Qur'ān and used in certain cases. Anyway, man's spirit is a complicated matter, unknown and a Divine .blow which has got celestial dimensions, and only Allah knows it

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) has commented upon the Arabic term /qalīl/ in the sense of ‘few individuals’. That is, full knowledge has been only provided for only a select group of people and these are they who are exclusively aware of the soul. Anyway, in this noble verse, pursuing previous verses, the Qur'ān deals with some of the important :questions of the pagans, or of the people of the Book, saying

And they ask you about the spirit, say: ‘The spirit is of the command of my Lord, and “
”.’you are not given of the knowledge but a little

Great commentators have been incessantly speaking about the commentaries of this verse, and we shall first deal with the meaning of ‘soul’, then its various forms of usage in the Qur’ān and, afterwards, we shall deal with the comments of the verse and quotations in this regard

The Arabic term /rūh/ (spirit), philologically signifies ‘breath’ and ‘running’. Some declare that this word and the Arabic term /rīh/, meaning ‘wind’, are both derived from the same root. If we find /rūh/ the spirit, which is an abstract and independent ‘gem’ called this way, it is because, from the viewpoint of mobility and creative form as well as its invisibility, it is like breath and wind. So much is for the meaning the word

There are various usages for it in the Qur’ān: At times, it refers to ‘the Holy Spirit’ who has assisted the prophets in their missions like, verse ٢٥٣ of Sura Al-Baqarah: which says: “And We made Jesus, son of Mary, clear Signs, and strengthened him with the Holy Spirit, ...” At other times, it refers to the Divine spiritual power which reinforces and invigorates the believers, like verse ٢٢ of Sura Al-Mujadalah, No. ٥٨: which says: “... these are they into whose hearts He has impressed the faith, and whom He has confirmed with a spirit from Himself. ...” Occasionally, it has been named as the ‘exclusive angel of revelation’ and has been characterized as ‘Amin’ (truthful) as in the verses ١٩٣-١٩٤ of Sura Ash-Shu‘arā’, No. ٢٩, saying: “The Faithful spirit has descended with it,” “Upon your heart that you may be of the warners,” At other times, it has been applied as one of the great angels of the ‘exclusive Divine angels’ or ‘a creature superior to the angels’, as in verse ٤ of Sura Al-Qadr, No. ٩٧, which says: “The angels and the Spirit descend in it by the permission of their Lord for every affair.” We also read in verse ٣٨ of Sura

An-Naba', No. ۷۸: "The Day (on which) the Spirit and the angels shall stand arrayed..." On the day of the resurrection, the spirits and the angels stand up alongside one another forming one queue." On other occasions, it has been regarded as the Qur'ān or the Divine revelation like in verse ۵۲ of Sura Ash-Shurā, that says: "And thus did we reveal to you; an inspired Book by our command. ..." And, finally, we find its venue used as human spirit, as we read in verses concerning the creation of man, saying: Then He fashioned him in due proportion and breathed into him of His spirit." (Sura As-Sajdah, No. ۳۲, verse ۹). And He also reiterates: "So when I have completed him and I have breathed into him of My Spirit, fall you down, prostrating yourselves unto (him)." (Sura Al-Hijr, No, ۱۵, verse ۲۹

The issue in question now is what is meant by 'the spirit' in the verse under .۳ discussion? Which spirit is it that a group of curious people have inquired about it and the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) answered in response to them implying that the issue of spirit is among those which solely concern my Lord and you know but little about it. Out of the totality of the existing references in the verse, as well as out of it, one can infer that those investigating ones were inquiring about the gist of the truth about human soul; this very splendid spirit which differentiates us from animals, and which is our utmost superior quality that causes our nobility, whence all our power and activities originate from, by the aid of which we turn the skies and the earth into our spheres of influence. With its assistance, we tend to split the secrets of the sciences, delving into the core .of the existence of all beings

They sought to know what is this prodigy of the world of creation. And, as the soul is different in its structure with the matter which is subject to the principles governing the matter and its physical and chemical attributes, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is commissioned to utter this concise and meaningful sentence: “The spirit is of the command of my Lord.”

.that is, its creation process is complicated and mysterious

:Then, to stop them being stunned, the verse continues saying

And they ask you about the spirit, say: ‘The spirit is of the command of my Lord, and “
”.’you are not given of the knowledge but a little

Thus, it is not at all surprising that you do not acquire the mysteries embodied in ‘spirit’, though they might be more intimate to you than all other things

In the commentary of ‘Ayyāshī, there are quotations from Imam Bāqir (a.s.) and Imam Sādiq (a.s.) who commenting on /yas’alūnaka ‘an-ir-rūḥ/ said: “One of Allah’s creatures is ‘Spirit’ that has got senses of vision, power, and force as well. The Lord locates the spirit in the hearts of the prophets and of the believers”<sup>(۱)</sup>. In another quotation, one of the two great Imams has been quoted as saying: “Spirit is of invisible world and emanates from Allah.”<sup>(۲)</sup> In numerous quotations from the Shiite and Sunni sources, we have it that the Quraysh pagans, getting this question from the savants of the People of the Book, wanted to put the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to the test thereby. They were told that in case Muhammad provided them with a great deal of information in this connection, this would be the reason for his dishonesty. Hence, the Prophet’s (p.b.u.h.) concise and meaningful statement was surprising and miraculous for them

---

Tafsīr Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, vol. ۳, p. ۲۱۶-۱

Ibid, p. ۲۱۵-۲

However, in quotations received through Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.) regarding the commentary of the above verse, we note that ‘spirit’ has been considered as a created being introduced as superior to Gabriel and Michael, who has always remained with the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and the Imams, and who has kept them all, in their godly line, from every kind of deviation

These quotations not only are not incompatible with the comments which we made about the verse, but they are also consistent with them in their entirety, since man’s spirit has got a specific hierarchy

That phase of the spirit which is found in prophets and in Imams, is surely an extraordinarily elevated stage, one of the consequences of which, is its infallibility and state of ‘flawlessness’ from deviations and sin as well as its full cognition state and its extraordinary state of knowledge. It is certain that such a phase of spirit excels all angelic stages, including those of Gabriel and Michael

:The Authenticity and Independence of the Spirit

The issue of the spirit and its structural forms along with its mysterious specifications has always been the focus of attention of the scientists since the recorded human history was begun, and every scientist has tried his share to delve and explore, as far as he can the mysterious environment of the spirit. It is just for this very reason that the views expressed by men of knowledge are so widespread and various. Probably, our present knowledge, and even the knowledge of the future generations, for the recognition of the entire secrets of the mysterious nature of soul prove to be insufficient, though our spirit is in closer contact with us than anything else in this world. However, we must not be caught by surprise, when we are incapable to understand the depth of this miracle of creation which is beyond matter, for the basic substance of the soul varies tremendously with whatever we have ever been associated with and got used to in .this world

This state of the spirit must not hinder us to explore its landscape by our sharp insight of our intellect, becoming aware of its underlying general principles and orders which
.are governing it

The most important principle which must be recognized here is the issue of authenticity and independence of ‘spirit’ as against opposition raised by the materialistic schools which regard the spirit as something of material, considering it to be of the properties of the brain matter and the nerve cells, beyond which they
.believe in nothing to exist

Our focus of discussion in here centers about this very issue, for all discussion of the ‘survival of the spirit’ and the issue of absolute abstraction or ‘purgatory abstraction’ relies heavily on it. Before entering this discussion, however, we must point out to the fact that the interdependence of the spirit on the body as some have believed, is not a kind of interdependence like that of the introduction or, for instance, of the blowing of the wind into a bag pipe. Contrarily, it is some kind of relationship and interdependence based on the administration and control of the spirit over the body and its domination and governance, that some have resembled it to the .interdependence of ‘meaning’ to the utterance

Certainly, this issue will best be clearly explained in the discussion of ‘the independence of the soul’. Now, we shall turn to our principal discourse. There is no doubt as to the fact that man is different from stone and wood which are lacking in spirit, for, we well feel different with respect to the inanimate objects, even with plants. We understand, imagine, decide, determine, love, hate, etc. However, plants and stones lack in all these aspects in this form. Thus, there is an original difference between them, and us which is that of possessing human soul. Neither the materialists nor any other factions deny or reject the principle of the existence of the 'soul' or 'spirit', and, it is for this reason that all consider psychology and psychoanalysis as a positive science. Although both of these two sciences are in their infancy, they are those branches of knowledge which are pursued by professors and researchers at great world universities. As we shall see 'the soul' and the 'spirit' are not, in fact, separate from each other; but they are different phases of the same reality

As far as the issue involved is that of the relationship of the spirit with the body and their mutual interdependence, we call it the 'soul', and, while, spiritual phenomena are being discussed away from the body, we tend to call it the 'spirit

Briefly speaking, no one rejects the fact that there exists an entity which is called the 'spirit' and the 'soul' within us

It now remains to be seen that the all-encompassing conflicts between the materialists, on the one hand, and the metaphysicians and spiritualists, on the other hand, are being waged in which domain

The answer is that the theologians and the philosophers who are metaphysician believe that in addition to the substances which form the body of man, there is another entity or gem hidden in him which is not made of the matter, though man's body is under its direct impact. In other words, the spirit is a metaphysical entity, the structural form and activity of which is other than the structure and activity of the material world. It is true that it is constantly in contact with the material world, but it is not 'matter' or properly of matter. On the opposite side, the materialist philosophers are aligned who say: We do not know of any independent being different from matter under the name of the spirit or under any other name; whatever exists is this material

.body or its physical or chemical effects

We possess a system called the brain or nerve system which does an important part of our essential activities for us and which perform their functions like other bodily
.systems, acting under material laws

Certainly, scientists reject this line of reasoning which is propounded by the material philosophers, declaring it is null and void. For further information, refer to Tafsīr-
.Nemūnah, vol. ۱۲, under the same verse

To conclude this statement, the word /rūh/ (spirit) has been repeated ۲۱ times in the Qur'ān, and the reality of the 'spirit' is beyond the understanding of man's knowledge which lies as one of the Divine secrets. Man's knowledge, with respect to it, is limited
.and very minimal

”.Save the mercy from your Lord, verily His favour to you is great “ ٨٧

Commentary: verse ٨٦–٨٧

Whatever you possess emanates from His Grace. The issue in question concerned the Holy Qur’ān itself in several of the previous verses. He once again takes up the :discussion on this subject. At first, He says

And if We please, We would certainly take away whatever We have revealed unto “
”,you; then you would find no one thereover to defend you against Us

So, it is We Who has bestowed these sciences upon you so as to enable you to be the leader of the people and it is We Who will take back whatever We deem expedient, and there will be no interference allowed by anyone in this respect. Therefore, this noble verse takes up a threatening attitude towards the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) declaring that the Lord takes back those merits if He wishes in much the same way .that he has bestowed

The subsequent verse has got a soft and encouraging tone. In other words, the Qur’ān, the revelations, prophetic mission, being the seal of Prophets, and intercession all are among Allah's favors towards the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.), and they all originate from the position of Allah's Lordship, and He will not take back all He has bestowed on him, though He is capable with firm power, and He can perfectly do that. The holy verse

:says

"... ,Save the mercy from your Lord "

However, as Allah is great with utmost superiority, His favor is also just as great, and His immense kindness is peculiar to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). Thus the verse continues to :say

".verily His favour to you is great ..."

Allah's great kindness is immense with regard to you, for He has selected you as His prophet, and granted the Qur'ān to you so as to open up new gateways of knowledge facing you, and to make you aware of the secrets of human guidance, and, finally, to protect you from all errors, enabling you to serve as an example for all the people till
.the end of the world

(٨٨) قُلْ لِّئِنِ اجْتَمَعَتِ الْإِنْسُ وَالْجِنُّ عَلَىٰ أَنْ يَأْتُوا بِمِثْلِ هَذَا الْقُرْآنِ لَا يَأْتُونَ بِمِثْلِهِ وَلَوْ كَانَ بَعْضُهُمْ لِبَعْضٍ ظَهِيرًا

Say: ‘If (the whole) mankind and the Jinn were to gather together to bring the like “ ٨٨ of this Qur’ān, they could not bring the like of it though some of them be helpers of ”.’others

Commentary: verse ٨٨

.’The Arabic term /zahīr/ is derived from /zahr/ meaning ‘backing up’ and ‘advocate

The verse is an answer to the pagans who used to say: We, too, can bring the like of the Qur’ān if we want to. This call of the Qur’ān for challenging, and bringing an example like that, has remained unanswered for centuries and, up till now, the Arabic-speaking enemies from among the people of the Book as well as the atheistic schools, have been unable to bring the like of the Qur’ān despite their hostility towards Islam and despite the support which they have enjoyed from the various sources of power. Anyway, here the Almighty, addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), :announces

Say: ‘If (the whole) mankind and the Jinn were to gather together to bring the like of “ this Qur’ān, they could not bring the like of it though some of them be helpers of ”.’others

This verse explicitly challenges all the beings of the world, including the small and the great, Arabs and non-Arabs, human beings as well as even intelligent non-human beings, scientists, philosophers, literary figures, historians, the genius and the non-genius, briefly speaking, all without exceptions throughout the centuries to face the challenge of producing the like of the holy Qur'ān, proclaiming: If you think that the Qur'ān is not the word of the Lord and it is man's own fabrication, you are also a man and you can fabricate one like that. And, whenever you felt unable, after struggling hard, while combining your efforts, this .provides you with the best reason for the miraculous nature of the Qur'ān

This call for challenging with the Qur'ān, which is in the vocabulary of the scholars, expert in theology, known as /taḥaddī/, (challenge) is one of the pillars of every miracle and wherever such a meaning is in force concerning a subject, we find .transparency as to the miraculous nature of that issue in question

Incidentally, the unique specifications of the Holy Qur'ān consist of being both miraculous while, at the same time, it is eloquent and varying; it foretells the future while containing the best of stories; it provides the best method of calling while it is expressive of all problems, whether social and individual needs, worldly and after-life .requirements in all fields and at all times

(٨٩) وَلَقَدْ صَرَّفْنَا لِلنَّاسِ فِي هَذَا الْقُرْآنِ مِنْ كُلِّ مَثَلٍ فَأَبَى أَكْثَرُ النَّاسِ إِلَّا كُفُورًا

And We have explainer for the people, in this Qur'ān, every (kind of) similitude, “ ٨٩ .
”but incline not most of the people save denying

Commentary: verse ٨٩

By means of the verses of the Qur'ān, Allah has completed the argument to people. This verse, in fact, is the statement of one of the aspects of miracle and the inimitability of the Holy Qur'ān, i.e. its comprehensiveness. It implies that, in this noble Qur'ān, Allah has displayed unto the people examples of everything so that all sorts of knowledge are gathered in it; yet most of the people refused to do anything but denying. The verse says

And We have explainer for the people, in this Qur'ān, every (kind of) similitude, but “
”incline not most of the people save denying

Verily, this variety of the contents of the Qur'ān, and emerging from an illiterate person in particular, is amazing. This heavenly Book contains both the firm rational reasoning together with its special elaborateness in the field of creeds, and the statement of the ever-sure ordinances based on the necessities of people in any grounds. The Qur'ānic discussions upon historical subjects are unique in their kind. They are exciting, awakening, interesting, shaking, and free from any kinds of superstition. Its ethical matters affect on the prepared hearts in the same manner that the rain of the spring does upon the dead lands

The scientific points which are propounded in the Qur'ān have made manifest some facts which, at least in that time, were not known to any scientist

Precisely speaking, whatever fields the Qur'ān arrives, it offers the best. That is why if the Jinn and humankind come to help each other in order to bring the like of it, they will not be able to do so

(٩٠) وَقَالُوا لَنْ نُؤْمِنَ لَكَ حَتَّى تَفْجُرَ لَنَا مِنَ الْأَرْضِ يَنْبُوعًا

And they said: “We shall never believe in you till you make a spring to gush forth “ .٩٠
”,from the earth for us

Or till you should have a garden of date-palms and grapes in the midst of which “ .٩١
”,you cause streams to flow forth

Commentary: verses ٩٠–٩١

The Arabic term /yanbū‘/ refers to a fountain which will never dry up and which will .always gush

The pagans, who rejected the miraculous nature of the Qur’ān, made their embracing the belief conditional upon attainment of some material gains, asking the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) for some undue expectations. They neglected the fact that the prophets would perform miracles so as to justify their prophetic mission. This is done not for meeting the whimsical demands of the obstinate people or for the sake of their entertainment or escaping from effort and endeavour. In fact, undue expectation, callousness, obstinacy, seeking pretexts, unawareness of the aims, and rudeness, all intermingled with one another so as to put illogical requests to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), like a fountain, gardens, rivers, collapse and fall of the skies, summoning of the Lord .and of the angels, golden houses, flight into skies, and a private letter from the Lord

Anyway, the pagans of Mecca stated: We do not confirm your prophetic mission unless you split the ground of Mecca which is scarce in water resources and make a fountain emerge out of it, which :gashes. The verse says

And they said: “We shall never believe in you till you make a spring to gush forth from “
”,the earth for us

Or they demanded from him a garden which had got plenty of date-palms and grape trees, covered by them, amidst which streams flow so as to water trees beneath them, little knowing that the goal of the prophets had been people’s guidance and leading them to monotheism, though some groups thought of gardens, gold and silver
:while such requests and expectations were not logical. The verse says

Or till you should have a garden of date-palms and grapes in the midst of which you “
”,cause streams to flow forth

”,the angels face to face with us

Or there be for you a house of gold, or you should be flying in to the sky, and “ .٩٣ never will we believe in your ascending unless you bring down to us a book which we ”?may read. Say: ‘Glory be to my Lord! Am I aught but a mortal messenger

Commentary: verse ٩٢-٩٣

Miracles are among the exclusive characters of the Divinity of the Lord and have their origin in the Divine will and Wisdom. From among the conditions of miracles is that they must not be aimless, useless and utterly improbable. The demands of the pagan from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) are worthless. Making the skies collapse will exterminate all and every thing, leaving no one alive to become a believer. Summoning of the Lord and the angels is also an utter impossibility, for they are not ‘bodies’ which can be .summoned for us so as we witness them with our eyes

Therefore, in this verse, the obstinate pagans reiterated that you thought you were a prophet and you possessed miracles therefore, turn the sky into pieces, shredding everything and making them fall over us. Or you bring forth (1) the Lord and the angels before (2) us so as we can see them with our own eyes and witness that you are authentic and legitimate, your call being :valid. The verse says

Or you cause the heaven, as you think, to fall in pieces upon us, or bring Allah and the “ ,angels face to face with us
:In the subsequent verse, the Qur’ān says

”... ,Or there be for you a house of gold “

Or you ascend to the sky. Even if we witness with our own eyes, doing that, we are not to believe, unless you fetch us each a book from Allah testifying to your prophetic :mission, which we shall read. The verse continues saying or you should be flying in to the sky, and never will we believe in your ascending ... “ (unless you bring down to us a book which we may read. ...” (3)

We read at the end of these verses that Allah commands His prophet, culminating these contradictory and paradoxical proposals, to say to them that He is clean and pure of all these imaginary conjectures; that is, He is distant from performing miracles according to your wishes. Thus, the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.), addressing them, said: I am also like other prophets. I am a human being. Those prophets used to perform miracles

The Arabic term /zukhruf/ denotes originally some kind of ornament, like gold which is one of the precious metals, and is used as ornament. This term is also applied for houses with paintings and decorations

Point

Nothing prevents anyone to believe in the apostle of Allah – There is no necessity to send angels as apostles – Allah can create worlds like the worlds which He has .already created

(٩٤) وَمَا مَنَعَ النَّاسَ أَنْ يُؤْمِنُوا إِذْ جَاءَهُمُ الْهُدَىٰ إِلَّا أَنْ قَالُوا أَبَعَثَ اللَّهُ بَشَرًا رَسُولًا

And nothing prevented the people from believing when the guidance came to “ .٩٤ ”?them except that they said: ‘Has Allah raised up a mortal as Messenger

Commentary: verse ٩٤

The only reason as to why the pagans were kept away from embracing the belief in the Qur’ān and the command of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), was the fact that they could not :accept the prophetic mission of a man from the side of Allah. The noble verse says

And nothing prevented the people from believing when the guidance came to them “ ”?except that they said: ‘Has Allah raised up a mortal as Messenger

Therefore, the pagan people did not submit themselves to the reasons for obvious miracles, for they would say as to how could the Lord appoint a man for prophecy? The Lord’s envoy must be raised from among the divine angels. This groundless paradox hindered them from believing in the holy Prophet p.b.u.h.). As was about the worship of the unitary essence of Allah, in which case, they proclaimed that: “Our worship of Allah is not worthy of Him.” Hence, they succumbed to the worship of the idols, and to their thinking, by this act they tried to glorify the Lord, while this act is not an act of glorification to Him. On the contrary, it is being heedless of the pure essence of Allah, the Glorified

Certainly, those who do not possess a sound reasoning and rationale, regard a strong point as a weak one. The fact that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was a human being is a strong point in him and not a weak one, for having instincts and motives as well as difficulties will cause him to grasp best the sufferings of men, and can provide a practical paradigm as well as a useful prescription

Say: ‘Had there been in the earth angels walking at peace, We would certainly “ .٩٥
”.’have sent down an angel from heaven to them as messenger

Commentary: verse ٩٥

This noble verse refuses the attitude of those who raised objections to the fact that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was selected from among the human beings, and implies that: The sending of the prophet is Allah’s way of treatment and a religious necessity. Even if all the inhabitants of the earth were angels, and there were no quarrels and rows among them, and all of them were in perfect health and enjoying welfare, there would be some envoy from their progeny and gender coming from the side of Allah, for the mission of the prophets consists of enduing perfection and spiritual development as well as the provision of paradigms, and not merely the removal of :hostilities from among them. The Qur’ān says

Say: ‘Had there been in the earth angels walking at peace, We would certainly have “
”.’sent down an angel from heaven to them as messenger

Incidentally the homogeneousness of the leaders with that of the people is a necessity for their education and their imitation of their identification figures. Mankind for mankind, and angels for angels can serve as best paradigms. The reason for such a homogeneity of the leader and of the followers is clear, for, on the one hand, the ,most important part of the propaganda section of a leader is his practical side, that is serving as a paradigm and an identification figure which is only made possible when the leader possesses the human instincts and feelings and the same bodily structural forms and spiritual ones

On the other hand, a leader must understand well all the pains and sufferings, needs and demands of his followers so that he can produce remedies for them and respond to them. It is for this reason that the prophets have risen up, and emerged from among the bulk of the people, while the accession to the position of the prophet is from the side of the Lord and it is not an elective office stray, you will never find for him guardians other than Him; and We shall muster them on the Day of Resurrection upon their faces, blind, dumb and deaf whose dwelling

”.shall be Hell; whenever it abates, We shall increase for them the blaze

Commentary: verses ٩٦–٩٧

Pursuing the previous discussions, which centered around monotheism and prophetic mission as well as discourses with the opponents, here, in this verse, there is a sort of declaration of the termination of the current discussion, at this stage, and providing .conclusion

At first the Qur’ān implies that if they do not accept your reasoning concerning monotheism, prophecy and resurrection, proclaim upon them, saying: It suffices for me that the Lord is an intermediary and a witness between you and I, for, He is aware :of the feelings of His servants and He is All-seeing unto their works. The verse says

Say: ‘Allah suffices as a witness between me and you; verily He, of his servants, is “
”All-Aware, All-Seeing

In fact, there are two objectives in view in making this statement. The first one relates to the fact that the obstinate, and fanatic opponents receive a threat that the Lord is aware and All-seeing while He is witnessing all our deeds and all your acts. Do not imagine that you can escape His sphere of power or part of your acts remains hidden
.from Him

The other objective is that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) should exhibit decisively his firm conviction as to what he has stated, for the speaker's decisiveness in his speech
.leaves a great impact on the listener

Maybe, this expression, which is firm and decisive coupled with a sort of mild threat, leaves its impact on them, shaking them in their hearts, and awakening them, calling
.them to the right path

:Afterwards, the Qur'ān adds

And whomever Allah guides, then he is guided aright, and whomever He leaves to “
”... ;stray, you will never find for him guardians other than Him

The only way they have is to return to Him once again and seek the light of guidance
.from Him

These two sentences, in fact, are allusions to the fact that the mere pounding reasoning is not sufficient for embracing the faith. On the contrary, before gaining the Divine success and proper eligibility of Allah's guidance, it is impossible for him to .embrace the faith

A Persian poem indicates: It is the clean sperm necessary to become worthy of receiving favour; Otherwise every pebble or piece of clay will never turn into shining
.stones or pearls

Then, the Qur'ān illustrates for them one of the scenes of the resurrection day as a ,challenging and pounding threat

:which is the certain consequences of their actions, proclaiming that

”... ,and We shall muster them on the Day of Resurrection upon their faces ...“

Instead of them walking in an upright and erect standing position, the angels of punishment draw them on their faces, or they will be crawling over their faces and chests like reptiles. They will be entering into that great court in a state of blindness, deafness, and dumbness. The holy verse continues saying

”... blind, dumb and deaf ...“

There are different stages and stop phases for the day of resurrection, in some of which the sinners are blind, deaf, and dumb, though in other platforms they regain their eyesight, their sense of hearing, and their tongues open up so as to enable them to witness scenes of punishment, listen to the blaming of others, and cry for help, expressing their weakness, which itself is one way for punishing them

The culprits also are deprived from seeing what is the source of delight, and from hearing what is joyful, and from saying whatever is directed towards salvation; on the contrary, they only see, hear, and say what is a source of discomfort

In the end of the verse, the Holy Qur’ān implies that their eternal abode is Hell, but you must not imagine that its Fire will eventually be extinguished, like the worldly fire. Nay! “Whenever it is about to fade away, We shall rekindle new flames to it.”<sup>(1)</sup> The verse says whose dwelling shall be Hell; whenever it abates, We shall increase for them the ...“ ”.blaze

---

The Arabic term /xabat/ refers to the flame which is fading, and the word /sa’īr/ – ۱ means ‘to flame the fire’, and it is one of the names of Hell

(٩٨) ذَلِكْ جَزَاؤُهُمْ بِأَنَّهُمْ كَفَرُوا بِآيَاتِنَا وَقَالُوا أَإِذَا كُنَّا عِظَامًا وَرُفَاتًا أَوْنَا لَمَبْعُوثُونَ خَلْقًا جَدِيدًا

That is their recompense, for they disbelieved in Our signs and said: ‘What! When “ ٩٨ . we become (mere) bones and decayed dust, shall we, then, indeed be raised, into a ”?new creation

Commentary: verse ٩٨

The Arabic term /rufāt/ refers to straw particles which are so shredded into pieces .which cannot be broken further

In the previous verses we noted as to how an evil fate awaits in the world hereafter for the sinners; a destiny which makes every sane person to think and contemplate.

:Here, the Qur’ān explains the reason of this matter in a different way. It says

That is their recompense, for they disbelieved in Our signs and Said: ‘What! When we “ become (mere) bones and decayed dust, shall we, then, indeed be raised, into a new ”?creation

Certainly, the disbelievers have got no reasons for rejecting the resurrection, and whatever they utter is said as mockery and ridicule or is because of their .astonishment, or considering as impossible

(٩٩) أَوَلَمْ يَرَوْا أَنَّ اللَّهَ الَّذِي خَلَقَ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضَ قَادِرٌ عَلَىٰ أَنْ يَخْلُقَ مِثْلَهُمْ وَجَعَلَ لَهُمْ أَجَلًا لَا رَيْبَ فِيهِ فَأَبَى الظَّالِمُونَ إِلَّا كُفُورًا

Have they not consider that Allah Who has created the heavens and the earth is “ .٩٩ able to create the like of them? And He has appointed for them a term in which there ”.is no doubt; but the unjust refuse aught save disbelieve

Commentary: verse ٩٩

The Holy Qur’ān has repeatedly sought to remove all doubts concerning resurrection by pointing out to the creation of the heavens and the earth as well as to the enormity of the system of creation along with the Divine domination over the creation process. The Holy Qur’ān implies whether the process of your creation is harder or the :creation of the heavens which He has undertaken. The verse says

Have they not consider that Allah Who has created the heavens and the earth is able “ to create the ”... ?like of them

That is, the best reason for establishing the possibility of something which is there, is .its very existence and its very accident

In the doomsday, the decayed bones are the same worldly bones and the spirit to which it has joined is that same spirit. However, the Qur’ān states /miṯlahum/ (like those), it is just like the ‘raw bricks’ which, when pounded, it is possible to manufacture once again bricks of the same proportion and quality. In this case, people say: These bricks are like the former ones, and not identical with them, or they say that the materials which have (gone into them are the same.)

The best rationale to prove the resurrection is focusing our attention on the Divine power in nature

Therefore, He remarks in this noble verse asking: Do those who regard resurrection as impossible, not know that Allah, Who has had the ability to create the heavens and the earth, can create like of them in the doomsday, for the creation of them is not harder than the creation of the heavens and the earth. As the Qur'ān says: "Are you the harder to create or the creation of the heaven He made it?" (An-Nāzi'āt, No. ۷۹, (verse ۲۷

The Lord designated for them a decisive destiny that the goal of which is death or the resurrection. However, these oppressors abstained from accepting the truth, and they added up to their rejections though the evidences were quite clear for them. The
:verse says

And He has appointed for them a term in which there is no doubt; but the unjust ... "
".refuse aught save disbelieve

Say: ‘If you possessed the treasures of the mercy of my Lord, then you would “ ١٠٠ .
”definitely withhold (them) for fear of spending, and man is ever niggardly

Commentary: verse ١٠٠

The Arabic term /qatūr/ is derived from the word /qitr/, meaning: miserliness and
.avarice or withholding from sharing with others of one’s wealth

As they insisted on the idea that the prophet must not be of the same genus as mankind, apparently some kind of jealousy and avarice stopped them from believing that, perhaps, Allah has bestowed this blessing on a human being. Thus, He says in :this verse

Say: ‘If you possessed the treasures of the mercy of my Lord, then you would “
”definitely withhold (them) for fear of spending, and man is ever niggardly

These last three verses are the most obvious of the verses which provide justifications for the resurrection of the body, for the pagans astonishment concerned as to how the Lord can return to life once again those decayed bones which have .turned into dust

The Qur’ān’s answer also covers this very point, implying: That Lord Who created the heaven and the earth, has also the potentiality to assemble all scattered human .particles and to provide them with life

Incidentally, one of the reasons stressed by the Holy Qur’ān repeatedly for establishing the issue of resurrection, is the its taking recourse to the generalization
.of the Lord’s Omnipotence

Point

Moses given the signs – Pharaoh’s arrogance – Apostle Muhammad sent as the Bearer of glad tidings and a Warner – Those gifted with knowledge believe in the .Qur’ān even if any one else believes not – Glorification of Allah

He said: ‘Indeed you know that none has sent these (miracles) down save the “ ١٠٢ .” Lord of the heavens and the earth (as) clear proofs, and I think you lost, O’ Pharaoh

Commentary: verses ١٠١–١٠٢

In several of the foregoing verses, we noted as to what peculiar demands the pagans used to put to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). We, here, find Him, in fact, exposing one of the examples of such scenes in preceding generations as to how they witnessed extraordinary events and miracles and they, yet, looked for pretexts, rejecting everything. At first, He says

”... ,And indeed We give Moses nine clear signs “

These divine signs consist of: The stick, the white hand, the storm, locusts, one kind of plant-pest called /qummal/, the over-increase in the number of frogs, blood, drought, and deficiencies

Later, in order to stress this point further, He adds in implication to Moses that if your opponents even reject this matter outright, in order to deliver an ultimatum to them, tell them to ask the sons of Israel as to how they were when these verses came down to them. Notwithstanding these, not only they did not subject themselves to the acceptance of the fact, but also they accused Moses of being a sorcerer, and of being :crazy. The verse continues saying so ask the Children of Israel when he came to them, and, Pharaoh said to him: ‘O’ ... “

”.’Mūsā! Verily I think you are bewitched

This is the case with all the arrogant people who used to accuse the godly men of sorcery or insanity for their innovations and their movement against the treatment of corrupt communities and their exhibition of extraordinary behaviour, so as to be able to influence naive people, scattering them from around the prophets. Thus verse ۱۰۲ shows Moses (a.s.) did not keep quiet in face of all this under accusation, affirming :categorically, where it declares

He said: ‘Indeed you know that none has sent these (miracles) down save the Lord “
” ’!of the heavens and the earth (as) clear proofs, and I think you lost, O’ Pharaoh

Therefore, O pharaoh!, you reject the facts while having full knowledge of the facts .and while you are cognizant of them. I believe you, Pharaoh, will eventually perish

:Two Points in Conclusion

The first point: In the Glorious Qur'ān, there are numerous verses and miracles mentioned concerning Moses, among which one might refer to the following

Conversion of the stick into a giant snake and the act of swallowing of the tools of (the sorcerers. (Tā Hā, ٢٠

The white hand or the shining of the hands of Mūsā (a.s.) like a source of light. (Tā Hā, ٢٢

(The pounding storms. (Al-'A'rāf, ١٣٣ .٣

Locusts' which dominated their farms and their trees, and served as a nuisance for (their flourishing agriculture. (Al-'A'rāf, ١٣٣ .٤

(One plant-pest agent which exterminates cereals, called /qummal/ (Al-'A'rāf, ١٣٣ .٥

The frogs which emerged from the Nile River and reproduced to such an extent that (they made people's lives miserable and full of difficulties. (Al-'A'rāf, ١٣٣ .٦

Nose-bleeding' or 'blood' which signifies the universal counteraction of nose-bleeding or the turning of the Nile into the colour of the blood which made the river (water neither good for drinking nor fit for agriculture. (Al-'A'rāf, ١٣٣ .٧

The splitting of the sea in such a way that the Children of Israel could pass through (it. (Al-'A'rāf, ١٣٣ .٨

The descending of /mann/ and /salwā/ which was explained under verse ٥٧, of Sura Al-Baqarah .٩

(The gushing of the springs from stone. (Al-Baqarah, verse ٤٠ .١٠

The splitting away of part of the mountain and its placement as a canopy over (them. (Al-'A'rāf, ١٧١ .١١ (Famine and draught as well as shortage of fruits. (Al-'A'rāf, ١٣٠ .١٢

Returning to life of a murdered individual whose death instigated intensive . ١٣ (opposition among the Children of Israel. (Al-Baqarah, ٧٣

Use of the cloud shadows as canopy which protected them in a miraculous way in . ١٤ (intense desert heat. (Al-Baqarah, ٥٧

The issue in question in here is: What is the objective of ‘the nine verses’, which have ?been alluded to in the verses under discussion

The expressions utilized in these verses reveal the fact that they signify miracles which were mentioned in connection with Pharaoh and the adherents of Pharaoh, and not the ones which were involved with the Children of Israel themselves, like the descending of ‘Mann and Salwā’, and the emergence of the spring from a stone, and .the like

Considering this point, one can claim that the five topics which are dealt with in verse ١٣٣ of Sura Al-’A’rāf, are among these nine signs: Storm, plant-pest, locusts, over .reproduction of frogs, and blood

Undoubtedly, the two famous miracles of Mūsā (a.s.), that is, the issue of the ‘stick’, and the ‘white hand’ are among the nine signs, specially, it is noteworthy that we find verses ١٠ to ١٢ of Sura An-Nahl the same expression of the ‘nine signs’, which are
.mentioned after the statement of these two great miracles

These all make up the seven supernatural or ‘extraordinary events’. Now, let us turn to the other two verses. Undoubtedly, the drowning of the people of Pharaoh, and the like, cannot be included among these signs, for the goal of explaining of the signs is to guide the people of the Pharaoh and not those which caused their destruction and .extermination

Concentrating on Sura Al-'A'rāf, in which we find many of these verses, exhibits the fact that the objective in mind of the other two signs have been the 'draught' and 'the shortage of all kinds of fruits', for after the miracle of the stick and the 'white hand' and before the mentioning of the five signs of the storm and the locust, the holy verse says: "And certainly We afflicted the clan of Pharaoh with drought and scarcity of (fruits, so that they may take admonition." (Sura Al-'A'rāf, No. 7, verse 130.

?(Is the one who is questioning the Prophet (p.b.u.h

Apparently, the verses show that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was commissioned to investigate from the Children of Israel about the nine signs which were revealed to Moses (a.s.), asking them about how the people of the Pharaoh rejected the authenticity of the call of Moses (a.s.) despite all those clear signs under so many different pretexts

But, as such a person like the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) did not require putting to them such a query despite all his knowledge and wisdom; some commentators have still regarded other addressees as the agents who have put the question to them

However, taking into consideration that the question raised was not the one put by the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) for himself, rather, it was put for the acceptance by the pagans, it does not matter that the investigator be the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) himself so that the pagans should know that if the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) did not accept to give in the various proposals of the pagans, it was because such proposals did not have any motives for the sake of seeking the truth. On the contrary, their attitude was based on obstinacy, fanaticism and hostility, and their story was like the one we read about in the story of .Moses (a.s.) and Pharaoh

(١٠٣) فَأَرَادَ أَنْ يَسْتَفِزَّهُمْ مِنَ الْأَرْضِ فَأَغْرَقْنَاهُ وَمَنْ مَعَهُ جَمِيعًا

(١٠٤) وَقُلْنَا مِنْ بَعْدِهِ لِبَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ اسْكُنُوا الْأَرْضَ فَإِذَا جَاءَ وَعْدُ الْآخِرَةِ جِئْنَا بِكُمْ لَفِيفًا

So he (Pharaoh) decided to scare them from that land; but We drowned him and “ ١٠٣ .
” .those with him, all together

And, after that, We said to the Children of Israel: ‘Settle in the land and when the “ ١٠٤ .
” .promise of the Hereafter comes to pass, We shall bring you (all) assemble together

Commentary: verses ١٠٣-١٠٤

The Arabic term /istifzāz/ signifies ‘expelling by force’. The Qur’ān has repeatedly made allusions to these methods of oppression towards the men of Allah and their eventual frustration. They put ‘Ibrāhīm within fire, the Lord turned the fire cold. They threw Yusuf down the well, the Lord elevated him to the rank of ‘Azīz in Egypt. They expelled the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) from Mecca, Allah bestowed on him the government of the entire world of Islam. Such is the Divine way of treatment and the rule of Allah,
.Who has got suitable contrivance against the dirty tricks of the evildoers

Therefore, the Qur’ān implies in this verse that since the Pharaoh was not able to resist against the pounding reasoning and rationales of Mūsā, he took recourse to the same tricks employed by all oppressors who are illogical throughout the ages, as the
:verse says

So he (Pharaoh) decided to scare them from that land; but We drowned him and “
” .those with him, all together

And, thus, He implies: We told the Children of Israel, to settle down in the lands of .Egypt, Damascus and Bayt-ul-Muqaddas

However, when the time of after-life arrives, We shall make you assemble, appearing :in the Court of Justice altogether. The verse says

And, after that, We said to the Children of Israel: ‘Settle in the land and when the “
”.promise of the Hereafter comes to pass, We shall bring you (all) assemble together

.The Arabic term /lafif/ means interrelated large groups

?What land is the objective of /’ard/ in these verses

We read in the previous verses that the Lord told the Children of Israel that now that you have conquered the enemy, you must settle down in the ‘promised land’. Does this signify the land of Egypt? (This same word, which has been stated in the previous verse that says Pharaoh wanted to expel them from that land, is mentioned in this sense with the same meaning; other verses of the Qur’ān also affirm the fact that the (Children of Israel became the heirs and the inheritors of them

Or else, this is an allusion made to the ‘Holy Land’ of Palestine, for the Children of Israel went to the land of Palestine after this event and were commissioned to enter
.it

However, we do not consider it as a remote possibility that both lands have been the objective of it, for the Children of Israel became both the inheritors of the lands of the Pharaohs, as testified by the Qur’ān, and they became the proprietors of the land of .Palestine

In the meantime, does the Qur’ānic phrase /wa’d-ul-’āxirah/ signify the Hereafter?
The answer to this question is apparently positive, for the sentence: “...We shall bring you (all) assemble together” provides us with the corresponding meaning. Some .commentators have also voiced another possibility

(١٠٥) وَبِالْحَقِّ أَنْزَلْنَاهُ وَبِالْحَقِّ نَزَلَ وَمَا أَرْسَلْنَاكَ إِلَّا مُبَشِّرًا وَنَذِيرًا

And, with the truth have We sent it (the Qur'ān) down and with the truth it has “ ١٠٥ .
come down; and We have not sent you except as a Bearer of glad tidings and as a ”.warner

Commentary: verse ١٠٥

The authenticity of the Qur'ān has been guaranteed from distortions. The Qur'ān has been verily revealed in truth, and the Divine revelation has also been received its destination safely, while, at the same time, the Satans have been unable to do it any harm. Therefore, once again, the Qur'ān calls on the grandeur and glory of this heavenly Book, providing answers to the objections and pretexts of the dissidents. At :first, it says

And, with the truth have We sent it “

”... the Qur'ān) down)

At times, one may start doing something, but, because he is limited in his power, he may not be able to finish it up to the end. However, one who has knowledge of everything, and is capable to fulfill everything he does while he is correctly positioned and ends everything in the right fashion, thus actualizing it to the fullest. For instance, man might sometimes let water out of a spring while it is pure though it might reach the consumption point quite impure for he is unable to preserve it through. However, he who has command of his job quite well in all respects, he can fill everyone's jar
.who is thirsty with pure water

The Qur'ān is just such a Book which has been descended with the truth from the Lord, and He has guarded and protected it in its courses from any point of view, whether be it the stage that Gabriel was the means of revelation and where the recipient has been the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and has been preserved quite well in such a way that the passage of time has even not caused any distortions in it, and will never be distorted, for the Lord has undertaken Himself its preservation. Thus, this source of ‘pure water’ of the Divine revelation, will remain untouched through to the end of the world. The

:verse continues saying

”... ;and with the truth it has come down ...“

:Concluding His statement, He says

”.and We have not sent you except as a Bearer of glad tidings and as a warner...“

.And you have got no right to introduce any changes in the context of the Qur’ān

(١٠٦) وَقُرْءَانًا فَرَقْنَاهُ لِتَقْرَأَهُ عَلَى النَّاسِ عَلَى مُكْثٍ وَنَزَّلْنَاهُ تَنْزِيلًا

And (it is) Qur'ān which We have divided (in sections) so that you may read it to “ ١٠٦ .
”.the people at a slow pace and We have sent it down gradually in portions

Commentary: verse ١٠٦

One of the objections of the pagans related to the fact as to why the Qur'ān has not been revealed as a whole in one part, when they said: “... why has not the Qur'ān (been revealed to him all at once? ...”\(١\)

.The verse under discussion is in response to their objection

As the verses of the Qur'ān relate to different events, and they are meant to meet the requirements of all classes of the people throughout history, they are revealed in sections so as to correspond to the various events, thus becoming more pleasant for the audience. Would that ever be possible to collect all the events of ٢٣ years in one single day so that the problems raised therein be revealed in the Qur'ān instantly?
:The verses says

And (it is) Qur'ān which We have divided (in sections) so that you may read it to the “ ”.people at a slow pace and We have sent it down gradually in portions

Incidentally, the gradual revelation implies the continuous relationship of the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) with the source of revelation. However, instant revelation would not guarantee such a relationship more than once. Moreover, an instructor and a reformer must have a long term program in mind and must not be unaware of the new needs. Thus, the Holy Qur'ān does not contain only instructive aspects but it also possesses some practical aspects as well, which must be gradually implemented, and such an implementation of hundreds of commandments in a society which has got hundreds of sorts of corruption, at once, is .an impossibility

” .And they fall down (in prostration) weeping and it adds up to their humility “ ١٠٩ .

Commentary: verses ١٠٧–١٠٩

In this noble verse, and in the following one, the Lord has commanded His prophet to remain rather heedless of such people who are companions of paganism and ‘Ignorance’. Whether they embrace the faith or they reject it altogether it does not matter, for a better stock which includes those who are knowledgeable and who have studied the heavenly Books, and have practiced according to the Divine religions, have asserted their belief, confirming that he is the prophet who has been promised to emerge in their authentic religious books, and whenever the Lord’s verses are read to them, they fall to the ground, prostrating in face of all the Lord’s glory and for implementing what is promised in their Divine Books that He appoints Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) as His Prophet and sends down the Book to him. The verse says

Say: ‘Believe in it or believe not, (it makes no difference to Allah), verily, those who “ were given knowledge before it, when it is read to them, they fall down prostrate on their faces, adoring

:This is what is intended by the promise mentioned in the verse which says

”And they say: “Glory be to our Lord! Verily, our Lord’s promise is to be fulfilled “

By this, they mean: Our Lord’s promise is to be fulfilled. They express this way their utmost commitment and faith towards the Divinity of the Lord and His pure Attributes as well as to the promises He has kept. This is a speech within which, both, faith in monotheism as well as the attributes of the Lord and His justice are included while the prophecy of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and belief in resurrection are contained. Thus, they assemble all the religious principles in one concise sentence

Again in verse ١٠٩, to stress further the point, and the impact of those Divine verses as well as of this loving prostration, the Qur’ān implies that they fall into a state of prostration (involuntarily) and start crying, and the reading of these verses always adds up to their modesty. They never stay in one state or mood, rather they try to climb up toward the peak of development, and continuously their modesty increases. ‘Modesty’, is the state of humbleness and the physical and spiritual politeness, in which case one bows to the command of Allah and His obedience. The verse says

Incidentally, the Qur’ānic term / yaxirrūna/ is derived from /xarīr/ in the sense of the whispering of the sound of water which is flowing downward from up. This also refers to those who, losing their control, fall into a state of prostration before Allah, worship Him in their fairly loud voices. The Arabic term /'aŏqān/ is the plural form of /'ŏaqān/ which means 'chin', it signifies having absolute modesty, in which case, not only one's forehead but his face and chin also touch the floor as well

In conclusion, another clear lesson drawn from the above verses relates to the interrelationship of science with Faith. The Qur'ān implies whether you accept these Divine verses or not, men of knowledge will not only accept them believing in them but they also tend to fall into a state of prostration for the love of Allah which is like a burning desire within them, letting their tears be shed in abundance from their eyes. Their modesty and humbleness is then being augmented while, at the same time, their polite behaviour and their respect increases unto these verses

It is only those ignorant mean individuals who sometimes disregard heedlessly, and at times ridicule, when confronting the facts: and even if such individuals happen to be attracted to the faith, their belief would be weak, fleeting, and void of love, activity and of any warmth

Moreover, this meaning reflects a further emphasis on the obliteration of the empty hypothesis of those who believe that religion has got a correlation with the ignorance of mankind. The glorious Qur'ān, in contradiction with this claim, repeatedly stresses the fact that science and religion are always associated with each other in various circumstances. A deep and sustaining devotion in faith can only be attained in having a deep knowledge, and knowledge borrows its weight in higher echelons from faith.

(١١٠) قُلِ ادْعُوا اللَّهَ أَوْ ادْعُوا الرَّحْمَانَ أَيًّا مَا تَدْعُوا فَلَهُ الْأَسْمَاءُ الْحُسْنَى وَلَا تَجْهَرُوا بِصَلَاتِكُمْ وَلَا تَخَافُتُمْ بِهَا وَابْتَغِ بَيْنَ ذَلِكَ سَبِيلًا

Say: ‘Call upon Allah, or call upon the Beneficent; whichever you call upon; then “ ١١٠. the best names belong to Him; and do not utter your prayer too aloud nor be silent ”.with regard to it, and seek a way between that

Commentary: verse 110

In some of the commentaries, we have it that once the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was praying in Masjid-ul-Haram, and was saying: “O’ Allah! O’ Rahmān!” Some people thought he was calling two Gods one of whom was ‘Allah’ and the other one was (Rahmān’ (Compassionate). The verse was revealed and wiped out that paradox. ((Tafsīr-Tibyān and Forqān

In other words, the pagans and the polytheists used to ask as to why the prophet called the Lord by various names while he was claiming to be monotheist. The Qur’ān, :answering them, says

”... ;Say: ‘Call upon Allah, or call upon the Beneficent; whichever you call upon “

Whichever you choose, it makes no difference; He has got to have various good :names

”... ;then the best names belong to Him ...“

Those blindfolded individuals, at times, call a person or a place by different names, each of which presents one part or a portion of its existence. Is it, therefore, surprising that the Lord, whose Essence is infinite in every respect and Who is the source of all perfections, bounties, and goodness, be called by one specific name for whatever He does with respect to that job and whatever

?virtue His Holy Essence Possesses

At the end of the holy verse, calling the attention to the discussion of the pagans in Mecca who used to ask with regard to the prayers of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) as to why he used to recite his prayers with a loud voice, disturbing them, He commands the
:(.Prophet (p.b.u.h

and do not utter your prayer too aloud nor be silent with regard to it, and seek ... “
”.?between, that

The noble verse implies: Neither recite it with a loud voice, shouting it; nor in a state of
.whispering it, in which case your lips might be moving and no voice heard

Incidentally, we have it in the Shi‘ah and Sunni quotations that; The Lord has got ٩٩ names, and whoever calls Him by one of them, will succeed and will be saved. (Tafsīr–
(i–Tabarī, Al–Mīzān, and Majma‘–ul–Bayān

However, we must know that when speaking of numerating of these names, it does not mean that we utter them so as to enter the Paradise or become the one whose
.prayers are accepted

On the contrary, they are intended for us to be inculcated with the values attached to them and implementing of those values relating to the names such as: Wise, Compassionate, Merciful, Generous, and Blissful in ourselves so as to make us both
.worthy of the Paradise and make our prayers acceptable in all cases

(١١١) وَقُلِ الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي لَمْ يَتَّخِذْ وَلَدًا وَلَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ شَرِيكٌ فِي الْمُلْكِ وَلَمْ يَكُنْ لَهُ وِلِيٌّ مِّنَ الدَّالِّ وَكَبْرُهُ تَكْبِيرًا

And say: ‘(All) Praise is Allah’s, Who has not taken unto Him a son; nor has He got any partner in the Sovereignty; and there is not for Him any helper out of humbleness.’ And magnify Him with all magnificence

Commentary:111

We finally arrive at the last verse of this Sura, the verse which ends with the praise of Allah just as it started with the praising of His pure existence. In fact, this holy verse is a conclusion, culminating all of the monotheistic issues of this Sura and the content of all those monotheistic concepts. Addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), He says

And say: ‘(All) Praise is Allah’s, Who has not taken unto Him a son; nor has He got any partner in the Sovereignty; and there is not for Him any helper out of humbleness

Such a Lord, with those attributes, stands far too superior to whatever you conjecture. Thus, glorify Him and get to know His immensely boundless magnitude. The verse concludes

”And magnify Him with all magnificence ...“

The above verse negates all assistance and generic like being for Allah whether be it of a lower grade (like a son) or some counterpart for Him, (like a partner), or that one (who stands as superior, (like a guardian

The Late Tabarsī quotes from some commentators (in Majma‘-ul-Bayān) that this verse provides the refutation of the belief of three groups: First, that of the Christians and the Jews who regarded Allah as having a son; the secondly that of the Arab pagans who regarded Him as having a partner; thirdly, that of those star-worshippers and the Zoroastrians who regarded Allah as having a guardian and an assistant

?In conclusion: What is ‘Takbīr’, or glorification of Allah

Here, the blissful Qur’ān commands the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) emphatically to glorify Allah. This does not merely imply that one must believe in the glory of the Lord just by saying the words ‘Allah is the greatest

This point is also worth considering that the belief in the glory of the Lord does not imply that we regard Him as greater when comparing Him to other beings. Such a comparison is by far irrelevant in principle and by definition. We must regard Him as greater than in comparative terms, as Imam Sādiq (a.s.) has said in a concise and meaningful speech. An Islamic tradition declares: Someone called on that Imam, saying: ‘Allah is the greatest!’ The Imam asked him: “Of what is He greater or the greatest? He answered: “Of all things

The Imam (a.s.) explained: “You confined Allah by saying that, as you made a comparison between Him and other beings, then considering Him as superior.” That man asked: “Then, what must I say?” He answered: “Say: Allah is far too superior to (what one can characterize.” (Tafsīr-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn vol. ۳, p. ۲۳۹

A Persian poet declares: O’ You Who are superior to all imaginations, comparisons, conjectures, and hallucinations

.And also excelling in whatever we have seen, written, or heard

Our audience came to an end and our life is over, nevertheless, we are stuck in the first phases of our attempt at our depicting of your profile

Incidentally, some quotations from Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.) indicates that the reading of this verse has been considered as effective in removing of one's dues, removing of passing whims and passions, discarding of poverty, and expelling of diseases. (Tafsīr (Borhān

:(.The holy Prophet (p.b.u.h

Addressing Ali-Ibn-Abi-Tālib (a.s.), he said: “You are the guide, those who will be guided after me will be guided through you.” P. ۳۸

The quickest punishment for the sins is (that of) ingratitude of a blessing.” P. ۱۶۷“

Whoever drinks wine, his prayers will not be answered for forty days and it is“ appropriate for him that Allah makes him drink the stinking and infectious water of Hell.” P. ۱۸۸

Ali and I are the fathers of this Ummah.” P. ۲۲۱“

p: ۸۳۲

Be in virtue with the intelligence of the faithful, since he looks by the light of Allah.” He“ also reaffirmed: “Verily Allah has some servants who recognize people by /tawassum/.” P. ۳۲۸

There are certain Allah’s servants who know people by tokens.” P. ۳۲۸ “

He who focuses on what others hold or possess, his troubles increase and his“ distress will not be treated.” P. ۳۴۲

Dear uncle! My words are the Divine messages and I shall never give up preaching.”“
PP. ۳۴۷, ۳۴۸

If you place the moon into my one hand and the sun into another one, I shall not be“ stopped from performing my duty.” PP. ۳۴۹, ۳۵۰

All blessings are perishable except the ones which belong to those who reside in“ Paradise, and all depressions are temporary except the ones which belong to those who are the dwellers of Hell.” P. ۴۰۴

Verily the dwellers of Paradise will witness those compartment-dwellers from above“ their head just like you observing the morning star which has been left in the horizon to the east or to the west.” P. ۴۰۵

There are certain (blessings) in the Paradise which neither any eyes have seen nor“ anyone’s ears have heard; nor has it been revealed to any man’s heart.” P. ۴۰۵

The least torment for the people of Hell on the day of resurrection will be to make“ them put on a pair of shoes made of fire which will cause their brains to boil because of the intensity of their heat.” P. ۴۰۵ Patience is the best mount. Allah has not provided any servant with sustenance“ better and wider than patience.” P. ۴۲۳

He who loves to be the most virtuous of the people, then he must rely on Allah.” P. ۴۲۳“

What a nice child a person’s daughter is! She is affectionate and of great help; she is“ one's companion and she is clean while cleaning at the same time!" P. ۴۴۷

Haste brings forth the people's destruction; if the people did their jobs with deliberation, no one would annihilate." P. ۶۰۴ Allah admires that good act which is hastened to be performed." P. ۶۰۴

p: ۸۳۳

The hierarchy of Paradise is accorded to each individuals according to the reasoning“ and power of wisdom of the dwellers of Paradise.” P. ۶۲۲ Whoever obeys Allah’s command with regard to his parents, two of the gates of the“ Paradise will be laid wide open to Him; and if he obeys one (of them), one (of the gateways of the Paradise will be left open for him).” P. ۶۳۴

The person who obeys his parents and his Lord, will be assigned a highly-elevated“ position in Paradise.” P. ۶۳۴

He who wishes his life be prolonged and his means of sustenance be made“ abundant, must treat his parents with kindness and observe the union of kindred.” P.
۶۳۴

Do your fathers good so as your children also do you good. Turn your eyes away“ from the wives of others so that others turn away their eyes from your wives.” P. ۶۳۵

Ali and I are the fathers of this Ummat.” P. ۶۳۵“

Whoever takes three orphans under his protection is like the person who has spent a“ life-time in prayers at night, has continued on fasting all days and has continued waging a holy war with his unshielded sword for Allah and he and I would be just two brothers in Paradise like these two fingers.” P. ۶۵۷, ۶۵۸

Both the day and the night angels watch him.” P. ۷۴۴“

The best among you are the ones who are polite in their speech; who feed the“ hungry; and who perform prayers deep into the night, when all people are asleep.” P.
۷۵۲

He who performs ‘the night prayers’, his face (as well as his soul) will turn good on“ the following day.” P. ۷۵۲

The best of the prayers, next to the compulsory prayers, are the ones (which one“ performs) deep into the night.” P. ۷۵۴

The two-unit-prayer which the child of Adam performs in the midst of late night is“ better for him than the world and what is in it. Were it not causing difficulties for my herd ‘people’, certainly I would have made it compulsory for them (to perform).” P. ۷۵۴

The late-night prayers will serve as a pleasant source for the Lord, the friendship of“ the angels, the practice of the prophets, the light of the gnosis (of Allah), the roots of faith, a cause for providing calmness of the body, provoking the disgust of the Satan, spearheading against the foes, a means of acceptance for one's invocation, acceptance of one's deeds, and blessings for one's means of sustenance. The late-night prayers also serve as an intercessor between the performer of the prayers and the Angel of Death, as a light for his grave, as a carpet under him, as a respondent for the 'Nakir and Munkar', an associate and a visitor for man deep in his grave till the Day of Resurrection." P. ۷۵۵

When a person gets up from his pleasure-providing bed while he has got his eyes full of sleep, in order to please his Lord, Glory be to His Mighty, by his late-night prayers, the Lord takes pride by it to the angels: saying: 'Do you not watch this My servant, who has got up from his pleasant bed to perform the prayers which I have not compelled him to do? Do bear witness that, verily, I have pardoned him'." P. ۷۵۵

I have left two (important) things among you so as not to get astray when grabbing the two. One is the Qur'an, the other one is my family household." P. ۷۶۷

The Qur'an's excellence over other words and speeches is like the Lord's superiority over all creatures." P. ۷۶۷

Keep always yourselves reminiscent of the Qur'an, for the Qur'an is a 'useful cure', a 'blissful remedy', and guards off him who appeals to it; and it salvages him who follows it." P. ۷۶۸

Those involved in the Qur'an's matters excel the highest human position next to the prophets and the Divine envoys. Thus, do not overlook and downplay (them and) their rights, for they are valued greatly before Allah." P. ۷۶۸

The best ones among you are those who learn and teach the Qur'an." P. ۷۶۸

Read the Qur'an and practice accordingly. Do not distance yourselves from it; do not exaggerate over it, do not earn a living by it; and, do not seek superiority through it." P. ۷۶۹

He who reads the Qur'an and does not act accordingly, the Almighty will muster him blind and tormented on the day of resurrection." P. ۷۶۹

: (Imam Amir-ul-Mu'mineen Ali (a.s

Allah reckons the deeds of all mankind in the Hereafter in the same way that He sustains all humankind." P. ۲۴

Cutting off of one's relationship with the relatives leads to poverty." P. ۸۱"

Cutting off one's relationship with his relatives, spoils all of (one's) blessings." P. ۸۱"

When you are afraid of something, cast yourself in it." P. ۱۰۸"

There is no good in pleasures which are ensued by the Fire of Hell" P. ۱۱۱"

Continue (the act of) thanksgiving so as your favour becomes continuous." P. ۱۶۷"

Thanking for the blessing causes it to be preserved from alteration and guarantees its sustenance." P. ۱۶۷"

The result of showing gratitude is the multiplication of the favours." P. ۱۶۷"

Any blessing for which gratitude is expressed does not terminate; and when ingratitude is shown, it will not last long." P. ۱۶۷"

Verily, the friend of Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) is he who obeys Allah though he may be distanced by his blood. And verily the foe of Muhammad is he who disobeys Allah though he might be near to him (p.b.u.h.) by his blood." P. ۲۲۲

The sources of all knowledge and the delight of the heart are in the Qur'ān." P. ۲۴۳"

Allah rendered the earth in a sustaining form by fixing in it gigantic stones and firm mountains." P. ۳۷۷"

Be in owe of that kind of fire the heat of which is excessive, the depth of which is intensive, the ornament of which is of iron, and the drinks of it consist of warm sewage made up of blood mixed with puss." P. ۴۰۵

At the time when 'Zaqqūm' (a tree in Hell out of which the hell-dwelling people feed" themselves) and ‘Zarī’ (a substance in hell which is bitter, stinking and burning) boils up in their stomach in Hell, those people will ask for a drink, then they will be provided with the drink of ‘Ghassāq and Ṣadīd’, which are in turn made up of sewage secretions mixed with abscess secretion and blood. They will thus be made to drink the dirty liquid consistently, which would not quench their thirst. They aspire towards death, though they will not die so as to be made to receive terrible punishment the fullest. The Qur'ān says: "He will drink it little by little which he can hardly swallow agreeably, and death will come to him from every side, while he will not be about to die, and there will be a severe chastisement before him." P. ۴۰۶

O' people! Be patient, because he who has not patience has not religion." P. ۴۲۳"

Whatever news about you, as well as the history of the past nations, the future generations, the skies and the earth all have been stated in the Qur'ān." P. ۵۰۸

Justice is achieved once you provide people with their due rights, and kindness is applied when you do them a favour." P. ۵۱۱ Telling lie is disgrace in the world and will cause the punishment of Fire in the Hereafter." P. ۵۲۳

One can not be blessed with faith unless he abandons lying whether it is in the form of a joke or is seriously said." P. ۵۲۳

He who looks at it with insight, (regarding it as a means of vision), it will bestow him sight; and he who regards it as an end in itself, then it will blind him." P. ۶۲۳

Beware! Surely this world is a place from which protection cannot be sought except (while one is) in it." P. ۶۲۴ Appealing to you in Allah's name again and again, concerning the issue of the orphans, lest they should feel hungry on and off, and lest they should die for your not attending to them." P. ۶۵۸

Be kind towards the orphans; treat the beggars in a gentle way and get along well with them, and, finally, be kind and compassionate with the weak." P. ۶۵۸

The best way of being good is showing kindness towards the orphans." P. ۶۵۸"

Allah has created all creatures into ۳ different categories: Angels, Animals and"

Human Beings. The angels have got reasoning without any passion or fury but without intellect. The animals are collections of passions and fury. But, man is a collection unity of both; one of which must prevail. If his reason overcomes his passion, he will be superior to the angels, and if his passions dominate his reason, he will be just inferior to animals.”

p: ۸۳۷

P. ۷۲۴

The worst kind of blindness, is the blindness at heart.” P. ۷۳۳“

Getting up at night for prayers will enhance one’s health of body, will please Allah,“ Almighty and Glorious, and will attract His favour, and, finally, will (enable one to) follow in the ethical course of the prophets.” P. ۷۵۲ Verily the Qur’ān consists a cure for the greatest ailments, namely unbelief,“ hypocrisy, revolt, and seductions.” P. ۷۶۳

:(.Fātimat-uz-Zahrā (a.s

Once asked the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) for a maid to help her with her chores. He answered:
“There are four hundred in the mosque who have no food and clothing. Were the case not so, I would appoint a maid servant for you.” He then taught her the ‘hymms’ known as ‘Tasbīhyāt’ which are called as: ‘Tasbīhāt-i-Hadrat-i-Zahrā’. PP. ۶۴۱, ۶۴۲ Man is not entitled to say what he wants." P. ۶۶۳"

p: ۸۳۸

He said that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “Kindness towards one’s parents and union of kindred facilitates one’s settlement of his accounts.” P. ۸۱

There are some events which are certain to happen while there are others which are “dependent on some conditions and circumstance with Allah, each of which He deems He precedes it and each of which He wills He effaces it and confirms the other, as He chooses.” P. ۱۳۳

Some events are certain to happen and they do become realized. And there are “some other events which are depended on conditions and are conditional before Allah; whichever He deems fit, He will give it the priority and whichever He pleases, He will efface out, and whichever He pleases, He will confirm.” P. ۱۴۰

This process goes on at the time of Hadrat-i-Mahdī (a.j.) when no one will remain on “the earth unless he confesses to the prophetic mission of Mohammad (p.b.u.h.)” P. ۱۴۳

The days of Allah refer to: the day on which the uprising of the promised Mahdī (a.s.) “takes place, and to the day of Return to life, as well as the Resurrection day.” PP. ۱۶۱, ۱۶۲

Someone asked him about the commentary of this verse, and he answered: “The objective is that Allah has created the mines of gold, silver, jewels and other metals in mountains.” P. ۲۸۱

Patience is of two categories: Patience upon calamities, which is good and beautiful; “and the best of the two is the patience in avoiding of the prohibitions.” P. ۴۲۳

We are ‘Ahl-uth-Thikr’.” P. ۴۲۵

Whatever is needed by the Ummah has already been mentioned in the Qur’ān, and “whatever you hear from me, I shall provide its Qur’ānic documentation if you ask.” P. ۵۰۸

The declining of the sun signifies its fading away (from the meridian circle), and the“ Arabic phrase /qasaq-ul-layl/ denotes ‘midnight’. These are the four set of prayers which the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) designated for people, confirming the time, and the Qur’ānic phrase /qur’ān-ul-fajr/ refers to the morning prayer.” PP. ۷۴۲, ۷۴۳

The meaning of these Divine words is that: ‘Once the living Imam (a.s.) rises up, the“ fake administration will be up-rooted’.” P. ۷۶۰

:(.Imam Sādiq (a.s

The unseen signifies what has not existed and /šahādat/ (seen) signifies what has existed already. P. ۴۲

We are among those who keep their patience though our Shi‘ite followers are more“ patient than us, for our patience is upon what we know, but they are keeping their patience as to what they do not know.” P. ۹۰

We are the children of Haḍrat Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) and our mother has been“ Fātimah (a.s.). And Allah has given none of the prophets anything which has not been provided for Haḍrat Mohammad (p.b.u.h.)” P. ۱۳۱

Allah has pledged faith in /bidā’/ accompanied with Unity from all prophets.” P. ۱۳۸“ Allah, Almighty and Glorious, sent no prophets except that He took these three“ pledges from him: Confession as to be subservient and subject to Allah; negation of all kinds of paganism; and the acceptance of this creed that Allah gives priority to whatever He pleases and delays whatever He pleases.” P. ۱۴۰ Whoever was given a favor and by his heart made confessions as to having that and“ thanked Allah with his speech, praising Him, no later would he have finished uttering his words than Allah would have commanded that his blessings be augmented.” P. ۱۶۵

Avoiding sins is (a kind of) being grateful for the favours." P. ۱۶۶"

p: ۸۴.

There are three things with which provide no harm: praying when one is in difficulty, asking for forgiveness when one is sinning, and showing gratitude when one is affluent.” P. ۱۶۷

The gratitude for the blessings is avoiding the prohibitions, and the totality of thankfulness is that one says: ‘(All) praise is (only) Allah’s, the Lord of the Worlds’.” P. ۱۶۷

Do you want me to tell you what your question is before you ask your question?” P. ۳۲۷

We are those who think and take instructive lessons. The path towards happiness has been designated and embedded in us. This path is the way towards Paradise.” P. ۳۲۸

The ‘star’ reflects the Messenger of Allah, and ‘symbols’ alludes to the Imams (a.s.)”
And Imam Sādiq (a.s.) also states: “ We are the symbols”. P. ۳۷۹

Verily there exists a desert in the Hell for the arrogant which is named /saqar/. The excessive and intensive heat of it will be the main cause of their complaint when they will ask Allah to allow it to breathe, then He will allow it, so it will breathe and put the Hell on fire.” P. ۴۰۵ Swearing to Allah, we are the blessings which Allah has accorded His servants, and only under the auspices of us the people will be salvaged.” P. ۴۹۸

There is an ‘Imam’ a ‘leader’ for every nation and for every period with whom people will be mustered.” P. ۴۹۹

By Allah! we are knowledgeable about everything which is in the skies and on the earth, and whatever is between them, as well as what is in Paradise or in Hell.” P. ۵۰۸

This noble verse (۹۴) is about the ‘mastership’ of Amir-ul-Mu’mineen (a.s.), and allegiance with him, and when it was revealed, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) addressing the people, declared: “ Convey your greetings to Ali (a.s.) as the leader of the believers.” P.

A group of the Children of Israel used to enjoy such an affluent life that they used to build small statues out of the food-stuffs and, at times, they used to clean their bodies with them. Consequently, they were led to the point where they were compelled to eat out of those spoiled unclean food-stuffs, which is the case that Allah referred to in the Qur'ān, saying: "And Allah sets forth a parable: a township that was secure, at rest, ..." P. ۵۵۷

A man turned up before the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and asked: 'O' Messenger of Allah! "Whom should I do kindness to?" He answered: 'To your mother!' Again, he asked: 'Next to my mother, to whom (should I be kind)?' He answered: 'To your mother!' Again, that man asked: 'After her, to whom (should I do good)?' He answered again: 'To your mother.' And, finally, he asked: 'Following my mother, to whom (should I do good next)?' He replied: 'To your father'." P. ۶۳۵

He who consumes something in ways other than the path of obedience of Allah, is a "squanderer'." P. ۶۳۷

The right of Ali-Ibn-Abi-Tālib (a.s.) which has been due to him, has been succession" to the Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) and having the prophetic sciences." P. ۶۳۸

Ears, eyes, and hearts will be questioned for having listened, having seen, and for" having kept memories." P. ۶۶۳

Do you not express your praise and gratitude to Allah? When the resurrection day" comes, the Lord will call every nation along with the one whose leadership it has accepted. We will be called along with the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and you will be along with us. Where do you think you will be taken to then? By the Lord of Ka'bah to Paradise." P. ۷۲۸

The Almighty has enjoined Muslims to establish four prayers, the beginning of which" starts at the declining of the sun, 'at moon', and which ends at 'midnight'." P. ۷۴۲

Never stop getting up at night for prayers; he who is deprived of the getting up at" night for prayers and for worship, is the one who is aggrieved." P. ۷۵۲

There are three points which serve as (a source of) pride for the believers and would" be as an ornamental gift in this world and the next: Prayers in the depth of the night, being heedless of what is in the hands of other people, and, 'the wilāyat', (love and leadership) of the Imam from among the progeny of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.)." P. ۷۵۳, ۷۵۴

Whatever of good acts performed by a believer has been mentioned with its reward“ explicitly in the Qur’ān, except that of the night prayers which Allah has not mentioned in a transparent way because of the extraordinary importance of it. He has only stated that: ‘They forsake their beds of sleep, the while they call on their Lord in fear and hope. And they spend (in charity) out of the sustenance which We have bestowed on them.’ Nonetheless, no one knows as to what kind of reward Allah has in mind for their remuneration for their acts which causes their eyes to be enlightened.” P. ۷۵۴

When a man commits sin, he will be deprived of performing his late-night prayers.“ Truly, an evil act, ‘a sin’, serves as a sharper means on the person involved than a knife cutting meat.” P. ۷۵۵

There is no good that a servant does but there has been stated a reward for it in the“ Qur’ān, except for late-night prayers which Allah has not defined its reward because of its importance with Him.” P. ۷۵۶

He has told a lie who thinks he will starve in spite of having performed late-night“ prayers, for verily the late-night prayers guarantee the means of sustenance of the day.” P. ۷۵۶

The believer who reads the Qur’ān and practices it in his youth, the Qur’ān is mixed“ with his flesh and bones (and blood), and the Lord places him alongside the great envoys (the prophets and the Imams) and the benevolent people, and, the Qur’ān acts as his advocating defendant in the doomsday.” P. ۷۶۸

It is appropriate for a believer not to die before learning the Qur’ān or being engaged“ in learning it.” P. ۷۶۸

:(.Imam Mūsa-ibn-Ja‘far, Al-Kāzim, (a.s

Verse ۲۰ of Sura Ar-Ra‘d is revealed with regard to the position of the household of Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) and their guardianship. This is the covenant of Allah. P. ۷۶

Some one called on the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and asked him about the rights of parents.“ He answered: ‘One must not call them by name. (They must be addressed as: My Father...!) He should not go in front of them when walking; and should not seat himself before his parent. One must not be acting in such a way as to be blamed for his parents. He must not behave such a manner that people say: ‘Hoping that Allah does not forgive your father for having done such a job’.” PP. ۶۳۲, ۶۳۳

p: ۸۴۳

There is a tradition narrated from Imam Bāqir and Imam Kāzim (a.s.) concerning the issue of ‘Wilāyat’ (Succession) of Haḍrat Ali (a.s.), in which, the Lord has made certain recommendations to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) through revelations. The Lord has revealed this verse in order to make the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) remain heedless of the jealousy of the people and their rejection as well as their intolerant attitudes, and to invalidate the attempts of the pagans for making the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) exceed the limits. P. ۷۳۴

Someone asked Imam Sādiq (a.s.): ‘How is it that the more the Qur’ān has been read and publicized, the more its refreshing aspect is being added to?’ Imam Sādiq (a.s.) answered: ‘It is because the Lord has not appointed it for a particular time and a certain people. Thus, it is ever fresh and new for every nation in every new epoch until the day of resurrection.’ P. ۷۶۸

:(Imam Ali-ibn-Mūs-ar-Riḍā (a.s

The border of the trust is that, by belief in Allah, you be scared of none.” P. ۱۷۸“

Imām Riḍā (a.s.) was asked about the limit of reliance. He said: “It is that you do not fear any one other than Allah.” P. ۴۲۳

Imam Riḍā (a.s.) said to the chief men of some religions in a session that among the miracles of the Messenger of Islam is one which reveals a poor orphan who has been an illiterate shepherd, being in possession of a Book ‘the explanation of every thing’ and that all news of the past and future until the Hereafter be recorded in it. P. ۵۰۸, ۵۰۹

The issue of ‘Imamat’ (leadership) exhibits the position of the prophets and is a heritage of the forerunners. It tackles with the issue of substitution of Allah and the prophetic mission of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) as well as the position of Amir-ul-Mu’mineen (a.s.) along with the replacement by Imam Hassan, as well as Imam Hussayn (a.s.)” Then he said: “The Imam introduces those issues which are as ‘allowed’ by Allah as they are, and the ones which are regarded ‘forbidden’ by the Lord as such. The Imam seeks to establish the limits which are ordained by Allah and he defends the Lord’s religion, and invites (the people) to the path of Allah through wisdom, good admonitions, and self-explanatory proofs. And, finally, the Imam is the rein and head of the religion, order of

p: ۸۴۴

Muslims, the benefit to the believers in the world and their glory.” Again, he remarked: “The ‘Imam’ is the flourishing root of Islam and the ‘prime branch’ of it. The ‘Imam’ is an honest friend, a kind and friendly father, a truly-loyal brother and a companion, just like an affectionate and honest mother towards her young child, and a refuge for Allah’s servants.” Then, he said: “The ‘Imam’ is the Lord’s trustee on the earth and among His people. He is the Lord’s proof for His servants and is His substitute in the cities. He calls (the people) to Allah and defends His sanctuaries.” PP. ۷۲۸, ۷۲۹ Beware of the late-night prayers! There is no servant, who gets up late of night and does perform prayers in eight units, and Shaf‘ prayer into two units, and the ‘Watr’ prayer in one unit, seeking forgiveness of Allah seventy times in his ‘Qunūt’, save that Allah will spare him the chastisement of the grave and that of the Fire, prolong his lifetime for him, and will provide a wider range of means in his sustenance.” P. ۷۵۴

:Imam Hassan ‘Askari

All evil and nasty things are placed in a room, the key to which is ‘telling lies’.” P. ۵۴۳“

Introduction

As it was mentioned in the introduction of book No. ۳, every volume of this series was decided to be compiled rather concisely, containing two parts of the Qur'ān. This decision was followed up to book No. ۶, which went beyond two parts in order that Sura At-Taubah to be completed and then the substitutive volume could begin with Sura Yunus.

In this course, unfortunately the translation, publication and distribution of books ۷ and ۸, because of some reasons, one of which was given a hint through the abovementioned introduction, postponed and, now, fortunately this book, No. ۹, containing parts ۱۵ and ۱۶, has been prepared to be offered to you, the dear eager reader of the commentary of the Holy Qur'ān. We also hope, with the help of Allah, that those couple of books to be available in the market soon in near future to fill this undesirable gap.

As usual, again and again we ask Allah, the Exalted, that He helps us, as ever before, and assists us to complete this sacred endeavour successfully.

May He (s.w.t.) guide and assist all of us by the light of the Qur'ān to pave its Straight Path further and further, for we are always in need of His favours.

Sura Al-Kahf

(The Cave)

(No.١٨ (١١٠ verses in ١٢ sections

This Sura contains one hundred and ten verses, all of which were revealed in Mecca, except verse ٢٨

In this holy Sura, the story of the Companions of the Cave (Kahf), the story of Moses and Khidr (a.s), the story of Zulqarnayn, and some awakening materials about Origin and End have been discussed

The pagans of Quraysh sent some persons from Mecca to Medina to ask the reality of the event of the advent of Hadrat Muhammad Mustafā (p.b.u.h.) and the signs of his truthfulness from the scholars of the Jews who were living there. The Jewish scholars told those persons, who were sent by the pagans, that they would ask him (p.b.u.h.) about three subjects. The Jewish scholars said if Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) answered two subjects and restrained from answering the third one, he would be True

Those subjects were about: the Companions of the Cave, Zulqarnayn, and the Soul. They said: if Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) could answer the questions of ‘the Companions of the Cave’ and ‘Zulqarnayn’, but he did not answer the question about the Soul, he was (a Divine Prophet. ## :The Virtue of the Recitation of this Sura

There are many traditions recorded upon the virtue of this Sura and the effects of its recitation. Among them is that: whoever recites this Sura by the night before Friday, it .causes his sins to be forgiven, and he will be involved in Allah's Mercy

Of course, as it has been repeatedly said, recitation of the holy verses of the Qur'ān accompanied with understanding and fulfilling them accordingly, is the secret of .obtaining the blessings of the Qur'ān

The Qur'ān gives warnings and glad tidings – The falsehood of Allah taking a son is proved – The Messenger Muhammad distressed for disbelievers – The Companions of the Cave

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

In the Name of Allah, The Beneficent, The Merciful

۱- الْحَمْدُ لِلَّهِ الَّذِي أَنْزَلَ عَلَيَّ عَبْدِهِ الْكِتَابَ وَلَمْ يَجْعَلْ لَهُ عِوَجًا

۲- قَبِيٍّ مَّا لَئِيُنذِرَ بَأْسًا شَدِيدًا مِّن لَّدُنْهُ وَيُبَشِّرَ الْمُؤْمِنِينَ الَّذِينَ يَعْمَلُونَ الصَّالِحَاتِ أَنَّ لَهُمْ أَجْرًا حَسَنًا

۳- مَا كَثِيرٌ فِيهِ أَبَدًا

۱. “ (All) praise is (only) Allah’s, Who sent down upon His servant the Book (the Qur’ān)) ” .and did not make in it any crookedness

۲. “ A Book which is, over other heavenly Books,) guardian, to give warning of a ) severe punishment from Him, and to give good tidings unto the believers who do righteous deeds, that there will be for them a goodly reward

۳. “ .Where in they will abide for ever “

Point

At the beginning of this Sura, Allah, the Pure, has taught His servants how to praise Him for His greatest bounty. He has pointed out that His most important bounty is the very Qur'ān which He has revealed to His Messenger, and it is the only cause of their .salvation

As well as some other Suras of the Qur'ān, Sura Al-Kahf has begun with Allah's praise; and since praise and thanksgiving is usually for an important quality and a praiseworthy thing, here, the holy verse has stated it for the revelation of the Qur'ān :which is far from any crookedness and obliquity. The verse says

All) praise is (only) Allah's, Who sent down upon His servant the Book (the Qur'ān)) “ .and did not make in it any crookedness

Then, the next verse adds, implying that it is fixed, straight, and guardian over other :heavenly Books

”...A Book which is, over other heavenly Books,) guardian)“

This word, /qayyiman/, which has been applied as an epithet for the Qur'ān, is both an emphasis on the straightness and temperance of the Qur'ān which is free from any contradiction, and a hint to the eternity of this great Book. It is also an example for: the protection of authenticities, the improvement of obliquities, guarding the Divine .ordinances and human beings' justice and excellence

This epithet, /qayyim/(guardian), is, in fact, a derivation of the guardianship of Allah by .which He is the protector and guardian of all existing things of the world

:Then, the verse continues saying

” ... ,to give warning of a severe punishment from Him... “

Immediately after that meaning, the verse indicates that this Book gives glad tidings unto those true believers who always do praiseworthy and righteous deeds for which :they will be recompensed a good reward. It says and to give good tidings unto the believers who do righteous deeds, that there will... “

” .be for them a goodly reward

This reward will be the eternal Paradise, wherein they will dwell for ever. Here is the :statement of the verse

” .Wherein they will abide for ever “

:Explanations

Among all the suras of the Qur’ān only the following suras begin with the holy . ۱ phrase: “ (All) praise is (only) Allah’s); in three of which the speech is upon the creation
:of the world of existence

Al-Hamd, Al-’An‘ām, Sabā, Fāṭir, and Al-Kahf. In Sura Al-Hamd, training is spoken of, while here, in this verse, the words are upon the heavenly Book. As if, existence and creation accompanied with ‘the Book of Law’ are two wings for training the human .beings

The Arabic word /’i’wījāj/ in context means: ‘deviation, and crookedness’. In Arabic, . ۲ the term /’awaja/ is used for physical phenomena while the term /’iwaja/ is applied for non-physical phenomena. The author of Tibyān, a book of Commentary, has applied the term /’awaja/ for human beings and the term /’iwaja/ for other than human
.beings

In this course, the Qur’ānic term /qayyim/has been used in the sense of: ‘an erector,
.’and arranger

The previous Sura has begun with the holy phrase “Glory be to Him Who ...”, and this Sura with the holy phrase “(All) praise is (only) Allah’s ...”. Glorification and praise are usually mentioned beside each other

Wherever the word /‘abdahū/ is mentioned absolutely in the Qur’ān, it means the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.). Its examples are such as: Sura Al-Furqān, No. 25, verse one, where it says: “... Who sent down the Furqān upon His servant ...”; Sura An-Najm, No. 53, verse 10, where it says: “And He revealed to His servant ...”; Sura Al-Hadīd, No. 57, verse 9, which says: “ ... Who sends upon His servant ...”; and Sura Az-Zumar, No. 39, verse 36 says: “ Is not Allah sufficient for His servant

The bounty of ‘the Book and Law’ is so important that Allah has praised Himself for it

The Qur’ān is the guardian of other heavenly Books and it contains all the necessary expedients of the servants. There is no contradiction, excess and defect, and (deviation in it. It invites both to raising and has raised to invite, (qayyiman

٤- وَيُنذِرَ الَّذِينَ قَالُوا اتَّخَذَ اللَّهُ وَلَدًا

٥- مَا لَهُمْ بِهِ مِنْ عِلْمٍ وَلَا لِآبَائِهِمْ كَبُرَتْ كَلِمَةً تَخْرُجُ مِنْ أَفْوَاهِهِمْ إِنَّ يَقُولُونَ إِلَّا كَذِبًا

٤. “And to warn those who say “

“Allah has taken (to Himself) a son”

٥. “They have no knowledge of it, nor had their fathers, Grievous is the word that “ ” comes out of their mouths. They speak naught but a lie

Commentary: verses ٤-٥

Those who believe that Allah has a child

There was mentioned a warning in the previous holy verse, yet because of the importance of the deviation of polytheists concerning the idea that ‘Allah has taken (to Himself) a son’, the warning has been repeated again in this verse

Regarding other verses of the Qur’ān, too, the accusation of taking son unto Allah had been counted a great slender which was spread about among polytheists. The Christians spoke of: ‘the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost’, too. The Jews also considered Ezra as God’s son. Polytheists thought of the angels as the daughters of God, while this belief adapts neither with reality nor with logic and wisdom

However, in this holy verse, the Qur’ān has referred to one of the common deviations of the opponents of Islam, among these opponents are the Christians, the Jews and polytheists, where it says

And to warn those who say: ‘Allah has taken “

” (to Himself) a son)

This verse warns both the Christians for the belief that Messiah is the son of God, and the Jews for having the belief that Ezra is God's son, and polytheists for that they consider the angels as God's daughters

****

Then, in order to make futile such baseless and false claims, the Qur'ān pays to a basic principle, and says

” ... ,They have no knowledge of it, nor had their fathers “

They say this meaning, while by which they utter a great vain thing without having any knowledge. The verse continues saying

Grievous is the word that comes out of... “ ” ... .their mouths

Allah, and being a body? Allah, and having a son? Allah and having material needs? Allah, and being limited? How terrible words they are! Yes, it is such that ” .They speak naught but a lie... “

****

٦- فَلَعَلَّكَ بَاخِعٌ نَّفْسَكَ عَلَىٰ آثَارِهِمْ إِن لَّمْ يُؤْمِنُوا بِهَذَا الْحَدِيثِ أَسَفًا

٦. “Then maybe you will fret yourself to death with grief, following after them

” (if they do not believe in this Message (the Qur’ān

Commentary: verse ٦

.The Arabic term /asaf/ indicates to a stage of sorrow more intensive than grief

This verse refers to the utmost sympathy of the prophets. It seems that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has been resembled to a person who observes that his most beloved members are separating from him and he is looking at them with sigh from behind their backs

Sympathy and regret upon other’s aberration is a value, and the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is always the most compassionate one among people

A leader should be mindful of the improvement of the believes and deeds of people and he ought not to cease looking after them

:Therefore, the verse says

Then maybe you will fret yourself to death with grief, following after them, if they do “ not believe

” (in this Message (the Qur’ān

That is why, in the next verse, the Qur’ān implies that he (p.b.u.h.) must not be grievous, because the world is the place of trial for them

****

٧- إِنَّا جَعَلْنَا مَا عَلَى الْأَرْضِ زِينَةً لِّهَا لِنَبْلُوهُمْ أَيُّهُمْ أَحْسَنُ عَمَلًا

٨- وَإِنَّا لَجَاعِلُونَ مَا عَلَيْهَا صَعِيدًا جُرُزًا

Verily We have appointed whatever is on the earth as an ornament for it, so that “ .٧
:We may try them

” .which of them is best in conduct

” .And (at the end) We will surely make whatever is on it (as) barren ground “ .٨

Commentary: verses ٧-٨

The Arabic word /ṣaʿīd/ has been applied for soil and whatever absolutely is on the ground. The Qurʾānic holy term /juruḥ/ means ‘a land without any plant’. Allah has settled the phrase /liyabluwakum/, which relates to the trial of people, between the .(term /jaʿalnā/ (We have appointed) and the term /jāʿilūn/ (will surely make

One of these two words relates to the prosperity of the earth and the other relates to its barrenness, to be a hint that people’s trial is located amongst prosperity, freshness, barrenness and sorrows. But, what is important in this course is the deed .of man and his success

It is narrated in a tradition that the purpose of the phrase /ʾaḥsanu ʿamalā/ (best in conduct) is a wisely action accompanied with piety which should have been reserved (for Hereafter, too. (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, the Commentary

The apparent reason of disbelief of the infidels is often their neglectful entire :attention to the beauties of the world. The verse says

” ... ,Verily We have appointed whatever is on the earth as an ornament for it “

Whatever is found on the earth, such as: gardens, flowers, fruits, animals, water sources, rains, colours, and good smells are all ornaments for the earth. But, for the .developed and pious people, Faith and piety are their main ornaments

Ornaments are the means of trial in order to be determined who amongst people has been deluded and sells himself, and who, by means of continence and piety, uses these ornaments as a preparation for his righteous deeds. Thus, the holy verse :continues saying

” .so that We may try them: which of them is best in conduct... “

This part of the verse is a warning to all humankind and to all Muslims that, in the course of this trial, they should not be deceived by some dazzling glares and the abundance of their deeds, but they ought to try to be regardful of goodness of deeds. The beauty of flowers and the nature itself is perishable, but a good deed is fixed and remaining. These different bounties, these ranks and social positions, and the like of them, are not perpetual either. There will come a day when there will remain but a dry and silent graveyard from these societies. This fact is a great instructive lesson. The :verse says

Occasion of Revelation: verses ٩-١٠

Several chiefs of Quraysh sent two friends of theirs toward the Jewish scholars in Medina in order to investigate about the invitation of the holy Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) and to know whether there had been anything recorded in the former Books .concerning his advent

The couple of men went to Medina and communicated with the Jewish scholars therein. Those scholars told them to go to Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) and ask him three questions. If he could answer two of them, he was a true prophet from the side of the .Lord, otherwise he was a liar and they could decide about him whatever they wished

They were told to ask what the story of the youths was, who, in ancient times, .separated from their tribe, because they had a wonderful adventure

Also, they should ask him (p.b.u.h.) who the man was who traveled round the world and reached the East and the West of the earth, and what his story was

.They would also ask about the reality of the soul

.Those two men went to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and asked him their questions

The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) told them that he might answer them the next day, while he did not mention the holy phrase: ‘If Allah wills’. It passed fifteen days and nights that .(there revealed no revelation from the side of Allah unto the Prophet (p.b.u.h

That circumstance was heavy upon him (p.b.u.h.). But, finally, Gabriel appeared and brought Sura Al-Kahf from Allah, wherein there was the explanation of the story of those youths and also the story of that traveller around the world. Besides that, Gabriel brought him (p.b.u.h.) the verse saying: “They ask you concerning the spirit; (say ‘The spirit is of the command of my Lord, ...’ ” (Sura Al-’Isrā’ , No. ١٧, verse ٨٥

The rightfulness of the prophet investigated

In the former verses, there was delivered an illustration of the life in this world and the circumstance of men’s trial in the course of their lives. In view of the fact that the Qur’ān often illustrates the general sensitive matters with a similitude or parables, or some examples from the history of the past, here, too, at first it refers to the adventure of the Companions of the Cave, and mentions them as an example and as a goodly pattern

A group of clever and faithful youths, who were living in a splendid, comfortable and welfare life with kinds of bounties and facilities, in order to protect their godly belief and to challenge with the illegitimate ruler of their time, left all of those merits and sought refuge to a cave of a mountain which was empty of every thing. By this way, they proved their straightness and their steadfastness in the path of Faith

:The Qur'ān says at first

Or do you think that the people of the Cave and of the inscription were of Our “
”?wonderful signs

Allah implies that He has some more wonderful signs in the heaven and the earth, each of which is a sample of the glory and greatness of creation. There are also so many wonderful signs in this great heavenly Book of yours, and certainly the story of the Companions of the Cave is not more wonderful than them

****

:Then the Qur'ān says

”... ,When the youths sought refuge unto the Cave “

:They become helpless and could do nothing. So, they called Allah then they said: ‘Our Lord! Grant us mercy ... “

” .’from Your Presence, and provide for us in our affair a right course

They asked their Lord to provide a way for them that they could deliver from that straitened circumstance and that it would lead them to goodness and happiness, so that they could perform their duties

:Explanations

The Qur'ānic term /raqīm/ here means: ‘an inscription or a tablet on which the story of the Companions of the Cave is written and their names figured in it’. The Arabic term /kahf/ means: ‘a large cave

The Arabic word /fityah/ is the plural form of /fatā/ which means ‘youth’. Imam Sadiq (a.s.) has said that a faithful person is called ‘youth’, because though they were aged, Allah has introduced them ‘youth’ because of their Faith. (Al-Kāfi, vol. 1, p. 398, and Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn).

The Qur’ānic term /ruṣd/ has been rendered in the sense of: ‘growth, salvation, and Allah’s pleasure’. (Majma‘-ul-Bayan, the Commentary). In this Sura, the term has been applied in three occurrences

***

p: 31

Point

The youth seeking protection of the Lord were made to sleep for centuries in the Cave to prove, how man can be made to live long beyond the ordinary expectation and how time could be passed without being felt, and the Day of Judgment

۱۱- فَضَرَبْنَا عَلَىٰ آذَانِهِمْ فِي الْكَهْفِ سِنِينَ عَدَدًا

۱۲- ثُمَّ بَعَثْنَاهُمْ لِنَعْلَمَ أَيُّ الْحِزْبَيْنِ أَحْصَىٰ لِمَا لَبِثُوا أَمَدًا

۱۳- نَحْنُ نَقُصُّ عَلَيْكَ نَبَأَهُم بِالْحَقِّ إِنَّهُمْ فِتْنَةٌ آمَنُوا بِرَبِّهِمْ وَزِدْنَاَهُمْ هُدًى

۱۱. (Then We set over their ears (a curtain of sleep

۱۲. “ Afterwards We raised them up in order to test which of the two parties would “
”better calculate the time they had tarried

۱۳. “ ;We relate to you their story with the truth “ verily they were youths who believed in their Lord and We increased them in

”guidance

Commentary: verses ۱۱-۱۳

Point

Then Allah accepted the prayer of ‘the Companions of the Cave’ and covered a veil of sleep over their ears in the Cave so that they slept for a number of years. Then, He roused them in order to test and make it clear which of those two parties was best at calculating the term of years they had slept. Here are the statements of the :Qur'ān

(Then We set over their ears (a curtain of sleep “

”.in the Cave for a number of years Afterwards We raised them up in order to test “

”.which of the two parties would better calculate the time they had tarried

Next to a short statement of this story, the Qur'ān refers to it by detailed explanation
:through fourteen verses, and begins explaining it as follows

”... ;We relate to you their story with the truth “

:Then the Qur'ān continues saying verily they were youths who believed in their Lord and We increased them in... “

”.guidance

It is understood precisely from the Qur'ān and vastly from the history that the Companions of the Cave were living in an environment and at a time that idolatry and polytheism had surrounded them. A tyrannical government, which was the protector and the guardian of paganism, infidelity, ignorance, and offence committed against .those people, had cast an inauspicious shadow upon them

But this group of youths, who had enjoyed an enough spiritual intelligence and truthfulness, realized the corruption of that creed and decided to rise against it, or, if they could not afford to stand against it, they would emigrate from that polluted
.environment

:Explanations

People are divided into three groups in connection with corruption which is done in a
:polluted society

A part of people may assume the corruption of the society. These are those who do .۱
.not migrate, and have not a complete Faith, either

There are some people who are inside a polluted society but they try to protect .۲ (themselves from pollution, (like the Companions of the Cave

There are also a group of people who change others and improve their polluted .۳ (society into a good one, (like prophets and saints

However, there are some Islamic traditions which indicate that the Companions of the Cave will be amongst the friends and helpers of Haḍrat Mahdī (May Allah hasten his (glad advent). (Muntakhab-ul-'Athar, p.۴۸۵ clear authority

” ?regarding them? Who is then more unjust than he who forges a lie against Allah

١٦. “And when you withdraw from them and what they worship save Allah, then seek “ refuge in the Cave, (and) your Lord will shower on you of His mercy, and furnish you

” .with a gentle issue of your affair

Commentary: verses ١٤-١٦

Point

Following the former discussion, the Qur’ān implies that their hearts were given strength when they stood up and said that their Lord is the Lord of the heavens and of the earth, and that they would never call upon any god other than Him, since if they did so, they would indeed have uttered an extravagance. The verse says

And We strengthened their hearts, when they stood up and said: ‘Our Lord is the Lord of the heavens and the earth; never will we call upon any god besides Him, for then we should have uttered extravagantly

In fact, those faithful youths, in order to prove Unity and negate any gods attached a manifest proof and said that they saw clearly that the heavens and the earth had a Lord, and the existence of the regulation of creation was a reason for their existence, and they were a part of that existence

Therefore, they said that their Lord was also the same Lord of the heavens and of the earth

Then, they attached to another reasoning and said that their people had taken some gods for worship other than Him. The verse says

” ... ;These our people have taken gods other than Him “

Can a belief exist without having any proof and reasoning? Then, why did they not bring a clear proof for the deity of those gods

:The verse continues saying

why do they not bring any clear authority ... “

”... ?regarding them

Can an imagination or illusion or a blindly imitation be taken as a proof for such a belief? What a manifest injustice and a great aberration it is! Therefore, the verse

:says

” ?Who is then more unjust than he who forges a lie against Allah ... “

This ‘calumny’ is an injustice both unto him himself and unto the society wherein he announces this falsehood and he

p: ۳۶

.deviates it

Also, it can be considered as an injustice unto the Pure Essence of the Lord, as well as .a disdain unto his Exalted Rank

The youth tried to wipe out the rust of polytheism

Those youths, the monotheists, tried to do their best to wipe out the rust of polytheism from the hearts, and to grow the twig of Unity in their place, but the shout of idolatry was so load in that environment that their melodies of Unity were lost in
.their throats

Then, in order to deliver themselves from that corruptive environment, and to find a .quieter place, they could not help deciding to migrate

Thus, they began consulting with each other. They said among themselves that when they turned away from those idolaters and that which they worshipped besides Allah,
.and separated their own account from theirs, they should seek refuge in the Cave

:The verse says

And when you withdraw from them and what they worship save Allah, then seek “
” ... ,refuge in the Cave

It was in that case that their Lord would unfold to them of His mercy and might open to them a way from their difficulty towards calmness, easiness, and happiness. Then
:the verse continues saying and) your Lord will shower on you of His mercy, and furnish you with a gentle) ... “

”.issue of your affair

:Explanations

The Arabic term /šāṭata/ means: ‘extravagant separation from truth, and saying a .\)

.?falsehood which by no means is acceptable

p: २५

The term /'iftirā/ (calumny) involves with the meaning of 'lie', yet the word /ka...ibā/ .۲ has again been applied in the verse. This application, maybe, is for the fact that there are two kinds of 'calumny'. In one kind, there is sometimes the probability of this attribution, but, sometimes, there is not any probability of it either

And polytheism is of the second kind, because attributing partners to 'The Infinite Power and Knowledge' is impossible

This holy verse is from the tongue of the leader of the Companions of the Cave, .۳ which makes the youths accompanied with him hopeful of the mercy of the Lord and that He provides them with a gentle issue of their affair. A true monotheist both leaves out idols, and separates from idol-worshippers

Being a Cave-dweller with the atmosphere of Divine Unity is better than being a citizen in the atmosphere of paganism. Its example is Yūsuf, the Prophet (a.s.), who preferred being in the prison to living in the castle, and he said: " ... My Lord! The prison is dearer to me than that to which they invite me; ... " (Sura Yusuf, No.۱۲, verse .(۳۳

Section ٣: The Sure Coming of the Resurrection Proved

Point

From the sleep for centuries together caused to fall upon the Companions of the Cave which period they felt to be a day or a part of a day was proved how the dead would pass the time unfelt for its length and how they will be raised on

.the Resurrection

١٨- وَتَحْسَبُهُمْ أَيْقَاظًا وَهُمْ رُقُودٌ وَنُقَلِّبُهُمْ ذَاتَ الْيَمِينِ وَذَاتَ الشِّمَالِ وَكَلْبُهُمْ بَاسِطٌ ذِرَاعَيْهِ بِالْوَصِيدِ لَوِ اطَّلَعَتْ عَلَيْهِمْ unto the right and unto the left (sides), and their dog stretching out his paws on the threshold. If you looked at them you would certainly turn back from them in flight and you would certainly be ".filled with terror of them

Commentary: verses 17–18

A definition upon the cave

Through these holy couple of verses, the Qur’ān has referred to the details of the :wonderful life of the Companions of the Cave where it has mentioned six specialties

The doorway of the Cave was set toward the north, and since its location had .1 certainly been in the northern hemisphere, the sun did not shine directly inside the :Cave, as the holy verse says

And (had you been there) you might have seen the sun when it rose, declining from “
” ... ,their Cave towards the right, and when it set, leaving them away unto the left

Thus, the direct sunshine, whose continuation might cause their bodies to decay, did .not meet them, but there was enough indirect light there from the sun

:The verse continues saying .2

”... and they were in a wide space thereof... “

This part of the verse is an indication that the arrival of the Cave, which is usually strait, was not their dwelling-place, but they had chosen the middle parts of the Cave
.to be both out of sight and out of direct shining of the sun

Here, the Qur’ān ceases the thread of the current speech and pays to a spiritual :conclusion, because it is the main aim of the statement of all these events. It says

This is of the Signs of Allah, whomever Allah guides, he is rightly guided, and... “
”.whomever He leaves to stray, you shall never find for him any guiding friend

Yes, those who step in the way of Allah and struggle for Him, Allah will help them with His Grace in every single of their steps. It is not only for the basis of their work, but His Grace encompasses them in all their affairs, too

Their sleep was not an ordinary sleep, because if you looked at them you might think that they were awake, but they had been sleeping. The verse says

And you might think them awake while they “
... ,were asleep

This exceptional case, perhaps, had been for the sake that harmful animals would not approach them, or for the sake that their view might become so dreadful that none would dare approach them, in a manner that this circumstance could work as a protective shield for them

In order that their bodies would not decay as a result of passing a long time of years when they were in their sleep, they were turned unto the right and unto the left sides, so that their bodies could remain sound. They were turned this side and that side for that the blood of their bodies might not concentrate in one point of the body, and the pressure and the height, which were on those muscles that were on the ground for a long time, would not affect on the body harmfully

and We turned them unto the right and unto... “
... ,the left (sides

Their dog had stretched forth his two fore-legs on the threshold of the Cave, . guarding them. The verse continues saying and their dog stretching out his paws ... “

... .on the threshold

:Another fact about them was that they had a dreadful sight, so that .۶

p: ۴۱

If you looked at them you would certainly turn back from them in flight and you ... “
” .would certainly be filled with terror of them

:Explanations

The cave of the Companions of the Cave geographically was neither toward the .۱ East nor toward the West, but it was toward the North-eastern, where the sun would .not shine into the depth of it in any season

The ideas are divided upon the sight of the Cave. Some commentators say that it had been in the mountains around Syria which is now known as ‘the cave of the Companions of the Cave’. Some others believe that it had been located around Ommān, the capital of Jordan, where several ancient graves are found and an engraving of a dog is carved on the wall, upon which there is an old monastery, and
.Muslims have built a mosque thereabout, too

However, the peculiarities of the Cave are some examples of the grace of Allah which were promised to in the previous verse

The Divine protection is not always seen in the form of a miracle, but sometimes the .۲
.natural factors work as a means of protection

The succour of Faith, leaving the people of polytheism, and taking refuge to a Cave, .۳
.with those peculiarities, may not happen save by the guidance of Allah

****

١٩- وَكَذَلِكَ بَعَثْنَاهُمْ لِيَتَسَاءَلُوا بَيْنَهُمْ قَالَ قَائِلٌ مِنْهُمْ

كَمْ لَبِثْتُمْ قَالُوا لَبِثْنَا يَوْمًا أَوْ بَعْضَ يَوْمٍ قَالُوا رَبُّكُمْ أَعْلَمُ بِمَا لَبِثْتُمْ فَابْعَثُوا أَحَدَكُمْ بِوَرِقِكُمْ هَذِهِ إِلَى الْمَدِينَةِ فَلْيَنْظُرْ أَيُّهَا أَزْكَى طَعَامًا فَلْيَأْتِكُمْ بِرِزْقٍ مِنْهُ وَلْيَتَلَطَّفْ وَلَا يُشْعِرَنَّ بِكُمْ أَحَدًا

٢٠- إِنَّهُمْ إِنْ يَظْهَرُوا عَلَيْكُمْ يَرْجُمُوكُمْ أَوْ يُعِيدُوكُمْ فِي مِلَّتِهِمْ وَلَنْ تُفْلِحُوا إِذَا أَبَدًا

And in like manner We did raise them that they might question among “ .١٩ themselves

One of them said: ‘How long have you tarried?’ They said: ‘We have tarried a day, or .?part of a day

.Finally) they said: ‘Your Lord knows best how long you have tarried)

Therefore send one of you with this money of yours to the city and let him see which of them has purest food, and bring you provision from it, and let him behave with

,care and) gentleness) and let him not inform any one

” .about you

,For verily if they prevail against you “ .٢٠

,they will stone you or turn you back to their religion, and then never

” .will you succeed

!Wakefulness after a Long Sleep

When explaining the commentary of the coming verse, we will detail that the Companions of the Cave’s sleep prolonged so much that it took about ۳۰۹ years. Thus, it was a sleep like death, and its wakefulness was rather similar to Resurrection.

:Therefore, the Qur’ān in this verse says

” ... And in like manner We did raise them “

This statement means that in like manner that Allah was able to put them in such a long sleep, He returned them to wakefulness again. The verse continues saying that they might question among themselves. One of them said: ‘How long have... “

” ... ’?you tarried

:Then, the verse adds

They said: ‘We have tarried a day, or part of... “

”... ’a day

But, finally, since they could not know precisely the length of their sleep, they

:expressed as follows

” ... .Finally) they said: ‘Your Lord knows best how long you have tarried)...“

However, they felt a serious hunger and they needed to eat food, because what they had in reserve in their bodies were consumed. Therefore, their first suggestion was that they would give the silver coins they had in their possession to one of their own members and send him to the city to see which of the sellers of that city had the purest food to bring them some of it enough for their provision

:The verse says

Therefore send one of you with this money of yours to the city and let him see... “
” ... ,which of them has purest food, and bring you provision from it

:Immediately after that, the verse adds and let him behave with (care and) gentleness, and let him not inform any one... “

” .about you

The reason of that precaution was that they thought if the people of the city were informed of their position, and found them, they would stone them and might bring . (them back to their own creed, (the creed of idolatry

:Explanations

The Arabic term /wariq/, mentioned in the verse, had been called to the silver coins . ١
.which had the design of the king of that time on them

The Qur’ānic phrase /walyatalaṭṭaf/ has been occurred exactly in the middle of the . ٢ Qur’ān. It means: ‘conciliation and spiritual intelligence accompanied with kindness’, which itself is a grace that the middle-word of the holy Qur’ān has spiritually been .made up of conciliation, mercy, and kindness

The wakefulness of the Companions of the Cave had two results. One of them was . ٣ for themselves that they asked question, “ ...that they might question... ”, and the other was for others that they were an illustration of Resurrection and raising in
.Hereafter

No one should surprise upon the subject of Resurrection and being raised, because . ٤
.every single wakefulness of men from sleep is a kind of raising and Resurrection

****

٢١- وَكَذَلِكَ أَغْتَرْنَا عَلَيْهِمْ لِيُغْلَبُوا أَنَّ وَعْدَ اللَّهِ حَقٌّ وَأَنَّ السَّاعَةَ

قَالَ الَّذِينَ غَلَبُوا عَلَيْهِمْ لِنَتَّخِذَنَ عَلَيْهِمْ مَسْجِدًا

And in like manner We did make (the people) to get knowledge of them that they “ .٢١ might know that

,the promise of Allah is true

.and that, as for the Hour (of Judgment), there is no doubt about it

When they disputed among themselves of their affair then they said: ‘Build a building
;(monument) over them their Lord best knows of them.’ Those who prevailed over their affair said: ‘We will build over them

” .’a place of worship

Commentary: verse ٢١

:The End of the Adventure of the Cave

It did not take so long that the story of the migration of those godly gentlemen, the youths of that locality, spread everywhere, and the tyrannical king of the country became very angry of the event. Therefore, he ordered his men that some special functionaries should search for them all the places, so that if they found any trace of them, they would pursue them until they could capture them and punish them. But the .more they searched the less they found

Now, we may trace the man who was commissioned to buy some food and see what happened to him

As soon as he entered the city, he terribly surprised, because the shape of the buildings had utterly been changed, the features of people he saw were all unfamiliar to him, their clothes had been altered into some new models. Even the method of their speaking, customs, and rules of civility were not as before. The ruins of yesterday had given their places to castles, and the castles of yesterday had been changed into ruins

He still thought that their sleep in the cave lasted one day or half of a day. In that case, he wondered why there were so many changes in the city

His wonder reached its climax when he put his hand in to his pocket to pay the price of the food he had bought. The seller was watching a coin which belonged to more than three hundred years before that time. Perhaps, the name of Decianus, the tyrannical king of old time, was seen on it. When the seller asked him to explain about that coin, the man answered that he had obtained it not long ago

Then, the man himself found out to what a deep and long sleep he and his companions had gone

This question became known in the city and the people of everywhere told that story one another. A group of those people could not believe that a man could be quickened again after his death. But the adventure of the sleep of the Companions of the Cave became a firm reasoning for those who were the adherents of the belief of resurrection of the body. Therefore, the Qur'ān in this verse says

And in like manner We did make (the people) to get knowledge of them that they “ ... ,might know that the promise of Allah is true

And there is no doubt about the end of the world and the occurrence of the Hereafter.

:The verse continues saying

” ... and that, as for the Hour (of Judgment), there is no doubt about it... “

This sleep and wakefulness, from some points of view, was more wonderful than death and returning to life again, because there passed hundreds of years upon them and their bodies did not decay, while they neither ate any food nor did they drink any .water

Is not this event a proof to the Power of Allah (s.w.t.) upon everything and every .deed? Taking such an event in mind, the life after death is certainly possible

The man sent for buying food quickly returned to the Cave, and informed his .companions of the fact

All of them surprised deeply. It was hard and difficult for them to bear that kind of life. They asked Allah that they would forsake this world and transfer unto the .neighbourhood of the mercy of Allah, and it happened soon

They passed away and their bodies were inside the Cave when the people went to .see them

At that circumstance, there occurred a dispute between the adherents of the belief of the resurrection of the bodies and their opponents. The opponents tried that the problem of the sleep and wakefulness of the Companions of the Cave to be forgotten .and to take that firm proof from the hands of its adherents

The Qur’ān in this regard implies that when they were disputing upon their affair among themselves, some of them said that they should build a monument over them so that they might disappear from the eyes and that they spoke about them no longer, for their :Lord is better aware of their condition. The verse says

When they disputed among themselves of their affair then they said: ‘Build a... “
”...’ building (monument) over them; their Lord best knows of them

But those who became aware of their secret, and found it as a reasoning for Resurrection, suggested that they would build a mosque beside their graves, in order :that their memory could not be forgotten. The verse says

Those who prevailed over their affair said: ‘We will build over them a place of... “ ”.’ worship

This meaning shows that building a tomb and a place of worship in reverence of the graves of the saints of the religion not only is not unlawful (harām) but also it is a .(worthy action with Allah (s.w.t

:Explanations

The Arabic term /’i‘θār/ is applied for an occasional information which is obtained . ١ with no searching. In this event, people, without any trouble, became cognizant of the important secret of the Age of the Companions of the Cave by means of their silver
.coin

.In the story of the Companions of the Cave these subjects are referred to . ٢

The Will and Power of Allah, brevity, forsaking the world, migration, concealing of .(faith, Allah’s succours, and lawful feeding (pure food

.None of Allah’s deeds is vain . ٣

That ability which can keep those men alive for more than three centuries without . ٤
.any food, is powerful to restore the dead to life, too

Sometimes human beings simply pass by some historical events while they are . ٥ neglectful of the training effects of those events. The Companions of the Cave passed away after that their adventure was revealed, but, in stead of taking a lesson from it, people were thinking of building a monument over there

Commentary: verse ٢٢

Point

This verse points to some different ideas which exist among people about the Companions of the Cave. Among them is the idea about the number of them. The holy
:verse in this concern says

” ... ;’Soon they will say: ‘(They were) three, the fourth of them was their dog “

:Here is the belief of another group of the people and (some) say: ‘Five, the sixth of them was their dog’, guessing at the unseen,... “

” ... .’and (yet the others) say: ‘Seven, and the eighth of them was their dog

The verse of the Qur'ān implies that all of these words are some unreasonable statements that they say, and, save a small number of people, no one knows their correct number. The verse says

” ... .’Say: ‘My Lord knows best their number, none knows them but a few... “

:Then, at the end of the verse, the Qur'ān adds

” ... ,So do not dispute with them, except in outward disputation... “

That is, you should speak with them so logically and reasonably that your logic be manifested. And you should ask no one of the people of the Book about the number of the Companions of the Cave

:The verse says

and do not ask any one for a pronouncement... “

”.about them

:Explanations

In the text of the verse the conjunction ‘and’ has not been mentioned upon the phrases “fourth of them” and “sixth of them”, but with the phrase “the eighth of them” the conjunction ‘and’ has been mentioned. It is, perhaps, for the reason that the attitude of their number being ‘three’ or ‘five’ had been offered by some ungodly people that Allah has rendered it into: “ guessing at the unseen

But the attitude of their number being ‘seven’ is from the side of the believers, the people of attention. (This recent meaning is narrated from Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) by the way of Ibn-‘Abbas). That is why for these groups of people the Qur'ān does not say “gussing at the unseen”, but, in order to respect them, between the number of: ‘the Companions of the Cave’ and their dog' there has occurred the conjunction 'and' in order to separate them from .each other

If the activities be valuable and human beings be with aim, their dependents and .۲
their belongings, even the animals accompanied them, should be counted, too, since being an animal and being unclean (najis) is not a reason for them to be counted
.valueless

In this verse, the word 'dog' has been mentioned in three occurrences. The positive function of the 'dog' of the Companions of the Cave has been referred to in verse
.No.۱۸ of the current Sura

Save (say): 'If Allah pleases', and remember your Lord when you forget, and say: " ۲۴. "It may be that my Lord will guide me to a nearer way to the right than this "

Commentary: verses ۲۳-۲۴

"The function of the holy phrase: "If Allah pleases

Allah (s.w.t.) prohibits His Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in this holy verse to say that he does so and so the following day unless he depends that affair to the Will of Allah and he says 'If Allah Pleases'

Thus, Allah desires to train people and He teaches them that whenever they say something about an affair concerning the future, they ought to say this holy phrase, in order that if the affair had not been done the servant would not have said a falsehood.

The reason of this statement lies in the fact that man's power is limited and it is not right and logical for him to decisively inform of something when the appearance of some barriers against it is probable, and many a time the information happens falsehood, save that it be followed by the phrase ‘Allah Willing’. Saying the holy phrase ‘Allah Willing’, which indicates to the belief in ‘The Power and Will of Allah’, was a phrase used by Allah’s saints for ‘resting upon’ in their conversation. For instance, this meaning has also been narrated in the Qur’ān from the tongue of prophets. In Sura Yusuf, No. ١٢, verse ٩٩, Jacob says to his children: “ ... Enter safe into Egypt if Allah please

In the current Sura (Al-Kahf), verse ٤٩, Moses says to Khidr: “ ... Allah Willing, you shall find me patient, ... ”. In Sura Al-Qaṣaṣ, No. ٢٨, verse ٢٧, Haḍrat Shu‘ayb says to Haḍrat Moses: “ ... If Allah please, you will find me one of the righteous.” In Sura Aṣ-Ṣaffāt, no. ٣٧, verse ١٠٢, Ishmael (a.s.) tells his father Abraham (a.s.): “ ... if Allah please, you will ” .find me of the patient ones

Of course, the purpose of saying “Allah Willing”, or “If Allah please”, and “I take refuge in Allah” and the like of them are not some things to be uttered unintentionally and barely by tongue, but the purpose of it for a servant is to have such a belief and such a .knowledge in mind (heart) and in all dimensions of his life

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) recommended us not to forget to write ‘If Allah please ‘even in our .writings

One day he told someone to write a letter. When he (a.s.) observed that the letter was not involved with the phrase: ‘Allah Willing ’, he said: “How do you hope that this work .(will be completed?” (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, the Commentary

Wherever the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) entered a graveyard, he used to say: “If Allah ,”please, we will join you

(while death is sure to happen. (the Commentary of Kashf-ul-'Asrār

A human being is free and has choice, but he is not absolutely independent. It is not so that all affairs to be given him in a manner that he can perform them without the Will of Allah (s.w.t.). In other words, human beings are neither in compulsion nor the free will of all affairs has been offered to them, but human's freedom is conditioned to :Allah's Will. The verse says

"... , 'Save (say): 'If Allah pleases"

:Then, next to this sentence, the Qur'ān says

" ... ,and remember your Lord when you forget... "

This statement denotes to this meaning that if you forget to add the holy phrase 'If Allah please' to the news that you inform of the events related to the future, whenever later you remember it immediately make amends it and recite 'If Allah please', because this action will compensate the past. Besides that, you should say that you are hopeful that your Lord may show you a way more clear than this. The :verse continues saying and say: 'It may be that my Lord will guide me to a nearer way to the right than... " :this

Finally, Sayyid Murtaḍā, who is the most learned one amongst the scholars of Shī'ah, on the commentary of this part of the verse which is recited: "...and say: 'It may be that my Lord will guide me to a nearer way to the right than this" says that he ought to say it may be that Allah will bestow on The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) some miracles and evidences to prove his prophethood that will be stronger and more expressive than the story of the Companions of the Cave. Hence, Allah, the Exalted, bestowed some evidences and miracles more effective on His Prophet. Allah informed His Messenger (p.b.u.h.) of all unseen sciences and details about the lives and deeds of the whole prophets.

Those facts were some proofs which were more clear and stronger than the story of .the Companions of the Cave

Commentary: verses ٢٥-٢٦

,The sleep of the Companions of the Cave

The frame of references existed in the former holy verses denoted that the sleep of the Companions of the Cave was a very long sleep. This matter moves the sense of curiosity of every listener. He may desire to know how many years precisely they .remained in their long sleep

:This holy verse removes the doubt of the listener when it says

And they remained in their Cave three hundred years, and (to that also) they added“
” .nine more

Therefore, the total years that they remained and slept in the Cave counted three .hundred and nine years

The Jews asked Haḍrat Ali (a.s.) about the length of the time that the Companions of
 .the Cave remained in the Cave

He (a.s.) answered them it was ۳۰۹ years. They said that it had been mentioned ۳۰۰ years in their Book. Haḍrat Ali (a.s.) said that nine years was the difference between (the solar year and lunar year. \(۱\)) (Majma‘-ul-Bayān, the Commentary

In Marāqī’s Commentary it is cited that this nine years is counted as a miracle of the Qur’ān which has considered the difference between solar years and lunar years so precisely

****

It may be said that the number of the years had been the same ۳۰۰ years to which later people added nine years where the Qur’ān says: “... and (to that also) they added :nine more.” So, in answer to that, Allah says

”... Say: ‘Allah knows best how long they remained “

It is evident that the purpose of Allah, the Exalted, by this verse is reasoning to His wonderful and great Power. This reasoning can be right when the length of their sleep is clear. Thus, the objective meaning of the holy words: “Say: ‘Allah knows best how long they remained. ...” after stating the length of the time of their sleep, is for invalidating the saying of the people of the Book who had differed in this matter. Then, the objective meaning of the Qur’ān is: ‘O Muhammad! Say that Allah is more aware of the time of their sleep that He has informed it’. Do accept whatever Allah says and leave out the sayings of the people of the Book, because Allah is more aware .of this matter

---

.It should be noted that a solar year lasts ۳۶۵ days while a lunar year lasts ۳۵۴ days -۱

In other words, in order to put an end to the different debates of people in this :concern, He commands His Messenger (p.b.u.h.) as follows

”... .Say: ‘Allah knows best how long they remained “

:Then, the reason of this statement comes forth, when the verse continues saying

”... .To Allah belongs the Unseen of the heavens and the earth... “

He Who is aware of what is concealed and what is manifest in the whole world of existence, how may it be that He remains unaware of the length of the time of the :stop of the Companions of the Cave? The verse says

”... !How clear of sight is He and keen of hearing... “

That is why they (the dwellers of the heavens and the earth) have no guardian save :Him. The verse says

There is none to be a guardian for them ...“

” ... ;besides Him

:At the end of the verse, the Qur’ān adds

”and He makes none to share in His Sovereignty... “

.In fact, this part of the verse is an emphasis on the absolute guardianship of Allah

٢٧- وَأَنْتَ مَا أَوْحَىٰ إِلَيْكَ مِنْ كِتَابِ رَبِّكَ لَا مُبَدِّلَ لِكَلِمَاتِهِ وَلَنْ تَجِدَ مِنْ دُونِهِ مُتْتَحِدًا

And recite that which has been revealed unto you of the Book of your Lord; none“ ٢٧ shall change His words

”and you shall not find any refuge besides Him

Commentary: verse ٢٧

Point

:In this holy verse, the Qur’ān addresses the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) and says

And recite that which has been revealed unto you“

”... ;of the Book of your Lord

That is, he should not pay attention to the talks of this and that. They might speak some baseless matters mixed with falsehoods and superstitions. In discussions about those matters, his reliance should always be only upon the Divine revelation, because :nothing may change His statements. The verse says

”... ,none shall change His words ...“

.There is no room for diversity to enter into His Words and Knowledge

His Speech and His Knowledge is not like the speech and knowledge of human beings
.which, as a result of a new invention or information, has to be changed

:It is upon these facts that, at the end of the verse, the holy Qur’ān says

” .and you shall not find any refuge besides Him ...“

The lessons taken from this story

This historical wonderful adventure, which the Qur’ān has explained without any superstition and baseless inventions, as

p: 61

all other stories of the Qur'ān, contains so many constructive and training points.

:Some of them are as follows

A. The first lesson of this story is the very breaking the barrier of imitation from aberration and separation from the corruption of that environment. Basically, man should be constructive in the society, not putting up with mischiefs of it, which some feeble-minded people do. Those who have true Faith, and are possessors of an independent thought, say that a godly servant should never follow the majority when they are misguided

B. Migration from the polluted surroundings is another lesson taken from this wonderful event

C. Precautionary dissimulation, in its constructive meaning, is another lesson taught by this story. And we know that precautionary dissimulation is not anything save that the person conceals his main subject where divulgence of facts is fruitless, and he protects his power for the time of struggle and striking against the enemy

D. The lack of difference among persons in the way of Allah, and sitting a minister beside a shepherd, and even the guarding dog that paves their way, is another lesson in this field, in order to be manifested that the privileges of this material world. Then its different ranks have no effect along the side of separating the rows of the followers of the path of truth which is the path of Unity and the path of Unity is the path of oneness and unicity of all human beings

E. The wonderful helps of Allah (s.w.t.) at the time of the appearance of crises is another income which the circumstance of the event teaches us

F. In this story, even in the most grievous circumstances, they taught us the purity of food. The nutrition of the body has a deep effect on man's spirit, thought and heart. And pollution resulted from unlawful (harām) foods, makes man afar from the path of Allah and the path of piety

G. Seeking help from His grace, and saying the holy phrase ‘If Allah please’ in informing about the future affairs, is another lesson

H. Another instructive lesson of this story is how we confront the opponents

I. Finally, the possibility of resurrection of the body, and that human beings will return to a new life at the time of Resurrection, is another lesson that this event teaches us

However, the aim here is not telling a story as a hobby. The aim of the Qur’ān is to bring up some steadfast, faithful, aware and brave men. One of its way is to introduce the noble samples of them through the length of history

At the end, one of the pretexts of the Prophet’s opponents was that they asked the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to change the Qur’ān. They said: “ ...Bring us a Qur’ān other than this, or change this.” (Sura Yūnus, No.10 verse 15). In answer to such arrogant people, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) used to say that it was not of his own accord to change it. The change of the Qur’ān is only up to Allah

”and his affair has become all excess

:Occasion of Revelation

A group of arrogant conceited rich Arabs came to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and, pointing to some faithful Muslims, such as: Salmān, ’Abūthar, Ṣuhayb, Khabāb and the like of :them, said

O’Muhammad! If you sit in the seat of honor, and send away these fellows from“ around yourself, (so that your meeting becomes apt for notables and personalities), we will approach you. But, with the presence and existence of these people, the ”.meeting is not a suitable place for us

At this time, the verse was revealed and commanded the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) not to surrender to those hollow deceptive statements, and he should always receive the

.faithful, sincere-hearted ones, such as those who are like Salmān and 'Abūthar

The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) told them (his true followers) that he praised Allah for that he (p.b.u.h.) did not die until when He ordered him such a commandment that he would .be with them and the like of them

”.He (p.b.u.h.) said: “Yes, life with you, and also death with you, is pleased

Commentary: verse ٢٨

One of the lessons which the story of the Companions of the Cave taught us was that the criterion of men’s value is not the apparent rank, social position, and their wealth. In fact, this verse pursues this very important subject, and commands the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) as follows

And keep yourself content with those who call“

”...unto their Lord morning and evening seeking His pleasure Imam Şādiq and Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said: “The objective meaning of calling Allah in the morning and in the evening is ‘to perform the prayer’.” (The Commentaries of Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, Aş-Şāfy, and Burhān

:Then, as an emphasis, the Qur’ān continues saying and let not your eyes turn away from them desiring the adornment of the life of ... “ ”... ,the world

:Again, for a more emphasis, it adds and do not obey him whose heart We have made neglectful of Our remembrance ... “

”... ,and he follows his own low desires

Such people are always out of normal method, so that their manner has become all excess. Since, concerning the material lusts, the nature of man is always toward the mood of demanding more and more, a mortal ceaselessly steps in the direction of excess so far that he perishes himself. The :holy verse says

”and his affair has become all excess ...“

:Explanations

A leader should not be heedless of the deprived, but he must be sympathetic unto .١
.them

Do not turn away from the poor in order to obtain the material world and the .٢
.consent of the rich

The worst thing is the circumstance that people pay attention to Allah, but their .٣
.leader pays to the world

.He who follows the low desires and the world, will go out of the path of godly ones .٤

.The danger of mammonism is so much that Allah has warned His prophets of it .٥

The value of the remembrance of Allah depends on that its root to be deep in the .٦ heart and the soul. Otherwise, a man falls down step by step. The first step is .negligence, then lust, and, finally, the path of aberration

٢٩- وَقُلِ الْحَقُّ مِنْ رَبِّكَ فَمَنْ شَاءَ فَلْيُؤْمِنْ وَمَنْ شَاءَ فَلْيُكْفُرْ إِنَّا أَعْتَدْنَا لِلظَّالِمِينَ نَارًا أَحَاطَ بِهِمْ سُرَادِقُهَا وَإِنْ يَسْتَغِيثُوا يُغَاثُوا بِمَاءٍ كَالْمُهْلِ يَشْوِي الْوُجُوهَ بِئْسَ الشَّرَابُ وَسَاءَتْ مُرْتَفَقًا

And say: ‘The truth is from your Lord; so whoever will, let him believe, and“ ٢٩ whoever will, let him disbelieve.’ Verily We have prepared for the unjust a Fire, the curtains of which encompass them, and if they call for succour, they will be succoured with water like molten copper that shall scald the faces; (how) evil the drink and (how) ”ill the resting-place

Commentary: verse ٢٩

The importance of the previous verse is so much so that the Qur’ān, in this verse, explicitly says to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to say that it is a program from Allah and a .reality from the Lord. Then let him who will, believe, and let him who will, reject it

And say: ‘The truth is from your Lord; so whoever will, let him believe, and whoever“ ,will ”... ’.let him disbelieve

But, everybody should be defined that those unjust mam-monish persons who, with their welfare lives of dazzling glare and its adornments, mockingly laugh at the :woolen clothes of the Muslims, will have a dark and evil end, because the verse says

,Verily We have prepared for the unjust a Fire ...“

”... ,the curtains of which encompass them

Yes, such people, in the life of this world, whenever they became thirsty, used to order their servants to prepare them kinds of drinks before them. But, in Hell, when they call for water they will be granted water like melted brass which, if it be brought near the face, will scald the face. How dreadful the drink! And how uncomfortable the dwelling of Hell is! The verse says and if they call for succour, they will be succoured with water like molten copper ... “

;that shall scald the faces

how) evil the drink and (how) ill)

”the resting-place

Here, in this life and in their tents, there exist kinds of drinks. As soon as they call the cupbearers, they bring them different cups of various drinks. In Hell, too, they will have cupbearers to bring them cups of drink. But what a drink! A drink like molten brass! A drink as hot as the tear of the orphans, and as blazing as the sighs of the poor.

Yes, whatever exists there, it is the embodiment of that which they have produced here, in this world

However, at the end, people are free to choose either belief or disbelief, yet they should know that the end of disbelief is the blazing Fire of the Hereafter

The Arabic word /surādiq/ means ‘curtain’ which has been mentioned only once in the Qur’ān, and it is about the people of Hell

By the way, there has been recorded a tradition from Imam Bāqir (a.s.) in the commentary books of Al-Burhān, As-Sāfy, and Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn which indicates that the purpose of the holy phrase “And say: ‘The truth is from your Lord; ...’” is the mastership of Ali-ibn-Abitālib (a.s.). It means that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) should state the truth about the mastership and Imamate of Ali-i-Abitālib (a.s.) from the side of the Lord

٣٠- إِنَّ الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا وَعَمِلُوا الصَّالِحَاتِ إِنَّا لَا نُضِيعُ أَجْرَ مَنْ أَحْسَنَ عَمَلًا

٣١- أُولَئِكَ لَهُمْ جَنَّاتُ عَدْنٍ تَجْرَى مِنْ تَحْتِهِمُ الْأَنْهَارُ يُحَلَّوْنَ فِيهَا مِنْ أَسَاوِرَ مِنْ ذَهَبٍ وَيَلْبَسُونَ ثِيَابًا خُضْرًا مِنْ سُيْنْدُسٍ وَإِسْتَبْرَقٍ مُتَّكِنِينَ فِيهَا عَلَى الْأَرَائِكِ نِعْمَ الثَّوَابُ وَحَسُنَتْ مُرْتَفَقًا

Verily those who believe and do righteous deeds, surely We do not waste the “ ٣٠ .
” recompense of him who does a good work

These, for them are gardens of eternity “ ٣١

,beneath which rivers flow, they shall be adorned therein with bracelets of gold

,and they shall wear green robes of fine silk, and thick brocade

.reclining therein on raised coaches

” !O, how excellent a reward! and how fair a resting-place

Commentary: verses ٣٠-٣١

Point

In view of the fact that the style of the holy Qur’ān is a constructive and comparative style, in this group of verses, after the statement of the qualities and retributions of the arrogant mammonish people, it refers to the statement of the situation of the true believers and their excellent extraordinary rewards. At first, it expressively says

Verily those who believe and do righteous deeds, surely We do not waste the “ recompense of him who does

” .a good work

Whether this recompense is little or much, general or particular from everyone in every age and year, and in any condition, Allah will not waste it

:Then, the Qur’ān explains the rewards of the doers of righteous deeds. It says

” ... These, for them are gardens of eternity “

These rewards are a lot of gardens in Paradise under whose trees and castles some rivers flow. They live in those gardens while they are ornamented with golden bracelets. The verse says

” ... ,beneath which rivers flow, they shall be adorned therein with bracelets of gold... “

The verse continues explaining their rewards and that they will be among a group of good companions in Heaven, where it says

,and they shall wear green robes of fine silk... “

,and thick brocade

.reclining therein on raised coaches

” !O, how excellent a reward! and how fair a resting-place

:Explanations

The Qur’ānic term /‘adn/ means: ‘a perpetual abode’. The term /’asāwir/ is the plural form of /’aswīrah/ which means ‘a bracelet’. The Arabic word /sundus/ means ‘silk’, and /’istabraq/ is applied for ‘silk of a thick texture, brocade’; and the term /’arā’ik/ is the plural form of /’arīkah/ which is called to a royal throne which is covered with a veil

For the people of Paradise, there are all kinds of clothing and with any material and of any colour there at their disposal, but the green robes, in particular, maybe refers to their formal and common clothing by which they decorate themselves at the time when they

.recline on raised coaches

Keeping off from the unlawful ornaments of this life is the secret of reaching to the .eternal ornaments in Hereafter as a reward

Resurrection is both the spiritual resurrection and the resurrection of the body, since if it were merely a spiritual resurrection it would not need any gold, silk, and
.throne

:Tow Final Points

!The ornamental clothings in Hereafter .1

There may arise this question for many persons that, in the Qur'ān, Allah has reprimanded the dazzling glare of the world, but He has promised these things to the believers in the next world. They are some adornments such as gold, silken clothes:
.whether thin and thick, thrones, beautiful coaches, and the like of them

In answer to this question, preliminarily, it is necessary for us to attract attentions to this matter that we comment the verses of the Qur'ān as some other commentators do. They take all these words as some metaphorical ones for the spiritual concepts. We have learnt from the holy Qur'ān itself that Resurrection will be both bodily and spiritual. Thus, the pleasures of the next world must be in both forms. Of course, there .is no doubt that its spiritual pleasures are not comparable with its bodily pleasures

But, in the meantime, this fact cannot be concealed that, as for the bounties of the next world, we may see only a shade of them from a long distance, and we hear some words as an indication to them, because the parable of the coming world, compared with this world, is like the parable of this world with respect to the mother's womb, and the embryo's case. If mother can communicate with her embryo, she is not able to state the beauties of this world, such as: illuminating sun, bright moon, springs, gardens, flowers, and the like of them, for the .baby she has in her womb save by signs

Similarly, it is impossible for us, the encompassed persons in the womb of the world, .to understand or even to state the spiritual and material bounties of the Hereafter

Now that this fact became clear, we return to the answer of the question. Allah has reprimanded the dazzling glare of this world for the sake that the limitation of this world causes the preparation of such life to be accompanied with kinds of injustice .and cruelty, and taking benefit from it will be done with negligence and ignorance

The unjust discriminations, which come into being in this course, will be the cause of .grudges, jealousies, enmities, and, at last, bloodsheds, and fights

But in that world, whose all things are vast and plenty, neither the earning of these ornaments creates any difficulty, nor it causes any unjust discrimination and deprivation. They neither produce any grudge and enmity in any one, nor, in that environment full of spiritualities, they cause man to become neglectful of the Lord. Those ornaments neither need to be protected and guarded nor create any jealousy in others. They are neither the source of arrogance and pride, nor are they the factor .(of separation from the servants of Allah and Allah Himself (s.w.t

Why should the people of Paradise be deprived of such a bounty which is a bodily .pleasure beside the great spiritual merits with no unpleasant reaction

Another point that this verse teaches us is that we must not avoid of guiding that .r group because of their wealth, or for

.that they have a welfare life, and do not approach them

But, what is blameworthy is that we approach them in order to take benefit from their worldly material circumstances and, as the Qur'ān says, become of the extension of those who “ desire the adornment of the life of the world ”. \(1\) Thus, if the aim is their guidance, and taking benefit from their wealth and possibilities is along the path of positive and valuable social activities, approaching them not only is not blameworthy .but also is necessary and incumbent

The current Sura, verse ۲۸ –۱

How ingratitude draws the deprivation of the blessings of Allah and .how gratitude increases the bounties of the Lord

٣٢- وَاضْرِبْ لَهُم مَّثَلًا رَجُلَيْنِ جَعَلْنَا لِأَحَدِهِمَا جَنَّتَيْنِ مِنْ أَعْنَابٍ وَحَفَفْنَاهُمَا بِنَخْلٍ وَجَعَلْنَا بَيْنَهُمَا زُرْعًا

Commentary:verses ۳۲–۳۶

Point

From this verse on, Allah, the Exalted, tells a story that by hearing it people may come to themselves and obey Allah, and desist committing sins and ingratitude. For this :very purpose, He addresses His Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and says

And (O’ Prophet!) coin for them a parable: Two men, We made for one of them two “ gardens of vines and We surrounded them with date-palms and

” .We placed between them tillage

It was a fertile field with two gardens of vines and dates in addition to farms of wheat
.and kinds of corn, so that everything was complete in it

****

These two gardens, from the point of agricultural products, were matured and the fruits of their trees were wholly in full maturation and their farmings were going to be :harvested, in a manner that nothing was withheld therein. The holy verse says

”... :Both of the gardens gave their fruits and withheld naught thereof “

p: ۷۵

Most important of all was water, the cause of the life of every thing, and in gardens and farmings there, in particular, it was available enough, since, as the verse says

” .and We caused a river to gush forth in their midst... “

***

Thus, the possessor of those couple of gardens and farming had got many kinds of fruit and so much income. The holy verse says

”... ,(And he had fruits (in abundance “

But, since the world was in his favour, and those who are of little capacity and are in lack of personality, when everything is in their favour, they become proud and begin disobedience, the first stage of which is self-admiration and arrogance upon others, the owner of those couple of gardens started speaking with his friend. The verse continues saying so he said to his companion, as he was conversing with him: ‘I have greater wealth... “ than you, and am mightier

” .?in respect of men

Therefore, he told his friend that, in comparison with him, he had many men in his authority and also he had both abundance of wealth, and social position and influence.

.Then he asked his companion what he could say and what he had to utter

***

Little by little, as it is usual, these thoughts went on to be upper and upper in him, so much so that he considered the world was eternal and his wealth and honour were perpetual for him. So, he proudly entered his garden. He looked round unto the green trees therein, the branches of which had come down unto the ground because of the height of the fruits, and unto the ears of corn, which were spread clinging every side when he was listening to the sound of the river which was flowing forward, watering the trees, he neglectfully said that he did not think that destruction and mortality could fall over it. The verse says

And he entered his garden while he was unjust to himself. He said: 'I do not think that this will ever perish

He went even further than that and, since the eternity of this world contrasts the fulfillment of Resurrection, he thought of the denial of Hereafter and said

” ... ,And I do not think that the Hour (of Resurrection) will come “

He thought that these ideas are some things that a group of people had invented to please themselves. Then, he imagined if there were a resurrection in the course he would have a high rank and personality, and he added and even if I am returned unto my Lord, I shall surely find a better than this a... “

”.’resort

He was wandering in these useless imaginations, and every moment he added some new vain words to his former undue words. Then his faithful friend began speaking and rejected his vain statements, which will be dealt with in the following discussions

:Note

The Arabic term /’ukul/ means some products and fruits which are edible while the term /θamar/ is applied for kinds of fruit, and sorts of wealth and properties; it is even called to ‘trees’, too

These verses can lead us to some principles of planting and keeping typical and attractive gardens. These leadings are as follows

A. The low and short trees may be planted in the middle, (vines), and the tall trees (around the garden, (date-palms

B. Gardens may be arranged separate with each other, so that there can be left a (distance between them, (and We put between them

C. The lands of the distance between gardens should be formed, (between them (tillage

D. Water ought to be gushed forth in the midst of the gardens, (and We cause a river (to gush forth in their midst

(E. Gardens must not be hollow, weak and calamitous, (and withheld naught thereof

Therefore, the best views of the gardens are the vine gardens with various grapes, and those that have vines and date-palms with together, and kinds of farming (tillage) are in between the gardens (and We Surrounded them) and that streams flow beneath the trees and beside the farms, (and We caused a river to gush forth in their (midst

٣٩. And why did you not say when you entered your garden: ‘As Allah will, there is no “ power except in Allah’? If you see me less than you in wealth and children

٤٠. Yet it may be that my Lord will give me better than your garden, and will send on “ (it (your garden

” a thunderbolt from heaven so that it becomes an even slippery ground without plant

Or its water will be sunk (into the earth), so that you will never be able to seek it “ ٤١ .out

These holy verses are upon the rejections of the baseless utterances of that faithless, proud, and conceited rich man that are heard from the tongue of his faithful companion. He waited silently and was listening to the words of that haughty man in order that he would say whatever he had in his inside. Then he answered him all the same time, as the verse says

His companion said to him, as he was conversing with him; ‘Do you disbelieve in Him “ Who created you

” ?from dust then from a sperm-drop, then He fashioned you a (complete) man

In other words, this the Lord Who, at first, created man from soil. He caused the nutritious material existed in the soil to be absorbed by the roots of the trees. The trees in turn became the food of animals, and man consumed from the plant as well as the meat of the animals

His life-germ was made up of them. In the womb of the mother, the life-germ developed its different stages of perfection until it became a complete man. A human being that is superior to all the existing things of the earth. He can contemplate, think, make decision, and subject rather everything under his control. Yes, the change of worthless dust into such a wonderful being, with those different complicated organs of his body and soul, is one of the great reasonings of Unity

****

Then, in order to break the infidelity and pride of his companion, the faithful man said that he boasted and was

p: ۸۰

proud of his belief that Allah was his Lord. The verse, from the tongue of the faithful man, says

”But, as for me He, Allah, is my Lord, and none do I associate with my Lord “

He told his faithless friend who boasted that he had garden, farming, fruit and water in abundance, that he was honoured that his Lord, his Creator, and his Sustainer was Allah. He added that his companion glorified the life this world while he glorified his belief, faith, and monotheism, as the holy verse continues saying

” .and none do I associate with my Lord... “

****

After pointing to the subject of Unity and infidelity which are the most important subjects in the fate of man, again he reproached his faithless companion, and said

”... ,And why did you not say when you entered your garden: ‘As Allah will “

Why did you not consider all of these from the side of Allah and you did not thank for His bounties? And why did you not say that there is no power and ability save from the source of Allah? The verse in this regard says

” ... ?’there is no power except in Allah... “

You have ploughed the earth, scattered the seed, planted the shoot, guarded the trees, and provided every necessary thing for them on time in a manner that they grew like that. All of these activities have been done by means of the usage of the abilities, possibilities, and means that Allah has given you. You have nothing of yourself, and without Him you are naught. Then, he added that it did not matter

” .If you see me less than you in wealth and children... “

****

”... ,Yet it may be that my Lord will give me better than your garden “

My Lord not only will give me a better garden than yours, but also He will send a thunderbolt from heaven on your garden and, in a short time, He will change this :green land into a plantless, slippery even plain. The holy verse continues saying and will send on it (your garden) a thunderbolt from heaven so that it becomes an... “ ”.even slippery ground without plant

Or He may order the land to move so that this spring and gushing water should sink :down into the earth and you will never be able to find it. The verse says ” .Or its water will be sunk (into the earth), so that you will never be able to seek it out “

The Arabic term /ḥusbān/, used in this holy verse, originally is derived from /ḥisāb/ (calculation); then it has been used in the sense of the arrows which are counted at the time of shooting. It has also been applied with the meaning of ‘the punishment which comes upon persons on reckoning’, and the purpose in the abovementioned .verse is this very meaning

The Qur’ānic word /ṣa‘īd/ means ‘the sand, or dust on the surface of the earth’ It is .(originally taken from /ṣa‘ūd/ (a calamity

The Arabic term /zalaq/ means an even land without any plant so that the foot may slip on it. (It is interesting that today, in order to fix the running sands and prevent the towns to be buried under the storms of sand, people try to grow some plants and trees on such lands so that they can control them, and deliver them from the state of being slippery

Indeed, that faithful and monotheist man warned his proud companion that he could not attach and depend on those bounties, because none of them was reliable. In fact he says that he has seen with his own eyes or, at least, has heard with his own ears that sometimes the heavenly thunderbolt, in a short moment, turns gardens, houses, and farms into a heap of soil, or a dry land without any water and any grass

And also you may have heard or seen that sometimes a sharp earthquake may ruin the irrigation systems and make springs dry so that they cannot be mended

When you know these clear facts, what is this pride and haughtiness for? You who have seen these events, why do you attach to them? Why do you say that you do not believe that these bounties will perish

!But they will be eternal. What an ignorance and stupidity

The Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) said that if a servant says ‘that which Allah pleases’ and ‘There is no power except in Allah’, when He bestows on him wealth and children, Allah may repel his calamities and disquiet from him so that he obtains his (good) wishes. Then he (p.b.u.h.) recited this verse. \(1\)

Some Islamic traditions denote that the recitation of the holy phrase “There is neither might nor strength but in Allah” causes afflictions to be repelled and bounties to last long, and it is a treasure out of the treasures of Heaven

Commentary: verses ٤٢-٤٤

Finally, the debate of those two men ended and the faithful man had got no penetration in the depth of the soul of that proud, faithless rich man who, with the same spirituality and doctrine, went back home. He was unaware that the command of Allah had been issued that his green gardens and cultivations to be perished. He should receive the retribution of his pride and infidelity in this very world, in order that his end would become as a gazing-stock and a warning to others

Perhaps it was at the same moment that the darkness of night had covered everywhere when the punishment of Allah, in the form of a destructive thunderbolt, or a terrible violat storm, or a horrible ruinous earthquake, in a short time, destroyed whatever there were in those pleasant gardens which contained so many fruitful tall trees, and :fructified cultivations. The verse says

” ... ,(And his fruits were enwrapped (into destruction “

The Arabic term /’uḥīṭ/ is from the root /’iḥāṭah/ which, in such instances, means ‘an encompassing punishment’, the result of which is a complete destruction. In the next morning, when the owner of the garden, with a series of desires and imaginations, went toward his garden in order to visit it and enjoy its products, approaching it, he encountered a dreadful scene, so terrible that his mouth dried because of wonder and .his eyes became dim and motionless

He could not know that he was observing that scene in dream or in vigilance. The trees had utterly dropped on the ground, the cultivations had become upside down, .and there was seen little of life therein

As if there were no pleasant garden and green tillage there. The doleful moans of owls were heard in its ruins. The man’s heart started its palpitation sharply, and his face grew pale. The saliva dried in his mouth, and whatever of pride and arrogance .was in his heart and his mind suddenly dispersed

As if he had got up from a long and deep sleep. He was thinking of the heavy expenses he had earned from every side in his lifetime and had expended in it. The :verse says so he began wringing his hands for what he had expended in it, and it was fallen... “

”... ,down upon its trellises

It was just in the same time that he regreted from his false and futile statements and :thoughts. The verse continues saying

” ’and he was saying: ‘Alas me! Would I had not associated with my Lord any one... “

More lamentable than this it was that, at the time of confronting this calamity, he was perfectly alone and had no one to help him for this great damage and grievous :affliction. The verse says

” ... ,And he had no troop to help him as against (the wrath of) Allah“

He had not anything to substitute that, which was his whole capital. The verse :continues saying

” .nor could he help himself... “

In fact, in this event all his arrogant imaginations disturbed and proved to be nonsensical. On one side, he used to say that he never believed that his great capital and abundant wealth would have an annihilation, but he saw its annihilation with his own eyes. On the other side, he arrogantly boasted to his faithful monotheistic companion and said that he was more powerful than him from the point of wealth and men. But, after this event, he observed that none was his helper. On the third side, he depended on his own power and considered his ability illimitable. But, after that he became in lack of everything in that event, he comprehended his great mistake, .because he had nothing in his disposal to compensate a part of that great damage

Principally, those companions who, like flies around a candy, come nigh to a person because of his property and wealth whom the person considers as a support for his days of misfortune, will scatter when that bounty vanishes, because their friendship has not formed as a spiritual approach, but it has been based on material support. When it .vanishes, that friendship vanishes, too

.However, it was too late for him to be remorseful

This kind of compulsory vigilance, which appears at the time of befalling some grievous calamities upon a person, even for the Pharaohs, is worthless and, therefore, it is not useful for him, either

Yes, it was at the same time that he stated the phrase: “Would I had not associated with my Lord any one?” by his own tongue. It was the same phrase that his faithful companion had said before, but he said it when he was in safety, and this man said it at the time of misfortune

****

It was at that moment that this fact was proved once again that protection, guardianship and Power belong to Allah, the Lord Who is the Truth Himself. The verse says

,Thereover protection belongs only to Allah “

”... ;the True

Yes, here it was made perfectly clear that all bounties belong to Him, and whatever He wills, it will be done. So, there will be performed nothing save by relying on His grace. Verily, it is only He Who has the best rewards and provides the best end and fate for the obedient. The verse continues saying

”.He is best rewarding, and best for consequence... “

Thus, if a person wants to attach some and to rely on him and to be hopeful to his reward, it is better for him that his support to be Allah, and his attachment and his hope to be unto the grace and kindness of the Lord

But, O’ Man! How do you want to be the best in the world, while you tread the most clear laws of the world of creation; allocate all merits to yourself, and devour the right of others

****

p: ۸۷

Point

Wealth and children are only a transitory adornment of the life of this world and are only a passing show, but good deeds are the Best and lasting assets

٤٥- وَأَضْرِبْ لَهُمْ مَثَلِ الْحَيَاةِ الدُّنْيَا كَمَا آءِ أَنْزَلْنَاهُ مِنَ السَّمَآءِ فَاخْتَلَطَ بِهِ نَبَاتُ الْأَرْضِ فَأَصْبَحَ هَشِيمًا تَذْرُوهُ الرِّيَّاحُ وَكَانَ اللَّهُ عَلَى كُلِّ شَيْءٍ مُقْتَدِرًا

And coin for them the similitude of the life of the world as water which We send “ .٤٥ down from the sky, and the plants of the earth mingle with it, and then becomes dry ”.twigs that the winds scatter; and Allah is omnipotent over everything

Commentary: verse ٤٥

The containing words of this verse are upon the plants and pleasantness of the earth, and, then, the appearance of the Divine Wrath which caused them to be burnt into ashes. This statement has been said in order that it becomes a warning for haughty .people who are neglectful of Allah

Verily, the world is like a rootless plant which grows with a little rain and dries with a .slight wind. In this course, whatever remains, of course, is the man’s righteous deeds

Addressing human beings, in a tradition narrated from Ali-ibn-Abitālib (a.s.), he says: “ O’ he who the world has made busy to ”itself! Beware that the long various wishes of the world have made you proud

Therefore, Allah commands His Messenger in this verse to set forth to the people a parable in order that he attracts their attention from the world to the Hereafter. The
:verse says

And coin for them the similitude of the life of the world as water which We send “ down from the sky, and the plants of the earth mingle with it, and then becomes dry
” ... ;twigs that the winds scatter

The fine scenery of the green plants and their leaves and branches, which grow pleasantly, enamours man to itself and takes him out into the fields in order that he watches the beautiful nature in the spring. But the green plants and flowers of the .spring do not last long

Finally they become pale and dry and winds scatter their dust and straws here and .there. The world is also like that

Then the Qur’ān implies that Allah prevails over all things and no one is able to stand
:against His Power and His Will. It says

”.and Allah is omnipotent over everything... “

A similar meaning to this verse, with some more details, is recited in SuraYūnus, No.
.١٠, verse ٢٤, and Sura Al-Ḥadeed, No.٥٧, verse ٢٠, too

Wealth and children are an ornament of the life of the world, and the everlasting“ .٤٦
” good works are better with your Lord in reward and better in expectation

Commentary: verse ٤٦

In Islamic traditions recorded by both the Sunnite and the Shi‘it, it is narrated from the Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.), and by the Shi‘it again narrated from the Imams of Ahlul-Bayt (a.s.), that the purpose of ‘the everlasting good works’ is the four-hymns, i.e.: “ Glory be to Allah, and praise belongs to Allah, and there is no god save Allah, and Allah is the greatest. ” And, in some other traditions, it is said that the objective meaning of this holy phrase is ‘The five statutory prayers’, while some others denote that it is ‘the night prayer’, while some other traditions indicate that the purpose of it \(is ‘the love of Ahl-ul-Bayt’\).

Therefore, in this holy verse, Allah has defined the position of the wealth and the :power of man, which are two main pillars of the life in this world. The verse says

” ... Wealth and children are an ornament of the life of the world“

These ornaments are as blossoms which appear over the branches of this tree. They are fleeting and do not last long. If they do not take to themselves the colour of eternality by being on the path of Allah,

p: ٩٠

.they are much invalid

In this holy verse, in fact, two parts of the most important capitals of this world have been referred to, the rest of which are some dependants to these two. These two .parts are the economical ability and human ability

:Then, it adds

and the everlasting good works are better with your Lord in reward and better in... “
” .expectation

The concept of the phrase ‘the everlasting good works’ is so vast that it envelops any thought, idea, speech, and deed which is righteous and praiseworthy. And, naturally, this effort remains and its effects and favours reach the members of societies, such as science, industry, good children, the buildings of a mosque, hospital, and school, and also religious and useful publications like: the commentary of the Qur’ān, the .traditions of Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.), and so on

”.’But you thought that We should not appoint a tryst for you

Commentary: verses ٤٧-٤٨

In order that the life of the world would not be loved, the remembrance of the Day of Judgment is necessary. This Day is for every body and there is no exception for any one. The words in the previous holy verses were upon a selfish proud man who, because of his haughtiness and pride, denied Resurrection. Here, following that subject, the Qur’ān explains three stages concerning Hereafter. The first stage is before the resurrection of human beings. The second stage is the Resurrection itself.

And the third stage is related to some events after Resurrection

At first, the holy Qur’ān implies that we should remember the Day when the system of the world of existence, as a preparation for a new system, will be disturbed and the mountains will be set in motion so that all the barriers of the surface of the earth will be removed and the land will be leveled in a shape that every thing can clearly be seen. The verse says

And (remember) the day We shall set the mountains in motion, and you will see the “ ... earth a leveled plain

These current verses of the Qur’ān point to the events which will happen at the threshold of Resurrection. Such events are a lot, and some of them are particularly pointed out in the short suras at the end of the Qur’ān. These events are called as ‘the signs of Hereafter’ /’ašrāṭ us sā‘ah

After that, the verse finally implies that at this time Allah will gather them all, so that even a single person will not be left out. The verse continues saying

” .and We muster them nor shall We leave out any one of them... “

The abovementioned sentence is an emphasis upon this fact that Resurrection is a general commandment and none will be exception from it

****

In the second verse, the Qur’ān refers to the circumstances of the resurrection and humankind. It says

And they shall be presented before your Lord“

”... ,in ranks

This expression may be an indication to the case that every group of people, who have the same belief or similar deeds, will be categorized in one row. Or, all of them, without any difference or privilege, will be set in a single row; like the mass of soldiers in front of the commander-in-chief of the army, where they are wholly seen

However, standing in a row is a sign of order and tidiness. It is the secret of discipline and modesty. In the Qur’ān, for the statement of the qualifications of the strugglers, and also angels, the expression of ‘row and rank’ has been used

Two suras of the Qur’ān are also entitled ‘Aṣ-Ṣaff’ (the Ranks, the Row) and ‘Aṣ-Ṣaffāt’ (the Rangers

In the world, sometimes, the military army are presented to the chiefs in a particular order, while, in Hereafter, all human beings will automatically and regularly be presented to the Lord. There, they will be told

You have come to Us, as We created you upon the first time. But you thought that ‘ ...“
”.’We should not appoint a tryst for you

In Hereafter, there will be for them, no property, nor privileges and material ranks, nor any helpers. They will be in the same state that they were created at first

But, they imagined that Allah would never appoint a time for them. This status was at the time when the pride of material facilities deluded them, and the love of the world, which they imagined to be eternal, caused them to be neglectful of the thought of the Hereafter, which is inside the nature of everybody. But it is certain that the faithful persons, who are seekers of the truth and have enough capacity, will never fall in such ugly epithet when they reach to a social rank or some wealth. They not only will not be proud, but also no change will appear in their daily programs from this point of view

It is narrated from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and Imam Sādiq (a.s.) that in Hereafter there will arrange one hundred and twenty thousand rows. Eighty thousand of them will be the Prophet’s community, from the beginning of his embassy until the end of resurrection, and the former communities will be only forty thousand rows. (Kāfī,

And the Book (of deeds) is placed, and you see the guilty fearful at what is in it, “ ٤٩. and saying: ‘Alas for us! What a Book is this, that it leaves out nothing, small or great, but it has numbered it?’ And they will find all that they did confronting them; and your ”Lord does not treat anyone with injustice

Commentary:verses ٤٩

Point

Imam Sadiq (a.s.) said: “ On the Day of Hereafter, when the man’s record of deeds will be given to him, he looks at it and sees that all his moments, words, movements and deeds are recorded in it; then he remembers them wholly such that as if he has done them just one hour before.”<sup>(١)</sup> Therefore, the holy verse implies that on Hereafter, there is the Book of deeds of all human beings which will be placed before them. When the sinners are informed of its content, they will be so frightened that the signs :of fear will clearly be seen in their faces. The verse says

”... ,And the Book (of deeds) is placed, and you see the guilty fearful at what is in it “

---

Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, vol.٣, p.٢٤٧-١

At this moment, the guilty will astonishingly cry loudly for what they see, and, as the :verse states and saying: ‘Alas for us! What a Book is this, that it leaves out nothing, small or... “ great, but

”...’?it has numbered it

They will say that it is a Book that every thing has been minutely recorded and
.reckoned in it so that nothing has been left out

Verily, what a terrible circumstance it is! They say that they have forgotten all those deeds of theirs in a manner that sometimes they thought they had committed no wrong, but today they see that their responsibility is heavier than what they .considered and their fate is very dark

Besides that recorded document, principally they will see all their deeds present before them. They will find the embodiment of their all good and evil actions, injustices and justices, vices and treacheries, all in all, in front of them. The verse
:continues saying

”... ;And they will find all that they did confronting them... “

In fact, they are entangled with the fruit of their own actions and the Lord is just to every one. Whatever they will be involved in Hereafter is the deeds they have done in this world. Thus, whom can they complain of, save of themselves? The verse :concludes

”.and your Lord does not treat anyone with injustice... “

At the end, it is understood from the verses of the Qur’ān that there will be three kinds of Book for human beings in the Hereafter. The first is a single Book which will be placed there for the reckoning of the deeds of all. The second is the Book that every community has, in which the deeds of every community are recorded, as it is recited
,in Sura Al-Jāthiyah

”... :No.۴۵, verse ۲۸: “ ...every nation shall be called to its book

The third is the Book which exists for every person separately, as Sura Al-’Isrā’, No.۱۷, verse ۱۳ says: “And We have made every man’s actions to cling to his neck, and We ”.will bring forth to him on the Resurrection Day a book which will be found wide open

It is evident that there is no inconsistency between the content of these verses, because it does not matter that the man’s deeds may be recorded in different books. The similar form of it can also be seen in programs of the present world where, for proper systematizing organizations of a country, there will be formed a regulation and calculation for every unit, and then those units will have a new situation in the greater
.units

But, this fact should be noted that the men’s book of deeds in Hereafter is not like the ordinary notebook or book in this world. It is an expressive and undeniable collection,
.which, perhaps, is the natural consequence of the man’s deeds themselves

However, the verses under discussion indicate that, besides the man’s deeds being recorded in a special book, the deeds themselves will also incarnate and attend ;there,\(۱\) as the verse points out: (...And they will find all that they confronting them
.(...

The deeds which have disappeared in the form of scattered energy from the sights in this world, in fact, have not been annihilated. (The modern science has proved that no material

---

Like what is seen in televisions and satellites today. Thus, Allah Who is the creator -۱
.of man is powerful to make present his deeds and show them in Hereafter

(and energy will vanish, but it always changes into another form

On That Day, these energies, which have been lost, will be changed into matter, by the command of Allah, and will incarnate in some suitable shapes. The righteous deeds will appear in some beautiful and interesting forms, while the evil actions will appear in some ugly and hateful features, and they will remain with us. It is for this reason that, at the end of the verse, the Qur'ān says: “ ...and your Lord does not treat anyone with injustice ”, because the rewards and the retributions are the fruit of the
.deeds of themselves

Some of commentators, of course, have considered the holy phrase: “ ... and they will find all that they did confronting them ” as an emphasis on the subject of ‘the Book (of deeds)’. They have said that the meaning of the sentence is that they will find all their own deeds present and recorded in that Book. (Tafsīr-ul-Kabīr, by Fakhr-i-Rāzī, and (Tafsīr-ul-Jāmi‘, by Qurtubī

:However, in the commentary of ‘Ayyāshī, under the holy verse

Alas for us! What a Book is this, that it leaves out nothing, small or great, but it has... “ numbered it?’ And they will find all that they did confronting them; and your Lord does not treat anyone with injustice.” There is a tradition narrated from Khālid-ibn-Najīb who has narrated from Imam Sādiq (a.s.) who said: “ When the Day of Justice occurs, the man’s book will be given to him and he will be ordered to read it.” Khālid says that he asked Imam (a.s.): “Will he recognize what he reads?” Imam (a.s.) answered: “He will remember all. There will be no moment, no glance, no word, no step, and no other actions that he has fulfilled but he will remember entirely by reading that book, in a .manner as if he has performed it at that very moment

Therefore, he will say: ‘Alas for us! What a Book is this, that it leaves out nothing, small or great, but it has numbered it?’ ” (Tafsīr-ul-Burhān, and Aṣ-Ṣāfi. The content (meaning of this tradition has also been narrated by men of tradition and community

:Some Traditions

Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) said: “ ...What will then be your position when your . ۱ affairs reach their end and graves are turned upside down (to throw out the deed)? There shall every soul realize what it has sent before, and they shall be brought back to Allah, their true Lord, and what they did fabricate (the false deities) will vanish (away) from them.” (۱ Ali-ibn-Abī-tālib (a.s.) said: “Did you not see those who engaged in long-reaching . ۲ desires, built strong buildings, amassed much wealth but their houses turned to graves and their collections turned into ruin? Their property devolved on the successors and their spouses on those who came after them. They cannot (now) add to their good acts nor invoke (Allah’s) mercy in respect to evil acts. Therefore, whoever makes his heart habituated to fear Allah achieves a forward position and his (action is successful.” (۲

Nahjul-Balāqah, Sermon ۱۳۲ –۲

Point

The open enemies of Mankind

Mankind warned against following Satan and his tribe who are the open enemies of man and his progeny

۵۰- وَإِذْ قُلْنَا لِلْمَلَائِكَةِ اسْجُدُوا لِآدَمَ فَسَجَدُوا إِلَّا إِبْلِيسَ كَانَ مِنَ الْجِنِّ فَفَسَقَ عَنْ أَمْرِ رَبِّهِ أَفَتَتَّبِعُونَهُ وَذُرِّيَّتَهُ أُولِيَاءَ مِنْ دُونِي وَهُمْ لَكُمْ عَدُوٌّ بِئْسَ لِلظَّالِمِينَ بَدَلًا

And (remember) when We said to the angels: ‘Prostrate to Adam,’ So they (all) “ ۵۰. prostrated except Iblis; he was of the jinn, and he rebelled against his Lord’s command.

Will you then choose him and his seed as your protecting friends instead of Me, when they are enemies to you? Evil would be the exchange for the unjust

Commentary: verse ۵۰

Three definite categories of prostration

Prostration is of three definite categories. The first is the prostration of worship which is only for Allah (s.w.t.), like the prostration in prayer. The second is the prostration of obedience like the prostration of angels to Adam which was for the sake of the obedience of the command of Allah. The third is the prostration of honouring and grandeur, like Jacob’s prostration to Yūsuf

Of course, the story of the creation of Adam and the angels' prostration to him and disobedience of Satan has repeatedly been stated in the different verses of the Qur'an, but, as we have formerly pointed out, these repetitions contain some different points, so that each of which refers to a particular matter

And in view of the fact that in the former explanations, the circumstance of the tyrant haughty rich people before the poor, the oppressed, and their end, had been illustrated, here, in this verse, the words are upon the Satan's disobedience from prostrating to Adam in order that we know the fact that, from very beginning, pride has been the cause of infidelity and insolence

In addition to that subject, this story defines that aberrations usually originate from satanic temptations

:At first, the Qur'an says

And (remember) when We said to the angels: 'Prostrate to Adam,' So they (all) " ... ;prostrated except Iblis

This exception may bring this misconception into being that Iblis was among the kind of angels, while the angels are immaculate, and then how did Iblis pave the path of ?disobedience and infidelity

:That is why, immediately after that, the Qur'an adds

"... he was of the jinn, and he rebelled against his Lord's command... "

Satan was not of the kind of the angles, but because of servitude, submission and proximity to Allah, he was placed in the row of angels, so respectfully that, perhaps, he was even as a teacher of them. But, as a result of haughtiness and pride, he became the most accursed and hatred creature of divine portal. Then, the verse :continues saying

Will you then choose him and his seed as your protecting friends instead of Me, ... “
”... ?when they are enemies to you

They are your harsh enemies who have made an oath to be against you, and have .decided to lead all of you astray and make you miserable

Obeying Satan and his progeny, instead of obeying Allah, is an evil exchange for the :wrong doers. The verse says

”!Evil would be the exchange for the unjust ...“

How a wise person may choose an enemy, who has taken a decision to destroy him
?and has sworn upon this enmity, as his guardian, leader, and support

٥١- مَا أَشْهَدْتَهُمْ خَلْقَ السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ وَلَا خَلْقَ أَنْفُسِهِمْ وَمَا كُنْتُ مُتَّخِذَ الْمُضِلِّينَ عَضُدًا

I did not make them to witness the creation of the heavens and the earth, nor of “ ٥١
”the creation of their selves, nor choose I misleaders for (My) helpers

Commentary: verse ٥١

Allah is absolutely free from any want and He needs no helper even in creation. Then, if He (s.w.t.) refers some affairs to others, like referring the subject of guardianship to the angels, it is not because of powerlessness, but it is because of wisdom, and it is
.alongside the path of teaching and development of humankind

Thus, He announces in this verse that for the creation of the heavens and the earth and the creation of Iblis and his progeny, He did not summon them and He did not .want them to come to help

Therefore, His power is complete and He is not in need of the help of Satans, and :none should obey Satans instead of Allah. The verse says

I did not make them to witness the creation “ ”... ,of the heavens and the earth, nor of the creation of their selves

Never Allah calls Satans, who are the misleaders of human beings, to help Him, nor :does He take them as His assistants. The verse continues saying

”...nor choose I misleaders for (My) helpers... “

It has been narrated that Haḍrat Ali (a.s.) was told that until the settlement of his government he might keep Mu‘āwiyah fix in office and, after becoming powerful, he could dismiss him. Then, in answer to them, he (a.s.) said: “ And I do not choose misleaders for (my) helpers.” (Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaḳalayn, vol.۳, p. ۲۶۸

٥٣- وَرَأَى الْمُؤْمِنَ النَّارَ فَظَنُّوا أَنَّهُمْ مُوَاقِعُوهَا وَلَمْ يَجِدُوا عَنْهَا مَصْرِفًا

And (remember) the Day (of Judgment) when He will say (to the polytheists): ‘Call “ ٥٢ on those whom you considered to be My partners.’ So they shall call on them, but they “ .will not answer them, and We will cause between them a valley of perdition

And the evildoers will see the Fire, then apprehend that they are falling into it, and “ ٥٣ will find no escape

” .from it

Commentary: verses ٥٢-٥٣

Those who separate from Allah will wander and resort to everything. They appeal to men down to matters and animals, from sun and moon in the sky down to cow and calf on the earth, from immaculate angles down to the evil Satans. But whatever the more they call, the less they hear an answer, while if they call Allah (s.w.t.) they will .surely be answered

:Therefore, this verse warns them again, saying

And (remember) the Day (of Judgment) when He will say (to the polytheists): ‘Call on “ those whom you considered to be My partners ... ’ .

You were boasting of them for a lifetime. You used to prostrate before them. Now that the waves of punishment and retribution have surrounded you from every side, you may call on them to help you at least for an hour

It seems that they have still the kind of thoughts of this world in mind, so they call on them, but these imaginary deities do not even respond to their call, much less they haste to help them. Therefore, Allah makes a place of perdition between these two :groups. The verse says

So they shall call on them, but they will not answer them, and We will cause... “
”.between them a valley of perdition

***

:The end of the followers of Satan and polytheists is stated in the verse, as follows

”... ,And the evildoers will see the Fire “

The Fire, which they had never believed, will appear before their eyes. It is in this :condition that they comprehend their mistake in the past. So the verse says

”... ,then apprehend that they are falling into it... “

And they shall also apprehend in certainty that they will find no way of escape from :that blazing Fire. The holy verse continues saying

” .and will find no escape from it... “

Neither do their simulated deities come to help them, nor are the intercession of the intercessors useful for them, nor can they relieve from the grasp of the Fire of Hell, the blazing Fire which their own deeds have lighted by means of telling lies and
.falsehood, and by having recourse to wealth and force in this world

Then, at the end of the verse, the holy Qur’ān implies that the sinners will not have any chance of escape from the punishment in Hereafter, because deliverance is either under the shade of correct belief, or because of the Divine forgiveness based upon repentance and righteous deeds, which are not available for them; or because of intercession which their idols .are not able to obtain. Thus, Hell is certain for them

And indeed We have explained in this Qur’ān every kind of similitude for mankind, “ ۵۴ .
”but man, of most things, is contentious

And naught prevented men from believing when the guidance came unto them, “ ۵۵ . and seeking their Lord’s forgiveness, except that the wont of the ancients should ”come upon them, or that the chastisement should come face to face with them

Commentary: verses ۵۴-۵۵

The Qur’ānic term /ṣarrafnā/, in this verse, means that ‘We have spoken to them in ’different statements and through any style and logic which may affect on them

The Arabic word /jidāl/ means ‘dispute’ in a form of conflict and demand of .preference

Beside the positive qualities the man has, like having a divine spirit, being superior to the angels with their prostration unto him, having the ability of penetration and subjecting the existence to himself, and the like of them, he has also many negative epithets, such as disputation, which have been referred to in the verses of the Qur'ān

Then, in this holy verse: the Qur'ān deduces a kind of conclusion from the last discussions, and it also hints to the coming discussions. At first, it says

”... ,And indeed We have explained in this Qur'ān every kind of similitude for mankind “

These explanations include the shaking history of the old nations and the painful events of their lives, and that what happened before. They were described for the people whether they were sweet or bitter

The affairs were so much detailed that those hearts which were receptive and eager to receive the truth, might grasp the truth, and there remained no room for obscurity

Yet, some rebellious arrogant people never believed, because man, more than anything else, tends to dispute. The verse says

”.but man, of most things, is contentious... “

***

Then, in the next verse, it implies that with these many different examples and through some shaking statements and various logical reasoning, which must absorb any receptive person, again a great group of people did not believe. Of course, nothing restrained them that when the Divine guidance came to them they would believe and seek forgiveness from their Lord, save that they acted obstinately as if they wanted the fate of the ancient to come for them, too, or the divine punishment should come in front of them and they see it by their own eyes. The verse

:says

And naught prevented men from believing when the guidance came unto them, and “ seeking their Lord’s forgiveness, except that the wont of the ancients should come ”.upon them, or that the chastisement should come face to face with them

In fact, the abovementioned verse points to this fact that this arrogant and obstinate group will never believe with their willing and decision. They may believe only in two circumstances. The first is at the time when the painful punishments, which seized the ancient nations, surround them. The second circumstance is that they do see the divine punishment with their own eyes. This constrained faith, of course, will be .worthless

٥٦- وَمَا نُرْسِلُ الْمُرْسَلِينَ إِلَّا مُبَشِّرِينَ وَمُنذِرِينَ وَيُجَادِلُ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا بِالْبَاطِلِ لِيُدْحِضُوا بِهِ الْحَقَّ وَاتَّخَذُوا آيَاتِي وَمَا أُنذِرُوا هُزُوًا

And We do not send the messengers save as bearers of good tidings and “ ٥٦ warners, but those who disbelieve dispute with falsehood in order to refute the Truth thereby; and they have taken My signs, and what they are warned of, in mockery

Commentary: verse ٥٦

The prophets' mission is to give glad tidings to the believers and to warn the disobedient, but with no compulsion upon people to accept the Truth. It is by the prophets (a.s.) that Allah completes the argument to humankind. By the way, awareness of Allah's way of treatment and the prophets' messengership, the reaction of people, and the end of the arrogant nations, is a kind of consolation for the Prophet (p.b.u.h).

Therefore, in order to comfort the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) against the arrogance and obstinacy of the opponents, the Qur'an says that his duty is only to give good tidings and to warn. The verse says

“And We do not send the messengers save as bearers of good tidings and warners “ ...

Then the verse implies that this is not a new matter that such people oppose the Truth and mock it, but disbelievers always dispute with falsehood. They imagine that they can refute the Truth with it and, therefore, they take Allah's revelations and His punishments, which they are promised to, in mockery. The verse says but those who disbelieve dispute with falsehood in order to refute the Truth... “

” .thereby; and they have taken My signs, and what they are warned of, in mockery

In fact, their dispute on the way of proving the falsehood was to force the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to bring some verses and miracles alongside their desires, so that if he did not do as they wished, they would take it as a proof and introduce his Book, the Qur’ān, invalid. Thus, the disbelievers used to apply the Qur’ān, the Resurrection, and
.the Fire of Hell as a means of mockery

And who is more unjust than he who is reminded of the signs of his Lord, then he “ ٥٧ turns away from them and forgets what his hands have forwarded? Verily We have laid veils on their hearts lest they understand it, and a heaviness in their ears: and if you call them unto guidance, even then will they never get guided in that case at all

Commentary: verse ٥٧

Being heedless to the divine revelations, and having no contemplation on them, is the greatest injustice. So, in this holy verse, the Qur’ān says

And who is more unjust than he who is reminded of the signs of his Lord, then he “ ... turns away from them and forgets what his hands have forwarded

The application of the term /ōkkira/ (is reminded) in the verse, perhaps, is an indication to this meaning that the prophets’ teachings are of the remembrance of the facts which have existed naturally in the depths of man’s soul. The mission of prophets is to make these facts manifest. In this regard, Imam Ali-ibn-Abī-tālib (a.s.), qualifying the divine prophets, says: “...Allah sent His prophets toward them people) to get them fulfill the pledges of His creation, to recall to them His bounties.)

(...)” (1)

It is interesting that, in this verse, the Qur’ān teaches the lesson of awareness to these inwardly blind persons in three ways

The first is that these facts are quietly acquainted with their nature and conscience.

The second is that they have come from the side of their Lord

And the third is that they should not forget that they have committed some faults in their lives, and the mission of the divine prophets is to wash them out from them

But these arrogant people, with all these indications and implications, will never believe, because the veil of sin has been laid on their hearts, and the veil of heaviness of crime has been laid on their ears and, therefore, they do not hear the sound of the Truth

Similar to this meaning, Sura Luqmān, No. ۳۱, through verse ۷ says: “And when Our revelations are recited to him, he turns back proudly, as if he had not heard them, ...” In other words, it is like that the veils of lust, imitation from their fathers, and the temptations of Satans and men, have fallen on their hearts and, consequently, they have lost their wisdom so that they never understand and they never regret from their indecent actions and, therefore, never they renounce them. They show that, as a deaf person, they have not heard it. Such people have lost the eligibility of being guided and have plunged in aberration

It is in this case that Allah informs His Messenger (p.b.u.h.) that if he invites them to the guidance and felicity, they will never be guided and they will never believe that this information has been proved. So they finally passed away with infidelity. The verse

p: ۱۱۴

:says

Verily We have laid veils on their hearts lest they understand it, and a heaviness in... “ their ears: and if you call them unto guidance, even then will they never get guided in ”.that case at all

٥٨- وَرَبُّكَ الْغَفُورُ ذُو الرَّحْمَةِ لَوْ يُؤَاخِذُهُمْ بِمَا كَسَبُوا لَعَجَّلَ لَهُمُ الْعَذَابَ بَلْ لَهُمْ مَوْعِدٌ لَنْ يَجِدُوا مِنْ دُونِهِ مَوْئِلًا

٥٩- وَتِلْكَ الْقُرَىٰ أَهْلَكْنَاهُمْ لَمَّا ظَلَمُوا وَجَعَلْنَا لِمَهْلِكِهِمْ مَوْعِدًا

And your Lord is Forgiving, the Lord of Mercy. Were He to seize them (to task) for “ ٥٨ what they earn, surely He would hasten for them the chastisement; but for them is an appointed term, never shall they find, besides it, a refuge ٥٩,And (as for the people of) these towns “

We destroyed them when they did wrong and We appointed a time for their .destruction

Commentary: verses ٥٨-٥٩

The Qur’ānic term /mū’il/ means: ‘a refuge, and a means of safety’. Allah (s.w.t.) is both just and All-Forgiving. His justice requires that the sinners must be punished, but, because of His Forgiveness, He respites man to repent. Then if he does not repent, He .will treat him with His justice

Thus; the manner of Allah (s.w.t.) in training men is that He respites them up to the last stage and, unlike to the arrogant people of the world, He never punishes them promptly, but His All-embracing Mercy always requires that He gives the evil-doers :the maximum respite. In this verse, the Qur’ān says

And your Lord is Forgiving, the Lord of Mercy. Were He to seize them (to task) for “ ... ;what they earn, surely He would hasten for them the chastisement

Allah’s remission necessitates that He forgives the repentant, and His Mercy requires that He does not hasten in the punishment of other than them, maybe they may join the group of repentant ones, while His justice also requires that when their insolence and disobedience :reached its last degree, He might clear their account. The verse continues saying

”but for them is an appointed term, never shall they find, besides it, a refuge... “

Then, finally, in the next verse, for the last admonition and warning in these series of verses, the Qur’ān has pointed to the bitter and painful fate of the former disobedient transgressors. It implies that these are cities the ruins of which are before their eyes, and when they committed cruelty and inequity, Allah destroyed them, while He did not make haste in their punishment but He (s.w.t.) fixed an appointed time for their :destruction. The verse says

And (as for the people of) these towns, We destroyed them when they did wrong “
”and We appointed a time for their destruction

However, the objective meaning of the words ‘these towns’, mentioned in the verse, is the people of the towns of ‘Ād and Thamūd, and the like of them, who were destroyed as the result of their rejecting the prophets and their denying the Divine .revelations

The appellation ‘Moses’ has been repeated in the Qur’ān for ١٣٦ times all of which \(means the same prophet Moses, the possessor of determination /’ulul’azm/.

The application of the word /fatā/ in this verse, which means ‘young’ and ‘gallant’, is used in the sense of ‘lad’ and

The salted fish of Moses escaped into the sea

:The verse says

And (remember) when Moses said to his young companion: ‘I will not cease until I “
” .reach the Junction of the two Seas, though I go on for years

.The Arabic term /ḥuqb/ means years and years, seventy to eighty years

The story of Moses and Khidr (a.s.) has been recorded in commentary books and history sources. For instance, in some Saḥīḥ-i-Bukhārī, it has been narrated from Ibn-‘Abbas, from ‘Ubayy-ibn-Ka‘b that once the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said that one day, when Moses was orating, he was asked by one of the children of Israel that who the most learned person was. Moses (a.s.) said: ‘I am’. Allah addressed Moses saying why he did not say that Allah knows best, and Khidr was more aware than Moses. Moses (a.s.) asked where Khidr was. Then he was addressed that Khidr was in the site of ‘Junction of the Seas’, and its sign and mystery was that he was to take a fish with him in a basket and he would go forth. The place where Moses was to meet Khidr would (be indicated by the fact that the fish would disappear when he got to that place. (2)

:The holy verse says

Then when they reached the Junction, they forgot their fish, and it took its way into “
” .the sea, going away

Moses (a.s.) put the fish in the basket and told his attendant that wherever he did not find the fish in the basket he would inform the matter to Moses. Moses and his attendant started to go forward as far as they reached the sea, where they stayed beside a stone to rest. While Moses (a.s.) was sleeping, his attendant, who was awake, saw that the fish escaped into the sea. The attendant of Moses did not awaken him from his sleep to tell him the matter, and later, when Moses woke up, he forgot to inform him of the matter either, and they both continued their way. After one day and night that they walked, Moses said that they became tired from that travel and told his attendant to bring the food for them to eat. He informed Moses that the fish had become alive and jumped into the sea. Moses (a.s.) said that they had to return to the same place that the fish had jumped .into the water because their meeting-place was there Imam Bāqir (a.s.) and Imam Sādiq (a.s) both said: “The attendant of Moses brought the salted fish by the sea to wash it. The fish moved in his hand and escaped into the (sea.” (Nur-uth-Thaqalayn, the Commentary

Some commentators have rendered the ‘Junction of the Seas’ into the meeting of the two seas of prophethood, (Moses and Khiḍr). Moses, they believe, was the outward sea of knowledge, and Khiḍr was the inward sea of knowledge. In view of the fact that prophets have been inerrant and do not forget, the purpose of ‘forgetting the fish’, mentioned in the verse, is that they put the fish aside and left it. It is like the verses which attribute forgetfulness to Allah. For example, Sura Al-Jāthiyah, No.٤٥, verse ٣٤ says: “ ...Today We forsake you ...”, and Sura As-Sijdah, No.٣٢, verse ١٤ says: “ ...surely We forsake you ...”. Moreover, those two did not absolutely forget the fish but they had taken it with themselves, and as it was said in the above, the attendant of Moses did not want to awaken Moses and waited. Then, after his wakefulness, he forgot to tell him the event, too

The Qur'ān has repeatedly pointed to the animals as a sign, and an inspiring factor, or an informer, such as the inspiration that the crow led how Abel to be buried, the hoopoe informed of the infidelity of he people of Sheba, the event of the fish in the explanation of the meeting of these two prophets, the function of spider in the protection of the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in the Cave, and the function of the dog for 'the Companions of the Cave

Commentary: verses ٦٢-٦٣

./’In Arabic, the morning meal is called /qaḍā’, and the evening meal is called /’išā

When Moses (a.s.) and his attendant passed on that place, the length of their travel and the fatigue of the way caused hunger to overcome them. Moses (a.s.) remembered that they had got a food with them

Then he told his attendant to bring their food because they had got tired from their travel. The verse says

Then when they had passed (the seaside), Moses said unto his young companion: “ ‘Bring us our morning meal. Indeed we have met from this our journey weariness

At this time, the attendant of Moses (a.s.) told him whether he remembered the time when they took refuge on the rock to rest there. In that place he forgot to inform him the event of the fish, and it was Satan that made him forget to mention it, and that the :fish jumped into the sea and went away. The verse says

He said: ‘Did you see, when we took refuge on the rock? Then verily I forgot (to tell “

Commentary: verses ٦٤-٦٥

Moses went to Khidr to learn more things

In view of the fact that the subject was as a sign for Moses (a.s.) in connection with
:finding that great-learned man, Moses said

He (Moses) said: ‘ That was what we were seeking for!’ So they returned, retracing “
” .their footsteps

When Moses and his attendant returned to the first place they had started their way, i.e. beside the rock and near ‘the Junction of the Seas’, suddenly they found one of Allah’s servants to whom He had bestowed His mercy and whom He had taught a .considerable amount of knowledge

:The verse says

Then they found one of Our servants unto whom We had given mercy from Us, and “
” .We had taught him knowledge from Our presence

The application of the word /wajadā/, in the verse, shows that they had been seeking
 .after the knowledgeable man, and finally they found him

And the Qur'ānic phrase /‘abdan min ‘ibādinā/ (one of Our servants) indicates that the highest honour of a man is that he would be a true servant of Allah, and this very rank of servitude causes man to be bestowed the mercy of the Lord and the windows of .(the science to be opened to his heart, (mind

Again the Qur'ānic phrase /min ladunnā ‘ilmā/ (We had taught him knowledge from Our presence) also denotes that the knowledge of that learned man (Khiḍr) was not an ordinary knowledge, but he was aware of a part of the secrets of this world and of .the mysteries of the events which only Allah knows

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) said: “Moses was more learned than Khiḍr in religious prudence, but Khiḍr was more aware of a branch and a mission other than that.” (The Commentary (Al-Mizān

However the objective meaning of /‘abd/ (servant), in this verse, is Khiḍr (a.s.) who :was a prophet reasoned by the following evidences

.He who becomes the teacher of a prophet, like Moses (a.s.), is surely a prophet .۱

Some Arabic terms, such as: /‘abdinā/ (our servant), /‘abdahū/ (His servant), and .۲ /‘ibādanā/ (Our servants), mentioned in the Qur’ān, have often been used for divine .prophets Khiḍr told Moses that all extra-ordinary actions that he saw from him and did not .۳ have patience with him were done by the command of Allah and he did not do any (thing of his own accord. Khiḍr (a.s.) said: “ ...I did it not of my own accord ...” (۱

Moses promised Khidr that he would not do anything other than he taught him, and .۴
the person whom an 'Ulul-'azm prophet absolutely obeys, is certainly inerrant and is Moses said to him (Khiḍr): ‘Shall I follow you so that you teach me right conduct of “ ٦٦

٦٧. ‘He said: ‘Verily you will not be able to bear with me patiently “

Commentary: verses ٦٦-٦٧

The holy Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) said: “At the time when Moses met Khiḍr, in front of them a bird took a drop of water from the sea by its beak and poured it on the ground. Khiḍr asked Moses whether he knew the secret of the deed of that bird. It teaches us that our knowledge comparing with Allah’s knowledge is like a drop before
” .an infinite sea

Moses said to (Khiḍr) whether he might follow him so that he would teach Moses a knowledge which causes him to grow. (١) (Conversance of metaphysical theology

Bare knowledge is not the aim. It must be the source of growth and absorbs man to

.Growth here is the religious knowledge which guides man toward the Truth -١

After his prayers, invoking Allah (s.w.t.), the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) used to recite: “ I take refuge with you from the knowledge which is of no benefit.” (Bihār-ul-’Anwār, (vol. ۸۶, p. ۱۸

In answer to Moses, the knowledgeable man (Khiḍr) said there was no ability in Moses to be patient with him in following him and bearing his teachings. Therefore, bearing .(patience was hard for Moses (a.s

”?knowledge

He (Moses) said: ‘Allah willing, you shall find me patient, and I shall not disobey “ ٦٩

Commentary: verses ٦٨-٦٩

Khidr continued answering Moses when he told him how he would be patient upon an action that seemed apparently wrong to him, and while he was not aware of its innate .and its reality

:The verse says

And how can you be patient about what you have not got any comprehensive “
”?knowledge

It is understood from this holy phrase that the purpose is not to prove that Moses (a.s.) was absolutely impatient. But the purpose is that since Moses was unaware of .the innate of the affairs that Khidr did, he could not be patient

Thus, this holy verse indicates that the capacity of persons, concerning information, is different. Even Moses (a.s.) cannot bear the things Khidr does. Therefore, in giving the cultural responsibilities to individuals, competencies should be known and .weaknesses must be notified of

****

Then, in the next verse, Moses (a.s.), in answer to Khidr (a.s.), said that he would find him truly patient if it be the will

:of Allah, and he should not disobey him in any thing. The verse says

He (Moses) said: ‘Allah willing, you shall find me patient, and I shall not disobey you in “
” ,’any matter

Thus, it is possible that, with the help of Allah and by means of patience, the necessary growth and development can be obtained, and also we must not forget the will of Allah for what we are going to do in future, and we should say: ‘If it be the will of
.?Allah

However, some of the commentators have said that the effort of Moses (a.s.) for earning knowledge shows that no one should refrain from earning knowledge even if he were a prophet and had reached the high standard of knowledge. Another matter is that no one must refrain from humility before the one who is more learned than
.him

Moses (a.s.) conditioned his patience to the Will of Allah, because he thought he might bear patience and in the meantime he did probable he could not be patient. Therefore, he conditioned his patience to the Will of Allah, so that if he had not been .able to be patient, he would not have said a falsehood

Commentary: verse ٧٠

In view of the fact that patience upon the apparently indecent events, which a person is not aware of their secrets, is not so easy to bear, once more that the learned man (Khidr) made Moses undertake his promise. He warned him that if he wished to follow him, he had to be absolutely silent and would not ask him concerning any thing until, :on its time, Khidr might tell him about it. The verse says

He (Khidr) said: ‘If you follow me. Then do not question me of any thing until I myself “

Commentary: verses ۷۱–۷۲

The Arabic term /xaraq/ is used here, in this holy verse, with the meaning of ‘tearing
, something mischievously and without consideration

The Qur’ānic word /’imr/ is applied for ‘an important and strange work, or a very ,’indecent one

Both of them (Moses and the godly learned man) proceeded and went on their way until when they embarked on a ship. Khiḍr made a hole in the ship. Since, on one side, Moses was a great prophet of Allah and he had to protect the lives and properties of people, and he had to enjoin right and forbid wrong; and on the other side, his conscious did not let him keep silence for such a wrong action, therefore, he neglected the promise he had with Khidr (a.s.) and protested him. The verse says

Commentary: verses ٧٣-٧٤

The Arabic term /’irhāq/ from the root /rahiqa/ means both ‘to encompass forcefully’,
.’and ‘to impose a difficult task on any one

Moses (a.s.), who regretted for his haste, which was naturally for the importance of the event, remembered his promise and tried to excuse. He turned to the godly

.’He said: ‘Do not take me to task that I forgot, and be not hard upon me for my affair “

The voyage of those two (Moses and Khidr) ended and they got out of the ship. They

.So they twain departed; until, when they met a lad, he (Khidr) slew him “

.Here, Moses (a.s.) became inconvenient again

He saw the horrible scene of killing an innocent young boy, which had no legal permission. As if a curtain of sorrow and discontentment had fallen upon his eyes. It was so hard for him that he forgot his promise again and began protesting against that action. The verse says

Commentary: verses ٧٥-٧٦

That great godly learned man repeated the former sentence with the same coolness particular to himself. The holy verse says

”?He (Khidr) said: ‘Did I not say that you could never bear with me patiently “

Moses (a.s.) remembered his own promise to him. It was an attention accompanied with shame, because he had broken his promise twice, although forgetfully. Little by little, Moses (a.s.) felt the teacher might be right. Therefore, he began asking forgiveness again and told Khidr to renounce him his forgetfulness that time, too. But if thereafter he (Moses) wanted him (Khidr) any explanation concerning his affairs, and objected to him upon his deeds, he would keep him company no more, since Khidr :had received an excuse from Moses (a.s.). The verse says

He (Moses) said: ‘If I question you on anything after this, then keep me company no “
” .?more; you have received an excuse from me

This holy phrase of the Qur’ān leads us to the utmost justice and far-sightedness of .Moses (a.s.), and it also shows that he accepted the reality even if it had been bitter

An Islamic tradition indicates that the holy Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) recited this verse and said that Moses, the prophet of Allah, ashamed. If he had waited and bore patience, he would have seen thousand wonderful actions from Khidr. (Tafsīr-i-

He (Khidr) said: ‘This is the separation between me and you. Now I will inform you “ .٧٨ ’:of the interpretation of what you could not bear patiently

Commentary: verses ٧٧-٧٨

Allah’s saints are not malicious and revengeful

Khidr (a.s.) served the people of the town, although they did not make the twain :guests. The verse says

So they twain departed; until, when they reached the people of a town. They asked “ ”... its people for food, but they refused to make them guests

The objective meaning of the Arabic term /qaryah/ here is Nāsirriyah, a city, or ’Īlah, a .harbour

However, what happened upon Moses and his Teacher in that town leads us to comprehend that the people of it were niggardly and of inferior quality. The holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in a tradition concerning ” .them said: “They had been some mean and of low quality

Then, the Qur’ān continues speaking about the twain who mended a wall there in :order not to fall. The verse says

”... .Then they found in it a wall about to fall, and he (Khiḍr) set it up... “

When Moses (a.s.) saw that, in spite of the disgrace of those people, Khiḍr mended the wall that was going to fall, as if Khiḍr wanted to give the recompense of their disgrace to them, Moses thought it had better the teacher did that work for a wage so that they could provide a food by it. Then Moses utterly forgot his promise once more, and began objecting to it, but this time with a protest milder than before. The verse, in this :regard, says

”!He (Moses) said: ‘If you had wished you could have taken a wage for it... “

In fact, Moses (a.s.) thought that the action of Khiḍr was far from justice that a person
 .might sacrifice like that for a group of people who were so mean

****

It was at that time that the learned man said his last word to Moses, since, from the total events which happened, he was convinced that Moses could not patiently bear
 .the deeds he accomplished

:Therefore, he announced their separation. The verse says

He (Khiḍr) said: ‘This is the separation between me and you. Now I will inform you of “ ” .’the interpretation of what you could not bear patiently

The announcement of that separation seemed as a sledge stricken over the heart of Moses (a.s.) – a separation from a teacher who had with him a great amount of secrets! Yes, it was very painful for Moses to separate from such a leader, but it was a .bitter reality that Moses had to tolerate

As for the ship, it belonged to (some) poor people working on the sea, and I “ .٧٩ intended to damage it, for there was after them a king who seized every (safe) ship
” .by force

Commentary: verse ٧٩

The Arabic term /warāʾ/, used here, is called to any hidden or concealed place whether
.that place is located in front of a person or behind him

What a person sees, is the apparent feature of the affairs while there may be some hidden features for them, too. The apparent view of Khidr’s affairs seemed wrong to
.Moses (a.s.), but there was a secret, mystery and reality hidden in those affairs

:The verse says

As for the ship, it belonged to (some) poor people working on the sea, and I intended “
” .to damage it, for there was after them a king who seized every (safe) ship by force

Of course, Khidr did not make a hole in the ship in a way that water could arrive in it and caused it to be drowned, but he made it only defective. There are sometimes so many defects and faults wherein lie some common good. Khidr (a.s.) made the ship damaged in order that it could not be taken by that oppressive king and its miserable owners would not become more miserable. In fact, he repelled a worse state by a bad

one. This work is not the job of everyone, and the recognition of the difference between an important thing in religion and a more important one is the job of the .expert theologians

Ahlul-Bayt, (the Prophet's progeny) (p.b.u.t.), sometimes reprimanded some of their sincere friends in front of others in order that they might not be suspicioned by the tyrannical government of the time, and their lives could be saved. For instance, Imam Sadiq (a.s.) once openly criticized Zurārah, so that he would remain safe from the trouble of the Abbassides. After that, he (a.s.) sent a message for him saying that he did such to protect his life, and then the Imam (a.s.) recited the abovementioned verse, and said that Zurārah was the best ship of that sea whom the illegitimate ruler (was seeking for and watching after. (Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thqalayn

Only those can enter the world of mysteries, and may be aware of the innate of the things, who have passed the stage of the apparent of the things; like Moses who knew the laws of the religion and practised accordingly, but by accompanying Khiḍr in .a course, he learned the innate secrets, too

And as for the lad, his parents were believers, and we were afraid he would “ ٨٠
” .impose on them insolence and disbelief

So we did intend that their Lord should change him for them for one better in “ ٨١
” .purity and nearer in affection

Commentary: verses ٨٠-٨١

Point

In this verse, the Qur’ān refers to the secret of the second event, i.e., the murder of :the lad. It says

And as for the lad, his parents were believers, and we were afraid he would impose “
” .on them insolence and disbelief

However, that learned man killed a young boy and reasoned his action that if that boy had been continuing his life, he would have created a disgrace event for his faithful
.parents

:Then the Qur’ān continues saying

So we did intend that their Lord should change him for them for one better in purity “
” .and nearer in affection

:Explanations

١. The Arabic term ’irhāq means: ‘to impose a difficult task to anyone .’

٢. An Islamic tradition indicates that, instead of that boy, Allah bestowed those couple of believers a daughter from (whose progeny seventy prophets came into being. (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

Sometimes it happens that a child causes his parents to go astray and to pave the way of infidelity. On the contrary, sometimes the parents also drag the pure and godly nature of their child towards infidelity and deviated notions

The holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “ Every child naturally believes in One God, except that (his parents change him.” (Biḥār-ul-’anwār, vol.۳, p.۲۸۲

A wise man does not do a vain, and his deed is based on wisdom and common good, although it may seem apparently wrong

.The saints of Allah both have responsibility and think about the future of people

The substitution of the pious child in the place of that impious boy, is a manifestation of the Lordship of Allah

And as for the wall, it belonged to two orphan boys in the city, and beneath it “ ٨٢ there was a treasure belonging to them, and their father was a righteous man, so your Lord willed that they should attain their maturity and take out their treasure as a mercy from your Lord, and I did not do it of my own accord. This is the interpretation ” .of what you could not bear patiently

Commentary: verse ٨٢

Point

In this holy verse the learned man (Khidr) uncovers the secret of his third action, i.e., :mending the wall, and said as follows

And as for the wall, it belonged to two orphan boys in the city, and beneath it there “ was a treasure belonging to them, and their father was a righteous man, so your Lord willed that they should attain their maturity and take out their treasure as a mercy ” ... ,from your Lord

That is, Khidr was commissioned to mend that wall for the righteousness of the parents of these two orphan boys, otherwise it might fall and, appearing its treasure, .it might be exposed to danger

p: ١٤٥

At the end of the verse, in order to remove any doubt from Moses (a.s.), and that he assuredly knew that all those deeds were fulfilled upon a special plan and commandment, Khidr added that he did not perform them of his own accord, but it was the command of Allah that he followed. Yes, this was the mystery of the affairs that Moses (a.s.) could not bear patiently. The :verse continues saying and I did not do it of my own accord. This is the interpretation of what you could... “ ” .not bear patiently

:The Story of Moses and Khidr and Its Facts

Finding a learned leader and taking benefits from his knowledge is of so importance .1 that even a great prophet such as Moses paves a long way to find him. This is an example for all human beings in whatever condition and standard of knowledge and .age they may be

The essence of the divine knowledge (the metaphysical theology) can be obtain .2 .from the servitude and submission to Allah

Knowledge should ever be learnt for practice, as Moses says to his learned teacher .3 that he teaches him a knowledge that leads him to the aim, the right conduct. He means that he does not want the knowledge only for itself, but he wants it to use as a .means to reach the aim

We must not haste in some affairs because there are some things which need an .4 .appropriate opportunity

:The Apparent and the Innate Features of Affairs .5

This is another important matter that this story teaches us. We ought not make haste in judging about the unpleasant happenings which come forth in our lives. There are many events in our lives that we are not pleased with them, but later we .understand that they have been from the secret divine favours

.This is the same thing which the Qur'ān points out in Sura Al-Baqarah, No.۲, verse ۱۲۲

:Confessing the Reality .۶

When Moses (a.s.) unwillingly broke his promise against his learned friend (Khidr) for three times, he did not persist on this bitter reality and gave justly the right to that learned man. Moses (a.s.) kindly separated from him and continued his own affairs

A person should not be always busy experimenting himself until his life-time ends, and must not turn his living into a laboratory for the future, which will never come. After he examined a matter for several times, he must usually accept its result

:The Results of the Parents' Faith for their Children .۷

Khidr, for the sake of a righteous father, undertook the support of his children in that part that he could. That is, under the light of the faith and trust of the father, a child can become prosperous, and its good consequence reaches his offspring, too

:Lifetime Shortens because of Hurting the Parents .۸

Where a child, for the sake that he may hurt his parents in future with his disobedience and ingratitude, or causes them to come out of the way of Allah, deserves death, how is the state of a child who is busy committing this sin now? What is the circumstance of such persons before Allah

:People May Become Enemy because of What They Do not Know .۹

Many times it happens that a person do good upon us but, since we are not aware of the innate of the affairs, we consider it enmity, and sometimes we may become disturbed in mind and impatient, concerning what we do not know. But, the abovementioned story teaches us that we should not haste in judgment. We must verify every matter from different points of view

:The Courtesy of a Student before a Teacher .۱۰

In conversation between Moses and that learned man (Khidr) some interesting points around the courtesy of a student before his teacher attract the attention; among them are

A. Moses (a.s.) introduced himself as a follower of Khidr (a.s.) when he said: “Shall I (follow you ...?” (Verse ۶۶

B. In the rank of humility, Moses (a.s.) announced that the knowledge of Khidr was abundant, and he said that he desired to learn a part of his knowledge. Moses said: “ ”?... So that you teach me right conduct of what you have been taught

The holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in a tradition said: “ That treasure was the wise words .۱۱ which were written on a golden tablet. Its content was: ‘It is surprising why a person who believes in Allah’s decree becomes grievous’. ‘It is amazing why a person who is sure of the death, is happy; who is certain of Reckoning, is neglectful; who is certain of sustenance, troubles himself more than the common; and who is assured of the (change of the world but he trusts in it’. ” (Majma‘-ul-Bayān

According to the Islamic literature, the grace of Allah is not limited to the direct .۱۲ children of a person, but it affects on the later generations, too; so that the righteousness of ancestors causes Allah to have favour upon their progenies. (The (Commentary of Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

Imam Şadiq (a.s.) said: “ Allah revealed Moses (that) He rewards Children for the .۱۳ righteousness of fathers. ” Then, he (a.s.) added: “ If you are treacherous to the honour

(of people, others will be treacherous to your honour, too.” (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

In one occasion, in the story, the child is slain for the protection of the Faith of the .۱۴ parents, and in another one, a prophet works, as a labourer, for the sake of a
.righteous father, in order that the capital under the wall reaches the child

When some people protested Imam Hassan (a.s.) for making peace with . ۱۵ Mu‘āwiyah, he (a.s.) said: “Do you not know that Khiḍr made a hole in the ship, and killed a lad and his actions caused the anger of Moses? O people! If I did not accept (peace, all the Shi‘ite on the earth would be vanished.” (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

By the way, in Arabic, the terms /qaryah/ and /madīnah/ have been used with the same meaning but, as one of the scholars said, if we work with the Qur’ān we will see that ‘Madīnah’ is used wherein the light of guidance is found, and wherever the light
./of guidance is not found it is called /qaryah

Zulqarnayn's March – The Barrier raised by Zulqarnayn against the mischief of the .Ya'jooj and the Ma'jooj

۸۳- وَيَسْأَلُونَكَ عَنِ الْقَرْنَيْنِ قُلْ سَأَتْلُوا عَلَيْكُمْ مِنْهُ ذِكْرًا

And they ask you about Zulqarnayn. Say: 'I will recite unto you a remembrance of " ۸۳
". 'him

Commentary: verse ۸۳

The Arabic term /qarn/ has two meanings: 'a long time' and 'the animal horn'. Zulqarnayn was called by this appellation because: either he ruled for a very long time, or two handles of his hair were braided like two horns on his head, or there were two horns on his hat

The objective meaning of the term /qarnayn/ may also be the east and the west of the world, (as the Arabs often say 'qarnī-ash-Shams' which means 'two horns of the sun' intending the east and the west of the world). Then, since he had occupied the lands of the east and the west of the world of his time, he was called 'Zul-qarnayn

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said: " Zul-qarnayn was not a prophet, but he was a righteous man whom Allah loved. He enjoined his people to piety. It happened that people knocked on one side of his head. After that, he disappeared for a length of time. Then he returned and repeated his invitation again. People struck another knock on the other side of his head. Therefore, because of those two knocks, he had been known as Zul-qarnayn.” (Nūr-uth-Thqalayn, the commentary, and Kamāl-ud-Dīn-i-Şadūq

Regarding the statements of two Greek historians, and some points from the Turah (Book of Isaiah, Chapter ٤٤, No.١١ and so on), and the discovery of the statue of Cyrus in the nineteenth century A.D. which had a crown with two horns on its head, Tafsīr-i-Nemūnah adapts Zul-qarnayn with Cyrus. But, the late Sha‘rānī has said that Zul-qarnayn and Eskandar Maqdūnī had been the same, and he had been the student of Aristotle from the time when he was thirteen years old. The author of Al-mīzān .believes that he was Cyrus

However, it is not definitely known that how long Zul-qarnayn ruled, what his real name was, how long he lived, whether he was a human or an angel, a prophet or a righteous servant, whether he was Alexander or Cyrus, why his name was Zul-qarnayn, how much possibilities and forces he had, what part of the land he ruled, how long was the length and the width of the dam he built, what age it was, whether this dam is the Wall in China or not. Concerning these ideas, opinions are divided, and there have been cited many statements and discussions upon these matters which are not of avail to be mentioned here. The aim should be looked for, not the :insignificant matters which produce no guidance. Therefore, this verse says

” .’him

The beginning phrase of this verse shows that the story of Zul-qarnayn had been being discussed among people before they came to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and asked their .differences and ambiguities from him

٨٤- إِنْآ مَكَّنآ لَهُ فِى الْاَرْضِ وَاَتَيْنَاهُ مِنْ كُلِّ شَيْءٍ سَبِيًا

٨٥- فَاتَّبَعَ سَبِيًا

Verily We did make him mighty in the earth, and We granted him the means (of “ ٨٤ .access) to every thing

” .So he followed a course “ ٨٥ .

Commentary: verses ٨٤-٨٥

Zul-qarnayn was not a prophet but Allah loved him

Ali-ibn-Abiṭālib (a.s.) taught a young man from Balkh a supplication, the Mashlūl Supplication, wherein he says: “O He Who helped Zul-qarnayn against the tyrannical kings (to overcome them Again, a tradition from him (a.s.) denotes that Zul-qarnayn is the one who has the sign of kingdom and prophecy, and who is aware of every thing so that he recognizes the right from wrong; and Allah caused the cities and hearts to be submitted to him. (The Commentary of Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn Zul-qarnayn and Solaymān (Solomon) were two believers who governed the earth, and Nebuchadnezzar (Bukht-un-Naṣr) and Namrood were two disbelievers who (governed the earth, too. (The Commentary of Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

The power which Allah (s.w.t.) gives to His saints, (such as Solayman, Yusuf, and some believers) is for using it in Allah’s way. Concerning the good servants of Allah, the Qur’ān says: “(They are) those who if We establish them in the land, keep up prayer and pay the poor-rate and enjoin right and forbid wrong ...” (Sura Al-Hajj, No.٢٢, verse ٤١). The holy Qur’ān also criticizes those who use their power alongside the way of evil, where it says: “Have they not considered how many a generation We destroyed before them, whom We had established in the earth ...?” They used to misuse their power and government. (Sura Al-’An‘ām, No. ٦, (verse ٦

:The verse itself says

Verily We did make him mighty in the earth, and We granted him the means (of “ .access) to every thing

****

Upon the commentary of the second verse mentioned in the above, it has been cited that Allah gave Zul-qarnayn both power and government in the earth, and he tried to improve the earth. It has been narrated from Haḍrat Ali (a.s.) who said: “Allah made clouds timid for him in a manner that he could ride on it; and He granted him the means of everything; and He made everywhere bright for him so that the night and the day became the same for him. This is the meaning of making him mighty in the (earth.”(1

Thus, the verse means that Allah also gave him a knowledge to perform any affair by means of its course in order to obtain his aim. And, he followed the courses that Allah had taught him to reach the aim, including that he took the way of West to pave. The :verse says

”.So he followed a course “

٨٦- حَتَّىٰ إِذَا بَلَغَ مَغْرِبَ الشَّمْسِ وَجَدَهَا تَغْرُبُ فِي عَيْنٍ حَمِئَةٍ وَوَجَدَ عِنْدَهَا قَوْمًا قُلْنَا يَا ذَا الْقُرْنَيْنِ إِنَّمَا أَنْتَ تُعَذِّبُ وَإِنَّمَا أَنْتَ تُتَّخَذُ فِيهِمْ حُسْنًا

Until when he reached the setting-place of the sun, he found it setting in a muddy “ ٨٦ spring and he found by it a people. We said: ‘O’ Zul-qarnayn! Either you chastise them ” ?or you take a way of kindness among them

Commentary: verse ٨٦

In this holy verse, the Qur’ān implies that Zul-qarnayn went on his journey as far as the end of the habitable places where there was not any more flourished land after that. This does not mean that he reached the site of setting the sun, because none reaches there. In that place, he felt that the sun was setting in a muddy and dark spring, although, in fact, it was hiding behind that spring, since the sun does not set in water, it is in the sky. If a person is in the seashore or on the sea when the sun is setting, he feels that the sun is setting in the water of the sea, but neither of them is .true

The purpose of the Arabic phrase /‘aynin ḥami’ah/ is ‘a muddy spring’ while the purpose of the Qur’ānic phrase /‘aynin hāmiyah/ is ‘a spring of hot water’. However, .’the Qur’ānic term /hami’ah/ is used for ‘some bad smelling mud’ and ‘Some hot mud

Ka‘b has said that he recited in the Turah that the sun was setting in the mud and .water

:The verse says

Until when he reached the setting-place of the sun, he found it setting in a muddy “ spring and he found by it a people. We said: ‘O’ Zul-qarnayn! Either you chastise them
” ?or you take a way of kindness among them

This part of the holy verse indicates that the people whom Zul-qarnayn saw by that spring were heathens, therefore the Lord orders him to kill them, or to take them
.captives and train them

” his Lord and He will chastise him with a grievous chastisement

But as for him who believes and does righteousness, for him shall be a goodly “ ٨٨
” reward, and we will assign easiness for him by our command

Commentary: verses ٨٧-٨٨

The duty of a godly leader and governor is execution of justice, and struggling against injustice, and making the social regulations easy. That was why Zul-qarnayn warned
:people in such a manner that the verse says

He said: ‘As for him who is unjust we will chastise him, then he shall be returned to “
” his Lord and He will chastise him with a grievous chastisement

Such cruel and tyrannical people taste both the punishment of this world and the .chastisement of the next world

***

The person who believes and does righteous deeds, will be given a good reward. He will be faced with kindness and pleasant words, then his duties will not be hard and
.heavy, and he will not be forced to give heavy taxes

It seems that the purpose of Zul-qarnayn from this statement is a hint to this meaning that people, regarding his invitation to Unity and Faith, which is standing against injustice and corruption, will be divided into two groups. Those who accept that godly and constructive program will surely be rewarded a good recompense, and will live in .a state of security and ease

But, those who reject that invitation with enmity, and continue their faithlessness, :injustice, and corruption, will be punished. The verse says

But as for him who believes and does righteousness, for him shall be a goodly “
”.reward, and we will assign easiness for him by our command

However, the Qur’ānic term /man ḡalama/ (he who is unjust), which has occurred in contrast with the holy phrase /man ’āmana wa ‘amila ṡāliḡan/ (he who believes and does righteousness), indicates that the word /ḡulm/ in this verse means ‘infidelity’ and also means ‘impious deed’, which is amongst the bitter fruits of the evil tree of .’disbelief

Commentary: verses ٨٩-٩١

After his journey to the West and establishing a just religious system there among the inhabitants of the seaside, Zul-qarnayn made a journey toward the East, too. The holy
:verse says

"Then he followed (another) course "

****

Zul-qarnayn continued his journey until when he reached the last flourishing point of that land, where there was no mountain, no tree, and no building. When the sun rose there, the existing people of that place did refuge into depths of water and places of refuge, and when the sun set, they came out and began working. The purpose of the sentence saying 'they had not any canopy save the sun', is that they lived with passing their lives primitively and without facilities. As Imam Baqir a.s.) and Imam Ṣadiq (a.s.) said, they did not know how to build a house, nor did they how to sew. The sun was shining upon them directly and without any barrier, in a (manner that their faces had become black. (Commentary of Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

:The verse says

Until when he reached the rising-place of the sun, he found it rising upon a people “
.for whom We had appointed no shelter therefrom

****

Yes, it was such the affair of Zul-qarnayn, and Allah was well aware of the means he had for the progression of his aims, and the forces, the arms and the troops Zul-qarnayn possessed. The verse says

”.So (it was), and We encompassed in knowledge whatever was with him “

In other words, Allah (s.w.t.) was aware of the works of Zul-qarnayn, and, before he could do anything and reach any place, Allah knew his fate and taught him and lead him what to do. Thus, Allah admires the actions of Zul-qarnayn and He shows that He .is pleased with his deeds

٩٢. "Then he followed (another) course "

٩٣. " Until when he reached between the two barriers (of mountains) he found on the hither side of the two (mountains) a people scarcely able to understand a saying

Commentary: verses ٩٢-٩٣

Point

The leader of people should inspect every place and be aware of the circumstances of the affairs of those people under his leadership

The needs and the facts will not be recognized for a person unless there is struggle and research

And, fundamentally, serving the deprived is a value with Allah, whether they are civilized or not

In this verse, the Qur'ān points to another journey of the journeys of Zul-qarnayn and implies that after that event, he utilized the important mean he had in his possession.

:The verse says

٩٢. "Then he followed (another) course "

****

Zul-qarnayn found people who knew no language

Zul-qarnayn continued his way until he reached between two mountains. In that place he found a group of people who were different from those formerly couple of groups.

These

:very people could not speak and understand any word. The verse says Until when he reached between the two barriers (of mountains) he found on the “ ” .hither side of the two (mountains) a people scarcely able to understand a saying

This meaning denotes that he reached a hilly region where he met a group of people who were in a very low level from the point of civilization, because one of the clearest
.signs of civilization is language

Commentary: verse ٩٤

Some points about Gog and Magog

The Arabic word /xirāj/ means ‘ the thing which come out of the earth’, and /xarj/ is .’applied for ‘what comes out of the wealth

The commentators and historians, attaching to the existing relationships, say that the (objective meaning of Gog and Magog is the very tribes of Mogul and TāTār (Tatary

An Islamic tradition, narrated from Amir-ul-Mu’Mineen Ali (a.s.), denotes that he said Zul-qarnayn found a people who told him: “The Gog and Magog tribe are behind this mountain. They attack at the season of harvest and plunder all the corns and fruits or destroy them. Shall we assign a yearly tribute in order that you might erect a barrier?
” (Tafsir-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

This communication of theirs with Zul-qarnayn might be done through some signs, nods, winks or any other mute sign, because, at least, they did not understand the .language of Zul-qarnayn

So they (Gog and Magog) were not able to scale it “ ٩٧.

” nor could they make a hole in it

Commentary: verses ٩٥-٩٧

The Arabic word /radm/ is used for ‘closing a gap’; the term /ṣadaf/ means: ‘side, edge’; the molten copper in Arabic is called /qitr/; and the Qur’ānic term /zubur/ means: ‘some large pieces of iron’.

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) in a tradition said: “Precautionary dissimulation can be a barrier between you and your (opponents which is not climbable, or penetrable.” (Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

:But, in answer to them, Zul-qarnayn said such like

He said: “(the power) in which my Lord has established me is better (than your “tribute), so help me with strength (of men). I will make a barrier between you and
” .?between them

****

:Then, Zul-qarnayn ordered them as follows

”... .?Bring me pieces of iron“ “

When the pieces of iron were made ready, he issued the order of arranging them :over each other. The verse continues saying

”... ,Until, when he had leveled up (the gap) between the two cliffs... “

The third order Zul-qarnayn issued was that they should bring some material from wood and the like of it to be burnt, and put them in both sides of the barrier, and by means of what they had with them, they would blow in the fire, so that the pieces of :iron became red and rather melted. The verse, concerning Zul-qarnayn’s order, says (he said: ‘Blow!’ Until, when he had made it (as ... “

”... ,fire

By that way, in fact, Zul-qarnayn wanted to join the pieces of iron into each other in order to make a solid barrier. By that amazing design, he did the same thing that is .practically done today by welding

:Finally, he issued the last order as follows

” .?he said: ‘Bring me molten copper to pour thereon... “

Thus, he overlaid that iron collection, the barrier, with a cover of copper in order to protect it from penetration of weather and decay. He made such a barrier, at last, that

He said: ‘This is mercy from my Lord. But when the promise of my Lord comes to “ .٩٨ ”.pass, He will make it level (with the ground), and the promise of my Lord is ever true

Commentary: verse ٩٨

Point

Godly men believe that their successes are because of the Mercy of Allah, and they never become proud. Of course, the Mercy and Lordship of Allah are connected to each other. Saintliness of work and effort, stability of the action, people’s cooperation, .administratorship and industry, and high goals are all a collection of Divine Favours

Thus, here, Zul-qarnayn, who was a godly man and had fulfilled a very important accomplishment, did not boast of his action nor did he hold those people under obligation in the same way that the tyrant usually do, but with the utmost courtesy he :treated, and

”... .He said: ‘This is mercy from my Lord “

Zul-qarnayn implied that if he had such a knowledge by which he could perform an important action like that, it was from the side of Allah, and his power as well as .effectiveness of his word, were from Him, too

Then he added this meaning that they should not think that their barrier was eternal, but when the promise of Allah comes, it will be made level with the ground and He will change it

p: ١٤٧

:into an even land, because the promise of Allah is always true. The verse say

But when the promise of my Lord comes to pass, He will make it level (with the ... “ ” .?ground), and the promise of my Lord is ever true

In this statement, Zul-qarnayn points to the distraction of the world and its .disturbance at the threshold of Resurrection

Some of the lessons that this story teaches us

There are many instructive points in this story, the which, in fact, form the essential
:aim of the Qur’ān. Some of them are as follows

The first lesson that this story teaches us is that no work is possible to be fully done .1
.in this world without its means

.Therefore, Allah gave the means of success to Zul-qarnayn

No government can embrace the victory but with encouraging the helpful people .2 and punishing the evildoers. This is the very principal which Zul-qarnayn utilized. Aliibn-Abitalib (a.s.) , in his famous command to Mālik-i-Ashtar, which is a consistent instruction for action in governing a country, says: “... The virtuous and the vicious should not be in equal position before you, because this means dissuasion of the \(virtuous from virtue and persuasion of the vicious to vice.”\(1\)

A difficult duty is never fit for a godly just government, and it was for this very .3 reason that Zul-qarnayn, after declaring that he would punish the unjust and reward the righteous a good recompense, he added: “ ...we will assign easiness for him by our .command”, so that the righteous could be able to do it willingly and eagerly

p: ١٤٨

A vast just government cannot be heedless unto the differences and varieties of the .۴
.life of people and their different conditions

Zul-qarnayn did not leave out even the group of people who, as the Qur'ān says, .۵ could not understand a saying, and by any possible means, he listened to them and
.removed their difficulty

Security is the first and the most important condition of a safe social life. It was for .۶
the same reason that Zul-qarnayn undertook the most labourous works to provide it
.with them

Another lesson which can be learnt from this historical event, is that the main .۷ owners of social pain must take part in performing their own affairs, because their .effort will surely be affective

Principally, an action which proceeds with the participation of the essential owners of the pain both helps the innate talents to be appeared and they value the resulting consequence and try to protect it, for they have tolerated much trouble in its .construction

However, it makes clear that even a nation in the state of being retarded can practically prove such an important and marvelous development when they apply a .right design and administratorship

A godly leader must be disrespectful to wealth and material things and be content .۸ with what Allah has bestowed upon him. One of the concepts which is found frequently in the Qur'ān is that one of most basic statements of the divine prophets is .that they demand no wage or wealth from people for their invitation to truth

.To secure the affairs from any point of view is another lesson of this Qur'ānic story .۹

Howsoever powerful, vigorous, clever, wealthy and authoritative a person may be, .۱۰ and can afford great works, he must never boast and become proud. This is also another lesson that Zul-qarnayn taught

Every thing will be vanished, and the firmest and strongest buildings of this world will finally be destroyed even though they are built from some massive iron and steel. This is the last lesson of this event, a lesson for all those who imagine that this world is eternal, and practically try to amass wealth and earn ranks so unconditioned and greedily that as if there is no death and destruction

?Who were Gog and Magog

Gog and Magog are mentioned in two suras of the Qur'ān. One of them is in the Sura under discussion, and the second is in sura Al-'Anbiyā', No. ۲۱, verse ۹۶. The verse of the Qur'ān clearly shows that these two appellations had belonged to two wild, cruel tribes, who were very troublesome for the people who lived around the center of their living place

For more explanation about them, please refer to: commentary books of Aṭyab-ul-Bayān, Tafsīr-i-Nemūnah, Tafsīr-i-Kabīr, Qarā'ib-ul-Qur'ān, and Tafsīr-i-Rūh-ul-Bayān

Commentary: verses ٩٩-١٠١

Adapting to the discussion of the perfect destruction of Zul-qarnayn’s barrier at the threshold of Resurrection which was mentioned before, here, the Qur’ān continues :explaining the Day of Hereafter and says

”... ,And on that day, We shall leave some of them (people) surge against others “

The usage of the term /yamūj/ (surge) in the verse is either because of the abundance of people in that scene, or for the anxiety and horror that invade the entity of human beings on .that day. It seems that their bodies surge like the waves of water

:Then the Qur'ān continues saying

”.and the Trumpet will be blown, then We shall gather them (all) together... “

From the totality of the verses of the holy Qur'ān it is understood that at the end of this world and at the beginning of the coming world, there will happen two great revolutionary events. The first event is the destruction of all human beings and the living creatures in a sudden happening. The second event is the resurrection of the dead in another sudden occurrence. This event is not known how long after the first happening will occur. These two happenings are referred to in the Qur'ān as /nafx-i-
.ṣūr/ (blown of Trumpet

****

After that, the holy Qur'ān states the situation of the disbelievers, both the fate of :their deeds and the qualities which cause that fate. It says as follows

”.(And on that day, We shall present Hell to the disbelievers exposed (to their view“

The Hell, with its various chastisements and different painful punishments, appears before them completely clear. This very manifestation of Hell before them and their observation itself is a dreadful punishment for them, still less that they be involved in
.it

****

?Who Are Disbelievers Why Do They Have Such a Fate

:The holy Qur'ān introduces the disbelieves in a very short sentence as follows

Those whose eyes were under a cover from My remembrance, and they could not “ bear to hear

”.(the Truth)

In fact, they had made unserviceable the most important means of truth-seeking, recognition of facts, and whatever causes the factor of happiness and wretchedness .of man

Yes, the feature of Truth is manifest and all the things of this world speak with man through mute tongue, but only there should exist a hearing ear and a seeing eye in .him

Upon the commentary of the holy phrase: “ ...whose eyes were under a cover from My remembrance ...”, it has been narrated that Imam Riḍa (a.s.) told Ma’mūn: “The objective meaning of the word /ōikr/ in this verse is Ali-ibn-Abī-tālib (a.s.)” (Tafsīr-i- (Lāhijī

This holy verse has pointed to a mental deviation of those people. It had been the :main origin of their other aberrations. It says

Do then those who disbelieve think that they can take My servants as guardians “

Have these servants, such as Messiah (a.s.) and the angels, who were worshipped, howsoever much their ranks may be high, any thing from themselves that can support others? Or, on the contrary, whatever they had were given them from the side of Allah. They themselves needed to be guided by the guidance of Allah, too. This .is a fact that those people forgot and, therefore, sunk into disbelief

” ?Say: ‘Shall We inform you of the greatest losers in (their) deeds “ .١٠٣

Those whose effort is lost in this world’s life, while they think that they are “ .١٠٤

Commentary: verses ١٠٣-١٠٤

The greatest losers in their deed

This verse, as well as the other verses up to the end of sura Al-Kahf, not only is an explanation upon the qualities of the faithless persons, but also is a kind of summary for all the subjects which were discussed in this Sura. They are especially the matters concerning the story of the Companions of the Cave, Moses, Khidr, Zul-qarnayn and their efforts and struggles against their opponents

At first, it refers to the greatest losers, the most wretched persons among all mankind. But, in order to move the sense of curiosity of the hearers upon such an important subject, the Qur’ān propounds it in the form of a question, and commands the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) as follows

” ?Say: ‘Shall We inform you of the greatest losers in (their) deeds “

***

Then, immediately after this question, the Qur’ān itself answers it, so that the hearer does not spend a long time wandered, and it implies that the greatest losers are

p: ١٧٤

Those whose effort is lost in this world's life, while they think that they are working “
” .good deeds

Certainly the meaning of ‘to lose’ in this text is not only that a person loses some profits, but the real loss is that he loses the main capital, too. What a capital can be higher and worthier than intellect, talent, God-given-powers, lifetime, youth, and health. These very things, which produce our deeds and our actions, are the fruit of our powers and abilities. When these powers turn into some destructive and vain .deeds, it seems all of them have lost and vanished

The true and double loss is where a man loses his own material and spiritual capitals on a wrong and deviated way, and he imagines that he has done a good action. Such a person has neither obtained any useful result from these efforts, nor has he learnt a .lesson from that loss, nor is he secured from the repetition of that event

However, the Islamic traditions denote that this verse has been rendered into the denier of the leadership of Amir-ul-Mu'mineen Ali (a.s.) and those who postpone the fulfillment of Hajj from today to tomorrow. (Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, and Abul-(Futūḥ

Ali-ibn-Abīṭālib (a.s.) said the referent of a concept of this verse were the people of the Book, who were legitimate at first, then they brought some innovations in religion while they were working good deeds. Then he (a.s.) added the people of Nahrawān (were not less than them. (Majma‘-ul-Bayān, and Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

١٠٥- أُولَئِكَ الَّذِينَ كَفَرُوا بِآيَاتِ رَبِّهِمْ وَلِقَائِهِ فَحَبِطَتْ أَعْمَالُهُمْ فَلَا تُقِيمُ لَهُمْ يَوْمَ الْقِيَامَةِ وَزُنًا

١٠٦- ذَلِكَ جَزَاءُهُمْ جَهَنَّمَ بِمَا كَفَرُوا وَتَّخَذُوا آيَاتِي وَرُسُلِي هُزُوعًا

They are those who disbelieved in the signs of their Lord and meeting Him (in “ ١٠٥. Hereafter) so their deeds became null, and on the Day of Resurrection We assign no weight for them ”.

Thus Hell is their recompense for what they disbelieved and took My Signs and “ ١٠٦. My messengers in mockery ”.

Commentary: verses ١٠٥-١٠٦

Those whose good deed become null

The Arabic term /ḥabṭ/ philologically means: the belly of an animal swallowed because of eating some poisonous plants and the animal exposes to death. Whoever sees such an animal thinks that it is safe and sound with plenty of meat, while its belly is full of wind and the flesh of its body is poisonous.

Some deeds of men which are considered vain are called /ḥabṭ/ because those deeds have been poisoned by committing sins, and, therefore, they are empty and have been exposed to destruction.

Thus, the Qur’ān in this verse implies that the disbelievers denied the divine revelations and His reasons, as well as the reward and retribution of Allah, and they spoiled their deeds thereby. They performed those actions in a way that Allah had not enjoined.

Therefore, such people will not be worthy and respectable with Allah on the Day of Resurrection. He will not heed them, and by punishing them, He will despise them and abase them

In Arabic language, when it is said that a thing has not weight, it means that the thing is worthless. In other words, since they have not any action which can be worthy and measurable, then there will not be set a scale for them on the Day of Hereafter to weigh their deeds. Yes, they will not have anything to be weighed and, therefore, there will be no need of preparing a scale

A well-known tradition narrated from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) denotes: “ On the Day of Reckoning, the fat and heavy men of this life will bring a body in the court of Allah the weight of which is not as heavy as the wing of a fly. ” The reason of it is that their deeds, thoughts, and personalities have utterly been empty and vain in this world

They are those who disbelieved in the signs of their Lord and meeting Him (in “ Hereafter) so their deeds became null, and on the Day of Resurrection We assign no weight for them ”

****

In the next verse, the Qur’ān implies that the disbelievers denied three basic principles of the religious belief: (Origin and End and the prophethood of the prophets), or farther than denial, they took them in mockery. The verse says

Thus Hell is their recompense for what they disbelieved and took My Signs and My “ messengers in mockery ”

١٠٨- خَالِدِينَ فِيهَا لَا يَبْغُونَ عَنْهَا حِوَلًا

Verily those who believe and do righteous deeds there is for them Gardens of “ ١٠٧ .
” .Paradise for their entertainment

” .Abiding therein forever, they desire no removal therefrom “ ١٠٨ .

Commentary: verses ١٠٧-١٠٨

The qualities of disbelievers, the greatest losers among people, and their fate was rather widely defined. Now, the Qur’ān, as a frame of reference before the disbelievers, refers to believers and their fate, so that the situation of both parties becomes quietly clear and distinguished

:In this regard, the holy Qur’ān says

Verily those who believe and do righteous deeds there is for them Gardens of “
” .Paradise for their entertainment

The Qur’ānic term /firdaus/ is a garden which contains all the bounties and the whole necessary merits. Thus, it is the best and the most privileged gardens of Paradise

The holy Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) said: “Paradise has one hundred degrees, the best of which is ‘Firdaus’. Whenever you supplicate, ask ‘Firdaus’ from Allah.” (Tafsir-i-(Majma‘-ul-Bayān

****

In view of the fact that the perfection of a bounty is that it does not face with :extinction, immediately after that, the Qur'ān adds

”... ,Abiding therein forever “

The fastidious and desirous nature of man constantly asks for variety and changing, yet the inhabitants of ‘Firdaus’ will never demand removal from it, for whatever they :wish they find there, even variety and perfection. The verse continues saying

” .they desire no removal therefrom... “

١٠٩- قُلْ لَوْ كَانَ الْبَحْرُ مِدَاداً لِكَلِمَاتِ رَبِّى لَنَفِدَ الْبَحْرُ قَبْلَ أَنْ تَنفَدَ كَلِمَاتُ رَبِّى وَلَوْ جِئْنَا بِمِثْلِهِ مَدَدًا

Say: ‘If the sea became ink for (writing) the Words of my Lord, the sea would “ ١٠٩ . certainly be exhausted before the Words of my Lord were exhausted, even though ”. We brought the like of it to help

Commentary: verse ١٠٩

The occasion of revelation upon Allah's infinite knowledge

The Arabic term /midād/ is applied for the ink which is poured into an inkpot and is used as a means of drawing the pen on the paper

The objective meaning of the Qur’ānic phrase /kalimāt-i-rabb/ is either the divine promises and the created things, or the godly philosophies and conceptions, or Divine revelations and whatever has a sign from Allah. Thus, every particle, every atom, and every cell is one of the Words of Allah

However, in the occasions of revelation of this verse it is said that when the Jews heard this sentence from the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) saying: “ ...and you are not given aught of knowledge but a little.”<sup>(١)</sup> They said how such a matter could be right while the Jews were given the Turah, and whoever has been given the Turah indeed has been given abundant good. Then the abovementioned verse was revealed and illustrated the infinite knowledge of Allah and that man’s little knowledge is aught before it

Some other commentators believe that the Jews told the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that Allah had given him wisdom and "...whoever has been given wisdom, indeed has been given abundant good" (١), but when they asked him (p.b.u.h.) about the spirit, he replied them an ambiguous answer. Then the abovementioned verse was revealed and declared that however much a man may be learned his knowledge is aught (before the knowledge of Allah. ٢)

Therefore, this verse and the verse after it are concerned to the whole subjects of this sura. As if the Qur'ān intends to say that the information of the events of the Companions of the Cave, Moses, Khidr, and Zul-qarnayn are not so important when the infinite knowledge of Allah is considered

:The holy Qur'ān, addressing the holy Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.), says

Say: 'If the sea became ink for (writing) the Words of my Lord, the sea would "certainly be exhausted before the Words of my Lord were exhausted, even though" .?We brought the like of it to help

In this verse, indeed, the Qur'ān attracts the attentions to this fact that you should not think that the world of existence is confined to what you see, or to what you know, or to what you feel. But it is so great and vast that if the water of the seas became ink for writing the names, qualities, specialties, secrets and mysteries of it, the seas would be used up before the whole of the creatures of the existing world could be counted

It is noteworthy that the abovementioned verse, not only illustrates the infinite vastness of the world of existence in the past, present, and future, but also it is an illustration of the infinite knowledge of Allah, because we know that Allah has encompassed in His knowledge whatever exists, and whatever will come into being, in the expanse of existence. Even more, His knowledge is not separate from the existence of these .creatures

Then, in other words, it can be said that if all the oceans throughout of the world became ink and all the trees became pens they are never sufficiently able to record .the number of whatever exists in the knowledge of Allah

At the end, there is a tradition cited in the commentary book of Ali-ibn-Ibrāhīm Qummī, and in the commentary book of Al-Burhān, narrated from Abī-Baṣīr, from Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) who, concerning the commentary of this verse, said: “I inform you that the Word of Allah has neither an end, nor has it finite, nor does it cause to \(eternity.\)”

Commentary: verse 110

This holy verse, which is the last verse of Sura Al-Kahf, contains a collection of fundamental principles of the religious beliefs, such as, Unity, Resurrection, and the prophethood of the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.). This is, in fact, the same as what the beginning of the Sura Al-Kahf has begun with

Since the subject of prophethood among common people has always been accompanied with kinds of exaggeration and extravagance in the length of its history, the Qur’ān states it as follows

“ Say: ‘I am only a mortal like you “ ... ”

Thus, by this meaning, he nullified all the imaginary polytheistic privileges which promoted the divine prophets from the rank of human to the rank of divinity, and said that the only his privilege was that it was revealed unto him

Then, among all the subjects which are revealed, he emphasizes on the subject of Unity and says

“ It is revealed unto me that your God... ”

“ One God (only) .is ... ”

In this part of the verse, only the subject of Unity has been pointed out, because Unity is not merely a principle out of the fundamentals of belief, but it is the essence of all fundamental principles and the positive laws of Islam

If, through a simple example, we similarize the Islamic teachings, containing the fundamental principles and positive laws of the religion to the jewelry beads of a jewelry, Unity should be similarized to the string that has joined these beads to each other and has formed, from all of them, a worthy beautiful necklace. That is why that some Islamic traditions indicate that the holy phrase /lāʾilāha ʾillallah/ (There is not god save Allah) is a firm fortress, and whoever enters it will be safe from the punishment of Allah

The third sentence of this verse points to the subject of Resurrection, which is connected to the subject of Unity with the Arabic conjunction /f/, where it says

Therefore, whoever hopes to meet his Lord (in Here-after) let him do... “
... ,righteousness

Meeting the Lord, which is the innate observation of His Pure Essence by the eye of the heart and the inside spiritual insight, is also possible for the true believers in this world, too. But in Hereafter, because of observing more effects with more clear manifestation of Him, it will become general for the common

The reality of the righteous deed is referred to through a short statement in the last sentence of the verse. It says

“...and make none sharer of the worship due unto his Lord...”

In another more clear statement, an action will not be counted ‘a righteous deed’ unless the reality of purity and sincerity accompanies it. In fact, the righteous deed which has originated from a godly motive and sincerity, and has mixed with it, is the passport .unto the meeting of Allah

The righteous deed is so important in Islam that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in a tradition says: “The person who performs his deeds with sincerity for forty days, Allah will flow ”.the springs of wisdom and knowledge from his heart to his tongue

It can be concluded that this holy verse has referred to both Unity (only One God), and prophethood (It is revealed unto me), and Resurrection (to meet his Lord in Hereafter), and hope to the mercy of Allah (whoever hopes), and effort and endeavour to reach it (let him do righteousness), and purity in action (and make none sharer). That was why the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “If only the last verse of sura Al-Kahf were revealed to my community, it would be sufficient for them.” (Tafsīr-i-Dur-ul- (Mamthūr

Finally, upon the content of this verse, there have been narrated many traditions concerning the importance of sincerity and the danger of hypocrisy and hidden :polytheism. Some of them are as follows

The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “Verily Allah, the Exalted, will not accept any action in . ۱ (which there is a tiny amount of hypocrisy.” (۱

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) in a tradition said: “Verily Allah has forbidden the . ۲ Paradise for every hypocrite, man and woman; and piety is not (found) in beauty of (face and clothing, but piety is (found) in serenity and solemnity.” (۲

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “ The Fire (of Hell) and its people will cry .۳ because of the punishment of hypocrites”. Then he (p.b.u.h.) was asked: “O Prophet! How (and why) does the Fire (of Hell) cry?” He answered: “Because of (the intense of) the heat of the Fire by which they (the hypocrites) will be punished.” (Safīnat-ul-Bihār, (vol. ۱, p.۵۰۰, and Jāmi‘-i-‘Ahādīth-ush-Shī‘ah, vol.۱, p. ۳۶۹

It is narrated by ‘Abī-Baṣīr who said: “I heard ‘Abā-‘Abdillah (Imam Ṣādiq) (a.s.) said: .۴ ‘On the Day of Hereafter, the servant, who had established prayer, will be brought and he says: ‘O Lord! I have prayed for your pleasure’. He will be answered: ‘But you prayed in order to be said what a good prayer so and so has established. Take him unto the Fire.’ Then, he said: ‘The same manner will be treated with the one who has struggled, has recited the Qur’ān, and has given alms’.” (Jāmi‘-i-‘Ahādīth-ush-Shī‘ah, (vol. ۱, p. ۳۶۸

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “Verily, more than anything else, I fear about .۵ you for the minor polytheism’. He was asked: ‘O’ Messenger of Allah! What is the minor polytheism?’ He answered: ‘Hypocrisy’. Then he said: ‘On the Day of Hereafter, when Allah, Almighty and Glorious, recompenses the deeds of the servants, He will tell the hypocrites: ‘Go unto those for whom you used to act hypocritically in the world, and see whether you find the recompense of your actions with them’.” (Safīnat-ul-Bihār, vol. ۱, p. ۴۹۹). (Sura Maryam (Mary*Point

(Revealed in Mecca)

(No. ١٩ (٩٨ verses in ٩ sections

In the Name of Allah, The Beneficent, The Merciful

:Introduction to the Sura

Sura Maryam, as arranged in the Book, is the nineteenth Sura of the holy Qurān. It contains ٩٨ verses which have been revealed in Mecca

Similar to other Meccan Suras, the content of this Sura is mostly about matters concerning the Hereafter, the end of the evil-doers, the rewards of the good-doers, and part of the account of the lives of Zakariyya (Zechariah), Mary, Jesus, Yahyā ((John), Abraham, Ishmael and Idrīs (Enoch

It is recorded in Tafsīr-i-Al-Mīzān that, in the last few verses of Sura Maryam, Allah says that the purpose of revealing this Sura is to give ‘glad tidings and warnings’, and this aim has been followed in the beautiful form of the story of the prophets’ lives

Allah has mentioned no woman in the Qur’ān directly by her proper name except Mary, and the name ‘Mary’ occurs ٣٤ times in the Qur’ān. The only Sura, which has been entitled by the name of a woman in the Qur’ān, is this very Sura, Sura Mary

For the virtue of studying this Sura, it has been cited that whoever continues reciting this Sura (whenever he can), he will not die save that Allah will suffice him in life, wealth and children

(Majma‘-ul-Bayān)

There is no doubt, of course, that the one will make himself free from want from .others by means of practicing the contents of this Sura

The abbreviated letters of the Quran

The mentioned letters are among the 'Abbreviated Letters' of the Qur'ān in which some mysteries and secrets are hidden. Some Islamic traditions indicate that each of these letters is a sign of one of the great names of Allah (The Names Most Beautiful). Kāf ‘K’ refers to /kāfī/ (The Sufficient); Hā ‘H’ refers to /hādī/ (The Guide); Yā ‘Y’ refers to /waliyy/ (The Friend, The Protector, The Surety, The Patron); ‘Ain ‘A’ refers to /‘ālim/ (The Knower); and Ṣād ‘Ṣ’ refers to /ṣadiq-ul-wa‘d/ (The One Who is Truthful in His promises). Sometimes, in some supplications, Allah (s.w.t.) is invoked through these abbreviated letters, in this manner: “O Lord! by Kā, Hā, Yā, ‘Ain, Ṣād.” In a supplication, for instance, (Ḥaḍrat Alī-ibn-Abī-tālib (a.s.) said: “O Allah! We ask you, O’Kāf, Hā, Yā, ‘Ain, Ṣād!” (1)

Some Islamic traditions state that these abbreviated letters indicate the event of the uprising of Imam Hussayn in Karbalā, as follows: Kāf refers to ‘Karbalā’, Hā refers to ‘Halāk’ (the slaughter of the Prophet’s progeny), Yā refers to ‘Yazīd’, ‘Ain refers to the subject of ‘Aṭash (thirst), and Ṣād refers to ‘Ṣabr’ (the patience and steadfastness of (Imam Hussayn and his self-sacrificing supporters

It should be noted, of course, that the verses of the Qur’ān have the capacity to have different meanings but despite the variety of meanings, they do not conflict with each other

After the abbreviated letters at the beginning of Sura Maryam, the first verse concerning the story of Zechariah begins. It says

”.This is) a mention of the mercy of your Lord unto His servant Zechariah)

This event occurred at the time when Zachariah was very worried and sad because ,he did not have a child, and he

:worshipping Him, called upon his Lord secretly. The verse says

”.When he called upon his Lord in secret “

The Arabic term /nidā/ means ‘to call with a loud voice’, and the Qur’ānic word /xafiyyā/ means ‘in secret’ not in a low voice, since such a call cannot be performed .‘silently’, but it can be done secretly

Perhaps, the invocation of Zechariah, done in secret, was for the reason that his .people would not scoff at him by saying why that old man wished Allah for a son

Some Islamic literature indicates that the best supplication is that which is asked in (secret, and the best provision is that which is sufficient. (Tafsīr-i-Majma‘-ul-Bayān

Commentary: verses ٤-٥

Point

Zechariah invoked Allah saying that his bones, the pillars of his body and its most solid parts, were weakened and his head was all aflame with hoariness. By this statement, Zechariah might have wanted to say that the harbinger of death had been placed on his head and he had to get ready for death. Here is the verse

He said: ‘My Lord! verily my bones are weakened and my head is all aflame with “
”... ,hoariness

Then, immediately after that statement, he adds that he had been accustomed to the acceptance of his supplications by his Lord and that He had never withheld His blessings from him. Now that he was old and feeble, he was more in need of answers to his prayers, and that he would not be unblessed. The verse continues saying

”and, my Lord! I have never been unblessed in prayer to You... “

:After that, he explained his supplication to Allah, as follows

And verily I fear my kindred after I am gone, and my wife is barren. So grant me “ from your presence

”.(a successor (a child

:Explanations

.The Arabic word /‘āqir/ is applied for a man or a woman that cannot produce offspring

The term /’ištī‘āl/ means: ‘the blaze of a fire when it flames and spreads’. Thus, the holy phrase ‘and my head is all aflame with hoariness’ means that the whiteness of .the hair on my head blazed like fire and has spread

Some of the commentators have said that the objective meaning of the Qur’ānic word /waliyy/, mentioned in this holy verse, is ‘a righteous son who succeeds the father’.

\(Imam Ṣādiq \(a.s.\) said that Zechariah’s anxiety was about his uncle and his cousins.

 He said: ‘My Lord! How shall there be for me a son while my wife is barren and I “ .٨

Commentary: verses ٦-٨

Point

Zechariah, the prophet, in his prayer, invoked Allah to grant him a successor to be the inheritor of him and the posterity of Jacob, and He would make him well-pleasing. The
 :verse says

One that) shall be my inheritor and the inheritor of the posterity of Jacob; and make) “
 ,him, my Lord
 ”.well-pleasing

The purpose of the phrase ‘to inherit’, here, has been rendered differently by the .Islamic commentators

Some of them believe that ‘heritage’ in this verse is heritage in properties, while some others have said that it refers to the rank of prophethood

A group of the commentators have also thought that the objective meaning of it is an inclusive concept which probably envelops both of them

Many of the Shi'ite scholars have taken the first interpretation, while some Sunnite scholars have seized the second meaning, and some others, among Islamic scholars, such as: Sayyid-i-Quṭb in Fī-Zilāl and 'Ālūsī in Rouh-ul-Ma'ānī, have chosen the third idea

Those who have taken it, confined to the inheritance of property, have reasoned to the existence of the word ʾyariṯu (inheritor) in this sense. For, when this word is used apart from other evidences, it means 'the inheritance of the wealth'. But when it is used in the sense of spiritual affairs, it is usually for the sake of the existence of some evidence in that verse; like Sura Fāṭir, No ۹۵, verse ۳۲ which says: "Then We gave the ... ,Book for an inheritance to those whom We chose from among Our servants

Moreover, the wife of Zechariah, who was from the progeny of Soleyman-ibn-Dāwood, regarding the very good condition of Soleyman and Dāwood's wealth, had inherited some considerable properties

Zechariah was afraid that those properties would be obtained by some impious persons who might amass them, or use them in a false way, which itself could be the source of a corruption in the society

Fatimah (a.s) reasoned to this verse for claiming Fadak

That was why he asked his Lord to grant him a righteous child so that this offspring might protect those properties and spend them in the best way

It is narrated in a tradition that Fatimat-uz-Zahrā (a.s.), the pure daughter of the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.), reasoned to .defend her claim to Fadak. This incident is another evidence upon the above idea

The Late Tabarsī, in his book 'Ihtijāj, has said regarding this issue concerning the Lady
:of Islam (a.s.), as follows

When some people had decided to withhold Fadak from Fatimah (a.s.), and she was informed of it, she said: "Is there in the Book of Allah that you inherit from your father and I do not inherit from my father? Verily you have done a very indecent thing. (۱) Did you deliberately leave out from the Book of Allah where, in the story of Yaḥya-ibn-Zakariyyā, it says: 'O Lord! Grant me from Your presence a successor (a child); (One " )?that) shall be my inheritor and the inheritor of the posterity of Jacob

For more information on the idea of 'inheritance' as something spiritual, or both spiritual and material you may refer to Tafsīr-i-Aṭyab-ul-Bayān, as well as other great
.commentaries of Islamic scholars

However, the Arabic word /raḍiyy/ means both: 'being well-pleased with Allah' and 'being loved by people'. The rank of Allah being well-pleased with a person, and vice .versa, is the best rank, a great salvation

****

The subsequent verse states that the prayer of Zechariah was accepted in the presence of Allah, an acceptance with full grace and particular favour. The words of :Allah in the verse are recited as follows

His prayer was answered:) O' Zakariyyā! Verily We give you good tidings of a son)" ".(whose name is Yahyā (John). We have given the same name to none before (him

p: ۱۹۸

The Qur'ānic phrase 'the same name to none before (him)' means either that the name 'Yaḥyā' had not been used before him, or that such personal qualities were not found in any one before him

Zechariah, who did not see the relevant preconditions to assist in gaining what he desired, asked Allah to explain the circumstance for him. The verse says

He said: 'My Lord! How shall there be for me a son while my wife is barren and I have "reached infirm old age

Zechariah, saying: "How shall there be for me a son...?" means whether he and his wife would become young again, or they would have a child in the same state of old (age). (Tafsīr-i-Kabīr by Fakhr-i-Rāzī

Yes, even the prophets' knowledge is limited, and their surprise about something does not contrast with the rank of their prophethood

However, the Qur'ānic word /'itiyyā/ means 'to go beyond the limit' which is usually said upon a person whose body has lost its elasticity as a result of old age

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said that five years elapsed between the time when the glad tidings was given and when the birth of Yahyā occurred. (Majma'ul-Bayān, and Bihār-ul-'Anwār, vol. ۱۴, p. ۱۷۶

Commentary: verses ٩-١٠

Allah (s.w.t.) is able to do every thing and every work is easy for Him, as in this verse,
.”He says: “It is easy for Me

In Sura Al-Hadīd, No. ٥٧, verse ٢٢ and in Sura At-Taqābun, No. ٦٤, verse ٧, the words are recited: “ ...that is easy to Allah”; and in Sura Al-Baqarah, No.٢, verses ٢٠ and ١٠٦, it is recited: “...Allah is All-powerful over everything”; and in Sura Al-Kahf, No. ١٨, verse ٤٥ the Qur’ān says: “...Allah is omnipotent over everything”. Therefore, Zechariah asked Allah how that matter could happen, and He said: “So (it will be)” and Allah (s.w.t.) can strengthen his power in old age to give him offspring

In other words, Allah is the One Who is able to create all things from aught, and then it is not surprising that He bestows

:a child upon Zachariah in his old age and in those conditions. The verse says

He said: ‘So (it will be)’. Your Lord says: ‘It is easy for Me, for indeed I created you “
”.’aforetime when you were nothing

By hearing the abovementioned hope-inspiring statement, Zechariah became very happy and encouraged and the light of hopefulness illuminated his entire being, however, since that message was very magnificent and constructive for him, he :asked Allah for a sign, as follows

He (Zechariah) said: ‘My Lord! appoint for me “
”... ’a sign

No doubt Zechariah believed in Allah’s promise, but, in order to be more assured, he asked Him for such a sign. This was similar to Abraham’s, way who was certain of the Resurrection, yet he asked to see an aspect of the resurrection in this world in order :that his heart would become more certain. Then Zechariah (a.s.) received this answer

Said He: ‘Your sign is that you shall not be able to speak to the people for three... “ ”.(nights, though sound (in health

During those three days and nights Zachariah’s tongue (a.s.) could move only for .prayers to Allah (s.w.t.) as well as in supplicating unto Him

This was a clear sign, of course, in that a person would not able to speak with people while his tongue and his body were utterly sound and he could pray and worship to .Allah fluently

In the books of commentaries of Majma‘-ul-Bayān, of At-Ṭabarī, and Al-Mīzān, it has been said that, at the time of recitation of the Divine communications and the remembrance of Allah (s.w.t.), Zachariah’s tongue could utter words fluently and correctly, but when he wanted to use his tongue to speak

.with people, his tongue remained silent

Of course, Zechariah (a.s.) asked Allah (s.w.t.) for a sign to recognize between right and wrong, and between the divine revelations and satanic delusions. (Tafsīr-i-Al-(Mīzān

This itself is an evidence to the fact that all our actions are under the Will and device of Allah, so that if He let not we are not able to speak even when we are in a complete
.health

١١- فَخَرَجَ عَلَى قَوْمِهِ مِنَ الْمِحْرَابِ فَأَوْحَى إِلَيْهِمْ أَنْ سَبِّحُوا بُكْرَةً وَعَشِيًّا

Then he went out (of the sanctuary) unto his people and made signs unto them “ ١١ .
”that they should glorify (Allah) morning and evening

Commentary: verse ١١

Point

The Qur’ānic word /bukrah/ is used for the length of time between the dawn until the .sunrise

The term /mihrāb/ (sanctuary) is called such since it is a fighting-place against Satan and the temptations which hinder man’s concentration of thought. Perhaps, the sanctuaries of the Children of Israel had been the same places of prayer which people
.had chosen for their Divine service and they worshipped therein

According to what Ṭabarsī and Fakhr-i-Rāzi have said, the purpose of /tasbīḥ/ (to glorify), used in this verse, is ‘prayer’, because ‘prayer’ contains ‘glorification’. After this glad tidings and that clear Sign, Zechariah came out of his prayer niche and went .unto his people

Then he signed to them that they should glorify Allah every morning and evening. For, the result of the great bounty, which Allah had bestowed Zechariah, would .encompass all those people and could be effective in their fate totally

:The verse says

Then he went out (of the sanctuary) unto his people and made signs unto them that “
”.they should glorify (Allah) morning and evening

Moreover, this bounty, which was counted a miracle, could firm the foundations of belief in their hearts

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “The most beloved sayings with Allah, the Glorious, is that the servant says: ‘Glory be to my Lord and praise be to Him’.” (Kanz-ul-Ummal, vol. 1, p. 466)

Imam Şādiq (a.s.) said: “Whoever glorifies Allah thirty times every day, Allah, the Blessed, the Exalted, may remove seventy afflictions from him, the least of which is (poverty.” (Amālī by Şadūgh, p. 55)

The importance of the hymns of Fatimah (a.s) after every prayer

Imam Şādiq (a.s.) said: “The hymns of Fātimatuz-Zahrā, after every prayer, is more beloved with me than one thousand units (rak‘ah) of prayer in a day.” (Muhajjat-ul-Bayḍā’, vol. 2, p. 348)

Commentary: verses ١٢-١٣

The Qur'ānic term /ḥukm/ means: ‘knowledge and understanding.’(١) It has also been applied in the sense of ‘ability and judgment’(٢), while it is cited in Tafsīr-i-Al-Mizān that the objective meaning of /ḥukm/, in this verse, is: ‘knowledge unto the Divine .’sciences and the removal of the curtain of Unseen

Three persons became prophets in childhood. They were Solomon, Jesus, and John (a.s.). There were also three persons who became Imam in their childhood: Imam Jawād (the ninth Imam), Imam Hādī (the tenth Imam) and Imam Mahdī (the twelfth Imam), peace be upon them all, because the rank of prophethood and Imamate is .granted by Allah

Moreover, Divine prophets and the Immaculate Imams were bestowed upon all virtues and sciences in the same World of Light. Therefore they could speak and solve the problems even when they were in the wombs of their mothers, in their cradles, and at the moment of their birth. There are recorded many Islamic traditions in this regard in which it is also said that even Şiddīghah–Tāhirah, who was neither a prophet nor an Imam, had this quality, too. (1)

However, former verses denoted that Allah bestowed on Zechariah a son named Yaḥyā (John) when he was in old age. Following that matter, in this verse, the great commandment of Allah unto John is recited, as follows

!O’ Yaḥyā “

”...’. Take hold of the Book with might

The objective meaning of ‘the Book’ here is Turah, and the purpose of ‘taking hold of the Book with might’ is that he should carry through its content with an intensive sharp conclusiveness, and should act accordingly, so that he could enjoy any material and spiritual power, whether personal and social, in the way of its expansion and generalization.

Next to this commandment, the Qur’ān points to the merits that Allah had granted to John, or he had obtained them with the grace of Allah, where it says

”...And We gave him wisdom (apostleship) while yet a child ...“

Allah gave him the command of prophethood, wisdom, talent and perspicacity in childhood.

And he was also given mercy and compassion in respect to people from the side of Allah

”... And also compassion from Us “

:And Allah gave him piety and purity of soul, spirit, and action .۴

”... ;piety... “

:And he avoided whatever was other than the command of Allah .۴

”and he was God-fearing...”

Tafsīr-i-Aṭyab-ul-Bayān, and Reyḥānatun-Nabiyy, p. ۶۰ -۱

By the way, the Qur'ānic term /ḥanān/ means 'compassion, kindness'. Thus, it was the compassion of Allah to John and John's love to Allah, which caused the kindness of people to John and John's affection unto people, all of which were from the Grace of Allah and His Mercy

****

”disobedient

And peace on him the day he was born, and the day he dies, and the day he shall “ .١٥
”!be raised alive

Commentary: verse ١٤-١٥

Obeying parents is obligatory

Hadrat Yahya (John) was very kind to his parents and obeyed them. He tried to make them happy, because obeying parents is obligatory, and opposing them is forbidden. He also did not commit any sin, transgression, and was never proud. He hurt no one.
:The verse says

And kindness “

”.to his parents, and (unto the people) he was neither insolent (nor) disobedient

***

Therefore, since Yahya (a.s.) was qualified with all prominent epithets and great
:honours, then peace upon him, as the verse says

And peace on him the day he was born, and the day he dies, and the day he shall be “
”!raised alive

Some commentators have said that the most horrible states of a person may appear in three circumstances: ١) The day when he comes out from the mother’s womb and enters into the world. ٢) The day he dies and finds himself among the people whom he has not seen. ٣) The day when he will be raised alive and finds himself in a great place
.of gathering

Allah favoured John by His Grace and endowed security on

p: ۲۰۸

him in these three circumstances. Thus, Yahya (John) passed all the narrow passages .successfully with the safety of religion and belief in Allah

To hold dear the annual birthday, and remembrance of the annual day of death of the .saints of Allah, of course, is a Qur'ānic matter

****

:Some Points upon John's Martyrdom

Not only was the birth of John marvelous, but so was his death from some points of view. Most Muslim historians, as well as some famous Christian sources, have :recorded the event of this martyrdom, (with slight differences), as follows

Yahya (John) was sacrificed because of the liaison one of the tyrants of his age had with a woman related to him within the forbidden degrees. Herod, the sensual king of Palestine, was in love with Herodias, his niece, whose beauty had captured his heart
.in the fire of love

.Therefore, he decided to marry her

When Yahya (John), the great prophet of Allah (a.s.), was informed of this he promptly announced there and then that their marriage was unlawful and it was contrary to the .laws of the Torah and that Yahya (John) would struggle against it

This news was spread throughout the city and the woman, Herodias, became aware of it. She, considered Yahya (John) the greatest barrier on her way, and decided to take revenge upon him at the most suitable opportunity, and remove this obstruction
.in her way

She intensified her relation with her uncle and made her beauty as a trap for him. She had such a deep influence that one day Herod told her to ask him whatever desire she had and she could be certain

.that her demand would assuredly be performed

Herodias said that she wanted nothing but the head of Yahya, because Yahya had defamed both of them, and all people found fault concerning them. She replied if Herod wanted to comfort her heart and make her happy, he should do that .accomplishment

Herod, who was madly in love of that lady, inattentive to the end of that action, submitted and very soon the head of John was presented to that wicked woman. But, (finally, the painful results of that hideous action encompassed her.)

Some Islamic traditions indicate that Imam Hussayn (a.s.) the Great Martyr, said; “From among the mean aspects of this world is that the head of Yahya-ibn-Zechariah
”.was brought as a present to a wicked woman from the Children of Israel

This statement means that, from this point of view, the conditions of Yahya and those of Imam Hussayn (a.s.) were alike, because one of the aims of his rising was standing
.against the evil deeds of the tyrant of his time, Yazīd

****

---

Some Evangelists and some religious literatures denote that Herod married his - ١ brother's wife, which was forbidden in the laws of the Torah. Yahya scorned him for that action. Then that woman, by misusing the beauty of her daughter, caused Herod to kill Yahya (John). (The Gospel according to ST. Matthew, Chapter ١٤; and according to

So she took a veil (to screen herself) apart from them. Then We sent unto her Our “ ١٧ . Spirit (Holy Spirit) that presented himself to her a perfect man ”.

Commentary: verses ١٦–١٧

Point

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said that Mary was one of the four typical godly women.

The Arabic term /nabaḥa/ means: ‘to throw away something inattentively’, while the Qur’ānic word /’intibāḥ/ is used for ‘seeking retirement from people’. Since Mary was dedicated to ‘The Remote Mosque’, she had chosen a corner in the east of the mosque for herself.

After the statement of the explanation about Yahyā (John), through these holy verses, the Qur’ān refers to the story of

Jesus was appointed to prophethood in childhood

Jesus (a.s.) and his mother's fate, because there is a close connection between these .two occurrence

The birth of Yahyā (John) to an aged father and a barren mother, was a wonderful thing, but the birth of Jesus, from a mother without a father, was something even .more marvelous

It is surprising, of course, for a person be given wisdom and prophethood in childhood, but it is more surprising than that that he, as a baby, speaks in cradle
.concerning the Book and prophecy

However, both of them are signs of the Power of Allah, the Exalted, and, they both concerned people who had a very close blood relationship with each other, because John's mother was Mary's maternal aunt both of whom were barren and longed for a :righteous child. The verse says

And mention in the Book about Mary when she withdrew from her family to an “
”.eastern place

In fact she humbly and anonymously withdrew from her family and went to a place in

Sura Al-Mulk, No. ۶۷, verse ۱ –۱

١٨- قَالَتْ إِنَّنِي أَعُوذُ بِالرَّحْمَنِ مِنْكَ إِنْ كُنْتَ تَقِيًّا

١٩- قَالَ إِنَّمَا أَنَا رَسُولُ رَبِّكِ لِأَهَبَ لَكِ غُلَامًا زَكِيًّا

٢٠- قَالَتْ أَنَّى يَكُونُ لِي غُلَامٌ وَلَمْ يَمَسِّنِي بَشَرٌ وَلَمْ أَكُ بَغِيًّا

She said: ‘Verily I take refuge in the Beneficent (Allah) from you! if you are God-fearing “ .١٨
”.

He (the angel) said: ‘Verily I am only a messenger of your Lord that I bestow on “ .١٩
”.’you a pure son

She said: ‘How shall there be for me a son while no man has touched me, neither “ .٢٠
”.

Commentary: verses ١٨-٢٠

One of the recommendations of Allah to His Messengers is that they should take refuge in Allah. Therefore, this state has been the moral life of the prophets and the saints of Allah, and that is why when the pious persons feel the probability of committing sin, they tremble in fear and take refuge in Allah, The Beneficent

It is evident that, at that time, a great fear overcame her when this pious woman saw that a handsome foreigner had entered her sanctuary, therefore, she immediately said:

“ .Verily I take refuge in the Beneficent (Allah) from you! if you are God-fearing “

Her Mentioning the Name of Allah, the Beneficent, and qualifying Him by His general mercy, on the one hand and encouraging the man to piety and being God-fearing, on the other, were all intended to deter that unfamiliar man if he had intended something evil.

By saying these words, Mary was expecting a reaction from the stranger, an expectation laden with fear and abundant anxiety. But this situation did not last very long, and the stranger spoke and stated his great mission

”... He (the angel) said: ‘Verily I am only a messenger of your Lord ‘

.This statement comforted Mary’s pure heart, as if water was poured over a fire

But this relief did not last long, because immediately after that he added that he had come to bestow on her a son who would be pure from the point of temper, manner, body, and spirit. The verse continues saying ”...that I bestow on you a pure son...”

However, the term /zakiyy/, used in the verse, is derived from /zakāt/ in the sense of:

’purity, growth, and blessing’, while the word /baqyan/, here, means ‘a prostitute

In this Sura the subject of being granted a child from Allah has been mentioned several times: the bestowal of Jesus to Mary in verse ١٩; that of Isaac and Jacob to Abraham in verse ٤٩. Moreover the remittal of Aaron to Moses in verse ٥٣; and the glad tidings of a child to Zechariah in verse ٧ are among them

Having a child is something of great value, but greater than this is the purity of the child

By hearing these word, Mary was seized with a severe trembling and again she became very worried. In that situation, and only thinking about the natural means of having a child, she wondered and

She said: ‘How shall there be for me a son while no man has touched me, neither “ have I been unchaste

٢١- قَالَ كَذَلِكَ قَالَ رَبُّكَ هُوَ عَلَيَّ هَيِّنٌ وَلِنَجْعَلَهُ آيَةً لِّلنَّاسِ وَرَحْمَةً مِنَّا وَكَانَ أَمْرًا مَّقْضِيًّا

٢٢- فَحَمَلَتْهُ فَانْتَبَذَتْ بِهِ مَكَانًا قَصِيًّا

٢٣- فَاجَاءَهَا الْمَخَاضُ إِلَى جِذْعِ النَّخْلِ قَالَتْ يَا لَيْتَنِي مِتُّ قَبْلَ هَذَا وَكُنْتُ نَسِيًّا مَّنْسِيًّا

٢١. He said: ‘So (it will be)’. Your Lord says: ‘It is easy for Me, and that We will make “ .him a Sign (miracle) unto the people and a Mercy from Us, and it is a matter decreed

٢٢. “So she conceived him (Jesus) and withdrew with him to a distance place “ .

٢٣. And the pains of childbirth drove her to the trunk of a palm-tree. She said: ‘Would “ .’I had died ere this, and had been a thing forgotten

Commentary: verses ٢١-٢٣

Point

The Divine angel, in the guise of a man, appeared before Mary and blew on her so that she became pregnant. Then, Mary went to a distant place for she was worried about the accusation of people who did not know of the matter, or because a pregnant woman needs comfort and a quiet environment

The opinions recorded in most commentaries are divided and abundant about the place and that how Mary became pregnant, or who was the first person that was informed of the matter, but since the Qur’ān has not stated anything in this regard, we, too, do not offer any discussion concerning these subjects, because they are not so functional in the development of our understanding

Some of the hardships that Mary tolerated

:Some of the difficulties and hardships that Mary tolerated are as follows

.A. The accusation and suspicion of people

.B. Pregnancy and childbirth in solitude and isolation

.C. The lack of a resting place and taking refuge beside a palm tree

D. Maintaining a child with no father and being among some people who looked at her
.with revulsion

However, when the angel saw Mary's surprise at hearing that glad tidings, he told her that Allah's command was exactly what he had said to her, and that her Lord announced that creating a child out of a virgin was not difficult for Him. Allah intended for that extraordinary occurrence to be evidence of the child's prophethood and a proof of the immunity of his mother, and that it might also be a bounty from Him upon :mankind for their guidance by means of this prophet. The verse says

He said: 'So (it will be)'. Your Lord says: 'It is easy for Me, and that We will make him a "
.Sign (miracle) unto the people and a Mercy from Us, and it is a matter decreed

The creation of Jesus with no father, of course, is a special event that occurred by the Will of Allah. Finally, at the highest spiritual point Mary experienced the most intense experience of the divine in her life, to receive the spirit of a prophet in her womb. Mary conceived and that promised child was settled in her pure womb. Most of the commentators have said that Gabriel blew into her collar and at the same moment
.she felt the stirrings of pregnancy

It has also been narrated from Imam Muhammad Baqir (a.s.) that Gabriel blew into Mary's collar and at the same moment Jesus existed in mother's womb, while, in the wombs of other women, the creation and growth of a child usually extends to about nine months

Mary came out with her abdomen grown big and heavy, and when her maternal aunt saw her, she became quite upset, seeing her niece in that status. Mary was always bashful and deferential with her maternal aunt, so because of this, and the fear of being accused of immoral conduct, she chose not to stay among the people and went to a far off place

She spent in seclusion relying on hope in her Lord, with a state of anxiety, mixed with happiness. It was her Lord Who had wrought this great miracle upon her, and only He could silence the accusing fingers and voices that could not accept that a woman could conceive without a man. What could she do with that accusation

But, in the other hand, she felt that this child was the promised Divine prophet, a great heavenly gift. She thought how the Lord, Who had given her the glad tidings of that child, and had created him with that miraculous quality, would leave her alone

Accounts vary concerning the length of Mary's pregnancy. Some have said that it lasted one hour, while some others believe that it took a longer time. Ibn 'Abbās says that one hour after that she went to that distant place, the child was born, because Allah has not mentioned any length of time for between Mary's departure for that place and the birth of the child

It is said that when Mary was ten years old, she became pregnant in one hour, and the body of the child was formed in that very hour, and in that very hour the child was born. The birth of the child occurred when the sun was setting in the horizon

It has also been narrated from Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) that Mary's pregnancy lasted nine hours. (1)

Whatever the duration of her pregnancy was, the time came for the birth of the child. Women, in such a state, usually seek the help and refuge of their kindred that they might help them in the birth of their child. But Mary's situation was an exceptional one, she did not want anyone to witness her delivery, and as soon as the pain began, she set out toward the desert. The verse says

”So she conceived him (Jesus) and withdrew with him to a distance place “

In this regard the Qur'ān implies that the pain of childbirth drove her to the stump of a withered palm-tree from which only that trunk had remained; i.e. it was a dry tree. The verse says

”... And the pains of childbirth drove her to the trunk of a palm-tree “

In that condition, a storm of sadness and grief came over her pure being. This storm was so turbulent, and the burden on her shoulder was so heavy, that, as the verse says

”.’She said: ‘Would I had died ere this, and had been a thing forgotten...“

It is evident that it was not only the fear of future accusations that was pressing upon Mary's heart, there were also other problems such as delivering a child alone in the desert with no midwife or friend as a helper. There was no place to rest, nor water to drink, there was no food to eat, nor any means to take care of the child with what was available in the environment. These were all the discomforts that Mary had to tolerate

Imam Amir-ul-Mu'mineen Ali (a.s.) said: "The best clothing of the religion is modesty."
(Qurar-ul-Hikam, vol. ۲, p. ۳۹۸)

Ali-ibn-Abiṭālib (a.s.) said: "Verily modesty and chastity are among the specialties of Faith, and both of them are the epithets of the noble and the method of the (righteous." (Muntakhab-ul-Qurar, p. ۱۵۹)

Amir-ul-Mu'mineen Ali (a.s.) said: "The modesty of a man with himself is the fruit of (Faith." (Qurar-ul-Hikam, vol. ۱, p. ۳۸۶) Haḍrat Ali (a.s.) said: "Modesty is from Allah, the Pure, it protects (one ) from the (punishment of Hell Fire." (Qurar-ul-Hikam, vol. ۲, p. ۱۴۳)

And shake the trunk of the palm-tree towards yourself. It will drop on you fresh “ .٢٥
”.ripe dates

Commentary: verses ٢٤-٢٥

The Qur’ānic word /sariyyā/ means ‘a small stream’; and the term /janiyyā/ is applied
.’ for ‘a fruit which is ripe and ready to be picked off

Some commentators have said that the caller unto Mary has been Gabriel; but the context of the verses shows that the caller has been Jesus, in a manner that the mother hears his words and believes what he says, and, later with a calm mind, she .tells people to ask about her chastity from the child in the cradle

At the time of delivery and after it, women usually need tranquility, water and .appropriate food, the things which have been mentioned in these verses

The food which has been recommended in the Qur’ān and by some Islamic tradition for the woman who has already delivered, is fresh ripe dates. Also, the Prophet
:(p.b.u.h.) said

“\(The first food for the women who have already delivered, should be fresh dates\)” .\(١\)

p: ٢٢١

Haḍrat Ali (a.s.) says: “The best food for the pregnant woman is fresh dates, and there (is no medical treatment for her better than dates” .(1)

This is a Divine trial. The day when Mary was sound, a heavenly food was sent down for her, but today, when she is pregnant and has no assistant, she must shake the :palm-tree to get some food. However, the verse says

Then (a voice) called out unto her from beneath her: ‘Grieve not! Verily your Lord has “ ”.’made a stream to flow beneath you

Some commentators have said that the caller has been Jesus Himself (a.s.), who, from beneath her, called out that she should not be grieved (Grieve not!), and she should not ask for death. She ought to be sure that Allah would protect her from accusation and, by the miracles of Jesus (a.s.), He removes all accusations from her. One of those miracles was that very spring which was found by one step of Gabriel or that of Jesus, from which she both drunk and expurgated herself. Another miracle of Jesus (a.s.) was that he called unto her to shake the trunk of the palm-tree, which had been dead
.for years, in order to become green alive again and give her fresh dates

Mary started at once and found that tree. She shook it when some fresh dates fell :down for her. The verse says

And shake the trunk of the palm-tree towards yourself. It will drop on you fresh ripe “
”.dates

It seemed that Allah intended to show her that the similitude of her and Jesus was the similitude of that palm-tree and the dates; meaning that Allah is powerful to cause the fresh dates to fall from a dry dead palm-tree, to gash water from a plain land, and He is powerful to bring a complete human out of the womb of a husbandless woman during a few hours. This fact was made quietly manifest to Mary that that child was the great sign of Allah and also His condescension unto her, but she was amazed what to say to people so that it could remove the accusation from her. Then, the command of Allah came to her that ‘she should eat and drink

p: ۲۲۲

It is narrated from Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) that the best things which must be given to the ladies who have already conceived is dates and the dates produced in Medina in particular, but if it is not available, the fresh dates from other places might be given to them, or at least, some ordinary dates.

Mary was also commanded to drink the wholesome water of that spring, and to refresh her eyes by looking at that newborn child. What a refreshment of the eye can be better than this that Allah grants her a child with the rank of prophethood. A child who spoke at the beginning time of his birthday, and who had great miracles such as restoring to life the dead, healing the blind, and the like of them. (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, the Commentary

٢٦- فَكَلِمَىٰ وَاشْرَبِي وَقَرِّي عَيْنًا فَإِمَّا تَرِينِ مِنَ الْبَشَرِ أَحَدًا فَقُولِي

إِنِّي نَذَرْتُ لِلرَّحْمَانِ صَوْمًا فَلَنْ أُكَلِّمَ الْيَوْمَ إِنْسِيًّا

So eat and drink and refresh your eye; and if you meet any mortal, say: ‘Verily I “ ٢٦. have vowed a fast to the Beneficent (God), so never shall I speak today with any ”.’human being

Commentary: verse ٢٦

Point

Mary’s keeping silence fasting before people was either for that they had not the capacity of her answer, or speaking with them would result a negative consequence, or in continuation of their questions and that Mary gave them their answers, they .might suggest some other questions and new pretexts

Imam Şādiq (a.s.) said that fasting was not only an abstinence from eating and .drinking, and then he recited the verse under discussion

In this holy verse, Allah, the Pure, commands Mary to eat from that delicious and :nutritive food and to drink from that wholesome water. The verse says

”... So eat and drink “

She was also commanded to refresh her eye by that newly born child and not to be worried about the future; and if anybody asked her regarding it, she would say by sign that she had kept fasting (a silence fasting) for Allah, the Beneficent, and that :was why she could speak with no one. The verse continues saying and refresh your eye; and if you meet any mortal, say: ‘Verily I have vowed a fast... “

”.’to the Beneficent (God), so never shall I speak today with any human being

Therefore, she should have peace of mind from any points of view and should not let
.herself be grievous and sad

From the text of the verse, it is understood that the fast of silence was something familiar to that community, so they did not object to it however this kind of fasting is .not sanctioned in the religion of Islam

It is narrated from Imam Ali-ibn-il-Hussayn (a.s.) who said: “A fast of Silence is ”.prohibited

Ali-ibn-Abitālib (a.s.) has narrated from the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) who said: “The ”.first thing that a woman may eat after her delivery must be fresh dates

Some Islamic traditions denote that the best food for a pregnant woman, and her
.drug, is fresh dates

:Some points

Point

The hardships and inconveniences that Mary experienced during that short time, . ۱ and the wonderful things that occurred to her, by the grace of Allah, trained her and made her prepared for fostering one of the Arch-prophets of Allah, so that she could .afford her maternal duty in performing this great task very well

The process of events led her up to the last stage of difficulties, which was so exacting that she did not see the distance between life and death to be more than one step.
But suddenly the state of affairs changed. Everyone hastened to help her, and she was assured a calm atmosphere. The command to shake the palm-tree to enjoy its fruit, teaches her, as well as all other human beings, this lesson that effort and

.endeavour should not be abandoned even in the most difficult moments of life

Why Mary asked for death

This statement is an answer to those who think there should not have been any necessity for Mary, who had just given birth, to stand up and shake the palm-tree. This view states that it would have been better if the same Lord, by Whose command the spring had gushed forth in front of her, and by Whose order the dry tree had yielded fruit, had sent a breeze to shake the branch of the tree so that the dates would fall. They say that when Mary was healthy, heavenly fruits were sent to her sanctuary, and now when she was in dire physical and emotional difficulties, she had to shake the tree and pick up the fruit herself. The commandment is far from without wisdom, to recapitulate, it shows that there is no bounty unless we use effort. In other words, when the difficulties come forth, everybody must apply his utmost effort, and .that which is beyond his ability, he ought to seek it from Allah

Why Mary hoped for Death .r

There is no doubt that hoping for death is not a proper thing to do, but sometimes calamities and terrible events occur in the course of a person's life when the taste of life becomes utterly bitter for him, especially when his own honour and sacred aims are in danger and he does not have the ability to defend them. In such circumstances .he hopes for death in order to free himself of his spiritual tortures

What was on Mary's mind from the beginning was that the birth of this child could make her lose all her respect and honour in the eyes of those mindless people, so she hoped for death and that she would be forgotten. This itself is a proof of the fact that she valued chastity and piety more than her very life, and would rather die than live .without honour

These kinds of thoughts, however, bothered her only for a short time. When she contemplated these couple of miracles of Allah, (gashing water and fructification of the dry palm-tree), all her fears and anxieties, disappeared and the light of certainty and tranquility filled her whole heart

:An Answer to a Question

:An Answer to a Question .۴

Some sceptics say if miracles are only particular to prophets and Immaculate Imams, how could have those miracles appeared for Mary

To solve this problem, some commentators count these miracles as those wrought by Jesus, and say that they were done as miracles preliminary to prophethood, which in Arabic are called: /'irhādāt

But such questions need not be answered with answers such as these, because it is possible for supernatural events to occur in connection with people other than prophets and the Immaculate Imams. This is exactly what we call /kirāmat/ 'extraordinary act', whereas a miracle is accompanied with /taḥaddī/ 'a challenge' for it serves a proof for a prophet or an Imam

The Silence Fasting

:The Fast of Silence .۴

The verses under discussion show that Mary was held to a vow of silence and, by the command of Allah, she refrained from speaking to the people for a particular duration until her child, Jesus, began speaking and defended her chastity. This state was more appropriate and effective from all respects

The verse indicates that the vow of silence was a familiar habit for those people and as such they did not object to it from her

.This kind of fasting, however, is not lawful in the religion of Islam

It is narrated from Imam Ali-ibn-il-Hussayn (a.s.) that he said: “The fast of silence is prohibited”.<sup>(۱)</sup> And this prohibition reflects the difference between the conditions prevailing at that time and those at the time of the advent of Islam

Nevertheless, one of the etiquettes of a perfect fast in Islam, of course, is that, when fasting the believer should protect his tongue from committing sins and doing what is disapproved and restrain his eyes from looking at any corruption

Imam Şādiq (a.s.) in a tradition has said: “Verily fasting is not merely to restrain oneself from eating and drinking alone. Surely Mary said: ‘Verily I have vowed a fast to the Beneficent (God)’, i.e. the silence. Therefore (when you are in fasting) protect your tongue, restrain your eyes from whatever is sin, be not envious of each other, (and do not get into conflict.”<sup>(۲)</sup>

A nutritive food

A Nutritive Food .۵

The verses under discussion clearly say that Allah sent fresh dates for Mary’s food at the time of childbirth. With this in mind, commentators have said that the best food for women after their childbirth is fresh dates

This idea has been explicitly indicated as such in the Islamic literature as well. Imam Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) has narrated from the holy Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) who said: “The first thing a woman is to eat after childbirth should be fresh dates, since Allah told Mary: ‘And shake the trunk of the palm-tree towards yourself. It will drop on you fresh ripe dates’.”<sup>(۳)</sup>

Man-lāyahḍuruhul-Faghīh, adapted from Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, vol. ۳, p. ۳۳۲ –۲

Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, vol. ۳, p. ۳۳۰ –۳

The explanation in some commentaries that cite this tradition, implies that eating this food is not only useful for the mother, but will also affect her milk

Again, it is understood from some Islamic traditions that the best food for a pregnant woman, as well as her medicine, is fresh dates,<sup>(١)</sup> and, if it is not available, ordinary dates can be used. But, moderation must be observed in everything, even in this matter

Some scientists and food specialists say that dates are abundant in nutrition and have one of the healthiest sugars which can be used even by some diabetic patients

The same scientists say that there are ١٣ vital substances and five kinds of vitamins found in dates, all of which make it a rich source of food.<sup>(٢)</sup>

It is also well known that in such a state, women are intensely in need of some nutritive food which are full of vitamins

With the progress of medical science, the importance of dates as a medicine has been proved

Calcium is found in dates which is an important substance in strengthening bones and teeth. There is also phosphorus which is one of the main elements that make up man's brain. It hinders neurasthenia and fatigue. Dates contain potassium, the lack of which causes ulcers in the stomach

Some of them, who were hasty in judgment, said about Mary that it was a pity with that glorious background and this pollution! And a thousand pities her pure family who became so disgraced like that. Then, as the verse says, they encountered her as :follows

:Some others, addressing Mary, told her

Commentary: verses ٢٩-٣٠

Since Mary had observed a silence fasting, in order to fulfill her vow, she signed
:instead of speaking. The verse says

Then Mary pointed to him. They said: ‘How shall we speak to one who is (yet) a child “
” ’?in the cradle

The first word of Jesus (a.s.) was about servitude unto Allah, but his followers
.exaggerated and considered Jesus as God or God’s son

Once Imam Baqir (a.s.) was asked whether Haḍrat Jesus (a.s.) was also the witness of Allah when Jesus was in cradle. Imam (a.s.) said Jesus (a.s.) was a prophet then, but he was not a Messenger until when he was seven years old. It was in that year that (the rank of Messengership was bestowed on him. (Tafsīr-i-Kanz-ud-Daghāyegh

By a short sentence, Jesus (a.s.) both banished the accusation from his mother, and spoke about his own future, and pointed to the future duty of people. The verse in this
:regard says

He (miraculously) said: ‘Verily I am a servant of Allah; He has given me the Book and “
”.’made me a prophet

However, the Qur’ān in the first verse says that Mary was silent to obey the command of Allah. The only thing she did was that she pointed to her new-born-child, Jesus, when her action caused the people’s astonishment more than before. They told her:

”?“How shall we speak to one who is (yet) a child in the cradle

According to some other commentary books, they said to each other that the mockery and ridicule of Mary was harder and heavier to them than her deviation from
.the path of chastity

But this situation did not last so long, because that new-born-child started speaking, and said: “Verily I am a servant of Allah; He has given me the Book and made me a ”.prophet

”prayer and almsgiving so long as I live

And (He has made me) kind to my mother, and He has not made me arrogant “ ٣٢
”.unblessed

Commentary: verses ٣١-٣٢

Point

The existence of Jesus (a.s.) was a blessed thing in which there were a lot of interests, education of others, and its continuation. Hadrat Jesus (a.s.) both lives a long blessed life which lasts until after the reappearance of Imam Mahdī (a.s.), and his followers .are abundant and are victorious against the infidels

The origin of good things and blessings are mainly intentions, aims, and innate modes and virtues. Therefore, some people are blessed wherever they may be, as the verse, :concerning Jesus, says

”...And He has made me blessed wherever I may be “

But, some others, because of their spiritual difficulties and their separation from spirituality, are faced with their own evil qualities, and usually they are not useful for .others wherever they may be

p: ٢٣٤

By mentioning the word ‘mother’, Jesus (a.s.) has pointed to the chastity of his mother, Mary, and his lack of father, when he says

”... ,And (He has made me) kind to my mother “

Also, the Qur’ān, from the tongue of Jesus, in this verse implies that Allah has made him a blessed being, or a useful being for people, wherever he may be, and He has enjoined him to prayer and almsgiving so long as he is alive. The verse, in this regard, continues saying

”.and He has enjoined on me prayer and almsgiving so long as I live... “

And, by the next verse, Jesus after implying that Allah made him kind, benevolent, and appreciative unto his mother, adds that He did not make him arrogant and ;damned. The verse continues saying

”.and He has not made me arrogant unblessed... “

An Islamic tradition indicates that Jesus (a.s.) has said: “My heart is mild and I humble myself to my self.” This statement is an indication to this fact that the opposite state of ‘being arrogant and unblessed’ is these two epithets

:A few traditions about Prayer, Almsgiving, and kindness to Parents

:A. Prayer

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said: “Islam has been founded on five things: prayer, almsgiving, .1 (Hajj, fasting and the mastership (of Ahl-ul-Bayt).” (Biḥār, vol. ۸۲, p. ۲۳۴

The Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) said: “The most beloved things with Allah are prayer .۲ .at its time, then kindness to parents, then Holy Struggle in the way of Allah

(Kanz-ul-‘Ummal, vol.۷, tradition No.۱۸۸۹۷)

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “The one who takes his prayer lightly is not of me. No, by Allah, such a person will not reach me by the Houḍ, the pool of abundance.”

(Bihār-ul-’Anwār, vol. ۸۲, p. ۲۲۴)

:B. Almsgiving

It is narrated from Ali-ibn-Abīṭālib (a.s.) who said: “The pillars of Islam are three, none of which is useful without the other two. They are: Prayer, almsgiving, and the (guardianship (of the Ahl-ul-Bayt).” (Bihār-ul-’Anwār, vol. ۶۸, p. ۳۸۶)

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “Cure your patients by means of charity (sadaghah), and protect your property by the alms tax (Zakāt

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) said: “One who restrains paying as much as a Qīrat (about ۲.۳ grams) of the (obligatory) alms tax (Zakāt), will die as a Jew or a Christian.” (Wasā’il-ush-Shī‘ah, p. ۱۸۶)

Imam Mūsa-ibn-Ja‘far (a.s.) said: “Verily the Alms tax has been assigned as a provision for the poor and as a means for the increase of their wealth.” (Wasā’il-ush-Shī‘ah, vol. ۶ p. ۴)

However, communication with Allah (prayer) is not separate from communication with the deprived (almsgiving

:C. Kindness to the Parents

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) said: “The best deeds are: prayer in its time, kindness to parents, (and Holy Struggle in the way of Allah.” (Bihār-ul-’Anwār, vol. ۷۴, p. ۸۵)

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “One who obeys the command of Allah regarding parents, two doors of the Paradise will be opened for him; and if he obeys (the command of Allah regarding) one of them, then one (door will be opened (to him)).” (Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, vol. ۱۶, p. ۴۶۷

The holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in a tradition has said: “He who obeys his parents and His .۳ Lord, will be in the highest position (of Heaven in Hereafter).” (Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, vol. ۶, (p. ۴۶۸

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “The person who pleases his parents, has .۴ pleased Allah; and the one who discontents his parents, has discontended Allah.” ((Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, vol. ۱۶, p. ۴۷۰

The Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) said: “The person who likes his lifetime to be .۵ prolonged and his sustenance to be increased, then he should be kind to his parents (and visit his kin.” (Kanz-ul-‘Ummāl, vol. ۱۶, p. ۴۷۵

Sura Maryam, No. ۱۹, verse ۱۵-۱

٣٤- ذَلِكْ عِيسَى ابْنُ مَرْيَمَ قَوْلَ الْحَقِّ الَّذِي فِيهِ يَمْتَرُونَ

٣٥- مَا كَانَ لِلَّهِ أَنْ يَتَّخِذَ مِنْ وَلَدٍ سُبْحَانَهُ إِذَا قَضَىٰ أَمْرًا فَإِنَّمَا يَقُولُ لَهُ كُنْ فَيَكُونُ

”This is Jesus, son of Mary, a statement of truth, concerning which they doubt “ .٣٤

It is not befitting to Allah that He should beget a son. Glory be to Him! When He “ .٣٥

”.decrees a thing, He only says unto it: ‘Be’, and it is

Commentary: verses ٣٤-٣٥

Point

Formerly the Qur’ān illustrated clearly the event of the birth of Jesus through previous verses. Now, it refers to the negation of the superstitions and the polytheistic words that they have said about Jesus (a.s.). It says

”... ,This is Jesus, son of Mary “

The Qur’ān emphasizes on the fact that Jesus is the son of Mary, in order to negate his being as the son of God, and then, it adds

”.a statement of truth, concerning which they doubt ...“

***

:Then, in the next verse, it explicitly says

”... !It is not befitting to Allah that He should beget a son. Glory be to Him “

But, if He intends something and commands, He says to it ‘Be’ and it will come into being, too. The verse continues saying

p: ٢٣٩

”.When He decrees a thing, He only says unto it: ‘Be’, and it is ... “

This statement indicates that having son for Allah, in the form that the Christians imagine it unto Him, does not fit the sanctity of the Rank of Allah. On one side, its requisite is the existence of body, and on the other side, there should be considered a .limitation for Him, and on the third side, Allah does not need anything

The expression saying “‘Be’ and it is” is a very lively illustration unto the vast power of .Allah and His domination and sovereignty over the subject of creation

*****

:Explanations

Jesus Christ (a.s.) has been introduced through the afore mentioned verses by seven .outstanding epithets and two accomplishments

:A. The epithets of Jesus Christ

”.To be a servant of Allah: “Verily am a servant of Allah .۱

”.To bring a heavenly Book: “...He has given me the Book .۲

”.To be a prophet: “...and made me a prophet .۳

”.To be blessed: “And He has made me blessed .۴

”.To be kind unto the mother: “And (He has made me) kind to my mother .۵

”.Not to be arrogant and unblessed: “He not made me arrogant and unblessed .۶

”.To be humble, gratitude, and prosperous: “And peace be on me .۷

:B. Two accomplishments

One of them is prayer and the other is almsgiving (zakāt). The above mentioned verse
.”says that the truth about Jesus is just what Allah said: “This is Jesus, son of Mary

In the holy Qur’ān, the Christians have been repeatedly mentioned as deviated whose belief about Christ, as the son of God, is wrong. For example, in Sura Al-Mā’idah, No. ٥, verse ٧٣, it says: “certainly they disbelieve who say: ‘Verily Allah is the third of the three’, ...” And, in Sura At-Taubah, No. ٩, verse ٣٠, it says: “ ...and the Christians say: ‘The Messiah is the son of God’ ...”. But, this verse, shows the correct argument in .response to these erroneous claims regarding the characteristics of Jesus

There is no need to say that the Will of Allah comes into being, even without the expression of ‘Be’, but Allah has described His Will for us in this manner so that we .could understand it

Allah is Omnipotent, and He is not in need of anything or any means in creating, His infinite Power is a reason why He is far exalted from powerlessness and from
.begetting a son

:The Qur’ān and the Christ

As a result of the stiff pressure that the pagans of Mecca put upon the followers of the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.), a group of Muslims, accompanied by Ja‘far-ibn-Abīṭālib, by the order of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), migrated to Ethiopia (Abyssinia). The pagans of the Quraysh thought that if the Muslims could become powerful there and form a government, they would be able to root out the idolatry that the polytheists practiced. They sent ‘Amru‘āṣ and with a delegation to Ethiopia bearing presents for the .ministers of Najāshī, the king of Abyssinia

Those ministers took the presents from them to put Najāshī to motion against the emigrant Muslims. But Najāshī decided to personally summon the Muslims and hearken to their sayings. Ja‘far, who was the representative of the Muslims, began speaking at the presence of the king of Ethiopia. He said his words about the wrongdoings of idolatry, superstitions and transgressions of the Age of Ignorance. He informed Najāshī of the advent of Islam and luminosity of the religion of Haḍrat Muhammad (p.b.u.h.). Ja‘far spoke so influentially that Najāshī wept and sent the pagans’ presents back to them. He said: “The Lord, Who gave me power, did not take ”?bribery from me. Why should I take bribery from you That meeting ended with the benefit of Muslims and the loss of infidels. After this defeat, ‘Amru‘āṣ contemplated and, on the following day, offered the king a new suggestion. In order to excite the religious zeal of Najāshī, he told him that Muslims had some notions which were against his belief. Najāshī summoned Muslims once more and asked them their belief about Messiah (a.s.). In answer to him, Ja‘far Ṭayyar recited some verses of the Qur’ān from Sura Maryam up to the verse which says: “

”.This is Jesus, son of Mary, a statement of truth, concerning which they doubt

By hearing the verses of the Qur’ān, Najāshī shed tears and said: “This is the truth”. After this second defeat, when ‘Amru‘āṣ wanted to start another new effort, Najāshī \(raised his hand and gave him a sharp slap in his face.\)

Commentary: verse ٣٦

The persistence of Messiah (a.s.) on Monotheism, and his emphasis that the straight path is only this one, is an answer to the adherents of trinity as well as others. (A similar text to the abovementioned holy verse has also occurred in Sura 'Āl-i-'Imrān, (No. ٣, verse ٥١, and Sura Az-Zukhruf, No. ٤٣, verse ٤٤

Through introducing himself, Jesus (a.s.) said he was a servant of Allah: “...Verily I am (servant of Allah ...)” (١)

Then, the first command he received was about prayer and worship: “...and He has enjoined on me prayer...” (٢), and the first program he announced was worshipping Allah: “... So worship (only) Him...”. Thus taking Jesus as a Son of God is an alteration in .religion which causes blasphemy

However, this verse implies that the last word of Jesus, after introducing himself with the qualities which were previously referred to, is the subject of Monotheism, specially on the field of worship, on which he emphasized more. By this verse, Jesus
:(a.s.) says

And verily Allah is my Lord and your Lord, so worship (only) Him. This is a straight “

Commentary: verses ٣٧-٣٨

The Christians differed about the Christ

A party’ is a group of people working with together and who have some particular‘
.goals and position which are usually united

The Arabic word /mašhad/ means either the site of the attendance of people, or the place of bearing witness, because, on the Day of Judgment both people attend there,
.and a lot of witnesses from angels and prophets will testify upon the deeds of man

Some people believed in Jesus as God, like the group of Ya‘qhūbiyyah; some others said that he was son of God, like the group of Naṣṭūriyyah, while some other people
.believed in trinity, like Israīliyyah

But, on the Day of Resurrection, all of these groups will testify to the falsehood of their (beliefs. (Tafsīr-i-’Aṭyāb-ul-Bayān

Despite all the emphasis Jesus placed upon the subject of monotheism and the ,worship of the One God, yet, after him some groups among his followers differed and expressed different ideas about the :Messiah. Referring to this the verse says

Then the sects did differ among themselves; and woe to those who disbelieved “
” .because of presence on the great day

The history of Christianity is also good evidence proving that after the Christ, they differed greatly about him and about the subject of monotheism. Some of them said: “He is God who has come down on earth and has brought a group of people to life and
” .has caused others to die, then He ascended to heaven

Others said: “He is the son of God”, while others said: “He is one of the three persons:
” .the Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost

Yet others said: “He is the third of the three. God is the object of worship, Jesus is also ” .an object of worship, and his mother also is an object of worship

.Finally, some his followers said that he was the servant of Allah and His Messenger

Since deviation from the principle of Monotheism is counted as the greatest deviation .of the Christians, at the end of the verse they are severely warned

****

In the next verse, the Qur’ān describes their state when they are present at the :gathering-place of resurrection. It says

”... !How well they will hear and see on the day they come to Us “

But, now that they are in this life, these cruel people are in a manifest aberration busy
:with their transgression. The verse continues saying

”But the unjust (even) this day are in manifest straying...”

In principal, the observation of that court in Hereafter and the effects of the deeds, Verily We inherit the earth and all that are upon it and unto Us they shall be “ ٤٠ .

Commentary: verses ٣٩-٤٠

The gate of all misfortunes is negligence: negligence from the Lord, negligence from Hereafter, negligence from sins, negligence from plots, negligence from the poor and the deprived, negligence from the history and its courses, and negligence from .adolescence, abilities, talents and preparednesses of development

One of the names of Hereafter is ‘the Day of Regret’, regret for the missed opportunities and for the lost capitals. Death of a man in the state of negligence and .faithlessness, is a source of regret

Therefore, this verse addresses the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and commands him to warn the pagans of Mecca from the Day when the sinners will regret why they had not done some more good deeds. This Day is the Day of Resurrection. Some commentators say .that in that Day only those who deserve punishment will regret

In Ṣaḥīḥ-i-Muslim there has been narrated by Abū-Saʿīd-i-Khidrī that the Prophet of Islam said: “When the people of Heaven will enter Paradise and the people of Hell will enter the Hell Fire, all of them will be called and, thus, their attentions will be attracted. Then, the death will be shown to them and they will be told: ‘Do you know death?’ They will say: ‘This is the death’, while they all know it. Then, the death will be perished and the people of Paradise will be said to that there will be no death and they are eternal; and the people of Hell will also be said to that there will be no death and ”.they are eternal. This is the meaning of ‘And warn them of the Day of Regret

The believers in Imamate have narrated this tradition from Imam Baqir (a.s.) and Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) who had added at its end that: “The people of Paradise will become so happy that if there were death there, all of them would die because of (inconvenience.” (The commentary of Aṣ-Ṣāfi, Majma‘-ul-Bayān, and Al-Burhān

:The verse continues saying

”... when the matter shall have been decreed... “

On that Day, the affairs will become one-sided. A group of people go into Paradise .while another group will be sent into Hell

Some commentators say that it means that the life of this world has ended and no one will come back to this world to recompense the events of the last; and on that .Day all people will be treated justly

”.while they are (now) in negligence and they do not believe ...“

.In this world, people are busy with some vain affairs and often forget the Hereafter

In the next verse, Allah says that He will take up the inhabitants of the earth from the earth and He will inherit the earth and those who are on it, because there will remain no one on the earth to claim ownership or to be able interfere in it. Point

Abraham preaches Unity of Allah and exhorts his people to abstain from idol-worship

۴۱- وَادْكُرْ فِي الْكِتَابِ إِبْرَاهِيمَ إِنَّهُ كَانَ صِدِّيقًا نَبِيًّا

”And mention Abraham in the Book; verily he was a truthful man, a prophet “ .۴۱

Commentary: verse ۴۱

The Arabic term /ṣiddīq/ is applied for both the person who verifies the truth very much, and the person whose all words and deeds are based upon truthfulness. Such a person acts according to what he says, and speaks according to what he acts

This holy verse uncovers a part of the life of the hero of Monotheism, Abraham the Friend of God, and emphasizes that the invitation of this great prophet, as that of other Divine prophets, has begun from the point of Monotheism

The verse implies that Abraham should be mentioned in this Book, the Qur’ān, because he was a man of truth and an attester of the Divine teachings and commandments. He was a prophet of Allah, too. The verse says

”And mention Abraham in the Book; verily he was a truthful man, a prophet “

In fact, this meaning is the most evident epithet of the godly prophets and the bringers of the Divine revelations that they do convey the command of Allah to the servants of God completely

٤٢- إِذْ قَالَ لِأَبِيهِ يَا أَبَتِ لِمَ تَعْبُدُ مَا لَا يَسْمَعُ وَلَا يُبْصِرُ وَلَا يُغْنِي عَنْكَ شَيْئًا

When he said to his father: ‘O my father! Why do you worship that which neither “ .٤٢
”hears nor sees, nor does avail you in aught

Commentary: verse ٤٢

Point

When Abraham was preaching as a prophet, his father had died, and the man whom has been introduced in the Qur’ān as his father was his guardian, his uncle ‘Āzar, or .(his mother’s husband. (Al-Mīzān, the Commentary

Some Islamic traditions also denote that Abraham’s father was a monotheist, and the objective meaning of the Qur’ānic word /’ab/, here, is his uncle. In Arabic language the term /’ab/ has a vast meaning. It is also applied for the teacher, the trainee, and even .for the father-in-law

There is also a tradition narrated from the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) who said: “ I and .(Ali are the fathers of this Ummah (Muslim community

Then, the verse points to the debate of Abraham and his father, ‘Āzar. (Father here is :referred to the uncle). It says

When he said to his father: ‘O my father! Why do you worship that which neither “
”hears nor sees, nor does avail you in aught

This short and expressive statement is one of the best evidences of the negation of polytheism and idolatry. One of the man’s motives alongside knowing Allah is the motive of benefit and loss. Abraham says to ‘Āzar why he relies on a

.deity which neither removes a difficulty from him, nor it is able to hear and see

:Explanations

The disputations of Abraham and his uncle are worthy of mentioning and . ۱
”...magnifying. “When he said

(...In ‘forbidding of wrong’, you should begin from your own kin. (...O my father . ۲

There is no age limitation for forbidding of wrong. (A son can forbid the grand . ۳ members of the family from doing evils, but he must observe their respect and (.protect it

Perfection of persons does not always relate to their age. Sometimes it happens . ۴
.that the child of a family understand the facts better than the elders of that family

In forbidding of wrong, it is better to begin from the creedal indecencies. . ۵
.(Unfortunately we are often busy in the ethical and social vices

The path of truth should not be sacrificed for affections. Relationship ought not to . ۶
.hinder the act of forbidding of wrong

".you, so follow me, I will guide you on a right path

O' my father! Serve not Satan. Verily Satan is disobedient unto the Beneficent " .٤٤
".(Allah

Commentary: verses ٤٣-٤٤

After that, Abraham (a.s.) invites 'Āzar, with a clear logic in order that he follows him
:(a.s.) in that matter. He (a.s.) says

!O my father “

There has come unto me of knowledge which has not come unto you, so follow me, I
".will guide you on a right path

That is, I have got a lot of knowledge by means of revelation, and I can say with certainty that I will not go on a wrong way, so I will never invite you unto a wrong way.
I desire your felicity and your happiness, then accept my invitation to become .prosperous, and, by paving this straight path, to reach the ideal destination

****

Then, in the next verse, Abraham combines this positive aspect with the negative aspect, and the consequences that the opposition with this invitation produces, and
:says

!O' my father “

”.(Serve not Satan. Verily Satan is disobedient unto the Beneficent (Allah

The objective meaning of “Serve not Satan” is the same as obeying and following Satan which causes man to become its servant and slave

Of course, it is evident that the purpose of service, here, is not a service in the sense of prostration, prayer, and fasting performed for Satan, but it is in the sense of obeying and following the command of Satan which itself is counted a kind of service

The meaning of ‘worship, or service’ is so vast that it encompasses even the listening to the sayings of a person with the intention of acting accordingly, and also putting the rule of a person to order, is counted a kind of worshipping him

:It has been narrated from the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) who said

He who listens to a speaker (willingly), he has worshipped him. Then, if the speaker“ speaks from the side of Allah, the one has worshipped Allah, and if the speaker speaks from the side of Iblis, the one has worshipped Iblis.”\(1\)

However, Abraham wants to teach this fact to his father (uncle) that no one can live without having a path, a policy. It may be either the path of Allah and the straight way, or the path of Satan, the disobedient, the astray. In this course, man should think correctly, take a decision for himself, and, far from bigotries and blindly followings, choose his good and benefit

O my father! I fear lest a chastisement afflict you from the Beneficent (Allah) so “ .٤٥
”.that you become a friend to Satan

Commentary: verse ٤٥

Through this holy verses once more Abraham attracts the attention of 'Āzar to the evil
:sequels of polytheism and idolatry, when he says

O my father! I fear lest a chastisement afflict you from the Beneficent (Allah) so that “
”.you become a friend to Satan

The statement of Abraham, here, before his uncle, 'Āzar, is very attractive. On one side, he frequently addresses him with the phrase: 'O my father' which is a sign of respect and courtesy. On the other side, the holy phrase 'I fear lest a chastisement afflict you ...' indicates that Abraham is worried that any disquiet reaches 'Āzar. And on the third side, the phrase 'a chastisement afflict you from the Beneficent (Allah)' points to this matter that due to his polytheism and idolatry, 'Āzar's state has reached a point that Allah, whose general compassion has encompassed everybody, becomes angry with him and punishes him. 'Āzar has to note what a horrible thing he does! And, on the fourth said, his deed is an action of which is to go under the shade of the .friendship of Satan

***

Allah (s.w.t.) says: “And as for those who belie Our Signs, chastisement shall afflict . ۱

He said: ‘Do you dislike my gods O’ Abraham? If you do not desist, I will certainly “ .٤٦

Commentary: verse ٤٦

In the former verses, the logical words of Abraham (a.s.) alongside the guidance of ‘Āzar which were mixed with a particular compassion and kindness, were referred to. Now, the turn is for the answers of ‘Āzar to those words, so that, by comparing them .both, the fact may become manifest

The Qur’ān implies that, not only the sympathetic and helpful statements of Abraham did not affect on ‘Āzar’s heart, but also, by hearing them, he became very angry and .said to Abraham whether he hated his gods

He said: ‘Do you dislike my gods O Abraham? If you do not desist, I will certainly “
” .’stone you. Be gone from me for a long time

It is interesting that, firstly, ‘Āzar was not even willing to hear the denial upon the idols, or to utter any opposition and ill-speaking against them, but he only said: “Do you dislike my gods?” lest the idols be aspersed. Secondly, when ‘Āzar wanted to threaten Abraham, he threatened him to stoning, and he emphasized on his action by the word ‘certainly’; and we know that stoning is one of the worst kind of slaying. Thirdly, he did not suffice to this conditioned threat, but, at the same time, he considered Abraham as an unbearable being when he told him 'Be gone from me for a long time'. This is a very aspersive meaning that .sometimes some angry persons use against their opponents

And I will withdraw from you and what you call on besides Allah, and I will call “ ٤٨ .

Commentary: verse ٤٨

Point

:In this holy verse, Allah, the Exalted, states the words of Abraham (a.s.) as follows

And I will withdraw from you and what you call on besides Allah, and I will call upon“
”.my Lord: may be I shall not remain unblessed in calling upon my Lord

This verse, in one side, indicates the courtesy of Abraham unto his uncle, 'Āzar, that when he said: “Be gone from me”, Abraham accepted; and, on the other side, it defines his conclusiveness in his belief. Abraham impliedly says that his separation from him ('Āzar) is not for the reason that he has renounced his firm belief in Monotheism, but it is for the lack of preparation in 'Āzar unto accepting the truth

However, Abraham announces that if he calls upon his Lord, He answers him, but how miserable they are that they call upon some more miserable ones than themselves .who never answer their prayer, nor they even hear them

:Explanations

Those young people who live among some deluded families, should follow the line of

So when he withdrew from them and what they worshipped besides Allah, We “ .٤٩
”.bestowed on him Isaac and Jacob and each (of them) We made a prophet

Commentary: verse ٤٩

Point

A godly action performed by a grandfather may bring the bounty of Allah for a .generation

Abraham (a.s.) kept his word and persisted fully on his own promise with resistance. He was always the caller of Monotheism even though all the members of the heretic society of that time raised against him, but, finally, he did not remain alone. A great many people became his followers during all centuries so that all the theists of the world are proud of him. The Qur’ān implies when he withdrew from all the things they worshipped other than Allah, the Lord bestowed on him Isaac and after Isaac his son :Jacob, each of whom were made a great prophet by Allah. The verse says

So when he withdrew from them and what they worshipped besides Allah, We “
”.bestowed on him Isaac and Jacob and each (of them) We made a prophet

This great bounty was the fruit of that resistance which Abraham showed from .himself in the way of struggling against idols and withdrawing from that false creed

Abraham desisted from stars, moon, and sun, and won Allah's favour. He said: "...I do not like the setting ones."<sup>(١)</sup> He (a.s.) left his deviated uncle and, consequently, (became the father of all people: "...the faith of your father Abraham;..."<sup>(٢)</sup>

His uncle was in ill terms with him by saying: "Be gone from me for a long time"<sup>(٣)</sup>, but Allah favoured him because Abraham said: "... for verily He is ever affectionate to (me."<sup>(٤)</sup>

Abraham withdrew from them for the sake of Allah and said: "I will withdraw from you"<sup>(٥)</sup>, then he became famous in the world: "...and assigned unto them a high and (true renown"<sup>(٦)</sup>

He run away from the temple of idols and he became the builder of the House of Monotheism: "And (remember) when Abraham and Ishmael raised up the foundations of the House; ..." <sup>(٧)</sup>. He sacrificed his life in the path of Allah, and, as a result of it, the fire became safe and sound for him: "We said: 'O fire be a comfort and peace to Abraham"<sup>(٨)</sup>. He prepared his son to be devoted as a sacrifice: "...he threw him down upon his forehead"<sup>(٩)</sup>, and Allah ransomed him with a great sacrifice which later .became obligatory in that place

A righteous child is the reward of the godly efforts of the parents, and more important
.than that is the child’s spiritual rank

When Abraham (a.s.) withdrew from those arrogant idol worshippers and went toward the Holy Land, Allah bestowed on him Isaac as his son, and Jacob as his grandson, and He comforted him from the pain and of separation of his relatives by
.bestowing children on him and ornamenting them with the rank of prophethood

Besides children and prophethood, Allah also bestowed on him some other bounties and caused them to be honoured among people so that their good names were mentioned respectfully by all people. The adherents of all religions love Abraham and his progeny so that they pray for them and consider them the followers of their own
.religion

Some commentators say that the meaning of ‘high renown’ about them is that Muhammad (p.b.u.h.) and his community continue mentioning their good name until (the Day of Resurrection. (Majma‘-ul-Bayān

The application of /lisān/ in such contexts means a remembrance of a person mentioned among people; and when it is added with the term /ṣidq/ it means ‘a good remembrance and fame among people’; and when it is added with the term /‘aliyan/, which means ‘high, outstanding’, their concept is that a very good thought and remembrance of a person remains among people. The verse

:says

Commentary: verse ۵۱

Point

This verse and the next couple of verses have a short explanation about Moses (a.s.), a progeny from the descent of Abraham. At first, the Qur’ān addresses the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) and says

”... ;And mention Moses in the Book “

Then the Qur’ān continues numerating five Divine merits given to this great prophet, :Moses, in these holy verses. The abovementioned verse says

”for verily he was one purified, and he was an apostle, a prophet... “

:Explanations

The Arabic term /muxliṣ/ is applied for the person who works sincerely for Allah only, but it is possible that Satan influences in him and drags him toward polytheism. There are many persons who are sincere at the time of agony, but after relief they tend to infidelity. But the Qur'ānic word /muxlaṣ/ refers to those chosen persons in whom Satan cannot penetrate: “Except Your chosen servants among \(them.\)”\(1\)

As Kashshāf Commentary cites, /muxliṣ/ is a person who works for Allah, and /muxlaṣ/ is a person whom Allah has made sincere and has chosen him for Himself, and nothing .may affect him but Allah

Moses being chosen is recited in some other verses of the Qur'ān. For example, Allah (s.w.t.) says: “and I have chosen you, ...”\(2\); and somewhere else He says: “And I have \(chosen you for Myself.\)”\(3\)

Moses (a.s.) was both a Messenger and a prophet: “...he was an apostle, a prophet”. A prophet hears the sound of the angel but he does not see the angel, while a \(Messenger, besides hearing the sound of the angel, sees him.\)\(4\)

”And We granted unto him, out of Our Mercy, his brother Aaron a prophet “ ٥٣

Commentary: verses ٥٢-٥٣

Point

There is a mountain by the name of ‘Ṭūr’ in Syria. Some ones have said it is located between Egypt and Madyan.<sup>(١)</sup> Allah called Moses from the right side of the mountain. That is, when he was coming from Madyan and saw a fire in the tree, Allah called him and said: “...O Moses! Verily I am Allah, the Lord of the worlds.”<sup>(٢)</sup> Then Allah made .him nigh to Himself and spoke with him

Ibn-i-‘Abbās says: “Allah made him a near-stationed one and spoke with him.” The purpose of this ‘nearness’ is that He caused His word to reach him. In other words, Allah promoted his rank and gave him glory. It is like a servant who approaches his master and sits with him. Thus, the objective meaning of nearness, here, is respect and glorification, not in the sense that he has become nigh to Allah from the point of distance and place, because Allah has no place so that a person

---

١- Kashef-ul-‘Asrār, the commentary

٢- Sura Al-Qaṣaṣ, No. ٢٨, verse ٣٠

approaches that place or gets distance from it, or another person becomes nearer to that place. The verse says

And We called him from the right side of (the Mount) Sinai and made him draw nigh “
”(unto Us) for a converse in secret

***

However, Moses (a.s.) prayed to Allah, saying: “And give me an aider from my (family.” (1)

Then Allah accepted his prayer and bestowed on him gracefully his brother Aaron and :gave him the rank of prophethood to be an aid for his brother. The verse says

”.And We granted unto him, out of Our Mercy, his brother Aaron a prophet “

:Explanations

The debate and communication of Moses with Allah has been referred to in the . 1 Qur’ān both by the sense of ‘speaking’, where it says: “...and Allah spoke directly unto Moses a (peculiar) speech.” (2), and by the sense of ‘calling’, used in the abovementioned verse: “And We called him...”, and by the sense of ‘a secret
,converse

.Step by step, Allah makes prophets nigh to Himself by His Grace and affection . 2

Allah has whispered some matters secretly with the prophets. Therefore, the rank . 3 of nearness of ‘a secret converse’ is the highest rank. That is why Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) says: “When the people of Heaven are enjoying the (bounties of) the Heaven, the people of Allah are (busy with Allah (and are prattling to Him).” (Aṭyab-ul-Bayān, the commentary

The Arabic word /najiyy/ is used in the sense of its subjective case which means ‘the person who whispers secretly with another one’. Here, at first Allah called Moses from a long distance, and when he came near, He began whispering with him. (It is evident that Allah has neither, tongue nor a place, but He creates waves in the atmosphere and speaks with a mortal such as Moses). However, the call of Allah was an endowment unto Moses (a.s.), and His speaking with him was another bounty, which was counted the greatest honour for Moses and the sweetest moment in his life

The difference between a Messenger and a prophet

:The Difference between a Messenger and a Prophet .Δ

A ‘Messenger’ originally means a person on whom has been given a mission and a message to convey; while a ‘prophet’ is a person who is aware of Divine revelation and informs of it

But, in view of the Qur’ānic meanings, and according to what the Islamic traditions indicate, some commentators believe that ‘a Messenger’ is the person who has been given a religion and is commissioned to convey it; i.e., he receives the revelation of Allah and conveys it to people; while a prophet receives the divine revelation but his duty is not to convey it. That revelation is only for performing his own duty, or if he is asked of it, he answers it

In other words a prophet is like a skilful physician who is waiting in his office for the patients to receive them. He does not go after the patients, but if a patient refers to him, he does treat him

But, a Messenger is like an itinerant physician who travels here and there. Amir-ul-Mu'mineen Ali (a.s.) said about the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) that he was a roaming physician

That is, he used to go to every place (to cities, villages, mountains, plains, and deserts) in order to find the sick and treat them. The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was as a spring who sought for the thirsty ones

” .was an apostle, a prophet

And he used to enjoin on his family prayer and almsgiving, and he was well “ ٥٥

” .of his Lord

Commentary: verses ٥٤-٥٥

The appellation Ism'īl, mentioned in this holy verse, refers either to Abraham's son, or another prophet from the prophets of the Children of Israel, by the name of Isma'īl-
:ibn-Hizqīl (Ishmael the son of Ezekiel). The verse says

And mention Ismail in the Book, verily he was (ever) true to (his) promise, and he was “
” .an apostle, a prophet

It has been narrated from Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) who says: “He (Isma'īl) used to invite people to Monotheism. His people stood against him so hard that they scalped him out of his head and face. Allah made him optional for their punishment or forgiveness. Isma'īl also left their affair to Allah whether He would punish them or forgive them

(Majma‘-ul-Bayān, the Commentary)

All prophets were loyal in promise, but the appearance of this quality had been more .manifest in Isma'īl

Being true to promise is a Divine attribute. The Qur'ān says: “Verily Allah

.never fails (His) promise” (۱), because breach of promise is a sign of hypocrisy

Some Islamic traditions indicate that there are three signs for hypocrite: abuse of confidence, falsehood in speech, and breach in promise. (۲)

***

The second verse implies that, at last, Ismail enjoined his family, or his people, to perform prayer, almsgiving, night prayer, charity and fast, so that Allah was well pleased of his manner, because he did nothing but obeying Allah and never committed any vice. The verse says

And he used to enjoin on his family prayer and almsgiving, and he was well pleased “
” in the sight of his Lord

Some commentators have said that the term /mardīyy/, used in this verse, means: ‘righteous, pious, and worthy’. It was for the sake of these very qualities that he gained a great honour with Allah, since the rank of Divine pleasure had been the greatest desire and goal of the prophets

Some Islamic traditions denote that when the people of Paradise settle in Paradise, there comes a call saying: “Do you want anything else?” They will say: “Our Lord, we (wish Your pleasure?) (The commentary of ’Aṭyab-ul-Bayān

٥٦. "And mention Idrīs in the Book; verily he was a truthful one, a prophet "

٥٧. "And We raised him to a lofty station "

Commentary: verses ٥٦-٥٧

In the first holy verse of the abovementioned couple of verses, the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is addressed, saying

"And mention Idrīs in the Book; verily he was a truthful one, a prophet "

The Qur'ānic term /ṣiddīq/ is used in the sense of 'a very truthful person who verifies the revelations of Allah and who is submitted to the truth

:Then, in the second verse, Allah, referring to Idrīs' high rank, says

"And We raised him to a lofty station "

The purpose of the Qur'ānic phrase: 'a lofty station' is either a high spiritual rank, or the process of ascent to the heavens, because Allah took four prophets to the heavens: Idrīs, Jesus, Khidr, and Elias (Elija). (The Commentary of Aṭyab-ul-Bayān

However, the Qur'ānic arrangement of the words 'a truthful one, a prophet' in the verse, where the term 'a truthful one' has been preceded to 'a prophet', denotes that 'truthfulness' is a sign of 'prophethood

Haḍrat Idrīs (a.s.) is one of the ancestors of Haḍrat Noah (a.s.). He was named Idrīs, in Arabic, for the reason that he had been very busy with study<sup>(1)</sup>, or for the sake that he had been the first person who wrote with pen.<sup>(2)</sup> His holy appellation, Idrīs, has been mentioned in the Qur’ān twice, and he has been glorified by the qualities of: /siddīq/ ((truthful), /ṣābir/ (patient), and /nabiyy/ (prophet

An Islamic tradition indicates that the house of ’Idrīs was in Sahlah Mosque, around (Najaf in Iraq.<sup>(3)</sup>

The first person who knew astronomy and arithmetic was Idrīs,<sup>(4)</sup> and he was the first (one who taught tailoring to men.<sup>(5)</sup> Idrīs lived for ۳۶۵ years, and then he was taken to heavens. He is alive now, and will (appear at the time of the reappearance of Haḍrat Mahdī (a.s.).<sup>(6)</sup>

By the way, upon the descent of Jesus (a.s.) to the earth at the time of the reappearance of Haḍrat Mahdī (a.s.) and Messiah’s keeping up prayer behind Haḍrat Mahdī, there are recorded many traditions in the books of traditions by written the Sunnite and the Shi’ite, including: Yanābī’-ul-Mawaddah, p. ۴۲۲, Tathkirat-ul-Khawāṣ, p.۳۷۷, Saḥīb-i-Muslim, vol. ۱, p. ۶۳, published in Egypt, ۱۳۴۸Ah, the book: Miftāh-i-Kunūz-us-Sunnah, by Bukhārī, Muslim; Nisā’ī; Ahmad; Ibn-i-Mājeḥ; Abī-Dāwood; Altiyālīsī; and the book: Al-Mahdī ‘Inda-Ahlis-Sunnah; and Mutakhab-ul-Athar Fī-Imam-uth-Thānī-‘Ashar

Through the previous verse, the names of ten prophets were pointed out: Zakariyyā (Zechariah), Yahyā (John); ‘Īsā (Jesus); ‘Ibrāhīm (Abraham); Ishāq (Isaac); Jacob; Moses; Aaron; Ishmael; ‘Idrīs (Enoch). Now, in this holy verse, the Qur’ān, referring to them, says

Those were some of the prophets on whom Allah showed favour of the seed of “ ... Adam

This group of prophets are the same ones whose way we ask in our prayers ten times everyday from Allah to pave, not the way of those inflicted with the wrath of Allah and astray, when we say: “Guide us (O’ Lord) on the Straight Path”, “The path of those upon whom You have bestowed Your bounties, nor (the path) of those inflicted with .Your wrath, nor (of those) gone astray

The purpose of the phrase ‘the seed of Adam’ is Idrīs (Enoch); and the purpose of the phrase: ‘of those We carried (in the Ark) with Noah’ is Haḍrat ‘Ibrāhīm (Abraham) (a.s.) who is Noah’s grandson, and the purpose of the phrase ‘of the seed of Abraham’ is Isaac, Ishmael and Jacob; and the purpose of the progeny of ‘Israel’ is Moses, Aaron, Zechariah, John, and Jesus (a.s.).<sup>(1)</sup> The verse continues saying

Adam, and of those We carried (in the Ark) with Noah, and of the seed of Abraham... “
”... and Israel, and of those We guided and chose

Some Islamic traditions indicate that, at the time of the recitation of the Qur’ān, believers ought to be in the state of grief and cry, or treat as if they are crying.<sup>(2)</sup>

:The holy verse continues saying

When the revelations of the Beneficent (Allah) were recited unto them, they fell ... “
”.down prostrating and weeping

This part of the verse means that from among those Allah guided and chose, there are some ones that when they hear the recitation of the revelations of Allah they fell down prostrating and weeping. Of course, the best referent of a concept of the divine chosen ones, who had long prostrations accompanied with tears, were the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) and his Immaculate Ahl-ul-Bayt (a.s.). There are some evidences for their abundant weeping in prostrations at the time of supplications in the month of Ramaḍān and in ‘Arafah. It has been narrated from Haḍrat Ali-ibn-il-Hussayn who said: “We are the objective-meaning of this verse.”<sup>(3)</sup>

Except him who repents, and believes, and does a righteous deed, then these “ ٦٠
” .shall enter Paradise, and they shall not be dealt with unjustly in any way

Commentary: verses ٥٩-٦٠

It sometimes happens that the offsprings and descendants of a person waste the efforts and endeavours of their ancestors and, thus, there may appear a wicked .generation from some people who themselves had been good doers

The Arabic term /xalaf/ is used for a righteous child, while the term /xalf/ is applied for .an impious child

The Qur’ānic word /qayy/, used at the end of the first abovementioned verse, means ‘destruction, perdition and error’ and it is an antonym to the Arabic word /rušd/ which :means: ‘rectitude, growth, and development’. The verse says

Then there succeeded them a later generation who ruined prayers and followed “
” .lusts. Soon, then, they shall meet perdition

This sentence, in this holy verse, may refer to a group of the Children of Israel who paved the path of aberration. They forsook the Lord, preferred lusts to the remembrance of God and prayer, made mischief in the world, and, finally, they faced the fruit of their evil deeds in this life and they will be punished in the coming world, .too

However, wasting prayer is different from not establishing it or forsaking it. He who keeps up prayer, but without observing its conditions, or with delay, has wasted the prayer and has belittled it.

Why the Qur’ān, among all Divine services, emphasizes on prayer here? Its reason may be the fact that prayer is a barrier between man and sins. When this barrier is removed, it certainly results to man’s being drowned in the lusts. In other words, as the divine prophets began their ranks to be promoted by the remembrance of Allah, and when the Divine revelations were recited to them they fell down prostrating and weeping, the aberration of these impious people began by forsaking the .remembrance of Allah

By the way, there is a tradition also recorded in many books of the scholars of the Sunnite which denotes: when the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) recited the first verse of the abovementioned couple of verses, he said: “After sixty years, there will come on the scene some people who recite the Qur’ān pompously but it (their recitation) will not ascend higher than their shoulders.” (Since it is done neither sincerely nor for contemplation and reflection in action, but it is done hypocritically and affectedly, or there are satisfied with its

mere verbal utterances and, therefore, their deeds do not ascend to the rank of (proximity of Allah.)<sup>(1)</sup>

It is worthy of attention that if we count sixty years from the migration of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), it will exactly adapt to the time when Yazīd took the rein of government and Imam Hussayn (a.s.) and his companions drank the drink of martyrdom. After that, the rest of the course of Ummayyads and the course of Abbasides came forth who had been contented with Islam by a bare name and with the Qur’ān by a mere verbal utterance

.We refuge to Allah (s.w.t.) that we may be among such an impious group

****

However, since the manner of the Qur’ān, everywhere is that it let the path of return to Faith and the truth be open, here, too, after the statement of the fate of the impious generations, through verse ٦٠, it says

Except him who repents, and believes, and does a righteous deed, then these shall “
”enter Paradise, and they shall not be dealt with unjustly in any way

Thus, it is not such that if a person goes astray in the lusts for a day, he must be disappointed forever from the mercy of Allah, but, until the last moments of the life in this world, he may return and repent

:Repentance and the Qur’ān

Next to the verses of punishment the Qur’ān often mentions the phrase: “Except those who repent” or the phrase

p: ٢٨٤

Except him who repents” in order to say that the gate of penitence and reform is not“
.closed to any one

Repentance is a necessary duty, because it is a divine commandment. Sura At- ١
.”Tahrim, No. ٤٤, verse ٨ says: “...Turn to Allah

The acceptance of repentance is really certain, because it cannot be believed that ٢ we repent by His commandment, but He does not accept it. Sura Ash-Shurā, No. ٤٢, ”...verse ٢٥ says: “And He it is Who accepts repentance from His servants

Allah (s.w.t.) not only accepts repentance but also likes those who repent very much. ٣
The Qur’ān in Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ٢٢٢ says: “...Verily Allah loves those who .”... , (turn much (to Him

Repentance should be followed with good actions and amends of sins. Sura Al- ٤
”... Furqān, No. ٢٥, verse ٧١ says: “And whoever repents and does righteously Repentance is the secret of felicity. Sura An-Nūr, No. ٢٤, verse ٣١ says: “...and turn to ٥

.”Allah all of you, O’ believers! so that you may be successful Repentance causes the rain to fall. Sura Hūd, No. ١١, verse ٥٢ says: “...turn to Him, ٦

”... He will send on you clouds pouring down abundance of rain Repentance causes a good sustenance. Sura Hūd, No. ١١, verse ٣ says: “...Then turn ٧

”...to Him; He will provide you with a goodly provision

Delaying repentance until seeing the signs of death, is not accepted. Besides ٨ accepting repentance, Allah has also a special grace. In these verses, close to the subject of repentance, the Qur’ān has referred to the grace, mercy and love of Allah, too. Sura Hūd, No. ١١, verse ٩٠ says: “...Turn to Him; surely my Lord is Merciful, Loving-” .kind

The Qur'ān has counted the absence of repentance an injustice. Sura Al-Hujurāt, .٩

However, the condition of felicity, and entering into heaven, is repentance, Faith, .١٠

Commentary: verses ٦١-٦٣

Through the preceding verse the word /jannat/ (garden, Paradise) was used in its singular form: “...These shall enter Paradise...”, while in this verse the plural form of the term, /jannāt/, is used: “Gardens of Eternity...”. This shows that the garden of the people of Heaven is a collection of numerous gardens. This sense may be for the sake that every one of the people of Heaven has four gardens. This matter has been pointed out in Sura Ar-Raḥmān, No. ٥٥, verses ٤٤ and ٤٥, where the Qur’ān says: “And for him who fears (to stand before) his Lord are two gardens”, “And besides these two are two (other) gardens”. These gardens, with together, are four gardens, the latter couple of which are either nearer, or have a lower level than the former couple; or because of the \(different ranks of the people of Heaven the kind of gardens are different.\)

The Qur'ān has repeatedly referred to the fulfillment of Allah's promise, and among them, it has said: "...And who is more faithful to his promise than Allah?"

The phrase upon Paradise, saying that there is no idle talk therein, refers both to our life today that we should avoid idle talks, and to the fact that there will be therein nothing of the idle talks of disbelievers and the vain speech by which they used to hurt the believers in the world

In the Qur'ānic phrase which says: "...which We shall cause those of Our servants to inherit who are pious", the Qur'ān points to both piety, which is the key of Paradise, and contains the sense of 'inheritance' which hints to a wealth and bounty gained with no pain and trouble. It is true that piety is the key of Paradise, but those plenty of rewards are the inheritance of Allah unto us for our deeds. In fact, our rewards are some heritage which we gain from the side of Allah without any pain

There is an Islamic tradition which says: every person has a proper place both in Paradise and Hell. If the person enters Paradise, his place in Hell will be inherited by same Hellish people. And if he enters Hell, his place in Paradise will be inherited by the people of Paradise.

:After that, the Qur’ān has pointed to one of the greatest bounties in Heaven. It says

”... ,There they shall hear no idle talk “

In Heaven, they hear neither any falsehood, nor any abuse, slander, sarcasm, and any ridicule, nor even a vain word; and there is no statement there, but “peace”, a greeting which is the sign of a secure place. It is a gathering place full of sincerity, :purity, piety, peace and calmness. The holy verse continues saying

”... ’but only ‘Peace...“

And, next to mentioning this bounty, the Qur’ān points to another bounty, when it
:says

”.Therein they shall have their sustenance (every) morning and evening...“

An Islamic tradition indicates that a person went to Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) and complained of his stomachache. The Imam (a.s.) advised him to eat food two times a day: morning and evening, and to avoid eating food between them, which might cause the body to become rotten. Then he (a.s.) recited this verse: “They shall have their sustenance (every) morning and evening.”\(1\)

And we (angels) do not descend but by the command of your Lord; to Him belongs “ ٦٤. whatever is before us and whatever is behind us and whatever is between these ”. (two)! And your Lord is not forgetful

:Occasions of Revelation

Upon the preceding verse, a group of commentators have said that the descent of the revelations of Allah was discontinued for a few days, Gabriel, the harbinger of divine revelation, did not come to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). After this period, when Gabriel came to the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) he asked him why he delayed and he (the Prophet) was anxious to see him. Gabriel said: “I am more anxious (to see you), but I am a commissioned servant. When I am commanded to come, I come; and when I am not (commanded, I restrain (to come)).” (1)

Commentary: verse ٦٤

For these verses, of course, there is a particular occasion of revelation, which was referred to in the above, but this matter does not hinder that there be a logical connection and relation between them and the former verses. This is an emphasis on the fact that whatever verses Gabriel has brought are utterly from the side of Allah

p: ٢٩١

The Lord of the heavens and the earth and whatever is between them; so “ ٦٥ . worship Him (alone), and be steadfast in His worship! Do you know any one equal to Him?”

Commentary: verse ٦٥

This Qur’ānic phrase which says whether you know any one equal to Him, means whether you know any god, except Allah, who can be the Lord, the creator, the sustainer, the life giver, the one who causes to die, and is able to give retribution and reward, so that you worship him. If you do not know any one except Him, then .worship Him, and do not abandon His adoration

This interrogation is in the sense of negation, i.e., you do not know any one who can .be called Allah

:The verse says

The Lord of the heavens and the earth and whatever is between them; so worship “ Him (alone), and be steadfast in His worship! Do you know any one equal to Him”

Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.), in a tradition Upon the meaning of this phrase, said:

“None has been named by the appellation of Allah”. (١)

However, there have been recorded several meanings for the Arabic term /samiyy/, .including: ‘partner’, ‘similar’, ‘namesake’, and ‘offspring

p: ٢٩٣

The existence of the term /rabbika/ (your Lord) in the previous verse, and the term /rabb-us-samāwāt-i-wal-'arḍ/ (the Lord of the heavens and the earth) in this verse is an indication to the Unity of administrationship in running the life of man with the .whole universal being

Point

Every one will be resurrected for the Day of Judgment – To raise the dead again to life, not difficult for Allah Who created every thing from nothing – The reward for the Faithful

”?And man says: ‘When I am dead shall I be raised up alive “ .٦٦

”?Does not man remember that We created him before, when he was nothing “ .٦٧

Occasions of Revelation: verse ٦٦

According to the attitude of a group of commentators, the first holy verse mentioned in the above has been revealed concerning 'Ubay-ibn-i-Khalaf, or Walid-ibn-i-Muqayrah, who had taken a piece of a rotten bone in the hand, crushing it with the hand, they scattered it in the wind so that every particle of it spread in a corner, and they said: “Look at Muhammad! He thinks that, after dying and decaying our bones, ”!like this bone, Allah will restore us to life again. Never such thing is possible

Then, these verses were revealed and gave them a sever answer, an answer which is .helpful and instructive for all human beings in all centuries and ages

Through former holy verses, a considerable discussion was mentioned upon Resurrection, Paradise, and Hell. The verses under discussion refer to the same matter, too

:In the first holy verse, the words of the hostile rejectors are restated as follows

”?And man says: ‘When I am dead shall I be raised up alive “

This interrogation, of course, is a positive interrogation with a negative sense, which means: ‘such thing will never be possible

***

Immediately after that, the Qur’ān, with the same tone and meaning, answers this question, saying that whether man does not remember this fact that Allah created him before, and he was nothing at all

:The verse says

”?Does not man remember that We created him before, when he was nothing “

The application of the word ‘man’, here, may point to this meaning that a person, with natural talent and intellect, should not remain silent in front of such a question. He himself ought to answer it by remembering the first creation, otherwise he has not utilized the reality of his own humanness

These holy verses, similar to many other verses related to Resurrection, emphasize on resurrection of the body. Else, if it were assigned that only spirit to remain and the return of body to new life were not propounded, neither that question would have any room, nor this answer

Once Imam Şādiq (a.s.) was asked about the meaning of “... We created him before, when he was nothing”, and he answered: “It means that neither in the stage of predestination nor in the stage of creation he was anything.” Then he (a.s.) was asked about the meaning of /lamiyakun šay’an ma’kūrā/ (when he was a thing not worth mentioning),<sup>(۱)</sup> and Imam (a.s.) said:

﴿That is, it was predestinated, but there was not any name of it in the course.﴾<sup>(۲)</sup>

.Thus, these two verses speak about a couple of stages before the creation of man

Another tradition narrated from Imam Bāqir (a.s.) indicates that upon the commentary of ‘before’, he said: “There was no word about him either in the book or <sup>(۳)</sup>in the knowledge.”<sup>(۳)</sup>

” .(rebellious against the Beneficent (Allah

” .Again We do know best those who deserve most to be burnt therein “ ٧٠

Commentary: verses ٦٨-٧٠

In the first holy verse, the Qur’ān, with a very sharp tone, threatens the deniers of :Resurrection and faithless sinners, when it says

”... ,(So by your Lord, We shall surely muster them, and the Satans (with them “

In many occurrences of the Qur’ān, Allah has sworn to His creatures, but, for the :Resurrection, He has sworn to His Holy Essence

:Then, in this very verse the Qur’ān continues saying

” .then We shall cause them to be present round Hell on their knees ... “

This verse denotes that the court of faithless persons and that of the sinners are nigh
.to Hell

The Arabic term /jiθiyyā/ (regarding the fact that /jiθiyy/ is the plural form of /jāθī/ which means a person who has sat on his knees) may refer to their weakness, disability, disgrace, and despicableness. As if they have not ability to stand on their feet. This term, of course, has some other meanings, too. Among them is that some commentators have rendered the term /jiθiyy/ into people ‘in crowds’, and some others have meant it into ‘masses’, and to be ‘heaped up’, like some soil and stones.

.But the first meaning is more fitting and more famous

****

Since in that court of justice priorities are regarded, by the next verse the Qur’ān :implies that the most rebellious ones will be picked out first. The verse says

Then shall We pick out from every group whichever of them was more intensely “
”.(rebellious against the Beneficent (Allah

The same impudent ones, that even forgot the merits of the Beneficent Allah, began rebelling and acting rudely before their Benefactor. Yes, such people are the most
.deserved ones to the Fire of Hell

****

:This meaning has been emphasize on again in the next holy verse, where it says

”.Again We do know best those who deserve most to be burnt therein “

The Qur’ān indicates that Allah (s.w.t.) will pick out them properly and no mistake may .happen in this picking out

The Qur’ānic word /ṣiliyy/ means both ‘to lighten a fire’, and ‘the thing which is burnt
.’by means of fire

And (there is) not one of you but shall come to it (Hell). This is, with your Lord, a “ .٧١
”fixed decree

Then We shall rescue those who kept from evil, and leave the unjust therein on “ .٧٢
”their knees

Commentary: verses ٧١-٧٢

Point

The couple of verses mentioned in the above, also continue the discussion about the .specialties of Resurrection and the people’s rewards and retributions

At first, it has pointed to a matter about which most people may surprise to hear. It
:says

And (there is) not one of you but shall come to “

”... (it (Hell

This is a certain matter and a decisive command with your Lord Who has decreed it.
:The verse says

”.This is, with your Lord, a fixed decree...”

****

Then We shall rescue those who kept from evil, and leave the unjust therein on their “
”.knees

Commenting on these two verses, it must be remarked that all human beings, with no exception, will enter Hell, whether they are good doers or evildoers, but Hell will be cold and safe for the good-doers, in the same manner that the fire of Numrūd was for

.Abraham

The reason of it is that Fire of Hell does not have any general resemblance to them. It seems the Fire gets away from them and runs away, and wherever they are, it dies

p: ۳۰۰

out. But, the people of Hell, who correlate to Hell-fire, like an inflammable material .when reaches a fire, will immediately inflame

In fact, seeing Hell and its chastisements will be a preparation for believers that they enjoy the utmost pleasure from the bounties of Heaven, and on the contrary, the people of Hell, by seeing the safety of the people of Heaven, feel their punishment .more painful

:Some Islamic Traditions

It has been narrated that some one asked Jābir-ibn-‘Abdillāh ‘Ansārī about the . meaning of this verse. He pointed with his two fingers to his two ears and said: “I heard a matter from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) by these ears of mine both of which may become deaf if I tell a lie. He (p.b.u.h.) said: ‘wāriduhā/ (come to it (Hell)) means ‘enter into it’. There will be no good doer and no evildoer but he will enter into it (Hell). Then it (Fire) will be cold and safe for the believers, the same as it was for Abraham; so that ‘Fire’ or ‘Hell’ (Jābir was doubtful) will cry because of its coldness. Then Allah will rescue those who kept from evil, and leave the unjust therein on their knees’.”\(1\)

But, the compiler of the commentary of Aṭyab-ul-Bayān, upon the commentary of this :verse, says

It seems, and there are many Islamic tradition on it, and is among the self-evident knowledge of the religion that the question of ‘Ṣirāṭ’ (path, way) is the ‘bridge’ of Hell, through which the people of Heaven must pass. Coming to this path is the same as .entering into Hell and passing from it is a rescue

p: ۳۰۱

Thus, the meaning of “And (there is) not one of you but shall come to it (Hell)” is .’entering on the Path

There is an expressive saying upon the bridge of the Path (Şirāt) in Islamic traditions which denotes there is a bridge over Hell leading to Paradise which is thinner than a hair, sharper than the blade of a sword. This meaning is another evidence for this commentary, and it has been verified and supported by a lot of the commentators of (two great sects of Islam.)

Another tradition narrated from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) indicates that he said: “On the Day of Judgment, Hell-Fire will tell the believer ‘Pass quickly, O’ believer! Verily your (light has extinguished my flame’.”

It has been cited in Tafsīr-i-Ṭabarī: “One day, when ‘Abdullah-ibn-Rawaḥah was sick, he was crying and his wife, seeing him, began weeping. ‘Abdullah asked her why she was weeping. She answered it was because of his weeping. ‘Abdullah said that he was crying for this word of Allah Who said: ‘And (there is) not one of you but shall come to it (Hell)’. Our arrival is certain, but ‘Abdullah does not know whether he will (rescue or not.”

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “On the Day of Hereafter, all human being (good and evil) will enter Hell, but Fire will not harm the believers, like Abraham for ”.whom the fire became cold

Therefore, the verse under discussion, which announces that the arrival of all into Hell is certain, does not contrast the verses which indicate believers are far from Hell, because, on one side they enter Hell, and, on another side, by the grace of Allah, no harm reaches them

Moreover, Allamah Tabātabāie cites in Al-Mīzān: there will be none of the righteous and the unjust but soon will be on the edge and precipice of Fire, then Allah will rescue the pious ones and will let the unjust remain in it

And how many a generation have We destroyed before them, who were better in “ .٧٤
”equipment and outward appearance

Commentary: verses ٧٣-٧٤

Point

The Arabic term /nadiyy/ is applied for any assembly, or for the assembly of consultation, derived from which is /dār-un-nudwah/ with the meaning of ‘a
.’deliberative assembly

Following the discussion about the faithless unjust people, mentioned in the former
.verses, here the verse refers to a part of their logic and their fate

It is known that the first group who believed in the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) were the .pure-hearted oppressed people who were poor

Since the criterion of value in the ignorant society of that time, like any other ignorant society, was wealth and force, money and rank, and the outside appearance, the cruel rich persons prided themselves to the poor believers. They told them that the sign of their own personality was with them, and the sign of the believers, which was their poverty and deprivation, was with them, too. That itself, they said, was the evidence to their rightfulness and the lack of :rightfulness of the poor ones. The Qur'ān in this regard says

And when Our clear revelations are recited unto them, those who disbelieve say to “ those who believe: ‘Which of the two parties is better in station and fairer ”?’in assembly

****

But the Qur'ān, with a complete reasonable statement, and in the meantime, with a decisive and mighty tone, answers them as follows that as if they have forgotten the :past history of human. It says

And how many a generation have We destroyed before them, who were better in “ ”:equipment and outward appearance

Could their money, their plenty of wealth, their glorious assemblies, their costly ?clothing, and their fine appearances hinder the divine punishment

:Explanations

The Arabic word /'aθāθ/ means ‘furniture’ and the possibilities and comforts of life. .1
The word /ri'yā/ is used for ‘that which pleases the eye’. The Qur'ānic term /qarn/ is .?applied for ‘a group of people who live for a long time with together

.The historical changes have been based on the ordinances that Allah has assigned .r

The material possibilities are neither the sign of happiness nor hinder the wrath of .r
Allah

Wealth and possibilities are often the factor of pride, negligence, inordinacy, and, .r
.finally, perdition

٧٥- قُلْ مَنْ كَانَ فِي الضَّلَالَةِ فَلْيَمْدُدْ لَهُ الرَّحْمَنُ مَدًّا حَتَّىٰ إِذَا رَأَوْا مَا يُوعَدُونَ إِمَّا الْعَذَابَ وَإِمَّا السَّاعَةَ فَسَيَعْلَمُونَ مَنْ هُوَ شَرٌّ مَكَانًا

Say: ‘Whoever goes astray, the Beneficent (Allah) will prolong his span of life until, “ .٧٥ when they see what they were promised, whether it be the chastisement (in this world), or the Hour (of Doom), then they will know who is worse in position and ”.weaker in hosts

Commentary: verse ٧٥

The Arabic terms /madd/ and /’imdād/ are used with the same sense, but, as Rāqib says, the term /’imdād/ is usually used for some praiseworthy and pleasing actions, .and the term /madd/ is usually used for some disagreeable and indecent deeds

Allah respites all those who choose a vice and go astray. This respite is for the sake that they may repent, or some righteous offspring from them come into being. But some misguided people misuse this respite and commit some more vice by which they .increase their own punishment

.However, Allah respites them and prolongs their lifetime

The structure of this sentence in Arabic in imperative form denotes to the certainty of the performance of the affair. The sentence has been stated in an imperative form in order that there remains no pretext for the misguided one, since he has been given a length of lifetime during which he might think of a way. The imperative verb may be ,taken in the sense of invocation in which he has asked Allah to give him a respite or He may let him live in the world as long as he desires, because his lifetime is of no

:avail for him. The verse says

”... Say: ‘Whoever goes astray, the Beneficent (Allah) will prolong his span of life “

Allah will prolong the life of such people in order that they see with their own eyes what they have been promised. His promise may either be the chastisement of this world: that the Muslims overcome them and, by killing them or capturing them, punish them, or that they be involved with the chastisements of Hereafter. At that time, they will realize that they have considered wrongly, i.e. their position is worse and their troop is weaker than that they thought, and they used to say that they would have a :higher position and a better assembly. The verse continues saying until, when they see what they were promised, whether it be the chastisement (in... “ this world), or the Hour (of Doom), then they will know who is worse in position and

”.’weaker in hosts

Abū-Basīr narrates a tradition upon the phrase: “...until when they see what they were promised, ...” from Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) who said: “It is the promise of the advent of Haḍrat Ghā’im (a.s.), and ‘worse in position’ means that on the day of the raise of (Ghā’im it will be known who in an indecent and weak position is.”\(1\)

And Allah increases in guidance those who are guided aright, and the everlasting “ .٧٦
”good deeds are better with your Lord in reward, and better in return

Commentary: verse ٧٦

The Arabic word /ṭawāb/ means the recompense of man’s deed which returns to him, (whether it is good or evil, but it is often used for a good deed.)

The previous verse referred to the fate of the oppressors and those who were deluded by the dazzling glare and lusts of the world, while this verse refers to
:situation of the believers and those who are guided. It says

”... ,And Allah increases in guidance those who are guided aright “

It is evident that guidance has some degrees. When the beginning degrees of guidance are practiced by a person, Allah may help him to gain some higher and higher degrees of it. Similar to a fruitful tree, which develops to a new stage of growth and perfection every day, these guided ones, too, in the light of their Faith and good
.deeds, promote to some higher stages every day

At the end of the verse, the Qur’ān gives an answer to those who have relied on their fleeting ornaments in this life and have taken it as a means of boasting to others. It implies

p: ٣٠٨

\(that the end and the value of the righteous deeds is better with the Lord.

:The verse says

and the everlasting good deeds are better with your Lord in reward, and better in...“

However, some Islamic traditions indicate that the purpose of the phrase ‘the everlasting good deeds’ is the invocation saying: “Glory be to Allah; Praise belongs to Allah; and there is no god save Allah. Allah is the greatest.” (Tafsīr-i-Nūr-uth-

”?promise

No, We will write down what he says and We will prolong for him the “ .٧٩
”.chastisement

” .٨٠ .And We will inherit what he talks of, and he shall come unto Us all alone “

Commentary: verses ٧٧-٨٠

Leaving hold of Allah and refuging to wealth and children is a false and superstitious
.cogitation

Some people think that faith, sincerity, and piety are not favourable to them and they cause the world to set them a side, and when they live without Faith and piety the .world will look upon them with favor so that their wealth will increase

This imagination, whether it can be as a result of simple-mindedness and following superstitions, or as a cover for fleeing from religious responsibilities and promises,
.whatever it may be, is a dangerous consideration

Sometimes it happens that these superstitious persons have based the wealth of some faithless people and the poverty of a group of believers as an evidence to prove this superstition. But, we know that neither the properties gained by means of transgression, disbelief, and abandoning the foundations of piety are the source of honour, nor is the Faith, piety, and virtuousness a hinder on the way of legitimate and lawful activities

However, at the time of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), like our time, there were some ignorant people who had such a consideration or, at least, they pretended to have that sort of consideration

In connection with the former discussion, stated about the fate of the disbelievers and transgressors, in these verses the Qur'ān points to this kind of imagination and its end. In the first verse, it says

Have you seen him who disbelieves in Our revelations and says: 'I shall surely be " (given wealth and children abundantly

:Then, the Qur'ān answers them as follows

Has he got the (knowledge of) Unseen, or has taken from the Beneficent (Allah) a " promise

Only the one who has the knowledge of Unseen can predict such a thing and may introduce a relation between infidelity and having property and children, because we do not see any relation between these two

Or, that the one would have taken a promise from Allah in this regard. Such a statement is also meaningless

***

Then, with a serious and decisive tone, the Qur'ān implies that it is not such, and never disbelief and infidelity causes the :wealth and children of a person to be increased. The verse says

”... No, We will write down what he says “

Yes, these baseless sayings, which may cause some simple-minded persons to go
:astray, will all be recorded in their file of deeds. The verse continues saying

”.and We will prolong for him the chastisement...”

This part of the verse may be a hint to the continuous eternal chastisement of Hereafter. It may also be a hint to the punishments which encompass them in this world as a result of infidelity and faithlessness. This probability is also notable that the wealth and children, which are the source of their pride and aberration, may :themselves be a continual punishment for them. The verse says

”.And We will inherit what he talks of, and he shall come unto Us all alone “

Yes, at last, he will leave all these material facilities and pass away, and he will attend in that Divine court of Justice without any righteous work with him, while his book of deeds is recorded with sins wholly. It is in that place that he will see the fruit of his
.baseless sayings in the world

٨١. "And they have taken gods besides Allah that they might be for them a glory "

٨٢. "No, soon they (gods) shall deny their worship, and become adversaries against them

Commentary: verses ٨١-٨٢

:This verse points to another motive of the idolaters in worshipping idols when it says

"And they have taken gods besides Allah that they might be for them a glory "

They worship idols in order that they intercede for them with Allah and help them in their difficulties; but what a vain and wrong imagination! Never it is such that they imagined. The idols not only do not create honour for them but also cause their disgrace and painful punishment, and soon, i.e. in Hereafter, these idols will deny their worship and repudiate them, and they will be some enemies against them. The holy verse says

No, soon they (gods) shall deny their worship, and become adversaries against them

It is narrated from Imam Şādiq (a.s.) who has said: "On Hereafter Day the gods, which they had taken besides Allah, will be against them and will repudiate them and their worships." That is, these idols, by the command of Allah, will be able to speak on the Day of Judgment and will repudiate from pagans and the worshippers of them. It is interesting that there has been cited a short and expressive sentence below this tradition about the reality of worship. It says: “Worship is not (only) prostration and .bowing, but the reality of worship is to obey men

Whoever obeys a mortal in disobedience to Allah, he has obeyed him.” (And, \(therefore, his fate will be the same as the fate of pagans and idolaters.\))

Have you not seen (how) We sent the Satans unto the disbelievers to incite them “ ۸۳ ”?with an incitement

So make no haste against them, for We but count out to them a number (of “ ۸۴ ”.(days

Commentary: verses ۸۳-۸۴

Here, this fact is referred to that idols not only did not cause their honour but also :disgraced them. The Qur’ān by this holy verse says

Have you not seen (how) We sent the Satans unto the disbelievers to incite them “ ”?with an incitement

The incitement of Satans upon men is not an obligatory and unknown incitement, but .it is the men themselves who let Satans arrive inside their hearts and souls

****

In this holy verse, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is addressed being told that he should not haste against them, because Allah will minutely count their deeds and record them for the Day when

.the Divine court of Justice will be held in Hereafter

:The verse says

”.(So make no haste against them, for We but count out to them a number (of days “

Upon the commentary of the verse there is also this probability that the purpose of the phrase: “count out to them a number (of days)” is the counting the days of lifetime, or the number of their breaths, which means that the length of their life is very short .so that the number the breaths of it can be counted

.’However, the Arabic term /’azz/, used in the verse, means “to incite severely

٨٥- يَوْمَ نَحْشُرُ الْمُتَّقِينَ إِلَى الرَّحْمَنِ وَفْدًا

٨٥. “ On the day We muster the pious “

” .unto the Beneficent (Allah) (like the guest) of honour

٨٦. “ .And We shall drive the sinners unto Hell thirsty “

Commentary: verses ٨٥-٨٦

The Arabic term /wafd/ is used for ‘a group of people who have just arrived mounted
.’for a pilgrimage or seeking something

.’The Arabic word /wird/ means ‘thirst

In this verse, the course of ‘the pious’ and ‘the sinners’ is stated through some short
:and expressive sentences. The Holy Qur’ān says

On the day We muster the pious unto the Beneficent (Allah) (like the guest) of “ ” .honour

Again, the Arabic word /wafd/ originally is used in the sense of ‘a mission’ or ‘a group’ who go to some nobles in order to solve their problems where they will be respected and honoured. Thus, this word implicitly contains the meaning of ‘esteem’, and, perhaps, it is for the same reason that some Islamic traditions denote that the pious
.will ride on some easy-paced mounts and enter into Paradise with much respect

Imam Şādiq (a.s.) said: “Ali (a.s.) asked the commentary of this verse from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), and he answered: ‘O’ Ali! ‘Al-wafd’ is surely said about those who ride on a .mount

These are they who are in awe of Allah, Almighty and Glorious. He loved them and specialized them for

”Himself, and was pleased with their deeds and named them ‘the pious

It is cited in Tafsīr-i-‘Alī-ibn-‘Ebrāhīm Qummī that Ḥaḍrat Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) said that ‘Alī (a.s.) asked the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) who they were, (the pious), and he (p.b.u.h.) answered: “ O’ ‘Alī! They are your sincere followers, and you are their Imam.” (1)

***

:Then in the next verse, the Qur’ān says

”And We shall drive the sinners unto Hell thirsty “

The sinners will be driven toward Hell in the same manner that some thirsty camels are driven unto the drinking place, but, here, there is no water, there is Fire

It should be noted that the Qur’ānic term /wird/ means a ‘group of people or animals who enter a drinking place’, and since such a group are certainly thirsty, some of the commentators have taken the word, here, in the sense of ‘those parched with thirst

How long is the distance between those whom are lead to the Beneficent Allah respectfully and with esteem in a circumstance that the angels come to receive them and greet them, and the group whom are driven unto Hell Fire like some thirsty animals, while they are bend there heads because of shame, disgrace and worthlessness

It is cited in Majmaʿ-ul-Bayān that one of the Immaculate ones (a.s.) upon the ۱۷ commentary of the Qurʾānic phrase: "And when they are cast into a narrow place in it,

Thus, the key of Paradise is piety to Allah (s.w.t.) , and the key of Hell is sin, vice, and

Sura Al-Furgān, No. ۲۵, verse ۱۳-۱

They shall not own any intercession, save he who has taken a promise with the “ ٨٧

Commentary: verse ٨٧

On the Day of Resurrection, the wicked people are not able to intercede any one, and also none may intercede them. On the contrary, the believers will intercede each other and their intercession will be accepted. The verse says

They shall not own any intercession, save he who has taken a promise with the “

The Qur’ān introduces some conditions for intercession and it is not so that every body can take everything or everybody he desires as his intercessor. In Hereafter, the infidels will try their best and ask refuge from everybody, but they will be refused and they will receive negative responds from them

The objective meaning of the Arabic term /‘ahd/ (promise), mentioned in the verse, may be the same promise of servitude unto Allah and separation from Satan which the Qur’ān refers to, where it says: “Did I not charge you, O children of Adam! that you should not worship the Satan? Surely he is your open enemy”, “And that you should (worship Me, this is the Straight Path.” (1

This verse refers to many groups of people in relation to their belief, including the followings:

A. Polytheists: those who believed in angels as God’s daughters. The Qur’ān says: “... (and (for Himself) taken daughters from among the angels...” (١)

B. The Jews: those who imagined Ezra (‘Uzayr) as God’s son. The Qur’ān says: “And (the Jews say: ‘Ezra is the son of God’...” (٢)

C. The Christians: those who considered Messiah as God’s Child. The Qur’ān says: “... (and the Christians say: ‘The Messiah is the son of God’....” (٣)

Therefore, at the end of this discussion, the Qur’ān points to one the subdivisions of polytheism, i.e., the belief in the existence of offspring for Allah, and emphasizes on this statement with the utmost emphasis. It says

“.’And they say: ‘The Beneficent (Allah) has taken (unto Himself) a son “

Not only the Christians believed that Jesus (a.s.) was the real child of Allah, but also the Jews believed like that about Ezra, and polytheists had such an idea about the .angels and believed in angels as Allah's daughters

:Then, the Qur'ān, with a beating tone, says

”!Indeed you have put forth something hideous “

However, the Arabic term /'idd/ originally means an ugly noise which is usually heard from a camel as a result of the sharp turning sound in its throat. Then it has been .applied for the ugly and horrible deeds

”.(That they attributed a son to the Beneficent (Allah “ ٩١

When it is not worthy of the Beneficent (Allah) that He should take (to Himself) a “ ٩٢
”.son

Commentary: verses ٩٠-٩٢

.’The Arabic term /hadd/ means ‘to fall down

Since the attribution of polytheism is a disagreeable attribution which contrasts to the principle of theism, it seems that the whole world of existence, which has been founded on the basis of theism, sinks into a horror and anxiety because of this undue attribution

:Therefore, the Qur’ān announces

At it the skies are about to burst, and the earth to split asunder, and the mountains “
”to fall down crashing

The horrible effect of this statement, that Allah has a child, is so great that it causes
.the mountains to fall down

Again, for a more emphasis, and stating the importance of the matter, the Qur’ān
:says

”.(That they attributed a son to the Beneficent (Allah “

In fact, they have never known Allah; else they would have known that it is not consonant with the majesty of the Most Gracious that He should beget a son. The

:verse says

p: ۳۲۶

When it is not worthy of the Beneficent (Allah) that He should take (to Himself) a “
”son

:A person may desire to have one or some children for one of the following things

It is either for the sake that the one needs to have reproduction for the duration of his seed; or he seeks for an assistant; or he is afraid of loneliness. But none of these concepts is meaningful about Allah. Neither His Power is limited; nor His life ends; nor .any weakness or feebleness befalls Him, nor He feels loneliness and need

٩٣- إِنْ كَلَّ مَنْ فِي السَّمَاوَاتِ وَالْأَرْضِ إِلَّا آتَى الرَّحْمَنَ عَبْدًا

There is none in the heavens and the earth but comes unto the Beneficent (Allah) “ ٩٣ .
”as a servant

Commentary: verse ٩٣

All the world of existence and its creatures are wholly under the command of Allah,
?and they are His servants. Why do you consider the servant of Allah as His child

:It is for this reason that the Qur’ān, concerning the matter, in this holy verse, says

There is none in the heavens and the earth but comes unto the Beneficent (Allah) as “
”a servant

These servants obey Him, but in the meantime He does not need their obedience. It is
.those creatures who are totally in need of Him

٩٤. "Certainly He has counted them, and He has numbered them exactly "

٩٥. "And every one of them shall come to Him on the Day of Resurrection, all alone "

Commentary: verses ٩٤-٩٥

.He knows the exact number of all parts of the world of existence entirely

The knowledge of Allah (s.w.t.) encompasses not only the universals, but He also :knows the details of the matters. The verse says

"Certainly He has counted them, and He has numbered them exactly "

That is, never think that with the existence of all these servants, how He may know
.the account of them wholly

:Therefore, in the second holy verse, mentioned in the above, the Qur'ān says

"And every one of them shall come to Him on the Day of Resurrection, all alone "

Thus, both Jesus, and Ezra, and angels, and all human beings are involved in this general commandment. Yet, how disgrace is the consideration of belief of a child for Him, and how low do we bring His Pure Essence from the climax of Dignity and !Grandeur

Verily those who believe and do righteous deeds, soon the Beneficent (Allah) will “ .٩٦
”appoint love for them

Commentary: verse ٩٦

The words in this verse, as well as the next couple of verses, are about the faithful believers and also about the faithless cruel unjust. The contents of these verses are :also upon the Qur’ān and its glad tidings and warnings. At first, it says

Verily those who believe and do righteous deeds, soon the Beneficent (Allah) will “
”appoint love for them

Faith and righteous deed has a reflection as vast as the world of existence, and the ray of love emerged from it can cover the whole expansion of creation. Allah, the Pure .Essence, loves such believing people

They are beloved with all those who are in the skies. This affection will brighten the .hearts of men who are on the earth

To be beloved is a divine bounty which may be given to the believers and the righteous, as the Qur’ān says: “...soon the Beneficent (Allah) will appoint love for them.” Yes, the one who loves only Allah will be loved heartily by all people with the help of Allah. In general, he who remembers Allah, He will have His favor upon him. The Qur’ān says: “Therefore, remember Me, and I will remember you; ...” (Sura Al- .(Baqarah, No. ٢, verse ١٥٢

It is interesting that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in a traditions says: “When the Lord loves one of His servants, He says to His great angel, Gabriel, that He loves so and so, then do love him. Gabriel will love him and, then, he calls in the skies that Allah loves so and so, then do love him; and thereafter, all those who are in the skies will love him, and then

.the acceptance of this affection will reflect in the earth

And when the Lord hates a person, He tells Gabriel to hate him, and Gabriel hates him. After that he calls out among those who are in the skies that Allah hates him, then do hate him. Thus, all those who are in the skies will hate him, and afterward, the ".reflection of this hatred will be found in the earth

This tradition has been recorded in many Islamic traditional sources as well as in many commentary books, but this is a tradition of the text recorded in the Commentary of Fī-Zalāl, vol. ۵, p. ۴۵۴ which is adopted from Ahmad, Muslim, and
.Bukhārī

Verily, what a pleasure is better than this that a person feels that he is beloved by all the pure and the righteous of the world of existence? And how painful is that a person
?feels that the earth, the skies, the angels and the believing people all hate him

However, besides the books of Shī‘ah, there are numerous traditions recorded in the books of tradition and commentary compiled by the scholars of the Sunnite upon the occasion of revelation of the verse under discussion, narrated from the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.), which denote that this verse has been revealed mostly in regard to Ali-ibn-Abīṭālib (a.s.). Among them are: Zamakhsharī in Kashshāf; Sebṭayn-ul-Jauzī in Tathkirah; Ganjī Shāfi‘ī; Qurṭabī his famous Commentary book; Mu‘jab-ud-Dīn Tabarī in Zakhā’ir-ul-‘Ughbā; Neyshābūrī in his well-known commentary book; ‘Ibn-i-Şabbāq Mālikī in Fusūl-ul-Muhimmah, Suyūṭī in Durr-ul-Manthūr; Heythamī in Ṣawā'igh-ul-Muhraghah; and 'Ālūsī in Rouh-ul-Ma'ānī.

:Some of these traditions are as follows

Tha'labī, in his commentary book, narrates from Barā'-ibn-'Āzib: "The Messenger of .1 Allah (p.b.u.h.) told Ali (a.s.): 'Say: O' Allah! Appoint a covenant for me with yourself, and set my love in the hearts of the believers'. Then this verse was revealed."

(Ihghāgh-ul-Haghgh, vol. ۳, p.p.۸۳-۸۶

This very statement exactly, or with a little difference, has been cited in many other .Islamic books

In a lot of Islamic sources it has been narrated from 'Ibn-'Abbas who said: "The .۲ verse 'Verily those who believe and do righteous deeds, soon the Beneficent (Allah) will appoint love for them.' Has been revealed in regard to Ali-ibn-Abīṭālib (a.s.), which means that Allah appoints his love in the hearts of the believers."

(Ihghāgh-ul-Haghgh, vol. ۳, pp.۸۳-۸۶

Upon the commentary of this verse, it is cited in the book entitled 'Ṣawā'igh' that .۳ Muhammad-ibn-Hanafiyyah said: "There is no faithful believer but there is love of Ali (and his Ahl-ul-Bayt in his heart." (Ihghāgh-ul-Haghgh, vol. ۳, pp. ۸۳-۸۶

Maybe, for the same reason it has been cited in a correct and authentic tradition .۴ narrated from Amir-ul-Mu'mineen Ali (a.s.) who said: "Even if I strike the nose of a believer with this, my sword, for hating me, he will not hate me, and even if I pile all the wealth of the world before a hypocrite in order that he loves me, he will not love me. This is because it is a verdict pronounced by the tongue of the unschooled Prophet (p.b.u.h.) as he said: 'O' Ali! a believer will never hate you and a hypocrite will .?never love you

Rauh-ul-Ma'ānī, vol. ۱۶, p. ۱۳۰; Majma'-ul-Bayān, vol. ۶, p. ۵۳۳; and Nahaj-ul-Balāqah,) (saying No. ۴۵

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) in a tradition said: “The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in his last prayer . ۵ invoked in regard to Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) so loudly that people could hear, saying: ‘O Allah! Bestow the love of Ali upon the hearts of the believers, and appoint his awe and greatness in the hearts of the hypocrites’. Then this verse and the verse (next to it were revealed.” (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, vol. ۳, p. ۳۶۳

It has also been narrated from Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) who said: “The love of Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) is a reward that Allah gives to the believers who have righteous deed.” A similar meaning to this tradition has been narrated from the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in regard to the love and affection of the believers unto Ali (a.s.). (Al-Kāfīvol. ۱, (p. ۴۳۱, Tafsīr-i-Furāt, p. ۲۴۷

However, as it was said in the commentary explanations of the abovementioned verses, the revelation of this verse upon Ali, as a complete example, does not contrast the generality of the meaning upon the believers wholly, with a hierarchical order, of .course

So We have made it (The Qur'ān) easy in your tongue that you may give glad tidings thereby to the pious ones, and warn thereby stubborn people

Commentary: verse ٩٧

Here, the verse has referred to the Qur'ān, which is a source of training, Faith, and righteous deed. Allah (s.w.t.) in this verse says

So We have made it (The Qur'ān) easy in your tongue that you may give glad tidings thereby to the pious ones, and warn thereby stubborn people

The term /yassarnāh/, mentioned in the verse, is derived from the Arabic infinitive /taysīr/ in the sense of facilitation. This facilitation may be from the different points of view

It may be in this point of view that the Qur'ān has been revealed in Arabic, eloquent and perspicuous, whose tone is pleasant in the ears, and whose recitation is easy for the tongues

It may be from this view that Allah had given such a domination over the verses of the Qur'ān to His Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that he could apply it easily everywhere and for removing any difficulty, and he used to recite them to the believers munificently

It may be from the point of the content of the Qur'ān which, with its deep meanings, is easy to understand. Basically, those many great and outstanding facts which have been arranged in the frame of limited mere verbal utterances whose meanings can be understood easily, itself is an evidence for what is recited in the abovementioned verse and the act of which has been .performed by the help of Allah

In several verses of Sura Al-Qamar, No. ٥٤, including verse ١٧, this phrase has been repeated: “And certainly We have made the Qur’ān easy for remembrance, but is ”?there anyone who will mind

The Arabic word /ludd/ is the plural form of /’alad/ which means ‘an enemy with intensive hostility’, and it is used for those who are fanatic, obstinate, and irrational in .enmity

٩٨- وَكَمْ أَهْلَكْنَا قَبْلَهُمْ مِنْ قَرْنٍ هَلْ تُحِسُّ مِنْهُمْ مِنْ أَحَدٍ أَوْ تَسْمَعُ لَهُمْ رِكْرًا

And how many a generation before have We destroyed! Do you find any one of “ .٩٨
”?them or hear a sound of them

Commentary: verse ٩٨

This is the last verse of Sura Maryam. This Sura was revealed in Mecca at the time
.when Muslims were in a hard pressure

Keeping this matter in mind, the verse was both as a comfort for the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and the believers, and as a threat and warning against all hostile and obstinate :enemies of Islam. It says

And how many a generation before have We destroyed! Do you find any one of them “
”?or hear a sound of them

The Arabic term /rikz/ means ‘a faint sound, a whisper’, and, therefore, the things which are hidden under the ground, (as ore), in Arabic are called /rikāz/. Thus, the verse means that these cruel nations and the hard enemies of the truth were so
.destroyed that even no faint sound is heard from them now

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.), in answer to Jābir concerning this verse, said: “The destroyed generation is Umayyads. You may find none of them in the state of being hopeful or free from fear and horror.” Jābir has said that he asked whether that state could take (place, and the Imam replied: “It will happen very soon.” (Bihar-ul-Anwār, vol. ٤٤, p.٣٠

O' Allah! Our large Islamic society, with those abundant people and plenty of material and spiritual abilities, is captured in the grips of enemies and, because of disunity and separation of their rows, has become feeble. Please gather them all around the torch

O' Lord! As You destroyed and annihilated the former tyrannical generations so that no faint sound is heard from them, annihilate the most powerful unjust forces of our time, too. Remove their vice from the oppressed communities and make the raise of

In the Name of Allah, The Beneficent, The Merciful

Sura Tāhā, which is one of the Meccan suras, contains ۱۳۵ verses and its content, like other Meccan suras, is mostly about ‘Origin and End

This holy Sura is the first Sura of the Qur’ān which has explained the Story of Moses (a.s.) in details, and about ۸۰ verses of it have been stated in this regard. A part of the Sura is upon the greatness of the Qur’ān and the attributes of Allah, while another part of it relates to the story of Adam and Eve and the temptations of Satan. And, finally, there have been stated some awakening advices in this holy Sura

A tradition from Imam Sadiq upon recitation of Taha

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) says: “He who continues reciting Sura ‘TāHā’ will be loved by Allah (s.w.t.) and, on the Day of Resurrection, his book of deeds will be given to his right hand...”\(1\)

Commentary: verses ١-٤

Some meanings upon Taha

At the beginning of this Sura, again we are confronted the abbreviated letters of the ”Qur’ān, which excite the reader’s sense of curiosity. It says: “TāHā

A tradition narrated from Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) indicates that ‘TāHā’ is one of the names of holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.), and it means: ‘O seeker of the truth and the leader unto it

TāHā’ consists of two mystic letters, so that ‘Tā’ refers to the sense of ‘seeker of Truth’ and ‘Hā’ indicates the meaning of ‘the leader unto it’. It is well known that the usage of mystic letters, and abbreviations has been very common since the old times, and they are abundantly used nowadays in particular

The term “TāHā”, similar to ‘Yāsīn’, in the course of time, has gradually been applied as a proper name for the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.), so far that the family of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is called “Āl-i-Tā-Hā’ (the family of TāHā). Also, in ‘Supplication of Nudbah’, Haḍrat Maḥdī (May Allah hasten his glad advent) has been rendered into
’Yabna-Tā-Hā

From the time of the descent of the Qur’ān and its Divine revelation on, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) used to worship very much. He specially accomplished his worshipping in a standing state'. He stood so much so that his feet often were inflated. Then the verse was revealed, telling the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) that he should not impose upon himself so much trouble. The verse says

”We did not send down the Qur’ān to you that you distress yourself “

It is true that worship is the best actions, but every thing must have a limit. The Prophet (p.b.u.h.) must not bear the task so much that his feet inflate, and his power decreases too much for preaching and Holy Struggle

****

:In the next verse, the goal of the descent of the Qur’ān is explained, as follows

”(But only as an admonition to him who fears Allah “

The expression /man yaxšā/ (to him who fears Allah), denotes that a person does not accept the facts unless there is a kind of feeling of responsibility in him (that he fears

****

Then the verse pays to introduce the Lord, the One Who has sent down the Qur’ān, so that, by means of knowing Him, the greatness of the Qur’ān would be made manifest more. Concerning the Qur’ān, it says

”It has been sent down from Him Who created the earth and the high heavens “

In fact, this explanation is an indication to both the beginning and the end of the descent of the Qur’ān, whose end is the earth and its beginning is heavens

However, the Arabic word /tanzīl/ means ‘a gradual descent’. That is, the Qur’ān was revealed during ۲۳ years, in different occasions and for various incidents. This meaning does not contrast to the revelation of the Qur’ān upon the holy heart of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) at once on the Night of Qadr

٥- الرَّحْمَنُ عَلَى الْعَرْشِ اسْتَوَى

٦- لَهُ مَا فِي السَّمَاوَاتِ وَمَا فِي الْأَرْضِ وَمَا بَيْنَهُمَا وَمَا تَحْتَ الثَّرَى

٧- وَإِنْ تَجَهَّرَ بِالْقَوْلِ فَإِنَّهُ يَعْلَمُ السِّرَّ وَأَخْفَى

٥. “(The Beneficent (Allah Who) dominates on the ‘Arsh (the Throne of existence

To Him belongs whatever is in the heavens and whatever is in the earth, and “ ٦.
”whatever is between them, and whatever is beneath the ground

And if you utter aloud (or whisper, it is no matter): for verily He knows the secret “ ٧.
”(of yours) and (that which is yet) more hidden

Commentary: verses ٥-٧

Four attributes of Allah

:In these few verses, four main attributes of Allah are referred to. They are as follows

١. His Creative Power (Divinity), where it says: “...Who created the earth and the high
”heavens

٢. (His Sovereignty, where it says: “... dominates on ‘Arsh (the Throne of existence

٣. His Ownership, where it says: “To Him belongs whatever is in the heavens and ”...whatever is in the earth

٤. His Omniscience, where it says: “...He knows the secret (of yours) and (that which is ”yet) more hidden

The Sovereignty of Allah over ‘Arsh, which has been mentioned in some other occurrences of the Qur’ān with the phrase recited: “...He mounted the Throne (of authority)”, denotes to Allah’s authority over the world of existence. As an instance, when it is said that so and so set on the throne, or so and so was taken down from the throne, it means that he gained an authority, or his authority was taken from him

The Qur’ānic phrase: “...He mounted the throne (of authority)” and the like of it, is usually followed with sentence which interprets it. For example, in Sura ’A’rāf, No. ٧, verse ٥٤, it says: “...Then He mounted the Throne (of authority). He covers the day with the night...”. Or like Sura Yūnus, No. ١٠, verse ٣ which says: “...Then He established Himself on the Throne regulating all things,...”. Or like Sura Al-Ḥadīd, No. ٥٧, verse ٤, which says: “...Then He established Himself on the Throne. He knows what enters within the earth and what comes forth out of it...”. And like Sura As-Sajdah, No. ٣٢, verse ٤, where it says: “...Then He established Himself on the Throne. You have none besides Him to protect or intercede (for you)...”. And in the verse under discussion, the Qur’ān implies: the same Beneficent Who dominates on the ‘Arsh (the Throne of existence). The verse says

“(The Beneficent (Allah Who) dominates on the ‘Arsh (the Throne of existence “

****

The Arabic term /ḥarā/ originally means ‘wet soil’, and since the low level of the ground is often wet in Arabic it is called /ḥarā/. Thus the meaning of the phrase: /mātaḥtaḥḥarā/ (whatever is beneath the ground) envelops all dead bodies, treasures, and whatever thing is hidden in the depth of the ground

Then, next to the Sovereignty of Allah over the world of existence, the Qur’ān refers to His Ownership. It says

To Him belongs whatever is in the heavens and whatever is in the earth, and “ whatever is between them, and

”.whatever is beneath the ground

****

Up to here, three main attributes of Allah have been explained: the first epithet is His Creative Power, the second epithet, is His Sovereignty, and the third epithet is His Ownership.

In the next verse, the fourth epithet, His Omniscience, has been pointed out. It implies that His knowledge is so vast that it encompasses every thing you say manifestly or whatever you keep hidden, and He also knows even the more secret than the secret.
:The verse says

And if you utter aloud (or whisper, it is no matter): for verily He knows the secret (of “
”.yours) and (that which is yet) more hidden

Imam Şādiq (a.s.) said: “The secret (thing) is what you hide in your heart, and more secret than that is that which has passed from your mouth but you have forgotten it.
”.That is, not only it is hidden for others but you yourself have neglected it Allah knows everything: “He knows the secret (of yours) and (that which is yet) more hidden.” (١) He knows the things which are not seen in the heavens and in the earth: “...

(I know the unseen things of the heavens and the earth,...” (٢)

He knows what is in the womb of every female: “Allah knows what every female (bears, ...” (٣)

He knows the aim and meaning of glances: “He knows the stealthy looks..” (٤) He knows what passes in the hearts: “...Allah knows what is in (your hearts;...” (1)

And there falls no leaf of a tree but He knows it: “...and no leaf (of a tree) drops down (but He knows it,...”. (Sura Al-’An’ām, No. ٤, verse ٥٩

However, the domination of Allah over the world of existence is accomplished mercifully, not mightily. And the revelation of the Qur’ān has been a sign of His Beneficence and His Authority upon the existence. So, His Sovereignty over the whole existence is alike. He is both the Creator of the world of existence and the Protector and Ruler of it. He has also knowledge about whatever is visible and invisible and has
.absolute ownership over all things

Sura Al-’Ahzāb, No. ٣٣, verse ٥١ –١

”Allah, there is no god but He. To Him belong the Most Beautiful Names “ ٨

Commentary: verse ٨

Through the contents of the abovementioned verses an epitome of knowledge about the Sender of the Qur’ān was delivered by referring to Allah’s four attributes. They are: His Creative Power, His Sovereignty, His Ownership, and His Omniscience

:And, perhaps, it is for the same reason that the Qur’ān in this holy verse says

”Allah, there is no god but He. To Him belong the Most Beautiful Names “

The objective meaning of ‘the Most beautiful Names’ is the different attributes of Allah (s.w.t.) all of which are good and are beautiful

We know that Allah is: The Knower, The Powerful, The Sustainer, The Just, The Benevolent, The Generous, and The Merciful. Besides them, He has also many more good epithets similar to them

The purpose of calling Allah by these Names is not only that we utter them simply by the tongue, and we say, for example, O The knower, O The Powerful, O The Most Merciful of all merciful, but, in fact, we must settle these epithets in our selves as much as we can

We must try to obtain a ray from His Knowledge, a reflection from His Power, and a piece of His All-Embracing Mercy and practice them in ourselves and our society. In other words, we ought to be endowed with His Attributes and be characterized by His character, so that, under the light of this knowledge and power, and this justice and mercy, we can drive out ourselves and the society wherein we live from the row of .infernal people

However, there are some details about ‘the Most Beautiful Names’ recorded in the books of tradition and commentary, compiled by both Sunnites and Shi‘ites, a :substance of which will be offered here, as follows

No doubt the phrase ‘the Most Beautiful Names’ means ‘good names’, and we know that all the names of Allah contain some good meanings, therefore all His Names are the Most Beautiful Names. They are irrespective of those which are the affirmed qualities of His Pure Essence, like: The Knower, The Powerful; or those which are negative qualities of His Holy Essence, like: The Most Holy; and those which are the attributes of acts each of which denotes to one of His acts, like: The Creator, The All-Forgiving, The Beneficent, and The Merciful

On the other hand, no doubt the attributes of Allah are not countable, because His accomplishments are infinite. For each of His accomplishments a Name and an .Attribute can be chosen

But, as it is understood from Some Islamic traditions, some of His attributes are more significant than the others, and, perhaps, the phrase ‘the Most Beautiful Names’ is an indication to this particular group. Among the traditions we have received from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and the Immaculate Imams (Ahlul-Bayt) (a.s.) this meaning has repeatedly been said that there are ٩٩ Names for Allah and whoever calls Him by these Names his prayer will be answered, and whoever counts them will enter .Paradise

An example of the abovementioned traditions is the one that Sadūgh has narrated in his book, entitled Tauhīd, from

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) from Ali-ibn-Abīṭālib (a.s.) from the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) who said: “Verily there are ninety nine Names for Allah, the Blessed and Exalted. He who counts them will enter Paradise”. (The Commentary of Al-Mīzān, Majma‘-ul-Bayān, Nūr-uth-Thaḳalayn Again, in the book of Tauḥīd, it is narrated from Imam Ali-ibn-Mūsa-r-Riḍā (a.s.), from his fathers, from Ali-ibn-Abīṭālib (a.s.) who said: “Verily there are ninety nine Names for Allah, Almighty and Glorious. He who invokes by them it will be answered from him, and he who counts them will enter Paradise”. (The Commentary of Al-Mīzān, (Majma‘-ul-Bayān, Nūr-uth-Thaḳalayn

In the books of Bukhārī, Muslim, Tarmathī, and some other sources of traditions compiled by the Sunnite scholars, this very meaning has also been cited about the Names of Allah, saying that whoever calls Allah by these ninety-nine Names his prayer will be answered, and whoever counts them will enter Paradise. (Al-Mīzān, (Majma‘-ul-Bayān, Nūr-uth-Thaḳalayn

Some Islamic traditions denote that these ninety-nine Names are found in the Qur’ān. For example, a tradition narrated by Ibn-Abbas indicates that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “There are ninety nine Names for Allah. Whoever counts them will enter (Paradise, and they are in the Qur’ān.” (Majma‘-ul-Bayān, Nūr-uth-Thaḳalayn

Therefore, some of the Islamic scholars have tried to extract these Names and Attributes from the Qur’ān, but the Names of Allah mentioned in the Qur’ān are more than ninety nine Names. So, the Most Beautiful Names may be among them, and thus, .there are more than ninety nine Names in the Qur’ān concerning Allah

Whatever is more important here, and we must be specially careful of it, is that the purpose of calling Allah by these Names, or counting the most Beautiful Names of Allah, is not that whoever utters these Names by the tongue, and with no attention to their contents and concepts, he merely pronounces them will be successful and prosperous, or his invocation will be answered. But the aim is that the person believes in these Names and Attributes, and then he tries to reflect a ray of their meanings in his self; i.e., he should settle in himself some parts of the concepts of the Attributes: The Knower, the Powerful, the Beneficent, the Merciful, the Clement, All-Forgiving, the Strong, the Everlasting, the Self-Sufficient, The Sustainer, and the like of them. It is sure that such a person both will enter Paradise and his invocation will be answered .and will gain any goodness

However, whatever was said makes it manifest that if, besides these Names, some more Names are mentioned for Allah in some traditions or in supplications, and even in some supplications<sup>(۱)</sup> the number of His Names has reached to one thousand, it does not contrast to what was explained in the above, because the Names of Allah are infinite and, like the unending accomplishments of His Essence, they are unlimited, although a number of these Names and Attributes have a kind of .preference

And, also, when we recite in some traditions, like the one recorded in Usūl-i-Kāfī, Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.), commenting on the verse under discussion, has said: “ By Allah, we are the Most Beautiful Names (of Allah)”,<sup>(۲)</sup> it shows that a strong ray of

Such as the supplication of Joushan-Kabīr –۱
Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, vol. ۲, p. ۱۰۳ –۲

these divine epithets has reflected in their selves, and their knowledge helps them to
.the knowing of His Pure Essence

Also, some Islamic literatures indicate that all the Most Beautiful Names are summarized in 'pure monotheism'. This is because all His attributes return to His Pure
.Essence, The One

Fakhr-i-Rāzī, in his commentary book, points to a matter which, in one respect, is important. He says that all the Attributes of Allah return to two facts: either to His
.Omniscience, or the need of others to His Pure Essence

٩- وَهَلْ أَتَاكَ حَدِيثُ مُوسَى

١٠- إِذْ رَأَى نَارًا فَقَالَ لِأَهْلِهِ امْكُثُوا إِنِّي آنستُ نَارًا لَعَلِّي آتِيكُمْ مِّنْهَا بِقَبَسٍ أَوْ أَجْدٍ عَلَى النَّارِ هُدًى

١١- فَلَمَّا أَتَاهَا نُودِيَ يَا مُوسَى

١٠. "When he saw a fire, then he said to his family: 'Wait (a little)! Verily I perceive a "fire; perhaps I can bring you a brand from it, or may find some guidance at the fire "

١١. "Then when he came to the fire, he was called "

'O Moses'

١٢. "Verily I am your Lord! Therefore take off your shoes! Verily you are in the holy "valley of Tuwā "

Commentary: verses ٩-١٢

Point

.The Arabic term /qabas/ means: a piece of fire apart from another

Somewhere in the current Sura, a few points of the story of Moses (a.s.) have been stated in details. Among them are the followings

١. The choice of Moses (a.s.) for Messengership

٢. The invitation of Moses (a.s.) from Pharaoh to accepting the Truth

٣. Moses' coming out from Egypt and Pharaoh's being drowned

٤. Calf worshipping of the Children of Israel

Moses (a.s.), accompanied with his pregnant wife, went on a trip, and they lost their way in the desert. In the rainy, dark and cold desert, they needed a fire for both its heat and light to find the way

Then suddenly a fire was seen from the distance. In order to get the fire to comfort his family, Moses (a.s.) went toward the fire, where there came a voice by which Allah (elected Moses (a.s.) as an apostle. (Majma' -ul-Bayān, the commentary

Yes, in order to save himself and his family, Moses (a.s.) went toward the fire, but Allah opened the path of saving others to him. Moses was seeking for the road on the ground, while Allah showed him the spiritual way and the path of happiness. He was looking for his personal way, where Allah endowed him the way of guidance of the community

:In relation to this matter, the Qur'ān, addressing the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.), says

”?And has the story of Moses reached you “

When he saw a fire, then he said to his family: ‘Wait (a little)! Verily I perceive a fire; “
”.’perhaps I can bring you a brand from it, or may find some guidance at the fire

” !Then when he came to the fire, he was called: ‘O Moses“ Verily I am your Lord! Therefore take off your shoes! Verily you are in the holy valley “

”.’of Tuwā

By hearing that enlivening sound, addressing him: “ Verily I am your Lord!” Moses (a.s.)
.got very excited and an indescribable pleasure encompassed him thoroughly

He was commissioned to take off his shoes, because he had entered into a holy land: a land wherein the light of Allah was seen, the Message of Allah was heard, and he was to accept the responsibility of Apostleship. He ought to step on this land with .utmost humility and modesty

.That was why he should take off his shoes

The appellation of Moses has been mentioned in ٢٠ suras of the Qur'ān for ١٣٦ times. ١
The story of Moses is the longest stories of the Qur'ān, because around nine hundred
.verses of the Qur'ān concern to it

The term /rabb/ (the Lord), which is one of 'the Most Beautiful Names' of Allah, has ٢ occurred more than ٩٧٠ times in the Qur'ān, and in His first manifestation to Moses (a.s.), Allah introduced Himself by this Name, saying: " Verily I am your Lord!". And, since Moses' prophethood began with the word of Allah,<sup>(١)</sup> he was entitled /kalimullah/
.(the Interlocutor of Allah

The phrase /wād-il-muqaddas/ (the holy valley) is used fore a place far from defect ٣
.and vice; and the word /ṭuwā/ means something or somewhere which is blessed

An Islamic tradition denotes that the purpose of 'taking the shoes' is detaching the ٤ heart from two anxieties: one of his anxieties was about the situation of his wife in that cold desert; and his second anxiety was about the evil of Pharaoh. (Nūr-uth-.(Thaqalaym

Some commentators also believe that this holy Qur'ānic phrase points to the wife and .child, or to the love of the world and Hereafter

The phrase under discussion has also occurred in the present Turah with the same
.form of meaning

Sura An-Nisā', No. ٤, verse ١٦٤ says: "...and Allah spoke directly unto Moses a - ١

١٣- وَأَنَا اخْتَرْتُكَ فَاسْتَمِعْ لِمَا يُوحَى

Verily I, I(alone), am Allah. There is no god save Me. So worship (only) Me, and “ .١٤

Commentary: verses ١٣-١٤

Divine prophets have been appointed to prophethood by Allah, not by people. Therefore, the words of revelation, sent to them, should be heard and followed with whole the entity and heartily

In this holy verse, Allah says that He Himself has chosen him to Messengership, then he should hear His word and be steadfast on it. This is the Divine revelation that he :was commanded to hear. The verse says

”And I myself have chosen you; therefore hearken unto what is revealed “

:Regarding Unity and sincere religion, Allah commanded him in this verse as follows

Verily I, I(alone), am Allah. There is no god save Me. So worship (only) Me, and “
”.establish prayer for My remembrance

In this verse Allah enjoins him to worship Him and to associate none in worshipping unto Him and to establish prayer in order that in His remembrance he glorifies and .praises Him since prayer exists not save for the remembrance of Allah

Or the purpose of the content meaning in this holy verse is that he should establish .prayer so that He (s.w.t.) also remembers him in praising

In other words, in this holy verse, next to the statement of the most important principle of the prophets' invitation, which is Unity, the subject of worshipping the One God, as a fruit for the tree of Faith and Unity, has been referred to. And, immediately after it, He has enjoined prayer; i.e., the greatest worship and the most important link between the servants and the Creator, as well as the most effective means for that
.His Pure Essence might not be forgotten

” .away from it, lest you perish

Commentary: verses ١٥-١٦

Monotheism and Resurrection are at the top of Allah’s Messages for humankind.
.None is aware of the time of the event of Hereafter, save Allah

The occurrence of Resurrection is certain, but its time is hidden. In Hereafter, the execution of Divine Law, and the accomplishment of rewards and retributions, is the same for all

After mentioning Unity and its explanation in the previous verse, here, in this verse, :the second basic principle, which is resurrection, is referred to. It says

Verily the Hour (of Doom) is coming, (but) I will to keep it hidden so that every soul “
” .may be rewarded for its endeavour

According to this verse, the reason of keeping the exact time of Resurrection hidden is cited that Allah wishes ‘to reward every person for his effort and endeavour’, so that .a freedom of action comes into being for all human beings

The next verse has pointed to a fundamental principle, which is a surety of execution
:of all religious and training programs, where it says

Therefore let him who believes not in it and follows his own vain desires turn you “
”.away from it, lest you perish

The prophet must stand firm before the faithless people and their evil temptations. He must afraid neither of the large number of the opponents nor be worried of their plots, nor be doubtful about the rightfulness of his invitation and mobility of this Divine
.school

!Moses’ Rod and White Hand

No doubt the divine prophets need miracles to prove their communication with Allah (s.w.t.), else everybody may claim prophethood

Moses (a.s.), after getting the command of prophethood, should receive its divine proof, too. Therefore, in the same adventurous night, he received two great miracles (.from the side of Allah (s.w.t

:The Qur’ān explains this event as follows

And (Allah said) what is that in your right hand “

”?O Moses

:In answer to this question, Moses (a.s.) said

”... :It is my rod“... “

And, since Moses wished to continue his speech with his beloved Lord, Who for the first time had opened that door to him, and also since maybe he thought saying merely 'It is my rod' was not enough and the purpose was to explain its usage, he :added

I lean on it, and I beat down leaves with it for my sheep, and there are (also) other...“

١٩. "Said He: 'Cast it down O Moses "

٢٠. "Then he cast it down, and lo! it was a serpent gliding "

٢١. "Said He: 'Take it, and fear not, We will restore it to its first state "

Commentary: verses ١٩-٢١

Point

In the first couple of holy verses, mentioned in the above, Moses is commanded to throw down his rod and he immediately, and without wasting any moment, threw his rod down, when suddenly it became a great snake and began moving. Here are the verses:

"Said He: 'Cast it down O Moses "

"Then he cast it down, and lo! it was a serpent gliding "

The Arabic term /tas'ā/ is derived from /sa'y/ in the sense of 'to walk swiftly', so that it does not reach to the state of running

:In the next holy verse, He told Moses to take the rod. Here is the verse

"Said He: 'Take it, and fear not, We will restore it to its first state "

Then, as soon as Allah, the Glorified, told him to take it and fear not, his fear went away so that Moses (a.s.) put his hand into the mouth of the serpent and seized its neck; so the ‘serpent changed into its first state, i.e., a rod. (The Commentary of Jawāmi‘-ul-Jāmi

It is cited in Majma‘-ul-Bayān that this rod was made of a heavenly piece of wood which the former prophets had inherited from Adam, and Shu‘ayb (Jethro) had given .(it to Moses (a.s

:Explanations

Human beings naturally are afraid of dangers and the causes of vice and harm, and .1 they avoid them. It is evident that Moses (a.s.), who is a man, also fears. What is criticized, and even disgraceful, here, is heartily fear and anxiety from other than Allah, which is against bravery and it is one of the evil qualities for the true believers, .and Moses (a.s.), of course, had been far from it

The fear of Moses (a.s.), perhaps, was for the reason that he had considered the .2 command of ‘cast it down’, respectful, like the command of ‘take off your shoes’, but .when it changed into a serpent, he surprised

Intrinsically, this very fear is itself an evidence that that happening was a miracle, otherwise, a sorcerer who himself knows that his sorcery is not a fact, naturally is not .afraid of his own magic

In any moment, Allah gives life to millions of lifeless things, or He takes the life of .3 millions of living creatures. Here, He also gave life to the lifeless rod and then He took it back from it when it became a rod again. Keeping this event in mind, the question is: can He not cause a living person to die, and then He restores him to his first state? ((The Commentary of Fī Zilāl-il-Qur’ān Verily, when Allah's view changes a rod into a serpent, then what happens if He puts a graceful view upon us? And, when the favoured thing of Allah can swallow all the magic of the sorcerers, will His favour toward our hearts not swallow all the evil

?temptations

At the first onset of the adventure of Moses, there happened two miracles for him. .۴
The first was that his rod turned to be a serpent; and the second was that the serpent
.was restored to its first state

٢٢- وَأَضْمُمْ يَدَكَ إِلَى جَنَاحِكَ تَخْرُجَ بَيْضَاءَ مِنْ غَيْرِ سُوءٍ ءَايَةٌ أُخْرَى

٢٣- لِنُرِيكَ مِنْ ءَايَاتِنَا الْكُبْرَى

And place your hand under your armpit, it will come forth white (shining) without “ .٢٢

”,(harm, (and this also is) another sign (miracle

”.That We may show you of Our greater signs “ .٢٣

Commentary: verse ٢٢

White Hand as His Power and His Sign

Another miracle of Moses (a.s.) was the ‘White Hand’, which has been mentioned in three occurrences of the Qur’ān. One of them is where it says: “Enter your hand into the opening of your bosom, ...”<sup>(١)</sup> Another one is the verse which says: “And enter your hand into the opening of your bosom,...”<sup>(٢)</sup> And the third one is the :abovementioned verse which says

”... ,And place your hand under your armpit “

The meaning of these three verses can be gathered in a statement, saying: ‘Enter your hand into the opening of your bosom as far as under your armpit’, so that it comes out white and in perfect condition. This is another Sign of Allah. The verse continues saying it will come forth white (shining) without harm, (and this also is) another sign...“

”,((miracle

However, Allah is All-Mighty and whenever and by any means that He intends He can manifest His Power. The

p: ٣٦٣

.miracles of the prophets can also be counted as a part of His Signs and His Power

Therefore, in the next verse, as a conclusion of the contents of the previous verses, it implies that Allah gave these things to Moses in order to show him His great signs. In this regard, the verse says

”That We may show you of Our greater signs “

The objective meaning of the phrase: ‘greater signs, is those very important miracles which were mentioned in the above

:Explanations

Point

Moses’ prayer to help him with Aaron as his assistant – and to make the task of his ministry towards Pharaoh easy for him – Reference to Allah’s plan to save Moses in his infancy, from the hands of Pharaoh – Moses ordained to proceed towards Pharaoh – Moses demands from Pharaoh the delivery of the Children of Israel – Moses preaches Unity of Allah to Pharaoh

٢٥. “(Moses) said: ‘My Lord! Expand me my breast) “

٢٦. “And make easy for me my task “

٢٧. “And loose a knot from my tongue “

٢٨. “(That) they may understand my saying) “

Commentary: verses ٢٤-٢٨

The command of Moses' Messengership

From this verse on, the content of the verses indicate that the command of Messengership of Moses is issued, a great and

p: ۳۶۵

heavy messengership, a messengership which begins with conveying the command of Allah to the most powerful, and the most dangerous person of the people of the society of his time, Pharaoh. It says

”(Go to Pharaoh! Verily he has transgressed (the bounds “

Transgression (ṭuqyān) means: ‘violating the bounds of all dimensions of life’; therefore, such a person in Arabic is called ṭāqūt

Yes, for improving a corrupt environment and creating a perfect revelation, we must begin with the most mischievous ones and the leaders of disbelievers, those who have control over the functions of all essential elements of the society

Moses not only did not fear such heavy commission, and did not ask Allah for the least alleviation, but also he embraced it eagerly to follow; and he wished Allah (s.w.t.) to give him the necessary means of succession in this commission

And in view of the fact that the first means of victory is a great spirit, a high thought, and an effective intellect, or, in other words, the ‘expansion of breast’, the verse says

”(Moses) said: ‘My Lord! Expand me my breast) “

And since there are some difficulties along this way, which cannot be removed save by the grace of Allah, in the second stage he asked Allah to make the affairs easy for him and to remove all the barriers from his way. He said

”,And make easy for me my task “

Then, Moses (a.s.) requested Allah to give him a better ability of speech. He also expressed specially the reason of this request. He said

”,And loose a knot from my tongue “

”.That) they may understand my saying) “

This phrase, in fact, is an interpretation unto the previous verse. It means that he ,asked to be able to speak so clear

p: ۳۶۶

.elegant, and expressive that every hearer could understand him

He demanded ۴ things from Allah

In other words, as soon as Moses (a.s.) was commissioned to the Divine
:Messengership, he demanded four things from Allah

”!The expansion of breast: “My Lord! Expand me my breast .۱

”,A preparation for the conditions: “And make easy for me my task .۲

”,A fluent speech: “And loose a knot from my tongue .۳

”...Having an assistant: “And appoint for me an assistant .۴

And since Moses (a.s.) had been commissioned to different subjects, such as:
worshipping, political, revolutionary, social, ethical, personal, and congregational affairs, and paying to every one of them naturally causes man to neglect some .others, therefore, the expansion of breast is utterly necessary for obtaining them all

The expansion of breast is necessary both for the person himself and for fulfilling the .responsibility, and Moses asked them all from Allah

****

٢٩- وَاجْعَلْ لِي وَزِيرًا مِّنْ أَهْلِي

٣٠- هَارُونَ أَخِي

٣١- اشْدُدْ بِهِ أَزْرِي

٣٢- وَأَشْرِكْهُ فِي أَمْرِي

٢٩. “And appoint for me an assistant from my family “

٣٠. “;Aaron, my brother “

٣١. “Strengthen my back by him “

٣٢. “And associate him (with me) in my affair “

Commentary: verses ٢٩-٣٢

Point

Since carrying on the heavy responsibility of prophethood toward the final point needs someone to aid so that it is impossible to afford it alone, then the fourth request of Moses (a.s.) from Allah was that he said

“And appoint for me an assistant from my family “

:Then he mentioned his brother in particular, and said

“;Aaron, my brother “

Aaron was the elder brother of Moses. He was three years older than Moses, with a tall stature and a well-proportioned body, and with a very eloquent tongue and an excellent apprehension. He passed away three years before the death of Moses

Aaron was one of the appointed messengers whom Allah bestowed on Moses (a.s.) in a way of His Mercy

Then Moses stated his purpose why he asked Allah to appoint Aaron as his minister :and assistant. He said

p: ۳۶۸

”Strengthen my back by him “

:And, in order to complete this meaning, he continued saying

”And associate him (with me) in my affair “

Moses asked Allah that Aaron associated him both in the rank of Messengership and in accomplishing that great mission. Thus, Moses did not ask Allah, only for the ministry of Aaron, but he also requested for his prophethood. Yet, in all respects, Aaron was a follower of Moses in all affairs, and Moses was his leader

The reason why it is said in the verse ‘minister’ is that a minister carries out the heavy affairs and duties of the guardian of the affairs. The Arabic word /wazīr/ (minister) is derived from the word /wizr/ in the sense of ‘a heavy load’, and it is called to a person who carries the burden of other’s responsibility on his back; and the Arabic term /’azrī/ also means ‘back

The prophet asked Allah that Ali(a.s) to be his assistant

However, it has been cited in many commentary books that the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) repeatedly recited these verses and said: “My Lord! Like Moses, I also ask for \(an assistant from my family”<sup>(1)</sup>

Allamah Tabātabā’ī in the Commentary of Al-Mizān says: “In the tradition of Rank, the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) told Ali-ibn-Abīṭālib: ‘O Ali! You are to me as Aaron was to Moses, save that there is no prophet after me’. This tradition has been narrated in one hundred ways by the Sunnites and in seventy ways by the Shi‘ite

Again, some of the traditions recorded in the books compiled by the scholars of the Sunnite and the Shi‘ite denote that the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) asked Allah the same things that Moses had asked for the succession in his mission, with a difference that instead of Aaron he (p.b.u.h.) mentioned the name of Ali (a.s.) and said as follows

.The Commentary books of Durr-ul-Manthūr and Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn -۱

O Allah! I ask You the same thing that my brother Moses asked You that You expand “ my breast, and make easy for me my task, and loose a knot from my tongue that they may understand my saying, and appoint for me an assistant from my family, Ali, my brother. My Lord! Strengthen my back by him, and associate him (with me) in my affair, so that we glorify You much, and remember You abundantly; verily You are
”ever seeing of us

This tradition has been recorded in the Commentary of Durr-ul-Manthūr, by Suyūṭī; in Majma‘-ul-Bayān by the Late Ṭabarsī; and a great deal of the great scholars of the Sunnite and the Shi‘ite have also narrated it with some differences, of course

Similar to this tradition is the tradition of Rank; wherein the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has said to Ali (a.s.): “Are you not content with (this fact) that you are to me as Aaron was to
”?Moses, save that there is no prophet after me

This tradition, which has been cited in the first level books of the Sunnites, and as Moḥaddith Bahrānī has said in his book entitled ‘Qāyat-ul-Marām’, it has been narrated in one hundred ways by the Sunnites and in seventy ways by the Shi‘ite, is so authentic and valid that there is no room for any denial or rejection against it

However, another tradition in respect of the rank and position of Amir-ul-Mu‘mineen Ali-ibn-Abīṭālib (a.s.) may be considered, too, wherein the Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) has said: “Verily Ali is from me and I am from him; and he is the master of every believer after me.” (This statement is an indication to the rank of mastership and (. (.Imamate of Ali (a.s

This tradition has been authorized by many Islamic scholars, such as: Ibn-abī-‘Āṣim, ;No. ۱۱۸۷; Al-Baqawī in Mu‘jam-us-Saḥābah, No. ۲۰-q; Ibn-‘Asākir, vol. ۱۲, p. ۱۰۸ Al-Juweynī, in Farā’id-us-Samṭayn, vol. ۱, p. ۱۵; Faḍā’il-ul-Khamsah, vol. ۱, p. ۳۴۲;

”So that we glorify You much “ .۳۳

”.Verily You are ever seeing of us “ .۳۵

Commentary: verses ۳۳-۳۵

At first, we mention that Allah is Pure from any blemish and imperfection, then we glorify Him and thank Him in the same manner that the great prophets did as a duty.

.They purified Allah from any polytheistic matters, fancies, and superstitions

The philosophy of government and power in a society is establishing spirituality in that society and promoting it there

Therefore, the true glorification of Allah is our struggling against the mischievous rulers. Of course, that struggle is worthy that continues and is usually accompanied with much glorification and remembrance of Allah in all the times; else every one remembers the Lord at the time of danger and hardships

:Thus, Moses (a.s.) states his words as follows

”So that we glorify You much “

”And remember You abundantly “

”.Verily You are ever seeing of us “

Prophets always saw themselves at the presence of Allah, and they were content with His Will and His Expediency

٣٦- قَالَ قَدْ أُوتِيتَ سُؤْلَكَ يَا مُوسَى

٣٧- وَلَقَدْ مَنَّا عَلَيْكَ مَرَّةً أُخْرَى

”Said He: ‘You are granted your request, O Moses “ .٣٦

”And indeed We have conferred a favour on you another time “ .٣٧

Commentary: verses ٣٦-٣٧

The request o Moses is granted

Since in his sincere demands Moses (a.s.) did not intend anything but to deliver a better and more complete service, Allah answered his requests promptly at the same time, and, as the verse remarks

”Said He: ‘You are granted your request, O Moses “

When Allah informed Moses that He had granted him his requests, then following to it, in the next verse, He mentions the Divine bounties given to Moses. It implies that this is not the first time that Allah has bestowed His favours on him, but he has always been under the attentiveness and providence of Allah, and another time, in his childhood, he was conferred a favour, too

:The verse says

”And indeed We have conferred a favour on you another time “

”.in order that you might be brought up (and trained) in My sight

Commentary: verses ٣٨–٣٩

Moses' mother cast him in a chest into the sea

In this verse, the revelation attracts the attention of Moses to the following facts. It
:says

”When We inspired in your mother what must be inspired “

This holy verse indicates that all the ways, which were ended to the deliverance of .Moses (a.s.) from the rips of Pharaohs in that age, were wholly taught to his mother

Upon the meaning of this verse, in Jawāmi‘-ul-Jāmi‘, the commentary, it is cited that: at the time when We inspired your mother whatever was inspirable; that inspiration caused your deliverance from being killed; or that We sent an angel to her, in the .same manner as We sent it to Mary

The purpose of ‘inspiration’ here is to inspire something to the heart, not the idiomatic term of revelation which is specially adapted for Divine prophets, since Messengership is particular to men, as Sura Yusuf, No. ١٢, verse ١٠٩ says: “And We have not sent before you but men from (among) the people of the towns, to whom
”... .We sent revelations

There was predicted for the people of Pharaoh that a child from the Children of Israel would come into existence who could destroy the kingdom of Pharaoh. In order to prevent that happening, Pharaoh had ordered his men to kill the sons of the Children of Israel and to keep their daughters alive to work as slave-maids and serving
.wenches for them

However, Moses’ mother felt that the life of her newborn child was in danger. At that moment the Lord, Who had appointed that child for a great raise, inspired in her heart
:as follows

”... ,Saying) that: ‘Cast him into a chest, then cast it into the sea) “

The Arabic term /tābūt/ means a wooden chest. It does not always mean, as some .people think, the coffin wherein the dead bodies are put

Next to it, the Qur’ān adds implying that the sea is commissioned to cast it up over the bank so that, at last, the one who is the enemy of Allah and the enemy of him takes :him and fosters him in his lap. The verse continues saying then the sea shall cast him up on the bank; there shall take him one (who is an)...“

”... ’.enemy to Me and an enemy to him

And, in view of the fact that Moses (a.s.) should be kept in a protective circle to be safe for the way he had in front of him full of ascent and descent, Allah cast a ray of His affection on Moses so that whoever saw him loved him in a manner that not only the one would not be willing to Kill him but also he might not accept that any :harm should hurt him. The Qur’ān in this regard says

”... ,(And I cast down upon you love from Me (that every one may love you...”

It has been said that the midwife of Moses (a.s.) was one of the people of Pharaoh. She wanted to report his birth to the cruel men of the government. But, for the first time, as soon as her eyes cast on the eyes of the newly born child, it seemed a light glittered from the baby’s eyes which brightened the depth of the heart of the midwife .so that she loved him in a way that all kinds of evil thought departed from her mind

:At the end of this holy verse, the Qur’ān refers to the aim of the event. It says

”.in order that you might be brought up (and trained) in My sight...”

By the way, this verse leads us to the concept that whenever Allah intends an action to be done, He also provides its necessary means. Here, in order to protect Moses (a.s.), He inspires in his mother that she casts her child into the sea. Then He commands to the sea that it takes the chest carrying the child on the bank. He casts into the enemy’s heart that he keeps him and He puts affection of the child in his .heart

Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said: “Allah put such a love of Moses in people’s hearts that whoever \(saw him \(a.s.\) was interested in him.”\(1\)

So We returned you to your mother that her eye be refreshed and she should not grieve. And you did slay a man (of Pharaohic ones) but We delivered you from grief, and We tried you with various trials; then you did tarry a number of years among the people of Midian, then you came hither

”!as ordained, O Moses

Commentary: verse ٤٠

Pharaoh and his wife found Moses in the chest

There were a few women who had a fundamental function in the history of the life and struggles of Moses (a.s.). They were: Moses’ mother, the sister of Moses, his wife, .and the wife of Pharaoh

.Pharaoh’s castle had been built by the Nile River

While Pharaoh and his wife were beside the water watching the waves, suddenly a mysterious chest attracted their attention to itself. He ordered his men to take the chest from the water. When they opened the door of the chest, surprisingly, found a .beautiful newly born child in it, something that, perhaps, they would not think of

Pharaoh realized that the child must be from the Israelites who, being afraid of his .officials, had chosen that fate for him

Therefore, he ordered his men to kill him. But his wife, who was barren, loved him very much, and the mysterious ray, which glittered from the baby's eyes, penetrated into the whole parts of the lady's heart, and attracted her to himself.

She appealed to Pharaoh for help and mercy and, calling the baby the delight of eyes, asked him to dispense with killing him; and, at last, she succeeded to make him agreeable with her request.

.But, on the other hand, the child had become hungry

He was crying and shedding tears, while he suck milk from the nipple of none of the nurses that they brought for him.

.Now the rest of the story is said by the Qur'ān

After mentioning that Moses might be formed and trained in Allah's sight, it implies that: at the time when Moses' sister, with the command of the mother, was walking near by the Pharaoh's castle, and watching the circumstances thereabout, and the baby's fate in particular, she approached them to give them a suggestion

:The verse says

"... :When your sister goes forth to say "

She told the men of Pharaoh whether she introduced a woman to them who was able to nurse the baby. The verse continues saying

"... '?Shall I direct you to one who will nurse him'..."

Maybe, she added that this woman had a pure milk so that she was sure that the child would accept it.

The agents of Pharaoh became happy by that statement and began going with her toward that lady

Moses' sister, who showed herself as an unacquainted person and a stranger,

.informed the mother of the matter

.The mother also, without losing her coolness, went into the court of Pharaoh

As soon as the child was put inside the lap of mother and smelt the smell of his mother, an acquainted smell, he took

p: ۳۷۸

the nipple of the mother eagerly and sucking milk with a great love and interest. The sound of joy and happiness was heard from the audience, and the signs of pleasure and delight appeared in the eyes of Pharaoh's wife

Pharaoh trusted the child with her, and his wife emphasized very much on the care and protection from the child, and she ordered her that the child should be brought to her in short distances of time to see him

:It is in this condition that Qur'ān says

So We returned you to your mother that her eye be refreshed and she should not ...“
”... .grieve

Several years passed and Moses (a.s.) fostered in a circle of Divine Mercy and love and inside a secure and safe Place, until he gradually became a lad

One day, he was walking along a road where he saw two men who were quarrelling with each other. One of them was from among the Children of Israel and the other was a Coptic (one of the Egyptians who were the adherents of Pharaoh). Moses (a.s.) went to help the oppressed one who was from the Children of Israel, and, in order to defy him, bruised a sharp knock on the body of the Coptic man. This defense from the oppressed, with that very single knock, caused the Coptic man to die

As some friends of Moses recommended him, he came out privately from Egypt and went unto Madyan and found a safe and sound shelter with Shu'ayb (Jethro), the prophet, explanation of which will be detailed in the commentary of Sura Al-Qaṣaṣ No. ۲۸, Allah Willing

:It is in this point that, addressing Moses (a.s.), the Qur'ān says

”... ,And you did slay a man (of Pharaohic ones) but We delivered you from grief ...“

”... ;and We tried you with various trials...“

And, after paving this long path and being bodily and spiritually prepared, because of those events and trials that he passed successfully and with eminence, Moses (a.s.)
:was addressed as follows then you did tarry a number of years among the people of Midian, then you came...“

”!hither as ordained, O Moses

However, passing the hard stages of trials was a preparation for reaching the rank of .Messengership from the side of Allah and the spiritual state

Commentary: verses ٤١-٤٤

Allah trained Moses for Messengership

Allah, in this holy verse, informs Moses that He has chosen him for His revelation and Messengership and that he should be a medium between Him and people. He has chosen him for the heavy duty of receiving Divine revelation, for achieving the Messengership, and for guiding and leading His servants. He trained Moses and tried him in the currents of difficult events and gave him power and ability in order that he became apt from any point of view so that he could afford that great mission :successfully. The verse says

٤١. "And I have (prepared and) chosen you for Myself "

The Arabic term /'iṣṭinā'/ is derived from /ṣana'a/ in the sense of 'emphasizing and insisting on taking necessary action for improving something.' As Rāqib has cited in his Arabic

dictionary by the name of Mufradāt, the Qur'ānic phrase means: 'We have improved you from any point of view as if I want you for Myself'; and this is the most affectionate statement that Allah has said upon this great prophet

****

Then, in the next verse, it implies: now that everything has been prepared, and all necessary means have been provided with Moses, addressing both him and his brother, Allah (s.w.t.) says

"... ,(Go you and your brother, with My signs (miracles "

These Divine signs, which encompass both the two great miracles of Moses, and other signs of Allah, and the Divine teachings and programs themselves are also denotations to the rightfulness and legitimacy of his invitation

So, in order to strengthen their spirits and that they increase in their effort and endeavour, He adds

".and be not remiss in remembrance of Me..."

Since remission and abandoning sharp conclusiveness may destroy the result of all efforts, therefore, they must stand firmly and fear of no adventure. They must not relax their efforts before any power, either

****

After that, the main aim of this task and the point toward which they should direct their struggle has been defined. It says

".(Go, you both, unto Pharaoh! verily he has transgressed (the bounds "

The factor of all afflictions of that vast country was, Pharaoh, because the cause of progression or retardation, happiness or wretchedness, of a nation, before anything else, is the leaders and authorities of that nation

***

p: ३८२

Then, at the beginning, the style of confronting Pharaoh which can be effective, and that they might influence fruitfully in him, is stated as follows

“(Yet speak gently to him, perhaps he may get admonished or fear Allah “

:Explanations

1. The secret of a person's success has lied in a full and permanent attention to Allah .

2. The first stage is self-improvement, and then the improvement of the society .comes forth

3. A preacher or an emissary should be brave, decided, and impenetrable so that the palace, power, and dignity of the cruel ruler do not make him terrified in accomplishing his mission, or that, in negligence from the remembrance of Allah, he leaves out the necessary explicitness

4. The first step in enjoining right and forbidding wrong, and guiding the society, is a gentle speech. Even in facing with the most tyrannical ones, at first, the words should be clement and kind. Never must we be despair of the guidance of others

5. If a person is sent for an action as a manager , it must be tried that his spirit be filled with love and feeling of pride and encouragement

****

٤٥- قَالَا رَبَّنَا إِنَّنَا نَخَافُ أَنْ يَفْرُطَ عَلَيْنَا أَوْ أَنْ يَطْغَى

٤٦- قَالَ لَا تَخَافَا إِنِّي مَعَكُمَا أَسْمَعُ وَأَرَى

They (Moses and Aaron) said: ‘Our Lord! Verily we fear that he may exceed “ .٤٥
”.against us, or that he may wax insolent

”.’Said He: ‘Fear not. Verily I am with you both, hearing and seeing “ .٤٦

Commentary: verses ٤٥-٤٦

Point

The Arabic word /faruṭa/ means: ‘to precede, to be extravagantly reproachful or insolent’. Therefore the phrase mentioned in the verse means: ‘we are afraid that Pharaoh, before our reasoning and bringing miracles, precedes us and increases his :insolence against the Children of Israel’. The verse says

They (Moses and Aaron) said: ‘Our Lord! Verily we fear that he may exceed against “
”.us, or that he may wax insolent

The thing, which is blameworthy for the prophets, is heartily fear from other than Allah; else, natural fear is necessary for nature of those nobles and for all human .beings. Every person, of course has this fear before dangers

****

Then, in the next verse, the Qur’ān implies that they should not fear, because not only :Allah is with them, but also He helps them and guards them. The verse says

”.’Said He: ‘Fear not. Verily I am with you both, hearing and seeing “

Allah revealed Moses to answer Pharaoh's questions

Whatever Pharaoh asked them, He hears and reveals its answer to them; and whatever he decides against them, He sees and defends them. Similar to this meaning is mentioned in Sura Al-Qaṣaṣ, No. ٢٨, verse ٣٥, where it says: "...and We will "... ,give you both an authority, so that they shall not reach you

At the end, it is necessary to note that although all humankind are under the grace and mercy of Allah, yet His grace is more for the prophets. Thus, having faith for the believers that they are at the presence of Allah, and being certain that the Divine helps are the factors of their bravery and spirits, as the current verse says: "...verily I "... ,am with you both

Verily it has been revealed unto us that the chastisement will be upon him who “ .٤٨
”.rejects (the Divine Signs) and turns away

Commentary: verses ٤٧-٤٨

Since teaching and guidance of cruel leaders to the right way had been an important .and very hard task, Allah has repeated the command of going toward Pharaoh

Allah has stated for them the method of their invitation at the presence of Pharaoh in five short, conclusive, and expressive sentences. One of them concerns the main mission; the second states the content of the mission; the third mentions the reason and the evidence of their mission; the fourth is the encouragement of those who .accept the invitation; and the fifth is a threat against the opponents of it

:At first it says

So go you both unto him and say: ‘(O Pharaoh!) Verily we are Messengers from your “ ”... .Lord

:Then it continues saying

”... .Send forth, therefore, the Children of Israel with us and do not chastise them ...“

:After that, the revelation points to their evidence by saying

”... ,We have brought you a sign (a miracle) from your Lord ...“

Therefore, as intellect directs, it is necessary that you ponder over our words and if .they are right, you ought to accept them

:Then, as an encouragement of the believers, it adds

”!And peace will be upon him who follows the guidance ...“

This phrase may point to another meaning, too. It may say that safety and prosperity both in this world and the Hereafter belongs to those who follow the godly guidance. They will be free from disquiets, offences, Divine painful punishments, and social and .personal difficulties of life. This is, in fact, the result of Moses’ invitation

****

At last, in the next verse, Moses and Aaron are told to say to Pharaoh the evil end of :his disobedience from this invitation, by saying

Verily it has been revealed unto us that the chastisement will be upon him who “
”.rejects (the Divine Signs) and turns away

.This is a fact that ought to be said to Pharaoh manifestly

٥١. "Pharaoh) said: 'What then is the state of the former generations) "

٥٢. He said: 'The knowledge of them is with my Lord in a Book. My Lord neither errs, " nor does He forget

Commentary: verses ٤٩-٥٢

Here, the Holy Qur'an directly refers to the sayings of Moses and Aaron to Pharaoh. When Moses was faced with Pharaoh, he repeated the proper and effective sentences that Allah (s.w.t.) had taught him at the time of the command of Messengership. These verses have been explained formerly

:When Pharaoh heard these words, his first reaction was that

"He (Pharaoh) said: 'Who then is the Lord of you two, O Moses "

It is wonderful that Pharaoh, who was proud and conceited, did not agree even to say 'Who is my Lord that you claim?', but he said: 'Who then is the Lord of you

Moses (a.s.) at once offered a very inclusive but short introduction about the Lord, as follows

”He said: ‘Our Lord is He Who gave everything its creation. Then guided (it) aright “

In this short saying, Moses (a.s.) pointed to two fundamental principals of creation and existence, each of which is some independent and clear evidence unto the recognition of Allah

Moses (a.s.) intends to make Pharaoh understand that this world of existence is limited neither to him, nor to the land of Egypt; neither is it restricted to the present nor to the past. This vast world has an old and future age when neither he nor Pharaoh had been or will be living

Then, two main problems are outstanding in this world: providing the necessities, and applying the powers and possibilities alongside the path of progression of the beings. These can make Pharaoh acquainted with the Lord very well

When Pharaoh heard this interesting inclusive answer, he asked another question, and said if the situation was like that what about the former people of them? The verse says

”Pharaoh) said: ‘What then is the state of the former generations) “

In answer to this question of Pharaoh concerning the whole specifications of the former generations, Moses’ reply was as follows

He said: ‘The knowledge of them is with my Lord in a Book. My Lord neither errs, nor “ does He forget

Thus, their account is preserved and, finally, they will receive the fruit of their deeds, whether they are good rewards or dreadful retributions

٥٣- الَّذِي جَعَلَ لَكُمْ الْأَرْضَ مَهْدًا وَسَلَكَ لَكُمْ فِيهَا سُبُلًا وَأَنْزَلَ مِنَ السَّمَاءِ مَاءً فَأَخْرَجْنَا بِهِ أَزْوَاجًا مِنْ نَبَاتٍ شَتَّى

He Who made the earth for you a cradle, and made for you therein paths, and “ ٥٣ sent down water from the sky’. Then, thereby, We brought forth kinds of diverse pairs
”.of plants

Commentary: verse ٥٣

The Qur’ānic phrase which says: /salaka lakum/ can be rendered into two forms: ١) Those roads and ways that Allah has arranged on the ground for men along which .they may pass. ٢) The ways of gaining incomes

In introducing Allah (s.w.t.) to Pharaoh, Moses (a.s.) said that his Lord is He Who gave every thing its creation, and then guided it aright. Now, through these verses, he points to some species of the Divine guidance in the nature. The abovementioned holy :verse says

He Who made the earth for you a cradle, and made for you therein paths, and sent“ down water from the sky’. Then, thereby, We brought forth kinds of diverse pairs of
”.plants

However, the statement of Moses (a.s.) was around the subject of Monotheism and knowing Allah. Therefore, in this verse, the revelation has pointed to four parts of the great bounties of Allah which form the precedence of man’s life. Before anything else, the place of residence and having peace is necessary. Then, next to it, communication paths come forth. After that water and different agricultural products are important. So, the creation of the earth and its conditions are not aimless; they are for .human kind

By the way, mentioning the law of conjugality in plants is one of the scientific miracles
.of the Qur'ān, which has been remarked in this verse

Some divine bounties

This verse has referred to the fifth and the last bounty of this group of Divine bounties :where, implying the vegetables, it says

:And, at the end of the verse, the Qurʾān, pointing to all these bounties, says

”.verily in this there are signs for men of thought...”

.That is, the responsible intellects and dutiful minds can comprehend this fact

The Arabic term /nuhā/ is the plural form of /nahiyah/ derived from /nahy/ which means ‘to prohibit’; and /’ulinnuhā/ means: ‘the people endowed with understanding and intellect’. The wisdom in Arabic is called /nuhiyah/ because it prohibits man from following low desires. (adopted from Al-Mizān, the Commentary Once the holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) was asked: “Who are /’ulinnuhā/?” The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “They have a good character, and they are kind unto the mothers and fathers; they help the poor, the (needy) neighbours, and the orphans; they feed (the hungry ones with) food. They spread peace and comfort in the world; and they establish prayer while people are sleeping and unaware.” (The Commentary of Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn

****

Then, in the next verse, concerning the statement of Unity in these verses, and the creation of the earth and its bounties, Resurrection has also been pointed out. It says From it (the earth) We created you, and into it will We return you, and from it will We “bring you forth a second time Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) has considered the secret of the couple of prostrations in each unit (rak‘at) of prayer and said: “The first prostration means: ‘O Allah! At first I was from this soil’. When you raise your head from the ground, it means that: ‘You have brought me out from this soil’. The second prostration means that: ‘You will return me unto this soil’; and when you raise your head from the second prostration, (it means that: ‘You will raise me up again from the soil in Hereafter’.” (1)

The miracles of Rod and White Hand

In this holy verse, another stage of the dispute of Moses (a.s.) and Pharaoh has been reflected. The Holy Qur’ān begins this part of the incident with the following statement implying that all the Divine signs were shown to Pharaoh but none of them
:affected in his dark heart. The verse says

And indeed We showed him (Pharaoh) Our signs, all of them, but he rejected and “
”.refused

This meaning refers to the miracles that, at the beginning of his invitation, Moses (a.s.) showed Pharaoh. They were the miracles of the Rod and the White Hand and the .inclusive content of his heavenly invitation

***

Now we may note to what Pharaoh, the tyrant, the proud, and the obstinate, answered in front of Moses and his miracles, and, as it is the custom of all
.unreasonable rulers, how he accused that Messenger

:The verse says

’?Said he: ‘Have you come to us to drive us out of our land with your magic, O Moses “

This statement, as Pharaoh declared, is an indication to this meaning that they know that the subject of prophethood and

p: ۳۹۴

invitation to Monotheism, accompanied with these miracles, are all some plots to overcome their government and that Moses wanted to expel them and the captains
.from the habitable land of their ancestors

This accusation is just the same weapon that all the unreasonable rulers and colonialists have had and applied throughout the history. Wherever they found themselves in a danger, in order to defy people alongside their own benefits, they propounded the subject of the danger which threatened the country. Country, in that circumstance, meant the government of those tyrannical rulers, and its existence
.meant the existence of theirs

Moses) said: ‘Your tryst shall be the day of festival, and let the people gather ) “ ٥٩ ”.’together at the high noon

So Pharaoh turned his back and gathered his plan (fully), then (on the appointed “ ٦٠ ”.tryst) he came again

Commentary: verses ٥٨-٦٠

Moses defined a day to challenge

As this holy verse implies, Pharaoh added that Moses should not suppose that they were not able to bring some magic similar to those of his, but certainly he would bring :it soon. The verse says

”... ;Pharaoh continued,) ‘Then we too will surely bring you sorcery the like of it) “

And in order to show a sharper conclusiveness, Pharaoh wanted Moses to appoint its :date. The verse says therefore appoint a tryst between us and you which neither we nor you shall fail to ... “ ”.’keep, in a place alike for both

****

But Moses, without losing his coolness, nor feeling any terror in himself, clearly and decisively responded him that he was ready, too, to define the day and the hour of the meeting just then. The verse says

Moses) said: ‘Your tryst shall be the day of festival, and let the people gather ) “ together at the high noon

****

However, after observing the wonderful miracles of Moses and the psychological effect of those astonishing miracles on his companions, Pharaoh decided, by the help of his sorcerers, to challenge

Therefore, he appointed a proper tryst with Moses (a.s.) and left that meeting. He gathered all his plots and plans then and brought them wholly available on the appointed day. The verse says

So Pharaoh turned his back and gathered his plan (fully), then (on the appointed “ tryst) he came again

The logical and free discussions, of course, should be performed at the presence of people, while the factors of ‘time’ and ‘place’ must not be neglected, either. Thus, one of the best arrangements that Moses (a.s.) made was that he utilized the national day. He gathered, on that day, an assembly which became fruitful and supreme. On that day, he behaved with such a manner that, when the sorcerers saw his miracles, they all changed their mind and their belief

Moses said to them: ‘Woe to you! Do not forge a lie against Allah, lest He destroy “ .٦١
”you with a chastisement, and indeed he who forges (a lie) fails

Then they disputed upon their affair among themselves and kept the discourse “ .٦٢
”secret

Commentary: verses ٦١-٦٢

At last, the appointed day came. Moses (a.s.) was standing in front of the crowd of people. A crowd among which there were some sorcerers, the number of them, as some commentators have said, was seventy two men. Some other commentators .have said that they were four hundred magicians, or more than that Another group of that crowd were companions of Pharaoh and Pharaoh himself. And, finally, the third group of them, which formed the majority of the crowd, was the .ordinary people who had come to watch the event

At this time, Moses turned his face toward the sorcerers, or the companions of :Pharaoh and sorcerers, and, as the verse says Moses said to them: ‘Woe to you! Do not forge a lie against Allah, lest He destroy you “

”with a chastisement, and indeed he who forges (a lie) fails

The purpose of Moses (a.s.) from saying “Do not forge a lie against Allah” was something or someone that was considered as a partner of Allah; or that they attributed sorcery to the Miracles of the Messenger of Allah and accepted Pharaoh as .their god

This very decisive word of Moses, whose tone was the tone of the invitation of all true prophets and had no similarity to the word of the sorcerers, affected on the minds of some people and produced a kind of divergence between the beliefs of the crowd. Some of them demanded the gravity of action, while some others fell in doubt and uncertainty, and probabled that Moses was a great prophet of Allah and his warnings might be actual; in particular that his plain clothes and the clothing of his brother, Aaron, were the same simple clothing of a shepherd. In spite of their loneliness, there was not seen any faint or weakness in their decided faces. This was counted as another evidence for the nobility of their sayings and programs. Therefore, the :Qur’ān says

Then they disputed upon their affair among themselves and kept the discourse “ .secret

Thus, you ought to enjoin good and forbid evil, then if it does not affect on some .people at least, in some others may create doubt

However, considering the divine miracles as sorcery, is a forging against Allah; and a calumniator against Allah both fails in this world and will be punished in the next world.

.Before bringing a miracle, of course, teaching people and warning them is necessary

”today is uppermost will be indeed successful

Commentary: verses ٦٣-٦٤

Authorities and rulers have an important function in the convictions of people. In the same manner that Pharaoh told Moses that he had come to them to drive them out of their land with his magic, \(1\)his adherents, too, declared the same thing in this verse :about Aaron and Moses. The verse says

”... They said: ‘These two are certainly two sorcerers “

Therefore, the sorcerers were told that they should not fear to combat with those two, because these were the most outstanding and the greatest magicians of that .large country

Another matter that the sorcerers were told was that the two wanted to drive them out from their land by their sorcery, the land which was very dear for them as their :souls, to which they belonged and it belonged to them. The verse says

”... who intend to drive you out from your land by their sorcery ...“

Moreover, they added that those two did not suffice to drive them out from their country, but they wanted to play with their sacred things and to vanish their superior school and rightful religion. The verse continues saying

”and wipe out your superior way...“

****

Then, the sorcerers were recommended that they would never doubt in coming united into the scene of struggle and in one row, and

”... ,Therefore gather your plan (fully); then come in (an orderly) line “

The reason and secret of the victory in that significant combat was stated for them that it was in their unity

And, finally, the success and prosperity would be of that group on that day that could prove its superiority over the opposite group. The verse continues saying

”and whoever today is uppermost will be indeed successful...“

Then behold, their ropes and their rods seemed to him, by their sorcery, as if they
” .were sliding

” .Then Moses felt in himself a fear “ .٦٧

Commentary: verses ٦٥-٦٧

The Arabic word /ḥibāl/ is the plural form of /ḥabl/ which means ‘rope, string’, and the .(Arabic term /‘išiy/ is the plural form of /‘aṣā/ (rod, stick

The Qur’ānic term /’aujasa/ is derived from /wajasa/ in the sense of ‘a hidden sound’
.and thus the word /’ijās/ is applied for the things which are hidden in inward

Amir-ul-mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) in Nahjulbalaqah, concerning the Commentary of the last verse of the verses mentioned in the above, says: “The fear of Moses (a.s.) was for the \(effect of sorcery on the ignorant people.” (١)

p: ٤٠٢

However, the sorcerers untied and made decision to stand against Moses and challenge with him. When they entered into the concerning arena, they began saying
:as follows

They (the sorcerers) said: ‘O’ Moses! Will you throw, or shall we be the first who “ ” ’?throw

But Moses (a.s.), who was completely assured of his final victory, did not make any haste; and apart from it, in such circumstances winner is usually he who does not take :the lead. Therefore, he responded them like this

”... ’!(He (Moses) said: ‘Nay, do you throw (yours “

The sorcerers accepted it and whatever means, such as ropes and rods, they had brought with them they cast wholly on the land of arena. And, if we accept the narration which indicates they were one thousand sorcerers, that means that, in a moment, thousands of ropes and rods, in which some special material had been .stored, were thrown in the middle of arena in front of the crowd

Then, suddenly, as a result of their sorcery, their ropes and rods seemed to the .people and Moses (a.s.) as if they were moving

:The verse continues saying

Then behold, their ropes and their rods seemed to him, by their sorcery, as if they...“
”.were sliding

Yes, those ropes and rods, in the form of some small and big snakes, in different
.colours and kinds, began sliding on the ground

It was a wonderful scene. The sorcerers, who not only were numerous but also knew well the style of using the mysterious physical and chemical peculiarities of the materials and the like of them. It could penetrate in the thoughts of the audience so
.amazingly that they imagined that those lifeless various things were animated

The people of Pharaoh made a happy clamor. Some of them, because of horror, cried
.and withdrew themselves

It was at this moment that Moses (a.s.) was nearly frightened at the situation, thinking that people might be so seriously charmed by that event that it was not easy for him
.to return them and their thoughts back to the reality

:The verse says

”.Then Moses felt in himself a fear “

Verily what they have made is but a plan of a sorcerer, and the sorcerer will not be successful wherever he goes

٧٠. Then the sorcerers fell down in prostration, saying: 'We believed in the Lord of Aaron and Moses

Commentary: verses ٦٨-٧٠

With no condition Allah (s.w.t.) promises His Messenger to promote him. But He promises the believers to promote them upon the condition that they believe and \(keep their loyalty to Faith.\)

The reason of it is that prophets are loyal, but the believers may leave out their loyalty. Therefore, Allah says that they are the uppermost if they are faithful

However, at this time, the divine help and assistance came to Moses and the revealed command of Allah defined his duty, as the Qur'ān says

"Said We: 'Fear not! Verily you are the uppermost "

p: ٤٠٥

.Thus, Moses (a.s.), who had lost his courage for a short moment, took heart again

:For the second time Moses (a.s.) was addressed and he was commanded

And throw down what is in your right hand! It will swallow up, what they have made. “

”... ,Verily what they have made is but a plan of a sorcerer

Since the act of a sorcerer depends on the man’s limited ability while a Divine miracle originates from the infinite power of Allah, therefore a sorcerer can perform only the :things which he has practiced formerly. That is why the verse continues saying

”.’and the sorcerer will not be successful wherever he goes ...“

It is interesting that the revelation does not say: ‘Throw down your rod’, but it says:

“Throw down what is in your right hand!” This meaning may be as a heedlessness to the rod and an indication to the fact that ‘rod’ itself is not an important thing, but the thing, which is important, is the Will and command of Allah wherewith the less .significant thing than the rod can work as it did

****

When Moses (a.s.) was ordered to throw down his Rod and he threw it down, the Rod changed into a huge snake and swallowed all the means and tools of sorcerers’

.magic. A great uproar and tumult appeared among those people

Pharaoh was very terrified, and his companions attending there were also terribly .surprised

The sorcerers, who recognized sorcery from other than sorcery, convinced themselves that it was nothing save the Divine miracle and that Moses (a.s.) was

.certainly a messenger from the side of Allah

:Therefore, as the verse says

Then the sorcerers fell down in prostration, saying: ‘We believed in the Lord of Aaron “
” ’!and Moses

However, as soon as the sorcerers understood that the act of Moses (a.s.) was not a sorcery, they involuntarily fell down in prostration and, those who were infidels in the morning, joined the group of witnesses of the way of Allah in that very evening, and by saying: “We believed in the Lord of Aaron and Moses”, they confessed that their
.action they performed had been wrong

They applied the word of ‘Lord’ in their sentence: ‘The Lord of Aaron and Moses’ since Pharaoh had considered himself the Lord of those people. If they had used only the name of Moses in their statement and said simply ‘the Lord of Moses’, Pharaoh might have said: that he had trained Aaron. That was why the sorcerers, next to the word ‘Lord’, at first mentioned Aaron and then added the appellation of Moses (a.s.). (The

Commentary: verse ٧١

Pharaoh had gathered all the skilful and expert persons in order to annihilate the (.truth, but they entirely were guided to uprightness by Moses (a.s

It is evident that that deed of the sorcerers was a sharp stroke over the entity of Pharaoh and his arrogant, egoistic, and tyrannical government, so that it quivered all the pillars of it. Therefore, he had no way save shouting angrily, threatening violently, and showing his might and honour apparently. Then he addressed the sorcerers and :behaved as follows

”... ?Said (Pharaoh): ‘Did you believe in him before I should give you permission “

This arrogant tyrant, not only claimed that he governed over the lives and bodies of people, but also he desired to say that their hearts were at his disposal and belonged to him; so that they should decide

.with his permission

Pharaoh did not suffice even to that, and at once he accused the sorcerers with an
:accusation, claiming that they had plotted that plan from before, he said

Verily he is the chief of you who has taught you ...“

”... ,sorcery

Undoubtedly Pharaoh knew and was certain that his saying was a lie, but it is known that the arrogant and unreasonable rulers usually do not care any false or accusation
.when they feel their illegitimate position is in danger

Moreover, he did not suffice only to that vice, either. He threatened the sorcerers to :death with the most violent tone, when he said so I will certainly cut off your hands and your feet on opposite sides, and I will...“ certainly crucify you upon the trunks of palm-trees, and you shall certainly know

”.?which of us is more severe and more lasting in punishment

However, prophets work on the spirits of men, but the tyrannical rulers take vengeance by hurting on their bodies. They are neglectful that conventions and .beliefs of people cannot be changed by torturing and killing them

They said: ‘Never will we prefer you (O Pharaoh) to the clear proofs (miracles) “ .٧٢ that have come to us, and to Him Who created us! Decree then whatever you desire ”.to decree, for you may decree only about the life of this world

Verily we have believed in our Lord that He may forgive us our faults, and the “ .٧٣ sorcery to which .you did compel us

”.Allah is better and more lasting

Commentary: verses ٧٢-٧٣

Sorcerers believed in the Lord

Faith gives man both power and daring. Now, it is worthy to see what the reaction of the sorcerers was before the intensive threats of Pharaoh. They not only were not terrified and did not decamp, but also proved their presence in the scene more :decisively. The verse says

They said: ‘Never will we prefer you (O Pharaoh) to the clear proofs (miracles) that “ ”... :have come to us, and to Him Who created us

They told Pharaoh to command whatever he desired, but he should know that he could command only in the life of this world and, in Hereafter, where they are successful, he will be :involved with the worst punishments. The verse continues saying

Decree then whatever you desire to decree, for you may decree only about the life ...“
”of this world

***

:Then, the sorcerers added this meaning to their statement, saying Verily we have believed in our Lord that He may forgive us our faults, and the “ sorcery to which you did compel us

”Allah is better and more lasting

In this way, briefly they implied that their goal was to be forgiven and to be purified from their former sins including opposing against the true Messenger of Allah

The Arabic term /ḥaṭāyā/ is the plural form of /ḥaṭīʾah/ which is called to the deliberate (faults). (The dictionary of Lisān-ul-‘Arab

The Qur’ānic phrase which is recited: /mā ’akrahtanā‘alayhī min-as-siḥr/ means ‘We ask Allah to forgive us our faults and sorcery to which you did compel us’. And the objective meaning of /’ikrāh min-as-siḥr/ is the summoning of the sorcerers and the act of their sorcery

He who risks his own life in the path of Allah, grows in right conduct more and more at any moment

In these holy verses, the sorcerers stated three meanings concerning Allah (s.w.t.).
They said: ‘To Him Who created us’; ‘We have believed in our Lord’; and ‘Allah is ,’better and more lasting

Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) in a tradition has said: “Whoever counts himself better than others is a tyrant”. He was asked then, whether those good doers who count themselves better than evildoers are tyrants. Imam said the explanation of the belief

”.such are the most sublime degrees

And) Gardens of Eternity beneath which rivers flow wherein shall they abide) “ .٧٦
”.(forever and this is the reward of him who purifies himself (from evil

Commentary: verses ٧٤-٧٦

Sorcerers who were infidels in the morning became believers in that evening

After that sorcerers believed, they told Pharaoh that his deeds of torture and murder were only for the life of this world while the wrath and Grace of Allah is permanent. The Fire of Hell for the people of Hell is eternal, and the people of Paradise abide in Paradise forever. The place of a believer, in Hereafter, is Heaven, but gaining a higher degree therein depends on the amount of his purification for which he must struggle and purify himself from pollutions and corruptions in the world from any point of view. Among them are: refinement of the soul from deviated beliefs, purification of character from vices, purification of body from treachery and

.perfidy, and purification of deeds and behaviour from indecent acts

Thus, the Qur'ān in these verses implies that the sorcerers told Pharaoh that the :reason that they believed in Truth was clear, because

”... ,Verily he who comes guilty to his Lord, then for him is Hell “

And the great inflection of such a person in Hell is that neither he dies therein to deliver from chastisement, nor does he live easily, but he permanently flounders between death and life, a life which is more bitter and difficult than death. The verse
:continues saying

”.(wherein he shall neither die (to deliver) nor live (easily... “

****

:And, on the contrary, there is the state of the believers. The verse says

And whoever comes to Him a believer (and) he has done righteous deeds, for such “
”.are the most sublime degrees

****

And) Gardens of Eternity beneath which rivers flow wherein shall they abide forever) “
”.(and this is the reward of him who purifies himself (from evil

How well those sorcerers purified themselves! When they decided to embrace the Truth and to be heartily steadfast in its path, then they believed firmly and frankly, so that, as the great commentator, the Late Tabarsī, has said: “They were sorcerers and infidels in the morning but, in that very evening, they became the righteous witnesses
.of the path of the Truth

Commentary: verses ٧٧–٧٩

The Children of Isreal rescued from being drowned

When the sorcerers and the people of Egypt believed in Moses (a.s.) and did not fear from the threats of Pharaoh, the gate of the helps of Allah were opened to them and, after that

Moses (a.s.) was ordered to take people out of Egypt by night, and that Allah made the sea dry for them and secured them from the harm of Pharaoh. (The Commentary of :Fī-Zilāl-il-Qur’ān). The verse says

”... ,And We indeed revealed unto Moses (saying:): ‘Take away My servants by night “

Thus, the Children of Israel became ready to set out toward the Promised Land (Palestine), but when they reached the shores of the Nile, the men of Pharaoh were informed of the event and, therefore, Pharaoh, accompanied with a large army, pursued them. Now, the Children of Israel found themselves surrounded by the sea .and the enemy

:At this time Allah commanded Moses as follows

”... ,and strike for them a dry path in the sea...”

The revelation, pointing to the dry path in the sea, informs Moses that it is a path that :when you step on it, you will be faced ”.(with no fear of being overtaken (by Pharaoh) nor you be afraid (of being drowned...”

****

Therefore, Moses and the Children of Israel arrived to some paths which, by going water aside, appeared inside the sea. At this time, Pharaoh and his army reached beside the sea and were confronted such an amazing and unexpectedly scene. The :verse says

”... Then Pharaoh pursued them with his armies “

From one end, the last figure of the Pharaoh’s army entered the sea, and, on the other end, the last figure of the Children of Israel went out of the sea. At this moment, the pillars of water in the sea were commanded to return to their first state. The walls of water waved and, like an old building the base of which is broken, fell down all of a .sudden

:The verse says

so (the bellows) of the sea covered them, as they were covered (completely...“
”(drowned

And, in this way, an unjust cruel power together with its powerful forces were wholly covered by the masses of water in the sea and were swallowed by the fish of that sea
:in the form of a ready made food. Yes, it is true that the verse says

”(And Pharaoh led his people astray and he did not guide them (aright “

However, the Arabic word /'isrā'/ means 'to travel by night'. The word /yabas/ is called .to a place where it has become dry now

The term /darak/ means the losses which encompasses a person. And, the objective meaning of the Qur'ānic term /'ibādī/, mentioned in this holy verse, is the Children of .Israel

٨٠- يَا بَنِي إِسْرَائِيلَ قَدْ أَنْجَيْنَاكَم مِّنْ عَدُوِّكُمْ وَوَاعَدْنَاكُمْ جَانِبَ الطُّورِ الْأَيْمَنِ وَنَزَّلْنَا عَلَيْكُمُ الْمَنَّاءَ وَالسَّلْوَى

O Children of Israel! We delivered you from your enemy, and We made a “ ٨٠ covenant with you on the right side of Tūr (the Mount Sinai), and We sent down unto you Manna and quails”.

Commentary: verse ٨٠

Manna and quails were sent down for the Children

The subject of the deliverance of the Children of Israel from the cruelty of Pharaoh, and the descent of Manna and the quails for them when they were wandering in the .desert, have been mentioned in the Qur’ān several times

The Arabic term /manna/ apparently means: ‘honey and hedysarum’, while /salwā/ .means ‘quails’, a kind of bird the meat of which is delicious and lawful for eating

The phrase “ and We made a covenant with you on the right side of Tūr”, mentioned in the verse, is an indication to the event of the tryst of Tūr, the Mount Sinai, where Moses, accompanied with a group of the Children of Israel, went. There, Allah sent down the Tablets of Turah to Moses (a.s.). Law is usually the most important necessity .of a community after dismissing the tyrannical ruler and formation of a government

This holy verse addresses the Children of Israel and, in general, all human being in any time, and reminds them the great bounties that Allah has bestowed on them and :leads them to the path of salvation. At first it says

”...O Children of Israel! We delivered you from your enemy “

:Then, the verse points to one of the spiritual bounties, when it says

”... ,and We made a covenant with you on the right side of Tūr (the Mount Sinai...”

As it was said in the above, this part of the verse points to the tryst when Moses and some of the Children of Israel went to the Tūr Mount. It was in this very tryst that Allah sent down the Tablets of Moses and spoke with him and all of them saw the special manifestation of Allah

And, finally, the verse points to an important material bounty which originated from the peculiar graces of Allah unto the Children of Israel. It says

”and We sent down unto you Manna and quails...”

They were wandering in a desert where they had no suitable food. Then the grace of Allah helped them and He gave them some delightful and delicious food to use, as much as they needed

However, the spiritual bounty is prior to the material bounty. At first He said: “We made a covenant with you on the right side of Tūr”, which refers to the descent of the Turah. Next to that He said: “and We sent down unto you Manna and quails”, which refers to the food of the body

٨١- كُلُوا مِن طَيِّبَاتِ مَا رَزَقْنَاكُمْ وَلَا تَطْغَوْا فِيهِ فَيَحِلَّ عَلَيْكُمْ غَضَبِي وَمَن يَحِلِّ عَلَيْهِ غَضَبِي فَقَدْ هَوَىٰ

Eat of the good things We have provided for your sustenance, but commit no “ ٨١ excess therein, lest My Wrath should descend on you, and on whomever My Wrath ”.does descend, he is lost indeed

Commentary: verse ٨١

:After mentioning those three valuable bounties, this verse addresses them and says

Eat of the good things We have provided for your sustenance, but commit no excess “ ... ,therein, lest My Wrath should descend on you

Insolence, concerning the Divine bounties, is that a person, instead of using them in the path of obedience of Allah and the path of his own felicity, uses them as a means of sinning, ingratitude, disbelief, obstinacy, and prodigality, as the Children of Israel .did in the like manner

:And, following that matter, the verse continues saying

”and on whomever My Wrath does descend, he is lost indeed...”

The Qur’ānic term /hawā/ originally means: ‘to fall from a height down’, the result of which is usually destruction. Moreover, here the term also indicates to the fall of spiritual rank: separation from nearness of Allah, and being sent away from His presence. Yet, the real fall for a man is to be involved in the Wrath of Allah, such as .political failure, economical bankruptcy, and the like of them

And verily I am the most forgiving to him who repents and believes and does “ ٨٢ .
” .righteous deed, and at last is guided

Commentary: verse ٨٢

Next to the previous verse, which ended with a warning, this verse consists of the glad tidings of Allah, the good tidings to accepting repentance and forgiveness. This style is seen in all occurrences of the Qur’ān concerning those occasions which are similar to this one

Of course, repentance from any sin and fault should be proportional to that very sin and fault. For example, the repentance of a person who has not established a statutory prayer is that he should fulfill that prayer; the repentance of hurting people is apology; the repentance of concealment of a fact is its announcement; the repentance of polytheism is belief in Allah; and the repentance of consuming people’s wealth is to return the wealth to its owner(s)

And since warnings and threats should be followed by encouragement and glad tidings, in order to equally remove the potential fear and hope, which are the main factors of development, and to open the doors of return to the repentant, in this verse, He says

And verily I am the most forgiving to him who repents and believes and does “
” .righteous deed, and at last is guided

The application of the word /qaffār/ (The most forgiving) in this verse is an indication to the fact that Allah forgives such people not only once but also for many times

Some Islamic traditions denote that the purpose of the word /'ihtadā/, mentioned in this verse, has also been rendered into the guidance toward the mastership of Ahlul-Bayt (a.s.) (the immaculate Imams

(Commentary of Burhān; and Kāfī, vol. ۸, p. ۳۹۳)

The reason of this idea is that Faith and righteous deeds, without the acceptance of the guidance of the Divine leaders, are not enough. (Yes, When there are both Faith and righteous deeds in one believer but he does not pave the path of guidance of the Divine leaders, he will become the prey of others, such as Sāmīrī and Bal'am Bā'ūrā

Thus, the phrase “and at last is guided” is an indication to the necessity of the acceptance of mastership and obedience to the leadership of the Divine leaders. That is, repentance, faith, and righteous deeds are accepted and cause felicity when they are under the light of the guidance of Divine leaders. Once this guidance was at the time Moses (a.s.), and another time it was in the time of the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.); then it was at the time of Amir-ul-Mu'mineen Ali (a.s.); and today it relates to Haḍrat Mahdī (a.s.)

The reason of it is that one of the principals of religion is the acceptance of the invitation and the leadership of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and then the acceptance of the leadership of his true successors

The Late Ṭabarsī, concerning the commentary of this verse, narrates a tradition from Imam Bāqir (a.s.) who said: “The objective meaning of the phrase /θummahtadā/ is the guidance unto the leadership of Ahlul-Bayt (a.s.)” Then he (a.s.) added: “By Allah, if a man spends all his lifetime in

Divine service (close to the Ka‘bah) between ‘Rukn and Maqḥām (station of Abraham)’, then he dies in the state that he has not accepted our mastership, Allah
”.(will throw him by face into the Fire (of Hell

Hākim Abul-Ghāsim Huskānī, The well-known scholar of hadīth of the Sunnites, has (also narrated this tradition in his book. (Majma‘-ul-Bayān, the Commentary

There have been recorded many other traditions in this field narrated from Imam
.(Zayn-ul-‘Ābidīn (a.s.), Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.), and the Prophet himself (p.b.u.h

In order to know how deep the abandonment of this principal is destructive, it is enough to study the following verses and see how the Children of Israel were involved in worshipping the Calf, idolatry, and infidelity as the result of abandonment of the mastership and leaving the line of following Moses (a.s.) and his successor
.Aaron

However, to be a believer, and to become a believer, is important, but remaining in ”.Faith is more important. “...and at last is guided

Commentary: verses ٨٣-٨٥

The Children of Isreal worshiped Calf

Upon the commentary of these verses, Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) has illustrated the feature of a lover as this: "A lover thinks neither of food, clothing, and residence, nor does he have calmness and tranquility until he reaches what he is desirous to; as Moses, desirous to receive revelation from the Lord, did neither sleep nor feed, and he said to the Lord that he had come to Him sooner than his people in order that He became (pleased.)"<sup>(١)</sup>

Then the Qur'ān refers to another important part of the life of Moses (a.s.) and the Children of Israel, which relates to the time when he (a.s.), accompanied with a number of the representatives of the Children of Israel, went to the tryst of Tūr .Mount, and, in their absence, the Children of Israel committed Calf worship

It was appointed that Moses (a.s.) would go to Tūr to take the laws of the Turah, and some of the Children of Israel might also accompany him along that way

But, in view of the fact that the desire of conversation to Allah was flaming in the heart of Moses, he went alone to the tryst of the Lord before others

:Here, the revelation was sent down to him as follows

”?And (Allah said): ‘What caused you to hasten from your people, O’ Moses “

:Then Moses immediately answered Him, as the verse says

Said (Moses): ‘They are upon my track, and I hastened unto You, my Lord, that You “
”.’might be pleased

Moses implied that not only the love of conversation to Him and listening to His statements had made him impatient, but also he had been desirous to take His Laws and ordinances as soon as possible to convey them to His servants, so that, by this manner, he could attract His pleasure better. Yes, Moses was in love of Allah’s pleasure and was also desirous to hear His command

Yet, in this meeting, his tryst prolonged from thirty nights to forty nights, and different grounds of aberration, which had existed among the Children of Israel from before, manifested. Samirī, that heretic but clever man, by means of some materials made a Calf and invited people to worshipping it. Then, it was in the same tryst that Allah told :Moses that his people did not pass their trial well. The verse says

Said He: ‘Verily We have tested your people in your absence and the Sāmīrī has led “
”.’them astray

With the presence of the leader in the society, the enemies cannot do any thing. The heretic persons usually misuse the absence of the Divine leader in the society

٨٦- فَرَجَعَ مُوسَىٰ إِلَىٰ قَوْمِهِ غَضْبَانَ أَسِفًا قَالَ يَا قَوْمِ أَلَمْ يَعِدْكُمْ رَبُّكُمْ وَعَدًّا حَسِينًا أَفَطَالَ عَلَيْكُمُ الْعَهْدُ أَمْ أَرَدْتُمْ أَنْ يَحِلَّ عَلَيْكُمْ غَضَبٌ مِّن رَّبِّكُمْ فَآخَلَفْتُم مَّوْعِدِي

Then Moses returned to his people angry and sad, saying: ‘O my people! did not “ ٨٦ your Lord promise you a fair promise (the descent of the Turah)? Did then the time (of my absence) seem so long to you? Or did you desire that Wrath should descend from ”?your Lord on you so that you failed in your tryst with me

Commentary: verse ٨٦

people disobeyed Aaron by Calf worship

By hearing this matter, Moses became so angry that as if his whole entity burnt. Perhaps he was saying to himself that he had worked and tried studiously, confronted any danger and laboured for long years until when that community became acquainted with Monotheism, but alas! and alas again that because of a few days of his absence all his efforts were lost. That was why he immediately returned to those :people. The verse says

”... ,Then Moses returned to his people angry and sad “

:When Moses saw the hideous scenery of Calf worship, he shouted at them saying: ‘O my people! did not your Lord promise you a fair promise (the descent of... “ ”... ?(the Turah

This ‘fair promise’, mentioned in the verse, was either the promise that he had given to the Children of Israel upon the descent of the Turah and the statement of heavenly ordinances in it; or the promise of victory and delivering them from the people of Pharaoh and becoming the inheritor of the earth; or the promise of forgiveness for the repentant, .or all of the abovementioned promises

:Then, Moses (a.s.) added

Did then the time (of my absence) seem so long ...“

”... ?to you

Or, by means of this hideous action, they opposed him in their appointment in order to :cause the chastisement of Allah to be descended on them. The verse says

Or did you desire that Wrath should descend from your Lord on you so that you...“ ”’?failed in your trust with me

There are two points here which must be noted. In this verse, two promises have been referred to. One of them is the promise from the side of Allah, i.e., the descent of the Turah; and the other is the promise from the side of Moses (a.s.) to his people that when he was absent they should obey his brother Aaron, but the people, by their Calf worship, ignored both them. When Moses (a.s.) was reprimanding them he questioned them, about their aberration. He questioned whether their aberration was done deliberately and they went toward the Wrath of Allah knowingly, or they did it neglectfully. He also asked them whether they went astray for the reason that his .absence prolonged from thirty days to forty days

In this verse, similar to the content of verse No. ٨١, the Wrath of Allah has been pointed out, with a difference that: in that verse the cause of the Wrath of Allah has been stated the disobedience of people, while here its reason has been mentioned the people’s breach of promise. These are the factors in which the secret of the .defeat of the Children of Israel is hidden

٨٧- قَالُوا مَا أَخْلَفْنَا مَوْعِدَكَ بِمَلِكِنَا وَلَكِنَّا حُمِّلْنَا أَوْزَارًا مِنْ زِينَةِ الْقَوْمِ فَقَذَفْنَاهَا فَكَذَلِكَ أَلْقَى السَّامِرِيُّ

They said: ‘We did not fail in our tryst with you of our own accord, but we were “ ٨٧ laden with burdens of ornaments of the people, then we cast them (in the fire), and ”.’thus did the Sāmirī suggest

Commentary: verses ٨٧

Samiri suggested them to worship Calf

In order to flee from punishment, sinners usually take refuge to some pretexts, such as compulsion, aversion, and outward coercion. A society, the Faith of which is feeble and it easily accepts an undue sovereignty, by means of an adroit trick, may lose every thing it has

It was for this reason that when the Children of Israel found themselves before the intensive protest of Moses (a.s.) and understood that they had done an indecent :action, tried to bring some pretexts. The verse says

”... ,They said: ‘We did not fail in our tryst with you of our own accord “

That is, in fact, we ourselves did not tend to Calf worship by our will, but it was Sāmirī :who suggested it. The verse continues saying but we were laden with burdens of ornaments of the people, then we cast them (in... “ ”.’the fire), and thus did the Sāmirī suggest

٨٨- فَأَخْرَجَ لَهُمْ عِجْلاً جَسَداً لَهُ خُوارٌ فَقَالُوا هَذَا إِلَهُكُمْ وَإِلَهُ مُوسَىٰ فَنَسِيَ

ضَرًّا وَلَا نَفْعًا

Then he (Sāmirī) produced for them a (mere) body of a Calf that lowed. So they “ ٨٨ said: ‘This is your god and the god of Moses’, but he forgot (both the Lord and Moses’ ”.(teachings

Do they not see then that it (the Calf) returns to them no saying and possesses “ ٨٩ ”?neither harm nor profit for them

Commentary: verses ٨٨-٨٩

Samiri himself was more worthy to be worshiped than Calf

One of the smartnesses of Sāmirī was that he did not show those people how he constructed the Calf, and the people, all of a sudden, were faced with a lowing Calf :that Sāmirī had constructed. The verse says

Then he (Sāmirī) produced for them a (mere) body of a Calf that lowed. So they said: “ “This is your god and the god of Moses’, but he forgot (both the Lord and Moses’ ”.(teachings

The Children of Israel did not contemplate that if that Calf were worthy of worship, Sāmirī himself, who was the constructor of it, would be more worthy of worship while .they did not worship him

:However, as a blame and reprimand upon those idolaters, Allah says

Do they not see then that it (the Calf) returns to them no saying and possesses “
”?neither harm nor profit for them

A real deity should at least be able to answer the questions of the servants. Can the sound of lowing heard from the golden statue of a Calf alone be an acceptable and ?sufficient reason for people to worship it

Moreover, can a thing, which is not the possessor of the harm and the profit of others,
?or even of itself, be an object of worship

Besides, the intellect judges that the object of worship of a man should be able to .attract profit for him and to repel harms from him

Point

Moses questions Aaron as to how the people were misled – Sāmirī questioned by Moses – Sāmirī confesses his action

۹۰- وَلَقَدْ قَالَ لَهُمْ هَارُونُ مِنْ قَبْلُ يَا قَوْمِ إِنَّمَا فُتِنْتُمْ بِهِ وَإِنَّ رَبَّكُمُ الرَّحْمَنُ فَاتَّبِعُونِي وَأَطِيعُوا أَمْرِي

۹۱- قَالُوا لَنْ نَبْرَحَ عَلَيْهِ عَاكِفِينَ حَتَّىٰ يَرْجِعَ إِلَيْنَا مُوسَىٰ

And (yet) Aaron had aforesaid said to them: ‘O my people! Verily you are being “ ۹۰ .
; (tested therewith (the Calf), and verily your Lord is the Beneficent (Allah
”.’ therefore follow me and obey my order

”.’ They said: ‘Never will We cease worshipping it, until Moses returns unto us “ ۹۱ .

Commentary: verses ۹۰–۹۱

Children of Isreal had been slaves before Allah made them free

At the time of appearing an innovation, the duty of a leader and his followers is that .they should protest loudly and give an ultimatum

That was why Aaron, the successor of Moses and the great prophet of Allah, did not leave out his prophetic mission and fulfilled the duty of struggling against aberration
.and corruption as much as he could

:As the Qur’ān in this regard says

And (yet) Aaron had aforetime said to them: ‘O my people! Verily you are being “ tested therewith
”...,(the Calf)

Therefore, they should be careful not to be deceived and not to go astray from the .path of Monotheism

Then, the Qur’ān adds that their Lord is surely that very Beneficent Allah Who has :bestowed on them all of these bounties. The verse says

”...;(and verily your Lord is the Beneficent (Allah ...“

This statements implies that formerly they were slaves and He made them free; they were captives, He delivered them; they were misguided, He guided them; they were in dispersion He gathered them and, under the light of the leadership of a godly man, united them; they were ignorant and immoral, He cast the light of knowledge over them, and He guided them unto the Straight Path of Monotheism. The verse, :addressing them, from the tongue of Aaron says

”.’therefore follow me and obey my order...“

It implies that whether they have forgotten that his brother, Moses, has introduced him as his successor and has made the obedience of Aaron (a.s.) obligatory for them.

?Why have they committed breach of promise

****

But the Children of Israel had so obstinately been attached to the Calf that the strong logic and the clear evidences of that godly man, that sympathetic leader, did not :influence in them, and they manifestly opposed Aaron. The verse says

”.’They said: ‘Never will We cease worshipping it, until Moses returns unto us “

Thus, they refused both the firm order of intellect, and the command of the successor
.of their Divine leader

But in any case, Aaron accompanied with a minority of the true believer, who were about ten thousand persons, separated from that community, while a majority of .them, who were ignorant and obstinate, wanted to kill him

They were neglectful that obedience from the successor and representative of the prophet was obligatory for them. They did not care that following the Divine leaders
.was the secret of immunity from seditions

The current Sura, verse ٨٦-١

enjoining good and forbidding evil. Therefore, the action of Moses (a.s.) against Aaron can idiomatically be rendered into a ‘sham quarrel’, or he says: ‘If the cap fits, wear it’, and he addresses Aaron so that people might be careful of their own accountability

But, there is a tradition recorded in At-Tafsīr-uṣ-Ṣāfi, narrated from Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.), which says that the reprimand of Moses (a.s.) was this that why Aaron (a.s.) did not immediately inform Moses of that circumstance when he saw it

Concerning the methods of teaching, in order to move the common opinions, or to shake the lifeless body of a society, sometimes we must invent a new action, as Moses (a.s.) behaved so harshly unto his own sinless successor, Aaron; or when Amir-ul-Mu’mineen Ali (a.s.) was preaching for people, in order to attract their attention, he slapped hardly in his own face

However, at first Moses (a.s.) turned his face to his brother Aaron, and said: “O Aaron!”, “What hindered you when you saw them going astray

” “?So that you did not follow me? Did you then disobey my order “

Did I not tell you: “Be my successor among people, and set the (people’s) affairs right ?and do not follow the way of mischief-makers” when I wanted to leave for the tryst

The purpose of the Qur’ānic phrase which is recited: /’allā tattabi’ani/ is: ‘Why did you ’?not follow my style and my ordinances in severity of action concerning idolatry

Moses (a.s.), with an intensive anger and violence, said these words to his brother shouting at him, while he was taking his hair and his head and dragging Aaron

Aaron called Moses as the son of his mother

In order to sooth and to decrease his inflammation, Aaron called him as the son of his mother (in stead of his brother) and wanted him not to seize him by his beard and his head, since he though if he raised to struggle against them there would appear a great dispersion among the Children of Israel. Also, he feared that at the time of his return, Moses might say that he had caused division among the Children of Israel and in his absence he had not observed his order and had not acted his instructions. The :verse says

Said (Aaron): ‘O son of my mother! Seize me neither by my beard nor by (the hair of) “ my head! Verily I feared lest you would say ‘You have caused division among the ” ?!Children of Israel, and you did not observe my word

And, in this way, Aaron (a.s.) proved his innocence

Commentary: verses ٩٥–٩٧

Point

The Qur’ānic phrase /basurtubih/ is usually used in the sense of the Arabic word /baṣīrat/, the plural of which is /basā’ir/ with the meaning of ‘perceive, understand’, not in the (sense of /baṣar/ (the eye) the plural of which is /abṣār/ (the eyes). (Mufradāt-i-Rāqib

It has been recorded in the book entitled ‘Ihtijāj’, by Tabarsī, that when Haḍrat Ali-ibn-Abīṭālib (a.s.) opened the city of Baṣrah, people gathered around him in order to hear his words. Among those people Ali (a.s.) saw Hassan Baṣrī busy writing down something

Imam Amir-ul-mu’mineen Ali (a.s.), with a loud voice, addressed him and said: “What are you doing?” He answered he was writing down his statements so that he could repeat them for others. Imam Ali (a.s.) said: “O people! Beware that there is a Sāmīrī in any nation, and you are, O Hassan! the Sāmīrī of this community. You take the tracks of the Messenger of Allah from me and mix them with your carnal desire and your own interpretation of them by your personal opinion, then you will create a new school and invite people to it.”\(1\)

According to the commentary books of Al-Mīzān Al-Furqān, and Nimūnah, the purpose of Sāmīrī from saying /qabaḍtū qabḍatan min ’aṯar-ir-rasūl/ is: ‘I took some of the tracks of Moses (a.s.) and believed in them, then I left them and built the Calf

Thus, the phrase recited. /baṣurtu bi mā lam yabsurū/ means: ‘I found a design for fulfilling this accomplishment that others were neglectful of it.’ This meaning is more fitting with the abovementioned tradition

Moses Judged upon Samiri

However, Moses (a.s.), after finishing his debate with his brother, Aaron, and exonerating him, paid to summoning Sāmīrī to judgment! He said to him why he performed that action and what his motive was. The verse says

p: ۴۳۸

”?Moses) said: ‘What then was your object, O Sāmirī) “

:In answer to this question, the verse says

”... ,He said: ‘I perceived what they did not perceive “

Samirī added that he took something from the tracks of the messenger of Allah, Moses, and then he drew them toward the creed of idolatry. The verse continues
:saying

,so I took a handful of dust from the messenger’s track ... “ then I threw it (into the Calf); thus my self

”.?prompted me

It is evident that the reply and excuse of Sāmirī in answer to Moses (a.s.) was by no means acceptable. Therefore, Moses (a.s.) issued the judgment of condemnation of Sāmirī in that court. He decreed three commandments upon him and his Calf. The
:verse says

Moses) said: ‘De part then! Verily your share (of punishment) in this life will be that) “
” ... ;?you will say: ‘Touch (me) not

Thus, by means of a decisive command, Moses (a.s.) banished Sāmirī from the society
.and sent him to an absolute retreat

The second punishment of Sāmirī was that Moses (a.s.) notified him of his retribution
:in the Hereafter. As the verse in this regard remarks, Moses (a.s.) said

”... ,and surely there is a tryst for you (in Hereafter) which never will fail... “

:His third punishment was that: Moses (a.s.) told Sāmirī and (now) look at your god to whose worship you kept (so long); we will certainly... “

”.?burn it, then we will certainly scatter (the ashes of) it broadcast in the sea

To conclude, there is a tradition cited in the commentary books of Majma‘-ul-Bayān and Sāfī which indicates that Moses (a.s.) had intended to get Sāmīrī be killed, but

Allah

p: ۴۳۹

revealed him that since Sāmirī was a generous man he would relinquish killing him. Therefore, by saying “Depart then!”, Moses (a.s.) banished him from the society of the Children of Israel

The Qur’ānic term /lā misās/ is used in the sense of ‘to be involved in a disease that no one should touch him at all’. At last, Sāmirī got an infliction of a psychical disease so that he used to run away from people, and whenever a person went nigh to him, he often shouted ‘Depart then!’

Commentary: verses ٩٨-٩٩

Point

.Whenever you succeed to efface a wrong, do introduce a right instead of it

.That God is adorable Whose knowledge embraces every thing

However, in this holy verse, with an intensive emphasis on the subject of Monotheism,
:Moses (a.s.) defined the line of sovereignty of Allah, and said Verily your God is Allah; there is no god but He, (and) He embraces all things in (His) “

”.knowledge

It is not like the artificial idols which neither hear any words, nor do they deliver any
.answer, nor solve any problem, nor repel any harm

Next to the explanations concerning the history of the adventurous life of Moses (a.s.) and the Children of Israel, the Qur’ān also concludes a general conclusion from it. It,
:addressing the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), says

”... ;O Apostle) thus do We relate to you some of the news of what has gone before) “

Then the verse implies that Allah has given the Apostle a Reminder, the Qur'ān, which is full of lessons of warning, rational demonstrations, the instructive news of the former nations, and some awakening matters about the coming nations. The verse continues saying

”.(and indeed We have given to you from Ourselves a Reminder (the Qur'ān...“

Commentary: verses ١٠٠-١٠٣

The Arabic words /ḥiml/ and /ḥaml/ philologically are used in the same meaning, but the word /ḥiml/ is usually applied for the outward burden while /ḥaml/ is used for the inward burden, like a child in the mother’s womb

However, this holy verse speaks about those people who forget the facts of the :Qur’ān and the lessons of the history. It says

”.Whoever turns away from it, verily he will bear, on the Day of Judgment, a burden “

Yes, turning one’s back on the Qur’ān drives him to some deviated paths and puts on his back the heavy burden of kinds of sins and mental and creedal aberrations

:Then the Qur'ān adds

”... ;(They will abide in this (burden of sin “

”!and evil will the burden be for them on the Day of Judgment...”

:Then, explaining the day of Judgment and its beginning it says

On) the day when the Trumpet shall be blown, and We will muster the guilty, blear-eyed, on that day

It is in this circumstance that the sinners shall whisper with each other about the length of their stop in the intermediate world. Some of them say that they had tarried there for only ten days and they do not know how long it had been. The verse says

They shall consult among themselves in a low voice (saying): ‘You did tarry but ten “
”.’(days

This state of their speaking in a low voice may be for the great horror that they feel in themselves because of seeing the scenery of the Hereafter, or because of the intense
.of weakness and feebleness in them

We know best what they will say when their best in conduct will say: ‘You tarried “ .١٠٤

Commentary: verse ١٠٤

The greatness of Hereafter is so much so that, when people attend there, they consider the length of their life in this world as long as half a day, or one day, or at most ten days. In this regard, the Qur’ān, from the tongue of different groups of people, says as follows

١. Ten days as the verse says: “You did tarry but ten \(days\).”

٢. One day, about which the above verse says: “You tarried but a day .”

٣. A part of a day, where the Qur’ān says: “...it will be as though they had not tarried .”

but the latter part of a day or the early part of it.”

٤. Some short moments, for which the guilty shall say: “...they did not tarry but an .”

\(hour, ...”

٥. A little time, about which the Qur’ān says: “...you did not tarry but a little...”

It seems that this difference of attitudes, due to the length of the lifetime in the world, depends on the amount of insight existed in different persons. In this verse, for example, the Qur’ān points to those people who are best in conduct

Sura Al-Mu’minoan, No. ٢٣, verse ١١٤-٤

Such people count the lifetime in this world as much as ‘one day’, while, as the .previous verse indicates, the sinners count it ten days

Of course, it is evident that the limited lifetime in this world in comparison with the unlimited world of Hereafter is little and even less than little. Or, it is not possible to compare a finite and limited thing with an infinite and unlimited one. Perhaps the secret of this fact that Allah refers the knowledge of the length of their stop in the world to Himself is the same matter. Allah knows best what they say and they imagine that they have tarried ten days in the world, but the best and the most truthful ones of :them say that they have not tarried in the world more than one day. The verse says

We know best what they will say when their best in conduct will say: ‘You tarried but “
”.’a day

To conclude, Allah in one expressive sentence says that He knows best what they say,
.whether they say it in a low voice or aloud

Point

State of Creation on the Day of Judgment – No Intercession by any one shall be allowed except by those permitted by Allah – Those who believe and do good deeds shall fear neither any injustice to them nor any curtailment of their recompense. ”, (will uproot them and scatter them (as dust

”; Then He will leave them (as) a plain, smooth level “ ۱۰۶

”. Wherein you will see no crookedness neither any curving “ ۱۰۷

Commentary: verses ۱۰۵–۱۰۷

The Arabic term /nasafa/ means: ‘to destroy from the foundations, uproot’, while the word /qā’a/ means: ‘a level plain’; and the Qur’ānic term /safsaf/ means: ‘a level land, so that all parts of it are in one row and a line’. The Arabic words /iwaj/ and /’amat/ are .’used in the sense of: ‘downs and ups

And, in view of the fact that in the former verses the words were about the events concerning to the end of this world and the beginning of the Hereafter, here, in these verses, the same subject is followed,

.too

The first verse of the abovementioned verses leads us to this meaning that people had asked the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) about the fate of the mountains at the time
:when this world will end. Therefore, the revelation says

And they ask you (O Apostle) about the mountains (on that Day). Say: ‘My Lord will “
”,(uproot them and scatter them (as dust

As for the fate of the mountains, it is understood from the totality of the verses of the .Qur’ān that they will pass different stages at the threshold of Resurrection

.At first, they will quake, and then they will move

In the third stage, they will be burst into a pile of sand, and, at last, in their final stage, winds and storms will scatter them around so violently that they seem as ‘loosened \(wool’.

****

Then, after destruction of the mountains and their dust being scattered, by the next
:verses, the Qur’ān says

”;Then He will leave them (as) a plain, smooth level “

”.Wherein you will see no crookedness neither any curving “

However, the destruction of the mountains and bringing forth the Hereafter is a .manifestation of the Lordship of Allah

١٠٨- يَوْمَئِذٍ يَتَّبِعُونَ الدَّاعِيَ لَا عِوَجَ لَهُ وَخَشَعَتِ الْأَصْوَاتُ لِلرَّحْمَنِ فَلَا تَسْمَعُ إِلَّا هَمْسًا

On that day they will follow the caller in whom is no crookedness, and the voices “ ١٠٨ . shall be low before (the grandeur of) the Beneficent (Allah), so that you hear not but a faint murmur ”.

Commentary: verse ١٠٨

There are some persons in the world who turn their backs on the missionaries of Allah, but, on the Day of Hereafter, they cannot be helped but to follow

:In this holy verse, the Qur’ān says

”... ,On that day they will follow the caller in whom is no crookedness “

That is, all men will rise from their graves and no one will have any ability to oppose Him.

The order of this caller, whoever he may be, will be so operative that nobody can oppose it. Concerning this time, the verse continues saying and the voices shall be low before (the grandeur of) the Beneficent (Allah), so that...“

”..you hear not but a faint murmur

This silence of voices will be either for the domination of the grandeur of Allah over the resurrection plain toward which everybody humble himself, or for the fear of reckoning and the result of the worldly deeds, or both of them

****

On that Day shall no intercession avail save (that of) him to whom the Beneficent “ ١٠٩ .
”.(Allah) gives leave and whose word He is pleased with

Commentary: verse ١٠٩

Since the denial of intercession contrasts the contents of the verses of the Qur’ān and the Islamic traditions, and it causes the despair of those believers who are sinful, and also accepting the unconditional and unrestrained intercession causes that the wrong doers become more daring, which is opposite to Allah’s justice, then the Qur’ān has assigned some control and prescriptions for intercession

From the viewpoint of the Qur’ān, intercession is a ray of hope for the sinners. It is a means of their communication with the saints of Allah and following them. Intercession is done by the leave of Allah, and the persons who care to intercede are only those believers who are in the path of Monotheism and have a proper logic and rightful notions and whose statements are acceptable with Allah. Therefore, there is an exact process in intercession both for the intercessor and the person who will be interceded. It is so that the Qur’ān in this holy verse says

On that Day shall no intercession avail save (that of) him to whom the Beneficent “
”.(Allah) gives leave and whose word He is pleased with

For this reason, the Qur’ān counts the intercession of idols futile for the idolaters. Also, the intercession of Christ (a.s.) in the sense of ransom, in order to purify the sins of his followers, or the martyrdom of Imam Hussayn for the sake of interceding his lovers and followers, is not acceptable, even though Imam Hussayn is one of the great intercessors on the Day of Resurrection, but it should be noted that his goal from martyrdom was not to intercede his advocators, but it was to protect the religion of Allah

Upon the commentary of this verse, Imam Bāqir (a.s.) said: “The intercession of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is only for those who are well-pleased (by Allah) from the point of action and speech, and they have lived with the love of Ahlul-Bayt (a.s.) and have died (with it.” (Ta’wīl-ul-’Āyāt, p. ۳۰۴

In the book entitled ‘Maḥāsīn’, there is cited a tradition from Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) who said: “The intercessors are the (immaculate) Imams (a.s.), and the truthful ones (among the believers.” (Tafsīr-uṣ-Ṣāfi, old version, p. ۳۵۸

The Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) said: “There will be no intercession for the doubtful ones, the disbelievers, and the rejecters. But intercession is particular to the (believers, the true confessors of Divine Unity.” (Bihār-ul-’Anwār, vol. ۸, p. ۵۸

The holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: “There will be there groups who can intercede before Allah and whose intercessions are acceptable: the prophets, the scholars, and the (martyrs.” (Bihār-ul-Anwār, vol. ۸, p. ۳۴

The holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) also said: “My intercession does not involve the one who does not mind (his) prayer and takes it light; and by Allah he will not arrive (near) me at the Pond of Abundance; and by Allah a drunkard is not of mine and will never arrive ((near) me at the Pond.” (Wāfi, vol. ۵, p. ۹

****

١١٠- يَعْزَمُ مَا بَيْنَ أَيْدِيهِمْ وَمَا خَلْفَهُمْ وَلَا يُحِيطُونَ بِهِ عِلْمًا

١١١- وَعَنْتِ الْوُجُوهُ لِلْحَيِّ الْقَيُّومِ وَقَدْ خَابَ مَنْ حَمَلَ ظُلْمًا

He knows what is before them and what is behind them, but they (people) do not “ .١١٠
”comprehend Him in (their) knowledge

And (on that Day, all) faces will be humbled before the Ever-Living, the Self- “ .١١١
”.Subsistent (Allah), and whoever bears inequity will indeed be disappointed

Commentary: verses ١١٠-١١١

Inequity is great burden

The Arabic term /‘anat/ is derived from /‘nwah/ with the meaning of humility before wrath and sovereignty, and the Qur’ānic word /qayyūm/ is called to one who is subsisting to his own essence and is the protector of every thing and who has given .the cause of consistence of every thing to that thing

And the Arabic word /xāba/ is derived from /xaybah/ with the sense of ‘failure, despair’. Thus, the despair is of those who carried the burden of injustice on their .backs

Since the attendance of humankind in the resurrection plain for reckoning and retribution needs Allah’s awareness from their deeds, the Qur’ān in this verse implies that Allah knows whatever the sinners will have in front of them and whatever they have done in the world and have passed in their behind. He knows them all so that He is aware of their whole deeds, sayings, and intentions in the past, and knows the retribution they will confront in future; but they do not encompass His knowledge. The :verse says

He knows what is before them and what is behind them, but they (people) do not “
”comprehend Him in (their) knowledge

****

Thus the encompassment of the knowledge of Allah is unto both their deeds and their retributions (and rewards). These two in fact, are two principals of complete and just judgment. The verse says

And (on that Day, all) faces will be humbled before the Ever-Living, the Self- “
”... ,(Subsistent (Allah

Choosing the attributes of ‘the Ever-Living, and the Self-Subsistent’, here, from among the attributes of Allah is for the suitability of these two epithets with the event of Resurrection which is the Day of new life and rise of all

:Then, at the end of the verse, the Qur’ān adds

”and whoever bears inequity will indeed be disappointed...”

As if, inequity is a great burden which weighs down on the back of a person and hinders him from going toward the bounties of Allah

****

And whoever does good works, and he is a believer (on that day) shall fear “ ١١٢ .
”.(neither of injustice nor of (any) curtailment (of his wage

Commentary: verse ١١٢

A righteous deed originated from Faith may be performed continuously

The Arabic term /haḍm/ means: ‘To decrease’. It is used for the absorption of food in the body, perhaps for the reason that the food apparently will be decreased therein .when its remaining will be discharged

And, since the style of the holy Qur’ān is often to state the comparative statement of the affairs, after mentioning the fate of the unjust and the guilty on that Day, it refers :to the state of the believers, and says

And whoever does good works, and he is a believer (on that day) shall fear neither of “
”.(injustice nor of (any) curtailment (of his wage

Principally, in order that a righteous action can often be performed continuously and .deeply, it should be originated from a pure Faith and a proper conviction

In the recent ten verses of this Sura, the illustration of the feature of Hereafter has .briefly been pointed out

The Trumpet will be blown and the dead will be quickened. “ (On) the day when the ١ .
(Trumpet shall be blown, ...” (Verse ١٠٢

(The sinners will he mustered. “...We will muster the guilty, ...” (Verse ١٠٢ .٢

The mountains will be uprooted. “ ...My Lord will uproot them and scatter them (as .۳ (dust).” (Verse ۱۰۵

All people will obey the invitation of a divine missionary. “...They will follow the caller .۴
(...” (Verse ۱۰۸

Without the permission of Allah, no intercession will avail. “... shall no intercession .۵ (avail ...” (Verse ۱۰۹

Allah, with His encompassing knowledge, will reckon all. “ He knows what is before .۶ (them...” (Verse ۱۱۰

All people submit to the commandment of Allah. “...(all) faces will humbled.” (Verse .۷ (۱۱۱

Those who have committed injustice will be despaired. “...whoever bears inequity .۸ (will indeed be disappointed.” (Verse ۱۱۱

The righteous believers will be in peace and ease. “...a believer (on that day) shall .۹ (fear neither of injustice nor of (any) curtailment (of his wage).” (Verse ۱۱۲

١١٣- وَكَذَلِكَ أَنْزَلْنَاهُ قُرْآنًا عَرَبِيًّا وَصَرَّفْنَا فِيهِ مِنَ الْوَعِيدِ لَعَلَّهُمْ يَتَّقُونَ أَوْ يُحَدِّثُ لَهُمْ ذِكْرًا

And thus We sent it down as a perspicuous Qur’ān and explained therein certain “ ١١٣ .
”.warnings that they may keep from evil or that it may serve unto them a reminder

Commentary: verse ١١٣

The Quran expresses one subject in the frame of different statements

In this verse, the Qur’ān hints to the totality of the matters which were mentioned in the previous holy verses about the instructional subjects and divine promises concerning the Hereafter. It says

And thus We sent it down as a perspicuous Qur’ān and explained therein certain “
”.warnings that they may keep from evil or that it may serve unto them a reminder

The Qur’ānic term /‘arabiyyan/, although means ‘the Arabic language’, here, it is an indication to the eloquence, and rhetoric of the Qur’ān, as well as the clarity of its concepts. The evidence for this meaning is that, as some linguistics of the world have said, Arabic language contains the most expressive words and its literature is the strongest one Another fact is that the Qur’ān expresses one subject in the frame of different statements. For instance, as for the threat and punishment of the wrong doers, it sometimes states it in the form of the story of the former nations, sometimes in the form of addressing the audience, sometimes in the form of illustration of their status in the Resurrection plain, and sometimes in other shapes

So high exalted is Allah, The True Sovereign; and do not make haste (O Apostle) “ ١١٤ . with the Qur’ān before its revelation is completed unto you, and say: ‘My Lord! increase me in knowledge’.

Commentary: verse ١١٤

'The different meaning of 'haste

Through the phrase “Do not make haste (O Apostle) with the Qur’ān” it can be deduced that the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) had known the whole verses of the Qur’ān from before its gradual revelation and had been acquainted with them. This itself is a clear evidence that the Qur’ān was revealed to the Prophet of Islam twice. Once it was sent down to him in a lump, and the second revelation was in the form of a gradual revelation. Thus, the Prophet of Allah (p.b.u.h.), who had received the whole Qur’ān at once on the Night of Qadr, was acquainted with what was gradually being revealed to him before its revelation.

There is a fundamental difference between the act of haste /ta‘jal/, on one side, and (the Qur’ānic term/ sāri‘ū/ (س) (be quick) and /sābiqū/ (س) (be you foremost) which have been divinely admired, on the other side. The goodness of ‘being quick’ and ‘being foremost’ is in a circumstance where all the affairs have been considered and arranged. Therefore, opportunities must

---

Sura, 'Āl-i-'Imrān, No. ٣, verse ١٣٣-١

Sura Al-Ḥadīd, No. ٥٧, verse ٢١-٢

be utilized. But 'haste' is used for the circumstance where the time of action has not come yet, or the matter needs to be searched and we do not observe it, then we have .made haste

The origin of 'haste' is sometimes the negative qualities, such as: impatience, pride and vanity. These qualities, of course, are blameworthy and they are aloof from the holy being of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.). And, sometimes, it is because of the intense love and interest for receiving a matter, and sympathy for protecting something. In this case, haste is counted a good thing. The haste of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) in receiving the revelation had been of this kind, i.e. an amorous reception, and an anxiety for the :protection of revelation. Therefore, this verse says

So high exalted is Allah, The True Sovereign; and do not make haste (O Apostle) with “ the Qur’ān before its revelation is completed unto you, and say: ‘My Lord! increase me ”.in knowledge

When the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), with that abundant knowledge and spiritually full of cognizance, is enjoined to seek increase of knowledge from Allah until the end of lifetime, the duty of others is completely clear. In fact, from the view of Islam, there is no limitation for earning helpful knowledge. Amassing things, in many affairs, is blameworthy; while it is admirable concerning knowledge. Excess is bad, but excess in .knowledge does not have any meaning

However, Allah sent Moses (a.s.) to Hadrat Khidr to be taught. So Moses (a.s.) asked him for permission and said: “Shall I follow you so that you teach me right conduct of \(what you have been taught?\)” \(1\)

But Allah Himself undertook teaching the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) and told him to say: “My Lord! Increase me in

.”knowledge

The first teacher for everything is Allah, the All-knowing, and the Omniscient. The Qur’ān says: “He taught Adam all the names, ...”\(1\) Also, it says: “The Beneficent” “It is [\(He Who has taught the Qur’ān.” “He has taught him an intelligent speech.”\[\\(2\\)\]\(#\)](#)

١١٥- وَلَقَدْ عَاهَدْنَا إِلَىٰ آدَمَ مِن قَبْلِ فَنَسِيَ وَلَمْ نَجِدْ لَهُ عَزْمًا

And We had made covenant with Adam before, but he forgot, and We found in “ ١١٥ .
”him no constancy

Section ٧:Satan, a declared enemy of Mankind

Point

Man already informed by Allah to beware of Satan’s open enmity to him – Man beguiled by Satan – Mercy again shown to Man – Man exhorted to follow the guidance through the Apostle

١١٦- وَإِذْ قُلْنَا لِلْمَلَائِكَةِ اسْجُدُوا لِآدَمَ فَسَجَدُوا

إِلَّا إِبْلِيسَ أَبَىٰ

And when We said to the angels: ‘Prostrate to Adam’, they (all) prostrated except “ ١١٦ .
;Iblis

”.he refused

Commentary: verses ١١٥–١١٦

Adam did not commit any sin

From the beginning of the Qur’ān up to here, this is the sixth occurrence where we recite about the story of Adam and Iblīs. Before this, there have also been some .remarks mentioned in Suras Al-Baqarah, Al-’A’rāf, Al-Hijr, Al-’Isrā’, and Al-Kahf

The purpose of ‘covenant’, mentioned in this verse, is the command of Allah saying not to eat from that particular plant; and the objective meaning of ‘forgot’ is the lack of care in fulfilling the command of Allah (s.w.t.), otherwise, an absolute forgetfulness does not deserve warning and criticism. The purpose of ‘constancy’, mentioned in the above, is ‘a firm will’ before the temptations of Iblīs

Imam Kazem (a.s.) says: “The command of prostration and then the disobedience of Satan is a kind of solace for the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) meaning that if his command was not obeyed, he would not be worried since Iblis did not obey His command, either.”<sup>(1)</sup>

As it was mentioned before, the struggle of ‘right and wrong’ is not limited to the present time and past time, or to Moses (a.s.) and Pharaoh. It has existed since the time of the creation of Adam and it continues forever

:At first, the Qur’ān refers to the covenant of Adam with Allah. It says

And We had made covenant with Adam before, but he forgot, and We found in him “
”no constancy

The purpose of this covenant cited in the abovementioned verse, is the command of Allah meaning that they would not approach the prohibited tree

No doubt Adam did not commit any sin, but what he did was ‘leaving the better’. The course of dwelling Adam inside Heaven, in principle, was an experimental course for him to be prepared for the life of the present world and accepting the responsibility of duties

****

:Then, the Qur’ān has pointed to another part of this story, when the verse says

And when We said to the angels: ‘Prostrate to Adam’, they (all) prostrated except “
”Iblis; he refused

p: ۴۶۱

Here, by this statement, the great rank and position of Adam is made manifest, Adam whom all angels prostrated for. Moreover, the enmity of Iblīs against him, from very beginning, is also manifested

There is no doubt that prostration, in the sense of worship, is allocated to Allah (s.w.t.), and besides Allah no one and nothing can be worshipped. Thus, the prostration of angels was done before Allah (s.w.t.), but for the sake of the creation of this great creature, Adam, who was eligible of the praise of that Creator

١١٧- فُقُلْنَا يَا آدَمُ إِنَّ هَذَا عَدُوٌّ لَكَ وَلِزَوْجِكَ فَلَا يُخْرِجَنَّكَمَا مِنَ الْجَنَّةِ فَتَشْقَى

١١٨- إِنَّ لَكَ أَلَّا تَجُوعَ فِيهَا وَلَا تَعْرَى

١١٩- وَأَنَّكَ لَا تَظْمَأُ فِيهَا وَلَا تَصْحَى

Then We said: ‘O Adam! Verily this is an enemy to you and to your wife. “ .١١٧
”.Therefore let him not expel you both from the Garden so that you come to toil

”.For) verily you will be neither hungry therein, nor naked) “ .١١٨

”.And that you shall not be thirsty therein nor suffer (the beat of) the sun “ .١١٩

Commentary: verses ١١٧–١١٩

Four essential necessities of man

Here, Satan has been introduced as the enemy of Adam and Eve alone, but in some other occurrences of the Qur’ān his enmity unto all humankind has been warned. For example, Sura Al-’Isrā’, No. ١٧, verse ٥٣ says: “...Verily the Satan is an open enemy to
”.man

The objective meaning of the word /tašqā/ (you come to toil), mentioned here, is the toils of the material life, which is understood from the next verses, where it says that there is not any hanger or thirst or nakedness in Heaven. This statement means that .if you be sent out from Heaven, you will surely be involved with toil

However, this verse indicates that Adam (a.s.) was warned by Allah (s.w.t.) to be :careful of the enmity of Satan. The holy verse says

Then We said: ‘O Adam! Verily this is an enemy to you and to your wife. Therefore let “ ”.him not expel you both from the Garden so that you come to toil

Then Allah explains for Adam the comfort of Heaven and the toil and pain of the :outside of it, as follows

”.For) verily you will be neither hungry therein, nor naked) “

”.And that you shall not be thirsty therein nor suffer (the beat of) the sun “

In the abovementioned couple of verses, the Qur’ān has pointed to four elementary and essential necessities of man, i.e. the necessity of food, water, clothing, and (housing (a cover against the heat of the sun

١٢٠- فَوَسَّسَ إِلَيْهِ الشَّيْطَانُ قَالَ يَا آدَمُ هَلْ أَدُلُّكَ عَلَى شَجَرَةِ الْخُلْدِ وَمُلْكٍ لَّا يَبْلَى

١٢١- فَآكَلَا مِنْهَا فَبَدَتْ لَهُمَا سَوْآتُهُمَا وَطَفِقَا يَخْصِفَانِ عَلَيْهِمَا مِنْ وَرَقِ الْجَنَّةِ وَعَصَى آدَمُ رَبَّهُ فَغَوَى

Then Satan whispered (evil suggestions) to him, saying: ‘O Adam! Shall I guide “ .١٢٠
”?you to the Tree of Eternity and to a kingdom that never decays

So they both ate of it (the forbidden tree), then their shameful parts became “ .١٢١ exposed to them, and they both took to stitching upon themselves leaves of the .Garden

”.And (thus) Adam disobeyed his Lord, and went astray

Commentary: verses ١٢٠–١٢١

Satan came to Adam with the claim of guidance

Another name of Iblis is Satan, as the holy Qur’ān says: “...They all prostrated except
”... ,Iblis, ...” and “Then Satan whispered (evil suggestions) to him

It was before the rank of prophethood that Adam was whispered evil suggestions to.

((At-Tafsīr-ul-Kabīr, by Fakhr-Rāzī

Sayyid-ibn-Ṭāwūs in a delicate statement says that, at first, Satan came to Adam with the claim of guidance and said: “O Adam! Shall I guide you...?”, and then he (Satan) caused them both to fall by deceit.

Now, woe unto us! For, Satan comes to us from the beginning with the intention of deceiving

p: ٤٤٥

us. The Qur'ān says: "He said: 'Then by Your Might I will surely make them live an evil life, all'" (1)

However, Satan had decided to be an enemy of Adam, therefore he did not sit still, and, as the verse says

Then Satan whispered (evil suggestions) to him, saying: 'O Adam! Shall I guide you to "
"the Tree of Eternity and to a kingdom that never decays

In fact, Satan thought to what the willing of Adam was and he found that he wished an eternal life and reaching to an imperishable power. Therefore, in order to drive him to disobeying the command of Allah, he makes use of these two factors

Finally, what should not be done was done. The verse in this regard, and that why their heavenly clothes wholly collapsed, says

So they both ate of it (the forbidden tree), then their shameful parts became "
"... ,exposed to them

When Adam and Eve saw that event, they immediately made clothes for themselves out of the leaves of the trees of Heaven to cover the shameful parts of their bodies.

The verse continues saying

"... and they both took to stitching upon themselves leaves of the Garden..."

Yes, at last, Adam disobeyed his Lord and was deprived from His reward. The verse
says

"And (thus) Adam disobeyed his Lord, and went astray ..."

١٢٢- ثُمَّ اجْتَبَاهُ رَبُّهُ فَتَابَ عَلَيْهِ وَهَدَى

١٢٣- قَالَ اهْبِطَا مِنْهَا جَمِيعاً بَعْضُكُمْ لِبَعْضٍ عَدُوٌّ فَأَمَّا يَا تَيْتَنُكَم مِّنْ هُدَىٰ فَمَنِ اتَّبَعَ هُدَايَ فَلَا يَضِلُّ وَلَا يَشْقَىٰ

١٢٢. "Then his Lord chose him, so He turned unto him (mercifully) and guided him "

١٢٣. Allah) said: 'Get you down, both of you, all together, from it (the Garden), with) " enmity one to another. So if there comes to you a guidance from Me, then (be sure) " .whoever follows My guidance, will not lose his way nor fall into misery

The repentance of Adam was accepted

The Arabic term /'ijtibā/ is derived from /jibāyah/ in the sense of: 'picking out, selection, and choice'. The Qur'ānic word /tāba/ means 'a person's penitence' when it is accompanied with /'ilā/, like /tubtu 'ilayka/ (I repented to you), but if it is said with /'alā/ it is considered the repentance and return of Allah, like what is recited in the abovementioned holy verse, which means 'Allah (s.w.t.) returned His Grace to the .?servant

But since Adam was essentially pure and faithful, and acted along the path of Allah's pleasure, and that this fault which encompassed him as a result of Satan's temptation was an exceptional happening, Allah did deprive him from His Grace for ever; but :after this event, Allah accepted his repentance and guided him. The verse says

”Then his Lord chose him, so He turned unto him (mercifully) and guided him “

Yes, the repentance of Adam was accepted, but he had performed something that his .return to the early position was impossible

Therefore, Allah commanded him and Eve both to come down from Heaven on to the earth, together with Satan, while they would be enemy with each other. The holy
:verse says

Allah) said: ‘Get you down, both of you, all together, from it (the Garden), with) “
”... .enmity one to another

Yet, they should know that the way of prosperity and salvation is always open to :them. Then Allah says

So if there comes to you a guidance from Me, then (be sure) whoever follows My...“
”.guidance, will not lose his way nor fall into misery

He who has Faith is safe from anxieties

The previous verse was a glad tidings to the followers of the Truth, while this verse is a warning to those who turn away from the Truth. This is because dread and .encouragement might be mentioned beside each other and become fruitful

Some Islamic literatures indicate that leaving the path of mastership of Ahlul-Bayt (a.s.), as well as leaving the duty of Hajj, have been counted as the denotation expansion of aversion the remembrance of Allah (s.w.t.). (Nūr-uth-Thaqalayn, the (Commentary

The purpose of ‘straits of life’ is not lack of money and straitened circumstances, while many of the rich, because of greed, fear, and anxiety, live in hardship and .straits

And, in order to make clear the circumstance of those who neglect the command of :Allah, too, the Qur’ān adds

And whoever turns away from My remembrance verily for him is a life straitened, “
” .and the Day of Resurrection We shall raise him blind

In principle, the straits of life are often for the spiritual deficiencies and the absence of the soul's nutrition. This status is for the uncertainty of man due to the future and the fear of annihilation of the existing material potentialities, and too much dependence on the material world. Therefore, he who has faith in Allah, and is hopeful to His Pure Essence, is safe from all these anxieties

:In Hereafter, such a neglectful person may ask Allah this question, as the verse says

He will say: 'My Lord! Why have You raised me blind, whereas indeed I was a seeing " "?(one (in the world

The Immaculate Imams are Signs of Allah

Prayer is one of the clear expansions of the remembrance of Allah. Allah in the Qur’ān says; “...established prayer for My remembrance”<sup>(١)</sup>, and it is evident that whoever .remembers Allah, He will remember him, too

This is the promise of Allah Who says: “...remember Me, and I will remember you”<sup>(٢)</sup>
:And, naturally, those who forget Allah, He may also leave them alone. The verse says Allah) will say: ‘Even so, Our Signs came to you, but you neglected them; in like) “

Concerning the Qur’ānic phrase /’atarka ’āyātunā/ “Even so, Our Signs came to you”, Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) in a tradition said: “The Immaculate Imams are the signs of Allah and he who abandon them will be left in Fire on the Day of Hereafter” However, on the Day of Resurrection, a guilty person will say: “...My Lord! Why have

In answer to him, immediately it will be said to such a guilty person: “Even so, Our Signs came to you, but you neglected them; in like manner you are forgotten this

”there are signs in this for those (endowed) with understanding

And had there not been a decree that went forth before from your Lord and an “ .١٢٩
”appointed term, (their punishment) would necessarily have come

Commentary: verses ١٢٨–١٢٩

There would be a respite for the sinners

The Arabic term /nuhā/ is the plural form of /nuhyah/ which means something that prohibits man from doing some indecent things. In Arabic, the ‘intellect’ is called /nuhyah/ since it dissuades man from the low desires. Therefore, the true intellect, besides thinking and understanding, causes man to ward off some dangers and vices

The Qur’ānic word /qarn/ means a nation or a group of people who live in the same time. It is sometimes used for the time itself, too. The Arabic term /lizām/ means ‘a necessary and firm affair

And, in view of the fact that in the previous verses several matters concerning the sinners were discussed, this verse has pointed to one of the best and the most effective ways of

:awareness, i.e. the careful study of the history of the former generations. It says

Does it not then guide such men (to call to mind) how many of the generations We “
”... ,did destroy before them

Those men are the same people who were involved with the painful punishment of .Allah and, now, these people haunt their ruined houses

In their different travels to Yemen, travelers may see the houses of the people of ‘Ād, and in their way to Syria they confront the ruined dwellings of the people of Thamūd, and in their voyage to Palestine they pass by the houses of the people of Lot, which had been destroyed upside down. They usually see their trucks but they do not take :an example. Yes, in this regard the verse says amid whose dwellings they (today) walk about? Verily there are signs in this for ... “

”.those (endowed) with understanding

The matter of ‘taking an example’ from the history of the former nations is one of the .subjects on which the Qur’ān and Islamic traditions have emphasized very much

A tradition narrated from the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) indicates that the Messenger of Allah said: “The most neglectful people is he who takes no admonition from the .change of the world.” And he does not contemplate on the turns of days and nights

The next verse, indeed, is an answer to the question which may arise here, asking why Allah does not arrange the same thing upon this group of sinners that He :arranged for the former sinners. The holy Qur’ān says

And had there not been a decree that went forth before from your Lord and an “
”.appointed term, (their punishment) would necessarily have come

This 'Divine decree' is an indication to the command of creation containing the freedom of human kind. Since, if any guilty person immediately and without any respite be punished, faith and righteous deeds may become nearly constrained and compelling, and they will often be done because of fear and terror of immediate punishment. Thus, in this case, it will not be a means of development, which is the .main goal

Moreover, if it were judged that all wrong doers should be punished at once, there .would remain no one alive on the earth

(Sura Naḥl, No. ١٦, verse ٦١)

Therefore, there should be a respite for the sinners until they might be aware and pave the path of improvement, and all the travelers of the path of truth also find an .opportunity for self-improvement

****

p: ٤٧٥

Point

Respite already promised is the cause of the delay in the immediate punishment of the sinners – The times of the daily Prayers – Prayer and Patience enjoined – Evidences already given in the previous scriptures – Apostle Muhammad sent as the Last Warner before the Final Judgment

۱۳۰- فَاصْبِرْ عَلَىٰ مَا يَقُولُونَ وَسَبِّحْ بِحَمْدِ رَبِّكَ قَبْلَ طُلُوعِ الشَّمْسِ وَقَبْلَ غُرُوبِهَا وَمِنْ آنَاءِ اللَّيْلِ فَسَبِّحْ وَأَطْرَافَ النَّهَارِ لَعَلَّكَ تَرْضَىٰ

So be patient with what they say, and glorify your Lord by praising Him before “ ۱۳۰. the rising of the sun and before its setting, and during (some) hours of the night also ”.glorify (Him) and during parts of the day, that you may be pleased

Commentary: verse ۱۳۰

The Prophet has been enjoined to patience in ۱۹ places of the Quran

This verse, similar to verse No. ۴۵ from Sura Al-Baqarah, No. ۲, which says: “And seek you help (from Allah) through patience and prayer, ...”, invites the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to patience and praise of the Lord. Of course, the addressee of the verse is apparently the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), but it is evident that the content of the verse is for all

Allah has enjoined the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) to patience in nineteen occurrences of the Qur’ān

According to some traditions and the viewpoint of some commentators, this verse adapts to the statutory prayers; and the objective meaning of ‘during parts of the day’, mentioned in the verse, is the daily

.supererogatory prayers

However, the verse, addressing the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.), implies: now that these wrong doers are not to be punished at once, he should be patient with them. The
:verse says

”... ,So be patient with what they say“

So, in order to strengthen the spiritual conditions of the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), and to comfort him, He commands him to glorify his Lord through prayers. The verse
:continues saying and glorify your Lord by praising Him before the rising of the sun and before its ... “ setting, and during (some) hours of the night also glorify (Him) and during parts of the ”.day, that you may be pleased

This commandment was for the sake that the Prophet’s heart might not be worried because of their hurtful sayings. No doubt, this glorification and praising was a struggle against polytheism and idolatry, accompanied with patience before the ill-
.speaking and evil words of the polytheists

And do not stretch your eyes to that thing which We have given parties of them “ ١٣١ . to enjoy; (this is) the splendour of the life of the world that We may try them in it; and ”.the provision of your Lord is better and more lasting

Commentary: verse ١٣١

Allah has provided bounties with mankind

There has been narrated a tradition from Imam Ṣādiq (a.s.) who said: “Whoever longs for the people’s help, his sorrow will prolong and his rage will remain.” (The (Commentary of Al-Mizān

The Qur’ān considers the wealth of the world as goodness, virtue, and adornment and counts the enjoyment of it lawful and permissible, yet it condemns intensive love unto it, because the life in this world is like a bud or a blossom, which has a short .lifetime and, with a faint wind or breeze easily vanishes

In this verse the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) has been ordered some instructions which are complete to the statement of patience that was mentioned in the previous verse. :These instructions, in fact, are for all Muslims. At first, it says

And do not stretch your eyes to that thing which We have given parties of them to “ ... ;enjoy

Yes, these worldly bounties are temporary and unstable. They are blossoms of the life of this world, the blossoms

.which soon open, and fade soon and fall on the ground

:They remain stable only for a few days. The verse says

”... this is) the splendour of the life of the world)...“

In the meantime, all these are for that they may be tried by them. The verse
:continues saying

”... ;that We may try them in it ...“

And, however, whatever Allah has provided as sustenance for you is better and is :more lasting. The verse says

”.and the provision of your Lord is better and more lasting...“

Commentary: verse ١٣٢

A considerable number of Islamic traditions indicate that after the revelation of this verse, for several months the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) used to knock at the door of the house of Ali (a.s.) and Fātimah (a.s.), and loudly said: /aṣ-ṣalat/ (prayer), then he began reciting the verse of sanctification.<sup>(١)</sup> (The Commentary of Fakhr-i-Rāzī, and the (Commentaries of Majma‘-ul-Bayān Dur-rul-Manthūr Whenever the life of the Messenger of Allah (p.b.u.h.) was straitened, he recited the above-mentioned verse and then he told his family members to establish prayer. ((Commentary of Al-Mizān

The Qur’ānic phrase /iṣṭabir ‘alayhā/ (be constant therein) means that you should be .severe and constant both on keeping prayer and bidding others to it

In order to comfort the Prophet (p.b.u.h.), and to strengthen his heart, in this verse the :Qur’ān says

”... And bid your family to pray and be constant therein “

p: ٤٨٠

The reason of it is that, this very prayer, for you and your household, is the source of sanctification, serenity of the heart (mind), strengthening of the spirit, and duration of the remembrance of Allah

:Then, the verse adds

”... ,We do not ask you sustenance, (but) We give you sustenance...”

This prayer does not increase anything to the greatness of Allah, but it is a great capital for the development of men and a high training class for them

:And, at the end of the verse, it continues saying

”.and the (good) end is for (the people of ) righteousness...”

That which that will remain with Allah (s.w.t.) and its end is useful, constructive, and enlivening is piety and righteousness

Commentary: verse ١٣٣

This verse points to one of the pretexts of the disbelievers. They said why the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) did not bring a miracle for them as they themselves liked. It says

And they said: ‘Why does he not bring us a sign “

”... ’?a miracle) from his Lord)

Then, the holy Qur’ān immediately answers this question, implying that whether the clear news of the former nations, which had been mentioned in the former Divine Books, did not come to them that they repeatedly did pretext and asked for bringing miracles, and after when they saw those miracles they continued their disbelief and rejections for which the grievous punishment of Allah encompassed them. Do they not know that if they pave the same way they will confront the same fate? The verse
:continues saying

”?Has there not come to them a clear proof of what is in the former Books...”

Yes, there is the quality of the stubborn and proud persons that they put aside the clear existing proofs and miracles of the Qur’ān and obstinately expect another
.miracle

١٣٤- وَلَوْ أَنَّا أَهْلَكْنَاهُمْ بِعَذَابٍ مِّن قَبْلِهِ لَقَالُوا رَبَّنَا لَوْلَا أَرْسَلْتَ إِلَيْنَا رَسُولًا فَنَتَّبِعَ آيَاتِكَ مِن قَبْلِ أَنْ نَذِلَّ وَنَخْزَى

And had We destroyed them with a punishment before him (the Messenger), “ ١٣٤. they would certainly have said: ‘Our Lord! Why did You not send us a Messenger so that we might have followed Your Signs before that we were humiliated and disgraced’.”

Commentary: verse ١٣٤

The mission of the prophets to prophethood has been for completing the argument so that people may not pretext their own unawareness. Therefore, these seekers of pretexts are not some people who seek the Truth. They are ceaselessly in the thought of seeking a new pretext, even in a state that, as Allah says

And had We destroyed them with a punishment before him (the Messenger), they “ would certainly have said: ‘Our Lord! Why did You not send us a Messenger so that we might have followed Your Signs before that we were humiliated and disgraced’.”

But, now that this great holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) with this magnificent Book, the Qur’ān, has come to them, every day they express a new vain statement and, in order to escape from the truth, they bring a new excuse

١٣٥- قُلْ كُلٌّ مُتَرَبِّصٌ فَتَرَبَّصُوا فَسَتَعْلَمُونَ مَنْ أَصْحَابُ الصِّرَاطِ السَّوِيِّ وَمَنِ اهْتَدَى

Say: ‘Each one (of us) is awaiting, therefore do await, then soon you will come to “ .١٣٥
”.’know who is the follower of the straight and even way, and who is guided

Commentary: verse ١٣٥

The holy Prophet (p.b.u.h.) is a missionary of warning. Therefore, in this verse the Qur’ān implies that he should tell them that all of you and us are waiting. We are awaiting for the promises of Allah about you, and you are awaiting that difficulties and .calamities surround us

:The verse says

”... ,Say: ‘Each one (of us) is awaiting “

: Now that the case is like that, the verse continues saying

”... ,therefore do await...”

Then soon you will come to know who is the follower of the straight and even way,...“
”.’and who is guided

And, by this decisive and expressive sentence, he concludes his speaking here with
.these obstinate and disbelieving seekers of pretexts

In short, since this Sura was sent down in Mecca, at the time when the Prophet of Islam (p.b.u.h.) and the Muslims were under a harsh pressure from the side of the enemies of Islam, at the end of this Sura through some revelations Allah comforts them. Sometimes He says that the wealth and properties of the disbelievers, which are the fleeting capitals of this world and are given to them for their trial, should not
.attract your eyes to themselves

Sometimes He orders them to establishing prayer and being constant in order to .strengthen their spiritual power in front of the mass of their enemies

And, at last, He gives glad tidings to the Muslims that if this group do not believe, such .people will have an evil and dark fate, for which they must wait

However, the objective meaning of the Qur'ānic phrase /'aṣḥāb-us-sirāṭ-is-sawiy/mentioned in the holy verse is the immaculate Imams and the purpose of the phrase (man-ihtadā/ is their helpers. (The Commentary of Furqān Imam Kāẓim (a.s.), upon the commentary of the last part of the verse, said: "The straight path is the path of our Qā'im (a.s.), and the guided one is he who may be (guided to obeying him." (Ta'wīl-ul-'Āyāt, p. ۳۱۷, Tafsīr-ul-Burhān, vol. ۳, pp. ۵۰, ۵۱

****

Supplicaton

!O' Lord! Set us among the guided ones and the people of the straight path

O Lord! Do bestow on us that power and bravery that we be afraid of neither the !mass of enemies nor do we fear from the dreadful events and difficulties

O Lord! Make separate the spirit of obstinacy and seeking pretexts from us and .bestow on us the succour of accepting the Truth

The End of Sura Tā Hā

In 'Ikmāl-ud-Dīn' a tradition, through 'Jābir-il-Ju'fī', is narrated from 'Jābir-ibn-'Abdillāh' thus: " I said: ' O Messenger of Allah, we have known Allah and His Apostle; then who is 'Ulul-'Amr, those that Allah has made their obedience the same as your obedience?' Then, the Prophet (p.b.u.h.) said: 'O Jābir! they are, after me, my successors and the Guides of Muslims; the first of them is Ali-ibn-Abītālib; then (Imam) hassan, and (Imam) Husayn; then Ali-ibn-il-Husayn; then Mohammad-ibn-Ali; known in the Turah as Bāqir, whom you will see. O Jābir! when you visit him, give my regards to him.
